BATES OPENS HOCKEY SEASON WITH 1-0 WIN OVER BOWDOIN

STANLEY, COGAN AND ROBERTS STAR FOR BATES. HOLMES LEADS BOWDOIN ATTACK

Bates opened her hockey season very auspiciously last Saturday afternoon when Bowdoin was defeated 1-0. The ice was in rather poor condition and slowed up the playing of both teams, tumbles being frequent. Bates carried the puck into Bowdoin territory at the very beginning of play, taking numerous shots at the Bowdoin goal, but the fine work of Miguel, the Bowdoin goal tender, prevented any scoring. Bowdoin also showed flashes during the half, and through the individual work of "Al" Morrell and Capt. Holmes kept the Bates defense busy, but never once were they able to get inside as Capt. Rounds and Daguino checked every rush of the visiting forwards. "Joey" Cogan, "Eddie" Roberts and "Rich" Stanley, the Bates' veterans, displayed their usual fine ability, while O'Connor and Bartlett showed very well when occasion demanded.

The second half, six man hockey was played and Bates swung into her stride, displaying more team work than before. After about ten minutes of play, "Eddie" Roberts slipped by the Bowdoin defense and whizzed the puck into the Bowdoin cage for the first counter of the hockey season. The team as a whole went better after this and although unable to score again, showed that with a few more weeks of practice, Bates will have a worthy representative in hockey. Bates made the best play of the game toward the end of the half when he came out of the cage to meet one of the Bowdoin forwards who had broken through both went to the ice, but no score was registered.

A large crowd of spectators were on hand, which bids fair for a successful hockey season.

The summary follows:

BATES	L. W.	Bowdoin
Roberts	(Nichols)	Needham
Cogan	C. Holmes	(Crouin)
O'Connor	R. R. Putnam	(Young)
(Bartlett)
Stanley	R. W. Morrell
Rounds	P. Stoumenetz
Daguino	C. P. P. Putnam
Batten	G. Miguel

Goal made by Roberts—Referee, Marcotte—Goal umpires, Scott of Bates, Bly of Bowdoin—Timers, Ireland and Smith—Two 20-minute periods.

FRESHMEN'S PUBLIC SPEAKING BEGINS

Corps of Assistants Selected to Train Future Orators

Professor Robinson has posted the Public Speaking Notices on the bulletin board at Hathorn Hall. The Freshmen Class has been divided into nine sections. Each section is under the direction of an assistant. The assistants for this year in Public Speaking are: Miss Davis, Miss Dearing and Miss Mitchell, for the girls, and Mr. Baker, Mr. Kennedy, Mr. McKenney, Mr. Taylor, and Mr. Mansour, for the boys. Each student must have three rehearsals with the assistant and two with Professor Robinson.

The first classes in Public Speaking meet with Professor Robinson on Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons. The time for the next meeting of the Public Speaking classes will be posted later.

PRES. GRAY AND MR. ROWE MEET ALUMNI

And Confer with Committee on Million Dollar Fund

President Clifton L. Gray and Alumni Secretary Harry W. Rowe, Bates College, left Lewiston late Wednesday afternoon for New York. There will be held in that city on Friday of this week the second meeting of the Executive Committee of the Million Dollar Fund for College endowment and a new gymnasium. There will be present at the meeting which will be held at the Prince George Hotel, besides the college officers, R. A. Sturgis '93, Chairman of the Executive Committee; Hon. E. F. Clason '02, W. G. Smith '08, G. H. Smith '09, C. E. Turner '12, Miss Marion S. Coan '99, a member of the Committee, is still in the Southwest. The Committee will discuss the entire plan of the campaign and will have ready for rather early announcement certain specific details connected therewith.

In addition to this meeting of the Executive Committee, President Gray and the Alumni Secretary will attend a series of key group meetings called by the Executive Committee of the Million Dollar Fund and including the leading and representative alumni in the cities named. The first of these sessions will be for the New York group and will be held Thursday evening, January 12, at 8 o'clock at the Bar Association Building, 42nd West 44th St., New York City. The second meeting will be held in Hartford, Connecticut, Saturday evening and another in Springfield, Mass., Tuesday night; and the third in Worcester, probably Wednesday evening.

In addition President Gray and Mr. Rowe will attend the meeting of the New York Alumni which will be held Saturday noon.

Dr. Gray has a very busy week-end, speaking at one of the churches in Hartford, Conn. on Sunday morning, before one of the local high schools, Monday morning, and at noon before a joint meeting of the Rotary Club, the Kiwanis and the Advertising Clubs.

PICTURES AND DANCING ENJOYED IN CHASE HALL

All the devotees of Dime co-education gathered in force on Saturday evening for the Chase Hall movies and dance; especially, the latter. An excellent movie show was staged, the feature film being the screen version of Stevenson's famous classic "Treasure Island." Shirley Mason in the part of the boy hero gave renewed life to the thrilling story. In addition a film of International News and a Red Cross film on the high cost of living was shown.

Following the movies, the floor was cleared for dancing. The melody for the occasion was dispensed by Thompson, piano, Kennedy, banjo, Conant, violin, Bragg, drums and Gallor, saxophone. After a very enjoyable hour the strains of the last waltz sent the couples strolling toward their college homes. All present were well satisfied with the experiment and the hearty support of the students is assured.

DR. FOSTER MAKES DEEP IMPRESSION UPON STUDENT BODY

POPULAR CHRISTIAN LEADER ADDRESSES
BATES STUDENTS AT CHAPEL EXERCISES

Dr. Allyn King Foster of New York City, remembered by every upper classman, gave a series of interesting lectures at chapel exercises and to special groups of students during Sunday to Wednesday. Dr. Foster was also the speaker at the vesper services Sunday. Every student listened with keen interest to his gripping talks. Dr. Foster has talked with over 200,000 students at more than 200 colleges and every one here who heard him this week knows why.

First he explained his purpose in returning to Bates. He was here to stimulate the religious life of the student, be he Jew, Roman Catholic or Protestant. He would make the Jew a better Jew and more worthy citizen. He was speaking to every man who believed in God Almighty upon those common ethical questions which every one shares in common.

Dr. Foster showed that more and more science is confirming the broader religious beliefs. Not only the scholar of religion, but also the psychologist is now telling us of our conscience, which is our great protector and guide.

"One of the most important facts that I would have you bear in mind is that the laws of God written in Revelation, and the laws of God manifest in nature and man are the same. They can not be separated. To make a man in the image of God is the chief and fundamental purpose of all religious education. God made man in His own image outwardly and his education and training must make him like God inwardly.

"More and more science is confirming our religious beliefs. Our leading psychologists tell us of our conscience, a subject previously believed to be purely religious and without scientific foundation. They tell us that it is more than the Ten Commandments. We could destroy the latter and yet have some feeling, some power within us called conscience. It is something which stands entirely outside of the instinctive side of man's life, something absolutely apart from his appetites. It is one of the surest safeguards of that power which lies within us, it is a check. It is our one great protection for it ever tells us whether this course or that act promises to build up or tear down that which we are physically. Nothing can be compared with it. Remove such devices as 'blue' laws and it still remains.

"Instincts and appetites tell us that we want to eat, play or work. But what tells us what the effects of our action will be upon the organism. Conscience! It is something ever working biologically, physiologically and spiritually; it governs our every movement. Let's forget the Ten Commandments, then stop and think. What did you do the other day? Was it a natural deed; did it merely satisfy an appetite or stimulate some instinct? Forget the Bible entirely for a moment then ask yourself whether you were a better man for having done the deed. Did it weaken your powers as a man? It is your conscience that must answer."

Dr. Foster then showed that we must obey our conscience always and why we must make its rulings a part of us.

"Shall we let our appetites govern us? I am not here to tell what each one should or should not do. I must bring before you the bigger and broader ethical and moral questions. We must build ourselves up as an organ. (Continued on Page Three)

MEN'S MEETING CLOSES SERIES

Dr. Foster's Last Meeting Held Wednesday Evening

Dr. Foster made the final talk of his visit to Bates at the Y. M. C. A. meeting in Chase Hall, Wednesday evening. Surely this meeting was one of the best which he has held during his visit because of the very intimate and personal feeling which existed between Dr. Foster and his hearers.

He impressed upon those present that if one would do the will of God and live a life of active Christianity, he must first give himself up completely and then be willing to do seemingly small things knowing not why. He must depend largely upon faith. Just as the chemist goes through hundreds of minor details before he gets results worth anything, so in religion one must obey the minor laws of God before making great advances. All must walk by faith.

OUTING CLUB PLANS CARNIVAL

NEW EQUIPMENT PURCHASED AND NOW READY FOR USE OF STUDENTS.

The Outing Club has been very active since the Xmas recess in making preparation for the big Winter Carnival and in preparing new equipment for use. The hiking committee has devoted much time lately to the branding of the twenty-two new pairs of snow shoes and the ten new pairs of skis. By the addition of this new equipment there are now on hand nineteen pairs of snow shoes and sixteen pairs of skis for the men, while for the women there are twelve pairs of snow shoes and four pairs of skis.

The equipment room for the men is in Parker Hall and skis and snowshoes may be obtained by applying to C. E. Purinton '23, Wesley Gilpatrick '24, or Robert Chandler '25. The equipment room for the women is in Rand Hall and is under the charge of Miss Helen Hoyt '23. Raymond Batten '23, chairman of the committee on tobogganing, has charge of rental of the toboggan and also will help handle the hiking material.

PROF. ROBINSON RE- CEIVES APPOINTMENT

Prof. Grosvenor M. Robinson, professor of Public Speaking, has received notification of his election to the Board of Advisers, School of Expression, Boston, Mass. This is one of the best known institutions of its kind in America, its directors being a body of seventy men of international repute. The many friends of genial "Prof. Rob" will be pleased to learn of his appointment to the Advising Board of this distinguished school.

As the new board of editors takes over its duties in the management of the college paper, a word of appreciation of what the retiring board of editors has done is not out of place. Probably in no single year has more progress, more improvement in the appearance and contents of the edition, taken place than is true of the past year. The incoming staff, especially, is indebted, because of the careful and painstaking training and advice rendered them in preparation of their new work. What success, if any, is attained this coming year in the faithful representation of college news, will be due in part to the work of the preceding board of editors.

THE COLLEGE PAPER

Forty-eight years ago, a decade after the founding of the college itself, the first issue of The Bates Student was published. Since that time the undergraduate publication of the college has not lapsed in the presentation of college news and opinion.

Until six years ago, the college paper was printed in the form of a combined news and literary magazine. In 1916 its form was changed to that of a weekly issue with a monthly literary supplement. Within the past year, the magazine section has been discontinued.

The record of The Bates Student has been creditable for the reason that it has filled a need in the college life. That same need still exists, namely, to bind together every loyal supporter of Bates in a common knowledge of what Bates is doing and what she is striving for. It is to foster by means of this understanding, a united love for the highest interests of our Alma Mater.

The accomplishment of this goal depends largely upon the personal support and interest of every Bates man and woman in the production of the paper.

Accordingly, the columns of The Bates Student are yours. Yours for a better Bates! We ask for constructive criticism. We seek suggestions from the undergraduate body and alumni and loyal friends of the college. We shall ask for contributions to the paper.

The present board of editors will be fully satisfied if at the end of the present year it can be truly said:

"This is a representative paper. It expresses the attitude of every true Bates man and woman toward Bates, and of Bates to the world. This is in reality The Bates Student!"

IS THE DANCING PROBLEM SOLVED?

We hope so. From the success with which the first official Bates dance was put on in Chase Hall last Saturday evening, it seems as if a satisfactory solution has now been realized.

One or two points deserve comment. In the first place, the fairness of the faculty committee and of the board of trustees has been worthy of note.

There have been serious objections to introducing dancing to our campus. It has not been a matter of personal whims and prejudices, but rather of the best interests of the college. Do the best interest of Bates demand this step? That has been the principle upon which the question has been settled.

It is now in the hands of the students to demonstrate whether or not the governing bodies of the college have acted wisely. It is squarely up to the men and women of Bates to lend their wholehearted support to make a thorough success of the college dance.

Certain things will govern the success of the Bates dance. Complete loyalty to the college dances means that interest in off-campus affairs will now be dropped. That is the understanding upon which the present situation rests.

Every new situation presents its own peculiar problems. Minor details of arrangements must be made before the machinery can be made to run smoothly. Adherents of the new system will give constructive criticism only and will make due allowance for temporary inconveniences.

It is requisite to the success of our Chase Hall dances that they shall be for the most part informal. To seek to make these social evenings dress suit or tuxedo occasions would be to prohibit a large number of students who would otherwise be able to enjoy themselves. The informal dance is in line with the democratic tradition of Bates.

Present arrangements appear to be the happy solution of our outstanding problem that of proper campus social life. The extent to which this may be true depends now upon the response of the students to the challenge presented them.

SOCIETIES

The Press Club met in Chase Hall, Monday evening, for its regular meeting. Eleven members were present and a very interesting meeting was held. Stevens, '25, of Reading, Mass., was elected editorial secretary to assist the board in the mimeograph work. The editorial board is working actively under the direction of its chairman, Segal, '24, and plans to get in touch with several daily and weekly publications throughout New England within the next few days. Eight new members were elected to the club. They are, Hazel Monteith '23, Mayo '24, Graves '24, Turner '24, Margaret Page '25, Grace Goddard '25, Miller '25, Kinball '22.

After the business session was over the remainder of the evening was devoted to answering questions suggested by two articles appearing in the January issue of the Atlantic Monthly, Gavigan '24 presented the first of these, "The Newspaper Story," and the second, "The Newspaper and the Truth," was given by Sheldon '25.

Twenty daily newspapers are read by members of the Press Club at college or at home. Some of the most popular papers among them are: the New York Times, the Boston Transcript, and the Hartford Courant.

JORDAN SCIENTIFIC.

The Jordan Scientific Society held its first meeting of the new year on Wednesday evening, January 4th, in Carnegie Science Building. Albert Buote presented a biography of Emil Fischer, a noted biological chemist and Roland Carpenter an interesting paper the subject of which was "Natural Death." A short business session was held, March 16 and 17, being set as tentative dates for the Jordan Scientific Exhibition.

SENIORITY MEETING, JAN. 5, '21

On Thursday evening, January the fifth, Seniority held its first meeting of the year in the Band Hall Reception Room. In keeping with the time, talks on Epiphany, or Twelfth Night, were given by Miss Elsie Roberts and Miss Dorothy Wheat, the leaders of the evening. Miss Wheat substituted for Miss Hazel Prescott, who, on account of illness, was unable to take part in the program as scheduled. Plans for the next meeting were made, and a number of questions in regard to several features of the coming Seniority play were discussed. This play is to be presented on January 28th, and judging from the smoothness and rapidity with which preparations are moving forward, will be a fine, high class production.

Y. W. C. A.

Y. W. C. A. started the new year with a fine talk from the Rev. Milo R. Pearson of Auburn. He urged the girls to consider religious work of some kind in planning their future. He particularly showed the advantage of a position as pastor's assistant.

PHIL HELLENIC.

A very interesting meeting of Phil Hellenic was held last Tuesday evening at Chase Hall. Special music was furnished by Mary Gifford and Lester Diehl. Prof Knapp gave a pleasing and interesting resume of the works of the Latin author, Juvenal. Reports were also given concerning the Phil Hellenic reception to be held January 20.

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

I hurried up the cold, stone steps,
With my suit case in my hand.
I'd just returned from "Santa Claus"
To the brick house we call Rand.

I opened the door so sadly,
And stumbled over a pair
Of cooling doves in the entry
Unconsciously cooling there.

I managed a graceful pardon
And climbed three long flights of stairs
My room smelt like the dust-mop,
And homesick looked the chairs!

I opened the window slowly.
My nose caught a whiff of soup
Perchance 'twas "Mullegetawny"—
"Review of Reviews," on tongs.

I saw the moon sail calmly on
And then—I didn't half mind—
For just the same old moon looks down
On the folks I left behind!

MANY ARE CHILLED BUT FEW ARE FROZEN.

Inhabitants of the Freshmen houses were informed, last week, that the refrigerating system of heating would be changed for a more satisfactory one within the radius of the week. But, oh! the thrill and the chill that shot through the first early riser of Milliken, Sunday last! And the spectacle that greeted and opened her sleep laden eyes! The raised window of the sale de bain revealed a much distended and distorted milk bottle, its contents evidently having ventured forth, and frozen in the venturing. Likewise the water faucets presented a frozen fountain appearance. The gentle and patient application of heat, however, revived both sufferers by noon, and future immunity from such accidents is hoped for.

Wal, I wuz circelin' around, gittin' kinder dizzy, right in the midst of everything, when, what do yer s'pose happened? Wal, I'll be jiggered if Seraphiny's great long chain 'er green querils didn't break an' go sprawlin' all over that slippery floor! An' me sprawlin' after 'em! The hull bloomin' 'er dance stopped, only them durned fiddles kept on a-squawking, so's yer couldn't hear yerself think. I wuz down' my best ter grab them beads up off'n that dirty floor, an' I'll be swanned, if everybody in that place didn't turn to an' start in grabbin' beads, too. I wuz so mad I see red! All them upstarts tryin' ter hook Seraphiny's joolry! I started in yellin' fer 'em ter stop, that them beads be longed ter my Seraphiny!

When Seraphiny cud stop laffin' long enough, she spluttered an' gasped out that them yer beads didn't amount ter Hannah-cook, enz they kum from their five-and-ten-cent store. I wuz plumb disgusted, an' I pulled out my red bandum an' mopped up my face.

Wal, now, I ask yer, how wuz I a-goin' ter know but what them beads wuz handed down from 'pawsteryty'? They looker swell enuf on Seraphiny, which makes me think of a lot of things about Woolworth's that makes me boilin' mad! I've got stung that none'n once, ask the ole woman 'bout that!

Thunder an' lightnin', but I got ter milk the critters and do the chores. I git ter talkin' on an' I don't realize how dark it's gittin'. You'll be a-wantin' ter git yer supper ready. Haw-Haw!

SPEAKING OF DANCING

UNCLE JOE REVAMPED.

Wal, I dropped inter ther dance t'other night at that new place what's jest opened up. Y'know our old opy house burned down. Uster keep hay in ther opy house in ther summer time an' blamed if a tramp didn't leave one er them cigarettos an' buried ther whole place inter the middle er next week! Yassir, that as a doomer! Haw-Haw!

Wal, say, by chowder! they wuz havin' an' awful ear-splittin' time down ther t'other night. Them byes a playin' the orkistry, Gosh! but they wuz live wires, the hull bunch of 'em, —wuzn't still a minit! Making the most outlandish squawks yer cud think of. Everybody wuz enjoyin' it, too, clappin' ther hands fer more.

Wal, by chowder, I was nigh dazed when I just stept foot inter there. Hed ter set down a spell ter git my hearin's. 'Tuz one er them yer times when everbody dresses up ter 'represent' 'em, oh, yer know the name er them jiggers!

There wuz clowns an' jack-in-the-boxes, hoppin' all over the place, actin' silly as grasshoppers in hayin' time er else them mud-toads down in ther 'erick' at Hickory Center. All colors er ther rainbow thar, too. Then thar wuz gypsy critters, rollin' thier eyes, and shakin' ther bangles. Thar wuz one critter representin' 'Puss-in-Boots' an' thar wuz ridin' gals and walkin' gals, an' gals what jumped clean over the moon, I guess. I dunno. But I'll be good-swiggled, thar wuzn't a gal thar dressed up in a good-lookin' piece er calico!

Seraphiny,—she's my niece on the ole woman's side,—wuz ther best-lookin' one thar. She had on a green rig representin' Ireland, I guess. Green hat an' green beads,—great, danglin' string an' 'em, an' all. She's as purty a critter as yer'd ever want ter lay yer eyes on. Wal, I watched ma chance, an' I asked her ter dance. I can't dance these new-fangled shaky jiggers and crazy tangles, like all these young upstarts do, but I keep time ter ther music all right. I did er fast two-step. I yanked Seraphiny right along smart, too. Guess she wuz enjoyin' it, —her checks ez red ez Maw's red table cloth.

MEETINGS

A short meeting of the Carnival Committee was held in Carnegie Science Building on Dec. 13, at 1 P. M. The principal business was the presentation by the carnival sub-committee of this year's program. The program was accepted practically as presented with the resolution that a new design be made for the front page of the program and that Thursday and Friday evenings be left open until later.

A meeting of the Directorate of the Outing Club was held in Carnegie Science Building on Dec. 15, at 1 P. M. At this meeting Chandler and Bragg were elected freshman members of the Board of Directors. It was recommended to the Carnival Committee that a dance will be held on Friday evening, Feb. 10, if possible.

It will be noted that to stimulate an early interest in the Carnival, copies of the program as drawn up by the Committee have been posted on the bulletin boards at different buildings on the Campus.

DR. FOSTER MAKES DEEP IMPRESSION ON STUDENT BODY

ism living in the likeness of God. Then, all that tends to build us up in this desired manner must be made a part of us, and likewise all that is low and destructive must be forgotten and placed forever behind us."

He then explained how each one of us could start to better our lives in a real practical way. The solution furnishes a real battle, a man's job.

"There are at least two ways to do everything. You can talk a certain way or tell a certain story, but because you are like God, you are going to choose the right kind of talk and the wholesome and clean story to tell. It is a battle of appetites versus will."

"What is the policy of your will? Is it high and noble, is it chivalrous? Or are you merely a small selfish profiteer, a parasite upon those among whom you live, taking all good and returning only evil. We are passing through the period, the outcome of which will determine our entire life. If the appetites win now they will dominate us at thirty years of age and ever after. But we can make the will victorious. At thirty we are made for bad or good."

Dr. Foster then told us of his own experiences with a man who had allowed his will and manly power to be eaten away by alcohol. This man answered Mr. Foster's arguments to lead a better life by saying, "Mr. Foster, I am going to hell and you might just as well let me go." Here the appetite for alcohol had won. There are others just as serious.

He asked all to let conscience put them on right track, to "fear God and keep His Commandments, for this is the whole man."

In his second chapel talk, Dr. Foster again compared man and nature with the laws of God. He showed how the moth and butterfly were placed in environments suited to their particular characters. So with man, if his spiritual life is to continue he must get in a clean and wholesome environment. "Be not conformed to the world, but transformed by the renewal of your mind." Though found in the Bible, this passage contains purely biological terms.

He warned against being conformed to a low atmosphere. All should examine their condition and find whether they have been lowered or raised in the present environment.

"Do you doubt everything? Such a condition is dangerous for one can doubt until he becomes a question mark. Protect yourself when taking courses that seem to shatter your faith. Do not try to explore north without fans. Preserve a spiritual element in everything, in every study."

He closed his talk by pleading for more of the old time chivalry, more moral stamina and more spiritual conscience in the younger generation.

In his third chapel address Dr. Foster again appealed to the rational and scientific powers of the students to prove to them that religion and especially prayer is an essential and is real. He clearly showed that a thoughtful, reasonable, and purely scientific person could and would believe in prayer. He asked us to think whether prayer is worth anything, whether it brings power and if so should it not be used.

Speaking purely scientifically Dr. Foster showed that people who do pray sincerely are different from those who do not. He asked us to picture the mother back home praying that we make a success in all that we under-

"BILL" GUINEY—FOOTBALL CAPT.

At a meeting of the letter men just before Christmas vacation, William E. (Bill) Guiney of Biddeford, Me. was elected captain of next year's football team. The 1922 Bates team has for a leader one of the best football men who ever sported the Garnet's colors. He has played as a regular tackle for the past three years, and each year was chosen an "all Maine" tackle. His election meets well the popular approval of all undergraduates and alumni members of the college for "Bill" is a leader and a fighter in every sense of the word, and with "Bill" at the helm we are already claiming the football championship for next fall. "Bill" is one of the most popular young men on the campus, a gentleman and athlete and the best wishes of the student body are extended to him for the honor which he has received.

Although it is rather early to make prediction for next fall yet at the present time we have a start in the right direction. We've got the coach, the captain and the players, and now let's get the spirit.

take. How different is she. Throughout the world we find the great political, social and even commercial leaders men of prayer. Robbins, the great humanitarian and worker among I. W. W. factions and even in congress all starts his work with a prayer.

As with everything else about man there are two sides to prayer, an objective and a subjective side. Because of this objective property we can deal with it scientifically. Dr. Foster made use of John Fiske's analogy first made in the eighties. The hand is a most remarkable engine having developed the power to grip and many other powers. But it had developed this power only because man was placed in an environment which demanded such an instrument. There first had to be something to grip. So with prayer. It was developed because man's environment and relations with the Creator demanded it. Man has automatically prayed. The most primitive barbarian prayed to some kind of god, to some power greater than himself. Therefore, as with the hand, there must be an outside force making prayer necessary. Who knows what electricity is? None. But we learn its laws and obey them, thus obtaining great help from it; it becomes our slave. Would anyone use an oxeart when electricity is so much more powerful. So with prayer.

To pray one must think about the action desired. First there is intelligence, then there is feeling, and emotion. Finally, just as the psychologist has proven, continued thought will bring action.

"Prayer," said Dr. Foster, "is more than asking for things, it is the persistent and progressive effort of the nature of God. Prayer can be answered positively or negatively as we conform to or violate the laws of God. We are too small to guide our own lives and the best prayer that we can ask is that 'Thy will, O God, be done.'"

Throughout his series of talks Dr. Foster emphasized that religion is a natural concern which is strengthened rather than torn down by rational and scientific treatment.

BATES BOWS TO MAINE IN HARD FOUGHT BATTLE

The all-round work of Berg was the feature of the game. He not only captured three goals from the floor, but dropped in six goals out of nine tries from the foul line.

Kempton played in his usual fast, scrappy style, being the only one to play the entire game. Davis scored the prettiest shot of the evening, when after some clever dribbling, he dropped the ball cleanly into the netting from the middle of the floor.

PASSING THE PUCK

It is to be regretted that such an uncordial reception was given to a certain member of the Bowdoin hockey team at last Saturday's game. It doesn't sound well for college men to "razz" a visiting player regardless of whether it is deserved or not. In this case it decidedly is not. The player in question is a fine type of athlete and a gentleman, as his record of collegiate activities will show. Whatever altercation the players in any game may have among themselves we can rest assured that they will be properly dealt with by the referee, without help of the gallery. It is not too late yet to remedy the matter and we can show our true sportsmanship the next time that this individual appears on the Bates rink by a cheer instead of a jeer. Let us appreciate ability, no matter which side the player is on.

What Is a Vacuum Furnace?

IN an ordinary furnace materials burn or combine with the oxygen of the air. Melt zinc, cadmium, or lead in an ordinary furnace and a scum of "dross" appears, an impurity formed by the oxygen. You see it in the lead pots that plumbers use.

In a vacuum furnace, on the contrary, the air is pumped out so that the heated object cannot combine with oxygen. Therefore in the vacuum furnace impurities are not formed. Clearly, the chemical processes that take place in the two types are different, and the difference is important. Copper for instance, if impure, loses in electrical conductivity. Vacuum-furnace copper is pure.

So the vacuum furnace has opened up a whole new world of chemical investigation. The Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company have been exploring this new world solely to find out the possibilities under a new series of conditions.

Yet there have followed practical results highly important to industry. The absence of oxidation, for instance, has enabled chemists to combine metals to form new alloys heretofore impossible. Indeed, the vacuum furnace has stimulated the study of metallurgical processes and has become indispensable to chemists responsible for production of metals in quantities.

And this is the result of scientific research.

Discover new facts, add to the sum total of human knowledge, and sooner or later, in many unexpected ways, practical results will follow.

POPULAR ATHLETES LEAD GARNET

John Davis Plays Consistent Game at Guard

Should a typographical error cause the well known proverb to read "Out of the gridiron into the five" it would summarize the career of one of our most prominent athletes this fall. John Davis, captain of the basket ball team, had scarcely put his foot ball "cleats" on the shelf, when an early season forced him to don the "auctions." A week's practice however convinced the "dopsters" that the strain of a hard foot ball season had no ill effects on his indoor game.

Davis entered Bates in the fall of '19 from Kennebunk High School, where he had blazed his trail through baseball and football for four years, and basket ball for two years. He was several times elected captain. He broke into athletics at Bates in the football season of his freshman year by making the varsity. He has been a member of the Garnet eleven every season since. Last year he held a position on the basket ball five. His sterling game in this branch of sport earned for him the unusual distinction of captaining a varsity team in his junior year.

John is probably the most quiet and unassuming athlete in the college, though no less popular or capable because of it. Let's wish him luck and back him up for a victorious season!

CARL ROUNDS— HOCKEY CAPTAIN

We have with us today Carl P. Rounds, captain of the hockey team. If confidence in the ability of his team counts for anything, then Yale, West Point and the rest of the Bates' opponents are sure going to have a surprise handed out to them in hockey. Carl is a Lewiston boy and a graduate of L. H. S. in the class of '17. He was very prominent in athletics in high school and has kept up the good work in college, winning his varsity B in football and hockey the last two years, being elected captain of the hockey team at the close of last season. Berlin is Bates opponent to-morrow night in Berlin. On account of their fine record in hockey, a hard game is expected, but Carl says it's "Berlin or Bust" and we all wish he and his puck-chasers luck.

FRESHMEN. QUINTET. SWAMPS HALLOWELL IN FIRST GAME OF SEASON.

In a very clean game the Freshmen five completely outclassed the Hallowell high team. There was much team work by the Freshmen and they did some clever shooting. The visiting team passed well but found it difficult to register many baskets. Smith was the star for the visitors. All the Freshmen played well.

GARNET PIERCES DEFENSE OF STRONG BERLIN TEAM

New Hampshire Aggregation Has Been Scored on but Three Times This Season

Stacked up against one of the fastest teams in this section of the country, Bates covered herself with glory by playing Berlin, N. H. to a standstill for most of the game at Berlin last Saturday night. Although defeated 7-1, the score hardly tells the story of the game. Playing against a team composed of some of the fastest Canadian players, who were much heavier, older, and more experienced, the college lads gave them one of the hardest games they have experienced this season. When it is understood that Berlin has been scored on only 3 times this season, some idea of the calibre of hockey which Bates played can be gained. As usual "Joe" Cogan, Eddie Roberts, and "Dick" Stanley played a fine game, while "Joey" also succeeded in slipping the puck past Maltais, the Berlin goaltender. Rounds and Dagnino on the defense played the most brilliant hockey of their career, and Batten, although peppered with the puck with the regularity of machine gun bullets, succeeded in keeping the score down by many brilliant stops. McKenna and Bartlett also gave a good account of themselves while they were in. Although defeated, the boys learned a lot of hockey which will help them on their trip next week.

CERCLE FRANCAIS NEWLY ORGANIZED

Professor Brown Gives Interesting Illustrated Lecture on Paris

The newly organized "Cercle Francais" held its first meeting last Thursday evening in Carnegie Science Hall. At the open meeting which preceded the business session, Prof. Brown, who spent last year in France, gave a very interesting illustrated lecture on Paris and its customs and life of today. The lecture was given in French, thus adding a more genuine atmosphere to the meeting.

Later a business session was held by those especially interested in French and the new club. The constitution was read and adopted by the assembly. The following officers were elected: Pres., Miss Grace Gould '22; Vice-Pres., Miss Jeanne Bachelin, '23; Sec.-Treas., Harold Vayo, '24. This union of the men and women into one club promises to add new vigor and interest to the French department. As membership will be limited to thirty-five, all wishing to join should consult Prof. Brown or the secretary at once. Upperclassmen will be given preference.

DR. WOODROW SPEAKS ON DAY OF PRAYER

Is Bates Graduate, Class '88 An Eloquent Preacher and Author of Note

Rev. Samuel Hetherington Woodrow, D. D., has been secured as the speaker on the Day of Prayer, January 26th. Doctor Woodrow is, at present, pastor of the Congregational Church at Newton Highlands, Massachusetts.

Dr. Woodrow graduated from Bates with the class of '88. He was a poor boy and had to earn his way through college by working in the cotton mills. After graduating from college he went to Yale Divinity School. He has held pastorates in some of the largest Congregational Churches in the country, important among these being his pastorates in Springfield, Mass., Washington, D. C., and St. Louis, which is the largest Congregational Church in the country. He is a member of the Board of Trustees of Bates College and also the Board of Trustees of the Hartford School of Religious Pedagogy.

Dr. Woodrow is one of the best known and most eloquent Congregational ministers in the United States and is an author of some note. It has been a custom since the founding of Bates College that the last Thursday in January should be set aside as a Day of Prayer. On this day speakers have been engaged who have had a special message for the student body. It seems fitting that a man of such note should be secured for the Day of Prayer this year. Doctor Woodrow will preach Thursday morning in the Chapel at 10 o'clock and again in the evening at 7.30. There will be special music at both of these services.

DR. HARTSHORN ON ROAD TO RECOVERY

Many Friends Glad to See Him on Campus Again

The many friends of Dr. Hartshorn will be pleased to learn that he is gaining strength daily. Since his return to his home, his recovery has been rapid. Last week Friday, he went out of doors for the first time since his illness, and on Tuesday morning, he attended the chapel exercises.

Dr. Hartshorn expects to be back with his classes at the beginning of the next semester.

ENKUKLIOS ENTERTAINS LADIES OF FACULTY

Gives First Tea of the Year Varied Program Enjoyed

The first tea of the year under the auspices of the Enkuklios Association for the ladies of the Faculty was given Friday afternoon, January 13th, in the reception room in Rand Hall. The affair proved very successful and was well attended. The reception room and the two tables, at which B. K. Whittier and L. Fifield poured, were attractively decorated with flowers. A varied program was given; a cello selection by R. Leader, a very humorous reading by H. Murray, and a song by the Girls' Glee Club quartet, composed of M. Mahan, W. Fieneman, A. Cunningham, and E. Paul. K. Hanscomb, R. Howe, and L. Bryant were waitresses.

STORY OF BATES AND DEBATING

Remarkable History of Quarter Century of Intercollegiate Debating

OXFORD MEET IS CLIMAX

Debating has become such an integral part of the warp and woof of Bates College that to the general public mention of the college in most cases connotes this branch of student activity. The interest in open discussion that was nurtured by Uncle Johnny Stanton and others as early as 1870, is today the dominating influence in campus life at Bates as well as the chief connecting link between Bates and the other colleges of the United States. Perhaps no other agency has done more to put Bates before the public or to attract to her halls the serious-minded type of student that is the bulwark of any institution of learning, than has debating. The distinguishing group at Center College, Kentucky (as the newspapers told us awhile ago) is the football eleven; the distinguishing group at Bates, we are proud to say, is the little army of intellectuals that has repeatedly upheld her honor on the public platform—her varsity debaters.

PROFESSOR A. C. BAIRD

Bates has always been the mother of debaters. Not only is she a present power in the realm of forensics as the result of her recent and repeated victories over the two leading universities—Harvard and Yale, but as her past records will show, she has always occupied a unique place among the colleges as a training school for clear-headed, logical and devotedly truth-loving debaters. The pictures, trophies and records in the Delta Sigma Rho chapter room in Chase Hall, impress upon one's mind the great work Bates College has been doing down through the years in turning out men who have been of great service to country, state and church, largely because of their mastery of correct methods of analysis and of public speaking. We might mention a score of men who have testified to the efficiency of the Bates' system, but it is enough to cite such representative names as Miliken, Beede, Durkee, Howard—all men of character who have been successful champions of right in politics and in other phases of public life largely because of their debating.

DEPUTATION TRAINING CLASS FORMED

Teams to Visit Neighboring Country Churches and Prep Schools

The Y. M. C. A. has been instrumental in forming a Deputation Training Class, at which men are receiving instructions in this important Bates activity. At the present time the class consists of twenty-four fellows who meet Dr. Finnie each Monday evening at 6.45. For their text-book they are using Hanson's "College Deputation for Evangelistic Work." Dr. Finnie has had much experience in this line of work and under his tutelage the class is acquiring excellent training.

Sunday trips are being planned on which neighboring country churches will be visited. The teams, which are usually made up of four men, carry to these churches a friendly message of good cheer and Christian fellowship.

In addition to these regular Sunday trips a special team will be made up to do active work during the coming Easter recess, March 24 to April 4. The men comprising this team will have more time at their disposal and a more intensive campaign will be possible.

Besides visiting the neighboring churches, it is planned to take in the preparatory schools. A team some time ago made the trip to Hebron and was most cordially and enthusiastically received.

Earle Clifford '22 is the chairman of this branch of College work, and under his generalship the plans are materializing in first class shape. The teams that have been sent out so far report good progress.

BATES TROUNCES ST. DOMINIQUE

Local Club Unable to Solve Bates Defence and Loses 4-0

Bates continued her good work in hockey, when she trounced St. Dominique last Friday night at the Bartlett street rink to the tune of 4-0. A large crowd of spectators were on hand and saw a brilliant display of hockey by the Bates Sextet. St. Dominique fought hard, especially in the first period which ended 1-0 in favor of Bates, but they never had a chance of scoring—the brilliant work of Capt. Rounds and Dagnino on the defense kept them from taking any shots at Bates. The puck, almost during the entire game, was in their territory and the Bates forward line was again going in great form. "Joey" Cogan was all over the rink shooting, passing and dribbling the puck, and was ably seconded by "Eddie" Roberts and "Dick" Stanley. In a mixup in front of the St. Dominique goal, "Eddie" slipped the puck into the cage for the first center, just before the first period ended.

In the next period, "Joey" and "Dick" teamed up and caged the puck once apiece. Coach Watkins rushed the reserves on the ice in the third period and although none of them scored, St. Dominique found it just as hard to get anywhere near the Bates goal. Marcotte played the best game for St. Dominique.

BATES IMPROVES IN BASKET-BALL

But Is Unable to Stop New Hampshire and Loses to Granite Staters 33-24

Bates improved since the game with Maine, Tuesday evening, but not enough to win from New Hampshire State Saturday evening. In a game which was fast throughout, the Granite State crew came through with a 33-24 win. Bates started right and Herrick dropped in a basket before the game was a minute old—then New Hampshire scored and aided by the clever foul shooting of Capt. Perry managed to get a good lead, but Bates rallied toward the close of the period and at the end of the half only 7 points separated the teams.

Bates had plenty of chance in the second half to score but no one seemed to have an eye for the basket from outside the foul line and as it was rather difficult to get closer, many chances were lost. Perkins showed in good form, doing some clever guarding and shooting. Walter Johnson also played a good game on the defense. Gormley was put in the game toward the end and dropped in two baskets in quick succession; then, was banished by the referee. Metcalf, Perry and McKinley played a good game for New Hampshire.

MRS. BROWN GIVES VIOLIN RECITAL

Also Favors Chase House Girls with Short Talk on Music

Last Thursday evening Mrs. Sidney Brown gave an informal violin recital to a group of girls at Chase House. She played several selections from Schubert, Gounard and other well known masters, all of which were greatly enjoyed. Later she talked very interestingly of the art of music and also of works and lives of the great musicians.

THE BATES TRADEMARK

Once more we find ourselves in the midst of a winter term, with the dubious attraction of mid-year examinations before us as the only interruption in our work. In the usual hum-drum of college life, the only reminder of the change in the calendar since last December is the difficulty which we find in correctly dating our letters.

This is enough, however, to bring one thing to our attention. The Christmas recess brought to a close the record of the year 1921; beginning now we are inscribing a new sheet.

Yet we are not beginning a new chapter in the history of Bates. We are proud of what Bates has stood for in the past and believe that her future success will be found in the same main channels.

If any one tradition is distinctive of Bates, it is that of equality. Equality to both men and women. Equal opportunity for every creed and every race.

When Bates was but in the cradle, someone contemptuously enumerated the student body of our college as "Five and a nigger and a woman." That intended slur was a boomerang. We are proud of the fact that Bates was the first New England college to recognize co-education. We are grateful that no color line may be found here.

Bates has always had an especial appeal to the student of limited means. Whatever may make it easier for hard working men and women to procure a thorough education is in harmony with the Bates tradition.

Whatever progress we may achieve for Bates during the coming year will be tested by the extent to which we have promoted the Bates ideal of democracy. Democracy—that is the trademark of Bates!

ENTER THE WINTER SPORTS

It is a far cry from the present to the time at Bates not so long ago when baseball was the only athletic activity of the college year.

While for many college students a few years ago, the coming of winter meant six months' hibernation so far as athletics were concerned, it means now the call for a host of candidates to basketball, hockey, and winter track practice.

The last five years has seen vast improvement in the opportunities for physical training at Bates. Basketball and hockey have both been made varsity sports. A first class hockey rink has been provided. Within the space of two weeks, an up-to-date outdoor running track and a new indoor straightaway have been added to our equipment.

Outside the realm of varsity athletics, the work of the Outing Club has been another step in the right direction. Not to mention its support to the hockey department, the Outing Club is giving men and women of the campus an incentive to hatch out of the incubator occasionally and to breathe some real oxygen.

We are passing beyond the idea of a cultivated man so aptly described by Emerson as "that frequently unhappy figure with educated eyes and uneducated body." We are approaching the ideal of a well nourished mind in a sound body.

President Angell of Yale University says:

"Physically, I think there is no doubt that the young man of today is distinctly ahead of the man of a quarter of a century ago. . . Fewer undergraduates break down than formerly. The proper blending of physical with mental training has been better worked out by the average man than when my own class was at college."

All hail to the new ideal of college man! And material support to those who are trying to provide the proper opportunities in the form of a new gymnasium.

SOCIETIES

The Politics Club gathered at Chase Hall on Thursday afternoon at 4.30 for its bi-monthly meeting. The club was addressed by Miss Margaret Alexander, travelling secretary for the Intercollegiate International Clubs, an organization embracing eighty-four political or social science clubs in the leading colleges of the country. Miss Alexander talked interestingly of the work of the central organization and expressed its desire to cooperate with the member clubs by furnishing books, pamphlets and other material for study. Miss Alexander stated that the most popular topic of discussion for political science clubs today was the Arms Conference, and she expressed her pleasure at seeing that the Bates Club had also taken up this subject. Following the address, President Aurie Johnson spoke outlining the plans for future study. The meeting then adjourned.

Deutsche Verein met at the Faculty Rooms in Roger Williams Hall, Wednesday evening. The date for the German play they are to produce was announced as set for March 11. "Einer Mass Heiraten" is to be the name of the play.

The Phil-Hellenic Society will entertain the Greeks of Lewiston and Auburn at Chase Hall, Friday evening.

JORDAN SCIENTIFIC

A meeting of the Jordan Scientific Society was held on Wednesday evening, January 18th, at 7.30 in Carnegie Science Building. After a short business session, L. A. Burgess gave an interesting description of "Offset Lithography" or "The Printing of Magazine Covers by a new Offset Process." The next meeting of the society will be held in three weeks.

SECRETARY PURINTON ADDRESSES "Y" MEETING

See, Arthur L. Purinton was the speaker at the Wednesday evening meeting of the Y. M. C. A. He first gave a brief resume of the history of the association. In 1844 in London, George Williams met with seven other young men and formed an association to promote religion and Christ-like fellowship among young men. In 1851 the first association was founded in the United States and Canada. Three years later the first associations in colleges were formed, one at the University of Virginia and another at the University of Michigan. Bates formed her first association in 1888 with J. R. Mott, now international secretary for Canada and the United States, as president. This association then had only forty-four members. Today there are over 300 members and a paid secretary in our association. Has the Bates "Y" made good?

Mr. Purinton then pointed out the necessity of putting into action the feelings which Dr. Foster had aroused in us. Every "Y" member should squarely face these problems. Roger Babson, the most famous business statistician in America wrote in his letters to the business men of the country that religion is the fundamental of all success which is to endure. So it is with us in college.

The "Y" is getting ready for some real live work to make Bates a better Bates. Combined we can accomplish something. Don't be like the man who wanted to fight for Cuba in an army all by himself. Start by attending the meeting next week, and bring your roommate with you.

CAMPUS NOTES

Mike Wilson '24, has been called home on important business.

Fred Huntress '23, spent the last week-end in Auburn.

Don White '21, spent a few days visiting old friends in Parker Hall.

Alex Mansour's birthday is January 26. Boys, have your paddles ready!

Miss Doris Henry of South Portland spent the week-end with Miss Thelma Logan, '24.

Fred Sylvester spent the week-end at his home in Reading, Mass.

Miss Katherine Stone '25, and her guest, Miss Eleanor Saunders of Norway spent Saturday at Bowdoin.

SPORT NOTES

The following extract was taken from Bob Dunbar's sporting column in the Boston Herald of last Saturday:

"Dancing which follows the game is one of the main attractions basket ball carries as a College game in these regions. Tonight, for instance, Teah plays Boston University at Walker gym and then there will be a dance in the main hall of Walker, lasting from shortly after 9 o'clock until midnight. Plenty of fun for all in that part of program. Everyone loves to dance with the college lads."

It speaks for itself.

Descoteaux played a whale of a game last Saturday afternoon for the 2nd team against the Lewiston Independents. He also made a goal—for his opponents—and in order that there should be no argument he skates right into the cage with it, while goal-tender Partridge was out tying up his shoelace.

The hockey team reports fine treatment on its trip to Berlin last Saturday. It is hoped that it will be possible to bring this speedy sextet to Lewiston for a game here.

"Bill" Guiney went snowshoeing last Friday night in preparation for the football season. It might also be mentioned that "Bill" played a swell game of hockey for the 2nd team last Saturday afternoon until his feet got cold.

A fine tribute to the Bates hockey system lies in the fact that after the game with Berlin last Saturday night, the Berlin coach had Coach Watkins demonstrate to him the Bates system of defense. Evidently those seven counters came hard.

Carleton Wiggins, the best all-around athlete ever raised at Bates, if not in all the Maine colleges, dropped in to see us last Wednesday night. His Portsmouth, N. H. high school boys gave a very fine account of themselves in their game against Edward Little.

"Huck" Finnegan, who played short-stop on the nine last year, is running on the Boston College freshman relay team this season.

"Ray" Ebner is teaching and coaching in a Vermont high school, and "Jack" Spratt is doing likewise in Bangor High School. Both played on the baseball team last spring.

"Abie" Levine '23, took part in the bouts in the City Hall last night to determine the bantamweight champion of Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont.

ALUMNI

What do the alumni want published in the Student? A large number of graduates, especially those of recent classes, have shown their desire to receive weekly news from the campus by sending in their subscriptions. If it is possible in any way to make the columns of the paper more attractive to Bates graduates, we should appreciate suggestions. We are printing with this issue interesting items concerning two Bates graduates.

Bates alumni, especially those graduating in the nineties, will be interested to learn of the publication of a book of poems by Rev. Ernest Earle Osgood '92. Mr. Osgood is now rector of the Episcopal Church at Brook Hill, Va.

The title of his book is The Master Fisherman and it is published by The Stratford Company, Boston, Mass. It is especially interesting to know that the famous novelist, Henry Synner Harrison, has written an introduction to the collection of poems. Mr. Harrison, it will be remembered, is the author of Queed and V. V.'s Eyes.

The Boston Herald for January 15 appeared with a half page article describing a health campaign being carried on in the city of Malden, Mass., under the direction of Prof. Clair E. Turner, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Professor Turner is a graduate of Bates in the class of 1912, and has recently been made a trustee of the college.

According to the Herald, the campaign is now being waged under the supervision of Professor Turner is an attempt to prove that public health is a subject which may be taught just the same as arithmetic and geography. The schools are being used as experimental stations and the school children are furnishing the material for the experiments.

A new method of instruction introduced by Professor Turner is that of teaching by moving pictures. One of the films used was called Getting Acquainted with Bacteria, and it was found possible to teach by means of this picture things which could not be handled successfully otherwise.

The Herald concludes by saying of Professor Turner's work: "Malden's experiment is being watched by boards of education everywhere, and if it proves its worth it will in time benefit the world."

STORY OF BATES AND DEBATING

cause of their facility in argument and in driving their point home. Not a single one of these men if questioned as to the part that Bates has played in determining his success would hesitate in expressing loving gratitude to the college for what it has done for him. We are of the opinion that paraphrasing Lincoln's tribute to his mother they would say "Much that we are we owe to her." Bates' College has truly an illustrious record.

The history of debating at Bates runs almost parallel with that of the college itself. Like that of the college it demonstrates the truth that a worthwhile venture when backed by men of unswerving faith and determination, inevitably succeeds. The seeds of interest first sown among the students at Bates, by Uncle Johnny Stanton, whose memory hallows many other activities connected with the college, have borne good fruit and today Bates ranks second to none in debating.

In the early days debating at Bates was fostered by the three literary societies, Eurosophia, Polymnia and Pliacia, which have since been replaced by more modern clubs, and was confined entirely to debates between the various intra-collegiate groups making up the student body. This custom of discussing questions of interest in a broad and open way has been handed down to the Politics club as judged by American standards of debating and would have been acclaimed as such had the debate been held on neutral soil and decided upon by the votes of impartial judges.

Bates was honored as being the first American college to be invited to participate in a debate with an English University and the interchange of ideas that resulted did much to cement the good feeling that exists between the students of the new and those of the old world.

We may well ask, what is the secret of Bates' many victories in debating. The answer is found in the Bates' system and the men who have made it what it is. The college owes much to the late President, George Colby Chase who coached the first teams in debating (1896-1902) thereby setting the precedent for those who followed. From 1902 up to 1913 debating at Bates was under the supervision of various professors, the foremost of whom were Professors Foster, McNeil, Carroll, Hartshorn, Spofford and Oldham.

A new regime which has expanded into the present system was instituted in 1913, with the coming of Professor A. Craig Baird to Bates. As Professor of Argumentation and English, Professor Baird has devoted much time to building up and stabilizing debating and to date has coached 19 of the 51 intercollegiate debates in which the college has engaged. He has been ably assisted in his work by Professors J. Murray Carroll and George M. Chase, who have rendered valuable service in helping to choose teams, criticize ar-

Following the custom instituted by the Board of Editors last year, the Student will issue a Joy Number during mid-year exams. If any of you gentle readers have a vein of humor that you would like to tap, kindly do so. We do not demand that your efforts shall be so excruciatingly funny that "Nestor would swear the jokes be laughable," if you will allow us to paraphrase Shakespeare.

Anything and everything humorous will be welcome. Kindly hand all contributions to the Editor-in-Chief or Managing Editor on or before February 1.

BATES RELAY TO MEET VERMONT

On February 4, the Bates Relay team will meet the University of Vermont at the annual track meet in Boston. Coach Jenkins has much promising material to choose from. Captain Baker and Batten, of last year's team, and Cleaves '24, will make a strong bid for the Garnet four, while Archibald, Bragg, Smella and Wilson, of the freshman class, are all men to be reckoned with.

NEWS FROM PRESIDENT GRAY AND BURSAR ROWE

President Gray and Bursar Rowe have been having a very interesting trip in the interests of the Bates' Million Dollar Fund. They left Lewiston a week ago last Wednesday, and conferred all Thursday and Friday with the executive committee of the campaign in New York. The President was joined by Mrs. Gray in New York.

Saturday, a luncheon was given to the President at the Women's University Club for all New York and Philadelphia alumni. Dr. Gray, F. R. Griffin '98 of Philadelphia, and Elizabeth Perkins '05, of China, spoke. There were 70 present, and it was a very interesting occasion.

Saturday evening, the visitors met the alumni at Hartford. In Hartford, they were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. W. N. Thompson. '88. Sunday, the President preached in the South Baptist Church in Hartford, Conn.

Monday noon there was a joint luncheon of the Rotary, Kiwanis, and Advertising Clubs of Hartford at which the President spoke.

Tuesday evening there was an alumni meeting in Springfield, Mass.

and other student societies now functioning on the campus.

The first intercollegiate debate in which Bates took part was with Colby in 1896. Bates won the contest and as a result was invited to meet Boston University, another member of the New England debating league, in Faneuil Hall, Boston, that same year. Since Boston University had previously defeated Wesleyan, it was a battle between two champions. Bates emerged from the contest victorious and the silver shield that she bore back from Boston is one of the most precious relics that are preserved in the chapter room of Delta Sigma Rho in Chase Hall.

From that day on, Bates became an active participant in intercollegiate contests. The long list of colleges that she has met is as follows: Colby, Boston University, Trinity, University of Maine, B. U. Law School, University of Vermont, Clark, Queens College, College of the City of New York, Massachusetts Agricultural College, Colgate, Tufts, Cornell, Harvard and Yale. Bates claims the debating championship of the East with a record of 40 victories out of 51 debates. No American college has defeated Bates in an intercollegiate debate since 1917. Both Harvard and Yale have been defeated twice by Bates.

A new chapter was written in the history of debating at Bates last June when a team of three debaters, accompanied by their coach, were sent over to England to debate with Oxford University. Bates had been previously invited by cablegram to come and the trip was made possible by the Lewiston Journal and other friends of the college. The debate which was held in the hall of the Oxford Union was rather an open discussion, an exhibition of American methods in debating, than a formally conducted intercollegiate forensic contest. There were no (impartial) judges. The voting was all done by Oxford undergraduates with the result that 253 votes were cast for the home, as contrasted with 90 for the visiting team. According to the press, it was a victory for Bates arguments and determine points of view, and by Professor Grosvenor May Robinson, who, as head of the Public Speaking department, has given personal attention to training the debaters in the technique of platform work and correct methods of delivering.

When getting ready for a varsity debate, the little squad that is to represent Bates spends hours and hours, compiling exhaustive bibliographies, reading and digesting material, analyzing the question and deciding on issues. Like the athletes, they keep rigid training rules and sacrifice much. Wholehearted devotion to Bates backed by the confidence that they are out to win and that the whole college community is solidly behind them, helps them to put in many weary hours of hard work. Perseverance, brains and pluck bring them out ahead. They demonstrate the essential points of the Bates' system in their co-operation, pulling together—team work.

What Is a Vacuum Furnace?

In an ordinary furnace materials burn or combine with the oxygen of the air. Melt zinc, cadmium, or lead in an ordinary furnace and a sum of "dross" appears, an impurity formed by the oxygen. You see it in the lead pots that plumbers use.

In a vacuum furnace, on the contrary, the air is pumped out so that the heated object cannot combine with oxygen. Therefore in the vacuum furnace impurities are not formed.

Clearly, the chemical processes that take place in the two types are different, and the difference is important. Copper for instance, if impure, loses in electrical conductivity. Vacuum-furnace copper is pure.

So the vacuum furnace has opened up a whole new world of chemical investigation. The Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company have been exploring this new world solely to find out the possibilities under a new series of conditions.

Yet there have followed practical results highly important to industry. The absence of oxidation, for instance, has enabled chemists to combine metals to form new alloys heretofore impossible. Indeed, the vacuum furnace has stimulated the study of metallurgical processes and has become indispensable to chemists responsible for production of metals in quantities.

And this is the result of scientific research.

Discover new facts, add to the sum total of human knowledge, and sooner or later, in many unexpected ways, practical results will follow.

OUTSCORE BATES' YOUNGSTERS
TO TUNE OF 28-18

The freshman basketball team suffered defeat at the hands of the Westbrook Seminary five in a fast game. At the outset it appeared to be a white-wash for the prep school as they had registered several baskets before the yearlings had scored any. Before the first half ended, however, Captain Chisholm tallied twice with floor goals for the Garnet. The play was more even in the second period but the Sem kept the lead. Kenney's work from the foul line and that of Chisholm and Huntington aided the home team most. King and Knowles were the stellar attractions for the visitors. The summary:

DEBATING COUNCIL TO AWARD MEDALS

TO MEN ON WINNING INTERCOLLEGIATE TEAMS

Team Will Take Trip Next Semester

The Debating Council met on Tuesday at Chase Hall for a short business meeting. It was voted to revive the custom of awarding medals to all men on winning intercollegiate debating teams. The Drew medal was awarded up till four years ago, since which time the custom has been discontinued. All those men, nine in number, who have won debates since that time are also affected by the decision. For each additional debating victory participated in, each man will have one bar added to his medal. Beginning with the present year, Mr. Drew will present medals to the debater whose record for the year is considered the best by the Faculty Committee on Debating.

It was also voted to make arrangements for a trip of the debating team in the near future. The meeting then adjourned.

BATTEN, '23 CAPTAIN OF CROSS COUNTRY

At a meeting of the cross country team this past week, Raymond J. Batten, '23, of Wakefield, Mass., was elected captain for next year. Ray has been a consistent performer at the hill and dale game since his freshman year, making his track letter when a sophomore. The choice is very popular among his teammates and students. He is also goal tender on the hockey team and has been playing a fine game all season.

MR. AND MRS. J. E. COBURN ENTERTAIN ROUND TABLE

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Coburn entertained the Bates Round Table at their home on Frye Street last Friday evening, January 13th. Professor Sidney E. Brown presided at this meeting. A very interesting and illuminating talk was given by Professor R. R. N. Gould of the History Department, his subject being "The Carribean Sea."

At the business meeting of the Round Table, Arthur Purinton was elected as the new member of the executive committee. It was voted that the secretary be instructed to send greetings from the Round Table to Professor and Mrs. S. F. Harms who are spending the year at Madrid, Spain.

DR. WOODROW DELIVERS POWERFUL SERMON AT BATES

Student Body Stirred by Well-Known Congrega-

"COME AND SEE" IS SUBJECT

Probably no services could have been more appropriate for the observance of the annual college day of prayer than the service which was conducted Thursday morning by Dr. Samuel Woodrow in the college chapel. Taking as his subject "Come and See," Dr. Woodrow gave a real message of Christianity which was appreciated by the entire student body.

Acknowledging the importance of the natural sciences and other subjects of a college curriculum, Dr. Woodrow emphasized that religion and especially the Christian religion was even more important. Because of the failure of so many to realize this fact, he attributed most of the dangers of the world not to the uneducated masses, but to the educated few who forget their religion and use their knowledge and wisdom in an evil manner.

BASKETBALL PROS- PECTS FOR GIRLS

FOUR CLASS TEAMS WORKING HARD AND PROMISE COMPE- TITION

The prospects for the class basketball games which will be played off the last of February are very promising. Each class has fine material and is showing up well at practices.

The enthusiasm on the part of those who are trying out for the teams has never been so great. Taking into consideration the hard practicing which the girls are putting in under the supervision of Miss Davies, the games will be worthy of attendance. Watch for the development of the four class teams!

1922 MIRROR BEING PUSHED

GIVES PROMISE OF BEING THE BEST EVER

The 1922 Mirror is going to be the biggest and best ever published. Ashton, the business manager, is going at his work in a business-like manner. The work is being pushed along. Already one-half of the group pictures have been taken. The cuts this year will be superior to those of previous years. Those in charge are profiting by last year's experience, and now have over one-third of the material in the hands of the publishers. It is planned to have the book ready by June 1st. This may make it necessary to eliminate a few groups formerly rushed in at the last minute, but the quality will make up for that. Within a few weeks arrangements will be made to leave orders. As there will be only three hundred and fifty copies issued, the first who come will be the first served.

BATES YEARLINGS SWAMP LEWISTON

Win Over High School Boys
by Score of 50-13

TAKE FIVE OF SEVEN FIRST PLACES

The Bates Freshman and Lewiston High School staged a very one-sided track meet in the Bates gym and on the outdoor track, Tuesday afternoon, when the former walked away with practically every event, winning by the score of 50-13.

As was expected, Archibald, the former Huntington star, easily took the 440, while Sanelia had but little trouble in the half. Sargent, who never ran before until this year, came through handsomely in the mile, lapping all of his competitors.

The Freshmen speedsters are certainly showing much promise and ought to greatly strengthen the varsity in the Maine Intercollegiate Meet, next May.

The summary:
30 Yard Dash—Finals: Won by Burns, Bates; second, Burrill, Bates; third, Doker, Bates. Time: 3 3-5 sec.

1 Mile Run—Won by Sargent, Bates; second, Morrill, Bates; third, Scott, Lewiston. Time: 5 min., 10 sec.

440 Yd. Dash—Won by Archibald, Bates; second, Bragg, Bates; third, Drake, Lewiston. Time: 59 sec.

PHIL-HELLENES ENTERTAIN GREEKS

AN INTERESTING AND WELL PRESENTED PROGRAM EN- JOYED

Friday evening, January 20, the Phil-Hellenic Club entertained the Greeks of Lewiston, at Chase Hall. After the visitors had enjoyed looking at the views of Greece, in the Music room, the attendants of the occasion gathered down stairs and enjoyed the following well-presented program:

Piano Solo Miss Maude Hayward
Welcome Mr. Clarence A. Forbes
Response Mr. Anapas
Vocal Duet
Misses Gertrude Lombard and Alice Cunningham

Speech Professor Chase
Accordian Music Miss Helen Burton
Speech Professor Knapp
The program was appropriately closed by the singing of the Greek National Anthem, after which refreshments were served and all enjoyed a lively social hour.

The speech of Mr. Anapas, in reply to the welcome of President Forbes was of superior quality. With great sincerity, he assured the Phil-Hellenes that their kindness and friendship to the native Greeks of these cities were fully appreciated.

The representative speeches of Professor Chase and Professor Knapp were both very excellent and impressed upon the audience the very sentiment which should exist between the Phil-Hellenes and the worthy descendants of Sophocles, Socrates, and Homer.

EYES OF CONFERENCE TURN TOWARDS CHINA

WILLIAM HARD INTER- PRETS TREND OF CONFERENCE FOR COLLEGE PRESS

Washington, D. C., January 21, 1922. The principal teaching proffered to the public this week by the Washington Conference is that we may now look forward in the Far East to a really perfected era of complicated joint international action in China with an international committee or commission or board or bench for just about each and every separate individual Chinese woe. The Board of Reference now contemplated by the Conference for the potential adjustment, or, at any rate, potential consideration—of questions arising out of the application of the principle of the Open Door and of foreign equality of business opportunity in China will be presumably a long lived body.

The commission on what is to be done about foreign troops in China and the commission on what is to be done about foreign law courts in China and the assembly of foreign makers of the Chinese tariff might also last for some time in their present proposed form or in some other form, in view of the fact that the woes which they are to abate they will probably abate without extinguishing; and since the Chinese will more or less applaud them as shatters and then unterceptably demand that they go on to be extinguishers it is not unreasonable

ON WITH THE DANCE

OUTING CLUB TO PUT JAZZ IN CARNIVAL PROGRAM

On the evening of Friday, February tenth, there is to be a real dance in Chase Hall,—the first real dance on the campus in the history of our Alma Mater. The hop, which is to be informal in character, is being arranged by the Outing Club, as a part of the impressive Carnival program, and from all present indications it is destined to prove a big success.

Jimmy Hamlin is the chairman of the dance committee, while Earle MacLean and Hazel Monteith are working with him. The industrious Jimmy and his two able assistants are leaving nothing undone towards making the affair a real success.

Dance orders will soon be ready and are to sell at half a dollar a piece. Refreshments will be served. The best orchestra obtainable will furnish the music.

While, of course, the Outing Club would be glad to welcome outsiders to the dance, Chase Hall cannot accommodate college folks and townfolk as well, so the committee wants it distinctly understood that this is a dance for Bates College people, and Bates College people alone.

BATES BASKETEERS GET 31-18 REVENGE ON MAINE

DAVIS AND PERKINS MOVED TO FORWARDS—
KEMPTON SCORES 13 FOULS

New Line-Up Proves Better

The rejuvenated Bates team came in to its own Saturday night and, playing the best game of the year, trimmed Maine to a frazzle on the latter's home surface 31-18. A shift in the position by Coach Smith verified his "hunch" that the team could come through even though it was supposed to be the underdog. Luce played center, Perkins was shifted to forward, as was Capt. Davis, and Johnson and Woodman played guard. Kempton remained in his own position at forward and played the most spectacular game of his career, upsetting the dope that Bates had no one who could shoot fouls, 13 times out of a possible 17 did the diminutive forward ring the bell for a foul goal—a wonderful performance on a strange floor. Perkins' work as a forward was a revelation to the Bates supporters, and he succeeded in eging the spheroid no less than 5 times. Johnson and Woodman, playing guard, played the role to perfection. As a result, Maine was unable to penetrate the Bates defense to any great extent.

Coach Smith double-crossed the Maine outfit by using a different system of play and they were at a total loss to fathom it. Luce, playing the center position which was somewhat new to him, played a spectacular game. Although he did not succeed in getting a basket, he was in there for a purpose and the low Maine score of 18 points tells the story.

Berg of Maine, who played such sensational basketball on the University's last trip to Lewiston, was up against a different proposition Saturday night. His dribbling and floor work were excellent, but they failed to get him anywhere as the Bates team was set to check him and his team-mates and they did it to perfection.

STANTON CLUB TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Will Gather in Rand Hall,
Friday, Feb. 3

The Stanton Club, the Bates Alumni Association of Maine, plans to have a big mid-winter get-together on Friday, February 3, at Rand Hall. They will meet at six o'clock in Rand reception room for an informal reception and at seven o'clock dinner will be served in the Rand dining room.

This is the announcement recently sent out by the executive committee of the Association to graduates, former students and friends of Bates College. The committee hopes that many of the graduates who could not be present at the last Commencement may be able to be present for the twenty-second annual meeting of the Stanton Club.

At six o'clock those returning for this annual meeting will gather in Rand Hall for the informal reception. Here there will be afforded an opportunity to meet old and new members of the faculty as well as classmates and friends of college days. At seven o'clock, dinner will be served in the new Rand Hall dining room. The committee promises a good feed for all who are there. Real chicken with all the fixings and a good fish course are items on the menu.

After the dinner there is to be a program. "Doe" Call '00, has that in charge and says there will be plenty of fun. There will be singing led by Powell, '00, and the Girls' Mandolin Club and the Boys' Quartette are to be there. The list of speakers is still in preparation and will be announced later. Watts '22, captain of the Oxford debating team, will be one of the speakers.

The letter sent out by the executive committee closes with these words, "Bates College is rich in the memories of her great leaders. Of them all none is more loved than 'Uncle Johnny'. He is still a very vivid presence to the members of our alumni body. In memory of him, and in a larger dedication of the future interests of Bates, be present on Friday evening, February 3rd.

What shall be the policy of the student publication? Shall it present news strictly, or is it the part of the college paper to devote a little space to the literary also? Should it run a joke column? We know that some students look first of all for the spice of life, and pass judgment too readily if they fail to find it. And what about interesting the Alumni?

It is a puzzle to decide what sort of material to print and what to leave out, in order to please all the readers. Odysseus may have worried while he was trying to steer a safe course between Scylla and Charybdis, but what would he have done if he had tried to edit a college paper?

We are trying to find the true course for the good ship Bates Student. In the meantime, we ask—Patience!

Some people seem to think that the creation of the new committee on selection of courses is to take the place of the present advisory system. It is intended to do nothing of the sort.

The new committee takes one duty away from the advisers, namely, that of assisting students in the choosing of subjects. The committee consists of nine faculty members, three of whom are assigned to each of the three upper classes.

Students are still expected to consult their former advisers as to church attendance and personal matters.

MORE ARGUMENTS FOR A COLLEGE EDUCATION

A recent number of the American Magazine contained a report of an interview with President Angell of Yale University. In the course of the interview, Dr. Angell used figures from a survey to show that in the field of business, 277 times as many college bred men have amassed great wealth as non-college men, the estimate being based upon the names of 15,142 successful men.

Similar results were to be found in a classification of the men who have entered the field of public life. "On the whole, the college man's chance for eminence, as indicated by the names in the Encyclopedia, was figured as 870 to 1, as against the non-college man."

Ten years after the Western Electric Company began employing college men, estimates were made which showed that 90% of these made good in their work, compared with 10% of the men who entered business on leaving the high or grammar school.

The chief argument against these estimates is that the men who go to college are a sifted lot in the first place. There is truth in this; these men have a good deal in them to begin with. The trouble is, to bring it out. That is where a college education has its application.

In an article entitled Why the Who's Are Who, printed recently in The Independent, we are told: "Every man is born, matures, lives a while and dies, but so does the tadpole, and the tadpole in its life career changes into a frog, which is more than some men do. The tadpole gets along pretty well, too—is more efficient in the job of living than some men are. It does not know much, but it knows how to use what it does know."

The non-college man may know how to use what he knows. He will go far, in that case. The college man, on the other hand, has a chance to know a lot more, and if he finds out how to use what he knows, he will go a correspondingly greater distance.

Some college men never develop into frogs, but this is just as true of men who do not go to college. The college man who does learn how to use his education is the kind of man the world needs today.

LITERARY

AN EXORBITANT ECSTASY

H. W. Maister, '23

Let me loose, Oh Muse! I'm wild!
I ooze with boiling glees!
Let me get a whiff of comet's dust
And play with the nebulae.

Strap me high on Pegasus, Muse,
And cram me full of Romance.
If they stiek in the mud, remove my shoes,
And brush the dust of my pants.

Let me drink the cream of the milky way
And sit on constellations,
Let me bask in star shine every day.
Away with regulations!

Let me out—let me loose in a hurry
I'm wild, Oh Muse. You know it,
Tho' I am a blooming fool—why worry?
At least, I'm a blooming poet.

A PRAYER

Amy Blaisdell, '23

God save me from uncaring mood—
The calloused soul,—the sears
That shut out beauty as a cloud
Passing before the stars.

O God, but quicken Thou my soul
To know the wonder-thrill
When I but look upon Thy Face
In trees and birds and rill!

A NEW SCHOOL OF WRITERS

Since the war, there has arisen a small group of novelists who seem to be protesting against the complacency of commercialized literature.

In regard to the future of the American novel, two of the most brilliant ones are Francis Scott Fitzgerald, a Princetonian, Stephen Vincent Benet, Yale, '19.

Mr. Fitzgerald's novel, The Beautiful and Damned is to be published in book form by Scribner's. The famous Fitzgerald flapper is found in work, and the hero is disillusioned in regard to everything except this girl. The minor characters are well drawn from life,—a reformer, a theosophist, and a movie director. The humor and satire are deftly handled, but the prevailing mood seems to be one of first cynicism. The author reveals his own ideas and experiences, as in This Side of Paradise.

Stephen Vincent Benet is only 23, yet he has published three volumes of verse, Five Men and Pompey, Young Adventure, and Heavens and Earth.

His first novel is The Beginning of Wisdom; a second, Jean Huguonot, is completed; a third novel is being prepared. The author's memories of Yale are throughout the book. The Beginning of Wisdom. It is said that "the only way to make literary material out of one's youthful experiences is to be shameless about one's self and ruthless with one's friends. Mr. Benet, however, has concealed himself and protected his friends too much. His style is full of color and fantasy, but he occasionally forgets to give his characters as much action as description."

SOCIETIES

RAMSDELL SCIENTIFIC

A meeting of the Ramsdell Scientific Society was held at 7:30 P. M., last week Thursday, January 19, in Carnegie Science Hall. After a short business meeting, Alice Cunningham talked very interestingly about radium, its discovery, its sources, its physiological and chemical activity, and its medical use, especially in relation to cancer. Following this, radium was very thoroughly and somewhat lengthily discussed by the club members, open forum style.

ENTRE NOUS

Entre Nous, a society for Freshman girls, is showing considerable pep and enthusiasm this year, and gives promise of some very interesting sessions during the coming semester. Its second meeting was opened by the president, Helen M. Lovelace, in the Rand Hall Gymnasium, Thursday evening, January 19. After the calling of the roll by the secretary, there was a short business discussion, in which it was decided that the study of some worth while subject should be alternated with plays and other forms of entertainment as a regular program for the club. Priscilla Frew, Dorothy Lowe, Grace Goddard, and Helen Hill were appointed as a social committee to have charge of the next meeting. Then followed a short but novel playlet entitled "The Literal Interpretation of Poe's Hantes." The chief parts in this pantomime were played by the following: Ruth Nutter, Chief Hontas, Bernice Mayhew, Capt. Smith, Alice Gordon. The interpreter and director was Elsie F. Brickett, while Enterpe Bonkus superintended the staging and costuming. Light refreshments were served and the meeting adjourned.

PRESS CLUB

The members of the Press Club gathered at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening, January 23, around the table of the conference room in Chase Hall. Harold Segal, chairman of the editorial board acquainted the members present with plans for an extensive campaign in the near future, when it is hoped that arrangements may be made for the contribution of articles or news items to several leading papers of New England. A questionnaire is now being prepared, concerning which a lively interest should be roused in the college. The questions are to be both serious and amusing—certainly an increase of knowledge will be the result if the right spirit is shown and the questions are properly answered. It was a disappointment that President Gray, on account of illness, was unable to speak on Newspaper Propaganda, as planned, but it is hoped that he may carry out this program at a later meeting.

PHIL-HELLENIC

The Phil-Hellenic Society met in the Music Room at Chase Hall, Tuesday evening. After a short business meeting, the Greek Myths "Atlanta's Race" and "The Gorgon's Head" were presented. Those taking part were Grace George '22, Alice Cunningham '23, Gertrude Lombard '23, Mildred Baker '23, Paul Libby '24, and Richard Wadde '24. The next meeting of the society will be held in three weeks.

ALUMNI

An interesting meeting of the New York Alumni was held on January 14, at the Women's University Club, 106 E. 52d Street. President Gray, J. A. Coram (for whom the Library is named), Frederick R. Griffin, '88, and Elizabeth S. Perkins, '05, were among the speakers. A. F. Gilmore, '92, presided. The New York alumni are very active and much interested in the college. Faculty or students expecting to visit New York would do well to notify the Secretary, Caroline W. Chase, 105 E. 22nd Street, who will be glad to put them in touch with alumni in town.

'88—Frederick W. Oakes, head of the Oakes Home in Denver, Colo., sails on February 4 for a trip to Egypt and Palestine.

'02—The Class of 1902 is making very enthusiastic plans for its twentieth reunion at Commencement, June 18. The headquarters will be the Frye Street House. The Secretary, Alfred E. McCleary, is sending out timely bulletins, and it looks as if 1902 might win the trophy for attendance at Commencement.

'04—Guy L. Weymouth has resigned his seat as a member of the Mass. legislature from Belmont, because professional demands upon his time do not allow him to give full return for the salary he draws as a member of legislature. Editorials in several Boston papers comment favorably upon his action.

'12—Arthur R. C. Cole, who has been principal of the West Upton, Mass., H. S. for the past six years, has resigned to become principal of the high school in Maynard, Mass.

'17—Ray B. Cate, formerly of Bates '17, is in the graduating class at the Springfield Training School.

'18—Invitations have been sent out to the wedding of Eva Caplan to Bernard Gould, '18, to take place on January 31, 1922, at Hotel Nonotok, Holyoke, Mass.

'21—Miss Lillian Dunlap has a fine position as director of religious education and assistant in parish work in the First Congregational Church of Winchester, Mass. This is one of the largest and most prosperous churches in the state.

Friends of Bates will be interested to recall that this is the church of which Ex-Governor Samuel W. McCall, a warm friend of the late President Chase and of Bates, is a member.

'03—Mr. Beedy, the well known Bates graduate, who is now in Congress, is keeping well in the fore front. The following "Special" to the Portland Evening Express from its Washington correspondent is of interest:

"Rep. Beedy of Portland is to be the principal speaker at the Young Men's Republican Club at New Haven, Conn., on Monday, February 13, and on February 11, will deliver the Lincoln Day address at Williamsport, Penn. Mr. Beedy is regarded here as one of the best orators in Congress and is much sought after in making up programs."

CHINA

to believe that they or their successors will continue until China is swept clean of all foreign administrative political intrusion whatsoever. The moment of the peak of imperialism now shows us on the other side of the peak a peculiarly perpendicular precipice.

Joint international action is demanded by the contraction of the world through the improvement in the facilities of travel and of communication and it is demanded by the increasing interdependence of the countries of the world in the matter of natural resources and of manufactured commodities. But joint international action among the strong is bound to bring forth exactly what Nabrindranath Tagore of India, last Friday mentioned in his memorable comment on the work of the conference. It is bound to bring forth a joining of minds among the weak. The Moroccan or the Annamese who is dominated no matter how benevolently by France, the Egyptian or the Indian who is dominated no matter how benevolently by Britain, the Filipino who is dominated no matter how benevolently by the United States, the Korean who has incurred the Japanese imitation of white imperial benevolent dominance, are all of them now bound to feel the current of a common cause flowing from the Atlantic Moroccan coast through all northern Africa and across the whole of western and southern and eastern Asia to the islands of the Pacific in answer to the apparent common cause of the great nations which they believe are leaguely themselves together in Far Eastern treaties and Far Eastern Committees and commissions not to modify their dominance but to fortify it. The theory that all these hundreds of millions of people can be persuaded that our purpose is really one of modification will be advanced. It will be advanced in periodicals which these hundreds of millions of people do not read. The Orient will know simply that Britain and France and America and Japan are joined in the Orient. Why are they joined? They are joined in order to prevent quarrels among themselves. It is a most laudable, a most necessary object. But what are the quarrels about? The quarrels are about things in regions which they foreingly dominate. And how do they propose to abate those quarrels? Not by withdrawing from these regions but by establishing conferences and commissions in them. It may be argued justly that the conferences and commissions are natural and honorable and inevitable. It remains true that conferings and communications between peoples in common subordination to dominant leagued peoples will be natural and honorable and inevitable. We shall see the clash of two inevitabilities.

The Washington conference forwards the freeing of the Orient. If the nations in the Washington conference simply retired from the Orient, the Orient might relapse into its own ancient despotism. The Washington Conference abolishes that prospect. It confronts the Orient with a concert of powers which can be resisted only by a concert of awakened peoples. It assuages the clash between the powers. It hastens the day of a conference in the Orient for assuaging the clash between the powers and the peoples. It could ask no larger destiny.

William Hard.

LAST SATURDAY NIGHT!

On Saturday evening, January 21, Bates men and women singly and in pairs, gathered at Chase Hall for the popular movies and dance. The movie program consisted of an allegorical Red Cross film on War Work and the feature film "The Prince Chap," starring Thomas Meighan. The enjoyment of the first rate program was enhanced by the tuneful strains of the melody makers.

Following the "expulsion" of the chairs, everyone joined in the dancing which continued 'till the hour forbade further enjoyment. As the couples were rambling homeward, the college bell announced the victory over Maine and everyone gave vent to his enthusiasm then and there. The dances are increasingly popular and everyone enjoys the opportunity to "shake their slippers."

Y. M. AND Y. W. HOLD JOINT MEETING

Dr. Leonard Speaker

On Wednesday evening, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. held a joint meeting in preparation for the Day of Prayer. The Y. W. C. A. had charge of the meeting, Alice Jessemann being the leader. The meeting opened with a prelude played by Izetta Lidstone, 22, and Marjorie Pillsbury, 23, sang a solo.

Doctor Leonard was introduced as the speaker for the evening. He said that if he were to choose a subject to speak on he would call it, "Some Student Obligations." He then went on to speak of the various obligations of the students in the college activities. The student needs the social training, the gymnastic work, and the opportunity in athletics that the college affords. The obligation upon which Doctor Leonard laid stress was that of the religious life. He impressed upon his hearers the fact that if they did not become vitally connected with some religious work now the chances are that they never will. In closing the speaker urged those men and women who were not Christians and church members to become definitely allied with some church and its work.

BATES BASKETEERS
GET REVENGE

Maine scored first on a neat basket by Noyes, but that was the only time during the evening that they were ahead, for then the Bates quintet got into action and, displaying a nice brand of team-work and clever basketball, started to pile up a lead which they held to the end. Perkins got his eye back and, showing some of the basketball which made him the all New England Interscholastic center last year, he started dropping them in the basket—Johnson, Woodman and Davis aided him while Kempton was dropping in the foul goals with such regularity that the gallery wondered if he could miss one.

Spirit and team work were the two greatest factors in determining the winner and now that the boys have them, let's go after that New England Interscholastic title.

SPORT NOTES

Coach Smith wore a nice broad smile after Saturday night's game at Orono and he was justly entitled to, for after losing to Maine in Lewiston, he drove his basketballers to such an extent that they came through in fine style.

"Jack!" Spratt spoke a few words to the boys before the game. The spirit which they showed was typical of "Jack".

Bowdoin cancelled last Saturday's hockey game with Bates. Too much snow on the Delta. It's an ill snow-storm that doesn't blow somebody good.

Kempton got beat by Maine, Saturday night, 18-17.

Abie Levine '23, K. O. his opponent in the 2nd round in the championship bouts held at City Hall last Thursday evening.

On Feb. 18, the Worcester Poly. basketball team comes to Lewiston for a game with Bates. W. P. I. won the N. E. Championship last year and has one of the strongest teams in the country. The rapid improvement in the Bates team assures a very fast game—and one which will just about decide the N. E. Championship. Let's get ready to show some "pep" in the city hall that evening.

The hockey team left Tuesday night on a 4-day trip to play West Point, M. A. C. and Yale.

The basketball team plays Colby to-night at Waterville.

The freshmen swamped Lewiston 11-0 easily in the track meet Tuesday afternoon, showing that there are some extra good track men in the 1925 class.

The University of California will in all probability appear here next June for a dual tennis meet with Bates.

"Bill" Langley '21, who played right field on the nine for the past two years is at present in California in business.

Freshman Track Team
To Meet Portland High

Coach Jenkins will send his Freshman Track Team to Portland, Saturday, January 28, to contest Portland High. The following representatives of 1925 are expected to participate in the various events of the meet: Bragg (capt), Archibald, Sanella, S. E. Wilson, Morrell, Corey, Sargent, Kennedy, Hagberg, Gallop, Daker, Kenney, Fletcher, Burrill, Tierney, W. Burns. This team feels very confident of a victory for 1925. We are hoping to run a special car to Portland, for the benefit of those men who are loyal to the team. We must have at least thirty-five in order to get this privilege of the special car. The more who go, the cheaper will be the rate. This Freshman team presents material unprecedented by any other class. Why should they, then, not be confident? And if the team expect to come through with the laurels, is it not our least duty to share this expectation? Are you willing to give it your support? Come on, men, sign up for the special, and make that meet a real occasion.

DR. WOODROW DELIV-
ERS POWERFUL SER-MON AT BATES

Religion must be taken as an experimental science like any other subject. It is transcendent in all of its phases, in doctrine, in hopes and in promises. There is ever to be found an Almighty God working behind it. It is the Christian religion that makes man different from the grass of the field, not to bloom in the morning then fade and die, but to live on eternally. No where except in the Bible can we hope to find such promises.

"Christianity has at all times stood the attacks hurled against it. In the beginning men attacked the facts, but these stood the test. Then they assailed the doctrines, yet every doctrine that is based upon facts has withstood. Finally they would scatter our hopes but again they fail. While the Christian religion is transcendent on the divine side as is befitting the mightiness of God, it is perfectly simple and plain on the human side as is befitting the nature of man.

"Religion is built on faith, but in this respect it does not differ from any of the other institutions around us. Faith has to do with every part of our life. Practically all of our knowledge depends upon faith. We believe what we read from others. Even science which most would claim is real, depends upon faith. A few years ago the scientist told us that the air contained only nitrogen and oxygen. Now he tells us of argon. We were then deceived, but who would stop breathing for that one reason. So with religion. We must not stop our practical and spiritual use of Christianity each time that something new is found.

"As we develop we shall find new interpretations for the Bible, but this discovery should strengthen our faith in its divinity and truth. The Bible must satisfy us from childhood until old age. Again it must satisfy all men of all lands and races, not only now but during all times present, past, and future. All of these requirements, naturally make the Bible complex, but because it fulfills these requirements, it proves that it is transcendent."

Dr. Woodrow then showed that it is for us to make use of this great religion. Man could not make a ray of sun or build such a universe, nevertheless it is for him to live in harmony with them. So with God, we can understand Him, yet we must live in accord with His teachings. We must come and see Christ for ourselves. No one can tell us about Him and make us believe any more than one from Maine could make a South Sea Islander believe about snow and ice by merely talk. With absolute faith in the Bible we must come and see Christ in the manger, see Him again as a growing boy, see Him administering good and healing the infirm and finally on Calvary as He prayed, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

Dr. Woodrow spent his boyhood days in Lewiston and is a graduate of Bates. He is now one of the best known Congregational ministers in the country.

ARMY TOO STRONG FOR GARNET

BATES DEFEATED 4 TO 1 IN CLEAN, FAST HOCKEY GAME

West Point, N. Y., Jan. 25—The Army won a fast, clean hockey game from Bates, today, 4 to 1. The Maine collegians showed a well developed knowledge of the game but they were badly outweighed and were opposed by a much more experienced crew. Nevertheless they gave the Army goal tender a busy afternoon. He registered 32 stops before the afternoon was over.

Six-man hockey was played throughout. Cogan was the star of the Bates team.

SOPHS HUMBLE FIGHTING SENIORS

SHUT OUT ELDERS IN FIRST INTERCLASS HOCKEY

In the first interclass "shimmy" game of the season the Sophomores triumphed over the Seniors 4-0 on the "Del." Andrews rink, last Wednesday afternoon before the Day of Prayer. The game started off with a rush and continued so throughout the first minute of play—then settled down to a question of time per "B.H." Bailey's Ingersoll.

The Sophs ailed greatly by the clever work of Bartlett succeeded in scoring first, second, third and fourth while up to this writing the seniors hadn't scored. If the '22 men could wield their hockey sticks as clever as Penny could manipulate the cage, the Sophs would never have scored. Penny tried the cage at all angles to the rink, and it seemed to work best when he had it turned backwards to the opposing centers.

Moulton played a strenuous game—more so than anything else—his football knowledge helping him to a great extent in tackling from behind. Lesieur cleaned up the rink on the Senior side while Gormley reciprocated for the Sophomores. "Red" Mennally was put out of the game by the goal judges for dribbling with two feet. Partridge was so clever he was penalized and consequently he couldn't go to chapel yesterday.

A FEW COLLECTED THOUGHTS APROPOS OF THE BATES STUDENT JOY NUMBER FOR MIDYEARS—1922

Inasmuch as gloom profiteth a man nothing, whatever may be the prevailing circumstances, therefore be it decreed that there shall be joy. If it were feasible for a man to live to himself alone, there would be no occasion for the rendering of these admonishments, yet sober reflection has established the fact that man is a social animal. Therefore, be it taken as a theme:

"Laugh and the world laughs with you,
Weep, and you weep alone;
For this brave old earth must borrow its mirth.
But has trouble enough of its own."

Whereas we are told that a statement should not be set forth without accompanying statements of proof, be it submitted that to be glad is more natural to the man than to be sad. "One inch of joy surmounts of grief a span, because to laugh is proper to the man."

Moreover, every doctor will tell you that

"Care to our coffin adds a nail, no doubt,
And every grin so merry draws one out."

Consider the maxim: "Eat, drink, and be merry," and do not forget that the concluding words "be merry" are most important of the entirety, for if ye eat and drink, but fail in the last provision, it will then be found necessary to call a doctor, whose prescription will be found to consist of at least three bottles of unguinous syrup and not more than thirteen pills, all of which directs our attention to the better wisdom of the preventive over the curative school of health.

And furthermore, to a careful and fair-minded observer, it will be found that there is no true justification for despondency. "For every cloud has a silver lining," and indeed, "it is an ill wind that blows no one any good." All that is useful is to seek—"for pleasures lie thickest where no pleasures seem." Is it not true that "all nature wears one universal grin"?

"A man is known by the company he keeps." Therefore, if it should appear goodly in your sight to travel in the path worn down by the feet of those light hearted souls who have gone before you in the search for the fountain of youth, your reputation will stand unsullied for all generations.

It is the thought, not the deed that counts. Shall we ever forget that hero in Gulliver's Travels who "had been eight years upon a project for extracting sunbeams out of cucumbers, which were to be put in phials hermetically sealed and let out to warm the air in raw, inclement summers"? Surely that man was possessed of a good idea.

Offtimes, to be sure, misfortune may appear to tread upon your trailing skirts, yet it will console you to remember that:

"The loss of wealth is loss of dirt,
As sages in all times assert;
The happy man's without a shirt."

So, still striving onward, the goal will surely be yours if you take as your motto:

"Though hard be the task,
Keep a stiff upper lip."

And when, at last, the summit be reached, if you would keep that which you have obtained, make this the rule of your life:

"All who joy would win, must share it,— Happiness was born a twin."

YOU'RE all good scouts
PROVE your rep

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

When the students begin to bluff the profs
When the sharks most mightily show off;
When you try to keep happy, yet study a lot—
Why, then it's nearly midyears.
When you study the cut-book with assiduity
When your chapel excuses are pure ingenuity
When sleep is considered a mere superfluity—
Oh—then, it's nearly midyears.
When note-books are due and it's time to review
When napping up lab work keeps you in a stew
When you're down in the mouth and just about through
Oh—then it's nearly midyears.
When the Froshes look happy; upperclassmen relieved
When the profs look no longer so utterly peeved—
From the joy in your faces, the world will believe
That they're over!
Oh—boy—ain't it a grand and glorious feeling?

THAT ARG. COURSE

Plunk me not, O kind professor,
Hear my humble plea;
While on others thou art smiling,
Do not pick on me.
Cho.: Birdie, Birdie, hear my humble

Do not flunk poor me.

PROFESSOR RANK M. HARD: (Pillbox University) I am no dumbbell. I know if my students are going to flunk, when they enter the classroom. If a girl comes in with the same amount of cosmetics on her face she had the day before, I know she is a conscientious kid, and studied all night long—after she got home from the dance. Never bother with her paper. There may be nothing inside. But hand her an A. If a fellow enters the room eating hot dogs he didn't go to breakfast. He probably studied instead. Poor fellow! Give him an A.

DR. O. DRY UPP, Q. E. D., B. V. D., R. S. V. P., Nu TT: (Pres. of Interstate Correspondence School). We are sending postpaid examinations to every state in the union this week. Most of our students are specializing in Co-education. You'd be surprised to see some of the letters my girls write. They all have a day beginning and a week ending. I'd rather read these examination papers than wind my watch. The highest rank given is 100 x's.

PROFESSOR GYM A. SIUM: (College of Physical Torture) There's nothing like mid-years to develop the body. Worry all you can. It's great exercise to toss about the bed on sleepless nights. Write rapidly. It's a swell finger drill. Crib every chance you get. There is no better neck exercise. Get outdoors as soon as you can. Our training rules: Eat three meals each night, drink wine, eat out co-education!"

MADAME GOLD BUG: (Auburn Hair University) This is the foremost women's college in America. Our mid-year epidemic lasts nine days. During that time shampoos and low shoes are prohibited. Hair nets are worn only to Fine Arts. Midnight oil is furnished when the candles are burned out. According to the state law girls can work only forty-eight hours a week. Saturday afternoon we hold an old fashioned spelling bee. Come and see the honey! The girls are allowed one absence from Church services during the examination period.

DR. OO LA LOOLAH: (Hula Hula University). All cannibalism is forbidden during midyears. Enough students lose their heads without outside assistance. Pans are permissible only on heated occasions. The principal examinations are held in Bamboo Hall. Banana "spits" are served between periods. Students are requested to refrain from cracking cocoanuts in the dressing rooms.

Then bottle and add a grasshopper to each pint to give it the kick."—Rochester Courier.

VOLLEY BALL CON- TEST CHAMPIONSHIP OF AMERICA

position by the coach and every man was "on his toes" as "Doe" Britan prepared to serve. He threw the ball high into the air, but instead of hitting it caught it in his hands, while a philosophic expression came into his face. Looking over at his team-mate, Carl H. Smith, L. L. B., he asked, "Do you suppose a ball ever says to itself, 'I am a ball!'"

And Lane Brain replied hesitatingly, "I know, but I don't want to tell you."

"Coach Chase was slow to anger, but now he exploded, "Whaddaya think this is! By the dogs, I'll kick you both off the squad if you don't get some zip into this game. Serve that pill!" And the Doctor served it.

"Doe" has a mean left arm and the ball sailed over the netting straight for the Bouncing Bursar. He was waiting with uplifted arm, and with one lonely hand knocked the ball out of bounds.

"Cut the one-handed stuff! There aint no two-finger limit, here," yelled "Pom." Go after it with both of 'em as though you were grabbing for money.

"One to nothin'," interrupted "Doe" Britan.

"Snap into it there, Groz-ve-nor! Serve her up!" yelled Goosie, and the handsomest man on the squad gracefully propelled the ball on its journey.

Points were made on both sides and soon the score stood 10-12, with "Pa" Gould's outfit in the lead.

"We're goin' strong," shouted MacDonald. "Our old team's on a rippin' roarin' rampage. This's the way they used to play the game back in the eight hundreds."

Excitement was running high. Coach Chase was all over the floor, giving individual advice. It was J. Murray's turn to serve.

"Haw, haw, haw!" laughed Shylow Rowe, "ze professor of soakeology is in action."

"Don't stand there like the statue of liberty," bawled "Pa" Gould to the Bursar.

"I wouldn't be surprised, father," answered that gentleman genially, "if your psychological test would be very low."

Just then Carroll served the ball. It landed squarely on the Bursar's dome, and glanced off at an angle toward Ramsdell. Was he flustered? Not at all. He had that angle all figured out before the ball reached him and with a vicious swipe sent it over the net. "Doe" Finnie was not expecting it, and both he and the ball went to the floor.

"Yow-w-w," he howled, not daring to say anything more expressive.

The game went on. Lawrence was serving. Over came the ball. Lane Brain hit it. Britan hit it. Finnie returned it.

"Very Good! Very good!" said "Dutchie," "I couldn't have done it better myself. But I would like to try the next one, if you please. Not because yours wasn't well done, but I want to do it just a little different, if you please." And while he was talking the ball hit him in the face.

"What's the matter? Got Locomotor ataxia?" yelled Finnie. And just then, the game at fifteen all, Prexy Gray entered.

"I hope you boys won't mind my interruption, but if you will allow me, I would like to tell you a little story. This is only the fourth time I have told it on the campus, but perhaps there is one of you who hasn't heard it. No, it isn't the "Alfred" anecdote. But as I came in here I thought you might invite me to play, and it made me feel as the young minister did who was unexpectedly called upon to preach his mother-in-law's funeral sermon,—scared but happy."

Per hint, the gentleman was immediately invited into the game and as a result of his playing as they do at the University of Chicago, the opposing side won in a very few moments. Then, he had such a "close shave" in escaping from his infuriated team-mates, that he lost his moustache.

render, and the building fairly rocked at her vivid portrayal of the capture of Yorktown.

Next in order was an original song composed by one of the most loyal supporters of the cause. The song follows:

Tune: "Peggy O'Neil"

If your students are a wreck,
That's dear "Pa" Gould.

Outside reading by the peek
That's dear "Pa" Gould.

Lessons so long they would drive you to drink

Questions that scare you so you can't think;

A mighty fine prof and a mighty stiff course,

That's dear "Pa" Gould.

Next in order was a very interesting talk given by Miss Marion V. Chick, who spoke with her customary eloquence upon the subject "Practical Reasons Why Every Bates Student Should Elect Prof. Gould's Courses." The arguments brought forth were concise and to the point. At one particularly emphatic point, the speaker was interrupted suddenly with cries of "treason" by Mabel Simmons, leader of the opposition. She was quickly silenced however, by her opponent, Miss Rogers, and the speaker was allowed to proceed. Prolonged applause followed the conclusion of the speech.

Another song followed this speech.

Tune: "I Ain't Nobody's Darling."

"Pa" Gould he is a pippin

He's got the dope you bet

He makes us work like niggers

But he aint killed us yet

If we survive his mid-years

And still can stand the test

We'll tackle Andrew Jackson

And hope on for the best.

At the conclusion of this song, Miss Rogers very fittingly gave a review of the tariffs, emphasizing especially the sectional interests which resulted from each. She received great applause for her concise and clear statements.

To conclude the evening, dates were passed around for refreshments, and the following final song was very fittingly sung:

Tune: "Ma."

Pa, how hard you sit on me

Pa, how oft you frighten me

Pa, you're personality's fine,

And I'm sure when you're asleep

you're just divine;

Pa, you rap my politics

Get my goat a bit.

My principles are almost cracked

I've nearly turned a Democrat

Pa! Please don't flunk me!

It was indeed a happy and encouraged company which finally separated for their respective homes. Each person present went away with a new vigor and strength to meet the approaching ordeal. Those present were Grace Daley, Vivienne Rogers, Theodora Barcutzen, Marion Chick, Ruth Dunlap, Elva Perry, and Mabel Simmons, who ineffectively led the opposition.

tie apparatus, finding out, among other things, that there is nothing but space between a horizontal bar and the floor and that it is "bad medicine" to catch a medicine ball on the nose.

At the foot of a whistle, the class lines up and marches about the room performing such "feats" as, raising the arms, stepping on the fellow's heels in front of you, and whistling "Yankee Doodle." We then secure dumb-bells and proceed with the next event on the program; that is, waving our arms about like birds or twisting about like contortionists. I never saw a man change his mind so often as the instructor. We no sooner start doing one thing well, than he tells us to do another.

The next part of the course consists in performing on the horizontal bar. A poor "Frosh" carefully approaches the bar, places his hands upon it, jumps, poises himself, slowly puts one leg over it and then proceeds to fall upon his nose or any other convenient projecting part of his anatomy. But they are an indomitable lot, who believe that "A man may be down, but he's never out," and take another ring at Fate.

But even the longest roads have an end, we shall soon reach "the shores of the Jordan," and graduate from the Freshman class. Then, there will be cause for great rejoicing.

FUR-LINED BATHTUBS TO BE INSTALLED IN J. B.

The inventive genius of some unknown person has finally solved a difficult problem. For many years, the freshmen, coming from their wealthy and luxurious homes, have expostulated against the changeable shower baths at John Bertram Hall. Their tender bodies recoiled at the contact of the icy water, and many have been so frightened as to almost want to leave our college halls. But to more will they shiver and shake, for soon they will be able to perform their ablutions—daily, weekly, or yearly—in fur-lined bath tubs. How warm they will be!

We suggest, also, that they be allowed to wear steam-heated wrist-watches during these cold Maine winters. To be sure, "hot air" is always more plentiful, but steam ought to turn the trick,—we have such an excessive amount of it in our dormitories.

From A Faint Blue Glow
To Modern Miracles

EDISON saw it first—a mere shadow of blue light streaking across the terminals inside an imperfect electric lamp. This "leak" of electric current, an obstacle to lamp perfection, was soon banished by removing more air from the bulbs.

But the ghostly light, and its mysterious disappearance in a high vacuum, remained unexplained for years.

Then J. J. Thomson established the electron theory on the transmission of electricity in a partial vacuum—and the blue light was understood. In a very high vacuum, however, the light and apparently the currents that caused it disappeared.

One day, however, a scientist in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company proved that a current could be made to pass through the highest possible vacuum, and could be varied according to fixed laws. But the phantom light had vanished.

Here was a new and definite phenomenon—a basis for further research.

Immediately, scientists began a series of developments with far reaching practical results. A new type of X-ray tube, known as the Coolidge tube, soon gave a great impetus to the art of surgery. The Kenotron and Plotron, followed in quick succession by the Dynatron and Magnetron, made possible long distance radio telephony and revolutionized radio telegraphy. And the usefulness of the "iron" family has only begun.

The troublesome little blue glow was banished nearly forty years ago. But for scientific research, it would have been forgotten. Yet there is hardly a man, woman or child in the country today whose life has not been benefited, directly or indirectly, by the results of the scientific investigations that followed.

Thus it is that persistent organized research gives man new tools, makes available forces that otherwise might remain unknown for centuries.

BATES LOSES TO YALE IN FINAL GAME OF TRIP

Holds Lead for First Half
But Finally Overcome
By Fresh Subs

COGAN AND REID STAR

Bates dropped her final game of the hockey trip to Yale at New Haven, last Saturday night to the tune of 5-3, but the Bulldogs will sore remember that she was in a hockey game. Bates led during the first 2 periods 2-1 and only the wear and tear of the hard trip and four successive games enabled the Yale sextet to pass them during the first period. Yale, with a fresh supply of substitutes carried the fight during the last minutes of play and although the garnet men fought fiercely they were unable to stand the "gaff." Although Bates clearly outplayed Yale in the first two periods, some clever goal-tending by Bell stopped them from running up a large score. Cogan played brilliantly for Bates throughout the game while Reid played a star game for Yale. The Bates team had some very ardent and enthusiastic supporters in the New Haven Alumni, who turned out in full force to see the game.

The summary:

Stanley, rw	lw, Farnsworth
Palmer, lw

FRESHMAN TRACK STARS SHINE IN PORTLAND MEET

Take Every First Place But
Winning 59-22

The freshman track team journeyed to Portland Saturday night and handed the high school boys of that city a 59-22 trimming in a dual track meet. The plebes showed well in practically every event, excluding the high jump, winning 9 out of ten. Burrill was the high point man for the freshmen, coping no less than 4 first places. Archibald made a walkaway of the 440, his favorite, easily lapping his competitors, while Sargent, running in the mile, gave a wonderful exhibition, showing what good coaching and spirit will do for a man. Saundella and Hagburg were other first place men.

Without doubt the present 1922 track team is the strongest which ever represented Bates. A special car of rooters mostly freshmen accompanied the team and the pep and spirit they showed at the meet received favorable comment on all sides. The summary in brief:

	Bates	Portland
25 yard dash	9	0
30 yard hurdles	8	1
Running broad jump	8	1
Running high jump	1	8
Pole vault	5	4
Shot put	9	0
440 yard dash	6	3
880 yard dash	8	1
Mile run	5	4

BARON SHIDEHARA GIVES JAPANESE POINT OF VIEW

Envoy to United States
Denies Japan Wishes
To Dominate China

(Special Article by Baron Kijuro Shidehara, Japanese Ambassador to the United States)

The truth must be recognized that Japan is a strongly growing, energetic nation, of which the population has already reached nearly the limit of the food-producing capacity of the land it lives in. Japan can, of course, intensify and increase its food production somewhat, and this matter is already in hand. The Government will not rest in its application of energy and science to this problem until it has attained the maximum possible results. But this increase will be insufficient for the national requirements, and some other means will have to be adopted.

The experience of England and of Belgium has shown that the practical answer is industrializing the nation, and Japan, as a measure of self-preservation, is now facing this transformation from a nation of farmers and harvesters of natural products into one of manufacturers. But manufacturing successfully is impossible without two essentials, the raw materials for the factories and the markets for the finished merchandise.

Now the real essence of the matter is that Japan's islands do not contain the raw materials in any sufficient supply, nor does the population of Japan furnish the possibilities of markets sufficient to absorb Japanese manufactured products. Like England, Japan must buy materials abroad and must pay for (Continued on Page Three)

SPOFFORD CLUB ANNOUNCES PLAYS

MISS INESON AGAIN
WRITES MAIN ATTRACTION

At a meeting of Spofford Club, held at a recent date, definite plans were made for Spofford night, which comes on March 18. The committee appointed to consider plays, announced that after much deliberation, it had chosen "Bimbi Isle," by Harold Manter, for the short, humorous production, and "Canadian Captives," a three act play by Miss Frederic Ineson, as the main attraction. Miss Ineson is the author of "Sekalstewa," the play which was so successfully produced by Spofford last year.

The casts are as follows:
Bimbi Isle
Two sailors, Ed and Jim,
Harold Manter, David Thompson
Chief Crackabona, savage chief of Canibial tribe, William Ashton Princess Ueta, Eleanor Bradford
Two Ensigns,
Herbert Carroll, Carl Purinton
Canadian Captives
Thomas Means, Herbert Carroll
Alice Means, his wife,
Frederic Ineson
Robert, their son, Harold Manter
Molly Finnio, Dorothea Davis
Captain William McClellan,
William Ashton
Monsieur Lemoine, Harold Manter
Madame Lemoine, Eleanor Bradford
Pierre, a servant, David Thompson
The chairmen of the various committees, as announced, were: Publicity Committee, Dwight Libby; stage committee, Eleanor Bradford; business committee, Herbert Carroll.

PROFESSOR HARMS SENDS GREETINGS FROM FAR MADRID

Popular Bates Teacher On Year's Leave of Absence
For Advanced Study

As upperclassmen and members of the faculty well know, Professor S. F. Harms, of the Department of German and Spanish, is studying in graduate work at Madrid, Spain. The Student is glad to print the following letter from Professor Harms, which was received recently.

Madrid, Spain, Jan. 15, 1922.
"Any one who has passed six months and more with eyes open and mind active in this country ought to be able to write at least a few words about general impressions of the land and its people. Perhaps the most striking assurance that one receives travelling in the rural districts is a conviction that grows, as one observes the life of the people there, that Spain is not what it is reported to be or believed to be by many people, a land of luxuriant growth, where milk and honey flows freely, where pretty maidens await the traveller at their door steps and entice him with their song and strangled instrument, where all is gaiety and sunshine, where the one amusement is a bull fight and the only pastime a cigarette. It is true that Spain has its liberal share of all of these but, first and last, one is impressed by the fact that they are products of hard labor. One needs only to remember that the whole central part of the country is practically one vast desert-like plain, where nothing grows except by irrigation, where men and women and the ever-present donkey may be seen on the hottest summer days trying to eke a (Continued on Page Three)

Clifford '22, Pinckney '23 and

Baptist Church

Last Sunday evening in the absence of Reverend, Finnie the evening services of the United Baptist Church held at Park Street Church were conducted by a Bates deputation team. The team consisted of E. A. Clifford, Paul Libby, T. R. Pinckney and E. L. Wilson. The subject developed was "Three Pictures in the Life of Christ." The three phases presented were "Joyfulness," "Friendship," and "Devotion," as portrayed in the life of Christ. Special music was offered by Libby.
The Y. M. C. A. deputation teams are now well organized and doing very active and beneficial service throughout the state. Very much credit is due Mr. Finnie who is training the teams and Clifford, who is chairman of this branch of the Y. M. C. A. work.

TWENTY-SECOND ANNUAL STANTON CLUB BANQUET

Dallas Lore Sharp Guest of Club—President Gray
Speaks on Drive

Last Friday evening over in Rand Hall was held the twenty-second annual Stanton Club dinner. Tables were set for about 130 guests, each prettily decorated with a softly glowing red shaded lamp and potted hyacinth bloom. The dinner, which was served by the coeds under the direction of Miss Nickerson was a dandy. A vote of thanks was offered Miss Nickerson and the girls following the hearty repast.

Dr. Hamlen offered prayer. Under the direction of Dr. Powell, '00, group singing was enjoyed. The girls' mandolin club of Bates gave several fine selections, and Elwood Ireland, '23, sang several solos which were greatly appreciated.

Immediately following the banquet, Professor Dallas Lore Sharp of Boston the special guest of the club gave a brief but rather startling address. He strenuously urged a greater study of English in all schools. Less time should be given to the study of foreign languages. A student at the Boston English high is today giving fifteen hours on the study of foreign tongues and bestowing but three hours to the study of English. "I have all honor and love for French, German and other foreign languages," said the doctor, "but we must give our students fifteen hours of English if they are to talk in the English tongue."

WAYNE DAVIS '12 CHARGE OF PUB- LICITY CAMPAIGN

Bates Graduate Returns to Campus to Assist in Endowment Drive

Announcement is made from the office of the Million Dollar Fund, Bates College, of the appointment by the Executive Committee of Mr. Wayne E. Davis, A.M., of Allentown, Pa., as a special publicity worker. Mr. Davis will write and edit the general pamphlet and booklet material of the campaign, will assist in the newspaper publicity, and will cooperate with President Gray and the Alumni Secretary Harry W. Rowe, respectively Director and Secretary of the campaign, in its general prosecution.

Mr. Davis graduated from Bates in the class of 1912. He came to Bates from the Rochester, N. H. High School. He was very prominent in many of the undergraduate activities. For three years he was a member of the college mandolin club, and during his junior and senior years served as a reader for the combined clubs. He was one of the early members of the Spofford Club, and served as social editor of the class annual. He was one of the leading deans. (Continued on Page Three)

Grand Masquerade Gives Climax to Bates Carnival

Third Annual Outing Festival Biggest and Best—Carnival Dance Comes Friday Evening
Skating Events Saturday

Arrangements are all completed for the Carnival Hop tonight. With the completion of the interclass snowshoe and skiing events this afternoon more than half the Carnival program is finished but the best is yet to come. Attention is now centered on the dance this evening. This dance is to be a

PROF. R. A. F. McDONALD
Faculty Adviser of Bates Outing Club very informal affair and the committee in charge is very emphatic in its desire to have this understood. All members of the Outing Club are urged to be present.

Music for the evening is to be furnished by the celebrated Abetabs, Torschi-choreau artists par excellence. It is the plan of the committee to utilize the entire floor space of the main room for dancing. In this way, dancers are assured of plenty of room in which to "trip the light fantastic." The hall is to be very prettily decorated for the occasion. Favors, confetti, serpentine, refreshments, and all the fixings are a part of the evening's program. Those tiring temporarily of dancing will find the entire facilities of the building placed at their disposal.

Everything that could be done has been done that an evening of fun may be provided for all and the event promises to be a "red letter" night in the annals of Bates College.

Tomorrow afternoon at 1.30 o'clock will come the skating events. These are to be held on Lake Andrews. Many look forward to Saturday afternoon as one of the high lights of the Carnival with its dashes for both men and women, the high jump, the backward skating races, and the interclass relay races. Another feature of the afternoon's program is the secondary school relay race.

In the evening comes the Big event of the Carnival. It is the event that has already made the annual Outing Club Carnival famous. Those who remember the Grand Masquerade and Skating Party of last year will look forward to a somewhat similar occasion this year. Only it is to be bigger and better this time.

The masquerade of the Carnival last year was a scene that cannot be forgotten by those who witnessed it. Overhead were hung many colored streamers, electric lights of different colors lighted the entire rink and disclosed to the eye a riot of gorgeous colored costumes, costumes beautiful and horrible, tragic and comic. All these things made an impression that is not easily forgotten.

Now the committee in charge promises that the Masquerade is to be even better than that of last year. Once again the streamers and electric lights of many colors will be in evidence. But there will be more than that. A huge bonfire will be built that cold hands and feet may be warmed. Sandwiches and coffee will be served to appease the hunger of the famished. A band will be there to furnish music during the masquerading. Many new and fantastic costumes will be seen. After the masquerade will come the fancy skating contest. This will be a pretty thing to watch. Representatives of the Association of St. Dominique will take part in this contest.

Prizes will then be awarded, followed by a skating party and general good time for all.

BOSTON BATES CLUB GATHERS

Distinguished Alumni Are Speakers—Assure Support to Campaign

The loyalty of Bates graduates to their Alma Mater was demonstrated last Friday evening in Boston. Nearly one hundred of her loyal supporters gathered for a meeting of the Boston Bates Club, it being the best attended meeting of the club ever held. Representatives from all but four or five of the graduating classes from '79 to '21 were present.

The general purpose of the meeting was to arouse interest in the Million Dollar Campaign which is to be launched in the early spring. President Gray presented the plans for the campaign which were received with great enthusiasm by the alumni. Other speakers of the evening were Dr. Samuel H. Woodrow, '88, Dr. Walter E. Ranger '79, Dr. Claire Turner '12, Dr. Daniel I. Mahoney '06, and Major General Mark L. Hersey '84. The enthusiastic cooperation of all Boston men in the coming campaign was assured by the speakers.

Conch Jenkins was also present at this meeting and spoke of the track outlook for this year. He predicted that the Bates relay team would win its race at the B. A. A. games Saturday evening, a prophecy which later proved true.

A great deal of credit is due to Mr. Guy Tuttle for the success of the meeting, it being one of the most enthusiastic meetings of Bates alumni that President Gray has attended.

This is the age of "the survival of the fittest." And now having "fit", we await the decision which will inform us whether or not we are among the "survivors."

There is no doubt but what Thomas A. Edison would firmly approve of the prevailing examination system. Yet we are sure that some of the champions of the present arrangement were among the first to scoff at the now famous list of questions prepared by Mr. Edison for applicants to his laboratories.

However, consistency is not a mark of genius.

Compulsory chapel attendance is not such a bad thing after all. A sample of voluntary chapel shows this.

While most students appreciate the convenience of an occasional chapel cut, yet the majority of these students themselves would not favor abolishing required attendance if they had the power to decide.

The college day minus the daily fifteen minutes of chapel as usually observed, does not come up to scratch.

In our unstinted giving to Bates in China and the Armenian Relief, together with other good causes, we seem to have forgotten that "charity begins at home." We had better stop sending away our second hand clothing, until we make sure it isn't needed right here on the campus.

One might think from a bird's eye view of the student body on the Day of Prayer, that relief measures might be put to good advantage. At least an outsider might think this from the sight of so many smutty and ink-etched sweat shirts, shirts with no collars, and frazzled sweaters of indistinguishable hue,—all this at one of the most important public services of the year.

Bates is judged by the appearance Bates men make in public.

BATES OUTING CLUB IN THE LIMELIGHT

The third annual carnival of the Bates Outing Club is being put on with a zest and enthusiasm which show the value of the carnival as a permanent feature of the winter schedule. It is also witness to the vitality of the organization which is its sponsor.

Bates got in on the ground floor when she held her first carnival three years ago. At that time, together with Dartmouth, she was about the only college in this section of the country to stage such a performance.

There is another story to tell this year. At least two of the other three colleges in Maine have adopted the suggestion to themselves. Outside of college circles, the carnival idea has become a winter fad, as one may see from a hasty perusal of the columns of almost any daily paper. Different organizations, towns, and cities are all staging huge, winter spectacles.

Were the Carnival the only feature of the work of the Bates Outing Club, she would have a good deal to her credit. This three day project, however, is but the outstanding feature of a well rounded program which has special reference, of course, to the winter months, though this is not exclusive.

Three years is not long enough to fairly test the merits of this new departure among campus organizations,—yet one thing is clear: the Outing Club this year is doing more than it has done in any previous year. It is growing and expanding in scope of service. The demand is constantly increasing.

"Service rendered" is the slogan the Outing Club has chosen, and the club is trying to live up to its motto. It is making a real contribution to the college life. It is open to all, it is a Bates proposition for every Bates man and woman. So boom the Bates Carnival, boom the Outing Club, and incidentally boom yourself.

A RHYTHMICAL GROAN

Apropos Biblical Literature

I study my Bible from morn 'till night,
But there are some things I cannot get right.

I have met with difficulties by the score,
Yet not a single one has troubled me more

Than to pick out the difference in these men.

When I meet them, I feel like saying Amen.

For there's Josiah, Jeremiah, Hezekiah,
Obadiah, Zedekiah, Zephaniah,
Gedaliah, Nehemiah, Zechariah.

It really is hard to be in such a fix,
And truly those men are so easy to mix.
I hope you will give me a rule that's sure

To help me so that I'll forget them no more.

Alas, kind reader, this poem's no joke.
Every line of it's true or I shouldn't have "spoke."

For there's Josiah, Jeremiah, Hezekiah,
Obadiah, Zedekiah, Zephaniah,
Gedaliah, Nehemiah, Zechariah.

EXAM ECHOES

Kennelly (to prof after reading questions): "Does it make any difference how we answer the questions?"

During the examination Prof. Carroll read "Life" while many of us were suffering ten thousand deaths. Vivisection!

PUBLIC SPEAKERS

The way they have of introducing public speakers would lead an ingenious member of the audience to think that he was the best ever, an optimistic tone not entirely blind as it is usually impossible to imagine one worse than his predecessors.

To be a public speaker all you need is a coat like the ambassadors and jawbreakers wear in the movies and the atmosphere of dignity comes automatically. You get suspenders with the pants and atmosphere with the coat.

The best land-analogy of seasickness comes when the awe of a man's pomposity wears off and the insipidity of his remarks sinks in.

Time is money.

The person who, with nothing in particular to say, takes up half an hour (average value 42 cents) of the time of a hundred people is guilty of larceny to the value of $42, even tho it doesn't do him any good.

It is worse to destroy, and thus put out of use, your neighbor's property than to take it for orthodox purposes.

Steps must be taken to overcome this menace to civilization.

Then again, it often happens that severe coughs are suddenly contracted upon the extended stay of an orator. Such polite hints are a severe menace to the health of the audience. Their cause must be removed.

We believe in fair play.

About 5% of the country's population do the talking and have the fun.

The rest don't have any pleasure at all. Even what sleep they get is generally fitful and inefficient.

An association should be organized, members of which will be permitted to inflict a total of 15 hours oratory upon his fellow members, annually.

Each shall be provided with a card which shall be marked for each half hour or fraction thereof during which he addresses an audience.

He shall also be tattooed so that in case another member wishes to exercise his rights those who bear the tattoo shall be compelled to give intelligent attention.

After five hours of speaking, a member may be forced to desist upon a vote of the audience providing he has more

LITERARY

Mr. John Dos Passos is another of that new school of novelists who are raising a protest against the spirit of commercialism.

In his novel, Three Soldiers, he depicts the very spirit of the American Army of 1917-19 very vividly. He has painted the American soldier in a most unforgettable manner,—"a young man with the helpless, lovable charm of a child and the uncontrolled viciousness of an animal."

The "three soldiers" are Fuselli, an Italian from San Francisco, Chrisfield, a boy from an Indiana farm, and John Andrews from the East. All the familiar characters in that life overseas are in the book: officers, soldiers, French peasants, Y. M. C. A. workers, cocottes, and Parisian aristocrats.

In Mr. Dos Passos' hands the army becomes a symbol of all the systems which crush men and add to the suffering of life. There is more than a mere record of lives: "here are the tears of things, the shadows of the old, strong, unifying gods lying across the paths of men; anger, and hate, and lust are here and laughter and the many love of comrades, and at the end resignation and despair,—the beautiful proud gesture of a man going down in defeat before life."

John Dos Passos is a genius of the first rank.

ALUMNI

BATES' GRADUATE IN IN NANKING, CHINA

BRADFORD ROBBINS, '04, DIRECTOR OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION IN NORMAL SCHOOL.

Few if we realize to how distant corners of the earth our graduates are carrying the banners of Bates. In this column from time to time we shall run contributions from Bates men who are doing unusual pieces of work in unusual places.

Bradford H. Robbins '04 and his wife, formerly Clara May Davis '06, are now located in the big student than two hours still to his credit on the year's allowance, otherwise he may finish his time.

Each member shall have the privilege of interrogating any voluntary speaker and requiring that he identify himself as a member of the association and prove that he is entitled to the time he is about to take.

If the speaker cannot show the desired credentials, all legal members shall upon their honor make as much noise as possible in reaching the door.

If he shows the symbols of fair play and equal rights, he is privileged to address any audience that he sees fit, non-members being permitted to retire, but any members who try to sneak out will be fined for their selfish action by the loss of two of their hours of glory.

If the tentative plans can be carried further and improved slightly and the desired membership throughout the nation can be obtained, the members will always be assured a polite audience, none can take a mean advantage thru political or other positions, non-members will not have to attend nor will they be listened to.

In short, the principles of the Golden Rule will go far toward solving this problem which has always been a matter of much comment.

center of China, Nanking. Mr. Robbins is directing a training class in physical education in the National Teacher's College and writes of his interesting work as follows:

"My particular job is to organize and harmonize the work of the dozen or more teachers who are trying to prepare a lot of young physical directors to turn loose on the country. The course is for four years, and combines a regular college course with a special course in Physical Education. Of the nineteen men graduating this year, two are going as University Physical Directors, three as Y. M. C. A. Physical Directors, and the rest into various middle and high schools and playgrounds over the country. One man is to go to the Philippines in a big school there, and we are sending men all over China.

"The Physical Education Normal Department was included in the curriculum because the leaders saw that there was needed a body of men in the national education who could lead in improving the physical condition of the people, as well as teach those elements of courage and quick thinking that come with such development. The educational and moral elements of such education are emphasized and already the results are beginning to be seen.

"I have just come back from helping with the Far Eastern Olympic Games, held in Shanghai. Three countries participated this year: Japan, the Philippines, and China. The Philippines won the track and field, baseball, swimming, and decathlon championships, with China winning basketball events, especially in the track and swimming. Her long distance runners are equal to any in the world, while the Philippine men excel in the dashes and jumps, and the Chinese in team games. The championship basketball game between China and the Philippines was as fast as any I have seen, and was won by one goal. The hundred was won in ten seconds by Cation, the wonderful little Philippine sprinter. The other times and distances were equally good. After defeating all the American baseball teams met in a series of three games to decide the championship. The first game was won by the Japs, 1-0, the second by the Philippines, 1-0, and the rubber game was also won by the Philippines, 3-2. The first and second games were played without an error on either side, and the third won by a hair-raising throw home from deep center field, in the ninth inning. Anyone who thinks that they are not modern in sport here in this part of the world should have been in Shanghai the last week, and seen 50,000 a day at the games on one of the best fields in the world, with airplanes hovering overhead, and movie men all over the place taking pictures, while we had all the accompaniments of such events from the brass bands to the peanut sellers and soda peddlers.

"The Far Eastern games are held every two years. Next time they will be held in Japan, and the time after, in the Philippines, returning to China in 1927. It is quite a diplomatic success to have these countries unite as amicably in sport, in spite of the strained situation between China and Japan."

BARON SHIDEHARA
GIVES JAPANESE
POINT OF VIEW

these purchases with the sale abroad of her products.

The natural source of supply as well as the natural market, exists next door to Japan on the Asiatic mainland.

Other sources of natural products, as well as other markets have been developed by other countries to meet their growing needs, and before the development of what may be called modern applied commercial ethics, some of those countries laid plans to exploit China without full respect to China's right to her own wealth. However, that right is now recognized publicly, and Japan herself, although her access to Chinese supplies and to Chinese markets is of supreme importance to her economic existence, is determined that there shall be no infringement of Chinese rights, no exploitation of China in any way detrimental to China.

Japan would be the first to suffer—after China herself—from harmful exploitation of China. Even if great development work should be undertaken in China, and her production of raw materials enormously increased by an outside nation, unless the profits of that work should stay in Chinese hands it would mean that Chinese purchasing power would not be proportionately developed; in other words there would be no corresponding growth of the Chinese market for manufactured goods, Japan, needing that market, would be the direct loser.

It is thus clear that Japan has a direct and vital interest in the establishment of prosperity and of political stability in China. To other countries, as America and Great Britain, the attainment of these ends means much, in the way of increased trade, but to Japan it means life or death. Thus it is obvious that the imputation to Japan of a desire to dominate China either economically or politically is to impute to her stupidity—or an ignorance—which she does not possess.

bates at Bates during his college career, participating in the Sophomore Champion Debate, and the intercollegiate contests with the College of the City of New York and Colgate University. His marked ability in public speaking won for him a place both on the freshman and sophomore prize declamation teams and the position as Orator on Ivy Day. During his Senior year he was an assistant in Public Speaking. He also took a great deal of interest in Y. M. C. A. work and Polymathian Society.

Graduating with honors in 1912, Mr. Davis went the next year to Providence where he was a graduate student in History, at Brown University, and a teacher in the Hope Street High School. From Brown he went to Mercersburg Academy where for five years he was Master in the History Department, and at the conclusion of his term was head of the department. Leaving Mercersburg in the fall of 1918, he entered military service and was in the officers' training camp at the time of the armistice. He filled out the year as a teacher in the Pawtucket, R. I. High School, with which he combined further graduate study at Brown. In the fall of 1919, Mr. Davis became head of the Department of Secretarial Science in Cedar Crest College for Women, Allentown, Pa. Here, as at Mercersburg, he did much thorough summer and vacation solicitation of students, to build up the enrollment. During the greater part of the last year he served as the acting President of the college, resigning his position to take up the work with his Alma Mater.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis will have rooms at the home of Miss Helen Wakefield on Main street. Mrs. Davis was Miss Ada Rounds of Mechanic Falls. She and Mr. Davis are staying for a few days at the home of her brother, Charles F. Rounds, 34 Fern St., Auburn.

criticize strenuously a nephew of his who came all the way from the Middle West to cultured Boston and proceeded to speak of "dandy dinners," a dandy scene" and a funeral oration as "some dandy." "That boy," exclaimed the cultured Professor, "had the same phrase for everything from a chicken dinner to a funeral oration. Consequently he experienced only one emotion to express."

Referring once more to the dire need of more English study he said, "I want to see these hill colleges, these rural colleges, turning out writers, poets, philosophers, thinkers,—but I don't believe it can be done if the study of English is not encouraged."

President Gray didn't let the opportunity go by without referring to the Boston Professor's address. "Mr. Toastmaster, fellow poets and graduates of this 'rural institution,'" he began, and a hearty laugh greeted his remark from the graduates present. I feel we cannot agree with Professor Sharp. I can't help thinking of my recent meeting with 20 Bates graduates in Los Angeles, last November, in the south western part of the United States. Now tonight I am addressing 130 graduates in the north eastern part of the United States. For the first time in history Bates graduates are flung together in a nation-wide way."

The president then spoke feelingly concerning the drive for the million dollar fund. Bates College is facing a crisis, the greatest crisis in its history, and the graduates must face the facts. His appeal was a strong one indeed and left a deep impression upon those present.

Other speakers were A. L. Kavanagh of Lewiston, and Mrs. E. F. Pierce. Mrs. Pierce spoke enthusiastically concerning the Bates drive for money. She pledged the support of the 900 graduates. "If necessary we will get out and sell garden seeds or soap or anything," she promised. Professor Baird also addressed the gathering telling them of the trip across to Oxford last June to meet that great institution of learning on the debating platform. Before closing he urged a well rounded Bates life and one not narrowed to debating or any other form of activity.

The meeting closed with everyone singing the Bates Alma Mater.

THE GRANDSTAND

The men of yore,
Says fact and lore,
Saw much of Indian fighting.
Both blood and scalps
And warwhoop yelps
They found to be delightful.
There's General Custer;
He surely 'muster'
Put up a rigid scrap.
He fought with might
To prove his right
To certain parts of the map.
Now please note well,
And I will tell
Of the stand he would not yield.
For understand,
'Twas surely grand

composed of Batten, Baker, Sannella and Archibald, won in the last two laps when Archibald running anchor on the team jumped by his Vermont opponent and raced to victory by 10 yards.

The Boston papers in describing the race say that "Archie literally flew over the last quarter mile." Batten was the lead off man for the garnet and raced on even terms with his opponent until the final few yards of the quarter, letting the Vermont man hand over a 5 yd. lead to his team mate, Ray Baker, the most versatile runner ever to enter college, started after his man, overtook him and passed him on the final lap, handling the advantage over to Sannella, but a mixup in passing the baton lost the distance he had gained and Vermont was again in the lead. Sannella stuck close to his heels however, and lost no distance so that "Archie" was able to go after his man, which he did with a vengeance, showing a thorough knowledge of the art of indoor running. He passed his opponent on the back stretch of the second lap and held the lead to the finish and winning for the garnet. Every one of the boys should receive a great amount of credit for unfortunately the games came during examination week making the strain much harder on them.

A loyal bunch of the Boston Alumni Association were there "en masse" to cheer the boys on and felt very well rewarded for their efforts.

Y. W. C. A.

"The Necessity of Christ" furnished a topic for one of the best Y. W. C. A. meetings of the year. The need of Christ in the industrial order was presented in a very interesting talk by Mrs. Cecelia Christiansen Goss. Mildred Widher showed how necessary He is in the personal life; Florence Fernald spoke on the need for Him in the Social Order, and Esther Anderson told how necessary He is in the foreign field.

VICE VERSA

This article could be made a feature story, but it is true. J. Henry, '25, who is taking a correspondence course in winning a wife, heard how Rich, '24, altho engaged to one young lady, yet entertains others so well. This poor Freshman was foolish enough to try to write to two girls on the same day. Naturally, he put the right letter in the wrong envelope or the other way around. Anyway, he told each one so many nice things in the other's letter that he has heard from neither and declares he will open no suspicious looking packages. If you doubt the validity of this, ask either gentleman about it, but be a safe distance away as we are not responsible for personal injuries received. Moral: Freshies, don't try to do what Sophomores can get away with, the difference in years counts.

scanty living out of the yellow parched sand, and one will realize the significance of 'Sunny Spain.' "

"Sunny it is, to be sure, but the impression one gets is hardly that of the popular notion. And yet, since November 27th, we have not had one single cloudy day, just sunshine and warmth, one day like another, and we are beginning to feel a bit of that gaily ourselves with which the dreamers enshrine this land of the Mediterranean. Perhaps, however, Spain is outdoing itself for this season for our special benefit, for we are told and re-told that this kind of weather is by no means the usual Madrid winter.

"Be this as it may, we are enjoying it, nevertheless, and it seems good to be sending greetings to Bates out of this special environment of brightness and warmth. This letter is intended to be just a word of greeting, and I know you will consider it as such."

Very sincerely,
S. F. HARMS.

SPORT NOTES

Coch Jenkins must have felt proud that a Bates relay team came through after a lapse of ten years.

Archibald ought to burn up the cinders in the State Meet this year. We are looking for a new record "Archie."

Ray Baker, ordinarily a cross country runner as well as long distance and intercollegiate 2 mile champ, showed that he is no mean quarter-mile by passing his opponent and handing an advantage over to Sannella.

Our freshman track team looks mighty good to us. The freshman relay team ought to trim Bowdoin both times this year.

"Kelley" Smith of hockey fame is teaching and coaching in Orangeburg, S. C. We all wish him the best of luck.

Coch Smith and his basketball team left yesterday for an invasion of Massachusetts, playing Tufts, Brown and New Hampshire State on successive evenings in intercollegiate League games. The way the boys are going now they ought to clean up.

DALLAS LORE SHARP SPEAKS IN BATES CHAPEL

At Meeting of Teachers' Association Held Last Friday and Saturday

The annual meeting of the Androscoggin County Teachers Association held their annual meeting on the campus last Friday. Dr. A. O. Thomas was the morning speaker, and in the afternoon the speakers were Prof. Dallas Lore Sharp of Boston University and Dr. Philip Davis of Boston. Supt. A. B. Carter was elected president of the Association for the coming year.

Prof. Sharp deplores the present trend toward class segregation in private schools for it leaves public schools with a black eye. He showed that the school system, though left in the hands of the State, was founded to safeguard the rights and privileges of democracy. No school but the American school can do this because nothing else has the sanction of the government behind it. In a general survey of education college is almost negligible. We are what we are by reason of what the lower schools make us. The American man or woman can be taught nothing worth-while after the age of sixteen. The speaker urged that the machinery for education should be equal to the machinery of war.

COACH SMITH ANNOUNCES ATHLETIC SCHEDULES

BASEBALL SCHEDULE

A fourteen game schedule has been announced for the Bates varsity baseball team for the season 1922, which will give Bates some of the hottest competition in years. The season, as usual, starts with an exhibition game with Bowdoin in Lewiston, on April 19, and closes with the Colby game on June 7.

A trip will be taken to Massachusetts, Connecticut and New Hampshire. Harvard will also be played on another trip to the Bay State.

Six games are scheduled for Lewiston, including the state championship series games.

The schedule, as arranged by Coach Smith, is as follows:

April 19—Bowdoin

29—Pt. Williams

May 8—Harvard*

10—N. H. State

17—Tufts*

18—M. A. C.*

19—Conn. Aggies*

20—N. H. State*

24—U. of Maine*

27—Colby

31—Bowdoin

June 2—Bowdoin*

7—Colby*

*—Away from home.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

The football schedule for next year has been completed by Coach Smith and is the hardest schedule ever attempted by any Maine college. The arrangement of games with the leading colleges of the country is ample proof of Bates' rapid rise in the football world. Although graduation will take away some of our best men, Bates has the material for the best team in her history for 1922. Coach Watkins, Coach Smith and Capt. Guiney are already making plans for the fall campaign.

The schedule:

Sept. 23—Yale*

30—New Hampshire*

Oct. 7—Tufts

21—Maine*

28—Bowdoin

Nov. 4—M. A. C.*

11—Brown*

18—West Point*

*—Away from home.

GARNET LOSES TO COLBY IN SLOW GAME

Bates Playing in Poorest Form of Season Falls 32-24

In a very uninteresting basketball game in the City Hall last Wednesday evening, Colby walloped Bates 32-24. The Bates aggregation lacked "pep" and didn't seem to get going until a few minutes before the finish of the game. Whether the team is still tired from the recent trip or not they certainly were not up to form last evening. Numerous shots were missed right under the basket and no one seemed able to shoot at all more than 10 feet away. On the other hand, Colby must have improved wonderfully and they played a good, hard, clean game and got sweet revenge for their recent defeat by Bates at Waterville. Coach Smith used every man he had on the squad, but no combination seemed able to stem the tide of defeat.

Colby started out with a bang and soon had the score 6-0, then Kempton shot a foul making it 6-1, but Colby took another spurt but had the Bates boys, 12-3, then Bates scored twice, but missed so many in between that at the end of the half the score stood 18-8. Bates outscored Colby by 1 point in the second half and toward the end of the game it looked as though they might overtake the Waterville boys but Colby also spurred and finished well out in front. Baldwin played an excellent game for Colby, getting 5 floor baskets and seven fouls, while Woodman, Davis and Wilson excelled for Bates.

JUNIORS ARE CARNIVAL CHAMPIONS

Repeat Their Victory of Last Year by Close Margin

The Juniors demonstrated their superiority over the other classes in the sporting events of the annual Outing Club carnival when they garnered a total of 58½ points in the three days events. Although Archibald '25 was the individual point winner, he was closely pressed by "Zip" Hoyt of the Junior class whose all around ability at skiing, snow-shoeing and skating enabled her class to become the winner. Most of the events were very interesting and run off in a good manner. Miss Mildred Stevens '24, showed the way to all her opponents in the skating events and could have made some of the masculine entries travel to defeat her. The baseball game on snowshoes developed two riots, but the two underclasses were too clever for their opponents and won 5-1.

CARNIVAL CLOSES WITH BRILLIANT COSTUME PARTY

Prizes Awarded to Several of the Masqueraders

"'Twas a dandy," "Best yet," and "What a whale of a good time" were but a few of the happy exclamations heard all over the campus and in many of the homes throughout the two cities somewhere around 10:30 last Saturday night. These remarks had to do with the finale of the Bates Outing Club Carnival which took the form of a masquerade de luxe on the ice.

Following the snow storm of the afternoon men got busy clearing the rink and establishing the decorations in the proper manner. The committee in charge deserves a good deal of credit for the arrangements made in the face of bad weather conditions. Nothing was omitted in the plans for pushing things through towards a successful close. Red, white, and blue Japanese lanterns were hung over the electric lights, and a quantity of red and white streamers added to the decorations.

At one time it looked as though the rink was doomed to darkness as a crossed wire put a jinx on the lights. After many attempts and several burnt out fuses, however, the impromptu electricians fixed things up.

Many costumes were in evidence. Two "cops" tried to keep the skaters lined up for "law and order"; then there were Robinson Crusoe and his man Friday, who had evidently been suddenly transplanted from their tropical island home to the chilly surface of the Lake Andrews' rink; Scotch laddies and lassies were on hand; two black cats from Rand Hall were also there on skates, but you will have to ask "Doc" (Continued on Page Three)

SPOFFORDITES GO ON SLEIGH-RIDE

After Which They Are Entertained at "Dave" Thompson's Home

Muffled so that they didn't feel the cold, a jolly bunch of Spoffordites left the campus Tuesday evening for the annual ride. The large hayrack was well padded with straw and heavy robes.

They went out on the river road, returning thru New Auburn and crossing the two bridges. They saw many interesting things and everyone was exceedingly merry, talking and singing.

At 8:15 the steeds galloped up to the door of "Dave" Thompson's home where the Spofford Club was most royally entertained. The dining room was decorated with hearts, red crepe paper, red shaded candles and American Beauty roses. The Valentine place cards were very appropriate.

The keen winter air had made everyone so ravenous that the "eats" were eagerly anticipated. It was certainly a feast, consisting of fruit cocktail, delicious chicken pie, mashed potato, rolls, sweet pickles, ice cream, cake and hot chocolate. "Dave" was an excellent toastmaster, and everyone enjoyed the witty speeches of Prof. Baird, Miss Mabel Eaton, "Bill" Ashton, and Eleanor Bradford.

From the festive board, the club adjourned to the parlor where the regular program of the evening took place. Dwight Libby gave an excellent review of the much-talked of novel "If Winter Comes."

At 10 o'clock, the party disbanded, with the general verdict of having had the best time ever.

BATES QUINTET WINS LEAGUE GAME ON TRIP

Defeats Tufts 27-18 But Falls Before Brown and N. H. State

KEMPTON AND PERKINS STAR

On its second invasion of the Bay State, the Bates quintet made a good start by decisively defeating the Tufts five in a league game. The Garnet played fast, aggressive basketball which the Brown and Blue was unable to check. Perkins featured shooting five baskets, while Kempton's work from the foul line was good. Evans was the star for the home team, scoring 12 of their 18 points.

ANNUAL GREEK PRIZES GIVEN

Miss Clarke and Dorr Win Stevens Award for Excellence in Greek

Yesterday morning, Professor Chace presented Miss Clarke and Mr. Dorr each with a ten dollar gold piece, as a reward for having attained the highest average in Freshman Greek for the first semester. The prizes are given annually by J. Bertrand Stevens, a graduate of Bates. Much credit is especially due to Mr. Dorr, who, as a member of the varsity squad, is obliged to give much of his time to basketball training.

The winners last year were Dorothy Ricker and Sherman Holt, and the year previous, Theodora Barentzen and Herbert Carroll.

GARNET SEXTET SWAMPS LOCAL HOCKEY TEAM

Tallies Six Times While Independents Fail To Register

The Lewiston Independents had a severe crimp put in their hockey aspirations last Saturday afternoon on Lake Andrews, when Bates swamped them 6-0 in two 10 minute periods. "Dick" Stanley played the stellar role and his fine work kept the Independents terribly busy. As usual the old luminaries Cogan and Roberts played a fast game —while the Lewiston boys must have thought that Dagnino and McKenna formed a stone wall. "Bob" Partridge shoved them away from the goal the first period while "Hercules" Hinds made a sensational stop in the 2nd period. Stanley and Payne excelled for the Independents. The summary:

JUNIORS TIE FOR FIRST PLACE IN HOCKEY SERIES

Do the Unexpected and Defeat Both the Sophs and the Seniors

The Juniors staged a come back last Monday evening in the interclass hockey series and trimmed up the Sophomores 4-1. Ray Batten proved a big help to the team and ended 3 of the goals while "Hokey Baker" Tarr nearly tore the other piece of wire off the cage with a terrific shot which went by "Doc" Moulton so fast he caught cold from the breeze.

Juniors 9-Seniors 1

The Juniors continued their good work the following evening by giving the Seniors a lacing 9-1. This was an awful pill for them to swallow as they counted on a sure victory with Sullivan and Mansour in the lineup, but "Joe Gum" Wade's terrific speed could not be denied and he caged 3 goals which took the heart out of the upper class. Penney, as usual, featured for the Seniors.

PORTLAND C. C. FALLS BEFORE BATES ATTACK

Garnet Puck Chasers Out-Class Opponents Win 4-1

In a most exciting and interesting game on the Bates rink last Wednesday evening, Bates defeated the strong Portland C. C. 4-1 in one of the feature events of the Bates Carnival. This was the first game that the varsity have played since their recent trip and the lay off did them a world of good. Showing a brand of team-work and individual play that was a revelation to the supporters of the Garnet—Bates kept the puck in Portland's territory continuously during the game and easily outplayed her opponents. The Bates forward line was going like the proverbial "million dollars" and with "Joey" Cogan leading the attack, they scored less than five minutes after play, when Eddie Roberts took a long shot at the Bates goal which was stopped by Snow—"Joey" skated in on the play and slashed it into the goal. Then Eddie Roberts took things in his hands and by some clever individual playing slipped past the Portland defense twice in quick succession and scored both times. Bates remained on the defense the rest of the period and with Dagnino and McKenna bearing the brunt of attack, Portland never had a chance. Both "Dag" and "Mac" played their positions to perfection.

The second period was like the first but Portland stiffened and Bates succeeded in scoring only once, when "Joe" Cogan shot from the middle of the rink. O'Connor replaced "Dick" Stanley for a short while and played a nice game. Kennedy played a good game for Portland and a few minutes before the game ended succeeded in scoring their "solo" tally by some clever skating. "Bob" Partridge had an easy night in the goal but made two stops which were beauties.

Under Coach Watkins the boys have learned lots of hockey and it will take a mighty good team to beat them from now on.

OUTING CLUB REPRESENTED AT AUGUSTA

Ten Bates Men to Compete in Carnival Events

In the last few years winter carnivals have been increasing in popularity thruout Northern New England. This year Augusta, following many other cities, has scheduled a carnival of interest to all. The colleges are especially interested because of the competition between the Outing Club of the four colleges. Governor Baxter has presented several trophies which will go to the winning teams. There are six events between the colleges. In the first five events medals will be awarded to the winners of first and second places and a cup awarded to the relay team that wins the sixth event. Custody of the Baxter Cup for one year goes to the team scoring the most points. The following men will represent Bates at the carnival: Jenkins '22, Carpenter '22, Clifford '22, Palmer '23, Descoteau '23, Batten '23, C. Gilpatrick, '24, Holt '24, Sargent '25, and Archibald '25.

Again we have a chance to make good resolutions, even though New Year's has gone by. The beginning of the new semester offers the opportunity to begin again and to begin right. A good start is half the race.

Who was it that said the floor of Chase Hall couldn't be made fit to dance on? From the success with which the Carnival dance was held last Friday evening there seems to be no doubt but what Chase Hall fills the bill. One more item added to those which are making Chase Hall an indispensable part of the college life.

In an account of the concluding events of the Carnival, one of the local newspapers seemed to imply that the work of the Outing Club is now completed for the year. This is far from true.

The Outing Club is still maintaining skating, snow-shoeing, skiing, and tobogganing service and will continue to do so as long as the weather is suitable. If you want to keep clear of the general round of colds, get a pair of skis or snowshoes and generate a few red corpuscles.

THE COLLEGE STUDENT AND WORLD POLITICS

One good result of the war upon the American colleges is the fact that world politics is a live question with college students today.

When the war broke out, and especially when the United States officially entered upon hostilities, it finally dawned upon the college student that even his sun did not rise and set within the precincts of the college campus.

When the scholar was asked to help write history and not merely to study it, then he became interested. Just like many other people, he began to read the front pages of the newspapers in those days for the first time. A few members of the colleges were called upon to do active service overseas and in army camps in America. Those who did not see active service were drawn forever out of their narrow gauge view of world happenings.

Student attention for the past few weeks has been focused upon Washington and especially the work of the Conference on the Limitation of Armaments. Scores upon scores of American student bodies have drawn up resolutions expressing their wishes for the promotion of world peace and sent them to the conference headquarters.

Word comes of an unusual meeting held in Faneuil Hall, Boston, within a week or two, under the auspices of the National Student Committee for Limitation of Armaments. At that time the following resolution was adopted: "That a Conference of the Powers, including Russia and Germany, which shall deal with the economic consequences of the peace, is the logical sequel of the Washington Arms Conference; and that such a Conference is fundamental to the civilization of Europe and to the prosperity of the United States." Eleven different colleges of Greater Boston were present at this meeting, with an attendance of six hundred students.

A similar meeting was held a short time ago in New York City with a good representation from twelve different colleges of that city.

An interest even more active has been displayed by students of five New York institutions: Union Theological Seminary, Barnard College, Columbia College, General Seminary and Teachers' College, which have organized and sent out teams of speakers to address different meetings throughout the city on problems of Internationalism.

These are but a few indications of the birth of an interest in public affairs in the minds of college students. Modern classroom discussion in history and government is shaping itself to the questions of the hour. It is in keeping with the spirit of the times that undergraduates should be trained to think and to express themselves in an international way.

JUST A MINUTE

Leave the light on this time for just a minute. We have a little matter to talk over with you. Aha! We got your attention that time, little one, just like Harry Rowe got it last year. Did you know that nine and one-fourth hours were lost when those "light" cards appeared. Five hundred and fifty-five students were held up for one minute each and, in addition to that, at least every other girl on campus spent a valuable hour sauntering over to the Bursar's office after a copy of one for her "mem" book. It said way down at the bottom in fine print you could get one free don-cha-no—most free things are advertised in fine print. The girls that weren't one of the "every-other-ones" spent two hours in either messing up their "mem" book with one of the coveted show-cards or in messing up the room trying to find a becoming location for one.

But who would complain about that? Where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise. The young innocent damsels are to be forgiven for Prexy hadn't scolded us for wasting time then and they knew not what they were doing. Those more familiar with the specie say they seldom ever know what they are about anyway and so of course it is not strange that many lost their heads when given an invitation to "turn out the light."

Way back in those days of last year when those harmless invitations were sent out who'd have dreamed that the Million Dollar Fund Campaign was taking a plunge? Some got scattered then, and when the waves reach the campus from its last plunge this month, everybody will think Portland Harbor is coming and will climb the Stanton Elm. That wave has got some push in it and will give every last Batesite a good dinking before long. Gosh! don't we like dinkings—water, snow, confetti 'n everything. Ain't natur' grand?

As for Parker Hall,—well, they never accept an invitation over there until they know pretty well what they are getting into. It is rumored that they have been trying to find out what it was all about ever since they were begged to "save the juice." Everyone admires discretion. It is said they all sat right down with a ten cent cigar, parked their feet on a desk and waited for their friends to give us a $200,000 gym. They said they weren't going to be bamboozled. "A Dollar Saved is Better than a Dollar Earned" they unanimously agreed. Consequently each saved his own dollar if he had one or if he didn't have one he hung around the bench hoping to snitch one off some guy's home-made check account. After a week or two the smoke cleared and they saw the "Thank You" way down in the southeastern corner of the card, decided "Watchful Waiting Wins," and smote their chests as the having killed a fiery dragon. That was about all there was to it. The Parker Hall inmates still preserve the policy of leaving lights on to kid the profs. What's the idea in kidding themselves we'd like to know. The profs reason.

Now that little card was all right. It wasn't to blame because every one made so much of it. It just put the campus in training for the Million Dollar Fund Campaign. That campaign isn't any Million Dollar Mystery we'd have you know—guess you won't think so when you meet a chicken, raised in the old gym, on a banquet table over in the $200,000 gymnasium.

Suggestions for continuing a policy of conservation:

PRESS CLUB

The Press Club met in the Faculty Room of Roger Williams Hall at 7.45 on Monday evening. The general subject of the evening's discussion was "Publicity." The first speaker, Professor Baird, outlined last year's publicity campaign for students. He explained the various means resorted to by the Faculty committee in the absence of a Press Club. Mr. Wayne Davis '12, the new publicity manager of the Million Dollar Fund, next spoke on this year's campaign. The Press Club and the Fund officers are to cooperate in spreading Bates news. Each member of the Club will be assigned some New England paper and will keep this paper informed of the doings of the college. Following the speeches a general discussion was held after which the meeting adjourned.

ALETHEA MEETING

On Thursday evening, February the ninth, Alethea met in the reception room at Cheney House. The subject under discussion was Modern American Poetry, and various selections were read by members of the club. The chief poets mentioned were Amy Lowell, Sarah Orne Jewett, and Louis Untermeyer. Plans were made for a play to be given later in the year under the auspices of Alethea, and then the meeting adjourned.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS

The last meeting of the Student Volunteers was held in Chase Hall at 7.30 last Thursday evening, February 9. Earle Clifford opened the meeting with hymns and prayer. The Rev. Charles McDonald, pastor of the Court Street Baptist Church of Auburn, then spoke about missions. He first presented the most common excuses given for not becoming a missionary, then proceeded to shatter and to prove the frailty of these defenses. Many interesting things connected with missionary life were also discussed. The meeting was well attended and proved very interesting to all.

MR. ARCHIBALD ADAMS SPEAKS
AT Y. W. C. A. MEETING

An unusually interesting meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held Wednesday evening. Archibald Adams, a missionary who has just returned from China was the speaker. He took for his subject "Christianity in Western China" and illustrated his talk with stereopticon slides. His subject was unusually interesting as it dealt with a part of that large country about which we do not hear very much because of the fact that most of our missionaries are in Eastern China.

2. Studying by the light of radio timepieces.

3. Going to bed early or staying at the movies late.

Conserve Hot Water by

1. Bathing in cold or not at all.
2. Erasing chicken soup from Rand Hall menu.

3. Putting your washing out.

Conserve Raw Materials by

1. Not indulging in the use of them
2. Ordering steak "well done."
3. By being economical in Zo Lab

Conserve equipment by

1. Keeping your hands off things you've never heard of nor seen before—(applies especially to Freshmen and Seniors)
2. Not cutting off the forest down in Alfred.
3. Prohibiting the ringing of the Chapel bell at midnight for more than three hours and thirty-seven seconds at a time.

Conserve Property by

1. Drawing your fiancée's profile in the snow instead of carving it in wood immemorial.
2. Taking all chapel cuts thereby saving wear on the chapel.
3. Forbidding fishing thru the ice on Lake Andrew.

Turn off the light while you're out raising the Million Dollar Fund.

"Thank You."

ALUMNI

Class of 1876—News has been received of the death of Mrs. Alice S. Daniels, wife of Dr. John W. Daniels, vice principal of Hill Military Academy at Portland Heights, Portland, Oregon. Mrs. Daniels, the daughter of Marcellus and Hannah Williams Steward, was born in North Anson, Maine, and was married there to Prof. Daniels in 1876, very soon after his graduation from Bates.

Class of 1892—Albert F. Gilmore, Bates '92, who has been identified with the Christian Science Publication Office in New York City, has just been transferred to Boston. Mr. Gilmore is also a member of the Board of Trustees and a member of the advisory committee for the Million Dollar campaign.

Class of '93.—Professor Chase has been supplying at the United Baptist Church of Freeport, Maine, during the last few months.

Class of '98.—Henry S. Goodspeed has just sent a unique souvenir to the college. He was chairman of one of the draft committee during the war and obtained one of the capsules drawn from the urn in Washington in the second draft. He is sending this capsule to Bates.

Class of '06.—The gold pieces which W. Bertrand Stevens sends each year for the Freshmen most proficient in Greek during the first semester have just been awarded. Dorothy Clark obtained the prize for the women, and Frank Dorr for the men.

Class of '12.—Friends of Mrs. Wayne E. Davis are very sorry to hear that she is very ill in the hospital here with pneumonia.

The Bates Alumni Association of Bangor held a luncheon there last Saturday noon at which President Gray spoke.

Engagement Announced in Boston

The engagement of Miss Gladys L. Logan of Chestnut street, South Portland, to Ervin E. Trask of Montpelier, Vt., was announced Saturday in Boston at an attractive luncheon given in Miss Logan's honor by Mrs. Moses Bailey (Miss Mabel Goggins) formerly of this city. The color scheme for the luncheon, which was given at the Mary Elizabeth Tea Room, was in pink and white, the center piece being of sweet peas of these colors. At each cover was a dainty pink basket filled with nuts and the place cards in pink bore the happy news of the engagement of Miss Logan and Mr. Trask. The guests at the luncheon were all college classmates of Miss Logan, who is a graduate of Bates and included Miss Priscilla Moore, Miss Grace Goodall, Miss Vivian Edward and Miss Dora Small of South Portland, who were spending the week-end in Boston with Miss Logan.

Miss Logan, who is the daughter of Robert A. Logan of South Portland, is a member of the faculty of the South Portland High School, and is leader of the South Portland High School Student Club. She is a graduate of Bates College, as is Mr. Trask, both being members of the same class.

Mr. Trask is the athletic coach of the Montpelier High School. He is the son of Frank Trask of Clinton. The date of the wedding has not been announced.

Britain what instinct it was that taught them to skate. These mentioned are but a few of the many excellent masqueraders to be seen.

The prizes were distributed as follows: Elsie Brickett '25 of Scranton, Pa., as a Scotch lassie won the Bates table cover for being the lady in most fancy costume. Henry Rich '24 of Boston, dressed as a Spaniard, received the silver Bates shield on a wooden shield, as being the man in the most fancy costume. The next prize awarded for the gentleman in the most comic costume. For this, Kohe Nagakura, '24 of Tokyo, Japan, received a girl manikin dressed in an outing costume of Bates colors. Naga appeared as The Wandering Jew and he sure did look the part. A boy manikin was presented to Miss Uman, '24, who was considered the lady in the most comic costume, for she was the "man" Friday, mentioned above. The prizes for the other Carnival events were also awarded at this time. The highest point winner among the men proved to be Clarence Archibald, '25 of Brookline, Mass., and Helen Hoyt, '23 of Presque Isle was the highest point winner on the girls' side of the campus. Their nearest rivals were Ralph Corey, '25 of Lewisville, N. B., and Mildred Stevens, '24 of Auburn. Edward Roberts, '23 of Lewiston, and "Dot" Lamb, '24 of Worcester were awarded a large box of chocolates for being the best fancy skating couple.

The Judges on the costumes were: Dr. Britan, L. S. Durgin, and E. S. Stetson. The fancy skating judges were Dr. Whitehorn, Prof. Jenkins, Miss Davies, and Mr. Mathewson.

THE CARNIVAL DANCE

Fully 120 couples gathered at Chase Hall, Friday evening for the first Carnival Dance, and in fact the first real campus dance.

The hall was tastefully decorated with red and white crepe paper festoons and presented a charming picture. An order of twelve dances was smoothly run off. The dances were named very appropriately from various winter sport terms.

During intermission refreshments of harlequin ice cream and fancy cookies were served, and the hall was open for those who wished to enjoy its facilities.

Following intermission confetti and serpentine were distributed and the air was soon clouded with flying paper. Balloons with a very strident "squak" were also given out and the noise and joy was increased. Everyone forgot his or her trouble in pelting the other fellow with confetti. Joy reigned supreme and it was indeed with feelings of regret that the dancers departed at a late hour, vowing that it had been the best Bates dance yet.

The patrons and patronesses were Dean and Mrs. F. E. Pomeroy, Dean Lena M. Niles, Professor A. C. Baird, Professor and Mrs. R. R. N. Gould.

The committee which so successfully managed the affair was composed of Hamlin '23, chairman; Miss Monteith '23, and MacLean '23. The refreshment committee deserves honorable mention also, Ross '22, chairman, Gilpatrick '24 and Bragg '25.

The music which contributed much to the success of the affair was furnished by the "Alsetabs," an aggregation of college men and local musicians who are making a name for themselves by the brand of melody they produce.

Not a few students, when it comes to a question of classroom preparedness, are confirmed pacifists.

Though rolling up a total of 33 points, the Garnet quintet was unable to outscore the strong five from the Granite State. Every effort was made to check the Blue and White forwards, but they still persisted in placing the ball in the net. Kempton shot 11 foul goals and two from the floor. Perkins and Luce also showed well. Perry, Metcalf, and McKinley featured for the Durham teams. The Garnet made a creditable showing considering that it was the third game of a strenuous trip and that one of the team played with an injury.

SPORT NOTES

Captain Rounds of the hockey team has been confined to his home by a severe cold and was unable to participate in his team victories over Portland and Lewiston Ind.

The addition of Landers '25 from High School of Commerce in Worcester, certainly gives our track team a boost.

"Jack" Magee is in again, but it rather looks as if Coach Jenkins called his bluff this time. If he's looking to see his name in the papers he will.

The basketball team had a little tough luck in the last two games of their trip, nevertheless everyone should be in City Hall tomorrow evening to see them stage their comeback.

Worcester Poly had one of the fastest teams in the country last year and still retains most of the players. A chance to see Berry, all New England Intercollegiate center is bound to be an added attraction.

THE COLLEGE LOAFER

Current Opinion, December, 1921

It takes a man of some energy to be a real devil, and for that reason the college loafer at first seldom gets into anything that is difficult or dangerous or not nice. This is the view of that veteran among college officials, Dean Thomas Arkle Clark, of the University of Illinois. The college loafer, he says, does not initiate things. Someone else makes the plan, altho the college loafer may trail along behind in an escapade and seem to be a part of the procession.

The college loafer is a passive, talkative being. He loves ease, leisure, sleep, cigars, chocolate and girls. He is a stroller, a hanger-on. The college loafer knows the last dance step, the latest gossip, and he has seen the last performance at the vaudeville show. The college loafer would be entirely innocuous if he were not allowed to run at large. The trouble is that he infects the crowd.

The Dean declares that it is not at all difficult to understand the environment which conduces to the development of this type of college student.

At home he has neither been given nor has he assumed any responsibility. He has had no duties, no regular set tasks. He has done no work. Often he has been mother's boy. It has usually, at home, been a problem as to what should be done with him in the summer vacation when there was no school, and so he loafed around, lazy and discontented. He has seldom done well in his preparatory or high-school work. He has passed, but neither he nor his parents had any ambitions for him to be a "grind" or a valedictorian.

The college loafer comes naturally to speak of himself as "no student" and to take a certain pride in the fact that this characteristic in some way differentiates him from the common herd of undergraduates who do their work because they like it or who go at things with energy because it is their duty. He takes his commonplace work as a matter of course just as many people assume without trying that they cannot learn to spell.

Because he is interested in nothing but his senses and his emotions, a youth develops into a college loafer. A boy will seldom show more ambition in college than he has shown at home. If he has had no vision or purpose there, he will be unlikely to find one in college. We do not change our characters by changing our lodging-house, and if we have disliked work in Chicago we shall hardly take to it in Champagne.

Dean Clark has taken pains to get the view-point of the college loafer. When the loafer is driven from one untenable excuse after another, he leans upon the prop of all loafers and asserts that the rules of the college permit a certain number of "cuts" and that he has not exceeded the limit. "Anyway," he goes on, "a fellow cannot go to class all the time." One of the most common excuses of the loafer for not attending class is that of not being waked up at the proper time. The freshman whose duty it is to come around and wake him up has gone to sleep at the switch. The next most popular excuse for absence is that he was studying for another course than the one he cut. It never seems to oc-

SOCIAL SERVICE COMMITTEE

The purpose of the Social Service Committee is to bring, from the richness of our college lives, happiness into the lives of others who are less fortunate. Realizing the extent of the field of service and the limitations of our time we have concentrated on three main divisions: the old ladies' home, the shut-ins and the classes for children of foreign parentage.

Every Sunday a group of girls have conducted a song service at the city home for old ladies. Often a speaker accompanies them. During the week one girl visits the home. At Christmas time a party was given. If there is illness in the home flowers are sent by the committee.

The second division of the work consists of visiting shut-ins in hospitals and homes. During holiday seasons special parties were given to a blind girl and to a cripple girl. Each week girls go to the hospital to read to an invalid.

Thirdly, the college Y. W. C. A. co-operates with the city organization by sending teachers for the classes at the Lewiston Y. W. and at the International Institute on Lincoln street. At the present time twelve girls are sent, supplying five classes.

For him that there are regular hours of study far more adequate for the purposes of even the good student and that it is seldom if ever necessary to cut class in order to study. Cutting class with him is as regular and as persistent as smoking, for every loafer smokes.

It is hard for the loafer to study. There are so many easier, subtler, cleverer ways to get by. He means to do it—to-morrow, Sunday, next week—but he is such an awfully popular fellow, he has so many friends to entertain, so many dates to keep, that he has little or no time to study. He borrows notes which he has been too lazy or too busy to take for himself and he never returns them until you hunt him up. He questions you about your outside reading and he tries to get the gist of its content, so that he may be spared the labor of doing it for himself.

DEUTSCHE VEREIN ENJOYS DINNER AT RAND HALL

Several Original Toasts Offered by Members of Club

PLANS MADE FOR PLAYS

Der Deutsche Verein was entertained at dinner at Rand Hall last Monday night. There were five tables all attractively decorated with red paper, red candles and hand-painted place cards, containing the order of the toast written in German script. In the center of each table was a crepe paper German peasant lady. After the meal, and after the dining room had been vacated by the 'regular boarders', Mr. Allan, toastmaster, introduced each toaster as follows:

Toast to Weak Deceitless
Georgiana Hayes
Toast to Faust Clifford Monahan
Toast to the German Peasant Lady
Alice Blouin
Toast to Dr. and Mrs. Leonard
Clarence Forbes

To complete the speech making, Professor Leonard spoke briefly in his usual delightful manner. The program concluded with every one singing 'The Lorelei.'

The Club then adjourned to the reception room where a short business meeting was held with Miss Vivian Wills presiding.

Plans were made for the forthcoming German Club night on March 11th, at which two plays, one in German, the other translated from the German, are to be presented with appropriate German music. The enterprise is being enthusiastically supported and the outlook for a pleasant and profitable evening seems bright. Just before adjournment, a design was chosen for the new Deutschen Verein pins.

GREEK CLUB ONCE MORE MAKES MERRY

Mr. Frangedakis Entertains
Phil-Hellenes at His Home

An all important social event of this week's program was the entertainment given to the Phil-Hellenic Club at the home of Mr. Frangedakis, Tuesday evening, February 14. President and Mrs. Gray, Professor and Mrs. Knapp, and Professor Chase were among those present. More than thirty members of the club attended. The evening was made very pleasant by the participation of everyone in very interesting games. Refreshments of sandwiches, punch, ice cream and nuts were served. The house was beautifully decorated, and the host and hostesses succeeded perfectly in giving everyone an excellent enjoyment. President Gray's horrible, hair-raising story was the spice of the entertainment.

The evening seemed all too short when the guests found it necessary to rise and sing the Bates Alma Mater. Clarence Forbes, president of the club, expressed, in so far as he was able, a few words of appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Frangedakis for their great hospitality. Then the playing of the Greek National Anthem on the Victrola ended the program.

THE FACULTY TEA

Last Tuesday afternoon, the 14th, the girls of the two upper classes were delightfully entertained by the Ladies of the Faculty at informal tea. The Seniors were entertained at the home of Mrs. Ramsdell, and the Junior girls at Mrs. Hartshorn's home. The decorations in both homes were of red and white hearts, in keeping with the spirit of the day. Special music was furnished by an orchestra. Refreshments of tea, sandwiches, heart-shaped cookies and mints were served. Miss Niles and Mrs. Ramsdell poured for the Senior Tea and Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Shafner poured for the Juniors. Professor Hartshorn also entertained the Junior girls in his study showing them many quaint and interesting books he has in his collection.

GIRL'S "STU G" TO VOTE ON POINT SYSTEM MONDAY

Plan Limits Number of Offices to Be Held by One Individual

The member of the Bates College Student Government Association will vote next Monday, during the conference hour, on a point system for holding office in the various college organizations. The proposed system gives a stated number of points for each office to which girls are eligible. No girl may hold offices counting for more than ten points at any one time.

Each office has been graded according to the amount of time and effort necessary to fill it. Thus the presidencies of the Y. W. C. A. and the Student Government Association count highest—namely, eight points. Six-point offices are the vice-presidency and secretaryship of the Student Government Association, and the house seniors. Other Student Government Board members, together with certain Y. W. C. A. cabinet members, count five points. Presidents of the Athletic Board, Ramsdell Scientific Society, Seniority, etc., and other Y. W. C. A. cabinet members count four points. Lesser offices count three, two, or one point respectively.

It is hoped that this system will equalize the distribution of offices among the girls, so that no girl will be overburdened with work. The system is at present in practice at several colleges, and has proved successful.

SOPHOMORE DEBATING TRIALS COMING MONDAY

Four Men and Four Women to Be Chosen—Prizes of Fifty Dollars Offered

Not the least important among the debating activities is the annual Sophomore prize debate. Trials to select the speakers for this year's team will be held on Monday at four-thirty o'clock, the women in Hathorn Hall, the men in Chase Hall.

Each speaker will present a five-minute argument on some subject of current interest. Since each member of the class recently wrote a three-thousand word forensic in the Argumentation course, it is expected that the candidates will have sufficient material for their speeches. In each division, four speakers and two alternates will be selected.

The public debates will be held about March 7th, when a prize of fifteen dollars will be given to the winning team of men, and a like sum to the best woman's team. In addition, ten dollars will be given to the best individual speaker in each debate.

The Sophomore debates originated with Professor "Uncle Johnnie" Stanton, who in the early seventies offered prizes to the class. The contests have been held each year since then. Almost every varsity debater has served apprenticeship in these class discussions. Bates, Ashton, Johnson, all of '22, and Burdon, E. W. Robinson, Carroll, and Pinckney, of '23, engaged in these programs.

Bates girls have also done excellent work on the debating platform. Misses Lola Mitchell and Virginia Mixer, Nelly Milliken, Mildred Baker, Vivienne Rogers, and Marjorie Pillsbury have represented their classes. Such class competition will no doubt furnish the training ground for those women who may presently represent Bates in debates with other women's colleges.

CHAMPIONSHIP OF MAINE COPPED BY BATES ICE-BIRDS

Defeat Colby 4-2 in Rough Game and Bring Home Carnival Cup

STANLEY LEADS WITH THREE

Bates won the hockey championship of Maine last Saturday afternoon, at Augusta, when she defeated Colby 4-2 in an exceedingly rough game. Good hockey was impossible, on account of the small rink, but the boys were determined to bring back the silver loving cup donated by the Winter Carnival Committee, and made good. "Dick" Stanley had his shooting eye with him and caged three nice goals, while "Joe" Cogan got another. It was a busy day for the goal tenders, as it was possible to shoot from one end of the rink to the other. "Bob" Partridge succeeded in warding off most of the Colby shots, however. The small rink handicapped the players greatly; team play was impossible and the greater part of the game was an old fashioned "shinny" match. Vale played a good game for Colby. Summary:

DEBATING COUNCIL MEDALS FOR DEBATERS HERE

Five Graduates and Four Undergraduates to Receive Them

WATTS ON SIX WINNING TEAMS

The medals, which the Bates Debating Council voted to give to our inter-collegiate debaters, have arrived and will be awarded in a few days. As the giving of the Drew medals ceased four years ago, the Council's action was made retroactive, affecting all those men who have participated in intercollegiate debates since 1919. They are: Brewster '19, Lucas '20, Mays '20, Morris '21, Starbird '21, Ashton '22, Johnson '22, Watts '22, and Young '24. For many years, Mr. Drew followed the plan of giving a medal to every man on a winning team, but in 1919 this policy was discontinued. A few weeks ago, the Debating Council voted to carry on the plan, while Mr. Drew is to give one medal each year to the debater who does the best work throughout the year. The comparative merits of the platform orators will be decided upon by a faculty committee.

These medals are very beautiful in design. In the center is the Bates seal, and above it, in a semi-circle, the words "Intercollegiate Debate." On the back is the student's name together with that of the college debated against.

An additional bar is given for each debate. Watts, '22, has the distinction of being on six winning teams.

GIRLS' QUARTET VISITS POLAND

Glee Club Representatives Help Town Celebrate

Last Saturday evening the quartet of the Girls' Glee Club journeyed forth to the town of Poland to help the inhabitants of the said town in the celebration of the coming of electric lights into their community.

Such a festive evening as it was! A regular old fashioned Chicken Supper was served in the town hall. As usual, Bates girls did themselves proud on this part of the program as they did during the rest of the evening.

After everyone had eaten his and her fill, the entertainment for the evening began. The Bates quartet sang two groups of songs. Virginia Mixer, '22, the reader for the club, read two pleasing and clever selections. Miss Margaret Mahan, gave two piano selections, after which followed the comedy "Old Maid's Convention" which was given by the women members of the "Glee Improvement Society."

The girls who represented the Girls' Glee Club were, Dorothy Holt, '22; Wilhelmina Fineman, '22; Erna Paul, '24; Margaret Mahan, '25; Robertine Howe, '24, pianist, and Virginia Mixer, '22, reader.

THOSE THIRTEEN CUPS HAVE ARRIVED—WATCH THE TRACK MEN DIG

GRADUATES DONATE TROPHIES WHICH WILL BE AWARDED TO WINNERS IN VARIOUS EVENTS

TWO INDOOR AND ONE OUTDOOR MEET TO BE HELD

Bates track and field men will now begin competition for the thirteen cups, which arrived this week, and which are now on display at the college store. Three meets are to be held: two indoor, and one outdoor. The man winning the largest total number of points in his event will be awarded the trophy offered for that event.

The competition is certain to be keen for Bates has the best balanced track team that has fallen to her lot in years. Much credit for the development of the men is due to Coach Jenkins, who is taking fellows who never saw a board track before and making them into creditable performers.

The Trophies Offered

William F. Garcelon cup for most points in hurdles, donated by William F. Garcelon, '90, prominent Bates man and former graduate manager of athletics at Harvard University.

Richard B. Stanley cup for the most points in half mile, donated by Richard B. Stanley, '97, Lewiston man now a Boston attorney.

Royal B. Parker cup for most points in mile run, donated by Royal B. Parker '14, an Auburn boy who did fine work in this event while in college.

Orren C. Boothby cup for the best work in dashes, donated by Orren C. Boothby, '96, a Lewiston man now a Boston attorney.

George A. Bosworth cup for most points in the two mile event, donated by class of 1908. Mr. Bosworth, two mile champion while in college, was killed accidentally before completing his college career.

Royce D. Purinton cup for best work in hammer throw, donated by George W. Palmer, '07, in memory of the former athletic director at Bates.

Clarence M. Cutler cup for most points in quarter mile dash, donated by Felix V. Cutler, '21, a prominent athlete while at Bates.

Miles B. Greenwood cup for most points in high jump, donated by Miles B. Greenwood, '91.

WESTBROOK TOO FAST FOR FROSH

Defeats First Year Men by Score of 5-1

In a preliminary to the Bates-St. Dominiques game, the Freshmen lost to Westbrook Seminary 5-1. Westbrook scored first a la "Red" Cross, who shot one past "Molecule" Hinds. Hinds was having a rough evening as the poor light seemed to bother him and the pucks came thick and fast. O'Connor played a nice game for the Freshmen, while McGowan and Harvey showed well for Westbrook.

PERKINS DROPS IN FOUR

In one of the closest and best games of the year, Bates was defeated in basketball by the narrow margin of one point. The final score was 24-23. There was no picking the winner until the final whistle was blown.

The game was still young when the Portland Athletic Club secured its initial score. It was soon followed by a tally by Luce. The Garnet center was playing a fine game both offensively and defensively. A series of fast passes resulted in a goal by "Mike" Wilson. The big center for the athletic club netted the second tally for the opposition. Perkins was substituted for Dover who had done noble work while in the (Continued on Page Three)

GARNET AGAIN SHOWS HEELS TO ST. DOMINIQUE

Swamps Local Puck Chasers to Tune of 10-0

For the second time this season, Bates clearly demonstrated her superiority over the St. Dominiques in hockey last Friday evening on Lake Andrews. The 10-0 defeat was the worst which has been inflicted on St. Dominique this season. The visitors showed their best in the first period which ended 1-0, but in the last two periods the college lads ran away from them, scoring five times in the second period and four in the third. "Joey" Cogan played his usual brilliant game, he and "Eddie" Roberts making the most spectacular play of the game when Roberts skated the length of the rush with the puck, then when covered in front of the opponents' goal made a nice pass to Cogan, who shoved it in. "Dick" Stanley made two of the prettiest goals seen on the rink this year, with difficult shots from the side boards. Capt. Rounds, Dagnino and McKenna played a great game on the defense, while the work of "Bob" Partridge at goal was brilliant throughout. Marcotte excelled for St. Dominique.

CHASE HALL AND COOPERATION

We could not describe Chase Hall better than to call it "The House of Service." It is difficult for a student now in college to realize fully just how much is added to the social background of the college through this medium. It takes a graduate of five years back to point out to us the advantage we have in possession of this new equipment.

Inasmuch as Chase Hall is so important a feature of the college life, it surely is legitimate to demand that no conditions be allowed to exist which shall lessen the value of the service given.

The Chase Hall Committee which represents the students and the faculty with respect to this building, declares that a crisis has been reached, the only solution of which will be found through an appeal to the cooperation of the college students, men in particular.

The Committee asks the help of all men students in two respects. The first has to do with the overrunning of the building by outsiders. No persons who are not connected with the college are entitled to use the building. If the college men who do use the building will make sure that outsiders are not left unmolested when they invade Chase Hall, that will be a good step in the right direction.

The second point of cooperation aims at the selfish and thoughtless use of material in the lounging room. Four abuses are named in particular: (1) The taking away of all new sheet music as soon as displayed; (2) the removal or breakage of new records for the Victrola; (3) the ripping out of magazines from their binders; and (4) the taking of newspapers from the reading room.

It is up to the student body to prevent the abuse of recreational privileges in Chase Hall. Let the majority make up their minds that fair play shall be allowed and that will be the end of the matter.

THE MONTH OF WASHINGTON AND LINCOLN

Within ten days of each other come the birthday anniversaries of the two greatest Americans. Washington and Lincoln may rightly be called this, for patriotism, devotion and sacrifice to their country, was the keynote of their lives.

Washington was a product of the finest culture of old Virginia, while Lincoln was a son of the new and crude Frontier. The first was refined and polished in appearance and manners; the other was unsmooth and awkward. Yet both were marked by a deep humbleness and simplicity.

We now remember Washington by the city which bears his name. In it is reared a lofty monument. But that which best preserves for us the spirit of the man is the home in which he dwelt, Mount Vernon. Here Washington lived and here his body is laid. The plain, but beautiful, colonial mansion, overlooking the placid Potomac which flows at the foot of the sloping lawn, is filled with the dignity of the personality of Washington.

The new Lincoln Memorial, gazing across the river toward the National Cemetery in Arlington where so many of "Lincoln's boys" were laid, was fashioned with a simplicity and grandeur after the pattern of the man.

As smoothly flowing waters indicate depth of current, so the serenity of these characters betokens the existence of deep convictions beneath the surface of their lives. Both were God-fearing men. Both lives were ruled by a firmly rooted righteousness and morality and trust in a divine Guide.

"We ask what secret through their stories runs—
They served men best because they first served God."

HUMOROUS

SPIRITS—ON THE WIRE

It is not such a long time ago that I had an encounter with the spirits, of course, I do not mean the kind banned by Volstead, but real, honest-to-goodness, old time ghosts. However, the peculiar part of the whole affair was the way I communicated with them. Who would think that spirits would use such a modern, fan-dangled, contrivance as a wireless telephone to talk with material people.

I was startled before one of those machines to receive the human voice and music through the air, when suddenly, after a long, drawn out moan, I heard a strange voice saying, "I am the spirit of John Barleycorn and I wish to communicate with some person on earth. I answered immediately, in hopes of being heard,—and I was. Again I heard the voice and calling back I asked the spirit what he wanted, and he replied that, inasmuch as he had not had time to make a last will and testament while on earth, he would like to make one now, in my care.

The old boy had only one bequest to make. That is, he bequeathed his old time kick to the home-brewers of the nation, to do with and use as they might see fit.

I tried to reach him again to get some of his personal opinions on the Irish question or woman's suffrage, but I failed in the attempt. John Barleycorn had gone, but like John Brown, his "spirits" go on forever.

THE COLLEGE COMMONS

The food, in quality, varies as the weather during a rainy season.

The food is wholesome enough in that it will sustain life.

Everybody wants the same thing, at the same time, and if you are last you get left.

If a fellow gets too hungry, he steals away and goes down town to get a few good meals; but he does this only for a few days and then someone whispers to his ear that Professor Gould would like to have him return to the Commons.

Napoleon said that an army advances on its stomach. If that is the case, the students here are not advancing.

The Sunday evening meal is the banner one of them all. (All the food that has been left over during the week) is made to look attractive and wholesome by an addition of salad dressing and lettuce.

Three months have rolled by and at last I have had my first good meal.

Leather, as the meat is called, is nice and fine. Yes, it is a shame to have let the beast live so long, and then have to pass into the world beyond at such a ripe age.

Someone had dropped a pin on the floor, when the bread was being baked, and made it sink to the bottom of the oven.

The grease has a nice, rich odor.

A WINNER

Father (reading a letter from his son at college to mother)—Myopia says he's got a beautiful lamp from boxing.

Mother—I just knew he'd win something in his athletics.

Prof. (calling roll)—"Smith!"
Smith—"Here."

Prof. (to whole class)—"Are you all here?"

Smith—"Practically."

PUTTING IT FAIRLY

Little Willie—"Pass me the butter."

Mother (reproachfully)—"If what, Willie?"

Willie—"If you can reach it."

"The Newton had the dope when he went to college."

"How's at?"

"They say he used to put quicksand in the prof's hour-glass to shorten that hour."

JUST A LITTLE WRONG

A certain chemist advertised a patent confection labeled: "No more colds. No more coughs! Price fifty cents."

A man who bought the mixture came back in three days to complain that he had drunk it all, but was no better.

"Drunk it all!" gasped the chemist.

"Why, man, that was an India-rubber solution to put on the soles of your boots."

SOCIETIES

POLITICS CLUB

The Politics Club held a meeting last Thursday evening. Following a brief business meeting Aurie Johnson, the president, introduced Sylvester, '22, who spoke on the Disarmament Conference recently held at Washington, summing up its aims and its results. The next speaker was Boker who discussed the coming Genoa Conference and the advisability of the United States participating in it. The list of speakers and their subjects for the remainder of the term were announced.

FRENCH CLUB

The French Club met in the reception room of Rand Hall at 7 o'clock last week, Thursday. Vetricie McAlister played a piano solo and Thelma Fullerton read a story from Maupassant; both were enjoyed by the members present, including Professor Browne. A short business discussion followed the program.

Y. W. C. A. MEETING

Miss Izetta Lidstone was the leader of an open Forum at the last Y. W. C. A. meeting. The subject was "Reverence." Many of the girls took an active part in the discussion which proved very interesting.

WORLD FELLOWSHIP

The World Fellowship meetings began last Sunday evening. Miss Helen Wadell was the leader and told of her life in South America. She showed many interesting pictures and novelties which were typical of that country. These meetings will be held every Sunday night and different girls have been chosen to give talks on countries they have lived in or have visited.

RAMSDELL SCIENTIFIC

Ramsdell Scientific Society held a very interesting meeting in Carnegie Science Hall on the night of February sixteenth. The outstanding feature of the evening was a lecture by Miss Marion Drew, of the Senior Class, on the subject of "Sidelights on Surveying." The lecture was accompanied by very comprehensive sketches and drawings and was followed by a general discussion and examination of the various articles used as illustrations. The club voted to accept an invitation to join with the Jordan Scientific Society in their annual March Exhibition.

THERE IS MORE THAN ONE WAY TO GET A MAN

The spring-like characteristics of Monday last, beckoned forth many a listless Freshman co-ed. With each puff of the vagrant breeze were borne suggestions of marbles, snow-men and sleigh-rides. Gravity and dignity dismissed, numerous snow-men matured with great rapidity by the side of Whittier House. In the limited area between the Freshman dorms, one dignified specimen, calmly smoking a cigarette, displayed a fine growth of horns, the entirety protected from the ardent gaze of the sun, by a huge umbrella. This one blandly accepted the homage of passers-by, and winked never an eye at the click of a camera.

Wearied of such juvenile pastime, the sportive co-eds sought the sleigh.

Three two-seaters with one horse power sufficed for the stowing away of twenty pleasure seekers. What matter that the horse was "lean and lank" and truly deserved the name of Napoleon Bonaparte? Slurred corners and tilted roads simply spiced the afternoon's fun.

Are wintry days and stormy winds yet to come? Qu'importe? "Where ignorance is bliss, 'tis folly to be wise."

SPORT NOTES

"Red" Cross played a nice game for Westbrook the other night in the hockey match with the freshmen. We thought all the time that "Red" was "wild" us, but I guess he's "agin' us.

The silver loving cup which the hockey team won at Augusta last Saturday, emblematic of the Maine hockey championship, is a beauty and will make a fine addition to the trophy room.

Berry, W. P. I. center, is certainly a sweet basketball player.

Good spirit and support will work wonders for any team, and this was clearly demonstrated in the City Hall last Saturday evening. The boys played their hearts out, and would have trimmed up any other team but W. P. I.

We hate (!) to crab, but when you come back from the game and someone asks you how it came out and then crabs the team because it didn't win, what are you going to say? Anyone who hasn't enough "pep" to go to a varsity contest ought to keep his foot on the soft pedal. In other words, if you can't say a good word for the boys, don't say anything.

With the temperature hovering below zero, two coeds attended the hockey game last Friday night. About 150 men didn't.

With about 20 sq. miles of snow to snowshoe on, someone who was evidently taking a direct route to the North Pole, had to cut directly through the hockey rink, after the snowfall Sunday, thereby tracking it up. When it freezes it tracks the ice, putting the rink in poor condition and making more work for the hockey manager. Keep off the rink unless its fit to skate on.

"Mac," "Doc" Moulton, and "Red" Meneilly, in their purity sweaters, made a hit as cheer leaders at the game Saturday evening.

Bates plays Ubbi tomorrow afternoon on Lake Andrews.

For once, "Eddie" Roberts wasn't at home on a tennis court last Saturday afternoon at Augusta.

THAT FORMAL HOP

"To be or not to be" is no longer the question so far as the Sophomore Formal Hop is concerned. It most certainly is "to be." Place: Chase Hall. Time: Saturday evening, February 25, 7-11.

The committee in charge, headed by Mike Wilson, has been working hard since before the Christmas holidays perfecting plans for putting on a dance of mammoth proportions. Nothing in any way has been omitted towards making the dance an epoch in the social life here at Bates.

The chairman of this committee made his report to a large meeting of the Class of '24 last Friday noon. President Young commended the committee for its labors and declared that by all odds it proved to be the most satisfactory committee ever formed in the Sophomore class. Arrangements have been made for a first class orchestra. Refreshments will be served in banquet style. Novelties will be in order.

MRS. WAYNE E. DAVIS

The funeral of Mrs. Wayne E. Davis was held Sunday afternoon at the home of her brother, C. E. Rounds of Auburn. Harry Rowe conducted the services, and on Monday the body was taken to Rochester, N. H., for burial.

Mrs. Davis was the wife of Wayne E. Davis, the newly elected publicity director for the million dollar drive. She was born in Mechanic Falls in 1890, and was a graduate of Bates in the class of 1912. During her college days, she was prominent in all student activities. In 1916 she married Mr. Davis. When Mr. Davis was engaged in Y. M. C. A. work during the war, she also took up war work. She has held several teaching positions, and while at Cedar Crest College she acted as assistant treasurer. Mrs. Davis had intended to accept a position in the Bursar's office. Our sympathy goes out to Mr. Davis in his bereavement.

MRS. SOPHRONIA ROBINSON

Last Saturday, we were saddened to learn of the death of Mrs. Sophronia Robinson, the mother of Professor Robinson. Until about two years ago, she had been exceptionally well, but since that time her health had been gradually failing. Mrs. Robinson was known to her friends as a woman of charm, of kindness, and of beautiful character. For a number of years, the only near relative has been her son, who has cared for her with exceptional devotion.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon, Rev. G. F. Finnie officiating. The services were simple, yet very appropriate. There were many and beautiful floral pieces from hosts of friends. Professors Leonard, Knapp, Britan, and Chase were the bearers. We all, students and faculty alike, join in expressing to Professor Robinson our heartfelt sympathy.

contest. Bill speedily got a couple of floor goals after clever dribbling and passing. Woodman, playing a fine game at back, shot the next Bates basket.

The second half saw Bates with a slightly changed line-up. Bill Perkins started the scoring in this period with a long shot from the floor. Captain Davis was fighting hard and playing an excellent game. The Portland team was playing good basketball. Their dribbling was fast, their pass-work good, and their shooting very accurate. Coronios, playing his first game for some weeks, covered his man well at all times and scored during this half. His foul shooting was good. He tried two and got both. This was Bates' weak point though and probably cost the game. Dorr returned to the game and fought hard, breaking up much of his opponent's passwork. Perkins tallied twice more and was taken out after a slight injury. He returned when Dorr was retired on fouls. Luce scored the last floor goal for the Garnet as he had also scored the first. It was after this that Coronios scored his foul goals. As the close of the game drew near the score was close at all times, neither team leading by any great margin at any time.

The game was intensely interesting because of the closeness and the display of skill by both teams. Duffey and the two Hawkes brothers played best for the Portland team. Perkins, Coronios, and Dorr starred for the garnet.

Herbert L. Douglas cup for most points in broad jump, donated in memory of Herbert L. Douglas, '96, who died in 1918. He was a fine all around athlete while at Bates, was captain of football two years and captain of baseball one year. He also was a member of the track team.

Chester A. Jenkins cup for the greatest improvements in track work during the year, donated by the Boston Bates Club in honor of the present track coach at Bates.

MRS. MONTGOMERY
SPEAKS TO CO-EDS

Last Thursday noon at Rand Hall directly after lunch, an informal talk was given by Mrs. Helen Montgomery. Mrs. Montgomery is the president of the Northern Baptist convention and she gave an interesting talk on India. Her talk was based mostly on the colleges in India. She spoke of the great increase in membership in the last few years and cited many interesting instances.

FRESHMEN DEFEAT
MORSE HIGH 29-18

The preliminary game was played between the Freshmen and Morse High. Their final score was 29-18, in favor of 1922. The game was fairly fast and the first half was very interesting, the score being 11-10 in favor of Morse at the end of the first half. The Freshmen, however, showed up well in the last half and out-scored Morse by several points. Summary:

DID YOU GET A BID FOR THE BALL?

'Tis now not a question of courses or ranks,
Our lessons don't matter at all.
The tensest and painfulest thing to discuss
Is—'Did you get a bid for the ball?'

The telephone rings; Ah, what a suspense!
What may not occur in that call!
And everyone shouts as you chatter goodbye,
'Oh! Did you get a bid for the ball?'

'May I try on all of the evening gowns here?
I wore out my pink one last fall.'
'You'll not need this one if you're staying at home,
Say! Did you get a bid for the ball?'

'I don't understand why I don't get called up
You'd think no one knew me at all!
I'd just as soon go to a young ladies school
If I don't get a bid for the ball.'

Though Saturday eve is speeding on wings
While life stays, then hope does not pall
And up till the very last second you pray
That you'll get a bid for the ball.

RAND HALL 1922.

BLACK PIGS SUCCUMB TO WHITE DUCKS

In a game preliminary to the varsity event Wednesday evening, the White Ducks, led by Captain Tom Kelley administered a strict lacing to the Dusky Swine. The score 20-8 is proof of the powerful quintet which practices daily behind closed doors. The game was a decidedly clean one (as regards the pants worn by Captain Tom's team). The question is "why were they called White Ducks,—but then they have been at the beginning of the season. Captain Kelley, Partridge, and Kinley featured for the White Ducks. Dagnino, who went in as a sub displayed some fine tackling. He also covered the floor well,—he was seldom on his feet. Price and Batten were the stellar attractions for the losers.

The line-up:

Sullivan, lf	lf, Kelley
Batten, rf	rf, Moulton
Price, c	c, Spiller
Hagburg, lb	lb Partridge

FRESHIES WILL MEET IN VERBAL COMBAT TUESDAY

Federal Ownership of Coal Mines Subject to Be Discussed

The Bates system of training debaters gives the freshman a chance. When the varsity trials were held in November, seventeen of the first men entered the lists. The prize debate for the men of the class will be held in Assembly Room, Hathorn Hall, on Tuesday evening, at seven-thirty o'clock.

A. H. Googins, Portland, H. R. Bailey, Cedar Grove, and E. D. Canham, Auburn, will uphold the affirmative of the proposition, Resolved, That the Federal Government should own and operate the coal mines of the United States. L. H. Starbird, Danville, Kenneth Field, Auburn, and D. F. Snowman, Southington, Conn., will have the negative. These men have all had experience in the preparatory school contests. Googins, Canham, Field and Starbird have all starred in the Bates Interscholastic Debating League. Canham was a member of the "second team," which tried to hammer the three varsity men in their preparation for the Yale debate in December.

The question, in view of the threatened strike by the miners on April 1, will be of interest to every household, who, by the way, includes every inmate of Bates college domus. This proposition furnished a stirring battle when Harvard and Bates argued in City Hall before an overflow crowd a year ago. (That contest, by the way, was the seventh consecutive debating victory for Bates.) The proposition is also used by the thirty schools of the Bates League for their meet in March.

In this first-year debate a prize of fifteen dollars will be given to the victorious team.

Ashton and Johnson, of the present senior class, both distinguished themselves in their freshman public debates.

The coming debate will be under the general direction of the Bates Debating Council.

YEARLINGS LOSE TO M. S. C. 12-10

Plenty of Rough and Tumble
But not Much Scoring

Small scores seemed to be in vogue Wednesday but the Freshmen and the Maine School of Commerce recorded the lowest, 12 to 10, with the Auburn school victorious. Neither team displayed marked accuracy in shooting and much clever pass work was in vain because of the poor shots. The foul shooting was poor on the whole. Captain Chisholm scored the first floor goal for the Freshmen. It was a well played shot. Hamilton registered the only other basket from the floor for the '25 team. Kenney tossed six in from the foul line. Huntington and Martin played well for the yearlings. The luminaries for the visitors were Watson and Murray.

BATES DEBATING TEAM WILL MEET UNIV. OF PENN.

Debate Will Be Held in Philadelphia—Sides Not Yet Chosen

The monthly meeting of the Debating Council was held in the Library last Wednesday evening. At this meeting a letter from the University of Pennsylvania was read inviting Bates to debate there sometime during the Spring. It was voted to accept this invitation and on some date, to be announced later, Bates will journey to Philadelphia for a debate. In all probability the speakers who will represent Bates will be chosen within a few days and the work of preparation pushed as rapidly as possible.

Women are to be represented on the Debating Council, it was decided at this meeting. Two women from the Sophomore Prize Debaters will be elected to the Council each year to represent the women students. This is a new departure from the policy of the Council and it is hoped that it may prove successful in stimulating the interest of the women with regard to debating.

REV. W. R. LESLIE SPEAKS IN CHAPEL

Delivers Interesting Address on "How Much Are You Worth?"

Yesterday morning, in chapel, Rev. W. R. Leslie, formerly of Auburn, but now pastor of the Methodist Episcopal in Brookline, Mass., spoke briefly and interestingly in the subject: "How Much Are You Worth?" His address was one of the best that the student body has had the privilege of hearing this year.

The speaker first referred to a man's value as judged by a chemist, an insurance agent, or a business man. Then he went on to show that a man cannot be judged by his physical value, his health, or his pocketbook, but that character is the determining factor.

"Character," Mr. Leslie said, "is composed of three elements: honesty, courage and faith,—and the greatest of these is faith. It is not enough to trust to the senses and the reasoning alone."

The speech was closed by an appeal for optimism and a dedication of ourselves to service.

SOPHOMORE PRIZE DEBATERS CHOSEN

Elton Young and Raye Will Meet W. E. Young and A. W. Pollister

The trials for the Sophomore Prize debating teams were held last Monday afternoon in Chase Hall. There was much interest manifested on the part of the second year men. Twenty candidates appeared and delivered five minute speeches. Two teams were selected from these men as follows: William E. Young of Lewiston, and A. W. Pollister of Danville; Elton Young of Auburn and Edward Raye of Lynn, Mass. The alternates are Paul Wolyniec of Lawrence, Mass., and Harold E. Mayo of Lowell, Mass. These teams will take part in a public prize debate which is scheduled in about two weeks.

WHAT THE PHIL-HELLENIC CLUB MEANS TO BATES

Has Become One of Most Active Organizations on Campus

Only a few years ago there sprang into life on the Bates campus a new club, which speedily grew in importance until it became one of the best of our college clubs. The Phil-Hellenic was founded on the initiative of Professor G. M. Chase, with the purpose of promoting among the Greek students a deeper insight into Greek life and literature of the past and present. Only

PHIL-HELLENIC CLUB TO STAGE PLAY TO-NIGHT

The Antigone of Sophocles to Be Acted by an Able Cast

Tonight at eight o'clock in Hathorn Hall the Phil-Hellenic Club will present its annual Greek play. The play to be given this year is one of Sophocles' tragedies, "Antigone."

The play promises to be of unusual interest and of the same high quality which has characterized all of the Phil-Hellenic plays in the past. The decorations and settings are elaborate and appropriate. Everyone should be out to enjoy a pleasant evening and show his or her loyalty to a Bates activity.

Much credit for the success is due Professor Chase and Mrs. F. Pomerooy who have been coaching the players.

The cast is as follows:

Antigone Miss L. D. Fifield
Ismeon Miss G. Lombard
Creon G. D. Turner
Haemon C. Forbes
Eurydice Miss M. Earl
Tiresias P. Nason
Watchman E. Robinson
Messenger H. Carroll

BATES MUSICAL CLUBS HEARD IN TWO CONCERTS

Mandolin and Glee Clubs Well Received in Sanford and Biddeford

The Bates Musical Clubs gave their first concerts of the year last Monday and Tuesday evenings, when they presented programs at Sanford and Biddeford. In each place the clubs received a most hearty welcome and almost every number on the program was encored. The male quartet was given perhaps the most enthusiastic ovation.

Elwood Ireland, '22, is manager and leader of the Glee Club, while Oscar Lesieur, '22, elected leader of the mandolin club, was present at the concerts, and acted in that role.

The program given at Biddeford and Sanford is as follows:

"Monstrat Viam" Alfred E. Jay
Mandolin Club
"Winter Song" Frederic Fiela Bullard

DEXTER, '13, SPEAKS ON SOUTH AMERICA

Mr. B. L. Dexter, '13 spoke at the Y. M. C. A. meeting Wednesday evening. He told something of his experiences in South America where he says that one must not preach their religion if they want to get a hearing but must live it. His account of the life and customs of the South American peoples and the methods of the missionaries in getting in touch with them was very interesting.

The annual election of officers for the Y. M. C. A. was held. The results of the balloting is as follows:

President—Philip S. Nason.
Vice President—Wesley Gilpatrick.
Secretary—Frank Dorr.
Members of Advisory Board—Ernest Robinson, James Mitchell, Guy V. Aldrich.
Treasurer—Harry W. Rowe.

GARNET CLOSES SUCCESSFUL HOCKEY SEASON BY 7-0 WIN OVER COLBY PUCK CHASERS

BATES SEXTET HAS EASILY OUTCLASSED ANYTHING ELSE IN THE STATE—LOSES BUT ONE MAN BY GRADUATION

COGAN CONSISTENT STAR OF SEASON

HOCKEY CHAMPS OF MAINE

If there was any doubt in the minds of the Colby college sextet as to which team was state champions, it was dispelled last Saturday afternoon at Lake Andrews when Bates trimmed the Waterville Collegians 7-0. Bates clearly outplayed, outskated, and outclassed the visitors and the climax came in the final period when "Bob" Partridge, all decked out in his goal-tender's togs, carried the puck down the ice himself and nearly scored a goal, while Capt. Rounds stood guard at the cage. "Joey" Cogan had a field day and kept the Colby team chasing him around the ice, while he succeeded in scoring thrice. "Dick" Stanley and "Eddie" Roberts played their usual brilliant game while "Dag" and Capt. Rounds played stellar games on the defense.

Season Successful

Bates has had her most successful season in hockey this year, cleaning up everything in the state and winning collegiate championship. Berlin succeeded in defeating the Garnet as did Yale and West Point, but all the scores were very close, the opposing goal-tenders having an average of 30 stops in a game, showing the powerful offensive. Capt. Rounds is the only regular to graduate this year, while Roberts is the only one to leave next year, assuring a strong team for the next 3 years.

Summary:

BATES, 7 COLBY, 0
Stanley, rw rw, Wasson
Cogan, c e, Vale
Roberts, 1w 1w, Huhn
Daguino, 1d 1d, Young
Rounds, rd rd, McBay
Partridge, g g, Berry
Goals, Cogan 3, Roberts 2, Stanley, Rounds. Referee, Profit. Three 15-minute periods.

METHODISTS ORGANIZE AT BATES

Bishop Edwin Hughes Will Speak to M. E. Students at Supper Rally

The attention of Bates students is called to the fact that plans are being formulated for a Methodist organization at Bates. The purpose of this organization is to create a spirit of unity and fellowship among the young men and women of Bates College; to preserve and encourage denominational loyalty and co-operation. Membership is limited to those whose denominational preference is Methodist Episcopal.

The first get-together will be on the evening of March 10th when a supper will be served to all those interested in making a Methodist Fellowship a success. The speaker of the occasion will be Bishop Edwin Hughes. Everyone who has heard the Bishop knows what an opportunity this is for Bates students.

Here's a chance, Methodists, to prove your loyalty! Let's every one get behind and push!

Watch the bulletin at Hathorn for further particulars.

ANNUAL "B" NIGHT HELD IN GYMNASIUM

Athletes Receive Letters to Tune of Lusty Cheers

ENTERTAINMENT ENJOYED

In the second annual "B" night, held in the gymnasium last Thursday evening, the old gym rocked to the songs and cheers of the men as they did honor to the athletes who have been awarded the varsity letter during the year.

The program arranged by Coach Smith was interesting from start to finish, including selections by the Mandolin Club, an exhibition wrestling match, and two exhibition boxing matches.

The first event of the evening after the customary songs and cheers were over, was the awarding of the basketball insignia for 1921 to the following men: Capt. Stanley Spratt, '21, John Davis, '23, James Coronios, '24, John Gormley, '24, Rudolph Kempton, '24. Next was the awarding of the baseball (Continued on Page Three)

"THE COLLEGE COMMONS"

There appeared in the columns of the BATES STUDENT last week an article entitled "The College Commons" which was intended to be merely of a humorous nature, but which unfortunately has been construed as a criticism of the conduct of the men's dining hall.

Justice to those who have the interests of the Commons at heart requires that it be stated that there is no desire on the part of the Student Board or of a majority of the student body to make any complaint against the upkeep and management of the Commons for this year.

This year as never has been true in such degree before, the College Commons has been placed on a satisfactory basis. Guests coming in from outside have commented in unusual terms of the fare. The students themselves well remember the chicken dinners and the tender steaks which have been served frequently during the year. The quality of the food has been good. An investigation of the kitchen will show that no substitutes are used.

Especially note should be given to the spirit of those in charge of the Commons. The Matron, Mrs. Hilton, has been most painstaking in seeing that students are given food only of the best quality. When students have come in late from downtown, they have found the kitchen force only too glad to furnish a bite to eat. If one of the men happened to be ill, did "Stevy" ever hesitate about getting up a meal for him?

If any comment is in place on the College Commons, it is a comment of commendation. That is the attitude of the Student Board, and, we believe, of Bates students in general.

LOOKING OUT FOR NUMBER ONE

Definition of Public Spirit: "a spirit of interest in the public welfare of the community combined with an effort to serve it."

The theater disaster in Washington, D. C., is a good example of the breach of public spirit. It was not that the contractors who failed to live up to the requirements in their building specifications desired to take the lives of one hundred and seventeen people. The inspectors who failed to condemn the faulty structure did not intend to cause the death of innocent victims.

The builders and inspectors merely allowed their own personal motives to outweigh consideration of their public duty.

At the coroner's inquest, an engineer from the Inspector's Office of the District of Columbia is reported to have testified that the iron work used in making the roof was not up to the standard of the requirements of the plans submitted to his office. This engineer further stated that "the insufficiency of the construction should have been discovered by proper inspection."

It is not an unheard of thing for builders to skimp a little bit on the amount of iron work required in the architects' plans. It isn't usually detected. They often get by with it.

The case of the Knickerbocker Theater is merely one in which they didn't "get by." In this instance, a little personal graft had to be paid for by the lives of over a hundred innocent people.

The failure of the inspectors to discover the faultiness of construction is especially to be denounced. Public officials should be the last persons to lose sight of the public interest. They are servants of the community, paid to take care of the welfare of the people.

The safety of society will never be ensured until the policy of "Number One" is replaced by the old commandment "thy neighbor as thyself." This especially in the case of public officials.

SOCIETIES

JORDAN SCIENTIFIC

The Jordan Scientific Society held a short meeting, Wednesday evening, and discussed plans for the exhibit which will be held in the near future.

POLITICS CLUB

The Politics Club met at Chase Hall at 6.45 Thursday evening for their regular meeting. A very entertaining program was carried out. Mr. John Dexter, '13, who has had five years' experience in Ecuador spoke on the relation of the United States with South America. Members of the club presented papers on the nationalistic movement in India and Egypt and on the Free State and Ulster. A paper was also presented on "The German Lord of Finance, Hugo Shimer." After the conducting of some regular business and the discussion of the material presented the meeting adjourned.

ENTRE NOUS

Entre Nous conducted a very interesting meeting in Rand Hall Reception Room on the night of February twenty-third. The program, which was almost entirely musical, was excellently arranged by a social committee of four Freshmen—Grace Goldard, Helen Hill, Priscilla Frew, and Dorothy Lowe.

The feature of the evening was the violin selections from Kodard, Queen, and Kreisler, rendered most charmingly by Mrs. Sidney Brown, who is herself a pupil of Kreisler. Mrs. Brown prefaced her interpretations with a very enlightening sketch of the history and construction of the leading types of violins. The club feels very much indebted to Mrs. Brown for the delightful half hour of pleasure she gave them.

The complete program is as follows: Selection,

Orchestra of Freshmen Girls
Vocal Solo, Margaret Page
Piano Solo, Mildred Stanley
Violin Selections, Mrs. Sidney Brown

After the serving of refreshments, a motion was made to adjourn, and the company gathered together for an informal chat and introduction to the guest of the evening.

Y. W. C. A.

The subject of the last Y. W. C. A. meeting led by Miss Helen Hamm was "Lent." Miss Delora Smith told of what Lent means and Miss Dorothy Wiggins gave a very interesting account of the history of Lent. Special music was rendered by Miss Wilhelmina Fineman.

ALETHEA

At the last meeting of Alethea the subject of modern drama was taken up. Miss Florence Hodgkins gave a very interesting account of the Little Theater in New York. Miss Nellie Milliken talked on James Barrie and his works. This was unusually interesting for she illustrated her talk by pictures of the different places in Scotland where Barrie had lived.

PRESS CLUB

The Press Club met in music room of Chase Hall at 7.30 Monday night. President Gray gave a very instructive talk about the limitations and the opportunities of journalism, relating several personal experiences as a newspaper man. Harold Segal then gave the report of the editorial board. The meeting proved very interesting and was well attended.

DEUTSCHE VEREIN

A meeting of the Deutsche Verein was held in the Faculty Room at Roger Williams Hall on Monday evening, February 27th. Two new members were elected to the club, Messrs. Sylvester and Naiman. Two papers were read: one on the "Wanderer's Night Songs" of Goethe, by Miss Esther Kisk, and another on Sudermann's life and works, by Miss Grace George. The fun of the evening came in a spelling-match, conducted by Miss Alice Parsons. The prizes for this went to Misses Kisk and Traver.

ALUMNI

Class of '76—Alice S. Daniels, wife of Dr. John W. Daniels, Bates '76, Vice-Principal of Hill Academy of Portland, Oregon, died of heart-failure, Dec. 27, 1921. For her gentle disposition, her great qualities of mind and heart, and her lovable character, she will be missed and affectionately remembered by all who knew her.

Class of '96—Forrest Mason is a candidate for tax collector in Mechanic Falls. He has been very successful in the bee business there.

Class of '06—Mrs. Helen Channell Libby, '06, was married to Edward Henry Parsons of Auburn, Maine, February 2.

Class of 1919—The wedding of Edwin M. Purinton, Bates '19, to Margaret Anderson, of Wakefield, Mass., occurred on Washington's Birthday, at the home of the bride. The groom was the son of Professor H. R. Purinton, Bates Mr. and Mrs. Purinton will make their home in Springfield, Mass., where Mr. Purinton is a teacher in the High School of Commerce.

The annual gathering of the Bates Alumni Association of Boston and vicinity will be held on Saturday evening, March 25. The President of the Association is Maurice B. Brown, '08; the Secretary, Miles Greenwood, '91.

HUMOROUS

THE DAY BEFORE THE HOP

"You'll never pass this Biology course. That drawing looks like a clam shell."

"You're the freshest freshman I ever saw. I don't care it is isn't right. I'm an expert dancer."

"I take it you're a sophomore, then. I didn't know we had such dignified company during these lab periods."

"Shut up!"

"Yes, indeed."

(A minute later) "The sophomore hop is Saturday night."

"Is that a hint?"

"No, I never hint."

"I understand that the hop is going to be a very formal affair."

"Yes, have you a dress suit? You'll have to wear a dress suit. It will cost three dollars a couple. Have you got three dollars and a dress suit?"

"I have the three dollars but not the dress-suit."

"That's too bad. I would love so much to dance with you. Perhaps they would let you in if you wore a tuxedo."

"I haven't one; but I suppose I could get one. (looking at drawing). A little more careful; you're supposed to be drawing the peel of an onion."

"Oh, never mind that; I'll finish that some other time. I live on Davis Avenue, the brick house, the second one above Professor . . . 's. I have a brother, but he doesn't stay up late. Don't forget; it's Saturday night."

"Let's see your drawing a minute. Betty"

"Oh, I knew that's what you wanted it for. (Smiling)

The catalog tells more about me than that."

"Well, you see I didn't know what name to look for in the catalog; but that was feasible enough. I'm going now; that's my girl waiting in the door way. I hope you find a fellow with three dollars and a dress suit." (Exit)

ALWAYS DOWNTRODDEN

"There's a difference in time, you know, between this country and Europe," said a gentleman in New York to a newly arrived Irishman. "For instance, your friends in Cork are in bed and fast asleep by this time, while we are enjoying ourselves in the early evening."

"That's always the way!" exclaimed Pat. "Ireland niver got justice yet!"

COLLEGE FROM MY WINDOW

An abundant brown of richness glorified
Round trunks blackened by much rain.
A feathery green of coolness satisfied
And shifting shadows by soft sunlight lain.

F. I. I.

CITY LIGHTS

O my city—
My beautiful one!
I wake in the stillness of night
I hear you calling—
Urging,
Hungry,
With great, piteous eyes.
I climb to the mountain-top
That I may look at you—
Out over your roofs
And the glint of your fevered lights
Sounds the bare of your tiny music.
Eager and white and tired is your face
Pasty with paint and glitter—
Flaunting, defiant—
Yet infinitely weary,
Utterly dreary.
On the long search for happiness
That has not any end.

O, Little city,
Huddled in the valley
I would draw you up to this radiant height
To show you the deeps of the sky
And the stars that stab you with wonder—
Infinite vastness
I would show you the true beauty of the world
And Silence
And Prayer
And the Dream
And the rapt peace
Brooding brooding.

O, my city!
How I ache for you—
How I throb with you!
Needless pain of your crazed seeking—
Pathos of your formless groping
Blindness has made you listless.
You are too proud to release yourself
Do you know there is release for you?

O, my city!
I lay down my life
To show you the Way!

FRESHMEN AND ST. DOMINIQUE'S 2nd DIVIDE HONORS

Frosh Win First 3-0 but Fall Two Days Later by Score of 2-0

After the varsity had gotten through trimming Colby last Saturday, the Freshmen kept up the good work and defeated the St. Dominique second team 3-0. Jackson played a nice game for the Freshmen, getting all three goals, while Beaucage excelled for the St. Dominiques.

Summary:
Bates 1925-3 St. Dominique-0
Rowe, lw lw, Gilbert
O'Connor, g g, Beaucage
Jackson, rw rw, Levesque
Cross, ld ld, Turcotte
Dimick, Chandler, rd rd, Corriveau
Hinds, g g, Veilleux
Goals, Jackson, 3. Time, three ten-minute periods. Referee, Batten.
The St. Dominiques got sweet revenge, however, Monday night on their own rink when they defeated the Freshmen 2-0. O'Connor and Bartlett excelled for the "plebes" while Corriveau played best for the club team.

The tennis insignia was awarded to Capt. Donald K. Woodard, '21, and Waldo Avery, '22, manager.

The football insignia was awarded to Maynard Moulton, '22, Carl Rounds, '22, Leroy Luce, '22, Norman Ross, '22, William Guiney, '23, Aaron Johnson, '23, John Davis, '23, John Gormley, '24, Henry Bergman, '24, Augustus Cauty, '24, Kenneth Wilson, '24, Erwin Seifert, '24, Arvid Peterson, '25, Urian Fellows, '25, Ralph Price, '25, Geo. McKenna, '25, Edmund Dagnino, '25, and William Bailey, '22, manager.

Medals which were won at the Augusta Carnival were next in order, being awarded to Earle Chifford, '22, for first place in the cross country snow shoe race, Roland Carpenter, '22, for first place in the snow shoe obstacle race, Clarence Archibald, '25, second place in the 220 ski dash, Benjamin Sargent, '25, second place in the cross country snow shoe race, and Harris Palmer, '23, for second place in the cross country ski race.

After the awards were made, the program started in earnest when "Cy-clone" Sullivan, the pride of Houlton, and "Syk" McGuire, the South Paris bearcat, put over a wrestling bout for the benefit of the crowd. The going was hard and rough and finally ended in a draw after fifteen minutes of wrestling.

The next event was the big hit of the program when Capt. Rounds in a neatly prepared speech presented the hockey cup, emblematic of the state championship to Earle McLean, President of the Athletic Association, while the building rang with cheers.

"Abie" and "Summie" Levine now staged a four round boxing match. "Summie" clearly outpointed his older brother, nearly putting him out in the third round. He was awarded the decision.

Philadelphia "Joe" Stanley and "Bing" Conley of Lewiston next staged a four round match which went to a draw.

"Doc" Moulton now put the gathering through some cheering calisthenics; then with the singing of the Alma Mater, the program came to a close, everyone voting it a mighty enjoyable evening.

ALUMNI! ATTENTION!

To You, A College Man of this Community:

The Lewiston-Auburn Club of Bates men purposes to co-operate with the Alumni Council in entertaining on Monday evening, March 13th, the male graduates of other colleges who may reside in this locality. We hope that the occasion may become the annual one with the local University Club as a possibility.

We cordially invite you to join us and the other college men on Monday evening, March 13th, at eight o'clock. It is our aim to give the college men living in Lewiston, Auburn, and vicinity, an opportunity for becoming better acquainted with each other and for the promoting of good fellowship.

Speakers will be President Sills of Bowdoin, Dean Hart of the University of Maine, a representative of Colby, and President Gray of Bates.

It is our intention to include all college men living nearby. Should we, thru incomplete lists, have failed to invite any college men, please invite and bring him with you.

WHAT THE PHILHELLENIC CLUB MEANS TO BATES

subjects connected with Greek. A Greek wedding, just like the real thing, was once celebrated, and, if we mistake not, the bride is still in our midst. The presentation of myths is a favorite and enlightening diversion. Of course we could not resist those famous intelligence tests, and a very amusing and interesting one was held last year. At another meeting, thoroughly enjoyable Greek games were played. And such initiations as we do have! Imagine yourself a trembling victim forced to bend the knee before a spooky Delphian prophetic, and being terrified half to death by the thunders of Apollo! Last year a Commencement was held with a due admixture of solemnity and jest. These are only hints at the good things the Phil-Hellenic enjoys.

Intellectual papers by members of the club are frequently presented. An open meeting was recently held, where in some stereoscopic views of Greece were shown, with an accompanying lecture by Professor Chase.

The number of the society's great annual events is legion. Close relations with the Greeks of Lewiston have engendered the custom of giving them a reception each year, which, after the true Grecian spirit, they always return with a better one. Mr. Matthew Frangedakis, owner of the Lewiston Candy Kitchen, in the royal generosity of his heart, yearly invites the club down to his house for a feed and good time. To cap the climax of the year's activity, there is held the great symposium, where all the Phil-Hellenes eat, drink and make merry to their heart's content.

The crowning function of the Phil-Hellenic is the Greek play. Work is started on this early every fall, and many weeks and months are spent in preparing a beautiful spectacle for the delectation of the appreciative. Two years ago Euripides' "Hippolytus" was staged before the Greek colony of Haverhill, Mass., with great success. As a reward for this effort, the Haverhill Greeks bestowed upon the club a splendid silver cup, which may now be seen in Libby Forum. This year the play chosen is the "Antigone" of Sophocles, to be given this evening, in Hathorn Hall.

With all these things to its credit, who would not say that the Phil-Hellenic is one of the most active and worthwhile campus organizations? Any college would be proud of such a club, and Bates College is.

CHANDLER '25 ON STUDENT COUNCIL

Robert G. Chandler of Dorchester, Mass., has been chosen as the representative of the Freshman class on the Student Council. "Bob" comes from Huntington School, Boston, and is a popular man among his classmates and members of the upper classes.

According to the constitution of the Student Council, the Freshman class each year is entitled to one member, to be elected in January.

FAIR AND WARMER

Time—6:15 A. M., a week ago.
Ding! Dong! the rising bell!
6:17 A. M.—One arm shoots out from the dishevelled mass in the corner—another follows—then a head—all disappear.

6:30 A. M. "Gosh—it's free-e-e-zing! Say, Jane, for the love of Lu-Lu—shut that window!

6:45 A. M.—z-z-z-z subject dreaming of climbing icebergs.

7:30 A. M. Subject arises—B-r-r-r! Cold shower—More B-r-r-r's!
Sees someone pass, rushes to window; opens it and leaves it open.

7:40 A. M. That hell again! Subject rushes downstairs and up to Hathorn—Snoozes at prof who makes the pleasant, but Bromide remark, "Cold morning!"

Subject begins to rave to neighbor. "Cold as a barul—not a bit of heat! Imposition on good nature, I call it—etc-etc-etc!"

12 M. Returns to dormitory, meets furniture floating out of room—frantically wades to telephone—calls for assistance.

Three days later—bill from Bursar—$50 charge for frozen radiator—Never again!

Time—6:15 A. M., a week later—Awakes to song of birds.

6:17 A. M.—bothers room-mate, who tries to sleep—

6:30 A. M.—"How now, Verisai!" affectionately slugging room-mate. "Doest breakfast at Rand?"

Heroine emerges hatless, coatless, gloveless, with overshoes flapping—goes from Rand to Hathorn, from Hathorn to chapel—fans herself with hymn-book—

Heroine ambles aimlessly to gym, leaps limply over box, and gracefully grovels on the neut after a whale of a landing. Tries somersault on the boom—makes startling discovery that when two objects of similar material come into sudden contact, for instance, one's head and the boom, that the less resistant material gets the worst of it—result varies with individual heads.

Next—the dumb-bell drill—terrible! "Phew! It's hot! Imposition on good nature I call it, etc-etc." (this from same perpetual crab)

Moral—You can't suit some people at all.

"4—"I hear there are two classes claiming Jenks."

"25—"Must be a popular boy!"

"24—"Yes, the Juniors claim he is a Senior and the Seniors claim he is a Junior."

"Jack seems to be in a continual fog—a mist."

"Yes, I do wish he'd shave off that horrid little moustache."

SOPHOMORE HOP GREAT SUCCESS

Bates' First Formal Dance
Enjoyable Social Event

Beans were served at both J. B. and Rand one-half hour earlier than usual last Saturday night so that those who were to take in the Formal Sophomore Hop might not be late. The Hop began early, at seven to be exact, and closed some four hours later. As promised in these columns last week it proved to be an epoch in the social life of the college.

The Decorating Committee had Chase Hall very prettily trimmed in red and white. Japanese lanterns enclosed many of the electric lights and the effect was very good indeed. The refreshments were served up stairs in regular banquet style and attested amply to Miss Nickerson's ability. The music, which was the very best in local talent, pleased everybody. It was excellent. All in all it can be said with safety that the whole affair was a success and the committee in charge deserve the hearty congratulations of the student body.

FRESHMAN DEBATE BRINGS GOOD MATERIAL TO LIGHT

Affirmative Upheld by Goo-gins, Bailey and Canham Wins Decision

CANHAM DOES BEST WORK

The Freshman Prize Debate took place last Tuesday evening at 7.30 in the College Chapel. The affirmative team, comprising A. H. Goo-gins of Portland, H. R. Bailey of Cedar Grove, and E. D. Canham of Auburn, won a 2-1 decision over the negative upheld by L. H. Starbird of Danville, Kenneth Field of Auburn, and D. P. Snowman of Southington, Conn. E. D. Canham was chosen as the prize individual debater. The question up for debate was, "Resolved: The Federal Government should own and operate the coal mines of the United States." Both teams showed exceptionally careful preparation and presented their arguments in a very pleasing manner.

Robert B. Watts, '22 presided over the debate. Each speaker was given ten minutes for his main speech and five minutes for the rebuttal. The judges of the contest were T. E. Conley, head of the English department of the Lewiston High School; P. A. Cosgrove, teacher of history at the Lewiston High School, and Arthur Parinton, instructor in English and Y. M. C. A. secretary in the college. The committee in charge was R. B. Linton and G. W. Henry, both of the Freshman class.

FRESHMEN HOT AIR ARTISTS CHOSEN

Weeks of long hard labor are drawing to a close. The frosh, assistants and "Prof Rob" are beginning to have sighs of relief. What's up? Oh, the Freshman Prize Speaking Contest is coming tomorrow. The preliminary speaking has been going on for a week. We have heard of the survival of the fittest. Thursday night, there were thirty, who had survived the preliminaries, who were chosen for the semi-finals. This morning, those long suffering seniors were edified by selections ranging from Cicero to Roosevelt. This elimination process has netted twelve, six men and six women, who will go with brave hearts and stronger voices but weaker knees to Hathorn Hall Saturday to see what man and what woman is the best "Freshman Orator."

MOVIES AGAIN

The first movie show in quite some time is scheduled for Chase Hall tomorrow night at 7.15. There will be eight big reels of the best pictures obtainable. A five reel feature is on the program together with a Lloyd comedy full of "reel" fun. There will be dancing after the pictures. All out!

FOUR POWERS SOLVE PROBLEMS OF PHILIPPINES

Japanese Are Now Bound to Respect Independence if Granted by U. S.

(By Eulogie B. Rodriguez, Mgr. Philippine Press Bureau)

With the birth of the Four Power Treaty having for its avowed object the keeping of peace in the Pacific, the so-called Japanese menace which has been the most important factor in the problem of Philippine Independence is eliminated. It is the prevailing opinion that American delay in carrying out the promise to give the Filipinos their independence—in spite of the existence of stable government which is the only condition required in the Jones Law passed by Congress in 1916—has been due to a fear that the Islands might be taken by Japan.

The Filipinos are not, however, a bit worried by this hobgoblin for they are fully convinced that such action would not only be condemned by the rest of the world, but would be prevented by Great Britain, France and other powers with colonies through the Orient as well as

BATES MAGAZINE WILL BE PRINTED

Two Issues of Literary Supplement to Bates Student by June

It was voted Monday afternoon by the Board of Directors of the Bates Publishing Association that two numbers of a magazine supplement should be published this spring and a third one to be issued in the fall.

At a second meeting, held in Coram Library Thursday afternoon the following names were suggested and ratified to have charge of the literary supplement together with the editors of the regular weekly edition of the Bates Student: Literary Editor, Alice M. Jessemann, '23; Asst. Literary Editor, Amy V. Blaisdell, '23; Asst. Literary Editor, Samuel M. Graves, '24.

The first issue will be published immediately after the close of the Easter vacation, and the second, a few weeks before the close of the school year.

Contributions are desired from all students who have literary aspirations. Especially desired are short stories, poems, dramas, timely articles, essays of all kinds. All contributions should be placed in Student Box now located in vestibule of Coram Library.

Debating Council Arranges for Interscholastic Contests

The Bates College Debating Council is about twenty years old and it has been growing and expanding its influence every year. It has done and still is doing a great bit of work in the forensic field, in which Bates has always excelled. The present officers are: Aurie I. Johnson, president; William E. Young, vice president; Ernest W. Robinson, secretary, and Professor A. Craig Baird, treasurer.

What is a debating council for? Some of the members participate in intercollegiate debating—most of them do, in fact. The primary purpose of the organization is to give the students an opportunity to develop their speaking abilities.

TRACK PROSPECTS BEST IN YEARS

Freshman Class Has Wealth of Promising Material

Spring training for track is starting to boom just now with the coming inter-class meet not far away. On account of the lack of interest of the various classes, it is doubtful if this meet will be held in City Hall this year, but on the outdoor track instead. Heretofore, this has been one of the main athletic attractions at Bates during the year, and it is to be regretted that lack of interest compels its abandonment.

Track prospects were never brighter than they are this year—with Coach Jenkins at the helm, a good chance of coping our first intercollegiate championship in years is in view.

Raymond Baker, McGinley, Kimball, Holt, Batten and Clifford are some letter men who will make them all step in the distance runs, while Farley, Archibald, Landers, Corey, Bragg and Sanelia are a few of the sprinters. Leroy Luce is still here to heave the discus, while Blake, Hagberg, Ross and others are throwing the weights.

The Freshman class has got some especially brilliant material, according to all reports, and their showing in their two track meets. Now to come through in intercollegiate competition!

EIGHT SECONDARY SCHOOLS REPRESENTED IN BATES' BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

DIRECTOR SMITH HAS GIVEN MUCH TIME TO WORK—WINNING TEAM WILL REPRESENT MAINE AT TUFTS' TOURNEY

The first Bates Interscholastic Basketball Tournament to be held at Bates is at present going on in the City Hall. The teams which have the best records were picked from their respective localities by the Sporting Editor of the Lewiston Sun and Journal and Coach Smith. Eight teams have been chosen and all are strong contenders for the title which will enable them to represent Maine at the Tufts tourney.

The following teams have been selected: Stephens High of Rumford; So. Portland High, Bangor High, Jonesport High, Eastport High, Washburn High, Limestone High, and Woodstock High of Bryant Pond.

The games began this afternoon and will continue through to the final game Saturday night. A very small admission is charged and every student ought to make it a point to see some of the games. While the boys are on the campus let's give them the glad hand, let them know they are welcome and go out of your way to do them a favor.

SENIOR GIRLS WIN BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP FOR 1922

DEFEAT JUNIORS IN LAST GAME OF INTER-CLASS SERIES BY SCORE OF 26-16 CONTEST FAST THROUGHOUT

The last game of the interclass basketball series was played off Tuesday evening at seven o'clock in the girls' gymnasium. This was the fastest game of the season and though the final game was won by the Seniors, the Juniors proved equal in every respect.

The final half of the game was so fast and the team work so extraordinary, that the cheers on the side lines were deafening. Never has the cheering been so noticeable as that of Tuesday night's game. The fine cheering showed how great the enthusiasm was on the part of the spectators.

The periods were fifteen minutes each with ten minutes between halves.

Because of five personal fouls, Captain Cottle was put out of the game, and Clarice Small was used as a substitute.

The first game of the season took place Wednesday, March 1, at 4.30, between the Juniors and Freshmen. The passing and shooting of baskets was remarkable on the part of both teams. The final score was 33 to 19 in favor of the Juniors.

Sen. 27—Soph 13
The second of the basketball series was played off Thursday between the Seniors and the Sophomores. The team work on the part of the Seniors was easily seen, and Captain Knight kept up her fine work at shooting baskets. The game resulted in a victory for 1922, the score being 27 to 13.

The basketball season closed last Saturday with the final game at Amherst with the Mass. Aggies. The season has been an in and out one as a glance at the scores will indicate. At times the team played basketball which would have made them N. E. Champions; then, the next game would fail to carry on. On the whole, however, the season was regular, Luce, through graduation, prospects are very bright for next year. A summary of the season's record follows:

BATES ENTERTAINS OVER THE WEEK END

We have with us on the campus Friday and Saturday the eight best basketball teams of the high schools of Maine.

The members of these teams are our guests. Every Bates man is thus placed in the position of a host. Let's not fail to extend the Bates spirit of hospitality to these athletes.

The occasion which calls these high school students to our campus is the first Bates College Interscholastic Basketball Tournament, a unique thing among the colleges of Maine. It ranks in importance with the scholastic track meet which Bates conducts in the spring of each year.

It is an unusual privilege to greet such a group of high school representatives to Bates.

A FINE EXPRESSION OF BATES SPIRIT

Such is the decision of the Deutsche Verein to turn over to the Million Dollar Endowment Fund the net proceeds of the play to be presented this evening in Hathorn Hall.

The German Club has established a precedent, entirely on its own initiative, which other Bates organizations would do well to follow.

Now, as never before, is the time for Bates students to display their loyalty to their Alma Mater. President Gray is quoted as saying: "Bates College faces the greatest crisis in its history."

The success with which the endowment campaign is concluded will depend largely upon the attitude taken by the sons and daughters of Bates. To make it even narrower, the way in which Bates undergraduates sacrifice their own interests for the larger interests of the college is bound to determine in some measure the willingness of outside people to help.

THE BATES STUDENT MAGAZINE

Bates has attained in the past an enviable reputation among other colleges for the quality of its literary publication. Consequently, it was a matter of much regret to many persons when it was found necessary over a year ago to suspend the printing of the magazine supplement of the college paper.

By many people, a college is judged just as much by its literary organ as it is by its athletic prowess. That a college of the standing of Bates should not print a literary paper, is nothing to boast of.

It is now found possible to provide once more an opportunity for Bates undergraduates to put out such an issue. Now that the opening is provided, it is hoped that there will be an incentive for a large number of students to prepare contributions. From these the best writings will be chosen and a representative college magazine will be printed.

Here is an opportunity to boost the name of Bates in a literary way. Let each one do his share!

ONE IN EVERY CLASS ROOM

He doesn't usually own a textbook. He can get by without one in that course, he says. "What's the use of wasting your money?"

He never sits near the front. On the other hand, he refrains from making himself openly one of the "back-seaters."

He rarely makes a recitation, and never volunteers to answer any questions, unless he thinks he has something witty to say.

Not that he doesn't contribute something to the discussion, however. No, indeed! Whenever anyone else is occupying the attention of the instructor, you can always distinguish his low growl of disgust, snort of ridicule, or contemptuous grant.

When the teacher presents his personal view of a question, our friend, crouched low in his seat, never fails of an audible, though unplaceable, "Humph!"

He is a "pest" to the teacher; he is a nuisance to the rest of the class. He gets nothing out of the course himself, he says.

No wonder! You can't "take" unless you also "put."

HOW ABOUT YOUR MIRROR—SUPPLY DECREASING FAST

To Be Issued Earlier Than Usual This Year

Since the MIRROR for this year was brought to the attention of the student body on February 27, things have been humming for the business manager and for Russell Taylor, the editor-in-chief. An unprecedented number of contracts were signed on the first morning, and since that time the orders have come in so steadily that it seems probable that the whole issue of three hundred and fifty copies would be subscribed for before the Easter vacation.

The freshmen have, as a rule, been least interested, more because they have not as yet fully realized that the book is as much a record of their years' activities as of the doings of any other group on the campus.

The MIRROR contains several entirely new features this year. Every one of the varsity teams will have a full page out. Women's Athletics will have an increased place in the book. Especially significant is the incorporation of a section devoted to dramas this year. And such changes have been made by the Personal and Literary Editors that we are assured that there will be no hackneyed matter in the whole book. It is a newer, larger, and better MIRROR than has ever before been put out.

There are still copies left, we are told. Orders and money may be left in the MIRROR box in the store, or be given to the business manager, Mr. Ashton, or to the editor-in-chief, Mr. Taylor; or to any member of the MIRROR Board. While the supply lasts, alumni or former members of the class can make sure of copies by sending in their orders to the business manager, at Chase Hall. The price is six dollars plus the postage.

With the assurance that the MIRROR will this year be issued not later than June first, we are all looking forward to the appearance of this, our most distinctive college publication.

PHIL-HELLENIC PLAY SUCCESS

Sophocles' "Antigone" Well Received by Large Audience

Last Friday night before a very large audience in the Little Theatre the Phil-Hellenic Club very successfully presented the tragedy drama "Antigone" of Sophocles.

Preceding the play selections were given by the orchestra, and Miss Helen Burton played an accordion solo. Professor Chase then gave a resume of the play that it might be better understood and appreciated. Creon, who was the ruling king through the will of the gods, ordered that one of his brothers who had been killed defending the city, should be buried with honors, while the other brother, who attacked the city, should remain unburied. The latter decree was the worst penalty that could be inflicted. Antigone, their sister attempted to bury her brother and was ordered killed by Creon. Creon was warned and repented, but too late. This execution marked the beginning of Creon's woes. His son and wife committed suicide because of Antigone's death.

All of the players are to be commended for the excellent presentation of their parts, some of which were very difficult. Miss Fifeled as Antigone and George Turner as Creon, the principal parts, played their parts in a very creditable manner. The entire club deserves much commendation.

MISS LEAHY AND E. D. CANHAM WIN FRESHMAN DECS

Program Greatly Enjoyed—Contest Close

On Saturday afternoon at Hathorn Hall the twelve "Frosh" who had survived the trial by fire in the shape of preliminaries met to settle their differences. A large crowd was present showing that the fame of the contestants had gone abroad. The affair represented the culmination of two months of labor on the part of Prof. "Rob" and it must have been with a sigh of relief that he saw the program begin. It was proved conclusively the Freshmen have public speakers among them of no mean merit. The decision was a close one both among the men and the women. The judges after due deliberation awarded the men's prize to Erwin D. Canham of Auburn and the young women's prize to Miss Gladys Leahy of Lewiston. Canham's selection was "Lincoln the Immortal," by Walterston, which he delivered in fine style. Miss Leahy's contribution was a side splitting selection entitled "Here Comes the Bride." Her delivery won roars of mirth from the audience.

SECOND TEAM GAME

Sen. 24—Frosh 5

The only second team game of the basketball season was called in the women's gym at 4.30 last Friday afternoon, between the Senior and Freshman teams. The game opened with a dash, the Freshmen holding their own for a brief interval. But by the end of the first half, in spite of hard fighting, the Senior score was far in the lead. The second half revealed more stiff resistance, but the Senior forwards had their eye on the basket, and rolled up the triumphant score of 24-5.

Line-ups:

SENIORS
Forwards—Pincenann, Fullerton.
Centers—Carey, Yeaton.
Guards—M. Drew, M. Wills.

MACFARLANE CLUB

The open meeting of the Macfarlane Club, on Monday evening, March 6th, proved to be one of the very finest meetings of the year. Proof of the widespread admiration for this musical club and its work was shown by the size of the audience, which quite filled the Rand Hall reception room. It was faculty night, and the program more than fulfilled the high expectations. It was a musical treat.

Mr. David Thompson presided at the meeting. The usual club business was omitted, in order to allow more time for the musical program. Mrs. Sidney Brown, who is always so kind and generous with her art, opened the program with two violin selections, beautifully rendered. Professor Brown accompanied her. Mrs. Edwin L. Goss followed with two piano pieces. Her encore, MacDowell's "Shadow Dance," was especially charming. Dr. Britan then gave a short talk on "What Is Good Music?" He pointed out the three elements to be found in all music—rhythm, melody and harmony. Ragtime has rhythm, sentimental folksongs have melody, but the greatest music is that which subordinates rhythm and melody to harmony. He suggested that the best way in which to cultivate good musical taste is to hear good music often. The last number on the program was one of Chopin's most beautiful nocturnes, artistically played by Miss Starbird.

The club is doing a valuable work in fostering a love for good music in a time when mediocre music is so prevalent.

HIGH SCHOOL ORATORS HERE NEXT FRIDAY

ganization is to regulate the debating activities at the institution. It arranges all intercollegiate debates with the approval of the debating committee of the faculty.

In view of the fact that some of the other Maine colleges have advertised western trips recently it has been asked why Bates does not similarly assert itself. It was explained to the writer that the selection of the challengers for the peerage in debating which Bates holds is governed by the purse. Other considerations enter into the selection of her opponents. Bates has at most only 300 men to draw upon for her debating teams, and the Debating Council has never believed it wise to arrange more than two or three annual 'varsity' debates for the half dozen college debaters to participate in. This is the policy that Harvard College has adopted in its program.

Not only does the council arrange the big intercollegiate platform contests, but it regulates the intra-collegiate debates as well. Such debates are the annual freshmen and sophomore prize contests. In the latter event, both men and women participate, in separate divisions. These debates are to be held on the night of March 18th this year.

By far the greatest and best known work of the Council is the administration and organization of the Bates Interscholastic Debating League.

The Bates Interscholastic Debating League of Maine was organized in October, 1913, for the purpose of arousing among the secondary school students of this state an interest in public speaking and in the preparation and presentation of systematic and effective debates. In the following year the League was reorganized by the Council and extended to other schools. The triple triangular plan, a district innovation in debating organizations, was adopted. For the first five years the League was continued with fine success. The membership was altered only slightly and the triangular plan was successfully applied.

Meantime, many other state secondary schools knuckled at the gates of the Council for admittance to the League, and last year the Council greatly modified and extended its scope. Instead of the nine secondary schools that had competed in the old triangular system, it became a state-wide organization, and thirty-three preparatory institutions of Maine participated in the debates. Foxcroft Academy was declared the debating champion of Maine and awarded the trophy cup for the year.

The winning schools in the previous League contests were Stephens High of Rumford, '14, '15, '16; Maine Central Institute, '17, and Deering High, '18, '19, and '20.

The League will hold its preliminary contests this year on the evening of March 10. The subject which these secondary school orators will discuss is the government ownership of coal mines. From the preliminary contests the schools will be picked for the final debates, to be held on the Bates campus sometime in April. The grouping of schools that have registered in the Bates Interscholastic League this year is:

Division 1: Edward Little High vs. Stephens High of Rumford; Stephens High vs. Brunswick High at Brunswick; Brunswick High vs. Cony High at Augusta.

Division 2: Cony High vs. Waterville High at Waterville; Waterville High vs. Brunswick High at Brunswick; Brunswick High vs. Cony High at Augusta.

Division 3: Bangor High vs. Foxcroft Academy at Foxcroft; Foxcroft Academy vs. Milo High at Milo; Milo High vs. Bangor High at Bangor.

Division 4: Jordan High vs. Hebron Academy at Hebron; Hebron Academy vs. Deering High at Portland; Deering High vs. Jordan High at Lewiston.

Division 5: Presque Isle vs. Ricker Institute at Houlton; Ricker Institute vs. Arrostook Central Institute at Mars Hill; Arrostook Central Institute vs. Houlton High at Houlton.

Division 6: Oakland High vs. North Anson Academy at North Anson; North Anson Academy vs. Skowhegan High at Skowhegan; Skowhegan High vs. Oakland High at Oakland.

GERMAN CLUB STAGES PLAY TOMORROW NIGHT

Two short plays are to be given, one in English, the other in German. The first of these, "We form a Verein," has the following cast:

Anna	Marion Drew
Marie	Thelma Fullerton
Gretchen	Lucille Goding
Elise	Alice Blouin
Rosa	Georgianna Hayes
Lilli	Margaret Wyman
Milli	Mildred Wyman
Frau Anders	Evelyn Wimmersberger

The second play to be presented is the German play "Einer Muss Heiraten" written by Herr Alexander Wilhelm. This has a cast of four characters which is as follows:

Aunt Gertrude	Lilli Herling
Luise	Wilhelmina Fineman
Jakob Zorn	Paul Wolynce
Wilhelm Zorn	Herman Faust

German ballads and other appropriate music are to be a part of the program. The soloist for the evening will be Miss Dorothy Holt. The ballads will be sung by the Girl's Double Quartet.

Both casts and the committee in charge are busy striving to make the evening successful. Although these plays are presented by the German club and one of the plays is to be given in German the committee assures everyone that most of the entertainment is to be given in English.

The committee in charge is composed of: Clifford Monmouth, manager; Georgianna Hayes, publicity; Eleanor Bradford, stage director; Marion Drew, music; Alice Parsons, candy.

Division 8: Leavitt Institute vs. Litchfield Academy at Litchfield; Litchfield Academy vs. Lisbon Falls High at Lisbon Falls; Lisbon Falls High vs. Leavitt Institute at Turner; Buckfield High vs. Dixfield High at Dixfield; Dixfield High vs. Buckfield High at Buckfield. (Any school in this last group winning two debates will be entitled to come to Bates for the final contests.)

Professor A. C. Baird of the college faculty, treasurer of the Debating Council, has been largely responsible for the success of the Interscholastic Debating League. As mentor of argumentation at the local college he has devoted no small part of his time to the interests of this league, and wherever its influence has been felt the secondary schools of the State of Maine the credit has been largely his. The co-operation of the Council has been of vital importance in facilitating the work.

by the United States. The Four Power Treaty has not only thrown into the discard all this unfounded suspicion with respect to the Japanese, but has morally bound Japan to respect Philippine independence once it is granted by the United States.

Although the neutralization of the new Philippine Republic with the guarantees of the Powers could have been inserted in this treaty, yet the Philippine question is purely domestic and lies exclusively within the jurisdiction of the United States. If, however, absolute independence is accorded to the Philippines, making them no longer insular possessions, it will be easy for the United States to invite the other powers to guarantee Philippine neutrality. No nation will object to this arrangement which the United States is free to make—the Philippines being its possession. With this arrangement the United States will be living up to the dictum of President Harding that "All the world needs the example of kept obligations."

History prophesies that the scene of the deadliest of wars will be the Pacific. The Mediterranean Sea has already made its contribution; and the Atlantic Ocean has just finished hers. But a ray of hope has come. Instead of sharpening the beak of the American eagle, and opening the cage of the Japanese wolf, and raising the bar of the English lion; instead of arming themselves to the teeth and dragging again all the big powers to destruction, the Conference has made war remote by at least ten years in the Pacific Ocean, which history time and again has predicted will cease to be pacific. Ten years is quite a time to investigate suspicions, check jealousies and to eliminate distrusts before jumping to the deadly conclusions of war. And during all the ten years the people in this ocean who have nothing to do with war but who, we are told, are to be the occasion of it—these people, well known for their "courtesy and consideration for strangers and guests, boundless hospitality, willingness to do favors for those with whom they come in contact which amounts almost to inability to say no to a friend"—these people whose islands may be a "prey to any powerful nation coveting their rich soil and potential commercial advantages"—the Filipino people can continue with their great progress unhampered and contribute their quota to the progress of the world as a new born republic.

The American people has taught them to handle the canoe of self-government, which has been gliding smoothly for eight years. The Filipinos persistently ask America to let them have the paddle once for all. Many Americans say—"Go to it now; you wanted your freedom; take it; try your skill." While others say "Wait, there are eddies, undertows, and hidden rocks; don't risk yourself." The Filipinos say "We are ready to maintain ourselves, either to sink or to swim." The Japanese menace ceases to be an argument for restraint. With the birth of the Four Power Treaty the First Christian Republic for the Filipinos in the Orient is secure.

What Is Water Japan?

JAPAN—not the country but a metal-coating varnish—and your morning bottle of milk. Totally unlike, yet assimilated!

Ordinary japan consists of a tough, rubbery, tar-like "base" and a highly inflammable "solvent." The solvent dilutes the base so that the metal may be coated with it easily. The presence of the solvent involves considerable fire risk, especially in the baking oven.

Milk is a watery fluid containing suspended particles of butter fat, so small that one needs the ultramicroscope to detect them. An insoluble substance held permanently in suspension in a liquid in this manner is in "colloidal suspension."

The principle of colloidal suspension as demonstrated in milk was applied by the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company to develop Water Japan. In this compound the particles of japan base are colloiddally suspended in water. The fire risk vanishes.

So the analysis of milk has pointed the way to a safe japan. Again Nature serves industry.

Connected with the common things around us are many principles which may be applied to the uses of industry with revolutionary results. As Hamlet said, "There are more things in Heaven and earth, Horatio, than are dreamt of in your philosophy."

MOVIES AND DANCE

The first movie show for several weeks was held in Chase Hall last Saturday evening. Dancing was enjoyed after the pictures. The feature on the movie program was a fine reeler entitled "The Man Without a Country" and proved a success. The Lloyd comedy was as much of a scream as all of his recent pictures have proved to be and kept the hall in an uproar all the time it was on the screen. For first class humor a Lloyd comedy takes first prize.

The dancing part of the program went off in tip-top style. The "after-the-movies" dances are proving popular here on the campus and many are taking ample advantage of the opportunity thus presented. The dances have added a great deal to the Saturday night good times in Chase Hall.

DEUTSCHE VEREIN ACTIVE THIS YEAR

Club Revived Last Spring
Now Fills Real Place on Campus

In spite of the fact that clubs were already, in the opinion of many, too numerous on the campus, so much interest was evident in the German language and literature that about a year ago a number of the students in the department, then Juniors, got together with the intention of reviving one or both of the old German societies, which had necessarily been dropped during the war. After much discussion of plans, it was decided to combine both organizations into one, a constitution was drawn up and officers elected, and Deutsche Verein was on its way.

Because of the lateness of the season when the club was formed, comparatively little was done last spring, but work started with a bang in the fall. The second week after the re-opening of college, Doctor and Mrs. Leonard very hospitably opened to the members and their invited guests their farm home, situated a few miles out in the country. It was a splendid autumnal day, and everyone enjoyed the simple games, the fires, around which to gather for sweet potatoes, baked in the ashes, or to toast "dogs" and marshmallows, the water, unusually clear and cold, drawn from an old-fashioned well near by, and the apples waiting aloft for nimble pickers. After everyone had had his fill, one fire was kept blazing high, and the bunch gathered around in the coming darkness for a good old-fashioned sing,—incidentally learning a few new songs in German.

LAWRENCE D. KIMBALL
President of Deutsche Verein

With the kindly aid of Dr. Leonard, the club has since kept on thriving. A number of interesting meetings have been held, and many programs presented which seemed to live up to their aim,—the stimulation of a taste for things Germanic, and its subsequent satisfaction.

One of the most outstanding events of the year, viewed from its relation to the club, was the performance at a local theatre of Gounod's opera, based upon the "Faust" of Goethe. Although many were hindered from attending because of the terrific storm which swept New England at that time, yet they were not left entirely unacquainted with this masterpiece of music, for Deutsche Verein combined with Macfarlane Club in presenting in an open meeting synopses and comparisons of the work, together with a number of the better known selections from the opera itself, such as the Soldiers Chorus and the Jewel Song.

The work of the year will culminate tomorrow evening with the presentation of two plays by members of the Club, one in English, translated from the German by the individual members of the cast, and the other, a short farcical skit entitled "Einer Muss Heiraten," to be given in the original German.

CLASS MEETING

The Junior Class held a meeting Tuesday noon and elected Paul Robinson and Alice Jessamine to serve as a class committee during the coming Million Dollar Endowment Drive. A committee was also elected to nominate speakers for the Ivy Day exercises. The committee is composed of Carl Purinton, Harold Burdon, Helen Hoyt, and Hazel Monteith.

VOL. XLV. NO. 9. LEWISTON, MAINE, FRIDAY, MARCH 17, 1922 PRICE TEN CENTS

BATES GRADUATE DESCRIBES WORK OF TRANSIT COM.

Harold Cloutman '16 Receives Appointment in New Field of Law

INSIDE STORY OF NEW YORK POLITICS

The recent appointment of Harold J. Cloutman, Bates '16, to the position of Assistant Counsel to the Transit Commission of New York City came as a matter of great interest to Bates people. People who are competent to judge declare that the awarding of this office to Mr. Cloutman is a most flattering estimate of his ability, considering the short time since his admission to the bar.

At the request of the editors, Mr. Cloutman has kindly sent in a description of the work he is now engaging in. Since it is of a rather unique nature, we are sure that it will interest the readers of the Student.

Task of Transit Commission

"The work of the Commission is to protect the investment of some 300 millions of dollars which the City has contributed toward the cost of construction of its subways, and to insure to the public a rapid, safe, and adequate transit. The volume of this task may be hinted at if we realize that the lines carry some four million passengers daily, whereas the New York Central lines carry 28,000,000 passengers a year. In other words, the local transportation system of New York City carries as many passengers in a week as the lines of the New York Central carry in a year.

"The enormous ten car trains, each carrying more people than there are in your home town, if you come from the same type of community that I do, go roaring through the bowels of the earth at a speed of sixty miles an hour on a two minute headway. A moment's faltering and the congestion is such as Main and Lisbon Streets never saw, even on the Saturday night of the Bowdoin game. Such then is the system that must be kept going for the unheeding, complaining mob, who with never a thought to the problems involved complain if the lights flicker and interfere with their reading of the exploits of the current Indian guide.

BISHOP HUGHES ADDRESSES BATES METHODISTS

The Methodist students of Bates College listened to an address by Resident Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes at a banquet at the Y. W. C. A. building on Friday evening, March 10th. In order to foster and unify the Methodist spirit of the students, the Methodist churches of Lewiston and Auburn with the aid of some of the students arranged to have the Bishop speak at this meeting.

He spoke of the religious perils and problems of a college course, and pointed out that while a student is becoming intellectual, religious ideas and Christian love are likely to be lost sight of. He advised students most emphatically to keep the heart warm while the intellect grows, and not to look down on those, perhaps culturally inferior, who had sacrificed to give them their opportunities. The students later expressed their very hearty appreciation of the Bishop's message.

JORDAN SCIENTIFIC EXHIBITION TO-NIGHT

A Brief History of the Society and the Work It Is Doing

The Jordan Scientific Society was founded in 1910, and named in honor of the late Professor Lyman G. Jordan who always took a very keen interest in the organization. The society is dedicated to the promotion of scientific work and is the only men's student organization devoted to that department at Bates. Almost immediately upon its organization it became one of the leading campus clubs, and has since consistently advanced its standing. Regular meetings are held every two weeks. At these meetings members of the society present papers dealing with a wide variety of scientific topics. The program is generally concluded by questions and a discussion of the subject delivered. On occasions outside speakers are procured. Membership in the society is restricted to thirteen Seniors and five Juniors. Disinterested membership is avoided by requiring formal application for membership, and by a system of faculty recommendations of the candidates.

WILLIAM O. BAILEY, '22 President of Jordan Scientific

In 1917, the Society initiated what is known as the Jordan Scientific Exhibition. Its success was sufficient to establish its recurrence as an annual event. These exhibits have attracted the attention not only of our immediate

The Senior Class elected the following speakers for the class day exercises: Class orator, Robert B. Watts; Address to undergraduates, Beatrice Clark; Prophecy to Men, Gladys Deering; Prophecy to Women, David B. Thompson; Address to Halls and Campuses, Ruth Cullens; Farewell Address, J. William Ashton; Pipe Orator, Elwood Ireland. The class day ode poet will be selected by competition.

The Junior Class has elected the following men and women for the Ivy Day parts: Oration, Philip S. Nason; Toast to Faculty, Norrine Whiting; Toast to Co-eds, James Hamlin; Toast to Boys, Alice Jessemann; Toast to Athletes, Kenneth E. Leathers; Prophecy, Vivienne Rogers; Toastmaster, William Kennelly; Presentation of Gifts, Herbert R. Benn. The Ivy Day Poem and the Ode are to be selected by competition.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION HOLDS BANQUET

Interesting Toasts Given Songs and Cheers Part of Menu

One of the most interesting events connected with the Women's Athletic Association is the annual basketball banquet. Monday evening at seven o'clock, Miss Niles, Miss Davies, all members of the first and second teams and also the substitutes assembled in Rand Hall dining room to enjoy an hour of merriment.

The dining room was artistically decorated in garnet and white and with the splendid display of candles the scene was very picturesque.

While all were enjoying the menu which consisted of grapefruit, roast chicken, mashed potatoes, green peas, celery, olives, jelly, banana salad, hot rolls, cheese, crackers, ice cream, cake and coffee, songs were sung and cheers given by the different classes. The spirit among all classes was as never before and although three losing teams were present, their spirit was equal to that of the winning team, the Seniors.

As soon as all had finished eating, the toastmistress, Beatrice Clarke arose and opened the program. After giving each speaker a fine introduction, each spoke in turn. A toast to the A 21 Sport was given by Dorothy Manser. One to "Showers, Starvation and Sleep," was given by Helen Hill. Nelly Milliken gave a fine toast to our "Working Coaches" who deserve much honor and praise for the fine teams produced this year. An interesting poem entitled "Ever for Bates" was given by Elizabeth Powers, in which she revealed in an extraordinary manner the spirit of the Seniors and that of Bates.

The last but by no means the least toast, "Tip Top Team" was given by Norrine Whiting. In her toast she praised the Senior team highly, showing their wonderful spirit and fair play.

The basketball season this year has meant more to every player than ever before. The games have been faster and the spirit all around has been much improved.

SOPHOMORE PRIZE DEBATE COMING NEXT WEDNESDAY

Annual Contest to Be Held in College Chapel at 7.30

Two vigorous contests are promised for next Wednesday evening, March 22, when the annual Sophomore Prize debates will be held in the college chapel at 7.30.

The men's division will take for their subject the question: Resolved, that the United States should cancel war debts owed it by the Allied nations." The affirmative in this debate will be upheld by Arthur W. Pollister of Danville, Maine, and William E. Young of Lewiston, Maine, with Paul Wolyniec, Law.

FAST TIMES IN FIRST CUP MEET—NEW MEN PROVE GOOD MATERIAL

EXPECTED WINNERS COME THROUGH WITH FLYING COLORS—PROSPECTS FOR SPRING MEETS LOOK GOOD

Fast times were the feature of the first of the three "Cup" meets Wednesday afternoon. Only the running events were held at that time. There were no great surprises as to the winners of the events. The 235 yd. dash was the only exception. The finish was so close and the decision of the judges regarding a foul so uncertain that it was decided to run the race over at the earliest possible date.

The short dash was the first event. "Jake" Landers came through a winner in fast time. Burns and McKenna followed respectively. The short hurdles was Burrill's race by a narrow margin. Coney had a yard on Jenkins who finished third.

The 235 yd. dash trials were the first events on the circular track. "Jake" loped in an easy winner in 26.25 s. Mike Wilson was runner up for the former Worcester boy. Bill Brown won his heat over McKenna in 28.25 s.

The half-mile followed the dash trials. The form of the leaders in this race was noticeable—a light spring, a long stride, and almost perfect coordination. Frank Sanella would have turned in much faster time if the tail-enders had not caused him to run wide when he lapped them. Ray Batten was a good second and Kirby Baker took third.

The two mile grind was a test of strength and "guts." All three entrants showed all these qualities. At different times they all held the lead. "Cyk" McGinly led all the last mile. With a half mile to go he took a bad tumble but was quickly on his feet to regain what he had lost. He ran a fast race and still had reserve strength to finish the last lap with a sprint. Kimball and Holt were the runners-up. The quarter was won by Archibald in fast time. The former Huntington School runner took the lead and broke the worsted about five yards ahead of Ray Bragg. Kopp overtook "Bo" Kennedy on the last lap in the fight for third place.

The mile run was one of the best races of the day. Ben Sargent took the lead on the first quarter. He ran fast and his first quarter was clocked in the exceptionally fast time of 62.15 sec. Though Sargent also was bothered by the tail enders, he breasted the tape in 4 m. 47.15 s. after a heart-breaking sprint. Wilson who looked dangerous early in the race took second place. Holt finished third and deserves much credit for such a splendid showing after having taken third in the two mile event.

The meet was a criterion of the material which Coach Jenkins has to develop into point winners in the Maine Intercollegiate.

- 30 Yd. Dash—Landers, winner; Burns, 2nd place; McKenna, 3rd. Time 3.35 s.
- 35 Yd. Hurdles—Burrill, winner; Coney, 2nd; Jenkins, 3rd. Time 4.45 s.
- 80 Yd. Run—Sanella, winner; Batten, 2nd; Baker, 3rd. Time 2 m. 52.5 s.
- 2 Mile Run—McGinly, winner; Kimball, 2nd; Holt, 3rd. Time 17.25 s.
- 440 Yd. Run—Archibald, winner; Bragg, 2nd; Kopp, 3rd. Time 53.25 s.
- 1 Mile Run—Sargent, winner; Wilson, 2nd; Holt, 3rd. Time 4 m. 47.15 s.

BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT BIG SUCCESS

Capacity Audiences Watch Prep School Contests So. Portland Wins

The first Bates Interscholastic Basketball Tournament was run off in the City Hall last Friday and Saturday afternoons and evenings, before capacity audiences and proved to be a most successful undertaking. Too much credit cannot be given Coach Smith for the able way in which he handled the tournament and the greatest measure of its successful operation can be traced directly to his efforts.

The opening games took place last Friday afternoon when So. Portland defeated Rumford and Limestone defeated Woodstock in two very exciting games. In the evening Northeast Harbor defeated Jonesport and Bangor ran away with Eastport. Saturday afternoon the semi-finals took place—So. Portland eliminated Woodstock, Bangor doing the same to Northeast Harbor. This brought Bangor and So. Portland together in the finals, and Rumford and Northeast Harbor were the two teams selected by a board of judges to be the third team picked from Maine to go to the Tufts Tourney.

Before the largest crowd which ever witnessed a game in Lewiston, Northeast Harbor was defeated by Rumford 24-22 and So. Portland won the championship of the State and the silver loving cup when they defeated Bangor 24-21 in a game which had the spectators on edge throughout. Coach Smith and "Mike" Wilson officiated and handled the games in a very satisfactory manner, while Coach Watkins as official timer and McKenney as official scorer completed the list of officials. The boys were well entertained and taken care of and everyone hopes that this tournament will be a fixed feature of the winter sports as it was an excellent thing for the high school boys and a big advantage to Bates.

Beat Bowdoin! Beat Colby! Beat Maine! That should be the slogan for the next two months in track.

Bates is going to land that championship in track this year, provided:

- (1) The whole college gets behind the track team and shows the same loyalty that it showed last fall at the big football games.
- (2) Every man who has any possible ability reports at once for practice.

The inter-class track meet displayed a wealth of material in the freshman class. Some real stars have been developed in the first year class from men who never tried out for track before.

The class meet also showed a paucity of contestants from the upper classes. Now is the time for upper-classesmen to show their spirit by turning out. Three weeks before the big meets will be too late.

Let's see the old Bates spirit out on those boards!

INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS AND THE PUBLIC

President Lowell commented some weeks ago upon the seemingly undue prominence college games are finding today in the public eye. His conservative recommendation to freshly consider "the proper place of public intercollegiate athletic contests in the scheme of education" was the incentive of much verbal strife.

Just as the newspaper notoriety was about to subside, the football scandal at the Universities of Illinois and Notre Dame occurred to renew the whole dispute.

It cannot be denied that an extreme amount of public interest is being centered upon intercollegiate contests. Otherwise, there would be no reason for the building of such mammoth stadiums as are appearing on the campuses of all the large institutions. Yale's stadium cost $400,000 and seats 70,000; Washington spent $600,000 for a seating capacity of 60,000; California is spending $900,000 for a stadium to accommodate 60,000. Illinois is planning a combined stadium and amphitheater to cost $2,500,000 and Ohio State raised $1,250,000.

Catering to the applause of the public bids fair to convert our athletic games from their original basis of rivalry in sport to the mercenary plane of gladiatorial combat. Athletics are in danger of being reduced to the ranks of a business carried on by paid coaches. President Alexander Meiklejohn of Amherst College says that today "our games are managed by outsiders, coached by outsiders, and, in a very real and lamentable sense, played by outsiders."

Our small colleges are just as open to criticism in these last particulars as any of the larger institutions. Student managers today are nothing more than errand boys and water carriers. Professional coaches are hired for a period of two months and receive nearly as much as a man on the permanent staff receives for the whole year. It is not an unknown thing among the Maine colleges for good athletes to be brought to the campus to boost the athletic possibilities.

A winning team puts a college on the map, we are told. Just how a football victory will convince anyone that at such and such a college he may acquire a good education, is somewhat vague.

There is no question but what intercollegiate athletic contests are an essential part of the college life. There is no reason why they should not be open to the public. On the other hand, they should not be made a business. Let us have sport for the sake of sport.

SOCIETIES

Y. W. C. A.

The subject of the last Y. W. C. A. meeting, led by Miss Helen Hoyt, was "The Realities of Christ." The speakers of the evening were Delora Smith, Esther Anderson and Maud Hayward. Miss Smith spoke of "God and the Universe," Miss Anderson of "Man's Place in the Universe," and Miss Hayward of "The Future Hope of the World."

Cello solos were rendered by Miss Ruth Leader.

A meeting of Alethea was held on Thursday, March 9th. The topic of the evening was "Faust," and Miss Gertrude Lombard opened the meeting by playing the "Soldiers' Chorus" from the opera. Miss Alice Crossland then sketched the story of Goethe's "Faust," pointing out the symbolism of the story. To close the meeting, Miss Esther Kisk played excerpts from the opera.

CHEMISTRY SEMINAR

Last Friday afternoon the members of the Chemistry Seminar met in Hedge Laboratory for the usual bi-monthly meeting. Mr. Duncan '25 and Mr. Bradford '23 gave very interesting talks on photography, each explaining from the chemical standpoint, the various processes of taking and developing pictures.

SENIORITY

On March sixth, Seniority held a short session in Rand Hall reception room. The program, which was in charge of Alice Jessemann and Elva Perry, consisted chiefly of a sketch of a popular musical comedy, selections from which were played upon the Victrola. The committee which is arranging for Seniority pins gave its report, and further plans were discussed till the meeting adjourned.

ENTRE NOUS

The program which Entre Nous conducted in the Rand Hall gymnasium on March ninth, was partly educational and partly social. It was opened by a recitation by Hazel Ingalls. Then a number of current event items were read by different members of the club and fancy candles were served during intermission. Vardis Brown gave a recitation entitled "Dick's Pleasant Dream," Gladys Lealey rendered several solo dances in a most graceful manner, and Dorothy Clark gave a very humorous recitation.

The committee in charge of the next meeting is as follows: Mildred Stanley, Evelyn Parkhurst, Aletha Childs, and Catherine Burke.

The Press Club met Monday evening at 7.45 in Chase Hall. Reports were made in the publicity work, with special credit given to Mr. Pinekey's and Mr. Burgess' teams. Mr. Wayne Davis was present and spoke a few words to the club. An interesting and informative speech on "Writing Feature Articles" constituted the program of the evening. One new member, Gladys Deering, '22, was elected to the club. The next meeting, which will be April 10th, promises to be very interesting, as the editor of the Lewiston Sun will then address the club.

"URSULA TRENT"

Ursula Trent is the latest novel of W. L. George, the famous English writer. The story is told in the first person by Ursula, a sheltered English girl. She first becomes engaged to Lord Oswald, a radical Tory, and still lives complacently in an English country house. When Oswald is killed in 1914, Ursula is already at work in a hospital, where she learns many new and astounding things about mankind.

She next finds employment as secretary to Mrs. Verulam, a lady novelist. Ursula allows the novelist's nephew, Philip, to take her to dinner, and because she is too weary to resist, allows him to make love to her. Later, before their love had passed, Philip departs. With Philip gone, Ursula finds Mrs. Verulam's intolerable and she becomes a manicurist. Over the orange sticks she meets Julian, with whom she links her life. She meets his set, amazing persons to her, as they include a boxer, an actress, and other such.

Finally, Ursula leaves Julian because of his infidelities, and marries Mr. Alex Brough, a substantial architect, who forgives her sensual romances.

The book Ursula Trent is diverting and contains some clever satires, but it lacks the qualities of lasting literature. "Ursula Trent" is to "Le Lis Rouge" what "Main Street" is to "Mme. Bovary." It is not the best work of W. L. George.

SPRING!

Can't you feel it? To be sure you can feel it but what can you do to hasten the bloom of the Mayflower or to quell the vociferous cawing of the crow on Mt. David? Why, nothing at all. Your mission to the world in the next few days is to hasten and perfect the bloom of the Bates Magazine.

Spring up, ye writers, and leave your contributions in the Bates Magazine Box in the Library or hand them to the literary and associate editors. All material must be in their hands before the spring recess.

ROBINSON HEADS PHIL-HELLENIC

Tuesday evening Phil-Hellenic Club met at Libbey Forum. The chief business was the election of the new officers. Ernest Robinson, '23, is the new president, Ester Anderson, '23, the vice president, Alice Crossland, '23, the secretary, and treasurer, and Paul Libbey, '24, the chairman of the program committee. It is not out of place to mention here the excellent work of the officers for the past year, particularly that of the president, Clarence Forbes. The success of the club this year is largely due to him. Much credit should also be given to Carl Purinton, the chairman of the program committee.

After the business meeting there was an interesting program. Miss Lombard and Miss Cunningham sang a duet and Professor Chase lectured on The Golden Age in Greek Literature.

Class of 1902—Mabel A. Richmond of Augusta, Maine, has recently been saddened by the loss of her mother.

Ernest L. McLane '02, is the Democratic candidate for representative to Congress from the third district of Maine.

Dr. William S. Garcelon, ex-'02, has been elected to the Lewiston school board.

Class of 1910—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Grant (Ida Kemp, '10) have a little daughter born March 5. They are living in Poland, Maine.

Class of 1913—George H. Shaw, who is an attorney at Fort Collins, Colorado, has been elected chairman of the Republican State Committee of that state. The National Republican of Feb. 25 says: "Colorado Republicans are ready to fight for victory in November under the leadership of George H. Shaw, newly elected state chairman. He is the youngest Republican ever named to the chairmanship in Colorado, being 32 years old. Chairman Shaw has lived in Colorado for several years, tho his state of birth is Maine, where his father is now the attorney general."

Burt L. Dexter, '13, Carl Belmore, '21, Willard F. Bond, '21, Mary Hodgden, '16, and Verdal Sampson, '19, were visitors at the college during the past week.

The Lewiston and Auburn Bates Club will meet next Monday evening at Chase Hall. It will have as its guests men belonging to the other Maine colleges. Among the speakers will be President Gray, President Sills of Bowdoin, Dean Hart of the University of Maine, and a member of the Colby faculty.

There was a meeting of the Bates Alumni at Cleveland, March 8, at which President Gray spoke.

The Chicago Alumni Association held its meeting March 9. President Gray was the speaker there, also.

The New York Alumnae Association will have a tea at the home of Miss Edith Kellar on March 18.

Class of 1914—A son (William) was born in Dallas, Texas, to Percy C. Cobb, and his wife (Alice Anna Wandtke, also of '14) February 28 of this year. Mr. Cobb is instructor in History and has charge of the athletics in the Bryan High School, Dallas.

The ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS

offered by the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company of Boston for the best answer to Mr. Edison's question, "Who Was John Hancock?" has been awarded to Leon V. Quigley, a student at the Worcester (Mass.) Polytechnic Institute. This answer, giving a correct, concise and comprehensive statement of the position occupied by John Hancock in American history, is printed below in full.

"Who Was John Hancock?"

JOHN HANCOCK was an American statesman and patriot. His signature is found on the oldest and most important documents of Massachusetts, and of the United States. He was the first signer of the Declaration of Independence and was the first Governor of Massachusetts.

John Hancock was born at Quincy, Massachusetts, in 1737. He graduated from Harvard College, and entering upon his uncle's business became a successful merchant in Boston. He gained much in social power and in wealth, being meanwhile justly popular for his integrity and ability.

He was in 1765-1770 a selectman of Boston and a member of the general court. With Samuel Adams he led the Massachusetts Whigs, and only escaped capture at Lexington and Concord by virtue of the valiant fight by the Minute Men on the "Nineteenth of April in '75."

John Hancock was subsequently known in various positions: as President of the Continental Congress, as Major-General of the Massachusetts military forces, as President of the Constitutional Convention. He died at Quincy, Massachusetts, October eighth, 1793.

The historical position of John Hancock is unique in State and Nation. He wielded great political influence but was always liberal and public-spirited. His name is most prominent as a Whig leader during the American Revolution in such events as the Boston Massacre, the Boston Tea Party and the battles of Lexington and Concord.

John Hancock signed his name first to the Declaration of Independence. He thus risked his own "life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness" that these privileges might be obtained for others to enjoy. To this end he "pledged his life, his fortune, and his sacred honor."

That he was popular and efficient may be judged from the fact that he was for ten years Governor of Massachusetts, being elected annually to this office by popular vote.

BATES GRADUATE DESCRIBES WORK OF TRANSIT COM.

The Franchise Tangle

"Another phase of the problem is the 'franchise tangle.' There have been some 800 companies which have procured franchises from the legislature and have at one time or another begun the actual construction, and in many cases operation of a street car line in the City of New York. These companies have leased and sub-leased and consolidated and reorganized for the purpose, among others, of stock manipulation, until it would take a lawyer of the astuteness that according to tradition habitually grows in Philadelphia, to unscramble it. Such is the situation that faces this Transit Commission. Its solution would be hopeless were it composed of men of lesser ability.

"The Commissioners weave a magic spell, however, and difficulties which appear insuperable melt away before the clarity of their judgment and the pressure of their common sense.

Assisting the Commissioners, and the Chief Counsel, is a legal staff of "seven assistants of greater or less prominence at the bar. I represent one of the 'special.'"

Duties of Assistant Counsel

"Their duties consist of representing the Commission before the Courts in pending litigation, and appearing before the Commission at hearing in inquiries concerning the service regulation, practices, fares, etc., of companies which are before it, rendering opinions on the various legal questions which confront the Commission at every turn, and doing the ordinary routine work of a legal nature, such as preparation of leases, contracts, orders, etc., necessary to reduce to tangible form the legal rights of various parties as determined by the Commission.

"The work is interesting, being in a new and largely unexploited field of law. Most questions are novel and cannot be determined by an appeal to precedent, as is so often the case in other branches. Upon the present determinations of this and other Commissions, guided by their Counsel rests the future relationship between the public and those corporations which engage in a common calling.

A Close-Up of Politicians

"The position gives one an opportunity to observe politicians at close range, which is disillusioning to a young man, whose only previous touch with them has been through history text books and Chautauqua lectures, where they invariably admit that the country would soon be in a worse predicament than Russia, were it not for the wisdom and self-sacrificing public spirit of the party leaders.

"The situation here is that the Governor, who has appointed the Commission, is of one party, while the City administration, being required by law to pay the expenses of the Commission, including salaries of employees, is of the opposite party and has refused to appropriate money for contracts, salaries, etc. Hence while the politicians spar, construction work is at a standstill and hundreds of employees, many with families and civil service records go unpaid. Oh, nothing is too childish for a politician if he be a momentary annoyance to the enemy. Verily they learn their tricks from schoolboys, whose challenge to the fray may be the much more worth object of insuring some 20th Century Belinda.

"After an apprenticeship of a few more months here, I am planning to organize a 'reform' to do away with the chair of 'political economy' in all colleges and universities and substitute therefor a chair of 'political hypocrisy.'" vicinity, but of a large part of the state. For two nights Carnegie Science Hall is completely given over to the display of scientific work done at Bates. Each department arranges its own exhibit under the direction of club members, and with faculty cooperation. The aim of each exhibit is to represent, in as vivid and interesting a way as possible, the main material of the course as taught. Any who have thought science uninteresting have never attended one of these exhibits. The Biology Department throws open the doors to the realms beyond the naked eye—the wonder of elementary life revealed by the microscope—the lower forms of life leading step by step to the mammals the tissues of the body—the embryos of the chick. The Chemistry Department always has an appeal to the interest of all—intricate apparatus—transformation of compound to compound—manufacturers' processes and products. The Physics Department is perhaps the scene of the greatest activities—wireless telephone in operation—the spectroscopic—electricity—moving pictures. The top floor is devoted to the Museum, and the Geology, Forestry, and Botany exhibits. The whole affords a rare opportunity of reviewing visually the wonders of modern science.

As is customary, Thursday evening is set aside for visitors from preparatory schools, while Friday evening (tonight) the college and city audience will be welcome. In carrying on the work and care of the exhibition much credit should be accorded the girls' Ramsdell Scientific Society which has cooperated with Jordan Scientific for the occasion.

SOPHOMORE PRIZE DEBATES COMING NEXT WEDNESDAY

rence, Mass., as alternate. The negative team comprises Elton S. Young of Auburn, Maine, and Edward W. Raye of Lynn, Mass., with Harold E. Mayo, Collinsville, Mass., alternate.

The subject for debate in the women's division reads: Resolved, that the various states should establish a court of industrial relations similar to that of Kansas. The speakers on the affirmative will be Mildred Lincoln of West Leeds, Maine, and Louise Bryant, Lebanon, New Hampshire, with Florence Hodgkins, Lisbon Falls, Maine, as alternate. The negative in this debate will be handled by Hazel Converse of Putnam, Conn., and Janice Hoyt of Auburn, Maine, with Laura Warren, Groveton, New Hampshire, alternate.

Each winning team in each debate is to be awarded a prize of fifteen dollars; individual prizes of ten dollars, will be awarded to the best individual speakers in both debates.

Each speaker will be allowed ten minutes for his or her main speech and five minutes for rebuttal.

The committee in charge of arrangements comprises Harold S. Segal, Norman Stickney, Janice Hoyt and Louise Bryant of the Sophomore class.

LARGE CONGREGA- TION AT VESPERS

At the hour set for the Vespers last Sunday afternoon every seat in the College Chapel was taken. The day was perfect and drew a high congregation from the twin cities to hear one of the best musical programs ever given on the campus. Some eighty choir singers from the Protestant churches of Lewiston and Auburn were on the platform and the music they afforded those present was most inspiring. Dr. Edgar Wolfe was the speaker and Rev. George F. Finnie offered prayer.

The soloist was Miss Mildred Litchfield in "Lovely Appear" from Gounod's Redemption. An especially fine trio in "The Heavens Are Telling" from The Creation by Haydn was Mrs. Bertha Bogert, L. S. Smith, and W. P. Atwood.

One of the features of the afternoon was the beautiful violin interpretation of the Aria by Tenaglia by Mrs. Sydney B. Brown.

The choruses were finely sung. Especially beautiful was the "Gloria" from Mozart's Twelfth Mass and "Unfold Ye Portals" from the Redemption. E. L. Goss, the talented director, deserves great praise for the conception and development of this fine Lenten vesper service.

Dr. Wolfe, as the speaker of the afternoon, took for his text a verse from Ecclesiastes, "Be not righteous over-much." This, he claimed, was Solomon's way of counseling the modern "Safety first." It was the doctrine of mediation, the golden mean, and one should not go to extremes by being either too desperately religious or irreligious. Take religion easily. Wink a little at the other fellow's faults and he will wink at yours.

The very pleasing service was closed by a benediction offered by the Rev. George Finney.

HOW ABOUT A TRIP TO CHICAGO

In spite of the shortage of work, the door of opportunity is wide open and carpeted for at least fifty Bates men next summer, according to President Gray's announcement in chapel Monday morning.

Winslow G. Smith, '08, publisher of the Women's Weekly, in Chicago, will incorporate aid to his Alma Mater with a big business drive next summer. Mr. Smith offers to pay expenses of fifty Bates men to Chicago and back provided they will work the full summer canvassing for the Women's Weekly, and guarantees furthermore a minimum of $300. In connection with the Million Dollar Campaign he promises to put thirty dollars with every thirty dollars contributed by the men to the Fund.

It is a big opportunity—a chance to see a bit of America, a chance to earn considerable, a chance to help the Alma Mater, a chance for some real experience. Mr. Smith is coming on soon to present the thing personally—let's sign up.

25 Colleges and Universities
Represented at Meeting
Monday

Steps were taken at Chase Hall last Monday evening to form a college club here in Lewiston. Twenty-five colleges and universities were represented at this gathering, Bates leading with thirty-two graduates there. Hearty wishes and offers for support were extended on the part of the four Maine Colleges by President Sills of Bowdoin, Dean Hart of the University of Maine, Professor White of Colby, and President Gray of Bates.

The meeting was preceded by an informal social hour, after which Rev. George Finnie offered the invocation. Dr. Pennell as chairman spoke a word of greeting to those present. After some discussion a motion was made and carried that the club be called the College Club. A committee of eight men, two representatives from each of the four Maine colleges. They are: Judge H. W. Oakes, Prof. L. E. Moulton, Bates; H. H. Randal, Major George Webber, Bowdoin; Dr. Archer Jordan, Arthur Niles, Colby; Harold Cooper, Weston B. Haskell, University of Maine.

Proceeds Devoted to Million Dollar Fund

Saturday evening in Hathorn Hall a large and appreciative audience attended the presentation of "We Form a Verein" and "Einer Muss Heiraten" by the Deutscher Verein. The proceeds were devoted to the Million Dollar Endowment Fund.

"We Form a Verein" is an amusing comedy centering about the organization of a society by seven girls. When it comes to electing a president, each girl votes for herself, seriously hampering the progress of the inspired club. The cast: Anna, Marion Drew; Marie, Thelma Fullerton; Elise, Alice Blouin; Gertrude, Georgianna Hayes; Rosa, Margaret Wyman; Milli, Mildred Wyman; Frau Anders, Evelyn Wimmersberger.

"Einer Muss Heiraten" (One Must Marry) is based upon the involuntary ventures into matrimony by two sedate and "woman-hating" professors. Suddenly confronted by the ultimatum that one of them must marry in compliance with their dead father's wish, they draw lots to select the fated one. Jakob draws the victim's lot, but his courage fails him when it comes to proposing to his fair cousin, Luise. Wilhelm, his brother, consents to give a demonstration of a proposal, but in the process he himself falls in love with Luise. They become engaged, to the satisfaction of all.

The cast: Jakob Zorn, Paul Wolyniec; Wilhelm Zorn, Herman Faust; Aunt Gertrude, Lilli Herling; Cousin Luise, Wilhelmina Fineman.

The excellence of the acting in both plays was attested by the appreciative applause. Each part was precisely casted. Much credit is due to the assistance and advice of Mrs. Pomeroy, Dr. Leonard, Mr. Forbes and Miss Bradford, and to the committee: stage, Eleanor Bradford; music, Marion Drew; candy, Alice Parsons; publicity, Georgianna Hayes; manager, Clifford Monahan.

The Deutscher Verein was reorganized last year after a necessary interruption during the war. Although the scope of the society is usually merely the study of German art, literature, and drama, it utilized in this production the dramatic talent of its members to assist the Endowment Fund. The club enjoys the distinction of being the first campus activity to aid financially in the raising of the million dollars.

MILLION DOLLAR DRIVE INAUGURATED AT CHAPEL EVERYBODY IN BACK OF IT!

LOYALTY TO ONE'S COLLEGE

What does loyalty to one's college involve? What does loyalty to one's mother involve? What does it not? One's mother is the source and background of life. All that one is and all that one may be, one owes to her. So with one's college. In a sense more so, for duty to one's college grows not only out of a debt to the past but out of an obligation to the future.

Subtract from life, yours and mine, all that college gave; interests, appreciation, sympathies, judgment, skill, connections with people and things, associations, friendships, memories, ideals, energy set free, personal power . . . What a narrow, limited thing life would be without these things. As one realizes these things a wave of gratitude rises and seeks expression.

The College, our College, is so much greater than the great thing it has done for each one of us, so much greater than the sum of all that it has done for us all. It stretches out its arms to all the future,—to that host of merry, laughing, eager, aspiring, youth, of all the years to come. They are a part of the great whole.

Loyalty means love, deep and abiding; loyalty means confidence in the present of one's college and faith in its future; loyalty means service to the limit of one's powers—thought and care and sacrifice in some degree commensurate with the inestimable gifts we have received from the noble College that is ours.

From the Wesleyan Alumnus.

In a stirring and responsive rally, the MILLION DOLLAR ENDOWMENT FUND CAMPAIGN was launched among the student body Wednesday morning in chapel. President Gray presiding, Bursar Harry Rowe, Wayne Davis, appointee to publicity management, Russell Taylor, Ruth Hanson, and Dwight Libbey outlined the nature and plans of the CAMPAIGN. The question of raising the MILLION DOLLARS is one of the most important ever presented to a student body at Bates, said President Gray.

"The present student body is inheritor of sixty years of building, labor, and sacrifice. The spirit, life, and form of Bates has been instilled thru these sixty years, and it is now our turn to build, to do our share in this task of raising a million dollars.

"Why does Bates need a million dollars? What are the plans for raising it? How may we assist? It is now advisable and necessary to add to our endowment fund. In the last fifteen years, Bates has grown much in prestige and equipment. But our endowment fund has not grown in proportion. While seemingly large, it is not sufficient to care for the needs of Bates.

It is not the same as six years ago. Salaries have been increased, and the income has not kept pace with the expenditures. The trustees believe that (Continued on Page Three)

DEAN BROWN TO SPEAK AT BATES

Charles R. Brown, Head of Yale Divinity School to Come Soon after Easter

Following right upon the presence of Sherwood Eddy at Bates, we learn that Bates men and women are to have another unusual privilege in April, when Dean Charles R. Brown, of the Yale Divinity School, will deliver several addresses. The Student quotes a letter from Olin Tracy '20, now a student at the Yale Divinity School, from which we may judge just what we have to look forward to:

New Haven, Conn., March 3, 1922. My dear President Gray:

I have just learned of Bates' good fortune in securing Dean Brown for the dates of April 13th and 14th.

I wish to congratulate the students of Bates College upon this splendid opportunity.

I deem my acquaintance with Dean Brown as one of the most helpful and stimulating acquaintances of my life. It is doubtful if there is a more popular speaker on the platform today than Dr. Charles R. Brown. I would that every student might feel that they cannot afford to miss this treat that is in store for them.

If it is known in advance in New Haven that the Dean is to speak in one of the city churches there is not capacity for those who wish to attend. The Dean has just started a series of addresses in the United Congregational Church. It has been his custom to give such a series yearly during the Lenten

SHERWOOD EDDY GIVES POWERFUL CHAPEL ADDRESS

HONESTY, PURITY, EARNESTNESS AND
GODLINESS—ARE THEY YOURS?

Seldom do Bates College students have the unusual opportunity of hearing such a powerful and effective address as was delivered last Tuesday morning at chapel exercises by Dr. Sherwood Eddy of New York. Dr. Eddy is a Y. M. C. A. worker of international repute, having spent much time in this work in America, Asia and Europe. He is also author of several books.

After briefly calling the attention of his audience to the great social, political and industrial problems which face us today, he developed four topic questions which are a mighty challenge to every serious minded person. He challenged those present to examine themselves by introspection upon the following questions: "Am I honest? Am I pure? Am I earnest? Am I right with God and man?"

He told of the touchstone of India, a standard by which all metals might be tested for their purity in gold. "Am I honest" might well be one of the criteria by which we may measure our character. There is today a certain European country which is passing through a grave crisis and its national

Wm. E. Young and Louise
E. Bryant Best Individual Speakers

The annual Sophomore Prize debates held in the College chapel Wednesday evening March 22nd proved to be two of the most effective forensic contests ever given by a group of undergraduate debaters at Bates.

The program opened with prayer offered by Rev. Insley Bean. Professor George M. Chase as chairman then introduced the first speaker in the men's debate, A. W. Pollister of Danville, Maine, who upheld the affirmatives' contentions on the question Resolved: That the United States should cancel the war debts owed it by the allied nations. It is conceded that such action will be followed by the cancellation of all war debts owed each other by the Allied nations."

He was followed by Elton S. Young of Auburn, Maine, who pointed out for the negative why such cancellation was impractical and moreover an utter impossibility. Wm. E. Young of Lewiston as the last speaker on the affirmative answered several of the negative's conclusions, and summarized the real (Continued on Page Three)

JORDAN SCIENTIFIC EXHIBITION MEETS WITH USUAL SUCCESS

DEPARTMENTS VIE WITH EACH OTHER IN INTERESTING AND INSTRUCTIVE
DISPLAYS

The Fifth Annual Exhibition of the Jordan Scientific Society held in the Carnegie Science Hall, March 16-17, proved to be the equal of its successful predecessors. Each floor was full of a wealth of scientific information and was an education in itself. The Exhibition Committee was Allston Huntress, chairman, Llewellyn Burgess, Elwood Ireland, Fred Noyes, and Norman Ross. To this committee the college owes much for the great success of the exhibition which has taken its place as a permanent feature of the year's activities.

On the first floor of the hall the Biology Department displayed its many phases of study. In Room 14 were the exhibits of the General Biology, Zoology, and Vertebrate Anatomy courses. There were the unicellular animals, the amoeba and the paramoecium. In this room also was a living salamander which attracted considerable attention.

The display of food products from the College Commons with an accompanying lecture of the value of vitamins was especially interesting. The ideal menu was very carefully explained by the student in charge of this exhibit.

In the Zoology Department one saw many specimens with cards explaining their position in the animal kingdom and drawings giving a careful study of the structure involved. The Vertebrate Department was also of much interest.

Room 19, just across the hall, contained a study in Bacteriology and Histology. Wax images showed the embryological development of the frog. In an adjoining room a stereopticon lecture was given on some of the various microscopic specimens of this department.

Going up stairs to the second floor one found in Room 13 a very interesting display of the Chemistry Department. Professor Lawrence deserves credit for the arrangement of this exhibit. The most remarkable display here was the organic compounds, which Professor Lawrence himself, after much study and research, has succeeded in discovering. Then there was the solution of vitamins, which is said to be the most concentrated in the world, loaned by the University of Toronto. This was made from a ton of yeast and is valued at $500. Experiments in qualitative analysis were carried on and the other branches in chemical work were explained.

The Physics Department had an exceptionally interesting display this year. A new feature of the exhibit was the movie reels showing various phases of the application of physics in a practical manner. Sound waves were also demonstrated to the interest of many visitors. The exhibit of photography was also very good. In one corner of the room a radio outfit was set up and its wonders revealed.

On the third floor one gained an insight into the work of the Forestry, Botany, Mathematics, and Geology departments. Each one of these showed the careful work of the students and the helpful cooperation of the professors in their respective courses. And last but not least was the wonderful exhibit of the Stanton Bird Collection famous throughout the state.

LOYALTY TO ONE'S COLLEGE

What does loyalty to one's college involve? What does loyalty to one's mother involve? What does it not? One's mother is the source and background of life. All that one is and all that one may be, one owes to her. So with one's college. In a sense more so, for duty to one's college grows not only out of a debt to the past but out of an obligation to the future.

Subtract from life, yours and mine, all that college gave; interests, appreciation, sympathies, judgment, skill, connections with people and things, associations, friendships, memories, ideals, energy set free, personal power . . . What a narrow, limited thing life would be without these things. As one realizes these things a wave of gratitude rises and seeks expression.

The College, our College, is so much greater than the great thing it has done for each one of us, so much greater than the sum of all that it has done for us all. It stretches out its arms to all the future,—to that host of merry, laughing, eager, aspiring, youth, of all the years to come. They are a part of the great whole.

Loyalty means love, deep and abiding; loyalty means confidence in the present of one's college and faith in its future; loyalty means service to the limit of one's powers—thought and care and sacrifice in some degree commensurate with the inestimable gifts we have received from the noble College that is ours.

From the Wesleyan Alumnus.

DEAN BROWN TO SPEAK AT BATES

Charles R. Brown, Head of Yale Divinity School to Come Soon after Easter

Following right upon the presence of Sherwood Eddy at Bates, we learn that Bates men and women are to have another unusual privilege in April, when Dean Charles R. Brown, of the Yale Divinity School, will deliver several addresses. The Student quotes a letter from Olin Tracy '20, now a student at the Yale Divinity School, from which we may judge just what we have to look forward to:

New Haven, Conn., March 3, 1922.

My dear President Gray:

I have just learned of Bates' good fortune in securing Dean Brown for the dates of April 13th and 14th.

I wish to congratulate the students of Bates College upon this splendid opportunity.

I deem my acquaintance with Dean Brown as one of the most helpful and stimulating acquaintances of my life. It is doubtful if there is a more popular speaker on the platform today than Dr. Charles R. Brown. I would that every student might feel that they cannot afford to miss this treat that is in store for them.

If it is known in advance in New Haven that the Dean is to speak in one of the city churches there is not an empty seat for those who wish to attend. The Dean has just started a series of addresses in the United Congregational Church. It has been his custom to give such a series yearly during the Lenten

HONESTY, PURITY, EARNESTNESS AND
GODLINESS—ARE THEY YOURS?

Seldom do Bates College students have the unusual opportunity of hearing such a powerful and effective address as was delivered last Tuesday morning at chapel exercises by Dr. Sherwood Eddy of New York. Dr. Eddy is a Y. M. C. A. worker of international repute, having spent much time in this work in America, Asia and Europe. He is also author of several books.

After briefly calling the attention of his audience to the great social, political and industrial problems which face us today, he developed four topic questions which are a mighty challenge to every serious minded person. He challenged those present to examine themselves by introspection upon the following questions: "Am I honest? Am I pure? Am I earnest? Am I right with God and man?"

He told of the touchstone of India, a standard by which all metals might be tested for their purity in gold. "Am I honest?" might well be one of the criteria by which we may measure our character. There is today a certain European country which is passing through a grave crisis and its national

Two international conferences ought to teach us something. This last one at least ought to lead us out of the bogs of garrulity on to the solid ground of actuality.

AFFIRMATIVE TEAMS WIN SOPH. DEBATES

Wm. E. Young and Louise
E. Bryant Best Individual Speakers

The annual Sophomore Prize debates held in the College chapel Wednesday evening March 22nd proved to be two of the most effective forensic contests ever given by a group of undergraduate debaters at Bates.

The program opened with prayer offered by Rev. Insley Bean. Professor George M. Chase as chairman then introduced the first speaker in the men's debate, A. W. Pollister of Danville, Maine, who upheld the affirmatives' contentions on the question Resolved: That the United States should cancel the war debts owed it by the allied nations. It is conceded that such action will be followed by the cancellation of all war debts owed each other by the Allied nations.

He was followed by Elton S. Young of Auburn, Maine, who pointed out for the negative why such cancellation was impractical and moreover an utter impossibility. Wm. E. Young of Lewiston as the last speaker on the affirmative answered several of the negative's conclusions, and summarized the result.

JORDAN SCIENTIFIC EXHIBITION MEETS WITH USUAL SUCCESS

DEPARTMENTS VIE WITH EACH OTHER IN INTERESTING AND INSTRUCTIVE
DISPLAYS

proved to be the equal of its successful predecessors. Each floor was full of a wealth of scientific information and was an education in itself. The Exhibition Committee was Allston Huntress, chairman, Llewellyn Burgess, Elwood Ireland, Fred Noyes, and Norman Ross. To this committee the college owes much for the great success of the exhibition which has taken its place as a permanent feature of the year's activities.

On the first floor of the hall the Biology Department displayed its many phases of study. In Room 14 were the exhibits of the General Biology, Zoology, and Vertebrate Anatomy courses. There were the unicellular animals, the amoeba and the paramecium. In this room also was a living salamander which attracted considerable attention. The display of food products from the College Commons with an accompanying lecture of the value of vitamins was especially interesting. The ideal menu was very carefully explained by the student in charge of this exhibit.

In the Zoology Department one saw many specimens with cards explaining their position in the animal kingdom and drawings giving a careful study of the structure involved. The Vertebrate Department was also of much interest.

Room 19, just across the hall, contained a study in Bacteriology and Histology. Wax images showed the embryological development of the frog. In an adjoining room a stereopticon lecture was given on some of the various microscopic specimens of this department.

Going up stairs to the second floor one found in Room 13 a very interesting display of the Chemistry Department. Professor Lawrence deserves credit for the arrangement of this exhibit. The most remarkable display here was the organic compounds, which Professor Lawrence himself, after much study and research, has succeeded in discovering. Then there was the solution of vitamins, which is said to be the most concentrated in the world, loaned by the University of Toronto. This was made from a ton of yeast and is valued at $500. Experiments in qualitative analysis were carried on and the other branches in chemical work were explained.

The Physics Department had an exceptionally interesting display this year. A new feature of the exhibit was the movie reels showing various phases of the application of physics in a practical manner. Sound waves were also demonstrated to the interest of many visitors. The exhibit of photography was also very good. In one corner of the room a radio outfit was set up and its wonders revealed.

On the third floor one gained an insight into the work of the Forestry, Botany, Mathematics, and Geology departments. Each one of these showed the careful work of the students and the helpful cooperation of the professors in their respective courses. And last but not least was the wonderful exhibit of the Stanton Bird Collection famous throughout the state.

"THE INSIDE OF THE CUP" AND THE LIMITATIONS OF JAZZ

All the respected axioms and by-laws of harmony and fitness surely met an untimely fate at the hands of the orchestra which provided music for the moving picture last Saturday evening in Chase Hall.

The film production of Winston Churchill's novel, "The Inside of the Cup," was one of the finest pictures which have been shown on the Bates screen, and was much appreciated by a large audience. No appreciable contribution was made by the orchestra, however.

Leading theatrical producers today lay great stress upon proper orchestration for their super-feature pictures. For some of the most lavish films, even, special bands of musicians are hired to travel with the production. These specialists in the moving picture business are not mistaken in the belief that the right musical accompaniment is an important part of a successful showing.

Considerations of this sort appeared to be foreign to the minds of those who played Saturday night. The most eloquent portions of the musical score were the silences. For the rest, jazz, jazz, jazz, was the program, and jag, jag, jag, for the listeners. It was jazz music that accompanied the murder scene, it was dance music for a dignified church scene, and it was a jig for a highly dramatic love moment.

The effect was humorous in a certain way. It made the picture appear ridiculous, reduced certain parts of it to the level of a Harold Lloyd comedy, provided one paid any attention to the orchestra. But that is not what the people come to see a picture for, primarily.

Some weeks ago, the patrons of our movie shows voted to pay extra admission in order that good orchestra music might be provided for each show. For this reason, it is not too much to ask that an orchestra prove itself worthy of its hire, or give place to another.

SIGNS OF SPRING—THE ANNUAL INDUCEMENTS FOR SUMMER CANVASSING

Once more our campus is invaded with the suave mouthed gentlemen who would convince us of our ability to make a fortune selling books this summer.

Different firms offer different guarantees, but the net profit ranges anywhere from three hundred to five hundred dollars for a little over two months' work.

Certain inquiries naturally arise in our minds. How is it that these sure guarantees can be made in a time of such business depression? These are hard times. Money is scarce. Just where is this money lying around loose?

But even if these guarantees of profit are trustworthy, from whom does this profit come? Even college students have a conscience. The canvasser is given a book, a compendium, atlas, or what-not, and is told to sell it at rather a high price. Now if the canvasser is given one-third of this selling price as profit, and the company receives as much or more for itself, just how does the purchaser figure in on the deal? In addition to the profit of the salesman, and the company, we must also consider the expenses of the leisurely gentlemen who spend a month or more on our campus soliciting students to do the selling. No wonder the canvasser has pangs in his heart when he repeats his formula to the prospective victim.

Something more. This business of selling books is not a new thing. Why is it that these companies have to secure new salesmen each year? Where are the successful salesmen of yesteryear?

The moral of which is: Look before you leap.

SOCIETIES

SPOFFORD CLUB

Spoofford Club met Tuesday evening and voted to take in two new members: Alice Jessemann, '23, and Walter Gavigan, '24. Several prospective plays were then discussed, it finally being decided to stage "The School for Scandal" some time after the Easter vacation.

After the business meeting, an interesting program was enjoyed. Eleanor Bradford, '22, read a play entitled "The Prodigal," full of action, and local color. Carl Parington, '23, gave an article on "What Is Real in the New Realism," and Dorothea Davis, '22, reviewed Alice Brown's interesting book "The Black Road."

Y. W. C. A.

The Annual Y. W. C. A. meeting was held Wednesday evening. Special tables were set in the dining room for the various committees and their advisors. The decorations were of blue, the color which represents the organization.

After dinner everyone adjourned to the reception room where the annual business meeting was held. The reports of the committees were read and approved. These reports showed the excellent work that the Y. W. C. A. has been doing the past year.

Too much praise cannot be given to the president, Miss Ruth Cullens, and to the committees that have so ably assisted her throughout the year. They have helped to carry out the Christian work which has meant so much to every Bates girl.

ALUMNI

ROGER S. GUPTILL, '11 WRITES HOME TO BATES FOLK

We challenge anyone to show us a part of the globe where a Bates man is not to be found. We print herewith a chatty letter from Roger Guptill, Bates '11, who is located in the Belgian Congo, Africa. Mr. Guptill is connected with the Congo Mission of the Methodist Episcopal Church and is doing work of a rather varied and very interesting nature.

Kambove, December 22, 1921.

"Possibly you think it is glorious work here. You are just right. But there are times when we envy you people who have the chance to hear a lecture now and then and to see someone you knew before 1914. We still have no people here about us who we knew previous to 1914. You even have a chance to go home and see the old dog, if nothing more; but we have to content ourselves with the picture of the said animal. But we would not swap jobs with anyone. It is varied. I think I was never so busy in my life as I am now.

"I have the treasurer's work of the mission; that means the paying of the salaries of the twenty-one workers that we have, seeing that the station expenses are provided for, and in addition I have a station of my own to look after. Having also money in francs, pounds, and dollars to figure the exchanges due missionaries and stations. There is a lot of bookkeeping to do. Then there are on the average about 50 letters a month to write and there is no stenog.

There are three printing presses now and they will be on the go all of the time printing books for these black folks. The eternal cry is "Books, books." We are not properly equipped with text books as we are working in three languages, two of which have just been reduced to writing. One has the Gospel of John, a hymn book and a primer. Wouldn't we be proud to have all that number of books in our language? And would it not be a calamity if that were all we had? That is just what is ahead of the Lunda people unless we keep the presses running putting out new editions of books for them. The same is true of the Luba people. But all of the printing is not for the natives. We are doing much printing for the whites. This makes us some profit.

Then there is teaching work. No, not a college, not even a high school. The boys in my school are reading the first reader and doing fourth grade Arithmetic. No scholar in the school could pass the sixth grade examination yet. But they are coming.

HUMOROUS

SQUASHVILLE FIRE DEPARTMENT IS CALLED OUT.

The newly organized fire department of Squashville was called out for the first time the other evening. However, the alarm was false, so the brave fire laddies were not required to show their skill and courage.

Silas Barnum and his wife Sophia were in their home when suddenly it dawned upon Silas that he must go to a trustee meeting of the church. He happened to have his shoes, collar, tie, etc., removed, so there was a hustle to get him ready. His wife was sent upstairs. While she was there, Silas called to her several times before she heard, "Sophia, Sophia."

This, it is evident, is how the alarm happened to be given. A passer-by supposed they were hollering "Fire!" and so called the department.

In a few moments the men were on hand, much to the surprise of Mr. and Mrs. Barnum.

Squashville has not had a fire since Eliza Jones' pig pen burned down. However, with this fire company, the community need have no fear. They are on hand ready to net at a moment's notice.

SHE WAS PUZZLED

Little Jane's mother brought home a box of candy given to her by an Episcopal friend shortly before Easter, and passed around some of its contents to her children, explaining that Mrs. Cox's children had given up eating candy until after Easter, so they cannot eat any now, as it is Lent."

Little Jane's brothers promptly ate their pieces, but she stood looking at her candy with a puzzled air.

"Why don't you eat it, Jane?" her mother asked.

"Because," she explained, "then how could I give it back if it's just lent?"

There is one boy whom I picked up in 1914, and who was so near dead that we nearly killed him when we tried to feed him up. He has had many a feed off my fowls that died with the peculiar hen disease that comes every December. But today he is at Kinda in charge of a new work. We planned to send a white worker there but he was transferred to Rhodesia, and Kasanda, that is the boy's name, is holding the job and has eight schools that he looks after.

Even though I do not have the chance to have some argumentative sophomores say "Professor" I have a chance to see the pupils develop and go out into the work. But it is a pity to have to send them out only with six grades completed. But the day will come when there will be a college here and the boys will have many an argument with the professor then.

The school starts at 8 a.m. and goes until 11.30. In the afternoon all of the boys have to work to pay for their clothes and feed.

Of course I trained for a preacher and thought that that would be my great work. It is, but not as I had thought. The pulpit work is very small. I have to live my sermons rather than preach them. We are in a land where the people say: "You live it first and show us how and then if we like it we will follow you." I have a few services here on the mission every week but do much work outside in the nearby mines or in the native villages.

A good old fashioned bicycle is good enough for me. There are Fords here, but they burn too much gas for me and at the price gas is now, I want to wait. Kerosine is $1.00 a gallon, and gasoline three times that.

I have a two point circuit. I have one Sunday at Kambove and the alternate one at Likasi. Likasi is a new town 16 miles southeast of Kambove where there are two large copper mines, a large copper concentrating plant, and a leaching plant. Just recently they have discovered a mine with an ore from which radium is taken and is worth here 180 francs a kilo, or as the exchange is today, over $6.00 a pound! At Likasi there are about 6,000 natives employed. I always find a good chance to gather a crowd there. I have services for the white people, too. That meeting comes in the evening.

Since it is about Christmas, I'll wish you a happy one and hope that it reaches you by the Fourth of July.

Yours sincerely,
ROGER S. GUPTILL.

STOICISM

When you're all out of luck
And the profs treat you rough,
When term bills are due
And thinks look mighty tough;
When your sky is o'ershadowed
And all sunlight has fled—
Cheer up, old fellow,
You'll soon be dead.

When oppressed by all people
Betrieded by none;
When your best crush has fallen
For another one—
When the venom of ages seems Poured on your head—
Buck up there and smile, Bo,
You'll soon be dead!

Each cloud has a lining
Of silver they say;
It always is darkest
Just before break of day,
But of all consolations
I've written or read—
This appeals to me—"Cheer up,
You'll soon be dead."

VERBUM SAP

If yuh got a lot o' news
You're jest dyin fer to tell,
An' yuh got a dandy joke,
An' yuh know it won't keep well;
Before yuh start to spring it,
Jest east a glance about,
'Cause the Powers That Be will get yuh,
If

yuh don't watch out!

If the campus is a-tingle
With the latest fad or dance,
An' you're dyin' to discuss it,
The fast time yuh get a chance,
Hush! Better use your judgment,
An' wait till class is out,
'Cause the Powers That Be will get yuh,
If yuh

don't watch out!

If you're a good and model child,
And learn your book with zest,
For you there'll be a cup of joy
In Heaven with the blest,
And white and pretty angels,
With harps will fly about,
But the Powers That Be will get yuh
If

yuh don't watch out.

HAVE A HEART!

With an idea of testing her pupils' knowledge of their mother tongue a school teacher wrote on a black-board the well known proverb, "A wink is as good as a nod to a blind horse."

Then she told the class to rewrite this saying, using their own words, but retaining the original meaning of the sentence.

Some of the results were good and others bad; but the teacher nearly fainted when she read the attempt of one bright little lassie. She had written: "A spasmodic movement of the optic is as adequate as a slight inclination of the cranium to an equine quadruped devoid of its visionary capacities."

EVERY LITTLE BIT HELPS

"Aren't you the boy who was here a week ago looking for a position?"

"Yes, sir."

"I thought so. And didn't I tell you then that I wanted an older boy?"

"Yes, sir; that's why I'm here now."

LIFE'S DARN FUNNY!

They say that silence is a gift,
I love to talk!
And the I'll always take a lift,
It's best to walk.

A movie show cheers up my day,
And other things not quite "au fait,"
Well—anything a bit risqué,
I like it.

The hot dawg is a dangerous fad,
I like it—
Too much candy, too, is bad,
I like it.

To waste your time and cash is punk,
But I think such advice is bunk,
The Qual's the place, until I flunk,
I like it!

The flapping overshoe is banned,
I like it—
Bobbied hair with disapproval scanned
I like it—

The things regarded as the worst
Are just the things we wish for most Yet dance and eat and live we must—
I like it!

 which great men fell because they were dishonest and in each case the root of their crime could be traced back to their college days. They were not honest.

A second test is "Am I pure?" Dr.
 Eddy pleaded for purity in speech, purity in physical life, and purity in morals. Very plainly did he relate instance after instance of ruined homes, unhappy lives and wrecked characters, all because someone was not pure—someone "took a chance." The war caused a great moral slump which the young people of today must not allow to continue. "Keep pure."

"Am I earnest?" How many of us have lost the reality of the Bible? Have we allowed prayer to become dead or dry and irksome to us? Are we really sincere in all that we say and do?

Finally we should introspect to see whether we are right with God and man. How many moments of the day are we willing to give to God? What is our love for God? Are our minds clean and have we a whole soul and personality? Then note our relations toward our fellowmen.

Just before closing Dr. Eddy told how he had lost his only boy during the war, but how happy he was to know that his boy had always been honest, pure, earnest, and right with God. The little Testament and account book which he found beside his son's death bed showed that each day a few moments of his son's life were dedicated to God, that he had given more to relieve the suffering of others than he had spent for himself.

Surely no one can hear a sincere talk like Dr. Eddy's without feeling some challenge, some determination to live a life that counts.

of a naval race on two oceans and a war on at least one as a consequence.
 So far so good, and let the editor and politician voice ring out. But that is only half. The other half is the Far East.

China, for all the magna charta, so-called, written at Washington, is still at the mercy of any despoiling nation in the future, and past spoils have not been compensated for. The clash of national interests in China has not been checked. The status quo has been sanctified. There have been promises not to do in the future those things that have been done in the past; but until those things that have been done in the past are undone there is little prospect that they will not be done again in the future. The principle of balance of power and the desire of each nation to even up for advantages gained by other nations in the past will propel each nation to better its own position as compared with the others—always at China's expense. To lay a foundation for stability in any disturbed part of the earth you have to do more than make a fresh start and look forward. You have first to go back and make a fresh start at the beginning. This the other Powers refused to do, because it entailed sacrifice. Nor did America use its influence to bring them to do so. Its own policy being entirely in terms of words, it was satisfied with verbal victories. And when the cheerleaders were calling on the nation to proclaim words as victory, naturally the other Powers were content to let well enough alone. So well in fact did the organized cheering do its work that the Conference was well-nigh over before we realized that it had done nothing.

So the Far East is left unchanged.
 England and France keep the fruits of their spoils. So does Japan and more. For having given no proof in deed of repentance and abandonment of its course in the past, it may be expected in the future to continue on that sons why cancellation would prove most effective economic policy. The last speaker for the negative, E. W. Raye of Lynn, Mass., followed, and in his speech conclusively answered several of the questions raised by the affirmative and restated the negatives case why the Allied nations should meet the demands of the war debt.

Each speaker was allowed ten minutes for his main speech, and an additional five minutes for rebuttal. A short intermission followed, and then Professor Chase as chairman, announced the first speaker in the girls' debate. Miss Florence Hodgkins of Lisbon Falls, Maine, as alternate for the affirmative, substituted for Miss Mildred Lincoln of West Leeds, Maine, and in a spirited speech upheld the proposition: Resolved: "That the various states should establish courts of industrial relations similar to that of Kansas, constitutionality waived." She was followed by Miss Hazel Converse of Putnam, Conn., who stated the contentious of the negative in a most effective manner. The next speaker, Miss Louise Bryant, Lebanon, N. H., pointed out the reasons why the Kansas court had been successful and why courts patterned on it should be instituted in the various states. She was answered by Miss Janice Hoyt of Auburn, who,
 as the last speaker for the negative, re-stated the reasons why such a court would fail to solve the labor problem or prove efficient in operation. Five minutes was allowed each speaker for rebuttal.

The judges were Dana S. Williams,
 Earl S. Lewis and Mrs. Willis Abbott and their decisions were as follows: in the Boys debate, for the affirmative, best individual speaker, Wm. E. Young;
 in the girls' debate for the affirmative;
 best individual speaker, Louise Bryant.

In both debates the speakers on both sides displayed remarkable ability and showed the effects of careful preparation and training. Much of the credit for the fine showing made by the teams is due to Professor A. Craig Baird of the Argumentation Department. The time keepers were Samuel M. Graves of New Haven, Conn. and, David G.
 Singer of Lewiston, both of the class of '24.

The committee of arrangements comprised Harold S. Segal, Norman Stickney, Louise Bryant and Janice Hoyt of the Sophomore class.

the best economy is practiced by strict upkeep of buildings and care of the campus.

"Bates owes a deficit of $75,000. The General Education Board has offered to give $200,000, provided that the sum of $400,000 is raised before July, 1923.
 The new gymnasium, which is the first necessity, will cost $400,000, making our FUND to be raised a million dollars. The whole-hearted action and cooperation of Bates men and women is necessary—let us act."

Wayne Davis, '12, represented the 2,271 Bates alumni distributed over the world, and told of their spirit toward the CAMPAIGN. "It is a stupendous task," said Mr. Davis, "and one to tax the resources and energy of all. The help of every Bates man and woman is needed."

Russell Taylor, president of the Student Council said, "It goes without saying that every Bates undergraduate must exercise his entire power and help in order to push this thing thru. Today, from the viewpoint of the loyal Bates student that Bates is second to none in the state. When the FUND is raised Bates will in actuality be second to none in the state. But cooperation is needed; each must do his bit."

Ruth Hanson, president of the Student Government, represented the women, and their enthusiasm. "Bates girls," said Miss Hanson, "have been interested in the FUND ever since it was first heard of. Speaking for our side of the student body, it is certain that every girl will do all in her power to help."

Dwight Libbey, president of the Press Club, which has played and will play an important part in advertising the CAMPAIGN, outlined some practical suggestions for publicity and for arousing enthusiasm. A play will be given by students in May, and a parade will give an opportunity for much publicity.

Following the FUND Rally, campaign headquarters issued the following statement, "The ready response of the Bates students to the call to arms at chapel is gratifying—but what would you expect?"

"Who realizes the need of the MIL-LION if not those who now profit by the extraordinary expenditures causing the annual deficit, and those who daily suffer the torture of the antiquated building we dignify by the appellation
 'gymnasium'."

"Who is to benefit by the MILLION DOLLARS if not the students now in college, and those who immediately succeed to uphold our traditions?"

"Who can naturally generate the enthusiasm here at Campaign Headquarters, so that loyalty and generosity will radiate to the 2271 Bates graduates scattered around the world?"

"Who can put across demonstrations that will stir Lewiston and Auburn to the very sent of their 'pocket nerves'?"
 "It looks as tho the Bates students were going to answer these questions."

PHIL-HELLENES FETED AT HOME OF PROF. CHASE

Delightful Dinner Served
Charades and Music
Enjoyed

On Thursday evening, March 16th, the members of the east of the Greek play, "Antigone," which was presented in Hathorn Hall, March 10th, enjoyed a cafeteria supper and an evening of real fun at the home of Professor and Mrs. George M. Chase on Frye street.

The superlative merits of the dinner are attested by the menu:

Fruit Cocktail
Chicken Patties Mashed Potatoes
Green Peas

Jelly Rolls Olives
Fruit Salad

Marshmallow Cream Cake
Confections Coffee

As usual the Phil-Hellenes came through nobly, and did homage to the culinary arts of their accomplished hostess, for, without doubt, "the proof of the pudding is in the eating."

The tables were daintily decorated for the patronage of the good St. Patrick. Shamrocks peeped forth from every corner. Green baskets of nuts and candy were on every table. The spirit of mirth of the good old Saint was the keynote of the evening.

And there was music—such amounts and varieties of it! That crowd liked anything from "Carry Me Back to Ol' Virginia," to the universal favorite, "Clementine." Every one sang his prettiest, and he who wasn't tuneless added to the din as best he might. Cal-Hope must have heard and smiled. The invocations to the muse were made possible largely through the genius of the versatile pianist, Miss Gertrude Lombard, '23, of Saxton's River, Vermont.

An outstanding feature of the evening was Mrs. Pomeroy's readings. Her first selection, "Hail He Apologized," was decidedly a laugh-producer. It was very cleverly done, as is characteristic of Mrs. Pomeroy's work. The second, "Advice to Young Tadpoles," was timely and equally delightful. Mrs. Pomeroy's dramatic talent is of very high order and adaptable to any sort of occasion.

Charades were next. Everyone drew on his knowledge of Sophocles, Shakespeare, "Doc" Britan, and even Julius Caesar, to think of the most difficult words to enact. A great deal of originality was displayed together with a commendable absorption of the faculty's jokes.

The party disbanded reluctantly after a most delightful evening. Much credit is due the host and hostesses, Professor and Mrs. George M. Chase and Miss Elizabeth Chase, for one of the most successful social events of the college year.

The guests of honor of the evening were Professor and Mrs. Fred R. Pomeroy, and Miss Eleanor Bradford, '22, who were indispensable in the production of "Antigone."

DEAN BROWN TO SPEAK AT BATES (Continued from Page One)

Season. These meetings are held at 7:30 P. M. Sunday evening. Last Sunday at 7:10 there was scarcely a seat to be had in the house; at 7:15 there was standing room only; at 7:20 the police had to close the doors and turn away those still wishing to enter.

I know that you, and the other members of the faculty who are acquainted with Dr. Brown, will agree with me in my most hearty praise of him. I shall await with the keenest anticipation the report of Dean Brown's visit.

May Bates receive him as heartily as he has received those whom Bates has sent to Yale.

I am happy that Dean Brown is to make his initial visit to the best college in all the world. "May Her glory shine while time endures."

Again, I congratulate you on the pleasure and privilege that is so soon to be yours.

Most cordially and sincerely,
OLIN B. TRACY.

"Y" DEPUTATION COMMITTEE MAKES ENVIABLE RECORD

NINETEEN VISITS TO LOCAL CHURCHES
REV. GEORGE FINNIE GREAT HELP
CLIFFORD, '22, CHAIRMAN

"Y" DEPUTATION TEAM

Undoubtedly 1921-22 has been the most successful and active year for every department of the Bates Y. M. C. A. in its entire history. Particularly true has this been of the Deputation branch of the Community Service Department. Surely no branch has shown a greater gain over preceding years, or expanded its influence so widely as has the Deputation Committee, which, by the way, is one of the latest to be formed. Last year the Deputation Committee met with many handicaps and could not do all that it wanted to. This year as the close of the season approaches, all may well feel proud of the enviable reputation which this committee in a new branch of service has established for itself and Bates College throughout the state.

At the "setting-up" conference of the Bates Y. M. C. A. held at Wayne last September, just before college opened, the goal set was twenty-four deputation to churches in this part of the state for the ensuing year. Already nineteen visits have been made by the several teams. At the beginning of the year, the committee solicited opportunities to serve at the several churches. It is interesting to note, however, that but one of the last ten deputations was solicited. This data shows that the activities of the Bates teams are attracting the favorable attention of the pastors in this section of the state.

A deputation training class under the leadership of Reverend G. F. Finnie was conducted during January, February and March. The men showed unusual interest in their work and were highly commended by Mr. Finnie. This class has prepared in a technical way many undergraduates for active service. Much of the success this year is due to the interest shown by Mr. Finnie. The teams are composed of from two to five men, usually three. They are sent to the churches where they conduct the services for that day. On several trips more than one church was visited.

Special commendation is due Mr. Earle Clifford, '22, who is chairman of the committee. Throughout the year he has been a most faithful and active leader. Often in the absence of Mr. Finnie, he, himself, conducted the classes. He has won the admiration and esteem of both Mr. Finnie and the men under him.

Those who attended the classes and took part in this deputation work are:

The Easter meeting of the Y. W. C. A., which was held April 5 took the form of a candle lighting service. The following officers were installed:

President—Gertrude Lombard.
Vice President—Elizabeth Powers.
Secretary—Elsie Brickett.
Treasurer—Alice Cunningham.
Chairman of World Fellowship Committee—Ester Anderson.

Chairman of Maqua Committee—Helen Chase.
Chairman of Religious Meetings Committee—Elsie Roberts.
Chairman of Bible Study Committee—Helen Hamm.

Chairman of Social Service Committee—Geraldine Smith.

BATES TO MEET UNIV. OF PENN. IN DEBATE MAY 5

Watts, Young and Ashton to Represent Garnet in Forensic Battle

For some time past it has been the custom to limit the Bates Intercollegiate Debates to two a year and to make these two debates the banner events of the season. One of this year's debates has already been held, and as a result Bates claims a victory over Yale University for the second, successive time.

The next Goliath that little Bates intends to slay, is the University of Pennsylvania and this debate, which is to be held in Philadelphia on May 5th, will, we hope, put another gold star in the Bates record-book of decisive victories.

The question to be discussed is the same that is to be debated by the University of Pennsylvania in its triangle debates with Cornell and Columbia during the latter part of this month. It reads: "Resolved, That the United States should cancel all of the War debts owed it by the Allied nations." Bates is to have the affirmative and will be represented by the same team that defeated Yale last December—Robert B. Watts of Portland, Maine; William E. Young of Lewiston, Maine, and John W. Ashton, Lewiston, Maine.

Mr. Watts has been a member of the four teams that have defeated Harvard and Yale. And in all of the intercollegiate debates in which he has participated he has shown himself to be a remarkably keen debater and a most effective public speaker.

A banquet and reception will be given under the auspices of a group of Alumni in New York City on May 6th, the day following the Philadelphia debate, at which the Bates team will be the guests of honor.

PHIL-HELLENIC SYMPOSIUM NEXT FRIDAY

The annual Phil-Hellenic Symposium will be held in Rand Hall, Friday evening, April 21st, at 7.30 o'clock. The entertainment committee, consisting of Herbert A. Carroll, chairman, Richard Waddell, Marion Earle, and Dorothy Ricker, promise an enjoyable and profitable evening after the serving of an enticing luncheon arranged and served by the luncheon committee consisting of Miss Euterpe Bonkis, chairman, Miss Mildred Baker, Miss Nellie Miliken, Miss Helen Chase, Mr. Philip Nason and Mr. Paul Libby.

The Symposium, as an annual event in the Club's program, serves to stimulate interest, not only in the Club, but also in the customs and history of ancient Greece. Several of the local Greeks have been invited and the evening promises to be one of the best of its kind in the history of the Club.

Chairman of Publicity Committee—Elizabeth Files.

Chairman of Social Committee—Alice Jesseman.

Chairman of Membership Committee—Elizabeth Powers.

Chairman of U. F. R. Committee—Vivian Miliken.

INTERSCHOLASTIC DEBATES THIS EVENING AND TO-MORROW MORNING

HIGH SCHOOL ORATORS WILL BATTLE OVER QUESTION OF FEDERAL OWNERSHIP OF COAL MINES

BATES LEAGUE HAS BEEN VERY SUCCESSFUL

The annual semi-final and final debates of the Bates Interscholastic Debating League will take place this evening and tomorrow morning at various places on the campus. The League which was formed under the direction of Professor Baird of the Argumentation department, some nine years ago, has grown from an association of nine teams to a strong organization of over thirty public and private schools, representative of the best in Maine. Six schools, Cony High of Augusta, Deering High of Portland, Livermore High of Livermore Falls, Presque Isle High, Skowhegan High, and Stephens High of Rumford are eligible to compete in the semi-finals, and will each send an affirmative and negative team to debate the same subject discussed in the preliminary interscholastic debates held throughout the state on March 10. The question reads: "Resolved, That the Federal government should own and operate the coal mines of the United States."

Most of us who were on the campus last year will recall that the 1921 cup was awarded to Foxcroft Academy and will await with interest the announcement of the school which is to carry it off this year. The situation is a close one, for of those who are here for the semi-finals, Stephens High and Deering High have each won the Bates debating cup three times, and in each case the schools were victors for three successive years. Livermore Falls was prominent among the contestants for the cup last year. Presque Isle has made a fine showing to date having defeated both Houlton High and Ricker Classical Institute. Cony High and Skowhegan High are sending teams to Bates for the first time and both of them are strong debating teams. In short, this year the League debates promise to be more closely contested than ever, and it is a question which school will be entitled to keep the Bates cup for the year 1922.

Two triangles of three schools each have been arranged. The school winning two debates in each triangle will debate Saturday morning at 9.00 in Hathorn Hall. If no school wins two debates, the best school will be determined by the judges and that school will debate in the finals.

The first school listed will in each case represent the affirmative.

Triangle A. Cony High vs. Deering High; Deering High vs. Presque Isle High; Presque Isle High vs. Cony High.

Triangle B. Livermore Falls High vs. Skowhegan High; Skowhegan High vs. Stephens High; Stephens High vs. Livermore Falls High.

The schools will be represented by the following teams:

Cony High, Augusta—Affirmative: Lois Hayden, Merritt A. Hewitt; alternate, Bernard A. Bena. Negative: Sanford L. Fogg, Charles J. Whiting; alternate, Ruth N. Whitney.

Deering High, Portland—Affirmative: Ernest Van Blareom, Fred Googins; alternate, John Moulton. Negative: Frederick Jones, Dorothy Whelpley; alternate, Clyde Rogers.

PROGRESS MADE IN MILLION DOLLAR CAMPAIGN PLANS

Undergraduates Will Give Play Next Month for Benefit of Fund

be a builder of a bigger better busier Bates

When they figured out how they were going to get a million dollars, the DRIVE executive committee counted up the alumni of Bates and decided that each alumnus would be called on to "give or get" three-hundred and seventy-five dollars. Perhaps they counted on Bates students to the extent of a couple of rummage sales and a play. But what about this "first undergraduate contribution?" If typical it sure makes the prospects look big for a sizeable undergraduate share in the FUND. The "first undergraduate contribution"—Miss Dorothy Holt, '22, of Nutley, N. J., went home for the spring vacation enthused by the MILLION DOLLAR RALLY in chapel. Her enthusiasm touched a friend of the family, touched him so hard that he made a gift of one hundred dollars to the FUND. And Miss Holt had not even asked for it. An additional contribution came when, at a family gathering the campaign was mentioned, and the hat passed. So Miss Holt returned to Bates with the sum of $101.10, the "first undergraduate contribution" as President Gray announced in chapel following the return from vacation.

The true DRIVE spirit was displayed by the Spofford Club, when the members discarded one of the most sacred traditions, that of producing an annual play in May. Interference with the undergraduate play for the benefit of the FUND prompted this decision. Furthermore some of the college's most excellent talent will thus be devoted to (Continued on Page Three)

BATES ACTS AS HOST TO HIGH SCHOOL DEBATERS

On our campus we have as guests this week-end the chosen debaters of the high schools of Maine. Let us make known the fact that we are proud and glad to have them here with us.

In fulfilling our office as host, we are repaying an obligation we owe to the Bates Debating Council, under whose auspices these debates are being held.

While the most conspicuous work of the Bates Debating Council is found in its intercollegiate contests, yet the organization and operation of the Bates Intercollegiate Debating League is by no means a minor part. The success which has marked the progress of the League is a proof of the service it is rendering.

BE A BUILDER OF A BIGGER BETTER BUSIER BATES

This stirring slogan comes from the loyal pen of Jack Spratt, and is taken from a drawing which he has just sent in as a part of his contribution to the publicity campaign now in progress. Jack has struck the right note.

"BE A BUILDER." These words express the magic spirit which is going to put the Million Dollar Drive across.

There is nothing vague or ambiguous about this phrase. It is a clean-cut challenge for whole-hearted, active, constructive support. It demands single-minded devotion in planning, in doing, and in giving, for our Mother Bates. It brands passive well-wishing as disloyalty. It is a summons to sacrifice.

The alumni builders of a bigger, better, busier Bates are ready. The campaign fires are blazing from coast to coast. One hundred per cent. loyalty and unconditional support are the pledges of Bates graduates.

Are the undergraduate builders of the new Bates ready? They are! It has chosen a general committee from all classes to direct its work. By common consent, one club after another has turned over to the benefit of the fund the proceeds of their public performances. A special committee is now at work making preparations for a united undergraduate play to be produced in one of the local theaters, with the purpose of swelling the campaign purse. The bag of every Bates traveller announces the fact that he is looking for "A Million for Bates."

We are building!

SPOFFORD CLUB CANCELS ANNUAL SPOFFORD NIGHT TO ASSIST CAMPAIGN

With east selected and with the first rehearsal scheduled for Friday of this week the Spofford Club production of Sheridan's "School for Scandal" has been cancelled, in order that the club may combine with the Million Dollar Campaign organization in its efforts to stage a production in a local theater.

In sacrificing its annual night to what the members unanimously agreed was the greater need, Spofford Club has cheerfully and willingly given up its most cherished tradition, for the Spofford play is always the crowning event of the year in the field of campus dramatics, and each season's play has won no little fame for the club and college as a whole by reason of its high standards of acting, costuming, and dramatic value.

In consideration of the fact that a downtown production would yield nearly ten times the amount which could have been realized for the drive from Spofford Night, and in view of the specific appeal made to the club to aid in such a play, the literary society has declared itself as glad to have some share in such a big undertaking and as willing to aid in its success in any way the committee may see fit.

HUMOROUS

R. U. A. SHIFTER?

Did you ever have the question popped to you?

A new organization has sprung up called the "Shifters", and it has been the desire of many, not members of the "Shifter" society to investigate a probe as thorough as the investigation of the Ku Klux Klan.

This new society has been the cause of many unusual incidents. A man, slightly intoxicated, was walking along a street in Boston when he was met by a couple of strangers who asked him if he was a "Shifter." He answered in the negative, and they, then and there, proceeded to initiate him into the "Shifters." One of the strangers "shifted" his fist to the nose of the uninitiated and the other "shifted" his pocketbook. He was a life-long member of the "Shifters".

It is said that the applications are flooding the "Shifter" offices, and those who desire to enter must act quickly, if they wish to enjoy the advantages of this unusual organization.

AN EPITAPH

Once there was a little worm,
How he'd wiggle, how he'd squirm!
Some hen got him!

Once there was a beetle bug,
In his earthen home so snug,
Gone—alas! Poor little bug!
Some hen got him!

Once there was a campus beau—
All the coeds liked him so;
Tough on all of us! Oh, fuss!
Some hen got him!

EAT, DRINK, AND BE MERRY

"Sister Anne, Sister Anne, what seest thou upon my plate?"

"Nothing, Sister, nothing."

"Sister Anne, Sister Anne, look once again. What seest thou upon my plate?"

"Nothing, Sister, nothing."

"Sister Anne, lend me thine microscope. Something do I see yet cannot discern what it is."

"Seest thou now, Sister?"

"Yea, rejoiced! Prepare to feast! It is a piece of steak!"

ON BEING GOOD

There are several kinds of good ranging from "goody-goody" to good and rotten with all the intermediate steps thereunto appended. There are as many varieties of good as there are of eggs which start at fresh eggs, that is to say over-ripe hen fruit, and continuing up the line to extra-fancy guaranteed-strictly-fresh-eggs, the latter are usually supposed to be not more than two years in cold storage. So, whenever you may ask anyone what they got in their mid-years, and they reply that they received a good mark, bear in mind the different degrees of good that you learned back in grammar school—good, bad, and rotten.

In a book entitled "Twenty-five Thousand Common Mistakes," which, strangely, is not a directory of some prominent persons in the United States, is this statement: the word good came from the word well, i.e. a hole in the ground or nothing to get excited about; it should be used only in an evasive manner.

The Tradition

House-party Hostess: Very bad form, I call it, to ring one up during church hours.

Guest: Probably she knows you don't go to church.

House-party Hostess: Very likely; but she might have the decency to assume that I do.—Bulletin (Sydney).

Too True

The Armistice Day orator waved his arms dramatically and pointed to a one-legged soldier in the front row.

"By what will you, my brave man, remember this glorious day?" he shouted in ringing tones.

"It was the day I got my last free auto ride," replied the veteran wearily.

BATES IN CHINA

Bates has Wayne Jordan, 1906 in China. It is for his support that $1000 will be raised next month. In view of this, the following quotation from World Service News is of interest:

"The secretaries of the Y. M. C. A. in China," he said, "are interpreters of the ideals of our country to the Chinese people. That better world will come only when nations understand each other. Understanding comes when nations recognize in each other a sameness in idealistic aspirations and unite to sustain them. Each secretary of the Y. M. C. A. who spends years in personal contact with educated Chinese recognize the admirable qualities in these people. We must sit at their feet to learn many lessons. In turn, through friendships, tens of thousands of young Chinese are daily meeting the Association secretaries who are an interpretation of America's friendliness."

"The secretary is an interpretation of American purposes. Through such contacts friendship between nations is established."

"The building up of good will between China and America appeals to every loyal American. This is worth doing but it is not the prime motive of Association work in China. It is a by-product."

"China is struggling to her feet. She is sure to have a great future although this future greatness may not be attained for many decades. It is in this struggling period that the Association works as a unifying influence."

'92—Albert Field Gilmore, member of the Bates Board of overseers, has been elected by The Board of Directors of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, editor-in-chief of the Christian Science weekly and monthly publications. These periodicals have a wide circulation throughout the world.

SOCIETIES

The Girls' Glee and Mandolin Clubs are to give a concert Saturday evening at the East Auburn Grange.

PRESS CLUB

The last meeting of the Press Club took place in Chase Hall, Monday, April the tenth. Several interesting talks on various lines of newspaper work were given by different members of the club, among them an outline of newspaper circulation by Mr. Burgess, and an account of experiences as a reporter by Mr. Siegal. There was a short business meeting, and plans of interest to the members were discussed. Miss Niles was the guest of the evening.

On Tuesday evening, Phil-Hellenic Club met in Libbey Forum to enjoy an interesting program. Mr. Ernest Robinson, the newly elected president, conducted the meeting. He announced that the annual Greek Symposium would take place on the 21st of this month. The meeting was then turned over to the program committee.

A Greek wedding was presented under the direction of Miss Waddell. An interesting feature was the throwing of eggs to the audience by the bride. Games were then enjoyed for the rest of the evening.

SPOFFORD

Spofford initiation meeting took place Tuesday evening. Alice M. Jesseman, '23, and Walter V. Gavigan '24, were made full-fledged members of Spofford Club. After the initiation came the regular program of the evening. Frederick Ineson, '22, read a story called "Gretel," which admirably portrayed the nature of a dog. This was followed by a discussion of animal stories in general. Herbert Carroll, '23, gave a fine review of Winston Churchill's "Coniston."

The meeting was then adjourned.

The Best Business Career

Is what every ambitious senior is thinking about at the present time. Life insurance is one of the best, one of the most desirable, and one of the most satisfactory as a permanent calling.

In assets and volume of business, life insurance is one of the three leading businesses of this country, yet the field is comparatively under-developed. Only 7 per cent of the economic value of human life in the United States is covered by insurance. This gives an idea of the big field still to be worked, especially business insurance for firms and corporations.

As to remuneration: Reports of college graduates who have entered business indicate that life insurance is at the very top as a source of income. Now is the time for you to consider what you are going to do after graduation. If you are ambitious and willing to work hard and are interested to know about life insurance, address the bigger and perhaps more worthy production.

The play committee: Carl Rounds, '22, chairman; John G. Fogg, '23, Gladys Dearing, '22, John Reade, Jr., '23, and James Hamlin, '23, selected "Nothing But the Truth," a three-act comedy as the play to be produced.

Try-outs for the cast are already under way.

Plans for setting the alumni machinery in motion towards the raising of a MILLION have progressed rapidly. The Boston Alumni Association, the Worcester Alumni Association, the Boston Alumni Council, and the Executive Committee on CAMPAIGN have all held recent meetings, at which Bursar Harry Rowe was present with plans and suggestions.

The following letter was sent to every alumnus:

The Million Dollar Fund,
 Bates College, Lewiston, Maine.

April 5, 1922

To the Men and Women of Bates:
 A busy day was spent in Boston, Monday, by the Fund Executive Committee, composed of representative graduates. Definite plans were made for putting across the alumni phase of the campaign.

To raise the Million for endowment and the much-desired men's gymnasium challenges our every ability. We cannot ask others to help us until we have first helped ourselves.

The First Twenty Days of May will be the time when every graduate must get under his share of the task. The pledges then made will be payable over a three-year period. This summer vacation will be signalized by special projects on the part of many alumni, alumnae, and undergraduates to earn their subscriptions. From Commencement on, moreover, the alumni will be organized to canvass friends of the College.

April is the month for the perfecting of local alumni machinery for the drive. Every graduate is to be a member of a campaign division. There will be as many of these as there are natural geographical centers, extending wherever possible to sub-divisions of three alumni.

The officers of the existing alumni associations are now asked to choose committees of three or five, representative of both the older and the younger men and women, and report to me the names at once.

If there is not an alumni association in your vicinity, please consider yourself a committee of one to call together an informal group of Bates people and organize.

You, plus the Bates spirit, can do much.

Add your Bates neighbors and multiply your power.

Every Bates man and woman in a group by May first!

Million-dollarly yours,
 HARRY W. ROWE,
 Campaign Secretary.

Bates' appeal to her alumni for a MILLION inspired the following poem by Gullie Wynnan, '11:

I know a fair college,
 A well-spring of knowledge
 The pride of twin cities in Maine.
 Our own kindly mother,
 How much do we love her?
 'Tis time now to show her,
 That's plain.

But say it with dollars,
 'Tis money that hollers;
 Pretty compliments won't pay a bill.
 Let each son and daughter,
 Just give what he oughter,
 And help mother Bates
 With a will.

Face Flora. Whiskers is inelegant

If a Prof. taught a course in Whisker Crops and their Removal, he'd probably call them Face Flora.

Is there an easier way to remove them—the whiskers, not the profs?

Razor edges were never keener than they are today. Then why do some shaves still make the tears come? Especially tender upper lips and chin corners?

Here is plain reasoning: Hairs can't pull if they're properly softened by the right lather. Any lather won't do. You know that. Williams' Shaving Cream softens the toughest bristle. Its unusually heavy lather softens the beard down to its very base. Few soaps can do that.

Try it—just once—and you will never be without Williams' Shaving Cream near your razor.

Try it—

GARNET OPENS BASEBALL SEASON TO-MORROW

Captain Spiller Has Likely Looking Team—Five Letter Men Back

The sudden burst of warm weather early in the week afforded Captain Lee Spiller an opportunity to run his cohorts to the Athletic field and judge their work on the turf. The result was very gratifying to the many who are looking forward to a championship team.

In Captain Spiller, the Garnet has a man well able to lead, one who will work hard for the team, and who has already proven himself an admirable moundsman. He will be supported in the box by "Hap" Price who has worlds of speed, and also by "Peanut" Hamilton, the diminutive southpaw.

LEE SPILLER
Captain of Baseball

Other likely candidates for the pitching staff are Ollie Johnson and "Si" Tarbell, both of last year's squad, Fellows, who throws from the post side, and Lewis, Martin, and Smith.

"Bob" Partridge is working hard at his old position behind the bat. He is understudied by "Doc" Moulton, Norman Ross, McLean, and Lampirankos. Kippie Jordan is again holding down the initial sack and still shows reliable form at the plate. Kippie Jr. is the leading competitor for the position and a little family rivalry will be engaged in through the season.

Joe Cogan looks good in his old berth as guardian of the keystone sack. He packed a mean drive to deep center in Monday's practice. Kenney is the most promising runner-up for the position.

The other side of the diamond is taken care of by the yearlings. Baker and Dimlich have been alternating at both the short field and the hot corner. Both men field well, have good arms, appear to bat well, and run the bases fast. Burns and Hinds will furnish competition at short while Ratsky will do the same at third.

"Bill" Kenneley is the only veteran left for the outer garden and will probably be seen in center this season. "Bill" has proven his worth to Bates already as a fielder, batter and a man with the right amount of confidence. Dick Stanley and Guy Rowe are working hard for a berth in the field while Chisholm, Barrill, and Dagnino also look good.

The material for a championship team is there; and we feel sure that the boys and Coach Smith will produce the goods if given the proper support of the student body. The first game is tomorrow! Don't be found wanting.

PHI BETA KAPPA KEYS AWARDED

The announcement of the membership elections to Phi Beta Kappa this year was attended with the usual excitement. It is right that some such signal honor should be given for exceptional scholarship, and it is easy to forget that the price of a moment's applause in the chapel is in each case four years of hard work. The fortunate ones from the Class of '22 are Eleanor R. Bradford, Grace P. Gould, Izetta E. Lindstone, Katherine E. O'Brien, J. William Ashton, Clarence A. Forbes, Harold W. Manter, and Robert B. Watts.

DEAN BROWN OF YALE LECTURES AT BATES CHAPEL

Delivers Stirring Address on "The Day of Rebuilding"

SPEAKS AT CHAPEL EXERCISES

"The World we live in is torn to pieces, politically, industrially, and morally," Dean Brown declared emphatically in opening his most interesting lecture on "The Day of Rebuilding," delivered in the College Chapel a week ago last evening. It was the occasion of the second George Colby Chase lecture of the year and the Dean of the Yale Divinity School proved a very able and convincing speaker. "Boundaries have been shifted about," he went on, "geographies of ten years ago are nothing but scraps of paper to-day. New governments have been set up. Capital and labor must be set back into their proper channels and the many mistakes of the past few years must be rectified. The cause of the last eight years of perdition was the absolute lack of personal character. The end is not yet. We were not good enough to do the things we ought to have done and to leave undone the things which never should have been done.

"The final forces in governing the world are the spiritual forces. The need of the world is not money but a sound habit of mind, better temper, and good will. These will solve the political problems of the day. We need better men and better women to act as employers and employees, as public officials and as private citizens. There must be a great moralization of industrial life.

"If our present day civilization is not to bring up with a fearful smash we must have better methods in the (Continued on Page Three)

CIRCUS AND PICTURES ALL FOR A QUARTER

Chase Hall Packed at Wednesday Night's Show—Acting Good

Wednesday evening's triple feature performance for the benefit of the Million Dollar Fund was a success in every sense of the word, including the sixth sense if words have such. For one thing, the show lasted an hour longer than we can remember any other in Chase Hall to last. The "circus" produced by the Y. W. girls was a regular one from start to finish. We have our idea that Eleanor Bradford must have done that job of "barker" before, by the way she hauled it. Probably she travels for Chautauqua in the summer. For clever ideas and the ability to put them before the public, we have to give full credit to the girls for the performance between the pictures Wednesday evening. Not only was there music, comedy, gypsy dancing, but there was even an exhibition of intellectual ability, when it was conclusively proven that horses can reason.

The two six reel pictures were both enjoyed. "The Whistle" featuring William S. Hart was shown first, while "The City of Sient Men" came last, with Thomas Meighan in the leading role.

There were about three hundred students and friends of the college present and the manner in which they joined in on the singing of fund songs made it possible for the evening to be a real generator of campaign spirit.

GIRLS' MUSICAL CLUBS GIVE SUCCESSFUL CONCERT

Before Large Audience at East Auburn Grange

The concert given by the Girls' Glee and Mandolin Clubs last Saturday night at the East Auburn Grange was a great success. A large and appreciative audience was present in spite of the weather. The readings given by Miss Mixer were especially pleasing and the selections by the combined clubs were especially applauded. The pianist for the Glee Club was Miss Grace Gould and for the Mandolin Club, Miss Mildred Stanley, as Miss Hazel Monteith was unable to be present. The girls in the Glee Club quartet were Margaret Mahan, Wilhelmina Fieneman, Alice Cunningham and Irma Paul. In the mandolin quartet were Muriel Wills, Dorothy Fiske, Lucille Goding, and Katherine Lynch. For an encore Eleanor or Yenton played a very pleasing guitar accompaniment.

The clubs are planning several other concerts to be given in May. One of these is to be given at Sabattus.

Senior Exhibition

As a result of trials recently held, the following speakers were chosen to take part in the Senior Exhibition: Eleanor Bradford, Virginia Mixer, Katherine O'Brien, Helen Waddell, J. William Ashton, Alexander Mansour, David Thompson and Robert B. Watts.

BOWDOIN GETS 6-1 WIN OVER GARNET NINE

Bates Team Does Well for First Game of Season—Three Pitchers Used

Bates bowed to Bowdoin in the Patriots' Day exhibition game to the score of 6-1. It was the initial appearance of the Bates ball-players on the diamond this season while Bowdoin had already played several games. Under the circumstances and the unfavorable weather conditions, there is no need to think that the Garnet is due for a poor season. The material is there for a good ball team and that's what will represent Bates this year.

Captain Spiller started the game in the box and showed fine control. Not a Bowdoin man received a walk with Lee pitching. The second inning was a bad one for the Garnet, Bowdoin scoring three runs on bunched hits, a passed ball, and two errors. In both the first and second innings, Bates had two men on the bases but the fellows didn't come through on the pinches and the men were left to die. In the third Needleman scored for Bowdoin on Moulton's error.

"Peanut" Hamilton went to the mound in the fourth and for two innings held the opposing batters hitless and scoreless. In the fourth inning Kenney, playing for Moulton, singled, stole two bases, and was driven home by Bob Partridge's bat. The fifth inning was featured with a double play. Dimick pulled a line drive from the air and McNeill was caught off second by Cogan. "Nap" Price took the rubber in the sixth. With two men on, Handy drove the ball to deep left and got a triple. BISHOP MCCONNELL SPEAKS AT CHAPEL

Gives Instructive Address on Social Imagination

Bishop Francis J. McConnell of Pittsburg gave a very interesting talk at the chapel exercises yesterday morning. Bishop McConnell is here attending the Conference of the Maine Methodist Episcopal Churches being held in Auburn.

The salvation of the world from its present day problems, according to Bishop McConnell, depends largely upon the power of "social imagination" and the manner in which the leaders and laymen make use of this great force. Our scientific progress has been due more to scientific imagination on the part of the investigators than upon the mere observation of the many phenomena. So in the progress of society social imagination will be the great factor. The speaker interpreted social imagination in terms of getting the other fellow's point of view. Before the great industrial, national, and racial differences can be rightly settled, each party must get the other's point of view and then reduce the entire problem to terms of humanity, for we are all made of "pretty good human stuff."

TENNIS CANDIDATES BEGIN WORK ON COURTS

Much Material to Choose From—Captain Roberts Will Be Mainstay

Tennis practise began last Monday when about ten candidates reported on the so-called Faculty court beside Hawthorn Hall.

EDWARD F. ROBERTS
Captain of Tennis

Practise is held every day at 3:45, on the courts when possible, and rainy afternoons are to be devoted to skill practise or serving work in the gym. Although the work has just begun, everything points to a successful season, for several experienced men are available while the Freshman material is unusually good.

Captain Eddie Roberts will doubtless be the main stay and his record is such that a good deal can be expected from him this spring. Ed won the interscholastic singles at Bowdoin in 1918 and was on the team that won the doubles in 1919. In College he won the Freshman Tournament and the same year he and LeSieur were runners-up in doubles in the State Tournament at the U. of M. He has also shone in the Twin City Tournament.

FACULTY AWARDS FINAL HONORS

The awards made by the Faculty of final honors in the various departments of the College were announced by President Gray in the chapel Saturday morning, April 15th. The awards were as follows: in Philosophy, Margaret S. Armstrong, Raymond B. Baker, Lucille A. Goding, Grace P. Gould, Aurie Johnson, Robert B. Watts; in Language, J. William Ashton, Eleanor R. Bradford, F. Albert Bate, Clarence A. Forbes, Lilli Herling, Izetta E. Lidstone; in Science, Llewellyn A. Burgess, Elwood F. Ireland, Grace H. Luce, Harold W. Manter, Katherine O'Brien, F. Muriel Wills. Double honors were awarded to J. William Ashton, Grace P. Gould, Harold W. Manter, Katherine O'Brien, Robert B. Watts.

Miss Georgianna Hayes, '22, Represents Bates at Y. W. Conference

Miss Georgianna Hayes, '22, is attending the Seventh National Convention of the Y. W. C. A. at Hot Springs, Arkansas, from April 20-27.

The Y. W. C. A. organizations from all over the country are to be represented at this conference and it is a great privilege for Bates to be represented there. One of the most noted speakers will be Miss Maud Royden of London, England. The most important business of national wide importance is to be discussed.

TRACK MEN MAKE GOOD TIMES IN SECOND CUP MEET

Landers and Burrill Double Winners—"Archie" Does 51 4/5 in Quarter

Though opportunity for fast times was greatly hampered by the unfavorable conditions, some very good running was displayed at the second cup meet Monday. The outlook for some very close races at the final meet is promising.

The first event of the day, the 100 yd. dash was won by "Jake" Landers. Burns and McKenna were not far behind taking second and third respectively. "Jake" proved himself a double winner by also capturing easily the 220 yd. dash. Burns and McKenna also repeated in this event.

DRAMATIC MOVEMENT STARTED ON CAMPUS

Sophomores to Produce Two Original One Act Plays

A much-needed feature of college life, hitherto neglected, is now to become an integral part of Bates providing the experimental project of Professor Baird's English 4A class in dramatics proves a success. For some time it has been generally felt that one of the things that would make for "a bigger, better, busier Bates" would be a creative interest in dramatics. Several attempts were made to popularize the idea of a dramatic club but it has been the lot of the students in the present English 4A class to take the initiative and actually start a dramatic movement here on the campus. English 4A up to the present time has been primarily a course in play-reading, play-writing and criticism; it now promises to be also a laboratory course in play-producing. Acting under the direction of Professor Baird the pupils in English 4A recently submitted original one-act plays and from these two have been singled out for production: "The Morrice Train"—a Medieval Tragedy by Walter V. Gavigan, '24, and "Bluff Now and Then"—a modern comedy by Esther Kisk '24. These two plays will be given at a future date in the Little Theatre, Hawthorn Hall, for the benefit of the Million Dollar Fund. The plays will be coached, staged and acted by Bates students thus inaugurating the first experimental theater movement on the Bates campus. The project is backed by enthusiasm and creativeness and promises to materialize in a Bates 47 Workshop.

Recently tryouts were held for parts in the plays and all members of the Sophomore class were invited to try out; as a result of these trials the following have been chosen to take prominent parts in the plays: Dorothy Curn, Helen Murray, Katherine Brown, Esther Kisk, Katherine Lynch, Wilbur Batten, Paul Wolynce, Matthew Graves, Walter Gavigan, Waldo Reis and Daniel Turner. Several important parts have yet to be assigned and a number of Sophomore boys and girls, most of them students in English 4A will take part in the productions.

Miss Eleanor Bradford, '22, will coach the players. The business end of the venture will be supervised by Harold Segal, '24, who will also handle the publicity. The scenic effects will be in charge of Mr. Nagakura, '24. George Duncann, '24, will act as stage manager, and Charron will be property man. A group of English 4A girls will design and make the costumes.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Footprints in the muds of tennis courts! Rains may rain, suns may shine, rollers may roll,—yet these remain forever. What can there be about the wet surface of a clay court which has so magnetic an appeal to passing feet? The mystery remains unsolved, but the footprints are with us always.

One of the cherished traditions of Bates, which is being used most effectively in appeals for support to the drive, is that of democracy,—fair play, equal opportunity, justice to any and every man, regardless of creed, color, or race. This is a most unfortunate time for any group of men to prove disloyal to one of the most honored ideals of Bates.

BASEBALL, TENNIS, AND TRACK—LET'S GO!

After two months of scooping up the dust from our basement diamond in Parker Hall, our baseball squad has at last emerged into the sunlight of Garcelon field, and the semblance of a well knit team at the same time.

The first games of the season are here. Now is the time to start the sentiment for a championship in baseball this spring. We did it year before last. We have never had any better material than we have right now. Let's make it a clean-up. Why not?

A banner year in baseball means hard, consistent work on the part of the players. It means the sacrifice of many interests, especially of the nocturnal variety. The baseball men are eager to do their share.

What about the rest of the student body? Many a game has been won on the grandstand by a display of college loyalty. It goes without saying that every Bates man and woman will be in attendance at these games. How about some systematic and sustained cheering at the first, second, and every game of the season? How about a Bates band? If we want the baseball team to do its very best, there is one way only to ensure that; namely, to display a brand of loyalty that will inspire the team to highest pitch.

And tennis. There may be an impression in some quarters that tennis is sort of a milk and water sport. To the contrary, a varsity caliber of tennis requires the pink of physical condition on the part of each player, the ability to think quickly, a type of generalship which is called for in like degree in few other sports.

The tennis season is delayed already. This will mean intensified tennis practice when the opportunity to use the courts is provided. The number of courts ready now is limited. Don't erab because first claim to the courts goes to the members of the squad.

Good support, appreciation of what the tennis men want to do, will encourage a brand of game worthy of Bates.

Track. We are so accustomed to the sight of our white-clad runners speeding around the board track, up and down our cinder paths, or cross country, that our support of track interests becomes perfunctory. If there is any one group of men which gives faithful and continued effort toward its end, that group is our track squad.

The spring meets are not far distant. Our cup meets show that we have good prospects. Do we want our team to come through this season in track? Let's not be afraid to tell our track athletes just what we are thinking.

A good way to boom the publicity campaign for a bigger and better Bates, a Bates with a real gymnasium: boom baseball, boom tennis, boom track!

SOCIETIES

SPOFFORD CLUB

Spofford Club held its regular weekly meeting Tuesday evening in Libbey Forum. The contributors to the evening's program were Amy Blaisdell, who read a short story called "Paid in Full"; and David Thompson, who gave an excellent book review of "Ursula Trent" by W. L. George. The opinion was that Ursula Trent would not stand the test of time. A very interesting discussion of modern literature followed, after which the meeting adjourned.

MILITARY SCIENCE CLUB

The Military Science Club met in the Debating Room of Chase Hall on Thursday evening at 6.30. A large number turned out to hear Coach Watkins who spoke on "Aviation." He brought many references of his own experience into the talk which was both entertaining and instructive. He described the training of the aviator and the different branches of the air service. After the talk a short discussion on the points of interest made was held and the meeting adjourned.

DER DEUTSCHE VEREIN

Der Deutsche Verein was held last Monday night at Roger Williams. A committee was appointed by the president to make nominations for the officers for the ensuing year. Thirteen new members were voted in, all of whom were juniors. This list, with a few Sophomores, will be published later. Kathleen Drew gave a paper on Heinrich Heine, telling of his life and works. Plans are being made for a lively initiation meeting to be held in two weeks.

ENTRE NOUS

A short business discussion opened the meeting of Entre Nous which was held in Rand Hall, April 13th. It was unanimously decided to hand over the next meeting to the charge of the town girls, and for this purpose a committee was elected as follows: Betty Jordan, Eleanor Pray, Marion Pierce and Lois Simpson.

Then four most interesting charades were enacted by members of the club, with a committee of town girls acting as judges. Punch and cakes were served while the judges were reaching a decision. Following this, Lois Simpson expressed the desire of the judges in awarding the prize for the best charade to the company of girls coached by Althea Childs. Amid great applause, the winners immediately consumed the prize, which was a large box of home-made fudge.

SENIORITY

Seniority met in Rand Hall reception room at seven o'clock Thursday evening. A rather lengthy business discussion was held first, followed by humorous readings from Stephen Leacock by Hazel Prescott. The session was most interesting; the next will be held at the home of Professor Britain, Thursday, the 27th.

JORDAN SCIENTIFIC

The Jordan Scientific Society held an open meeting at Chase Hall last Wednesday evening. Through the courtesy of the U. S. Bureau of Mines the chemistry department showed through moving pictures something of the carbonadium and aloxite industries. Niagara Falls was shown as it is "harnessed" today and as it will probably be further developed in the future. Later the giant power plants now in existence and the works of the Carbonadium Company were shown.

HEART BALM GIVEN AT MINIMUM PRICE RIGHT THIS WAY

A new feature on the campus is an agency for the arrangement of amorous alliances. The bureau was inspired with the breath of life about a week ago. It works thru the medium of letters. The several departments follow: The Initiation Dept., where love affairs are ignited for the heart hungry; The Amelioration Dept., which department fans the flames already lambent; The Revivification Dept., which functions in case of a hiatus oh lapses mensi; and the Emancipation Dept., patronized in case an alliance has become distasteful to either party (the amputation is made as painless as possible—using hot air instead of gas). The Agency also includes a Mem Book Dept. The fees start at a minimum of twenty cents and ascend. The proceeds go to the Bates Million Dollar Fund.

ALUMNI

'75—Judge A. M. Spear is in New Orleans this week as a delegate to the Knights Templar.

'87—Arthur A. Littlefield is a director of the new Dirigo Motion Picture Co., which has recently begun operations in Maine. The company will use Maine scenery as a background to various subjects of Longfellow, to be produced soon.

'90—Dora Jordan was a delegate to the Republican State Convention at Bangor this month.

'00—Arthur W. Lowe has been selected to fill the position of principal, in the Portland High School.

'01—Delia Blanchard has recently accepted a position in the high school at New Brunswick, N. J.

'06—Bishop William B. Stevens will represent Bates at the inauguration of President Von Klien Smid of U. of Southern California on April 27-29.

'17—Ellen Aikens has a position as Industrial Secretary at the Elizabeth, N. J., Y. W. C. A.

'20—Ervin E. Trask is a teacher at Montpelier, Vermont. He is planning to visit Bates in a few weeks.

'21—Ethel Fairweather has recently accepted a position in the Gardiner High School.

P. H. H. Booker, Bates '09, and William S. Morton, '16, are teachers in the Rumford evening school. Harold G. Noyes, a former Bates man, is the principal of the school.

The Kennebec County Association held a dinner at the Augusta House last Saturday evening. President Gray and Bursar Rowe presented the Millon Dollar drive.

Bates Graduate Poet and Baseball Coach

Paul S. Nickerson, Bates 1913, besides being a successful principal of Canton High School, and athletic coach, also finds time to win fame as a poet. His verse has won recognition in the current poetry magazines. It is within the last year that Mr. Nickerson has attempted to market his product, although he has been writing for several years. He has contributed to Tempo, the Pagan, the Lyric, the Open Road, Measure and other journals.

Mr. Nickerson took his master's degree at Harvard, where he wrote his first serious poem. During the war, he was in the navy. He expects to publish a volume of his collected work shortly and has in mind, also, the preparation of an anthology for the use of high school students.

"The sun and substance of the whole thing is," he declared, "that I love poetry. This love is, I admit, a thing of comparatively recent growth. I had all a boy's healthy distaste for such things in my school and even in my early college days. Not until later years did I begin to find and to appreciate the joy there was in poetry."

"I think, however, my interest in poetical matters is an inherited taste." The atmosphere of Canton High School reflects the enthusiasm and efficiency of the principal showing it to be an institution carried on for the love of the work.

HUMOROUS

IN THE SPRING

Alas, alas, this awful class!
Say—will it never end?
For I must hold attention fast
While hours and hours so slowly pass,
Lest I the proof offend.

Outdoors the boys are playing golf,
Albeit amateur;
They flit about in merry glee
But glance in here at little me,
So very studious!

Such drowsy words! Outside, the birds
Are hopping on the green
The woodpecker with scarlet head
Blazes the tree with flash of red
His glossy feathers preens.

And then—a shock! Oh, ill-timed Fate!
The prof looks right my way.
"Attention, please! What was that date?"

Oh, Muse, inspire, 'ere 'tis too late,
And tell me what to say!

A WATERY GRAVE

Co—"See that fellow! He's a shark, gets on swimmingly in Greek—"

Ed—"Zat so!"

Co—"Uh-huh, always just about to go under."

Ed—"Splash!"

First Stude—What a shame that Yorktown isn't in New Jersey!

Second Ditto—Why?

First Stude—Because I located it there on my paper.

DOWN TO EARTH!

Prof.—Your explanations are as clear as mud.

Fresh Youth—Well, that covers the ground, doesn't it?

EVOLUTION?

Flub—That Jinks is a very devout man.

Dub—How come?

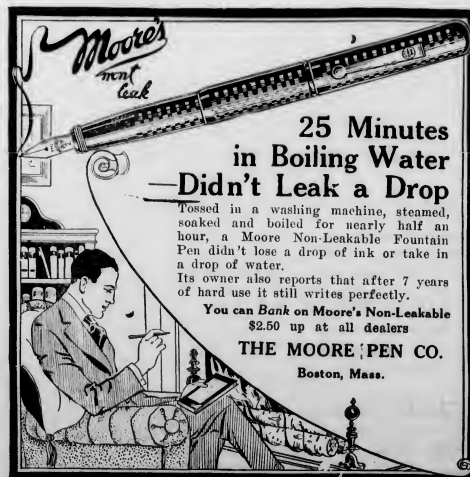

Flub—He adores his Maker.

Dub—Oh, sure, he has often told me he is a self-made man.

ROY HANDLEY SPEAKS AT "Y" MEETING

Mr. Roy C. Handley, General Secretary of the Auburn Y. M. C. A. and County Secretary of Androscoggin County, spoke before the Bates Y. M. C. A. last Wednesday evening at its regular meeting.

Mr. Handley emphasized that there is some job for which each individual is best fitted, and the duty of the individual is to find that job, his own "particular niche in the wall." He then reviewed the possibilities of finding this niche in some branch of active Y. M. C. A. work. The great variety of work possible is not often excelled in other lines of work and at the same time so much good being done. A few of the well paying positions open to college graduates was described. One may be a general secretary, which requires real executive ability; then secretarieships in foreign, industrial, social and railroad work are but a few of the many interesting possibilities. Any college man can find a job big enough for him.

He Reached the Top

THE Vice-President of a great life insurance company who began his career as an agent has this to say to seniors who are about to graduate from college:

"If you love work and desire to pursue an honorable, useful and lucrative mission in life this is the business for you to take up. Life insurance salesmanship offers a fine field for the energies of the splendid young men in our colleges.

"That this is true is demonstrated by those college men who have taken up life insurance for they have shown that the college man is fit for this kind of a job and that the job also is fit for the college man.

"The work of the life insurance salesman is distinguished by independence and opportunity for directing his own. It gives all possible opportunity for individual initiative and a chance to make an ample income at an age when most fellows are struggling on a wage pittance."

That is the story of one who began at the bottom and reached the top without the help of a college education. The advantages are with you who graduate from college. Before deciding your career make inquiries of the "Agency Department."

TENNIS CAN- DIDATES BEGIN WORK ON COURTS

Elwood Ireland is the other valuable letter man this spring. He got into the finals in doubles some years ago. Last spring he and Carl Furinton played together and they may work the same way this year. Dave Thompson is going well this spring.

Of the Freshman candidates, George Yeh is by far the best man so far, although McKenna, who has not reported for practice has a good record.

For about two weeks all of the time will be given to doubles practice and by that time the team should be in shape to begin the elimination singles.

The tennis team has a busy season ahead, for beside the dates already on the schedule, there is to be a dual meet with Bowdoin. Bowdoin offers us a date along the last of April and we would like one somewhat later in the season but if it cannot be arranged we will play on the early date.

There was a misprint on the Athletic Schedules, which should be noticed. The dual meet with Wesleyan will be played May 30 instead of May 23. The tennis schedule:

May 11—Colby Dual Meet at Home.
15—State Meet at Waterville.
16—State Meet at Waterville.
22—New England Tournament at Longwood.
23—New England Tournament at Longwood.
30—Wesleyan Dual Meet at Home.

BOWDOIN GETS 6-1 WIN OVER GARNET NINE

Price tightened up after this inning and no more runs were scored. Things looked good in the seventh with Price and Cogan on base and "Kippie" at the plate but called strikes finished the inning without score.

Though the first game was marred by errors and failure to bat in the pinches the team should round into shape in a week and they will dig hard to come out on top in the State Series.

DEAN BROWN OF YALE LECTURES AT BATES CHAPEL

workaday world. The employers must learn to treat their employees not as hands but as heads and hearts. People are all much alike when their feathers are picked off. Some have finer feathers than others that is all.

"The better type of industrial life will come in the realization of the four great principles of real life. First there must come a more democratic spirit in the control of our great industries. Second, there must be a more equitable distribution of the good things of life between those who toil mainly with their heads and those who toil mainly with their hands. Third, there must come a steadier exaltation of the human values at stake in the process of production. And fourth there must be a firmer insistence upon the obligations of the strong to bear the infirmities of the weak.

"To bring about this better type of life we need college and university trained men and women. We want men who know something of history so that all the foolish experiments which have been made in the past will not be made again.

"May God save this nation from becoming absolutely amusement-mad, dance-crazy, and self-indulgent. 'Lord God of hosts be with us yet lest we forget, lest we forget.' Let us wake up to the fact that our country is the Messianic nation and that by following the faith of Washington and Lincoln we can rebuild the world."

The following morning Dean Brown addressed the student body at the morning chapel exercises. He again emphasized the need of service in the industries and business of the country. One must not feel that by coming to college he has done his duty for humanity. The world is larger and more interesting than any college campus, and it is being moved not by caps and gowns but by the shirt sleeves of earnest men giving all to service. Knowledge must not be made some abstract decoration, some means for competing against others for profit, or an enclosure for an "intellectual elite," but rather it must be translated into life, it must be used to make the life of mankind a better, fuller and more worthy thing.

Business and industry must be made a profession. The doctor, minister, and teacher, each has his code of moral ethics, his ideals of service to humanity regardless of the sacrifice he endures. Who would admire the doctor who kept secret a great discovery because it would more successfully enable him to compete with other doctors. Likewise business and industry must have a high ethics, one that will inspire the great industrial leaders to serve humanity rather than profiteer. (Clothes, food and coal are as essential to mankind as health, so there is the same need. It is for the trained man to go in and raise the industries to a higher plane of service to mankind. And here is a great challenge to every college man who contemplates a business career.

Whit Girls Have Auction Sale for Benefit of M. D. Drive

Someone in Whittier House, casting her eyes on all the unclaimed articles lying about, longed for some means of making the dorm look neater. A few days later the girls of the second floor were astonished to find that a pound had been established and that all articles left outside the rooms would be confiscated and placed there. Ten cents would recover any article for its owner. Announcements also said there would be an auction of unrecovered goods on Saturday, April 15. The contents of the pound increased daily. Saturday each girl was ordered to donate all articles she had no particular use for. By evening there was quite a motley assembly. By the aid of a peppy auctioneer dressed as Toto, the famous clown, nearly everything was sold from sweaters to tin cups and safety pins, yielding the sum of $6.77. This makes a total of $7.78 so far. Watch it grow. It will soon be $15, maybe $25. Hurrah for the Whit girls!

pectations in the quarter mile; he came within a fifth of a second of the Bates record and only four-fifths behind the M. I. C. A. record. Under favorable conditions Saturday he should lower at least the college record and possibly do better than the State record. Bragg ran well taking second place and Jim Simpson came in third.

The half-mile was run in a light rain. Sanelia led but on the last lap Wilson fought hard for the lead and looked dangerous coming down the home stretch, but Frank had a good sprint which carried him across the finish a few yards in front of Wilson. "Ray" Batten finished third.

Sargent and Holt went neck and neck for the greater part of the first lap in their struggle for the lead. Sargent led at the quarter in exceptionally fast time. He held his lead throughout without danger, and finished far in advance. Holt was second and Morrell took third.

In the two mile race Baker took the lead, ran his quarters in very consistent time, and dropped out still fresh after the seventh lap. His time for the seven laps was 8 minutes and 44 seconds. McGinley finished first in this event with a strong sprint in 10 m. 22 s. Kimball and Clifford followed respectively.

Burrill also proved himself a double winner in both high and low hurdles. Jenkins took second place in both events and Coney took third place in both events.

The present point leaders for the trophies are Landers, Archibald, Sanelia, Sargent, McGinley, and Burrill.

Summary:

100 Yd. Dash—Landers, first. Burns, second; McKenna, third. Time 10 2-5 s.
220 Yd. Dash—Landers, first; Burns, second; McKenna, third. Time 23 2-5 s.
440 Yd. Run—Archibald, first; Bragg, second; J. Simpson, third. Time, 51-4 5 s.

880 Yd. Run—Sanelia, first; Wilson, second; Batten, third. Time 2 m. 9 4-5 s.
1 Mile Run—Sargent, first; Holt, second; Morrell, third. Time, 5 m. 18 s.
2 Mile Run—McGinley, first; Kimball, second; Clifford, third. Time, 10 m. 22 s.

80 Yd. Hurdles—Burrill, first; Jenkins, second; Corey, third. Time 11 2-5 s.
140 Yd. Hurdles—Burrill, first; Jenkins, second; Corey, third. Time 17 2-5 s.
Starter, Jenkins. Judges at finish, Ponerey, Chandler, Hagburg, Timers, Farley, Wilson.

The field events of the Cup Meet were held Tuesday and, because of the difficulty to warm up and keep warm, no exceptional performances were recorded. The best competition was furnished in the broad jump. "Ray" Batten and Corey were each outjumping the other on every leap. Corey's final jump was 20 ft. 2 1/4 inches, while Batten's best was 20 ft. and 1/2 inch.

The summary:

Broad Jump—Won by Corey; Batten, 2nd; Fletcher, 3rd. Distance 20 ft. 2 1/4 inches.
High Jump—Won by Gormley; Dinmore, 2nd; Herriek, 3rd. Height, 5 ft. 2 inches.

Pole Vault—Won by Wilson; Batten, 2nd; Burgess, 3rd. Height, 9 ft.
Discus Throw—Won by Luce; Gormley, second; Hagburg, 3rd. Distance, 105 ft. 10 3/4 inches.

Hammer Throw—Won by Ross; Peterson, 2nd; Hagburg, 3rd. Distance, 100 ft. 10 3/4 inches.

Shot Put—Won by Hagburg; Ross, 2nd; Gormley, 3rd. Distance, 33 ft. 4 inches.

BATES-IN-CHINA

It's about time the Bates-in-China pledges were paid up in full and the campaign brought to a successful close. Last fall a total of 416 pledges were made on the campus. Today it is announced that 112 of these pledges have been paid leaving a total of 304 yet to be met. The true Bates spirit demands each and every one of those pledges paid in full and the sooner the better.

CHAMPIONSHIP OF DEBATING LEAGUE WON BY CONY HIGH

Program Carried Through Very Successfully

The championship cup for the Bates College Intercollegiate debating League was awarded to Cony High School in the final debate in Hathorn hall, Saturday. There were 30 schools which entered teams.

In the semi-finals Friday evening, Livermore Falls high school and Cony high school of Augusta were the victors. Saturday morning these two teams from each school, one taking the negative and the other the affirmative debated in Hathorn Hall.

In the first debate the judges, Professor Tubbs, Professor Britan and Mrs. George M. Chase, awarded the decision to Cony High by a vote of two to one. In the second debate the judges, Professor Robinson, Mrs. Blanche Roberts and Rev. G. Finnie voted two to one in favor of Cony.

The best individual speakers selected were Merritt A. Hewett, '23 and Charles Whiting, '22, both of Cony high.

The question for debate was "Resolved: That the Federal government should own and operate the coal mines of the United States."

The teams which competed in the finals were Cony, affirmative—Louis R. Hayden and Merritt A. Hewett; negative, Sanford L. Fogg, Jr.

Livermore Falls, affirmative, Virginia Chandler and Kathleen Poland; negative, Lawson Ramsdell and Louis Brown.

"Y" CABINET AND COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN BANQUET AT NEW EXCHANGE

Interesting Speeches Add to Enjoyment

The Y. M. C. A. Cabinet and those members of the organization who are at present acting as chairmen of the various "Y" committees banqueted last Tuesday evening at the New Exchange. The banquet was preceded by a snappy talk by the Reverend Mr. Finnie, who presented in his inimitable way the real mission of a Y. M. C. A. on the college campus. Following the cuts, which amply satisfied the most ravenous appetites the President, Philip Nason, acted as toastmaster. The first speaker was the retiring President, Ray Baker, who dwelt at length on the past years work of the organization. He presented in a very interesting manner the steps of progress so noticeable in the "Y" work on the campus and his talk was an inspiration to the workers present for a renewed advance in active welfare work. The next speaker was Roy Handley, the very able leader of the Y in Auburn. He spoke concerning co-operation between the college organization and that of Auburn and declared emphatically that he was certain the college workers could find places to fit in where good moves could be made to the advantage of all concerned. His message was one of great helpfulness and left his hearers fully determined that the spirit of cooperation must exist in order that the greatest good for the greatest number might be realized. Last on the list of after dinner speakers, but by no means least, came the ever active Y secretary of our college, Arthur Purinton. He pointed out that while speaking of the Y. M. C. A. some people are inclined to forget that the C stands for "Christian" and that the Y is something more than a social organization. Its office is to promote the spirit of Christ and this it can do only in so far as its members promote brotherhood on the campus. The evening all agreed was most profitably spent, both body and mind benefiting from the affair.

MISS LENA M. NILES ELECTED DEAN OF WOMEN

Action of Trustees Popular Among Co-eds

The meeting of the Board of Trustees held in Libbey Porch last Friday, although called by President Gray primarily to consider the ever important aspects of the Million Dollar Drive, performed a most important task in the election of the Dean of Women. Miss Lena M. Niles, who since the resignation of Miss Clara Buswell last year has filled the position of acting dean, was elected to the office permanently. When the action of the Board was announced at dinner last Friday by the President the Rand Hall dining room resounded with applause. The Trustees present were left not at all in the dark as to the popularity of their action and Miss Niles assumes her position with the co-eds solidly behind her.

Miss Niles is a graduate of Farmington high school in 1906 and from Bates in 1910. She taught in the Jay high school one year, later studying in the department of hygiene and physical education of Wellesley; from 1913-1917 she was director of this line of work at Eastern Illinois Normal School of Charleston, Ill. In 1917 she assumed the position of director of hygiene and physical education at Bates.

FRESHIES WIN OVER LEAVITT INSTITUTE

Get 6-2 Decision in Seven Inning Game

The Bates Freshman team started the season well with a 6 to 2 victory in seven innings against Leavitt Institute at Turner last Saturday. Martin and Lewia did the hurrying for the Freshmen and gave a good account of themselves, allowing but three hits and fanning eleven men. The team also fielded well behind the pitchers.

BUKER AGAIN IN TWO MILE EVENT AT PENN

Archibald, Sanella, Corey, and Batten Represent Bates in Relay

RAYMOND B. BUKER, '22 International 2-Mile Champion

No sports follower at Bates needs to be reminded of what "Ray" Buker means and has meant to the track game at Bates. For three successive years he has won the Maine Intercollegiate Cross Country run. For three years he has won the two mile run at M. I. C. A. A. Meet. In his Junior year he also annexed the N. E. title in both the Cross Country and the two mile event. No one has forgotten his remarkable performance over the two mile course at the Penn. Relay Carnival last spring. His time, 9 min. 25 1-5 sec, speaks for itself. He showed his heels to the best competitors in the country including Gordon Nightingale and "Billy" McMahon. He was the peer of the all then and he is down there again now to show them that he hasn't gone back any. Buker will again this year be furnished with some fine competition.

Bob Brown of Cornell, the present outdoor intercollegiate champion, who was slated to give Buker a good race, may be unable to run because of an ulcerated tooth, but his namesake, Norman Brown, also of Cornell and present indoor champion, is entered in the "special." Eddie O'Connor, formerly coach at Bates and the man who developed Blanchard, Woodman, and Holden, all record holders from Bates, has a promising protege in Finnas Romig of Penn. State is also counted on as a place winner who should force the leaders. But from what we know of Buker, he will run better under keener competition and we're looking forward to less than nine twenty-five.

The relay team which will represent the Garnet at the carnival is a fast and well behaved set of runners. The recent time trials and the competitive quarter-mile Monday brought about the selection. Archibald turned in the best result closely followed by Sanella. Corey, a new man at that distance ran a strong third. Batten was close behind Corey. This quartet of runners should gain a second each on the fast track and more favorable conditions at the Penn. Carnival.

GARNET WHITEWASHES LEWISTON EAGLES BY 9-0 SCORE

Bates' Pitchers Give Fine Exhibition Allowing But Three Hits

Bates displayed errorless ball for nine innings against the Lewiston Eagles last Saturday in a 9 to 0 Whitewash. The pitching staff gave a fine exhibition, each man hurling for three innings. Four men started the game, struck out four men, and allowed but one hit, "Pennut" Hamilton went to the rubber in the fourth and during the three innings he pitched no man reached first base. Captain Spiller's strike out record speaks for itself; 8 men out of the twelve that faced him in the final frames fanned.

The first two men to face "Hap" went out on strikes and the third hit a line drive to Dimick. The Garnet piled up their runs in the first inning when Cogan took first on the first baseman's error. Jordan advanced Cogan and took first on Wiseman's error. Daker beat out a nicely laid down bunt scoring Cogan and putting Jordan on third. Kennelly's two bagger to deep left center brought in two more runs. Dimick singled, scoring Kennelly, then stole two bases. He was brought in on a single by Partridge who was thrown out at second ending the inning. Five men were scored on three hits in that inning. Another rally in the eighth inning brought in four more tallies.

The infield proved to be in rare form both as regards fielding and throwing. The outfield had only one chance and Lagunich accented it on a hair raising catch.

PHIL-HELLENES HOLD SYMPOSIUM

After Dinner Speeches Especially Interesting—Musical Program Enjoyed

The Phil-Hellenes held the Greek Symposium in Rand Hall on Friday evening, April 20. Promptly at seven-fifteen the dining room doors were thrown open, and the members of the Society together with their friends sat down to a sumptuous repast served in truly Grecian style. Ernest Robinson, president of the Phil-Hellenic club, acted as toastmaster, and introduced the speakers, Professor G. M. Chase, Professor F. A. Knapp, Mr. Petropoulos, Miss Gertrude Lombard, Richard Waddell and Raymond Buker. After the banquet, the company adjourned to the reception room where a short musical program was enjoyed. This is the first time the Symposium has been held in Rand Hall, and the success of the affair indicates that it will be held there in the future.

UNDERGRADUATES WILL HAVE OPPORTUNITY TO MAKE CONTRIBUTIONS

TO MILLION DOLLAR FUND WHICH WILL BE INAUGURATED NEXT WEEK—LET EVERYONE DO HIS BEST

Open Letter From Student Campaign Committee Follows

The evolution of a million dollars necessitates the involvement of the efforts of 2,271 alumni and four classes of undergraduates of Bates College. The latter are going to hold up the lighter end of the burden, to be sure, but if they don't hold up that end it is going to drag. If it wasn't a criminal offense and somewhat of an affront to the readers of this paper, we might dust off and bring out a few of the old war slogans, such as "Do your bit," "Give till it hurts," etc. As it is, the moment, crisis, and acid test for Bates spirit has come. The launching of the Drive will show up the lack or presence of the "fight."

In short, Bates undergrads are to be presented with pledges in a few days, pledges that are going to add a few feet of wall onto the new gym, or speaking strictly literally, contribute to the installation of a few dozen dumb-bells.

Sandwiches are already being sold on the campus by co-eds. Luncheons are going to be given by Lewiston-Auburn alumnae. There are scores of ways in which the old Bates spirit and fight and ingenuity can all be mingled into the redemption of the pledges.

At Tufts College student pledges amounted to $20,915. Competition was established between classes, the Juniors leading with a contribution of $5,701. At Wells College in New York State the Senior Class assumed individual pledges of $333. At Wesleyan University practically the entire student body subscribed to the Wesleyan Endowment Fund, and a contribution of $60,000 from students alone resulted.

Bates doesn't set up as a gold-lined institution. It's students don't go to classes in Rolls-Royces. But the one big time is coming—Bates must get a million dollars. Each alumnus is called upon for $375. How much are we going to assume?

If the pledges run as high as the spirit is claimed to, they will fill a big niche in the million pile.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS OF MAINE HOLD CONFERENCE

Beatrice Adams and Philip Nason Represent Bates

The first state convention of the Student Volunteers Association representing the Maine colleges was held last Saturday and Sunday at Colby College, Waterville, under the direction of Raymond Baker.

The chief speaker for the convention was Burton St. John, a former missionary of China, who besides giving interesting information of the country and its people, laid particular stress upon its need for Christian missionaries, especially medical ones. The Bates delegation of thirteen which went and returned by truck was supplemented by an equal number of Colby Student Volunteers. The two chosen to represent this association on the Bates campus are Philip Nason for the men, and Beatrice Adams for the women. The purpose of this convention is to weld these different college groups, comprised of students interested in foreign missionary work, into a more efficient cooperative union.

DELTA SIGMA RHO ELECTS MEMBERS

Ashton and Young Initiated Tuesday Night

Tuesday evening, J. William Ashton, '22, and William E. Young, '24, were initiated into membership of Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary debating society. Mr. Ashton was a member of the debating team which so decisively defeated Yale, last fall, and Mr. Young has had the honor of being both a member of this year's and of last year's victorious teams over this same university.

These two men, together with Robert B. Watts, '22, will meet the University of Pennsylvania in debate, on May 5.

DR. PETERSON ADDRESSES STUDENTS ON POWER OF GOD

"God is the great central factor of the whole universe, and though we have a better understanding of Him now, there are still many who know Him only in times of great disaster or need," according to Dr. F. F. Peterson, director of the Baptist Board of Religious Education in Boston, who spoke at the college chapel Monday morning. "God has given us wonderful souls; it is for us to either feed them or starve them, use them or allow them to atrophy for want of spiritual development."

"God made the universe for man; he has given man science that we may make use of all that is in universe. But there is something greater than the material things; it is the spirit which bears witness that we are sons of God. He is our leader, hope, and strength. We must make our existence right with God, and no man can love God and hate men, or love men and hate God. Therefore let each introspect himself that his soul might fully develop."

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Congratulations, Dean Niles! Your appointment to the office in which you have already served as acting head, and served so ably, meets the unanimous and hearty approval of the student body, both women and men.

Let's start the season right, fellows, by keeping off from the girls' courts, unless in a mixed game. It is nothing more than fair play that the co-eds should have full use of their own property.

We see that at last some constructive work is being done on the men's courts. We hope that this means an improvement over the old situation of eight tennis courts on our part of the campus, and only two of them fit to play on. Iron fences, however they may present an appearance of splendid tennis facilities, appeal to us less than the actual opportunity to play tennis on a decent surface.

We liked that peppy talk in chapel the other morning, as a result of which it will be possible for the Bates track team to be represented down at Philadelphia.

We like the looks of the men who are performing for us on the cinders, and they deserve the opportunity to run in some of the big races.

Win or lose, Buker and his partners will bring nothing but credit to their Alma Mater.

Here's to our track men! Back them to the limit!

WE LAUNCH THE CAMPAIGN

To us comes the first chance to prove our loyalty to the new Bates. Next week is Million Dollar Week, the time when the undergraduates and the faculty of Bates make their pledges to the fund.

The appeal for subscriptions from the alumni and outsiders is to be reserved until after the results of the campus pledge period have been compiled and broadcasted all over the country.

This points to one conclusion: ours is the opportunity and the responsibility to sound the keynote of the spirit of giving. If we fall down on the job, the success of the whole drive is threatened.

This is the acid test.

Our watchword is "One hundred per cent. loyalty from one hundred per cent. of the student body and faculty."

ONE TEST OF A COLLEGE EDUCATION

The ability to speak in public.

How many of you would be able, at thirty minutes notice, to speak interestingly on a subject of your own choosing to a group of intelligent men and women?

That was the proposition one Bates man faced this past week. At six-thirty he returned to his dormitory, anticipating a free evening. At seven o'clock, he had agreed to take the place of a speaker who had failed up at the last moment, and had entered the automobile which was to carry him to the small, nearby community where an audience was awaiting him.

That college man had the goods.

This ability to express one's self in public clearly and forcibly is one way in which outsiders judge college men.

The emphasis upon public speaking and debating at Bates is not misplaced.

SOCIETIES

MACFARLANE

At the regular Monday evening meeting of Macfarlane Club, an Old Song program was enjoyed. Miss Florence Fernald, '22, sang two solos, "Old Folks at Home" and "Old Black Joe." Miss Fernald and Miss Wilhelmina Fieneman, '22, sang two duets, "Juanita," and "Sweet and Low." Mr. Guernsey Jenkins, '22, played a piano solo, "Dixie," with variations, and Mr. Robert G. Wade, '23, sang those two old Scotch favorites "Blue Bells of Scotland," and "Loch Lomond." To conclude the evening's program, Miss Fieneman sang two solos, "Last Night," and the "Clockwork." A number of John McCormack's records of old Irish songs were then enjoyed. At a short business meeting preceding the program, Miss Jean Bachella was admitted to membership in the club.

RASMDILL SCIENTIFIC

Rasmdill Scientific Society met in Carnegie Science Hall, Thursday evening, April 20, at 7:30 o'clock. After a short business meeting, Professor Pomroy read an interesting paper on "Inheritance." An open forum discussion concluded the program of the evening.

Y. W. C. A.

The last Y. W. C. A. meeting was in charge of the Freshman girls. Miss Grace Brackett was the leader. Miss Elsie Brickett spoke in a very interesting way on "What Freshman Life Has Been." Vocal solos were rendered by Miss Margaret Page.

PRESS CLUB

On Monday evening, April 24th, the Press Club held its regular meeting in Chase Hall. During the short business meeting which was carried on before the speeches, Mr. O'Connor, chairman of the social committee, gave his report, and made a number of interesting suggestions for the social life of the club. Then Mr. Connor, generally known as "Sam Connor," gave an extemporaneous talk on his experiences and work on a newspaper. Along with many interesting incidents, Mr. Connor gave several important bits of advice to future newspaper men, first, as to the value of good judgment, and second, a caution against taking too many notes.

SPOFFORD CLUB

Spoftford Club was honored with the presence of Mr. Norton, '18, at their meeting Tuesday evening. In the absence of the president, Dot Davis was chairman.

Plans for the annual outing were discussed, and the house-party was voted to become a day's outing only. New members were discussed, after which came the regular program of the evening.

Harold Mander read a very clever short story, "Bluebells," the unique plot of which centered around Vitamines. He also read a humorous poem called "Killed in Action."

Herbert Carroll read a short story called "Which," written in the O. Henry style.

The meeting was adjourned.

PHILHELLENIC CLUB

The Phil-Hellenic Club met in Libbey Forum at 7:30 on Tuesday evening, April 25th. The program of the evening was short but interesting. Mr. Ray Buker, '22, gave a splendid talk on "The Greek Attitude Toward Foreigners." Games and charades concluded the program.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. held its last meeting of the present college year last Wednesday evening. Philip Nason, president, briefly reviewed the efforts of the "Y" this year in its weekly meetings and told how the many difficulties had been met. He then introduced Professor Nourse of the Hartford Theological Seminary, who was the speaker of the evening.

Prof. Nourse told of the conditions which have been created as an aftermath of the war. All the world during and after the war has been looking to America for salvation, due largely to her Christian ideals. That is, Christianity is the need and hope of the world. Science has failed, creating more destructive weapons than the ideals of man are able to cope with. No higher standards than to be found in Christianity are better adapted to serve man and the Church must be the agency. To those who believe that the Church has failed should try to imagine what the world would be today without the Church.

Special music was furnished by an orchestra.

ALUMNI

The New York Alumni Association will give a luncheon at Delmonico's on May 6th, at which our debaters with the University of Pennsylvania will be the guests of honor. Ralph Sturgis, '93, is president of the New York Association. F. S. Pierce, '90, W. B. Cutts, '91, and Marian S. Conn, '99, will be among the speakers. There will be a meeting of the Connecticut Valley Alumni Association at the home of W. N. Thompson, '88, on April 28.

On April 29, the officers of the New York Alumni Association and the New York members of the Executive Committee for the Million Dollar Drive will give a luncheon at which Harry W. Rowe will be present.

Dr. George S. Ricker, the treasurer of Fairmount College, Wichita, Kansas, is planning to be present at commencement this year and will be the guest of his classmate, Dr. P. E. Sleeper of Sabattus.

Mr. A. E. Tuttle is one of the most prominent educators who have graduated from Bates. He has been a high school principal for forty years. He has been president of the American Institute of Instruction, of the Vermont State Teachers' Association. At present he is principal of the Bellows Falls High School.

George L. Record of Jersey City has announced that he will be a candidate for the United States Senate on the Republican ticket at the September primaries. Mr. Record formerly lived in Auburn and was for many years a member of the Androscoggin Bar.

Bertram E. Packard has been elected deputy state superintendent of schools in Maine and will make his headquarters in Augusta. For several years he has been superintendent of schools in Sanford, Maine.

Miss A. L. Purinton, a teacher in the Ethical Culture School, New York City, has been spending her sabbatical year in Honolulu, and is expected to return to this country the last of April. She will be present at commencement for the twentieth reunion of her class.

Rev. Delbert D. Doncker is pastor of the United Church of Colchester, Vermont.

Grace Haynes, who has been with the personnel department of the R. H. Misco Company of New York, now has a similar position with the Gladding Company of Providence, R. I.

Roy E. Cole is principal of the Chelsea High School.

Shirley J. Rawson is president of the Oxford County Teachers' Association.

BATES MEN AT YALE

It is interesting to know that fourteen Bates men are engaged in graduate work at Yale University. The fact that Bates graduates are showing this interest in graduate work is a favorable comment in itself upon the training which they received while here. The names of the men and the departments in which they are studying is given below:

Divinity School: Olin B. Tracy, Hubert Allenby; Ralph George, Harry L. Potts.

Law School: Charles Starbird, Wesley Coburn (one year at Bates).

Public Health: Albert Dolflo, Robert Jordan.

Medical School: Eugene O'Donnell, Gyp Lee, George Lawson, Benjamin Carter.

Francis Sweet and Earle Packard are taking courses in biology.

WERE THEY YOURS?

They stopped me and took time to say

Bates calls every daughter and son
That her prize of a million be won.
Come, help as you can,
You Bates woman or man.
Get in on the work—and the fun.

You vow were you a millionaire
You'd plunge right in and do your share.
Perhaps you would. (I have my doubt.)
Send on your five. That might HELP OUT.

There is a young college named Bates
Now found in embarrassing straits.
A million she'll win
If her children pool in:

Harvard to debate by wireless—news item. Probably a case of etherizing the opponent.

Twenty-three extemporaneous themes on "Springtime" in Freshman English contained twenty-two quotations reading the same way.—"What is so rare as a day in June?" The other theme was written by a co-ed.

The Parker Hall quartette will now render that pathetic little ditty entitled, "He dashed Forward for the Plate, But the Cook Had Spilled the Beans."

HIATUS DEPARTMENT

Mr. B. A. Sport,
Dear Sir,

We have received innumerable information concerning your recent departure from duty. Our client complains that you have heaped your contemptuous contumely upon her causing her impressionable heart contusions and abrasions. In short we find that you are guilty of incontinence, fickleness, and mutability of affection evidenced by your delinquency, and failure to maintain the established precedent of your previous advances and addresses at Randall Hall.

It seems that you may be suffering from a form of dementia or mental aberration, auto-intoxication, delirium and delusions due to the exhilaration and overstimulation of the vernal equinoctial lunar, which disease is commonly and colloquially known as Spring Fever.

However, the agency demands immediate amends, or it will become necessary to proceed with further prosecutions.

Respectfully,

The Agency for Amorous Alliances.

THAT SATURDAY NIGHT DANCE

Last Saturday evening another dance was added to the list of successful occasions which Chase Hall has witnessed. About sixty couples enjoyed the dancing which extended from 7.30 to 11. The crowd was of just the right size, the music was good, and the dance was long enough, in fact everyone enjoyed themselves immensely. During intermission refreshments of ice cream and fancy cookies were served by the gallant volunteer waiters. The music, which made the wall-flow an impossibility was furnished by some of the college artists. Coach and Mrs. R. A. Watkins chaperoned the affair.

"Best Paid Hard Work in the World"

IS the way a JOHN HANCOCK salesman described his work. He is a college graduate and in five years has put himself at the very top of his business.

He never yet has called upon a prospect without a previous appointment. The best life insurance salesmen today work on that plan, making it a business of dignity, such as any worthy and ambitious college graduate can find satisfying to his mental needs, and highly remunerative as well.

The man above quoted is the John Hancock's youngest general agent. This shows what college graduates of the right type can do in this business, how they can build up earning power and at the same time provide for an accumulated competence for the years to come.

Graduation is a vital period in your life and you are liable to hold to the business you start in. It would be well before making a definite decision to inquire into life insurance as a career. Address, "Agency Department."

Following is a letter which every student should consider is addressed directly to him:

FELLOW STUDENTS:

Just a little confidential staff:

What do WE think of Bates? WE who are students? WE who have been here four, three, two, one years?

Does our Alma Mater mean enough to us to build it bigger and better? Do we love her enough to give, and give till it hurts, our time, our money, our talent—whatever service she demands of us?

OUR OPPORTUNITY comes NEXT WEEK. Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Then WE shall be confronted with the question: "How much is Bates actually worth to us, in dollars and cents?" We shall never be able to compute it in sheer mathematics. We can only estimate it by the sacrifices we shall make in fulfilling our pledge. Sacrifice shall be the measure of our devotion to Bates, as it was to our devotion to our country in 1917-18, as it is the measure of our devotion to anything we love.

Ours is the initial wave that bears in the flowing tide of the million dollar fund. WE shall lay the corner stone, on which other group shall place theirs. We must make it large, and firm, and strong. The quotas have been assigned to the different classes. They are what the architects call for in their plans and specifications for the stone. Every quota MUST be reached. Every class must go over the top. Seniors first, Then—one, two, three, four,—right down the line!

WE have our challenge. Bates calls to us in this hour of need. The vision of a New Gymnasium gleams on the Garcelon field horizon. Like the idyllic vision of the Holy Grail it appeals to us to come and win it? Who said there were no deeds of chivalry and honor in this twentieth century? This Gym Cup is the biggest athletic cup Bates' teams ever fought for. And we're all a member of the team. That's the fine part of it. The responsibility rests with each one of us. YOU and ME. What shall WE give for Bates next week?

Sincerely yours,

Chairman of Student Campaign Com.

MEMBERS OF BOARD OF TRUSTEES SPEAK AT CHAPEL

William F. Garcelon, Esq., and Richard B. Stanley, Esq., both members of the Bates College Board of Trustees, were speakers at chapel last Tuesday morning.

College spirit and loyalty was the theme of each address. Mr. Stanley told of the Bates traditions and of its firm foundation of living rock. Those who founded it and those who have come after them have given their all that Bates might develop. There love and loyalty is like the clinging ivy. The undergraduates must plan to get a right start and do all work well.

"The campus is the only proper place for college dancing, but you (the students) must not over do it with too many 'modern' steps," said Mr. Garcelon. "Extreme styles are somewhat questionable; the extremist shows bad form, bad manners, and often bad breeding."

He warned the men against extreme dress and 'college' colors, for the extremists in all colleges are in the minority and do not count for much. They are not representative college men. He encouraged physical development, saying that the human body is a far better machine than any automobile and deserves a little care. He closed with a few remarks about the million dollar campaign.

Orpheum Singers Present First Act of "Faust"

Under the auspices of Le Cercle Francaise, the first act of "Faust" was presented by the Orpheum singers of Lewiston-Auburn, in Libbey Forum, Thursday evening, April 20, 7:30 o'clock.

The part of Faust was splendidly taken by Mr. Alphonse Cote, director of the Orpheum Society. Mr. N. San-Souci equally well represented Mephistopheles. A chorus of eight supported them. A pleasing feature of the presentation was a vocal solo from the second act by Miss Alice Parent of Lewiston. The accompaniments of Mr. Emile Roy were excellent. The college considers it an honor and a splendid exhibition of community spirit on the part of those who so willingly contributed their talent for the evening's program.

The president of the club, Jeanne C. Baehlein, '23, and the committee, composed of Lucile Goding, Margaret Wyman, and Grace Gould, have worked unceasingly to make Le Cercle Francaise a social factor on campus. The musical and literary programs of the next few weeks will challenge our attention.

SPORT NOTES

Lamm and Sweet, which won the pennant in the Industrial League last season, will be the opponents of the Garnet tomorrow afternoon on Garcelon field.

Capt. Spiller showed that his arm is still in good working order when he fanned 8 out of the 12 men who faced him in last Saturday's game against the Lewiston Eagles.

It looks as though "Arlene" is surely going to hang up a new state record this spring in the quarter-mile. He has already broken the Bates track record.

Now for Ray Buker to repeat in the International 2 Mile today.

Capt. "Eddie" tennis team is beginning to take on form nowadays.

Spring football must have had its effect on "Dag" from the way he made a flying tackle of the spheroid in the fifth inning. He must have "Wattie's" order to "heave your feet" still in mind.

Bill Kennelly's clout to the outfield in the first frame must have rivalled that which Handy got in the Bowdoin game. Wallops like that sure can sew up a game.

"Kippie" Jordan came through with a nice double as well as accepting ten chances in the field.

Too bad the Bates pitchers weren't more generous on letting men reach first base so we could enjoy seeing Bob "peg 'em down second." It's quite a treat to see men caught stealing the way they were in the Bowdoin game.

The "dopesters" claim that a two miler can't repeat at the Penn Carnival and therefore there is no hope for Buker. They also claimed that De Mar couldn't make a comeback in the B. A. A. Marathon but he did and in record time at that so we're looking forward to "Ray" upsetting the dope and also breaking a record.

FRESHMAN TENNIS TOURNAMENT SOON

The Freshman tennis tournament is soon to be held and all those interested should make known their intentions as soon as possible. With the wealth of freshman tennis material this year's tournament should be a hummer. Last year the cup was won by "Dick" Stanley, who is at present one of the likely members of the Varsity. Every Freshman who can wield a tennis racket at all, should put in his name. Don't be afraid to enter just because you might not win the cup; there is something more than that back of the tournament. To create enthusiasm is the prime motive and to develop varsity material for some future date. At least 40 or 50 entries should be received.

FASTEST TIMES OF YEAR IN FI- NAL CUP MEET

Burrill and Landers Again
Double Winners—Luce
in Good Form

The third Cup Meet held last Monday and Tuesday was the most successful so far in regards to time. The wind was unfavorable but the races were run so as to get the most advantage of the wind. The meet also caused the final decision of the four men to represent Bates at the Penn Relay Carnival this week-end.

The greatest race that has been seen this year was staged in the quarter mile. There were seven starters who kept bunched during the whole race with Archibald in the lead. There were no stragglers. "Archie" came down the home stretch hard pushed by Sannella all the way and broke the worsted in the fastest time that has been turned in this year. Corey, running strong, finished third giving an excellent account of himself at running a new distance for him. Batten was close on the heels of Corey and earned his chance to compete in the Penn Carnival. All these first four must have been well under 54 though no times were given out. Simpson, Wilson, and Dragg came in in close order.

"Jake" Landers breasted the tape first in the 100 and 220 yd. dashes. Tierney, by a wonderful sprint at the finish pulled up abreast of McKenna in the shorter dash. Archibald and Sannella fought hard in the 220 for second and Archie came out ahead.

Burrill was a double winner in the hurdles. Jenkins and Corey finished second and third, respectively, in both the timber-topping events.

Baker running against time in the two mile event turned in 9 minutes and 43 seconds. "Cyk" McGinley captured the cup in that event turning in the pluckiest race of the season. "Cyk" was "all in" on the seventh lap but he finished the race in the best time that he has ever done. For six laps he had stuck to Baker's heels all the way.

Ben Sargent continued to leave behind all competitors in the mile. His time was also the best that he has done and under keener competition he could have clipped off several seconds. Perkins took second place and did well as it is the first time he has run since fall. The fight for third was very close for the last furlong. Morrell crept up on Miller and they ran neck and neck until just before the finish when Miller forged into the lead.

The summary:

100 Yd. Dash—Landers, tie between Tierney and McKenna.—10 2-5 s.

220 Yd. Dash—Landers, Archibald, Sannella.—22 2-5 s.

440 Yd. Run—Archibald, Sannella, Corey, Batten.

1 Mile Run—Sargent, Perkins, Miller.—4 m. 45 s.

2 Mile Run—Baker, McGinley.—9 m. 43 s.

80 Yd. Hurdles—Burrill, Jenkins, Corey.—10 4-5 s.

220 Yd. Hurdles—Burrill, Jenkins, Corey.—27 2-5 s.

Luce's heave of the discus was the feature of the field events of the Cup Meet. The State champion hurled the disc 115 ft. 2 in. The other field events were not so good as a week ago with the exception of the pole-vault.

The summary:

Running Broad Jump—Won by Corey, Batten, 2nd, Fletcher, 3rd; distance, 18 ft. 11 in.

High Jump—Won by Gormley; tie for second Dinsmore and Herriek; height 5 ft.

Pole Vault—Won by Wilson; Desco-teau, 2nd; distance, 9 ft. 6 in.

Discus Throw—Won by Luce; Hag-burg, 2d; Kenney, 3rd; distance, 115 ft. 2 in.

SENIORS ANNOUNCE POEM AND HYMN

At a meeting of the Senior class, on Wednesday of this week, the class poem and Baccalaureate hymn were announced. The poem was written by Frances Minot of Belgrade, Maine, and the hymn by David Thompson, of Lewiston.

CAMPAIGN FOR CONTRIBUTIONS TO MILLION DOLLAR FUND FROM UNDERGRADUATES BEGAN YESTERDAY

"JACK" SPRATT, COACH WATKINS, "DAVE" THOMPSON, AND "ZIP" HOYT ADDRESS STUDENT BODY

QUOTAS ARE ALLOTTED

THE UNDERGRADUATE COMMITTEE ON THE MILLION DOLLAR DRIVE

The quotas that the undergraduate committee on the Million Dollar Drive allotted the four classes went over big at the class meetings that followed the Drive Rally in chapel yesterday. The Seniors will pledge $100 per capita, Juniors $60, Sophomores $50, and the Freshmen $30. That's what we're going to do toward piling up the Million.

But what was that "Jack" Spratt said in his stirring talk yesterday? Are the undergraduates pledges going to mean just a few more dollars toward the Million? It's the spirit—the fact that the undergrads are pushing that is going to start the alumni's enthusiasm, arouse the interest of outsiders.

As "Jack" said—"You can't work backwards—you've got to start at home, and show that the undergrads are back of the Drive."

Coach Watkins, Dave Thompson, and "Zip" Hoyt told us in their own striking words the position of the student body in the Drive.

The coach told us how it was done at Colgate. "You mustn't think," said the coach, "that your pledges are not going to help build the new gym. Your pledges go into the endowment part of the Fund, so that we can conform with the requirement of the General Education Board. But if your dollar does not go into the endowment, someone else's dollar later on can not go into the new gym."

Dave Thompson and "Zip" Hoyt voiced the spirit of the student body, the fight spirit that is going to start the snowball rolling.

And when the solicitors come around for your pledges payable over a 3-year period, just how much of that fight is in YOU. The student body is the lever under the cart-wheel, the sure force that is going to start the horse going.

PHI BETA KAPPA INITIATION HELD

Eight Seniors Become Members of Honored Scholastic Society

Last Friday evening at Chase Hall was held the annual initiation for the Bates Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa. The initiative part of the program began sharply at 5 o'clock. Of the thirty people present, nine underwent the necessary rites and ceremonies. Eight of these were of the present Senior class, Wayne Davis, '12, representing the eligible contribution of the alumni. After the initiation, the usual banquet was held, consisting of an unusually complete and tasty menu. Professor Harthorn, president of the Maine Chapter, acted as toastmaster, and presented, with his original touch and humor, the speakers: Judge Crockett, President Gray, Professor Leonard, Professor Chase, and two of the new members of the Society, Miss Eleanor Bradford, and Robert Watts.

SECOND TEAM HAS UPS AND DOWNS

Wins From Hebron 9-5 But Loses to Bowdoin 2nd 16-3

The Bates 2nd team defeated the Hebron baseball team last Saturday, 9 to 5. Bates played errorless ball behind Martin, while Hebron was clocked up for seven errors. Martin twirled excellent ball for the Garnet team. Kenney's hitting featured for the collegians.

DIRECTORS OF OUTING CLUB TO BE CHOSEN

Election to Be Held Next Week—Instructions for Voting

Monday to Saturday of next week, May 8-May 13, are the days set for the election of directors for the Outing Club Board for 1922-1923. Each member of the Outing Club will receive personally an envelope containing a blank ballot and a list of the members of his class from which Directors of the club should be chosen. The final hour for casting ballots is 12:00 M., Saturday, May 13th.

According to the constitution of the Outing Club, the Board of Directors is composed of 26 members. Of these, 22 are elected from and by the membership of the Club, each class voting for the representatives by means of a secret ballot before May 15. The remaining four directors (2 from the faculty and 2 from the entering class in the fall) are chosen by the Directors elected at this balloting. Directors now serving, with the exception of Seniors, are eligible for re-election.

HOW TO VOTE

1. From the membership list, each member should vote for the proper number of Directors (according to the following instructions) by writing their names in blank spaces below. Members of the Class of 1923 vote for 10 Directors: 7 men and 3 women; members of the class of 1924 vote for 7 Directors: 5 men and 2 women; members of the Class of 1925 vote for 5 directors: 4 men and 1 woman. In these classes, the 10, 7, and 5, respectively, receiving the highest number of votes will be declared elected Directors.

JUNIORS CHOOSE IVY POEM AND ODE

At a recent meeting of the committee of the Junior Class, chosen to select the poem and ode for Ivy Day, the decision for the best poem was given to the offering of Amy V. Blaisdell; for the best ode, one written by Theodora Barentzen was chosen.

DREW'S RELIABLE JEWELRY STORE

Established 1861

73 Lisbon Street

Over thirty thousand sport followers, who crowded Franklin Field, Philadelphia, last Friday and Saturday at the Penn Relay Carnival, saw Bates College secure victories in both the two-mile special and the one-mile college relay race. These victories are probably the greatest achievements that have ever been recorded in the annals of the college.

To compete in such a set of games is the aim of athletes throughout the country, and to win first place in an event, in which the cream of all the athletes of all the colleges in the East compete, is the pinnacle of success in the "track world."

Much praise is due to Raymond Bates Buker, winner of the two-mile special and to Corey, Batten, Sanella, and Archibald, members of the victorious relay team.

Realizing that he was no "dark horse" this year, and that some of the greatest two-milers in the country would be attempting to outguess him, Ray Buker proved to athletic followers throughout the country that he can run just as good a race with his head as he can with his legs. His performance last Friday was a masterpiece of headwork and supreme self-confidence.

Buker led to the first corner, slowed the pace down on the corner and went into the lead again on the stretch. He had the race in hand from the very start and his competitors stayed with him going out when he did and staying back when he stayed back. This continued for six laps, Buker constantly wearing out his competitors. When half of the seventh lap was completed the Garnet Captain started to let out and passed Watson Thompson of Hamilton College, who was leading on the sixth. Thompson and Romig of Penn State measured strides with him for half a lap and then Buker unhooked his usual gun-lap sprint and drew away from the field easily winning by twenty-five yards in 9 minutes, 35 seconds.

GIRLS' SOCCER TEAMS LOOKING GOOD THIS SEASON

Enthusiasm Running High—Games Will Be Played Soon

The girls' soccer teams are well under way and are showing up better in practice this year than last. The prospects for four fast class teams are very good as each team has more than enough out at each practice.

The enthusiasm this year surpasses that of last year, due perhaps to the weather as much as anything else. The games are to be played off before it gets too hot, so watch for the date, and get out and show that class spirit of yours by cheering your team.

BATES STUDENTS WELCOME VICTORIOUS TRACK MEN

Celebrate With Fantastic Parade and Huge Bonfire

In one of the largest celebrations ever held at Bates College, the whole student body turned out last Monday evening to do honor to our victorious relay team and Raymond Buker. In spite of the fact that it was one glorious review of night-shirts, silk derbys and other more or less fantastical costumes, the cause did no more than justify the means. Promptly at 8:15 the parade formed in front of Parker Hall. "Mac" was to be a mounted marshal but in spite of studying "Bill" Harts antics in the Chase Hall movies for the last year, he was unable to make the "animal" behave and he had to walk. The cords out in full force followed the boys and the parade moved with all due precision down College street. Deane's band furnished the music and did an excellent job under the circumstances and received all due credit. Once on the other side of the hospital the snake dance was started and the writhing forms danced gaily from one side to another across the bridge to Auburn. "Mike" Wilson and "Red" Menneally as advance guard took care of the cannon and announced to the astounded population of the twin cities that something was going to happen. Back from Auburn came the joyous troupes, did a column right and started down Lisbon street. All traffic was suspended and old Bates took possession of the city for the evening. Red fire illuminated the way, while the sidewalks (Continued on Page Three)

"Y" SENDS DELEGATES TO NEW ENGLAND CONFERENCE

Secretary Purinton, Nason, Gilpatrick and Dorr Represent Bates

The Bates Y. M. C. A. sent delegates to attend the Officers' Training Conference of the New England Colleges. This conference was held at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Mass., last Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The representatives sent from the Bates "Y" were Philip Nason, Wesley Gilpatrick, Frank Dorr, and the General Secretary, Arthur Purinton. These men reported very interesting and helpful meetings. During the conference Arthur Purinton gave a stereopticon lecture on Silver Bay.

BATES SPIRIT AT WHITE HEAT

We shall not soon forget that night celebration on the peak of Mount David. Fixed in our memories is the sight of the flaming beacon which commemorated the double victory of Bates at the Penn. Relays. And for miles around, the mounting flames carried the message that Bates was paying homage in the good ancestral fashion to her athletes.

Nor do we forget, in the act of exultation, the individual men in whose honor we have been celebrating. The four men who made up the relay team have written their names on the sheets of the Bates log.

"Baker of Bates." That phrase has now been flashed across the continent two years in succession for the same remarkable feat. If any one man has brought fame to Bates in the past two or three years, we point to Raymond B. Baker. But we are no more proud of this two mile champion than we are of "Ray", the good fellow, the clean, upstanding son of Bates, our fighting track leader, scholar as well as athlete. Here is the type of athlete which Bates should hope to produce.

These track men of ours have struck the spark for us. The spirit for a season of unrivalled success in athletics has been kindled. While the tongues of fire no longer spurt up into the air from the structure we raised, yet the zeal for Bates is still at white heat.

This enthusiasm is nothing to be discounted, moreover, for in it there is something of material value as well as for exhibition purposes. A synonym of the word "spirit" is the word "energy," or "force."

It is up to us to carry this factor of support with us for the rest of the track season. How about that state meet in track this year? How many Bates men are going to be on hand that day to root for a championship?

What about backing up our baseball team with this invisible aid? Many a game has been won in the seventh inning. It was not the seventh inning that won the game, however, but a contagious spirit that was let loose at the right moment. Let's not wait until the seventh inning in the baseball season, when the fate of the year's work is nearly decided. Let's pitch in now!

Our respects to the men who went to Penn. Our thanks for the fire they have kindled. Our promise that the old Bates spirit now aroused shall not subside.

THE PASSING SHOW

Have you seen those boys with the Lord Fauntleroy breeches and the long, crooked sticks, peering this way and that for some lost article?

Don't be alarmed. It's nothing serious. Golf has arrived on our college green, that's all.

So before our admiring eyes, up and down the campus sward they go; and all over town, in alley-way and side-street, small boy admirers may be seen swinging dilapidated hockey clubs in vindictive intent against the innocent rubber centers of league baseballs.

Fads are the spice of life! Even though they need to be restricted to the dignity of college seniors, yet we welcome their return with joy under any circumstances. Regretfully we call to mind the impressive silk hats with which proud four year men were wont to promenade,—but now no more. Also the fifty bamboo canes,—and the rest. Presumably the present tendency toward fuzzy upper lips is reversion to type. History repeats itself, at any rate.

The 1922 model of fad seems to have an athletic turn, but that is merely the spirit of the times. So, here's to golf, our knee-panted sportsmen, and the creation of a new fad.

SOCIETIES

SPOFFORD CLUB

At 7.15 Tuesday evening in Libbey Forum three timorous victims were led thru the mazes of Spofford initiation. The new members were Esther C. Kisk, Theodora B. Barentzen, and Lloyd A. Hathaway.

The program of the evening consisted of a short story called "The Curse," by K. O'Brien, after the style of Markheim. Another contributor was Elsie Mowry, who read an essay called "On Being Good"; also a short poem of merit.

ENTRE NOUS

The Kid Party held by Entre Nous in Rand Hall Gymnasium, April 27th, was a tremendous success. The meeting was opened by the president, and the roll called by the secretary, each person as named reciting a bit of classic poetry or rhyme. After the reading of the minutes of the previous session, huge all-day suckers were served by the hostesses of the evening, and the crowd made merry with humorous songs, recitations, and dancing. The closing feature was the flash-light picture taken of the gathering by Mr. Duncan.

SENIORITY

Seniority held one of the best meetings of the year last Thursday evening, April 27th, at the home of Dr. Britan.

A short business meeting, during which the matter of Seniority pins was discussed, preceded the program, which was as follows:

Reading Frederick Ineson
Review, "The Green Goddess"
Piano Solo Dorothea Davis
Reading Katherine O'Brien
Shadow Play—Virginia Mixer
Ballad of Mary Jane
Helen Waddell, Director

The last number was unique, in that the action was depicted in shadows on a screen while the ballad was being read. After the refreshments, Dr. Britan rendered an interpretive piano solo, and Mrs. Britan ended a delightful evening with a piano selection.

SWALLOWED WHOLE

A CAMPUS TRAGEDY

Scene I—Rand Hall—Rising Action—The Unexpected Call.

Ding-a-ling—"Hello," she murmurs,
"Yes, it's I—what did you say?
Moonlight night and George Ross's
Isn't very far away?"

"Sure, I'd love to come," she whispers
"And there's one for roomy too!
Fine, we'll both be on the docket;
Men in these parts are too few."

Scene II—Eestasy

(Click—the conversation's ended.
Pitter-pat her heart beats sound.
Think of it!—in fifteen minutes
Her one ambition will be found.

Scene III—Room—Impatient Preparation

"Hurry—get out my rouge box,
I am out to lay a snare.
Fetch me my bright green sport coat;
We're the hounds that get the hare."

Scene IV—Window Sill—Joyful Anticipation

"Ready?—raise the window curtain:
Can you see their moving forms?
What is that a-creeching onward
Over by the fellows' dorm?"

Scene V—Climax—The Recognition

"There they are—I'm sure I saw them
Hilting by the chapel door.
Hurry, faster! We can't miss them
For there's nothing we want more!"

Scene VI—Sidewalk—Falling Action—Disappointment

"Why, I was almost sure I saw them
When they halted by that tree.
What has happened—was I dreaming?
Where can those fellows be?"

Scene VII—End of Falling Action—Despair—All Hope Gone.

"Book, I'm cold—we must have missed them;
You were so darn, bloomin' slow,
Now they've gone and will forget us;
What we've missed we'll never know."

ILLUSTRIOUS ALUMNI

OSCAR C. MERRILL, '99

Young college men and women are often asked the question: "Who are your illustrious alumni?" Bates students therefore will do well to acquaint themselves with the records and attitude of some of the "doers of things" who claim Bates as their Alma Mater. In order that even those who run may read "The Student" will publish weekly short sketches on notable alumni who have distinguished themselves and are distinguishing themselves in the great world of affairs.

The other day an undergraduate group was discussing this very subject of alumni, and one student was heard to exclaim, "Teachers!! Oh yes! Bates has turned out a great many teachers—many of them renowned educators. Ministers—yes—hundreds of 'em—keen doers, quite a few—but how many big executives—how many men who are actually taking a part in running the machinery of this Government of ours?" We answer for him, and as an illustrious example of the highest type of public official, of the man who is pushing and engineering a worthwhile governmental project, point to Oscar Charles Merrill, of the class of 1899.

Mr. Merrill is chief engineer of the United States Forest Service,—a position to which he was appointed in 1914, after he had served the country in a most efficient manner as a member of the forest service for a period of ten years.

In 1920, when the so-called "water power act" was signed by President Wilson, Mr. Merrill was chosen as executive secretary of the administration commission. Upon him devolved the task of preparing rules and regulations to be submitted to the Commission for approval. He was assisted in this work by General Crowder, of the War Department, and by Herman Stabler, representing the geological survey.

Under the act, provision was made for receiving applications for water projects from all parts of the country,—north, south, east and west.

The principal business of this Water Power Commission, of which Mr. Merrill was executive secretary, was to safeguard all public rights and to not allow the people's power to slip out of their hands or to be monopolized. The work of the Commission, as we have before pointed out, aims to emancipate industry from the coal shortage menace, by utilizing our unharnessed resources of water-power.

It is with pride then that Bates men and women may point to O. C. Merrill as one of the pioneer conservators and developers of the precious natural resources of this Great United States. Today Mr. Merrill is working at Washington—a splendid example of the Bates man filling an executive position, requiring the greatest integrity.

In addition to being an alumnus of Bates Mr. Merrill is also a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, class of 1905. During the year 1905-06 he was instructor in Civil Engineering at the University of California. The years 1906-09 Mr. Merrill spent in private engineering work in California and Oregon. In 1910 he filled the position of District Engineer, U. S. Forest Service, and since 1914, Mr. Merrill has served efficiently as Chief Engineer of the U. S. Forest Service.

PESSIMIST VS OPTIMIST

You have heard all sorts of stories about pessimist and optimists. This is the latest: At the Commons' Friday dinner, the pessimist sees the fish, and the optimist sees the ice cream.

TAKEN FROM PROF. "MAC."

Girl: "Meet me in the gloaming."
Fellow: "Where is it, and how do you get in?"

SOMEONE SAID

"Don't be like a pin,—pointed one way and headed another."

PHYSICS!

She: "Did you know that it was impossible for what I am saying to you to go in one ear and out the other."
He: "No! Why?"
She: "Sound does not traverse a vacuum."

He—"Why didn't you answer my letter?"

She—"I never received it."

He—"You didn't?"

She—"No, and besides I didn't like some of the things you said in it."
—Burr.

COLLECTORS

Nearly everyone has a mania for collecting. With some it's autographs, with others it's antiques, while some have a special fondness for umbrellas. There are those who collect bills and those who collect waste. The most foolhardy collector of all, however, is the one who collects telephone numbers. Can't you imagine one of that variety calling up 433 and asking for Nora Hall, while a voice floating back over the wire says, "No, you insect, this isn't Nora Hall, this is Parker Hall!!!"

MATHEMATICS

Will the math "sharks" figure up the hours of agony we must endure while vacation lasts this year?

Talking about mathematics. An engineer had completed a railroad bridge and had used the slide rule to a great degree in its construction. He was in the party on the first train to cross the bridge. The bridge collapsed. The last words heard from the engineer were, "Damn that decimal point!"

MOVIES AND DANCE

It was one big laugh after another last Saturday evening at the Chase Hall Movie show. The pictures flashed onto the screen served as a laughing gas to the large audience present and plenty of laughter does one worlds of good. It's a tonic second to none.

The dancing that followed the show was enjoyed as much as ever. Surely these Saturday evenings at Chase Hall are happy "get-togethers" and the crowd that turns out always goes home happy.

ONE HUNDRED PER CENT TRACK RECORD

The Garnet relay team came through in flying colors in its class and later attempted to take a place among the class of B colleges. Ralph Corey who led off for the Garnet gave an excellent account of himself. It was his first experience in competition and before such a crowd of spectators. Dunn of Rochester who had the pole and Foran of Colby were leading him to the first corner. Corey sped up on the stretch, passed Dunn, and was first gaining on Foran when the quarter finished. Corey's time, 53 2-5 sec., is the best he has ever done. It was a worthy performance, especially for one who has devoted most of his time to hurdling, so far. It was at the coach's suggestion that he trial the quarter and he made good.

Batten, who started about ten yards behind his man ran splendidly, holding his own throughout, and turning in better time than he has ever done before. "Ray's" quarter was done in 52 1-5 sec. Sanella received the same as Batten had, a 10 yards disadvantage. He held his pace running fast. When he came to the final turn he began to gain. He slowly crept up on his man, ran abreast of him, passed him, and handed "Archie" a 4 yd. lead. Frank's time in snatching the lead from Colby was very fast. 51 sec. flat.

Archiebald running against the dependable anchors of the other college extended himself into the fastest time of the race for any quarter. He was leading McGarry of Colby by four yards at the start. Allison, anchor for Hamilton College, ran a powerful race passing McGarry but "Archie" was not to be caught. He was running faster than ever and though not pushed at the finish he broke the tape fully 10 yds. in advance of the Hamilton runner. "Archie", who turned in the remarkable time of 50 2-5 seconds, was capable Saturday of doing under 50 had he been so pushed. The time for the quartet was 3 min. 28 sec.

About an hour after their victory the Garnet relay attempted to draw a place in the Class B division. Batten led off from the worst position, 13 from the pole. He ran a fine race, however, and finished fourth in his quarter. Sanella ran second and held the same position throughout his lap. Baker running third met some fine competition and was in sixth place when he passed the baton to "Archie". Archie passed the man running number five and finished in that position.

Summary:
Event No. 61—One mile relay for colleges, won by Bates College, Corey, Batten, Sanella, Archiebald. Second—Hamilton, Suell, Scott, Morris, Allison. Third, Colby—Foran, Brier, McGarry, Heaton; fourth, Rochester—Dunn, Remington, Gale, Mason. Time, 3:28.

BATES WELCOMES TRACK MEN

were jammed with spectators who thoroughly enjoyed the spectacle.

Coming back from Lisbon street, Mac led the boys up Main street and thence to Mt. David, where boxes, barrels, hay sleepers and various other things were piled high ready to be lighted. "Bill" Guiney was called on to speak, but "Bill's" mighty effort in driving old "Dobbin" around in the morning didn't leave a speech in him, so he begged to be excused. Next was "Doe" Finnie, who is always called on when some real enthusiasm is needed, to deliver his line. The "Doe" with his characteristic poise and humor gave one of his most clever "sermons" and brought rounds of applause from his listeners. "Eddie" Stetson was next. He wanted to tell a story but was afraid to. It must have been a world beater because he called on "Doe" Finnie to tell it for him. After the speeches, Mac decided to light the heavens. The torch was placed to the pile and while the flames soared skyward, nearly burning up "Doe" Britan's house and melting his tar sidewalk, El Ireland led the assembly in chorus singing. Soon after this a part of the team arrived in the persons of Corey, Batten and Archiebald, while the cheers rang out. The burning embers soon died out and the crowd dispersed, but everyone felt that proper tribute had been given to our victorious team.

McGouldrick pitched good ball for Bowdoin with Pettengill and Blake leading in the batting. M. Jordan, Kenney, and Rhinecland were the dependables for the Garnet.

Take It From The Air

NOT only music, but news, speeches, messages of every sort, are today being picked out of the air. "How has this come about?" we ask.

The new impetus given to radio development may be definitely associated with the development of the high power vacuum tube, for that made broadcast-ing possible. And the power tube originated from a piece of purely theoretical research, which had no connection with radio.

When a scientist in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company found that electric current could be made to pass through the highest possible vacuum and could be varied according to fixed laws, he established the principle of the power tube and laid the foundation for the "tron" group of devices.

These devices magnify the tiny telephone currents produced by the voice and supply them to the antenna, which broadcasts the messages. At the receiving end, smaller "trons", in turn, magnify the otherwise imperceptible messages coming to them from the receiving antenna.

Great accomplishments are not picked out of the air. Generally, as in this case, they grow from one man's insatiable desire to find out the "how" of things.

Scientific research discovers the facts. Practical applications follow in good time.

BATES HAS AN OFF DAY IN GAME WITH LUNN & SWEET

And Loses 9-3 in a Slow Game Filled with Errors

Lunn & Sweet baseball team, last year's champions of the Industrial League, defeated the Bates regulars in a slow and uninteresting game Saturday afternoon, April 29, to the tune of 9 to 3.

Bates started off strong, scoring two runs in the first inning off Quinn. The Garnet scored again in the third inning when Dagnino singled over short and stole second, advanced to third on Partridge's sacrifice, and scored on Jordan's single. Here the Garnet's scoring stopped as Gaudette replaced Quinn in the box and held the collegians scoreless for the rest of the game.

Lewin started in the box for Bates, twirling beautiful ball for six innings, holding Lunn & Sweet to three hits and one run. He was replaced by Hamilton, who, because of not enough warming up, was not very effective. In the two innings that Hamilton pitched, Lunn & Sweet gathered in enough runs to put the game on ice. Woodman hurled the ninth frame, and Lunn & Sweet added three more runs. The Bates' infield did not play true to form as they made eight errors helping greatly to Lunn & Sweet's victory.

Dagnino played a good game for Bates, hitting well and fielding in errorless fashion. He got on the bases four times, scoring twice. Gaudette was easily the star for the Industrialists.

GARNET DEFEATS NEW HAMPSHIRE STATE IN CLOSE MEET 63½-62½

SHOWS EXCEPTIONAL STRENGTH IN RUNNING EVENTS—TEAM LOOKS GOOD FOR STATE MEET TO-MORROW

The Bates Track team won over New Hampshire State College at Durham last Saturday in a very close and exciting meet. The victory was by the narrow margin of one point, the score being 63½ to 62½. The score was a tie at 58½ points just before the final event, the discus throw which was won by Luce giving the victory to Bates.

The first final event contested was the high hurdles. Burrill did very well running a dead heat with Draper of the State. Jenkins was runner-up scoring for the Garnet.

But a half lap of the mile had gone when Ben Sargent took the lead. He had no trouble holding it and won in easy time. Baker loafed in taking second place. Coughlin took third for the Blue and White.

Arvidson was set back for a false start in the quarter, but despite his three yards handicap he was soon running abreast of Cotton and led him to the tape by several yards. Bates gathered in another point for Bates.

"Cyk" McGinley led to the tape in the two mile with his usual finishing sprint. Kimball was second and Ray Baker, taking a vacation for the day, loomed in third.

"Jake" Landers easily won the 100 over Brown and Perry and completely outstripped his field in the furlong. He was not pressed for time at either distance. Perry and Burns were close in the longer dash with the N. H. man leading at the finish by a small margin over "Bill."

In the low hurdles a unusual incident occurred. Burrill jumped the gun, started back to the mark, but the starter didn't require it. Burrill then started after the others and was just nosed out of a third. Jenkins was second to Gunn of the Dur.

M. D. SOLICITORS BANQUET AT RAND

Campaign Songs Sung and Speeches Made—Much Enthusiasm Shown

The solicitors among the undergraduates for the Million Dollar Fund sat down to a real banquet a week ago last night over in Rand Hall. The menu arranged by Miss Nickerson was complete in every detail and she left nothing undone to make the affair a success. The committee in charge was Alice Jessemann, Chairman, Wayne Davis, and Dwight Libby.

Between courses, Elwood Ireland led the diners in singing some of the "Million Dollar Songs" which produced the desired pep and instilled the kind of spirit it was to make the campus drive of the following day the success it proved to be. With the banquet went several appropriate speeches which served well to give the solicitors the true view of the proposition before the student body regarding the great drive for a million dollars. Dwight Libby, as toastmaster, introduced in the order of classes representatives who reported their respective class action regarding the drive. Wayne Davis, the publicity man, gave a few words of advice which proved most helpful to those present. Jack Spratt was on hand and set the gathering laughing with a joke or two told in the true "Spratt-onian" style. The evening's affair was closed by the singing of the Alma Mater.

BATES HUMBLER NEW HAMPSHIRE STATE 5 TO 4

Shows Ability to Hit Ball When Hits Mean Runs

Daker Slams Long Home Run to Left for Three Scores

Not content with handing N. H. State College defeat in Track, Bates continued their winning streak and put across a win in baseball over the Blue and White. Close ball was played for 6 innings with Bates in the lead 1-0. Costly errors chalked up four runs for the visitors in the sixth. Bates got one back in the latter half of that inning. Then Daker's clout in the seventh with two men on clinched the game 5 to 4.

Bates started the scoring in the first. Kennelley drew a pass; Moulton sacrificed; Kenney was thrown out, Haggerty to Bailey; Kippy Jordan hit driving in the run. Daker was robbed of a hit by driving catch by "Ilike" Fernald finishing the frame.

For four innings there was no scoring. Martin pitched well, allowing but four hits and those scattered. Daker contributed several stellar catches and certainly was pegging well. His second time up he beat out a fast grounder to short but was left on base. Kennelley's running catch in the fifth was good. Cogan pulled one out of the air far back of second.

Two clouts to left field with the bases loaded brought in the N. H. runs. Martin, who had pitched finely gave place

GARNET DROWNED IN CRIMSON FLOOD

And "Harvard 14" Takes on New Meaning—Bates Scoreless

Cambridge, Mass., May 8.—On this date Bates dropped a very uninteresting game to Harvard by the score of 14 to 0. Poor support and several errors aided greatly in the Garnet's defeat. Capt. Spiller, who pitched the whole game, was ineffective to the strong Harvard aggregation, and they secured two home runs, two triples, and six passes from him. Had the proper support been given him by the infielders, no doubt the score would have been much lower. "Joe" Cogan was easily the star on the Garnet team, while all the Harvard players contributed to their victory.

UNDERGRADUATES EXCEED QUOTA IN MILLION DOLLAR DRIVE

All Four Classes Go Over the Top—Juniors Lead Race

When last week's Student was issued, the undergraduate quota of the Million Dollar Fund was rapidly rising and all ready to burst over the flood gates. Perhaps the metaphor should be placed in terms of the race that was depicted on the board in front of Hathorn Hall—anyway, Saturday morning, all four runners broke thru the tape and the first part of the Drive, the most important part from the standpoint of arousing the alumni's and other's enthusiasm, had gone over.

1923 was the first class to pledge the quota, even exceeding to the amount of $20. The response of the Juniors was to their infinite credit, both because of the spirit is displayed and because of the stimulus it rendered the other three classes.

The Seniors followed closely in the pledging, and what was lacking in the three class quotas on Saturday morning was quickly raised in class meetings after chapel.

May marks the beginning of activity among the alumni. And May was started off by the splendid showing of the undergraduates in pledging over the entire quota, a showing which will assuredly reflect in the response of outsiders to the call of the "Milyun."

ANNUAL HIKE TO MT. WASHINGTON

Faculty Votes to Give Excuses from Classes for May 29 to May 31

By a vote of the Faculty at its meeting last Tuesday, permission was granted to the Bates Outing Club to conduct its annual hike to Mt. Washington on the dates of May 29th to May 31st, inclusive, all absences to be excused on those days.

This is a longer period of time than has been granted before and will permit of a longer and more interesting hike. It has been suggested that the trail over the Northern Peaks be followed to Mt. Washington this year, coming down by Tuckerman's Ravine. This route would offer many new points of interest even to those who have gone on the hike the past two years. The Northern Peaks trail ascends Mt. Madison first of all, and then crosses Mt. Adams, Jefferson, and Clay until Mt. Washington is reached finally.

All persons interested in going should give their names to members of the Hiking Committee of the Outing Club: C. E. Purinton, '23, Wesley Gilpatrick, '24, Robert Chandler, '25, and Raymond Bragg, '23.

Bates has been awarded the National Debating Championship by the University of Pennsylvania by reason of her victory last Friday evening at Philadelphia.

No intention to proclaim Bates the National champion in debating has been declared by Professor Baird or anyone connected with the college, owing to the various circumstances under which debates are held. The U. of P., however, advertised last Friday's contest as one for the National championship and at the close of the debate after the judges had voted unanimously for Bates the Pennsylvania men congratulated the Bates team on having won the championship.

The general opinion here at Bates among the students is that our claim to the title is a good one for in twenty-six years Bates has lost only eleven of the fifty-three debates in which she has participated. In none of the nine debates since 1917 have the Bates teams been defeated.

The judges in the Penn debate were men of renown in business and professional circles; John H. Mason, President of the Commercial Trust Co., of Philadelphia.

PROGRESS MADE IN ENGLISH 4A PLAYS

Being Coached by Misses Ineson and Mixer

Plans for the English 4A Plays to be given Friday evening May 19th in the Little Theatre, Hathorn Hall, are progressing rapidly. The players are being coached by Frederic Ineson, '22, and Virginia Mixer, '22, and Professor Baird of the English department is acting as faculty advisor. Miss Eleanor Bradford, '22, will direct the making of costumes for "The Morris Train"—a Medieval tragedy, and Miss Dorothy Colburn, '24, will direct the dances. The scenery for both "The Morris Train" and "Bluff Now and Then" is being designed and painted by Kobe Nagakura. The properties will be in charge of Joseph Charron, '24, and the publicity is being handled by Harold Segal, '24. The proceeds from both plays will go to the Million Dollar Fund.

WORK ON MILLION DOLLAR PLAY GOING ON RAPIDLY

Miss Clifford of New York to Coach Production—Is Graduate of Jordan High

Carl Rounds, '22, chairman of the committee on the "Million Dollar" play feels himself very fortunate in securing the services of Miss Louise D. Clifford of New York as coach to the production.

Miss Clifford is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Clifford of Main St. She is a graduate of Jordan High School and Trinity College. Following her graduation from college she took a full course at the Currie School of Expression in expression, diction, poise, etc. She taught the following year in Milwaukee and for the past year or so has conducted with Miss Gertrude Walsh, a studio in New York City. At present she teaches expression in four of the city's best known schools. After the Bates play is staged Miss Clifford will coach two big pageants, the first by Ursuline Academy and the second by Brentwood students. Miss Clifford is expected to take charge of the play about the 16th. In the meantime Carl Rounds and Miss Gladys Deering are acting as coaches. Everyone is working hard and Miss Clifford will find things in a promising condition when she arrives.

The committee in charge of the play is as follows:
Chairman, Carl Rounds, '22; John Reade, house manager, Miss Gladys Deering, properties; John Fogg, advertising and publicity.

HAVE YOU VOTED?

Don't forget that the Polls close tomorrow at noon for the election of directors to the Bates Outing Club. Have you cast your ballot? Now is the time to do it if you haven't.

THE BATES SPECIAL— ALL ABOARD!

That Bates Special is going to make the little town of Waterville open its eyes and blink hard when the engineer whistles his salutations sometime about midday tomorrow.

The people in that town may not realize that the best little college in the state is just about forty-nine miles down the track from them,—but that is where we come in.

That novelty band is going to be something new. And if the cheering squad does as much in proportion to what the fifty rooters did a couple of years ago at the football game, there won't be any air pressure left for the rest of the state to operate with.

This is one event out of a college career that no one can afford to miss. It won't soon be forgotten.

Rarely do we have as good a track team to support as the one Coach Jenkins has trained this season.

For the last time, we shall see Ray Baker run in a State Meet. Do you want to be able to say that you were there when he ran for the last time in a Maine intercollegiate meet? There's no negative to a question like that.

OLD SLOGANS AND THE NEW DRIVE

"Over the Top" is the most familiar way in which we can describe the raising of the quota by the students of Bates.

We have shown by writing on the dotted line that we are with the movement for a better Bates, heart and soul,—and pocketbook.

This phrase "Over the Top" is misleading, however. The fight is not done; it is just begun. This pledging of subscriptions is but the criterion of our sincerity.

"Carry on" is the watch-word we need to use in completing what we have begun. We may do this by not relaxing a bit in our efforts, but by throwing the weight of our influence in other channels. For example, the next most conspicuous thing on the program is the big undergraduate play at the Empire Theater.

So let us not ease up on the program, but merely grit our teeth a little harder and "Carry On."

ANOTHER SCALP FOR OUR DEBATERS

Another victory to add to our list of successive victories since 1917! Fifty-three debates in our history and only eleven defeats.

There is a story to be told that does not appear in a casual inspection. These victories testify to a system of coaching which has developed the art of argumentation to the nth degree.

This last debate tells also the story of sterling individual ability as well as of a well rounded team. The debate was won in the rebuttal work, where most of all the individual worth of each speaker is tried.

So we owe praise not only to the men who have coached Bates teams, but also the three particular men who proved their superiority over their opponents from the University of Pennsylvania in such a telling way.

This last debate is noteworthy also because it marks the last debate of one man in particular. Robert B. Watts well deserves the title of "Peer of Bates debaters." He has made a record that has never been equalled in Bates, or it would be safe to say, in any other college. That one man should be the mainstay of eight successful debating teams, exclusive of the Oxford debate, is something not soon to be forgotten.

Hats off to our debaters! They have made Bates famous in intellectual circles as our athletes have in the world of sports.

SOCIETIES

JORDAN SCIENTIFIC SOCIETY

The regular meeting of the Jordan Scientific Society was held Wednesday evening in Carnegie Science Building. Election of officers occupied the most prominent part of the program. After much balloting Edward F. Roberts, '23, was elected President. The other two officers elected for next year are Chairman of Executive Committee, Paul Robinson, '23, and Secretary, Frederick C. Noyes. President Bailey announced the results of a letter to the Portland Chamber of Commerce with regard to the annual trip of the society. The society voted to take the trip to Portland to investigate various industrial plants and schools on May 24. As the lure of spring and of co-eduation was greater than that of science, the meeting was adjourned early.

PHIL-HELLENIC

The Senior members of the Phil-Hellenic Club presented a most interesting program before the Club at its regular meeting held on Tuesday evening last. The main item of the program consisted of a short drama entitled "Gorgo." This was well presented with splendid Greek settings. Two musical numbers by Misses Blackmore and Hayward were rendered. They were much enjoyed. The Club holds its last meeting of the College year on the evening of the 23rd. This will be an open meeting and a splendid program has been arranged.

SPOFFORD CLUB

Spoftford Club met at the usual time in Libbey Forum, Tuesday evening. Amy Blaisdell read a book-review of the novel Far to Seek, a romance of England and India, by Maud Diver.

Walter Gavigan read an original one-act play called Deaf Ears, which portrayed the ethics of a doctor's profession, and the tragic consequences of ignoring them for one evening.

MACFARLANE

The Macfarlane Club held a very interesting meeting at the home of David Thompson last Monday evening. It was popular song night and the following members took part: Vocal solos, Miss Florence Fernald and Miss Marjory Pillsbury; piano solo, David Thompson; instrumental trio, John Fogg, Neil Conant and David Thompson; violin solo, Neil Conant; cello solo, Ruth Leader. Popular songs were sung the rest of the evening.

Y. W. C. A.

The World Fellowship Committee had charge of the Y. W. C. A. meeting Wednesday evening. Miss Vera Eldridge was the leader and Miss Margaret Mahan the soloist. Miss Euterpe Boukis, Miss Pearl Huskins, Miss Dorothy Fisk and Miss Ann Brookings took part in a dialogue entitled "Alaska."

PRESS CLUB

The last meeting of the Press Club was held in the Conference Room in Chase Hall. The feature of the evening was a most interesting talk by Mr. Wood, Editor of The Sun, on the ideal editorial and how it is obtained. During the business meeting which took place directly after the talk, various reports were given, and officers for the ensuing year elected as follows:

President—Harris C. Palmer.

Vice-Pres.—Amy V. Blaisdell.

Sec'y-Treas.—Elsie F. Brickett.

RAMSDALL SCIENTIFIC

Ramsdall Scientific Society met in Carnegie Science Hall, Thursday evening, May 4. Two very interesting papers were read: "The Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes," by Izetta Lidstone, '22; and "Conic Sections," by Katherine O'Brien, '22, read by Helen Waddell in the absence of Miss O'Brien.

Election of officers resulted thus: Theodora Barentzen, president; Mabel Simmons, secretary. The vice president will be chosen from the new members to be elected soon.

CO-EDS BOOST DRIVE

The sandwich sale on the campus for the benefit of the Million Dollar Drive seems to be a huge success. The co-eds are in charge, each class taking its turn for a week at a time. The first week was given to the Seniors, Marion Drew in charge. The profits realized were about $25. The Juniors next with Mildred Baker in charge, netted about $30 profit. The Sophomores are now doing duty with Vivian Milliken as leader. Let the good work go on! Feed the profs, and incidentally feed yourself!

This is the coolest column in the Student. Observe our bootiful, lukurisan shade tree above. Come, cool your fevered brow beneath its abundant foliage.

Did you ever notice what a bunch of stretchers, we are. We stretch our necks, our dollars, the truth and finally we ourselves are carried out,—on stretchers.

She (critically): "I never could see much in those crepe de chine dresses."

He (also a critic): "Probably you never looked at them in the right light."

—Colgate Banner.

"Fools can ask questions wise men can't answer," replied a professor to a catch question asked by one of his students.

"Is that why I flunked the mid-year exam in this subject," piped up the fellow in the back row.

Johnny, at poultry show; "Ma, let's wait until they let the animals loose."

Mother: "They don't let the animals loose."

Johnny: "Last night Pa said to Uncle Henry, 'Let's stick around a while. We might get a chance to pick up a couple of chickens.'" —Judge.

Figuratively speaking of a biological term, immunity is an easy thing to recover from.

"I'm cutting a great figure," said the chorus girl as she sat on a broken bottle.

—Lord Jeff.

"Is the world round or flat?"

"Neither."

"What is it, then?"

"Crooked."

—Yale Record.

ALUMNI

'97—Dr. and Mrs. E. K. Sprague have moved back to Brooklyn, New York, and are living at Dorchester Road and E. 21st Street.

Richard Stanley, '97, and Professor Pomeroy, '99, will again be the Bates delegates to the Association of New England Colleges for Conference on Athletics.

The Class of 1902 is making enthusiastic plans for a reunion this year. A trip to Poland Springs and one to Lake Taconoma are among the features already decided upon.

'03—Roger W. Nichols of South Portland won the fifty dollar prize offered last week by the Lewiston Journal for the best advertisement.

'12—Frank E. Sleeper, Jr., principal of Litchfield Academy, was a visitor at the college last Monday. The academy has just been put on the specimen list of schools approved by the New England College Entrance Certificate Board.

'15—Gertrude H. Merrill recently received an appointment as missionary nurse in Rhodesia and may sail in June.

The second of the local Alumnae food sales will be held on Friday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Tilton, of Oskosh, Wisconsin, announce the engagement of their daughter, Helen, to Solomon Everett Cook, Bates '09.

TEA DANSANT

One of the most delightful social events of the year was the informal Tea-Dance given by Miss Niles and Miss Nickerson for the benefit of the Drive, last Wednesday afternoon at Chase Hall. The reception room was very attractively decorated with shaded lamps, rubber plants and cut flowers.

Mrs. W. R. Whitehorn and Mrs. J. E. Coburn poured, assisted by Mrs. Blanche Roberts, Mrs. R. W. Rowe and Miss Mabel Eaton.

Music was furnished for the dancing by the college orchestra.

Among the guests were many wives of the members of the Trustee Board, also many students.

SPORT NOTES

Keep your eye on these boys tomorrow in their respective races—in the 100 and 220, "Jake" Landers, in the 440—"Archie" in the 880—Sanella, in the mile—Sargent, and the 2 mile—our champion.

Leroy Luce came through and copped the track meet for us Saturday, against New Hampshire State. This was the first time that N. H. has been beaten in a dual meet in six years.

"Bill" Guiney's football squad take up a goodly portion of Gareelon field as they move through their daily workouts. The team ought to average nearly 200 lbs. in the line next year.

The baseball team make their southern trip beginning next Wednesday, when they open with Tufts at Medford; then, Mass. Aggies, Conn. Aggies, and N. H. State, follow in succession.

From the pen of John Gormley—"I thought Harvard 14 was a no-book."

Luce had the misfortune to foul twice in the finals of the discus. One of them was beyond the 120 mark, too. It surely was fortunate that his one fair throw was beyond anything that the Blue and White could produce as the meet hinged on winning that final event.

Points for Bates were lost when the officials ruled "Mike" Wilson out on a foul. "Mike" won it at 10 ft. 6 last year.

Bates took first place in every running event except the low hurdles. The Garnet's score for the running events alone was 49½ against 22½ for the "State."

It looks as if Billy Mennix's name is going to leave the record books tomorrow. Good luck, "Archie"!

Last Saturday Bunker proved that he is more than a great runner.

"Johnny" Daker surely put that N. H. game in the bag and sewed it right up, too. If John keeps that up the other Maine colleges will have to outfit their outfielders with motorcycles. He played a "mean" game at third base, too, accepting 11 out of 12 chances.

Martin pitched a great game. It was his first appearance with the varsity. He came out in the sixth to allow a man to bat for him.

"Peanut" surely had them breaking their backs on his drop. "Bob" certainly has to work when the southpaw's curves are breaking.

Waterville or bust!

A COMMUNICATION

Dear Editor:—

Freshmen should know the Alma Mater and be able to sing the same correctly; even an upperclassman will admit that contention. The puzzle is why don't they? The student body is gathered in the grandstand, or any other place of assembly and this is what greets our ears:

Here's to Bates our Alma Mater dear,
Proudest and fairest and so on very nicely for four lines.
Long may her praises resound is heard from the co-eds and some of the Freshmen; but softly; there is surely something rotten in the state of Denmark for our loyal upper classmen with a vehemence that does credit to their training in Oratory I, II, III are proclaiming:

Here's to the Garnet, hurrah!
Here's to the pluck that
... exalt her name. Who butted in on our chorus! Probably some Freshman who did not know any better. In the meantime we save our wind for the second verse. It starts off mightily, goes fairly well for four lines, and then the organ loses its wind. There is an overgrown cesura and then off to one side:

Here's to the Garnet, hurrah!
Of course! We had it right the first time. In a grand rush of sound we pledge "To our Bates and all she means to us" and hope that her glories may "shine while time endures."

That is about it is it not? A little weak in places but if the Freshmen would learn their Alma Mater and sing it together, the total results would be improved. Why don't they?

ham team and was followed by Draper. Sanella ran a great race in the half. "Archie" took the lead at the start and led for about a lap heading the field. Sanella ran his last quarter fast; "Archie" followed him to the tape, and Coughlin took third.

Hamilton went to the rubber in the seventh and pitched airtight ball allowing but one hit. Bates put the game on ice in the latter half of this inning. Rowe doubled; Jordan got his third hit and took second on a drawn throw. Daker caught the second ball pitched just right. It went on a line far over the left fielder's head and rolled to the other side of Burwell street. It was as sweet a wallop as has ever been seen on Garcelon field. Johnny certainly showed some speed on the base paths but he didn't need to; he could have walked and scored a home run on a tap like that.

The Blue and White batters couldn't touch "Peanut." Their only threat was in the eighth and Daker's fielding saved the day again.

Partridge caught a fine game. "Kippy" Jordan accepted some tough chances and got 3 out of 4 at the bat. It was a steady game except for the sixth inning. The team is fast rounding into shape and should go well on their trip next week.

BATES WINS NATIONAL DEBATING CHAMPIONSHIP

delphia; W. Patterson Atkinson, Assistant General Manager of Wanamaker's; and C. A. Phillips, Professor of Economics and Head of the Department of Business Administration at the University of Iowa. They voted 3 to 0 in favor of the Bates team who had the affirmative of the proposition, "Resolved that the United States should cancel the debts owed it by the Allied nations."

Two of the Bates debaters, Robert B. Watts and J. William Ashton have appeared for the last time as undergrad debaters and have established a remarkable record. Mr. Ashton has appeared in two debates, making his varsity debut in the Yale debate this year. Mr. Watts, one of the most remarkable debaters to ever represent Bates has appeared in eight intercollegiate debates and has the record of having never been a member of a losing team. Throughout his college career he has proven himself a keen, fair-minded debater, as well as a forceful and convincing speaker. Bates is losing much in parting with these two men.

William E. Young, the third member of the Penn team, has taken part in three debates. Unlike Watts and Ashton, he has two more years before him in which to continue to uphold the Bates laurels in debating.

On Saturday following the U. of P. debate the Bates team with their coach, Professor Baird, who accompanied them on the trip, were entertained at Delmonico's in New York by the New York Alumni. Professor Baird and Mr. Watts spoke for the debaters. Prof. Stanley Howard, '10, now at Princeton, and Miss Marion Conn, '09, of the Million Dollar executive committee, spoke for the alumni.

Did they lather with Soap-stone in the Neolithic Age?

CAVE men had whiskers. Then one day John W. Troglodyte hacked them off with a hunk of sharp bronze and discovered—that men had faces.

Faces are more popular than whiskers. Williams' helped. The J. B. Williams Company made the first real shaving soap ever manufactured in this country.

Jones '77 used Williams'—no other. And now Jones '22 uses one of the finest Williams' Shaving Soap that Williams knows how to make—Williams' Shaving Cream.

Lather? Rather. Rich and thick and quick. Once over is usually enough if you use Williams'.

SPOFFORD CLUB IS UNIQUE PART OF CAMPUS LIFE

Literary Society Holds Weekly Meetings in Libbey Forum

ANNUAL PLAY A FEATURE

For some reason having its basis, probably, in fiction pertaining to that colony of artists in the bud or authors in the seed known as Greenwich Village, there has grown in public consciousness a distorted conception of literary clubs, their composition, their purpose, their methods. Unbound hair, loose bath robes, flowing ties, discussion in highbrow phrase of Sandburg, Neo-Cymric Realism, Van Lerberghe, and Temperamental Differences of Maeterluek and Edgar Guest are thought to form an essential part of such a club's program. Perhaps they do, but it is the purpose of this article to tell something of a clubby little club which manages to keep burning a small clear flame at the Altar of Literature without recourse to anything of the sort.

Spoofford Club was organized in 1910 and named in honor of the late Professor Spoofford, Professor of English at Bates College. Its membership is limited to fifteen men and women from the three upper classes. It holds weekly meetings in Libbey Forum where discussions and original work in poetry, essay, or story writing form the program. Three members usually offer their work at each meeting, two with original work and one with a review of some recent book. Professor A. Craig Baird is the honorary faculty member, and his interest and enthusiasm play no small part in keeping alive the spirit of Spoofford.

Spoofford Night, on which plays written by club members are presented to the public, usually in Hathorn Hall, has become a real institution at Bates. It was cancelled this year in order that members might give their time to the "Million Dollar" Play to be given at the Empire.

Social activities? Good times? Spoofford members hold rich memories of many such—long sleigh rides ending in a majority of frost-bitten noses, soon relieved, however, by deep quaffs of rich oyster stew and hot coffee or cocoa, followed by a restful hour before a roaring open fire—place—bacon bats and steak suppers beneath the dusky haze of an Autumn sunset—clambakes among the crags and rocks of the old Maine coast—these and the bonds of comradeship result in that rare thing, a study club which is a successful mixture of work and play.

The club will be greatly depleted by the loss by graduation of ten members, leaving quite a gap to be filled during the coming year by ambitious underclassmen.

If from the growth of knowledge of literature, from the encouragement by helpful criticism, from the friendship forged by the good times enjoyed together, if from any or all of these, Spoofford has added something, no matter how small, to the mental—and, yes, physical—breadth and stature of its members, then it has not existed in vain.

HINTON '17, WRITES FROM FAR MANDALAY

Finds School Work Hindered by National Movement Under Hand

Mandalay, Burma, February 11, 1922.
To the Bates Student:

When the Baptists called for the One Hundred Million Dollars I was preaching in a little town in Massachusetts. My church was not enthusiastically missionary and I tried to educate them. For that purpose I had to inform myself more thoroughly on the topic. The more I read of Mission work, the more I became convinced that here was a "front-line trench" of moral and religious warfare to me. We put through the drive and then I went to the office of the American Baptist Missionary Society and enlisted for educational work in Burma. Almost the same day the Secretary received a cablegram from Mandalay asking for a Principal for the Boys' High School here. Being assigned to this position I obtained permission to take a special course at Columbia Teachers' College during the Summer Session. In September I was married to Miss Marion Beckley of Cincinnati, Ohio, a graduate of the University of Cincinnati in the class of 1919. On December 11th, we set sail (Continued on Page Two)

ENGLISH 4A PLAYS TO 11 GIVEN TO- NIGHT AT HATHORN

Original Work of Sophomores Million Dollar Fund Gets Proceeds

Tonight in the Little Theatre, Hathorn Hall the English 4A Players will present a program of original one act plays consisting of "The Morrice Train—A Medieval Tragedy" by Walter V. Gavigan, '24, and "Bluff Now and Then—A Modern Comedy" by Father C. Kisk, '24. Both plays were written in English 4A and are to be interpreted by casts chosen from the Sophomore class because of their tested dramatic ability. The prologue to "The Morrice Train"—the scene of which is fourteenth century England, will be read by William E. Young, President of the Sophomore class. During the course of the play Miss Dorothy Coburn, a pupil of Miss Bernice Ham will render interpretive dances assisted by the Misses Childs, Sanborn, Howe, Stevens, Hutchinson and Bannister. A program of old English music will be carried out by a picked orchestra. The soloists will be Elizabeth Powers and Catherine Stone of the Sophomore class. The second play "A Bluff Now and Then" is an amusing comedy of everyday office life, replete with the ever-pleasing element of humor and with sparkling dialogue.

Owing to the fact that the proceeds of the entertainment are to be handed over to the Million Dollar Fund, student support is solicited. Each and every student who has the welfare of Bates at heart should turn out and encourage this initial dramatic movement on the campus. Bates like all other live, progressive colleges, needs a dramatic club on her campus that will give prospective English teachers actual laboratory work in ancient theatrical work and at the same time create higher standards of dramatic criticism and appreciation among the student body at large. Such a club will soon become a reality providing the English 4A Players are assured of your hearty support.

GARNET GETS 9 HITS BUT TUFTS WINS 4-0

Passes and Stolen Bases Figure Heavily

Medford, Mass., May 17—Bates lost to Tufts, 4 to 0, this afternoon. The Maine men outthrew the victors but Colucci, for Tufts, prevented the visitors from bunting up their bingles, and this with the airtight defense held the Bates men safe at all times.

Spiller hurled effectively for Bates in practically every inning. Seven hits were all the Tufts men could gather but one of these was a triple by Loud, and another was a home run, contributed by Roche.

A formidable array of stolen bases off the Bates battery men figured prominently in the scoring, the Medford men capturing no less than 10 during the nine stanzas, four of the number by Wearer alone. Spiller also helped out the enemy with seven free passes.

Kennelly and Cogan, both of Bates were the only men able to garner more than one hit during the afternoon, one of Kennelly's being a vicious double. The box score:

U. of M. Shows Ability to Hit in Pinches—Price's Wildness Fatal

On May 12, Maine defeated Bates 6 to 4 in a very interesting game. Price pitched a good game for the Garnet except for his wildness, which proved fatal. Three of the five men who he passed scored, and one of the three men hit by pitched balls scored also. But for this the Garnet would have easily emerged victors in her first Maine series game.

The visitors took the lead in the first inning when P. Johnson brought in King who had been walked, stole second, and had been advanced by Sargent's hit.

However, the Bates men were hot on the trail of the U. of M. team, and they scored three runs in the next frame. Jordan walked, and Daker advanced him to third with a two bouncer. Cogan hit to Jovett, and Jordan was caught off third. Dimick reached first on Sargent's error. Partridge hit sharply to right, and after (Continued on Page Three)

PHIL-HELENES TO HOLD OPEN MEETING NEXT TUESDAY

Next Tuesday evening, at 7.30, the Phil-Hellenic Club will hold an open meeting at Hathorn Hall. The program has been so arranged that each part will bear in some measure upon the life and work of Sophocles, one of the greatest tragedians of all time. All those who are interested in ancient Greek literature will certainly enjoy the following program:

- "Athens at the Time of Sophocles" Mildred Baker
- "Life of Sophocles," Herbert A. Carroll
- "Contemporaries of Sophocles" Delora Smith
- "The Antigone of Oedipus at Colonus" Ernest Robinson
- Pantomime of three scenes of "Oedipus at Colonus" by members of the Club.

The 26th Annual Track and Field Meeting of the M. I. C. A. A. last Saturday saw Bowdoin lead the field with 55½ points. Bates was second with 32 points; Maine, third with 28½ points. Colby was out of the race with 9 points. Buker and McGinley both broke the two mile record held by T. P. Preti of Maine. Buker's time was 9m. 45 1-5s. and "Cyk" did 9m. 51 1-5s. in comparison with the old record of 9m. 54 2-5s.

The first setback for Bates was in the mile run. Sargent was favored to win over Webster of Maine. However, Herick of the U. of M., who was expected to run in the two mile shifted to the shorter distance and snatched a victory away from the Garnet. Ben ran a fine race but the veteran cross-country man was too strong on the finish.

"Archie" was placed in the fourth lane from the pole. This poor position prevented his getting the lead and he was boxed for the first furlong. He was forced to run the outside of the turn covering more distance than his opponent. When he finally broke from the box he made a desperate effort to gain the lead but his strength was gone. Lawrence of Maine broke the tape in 51s. tying the record held by "Billy" Meunier of Colby. Foran of Colby was close on his heels and in turn was followed by Archibald.

Landers got a poor start in the short dash and was forced to give way to Butler of Bowdoin. Hearon of Colby finished third.

Hardy of Bowdoin broke the vorsted in the high hurdles. Jenkins of Bates and Young of Colby were disqualified for having knocked down three hurdles apiece. There has been some question concerning Jenkins' disqualification as Hardy struck one of the hurdles in the (Continued on Page Three)

LAST CALL FOR MT. WASHINGTON HIKE

Now Is the Time to Put in Your Name if You Have Not Done So

Arrangements are fast nearing completion for the annual outing club hike. The trail followed this year will take in the summit of Mt. Washington as usual, but will include some other peaks not climbed before.

Some of the points of interest that will be seen are the Glen Ellis Falls, Crystal Cascade in Tuckerman's Ravine, Hermit Lake, Lakes-of-the-Clouds, summit of Mt. Washington, all the peaks of the Northern Presidential Range.

It is planned to start early Monday morning, May 29th, and to return Wednesday in time for the play in the evening.

Names should be handed in at once to the members of the hiking committee, C. E. Parinotto, chairman, Wesley Gilpatrick, Robert Chandler, and Raymond Bragg, or to Russell P. Taylor, President.

BATES SECOND SWAMPS HALLOWELL 19-6

Only Seven Innings Played Collegians Get 3 Home Runs

The Bates Freshmen won from Hallowell High at Garcelon Field, yesterday, 19 to 6. They scored 13 runs before Carboneau gave way to Johnson and then stopped trying. Woodman hurled for the collegians and served them up on the "let them hit" plan. The visitors managed to connect for a dozen safeties but until the closing innings couldn't count consistently.

Hallowell didn't get here until about 5 o'clock so only seven innings were played. After the second inning the game lost all appearance of a contest.

Cleaves, Kenney, Jordan and Woodman shared the hitting honors. Kenney drove in five runs and Cleaves 4. Cleaves, Kenney and Jordan each got a homer. Cleaves got three hits for nine bases and scored four runs. Kenney got two hits for six and also crossed the plate on four occasions.

THE SPRING OF THE YEAR

The spring is the morning of the year.

It is then old Mother Earth wakes up and stirs herself from the long sleep of winter. New energy in Nature expresses itself in the green grass and the springing flowers.

The student, looking down from his window, sees all and feels the urge to make frolic. Zest for the out-of-doors follows swiftly upon the heels of loathing for the dreary routine of the past months.

It is a difficult period for the "profs." While the student can hardly be prevented from gazing out of the class-room window, the instructor must steer straight on, like a Captain without a crew.

Spring has its dangers for the student. The last lap of a course is always perilous, for it is then the runner feels that it is all useless anyway and the goal never seems so far away as then.

Yet the new season is a blessing. It is the antidote for the lethargy of winter. If the new life and vigor can be harnessed and controlled, the student will find in it a storehouse of strength for the completion of the course.

LITERARY SEDATIVES

This is the day of the best seller and the popular fiction magazine.

New books are tasting the printer's ink more than ever before, notwithstanding the persistence of war prices. The mails are choked with publisher's announcements of this and that startling literary achievement. And the books are largely of the type that flourish and fade in a day.

The magazines that have upheld a high standard of literature seem to be in the minority. The all-fiction numbers are becoming more prominent.

The salient thing about these best sellers and cheap fiction magazines is that they have a certain power to hold the interest, while they do not contribute anything to the thought of the reader. They act as a dope to the mind of him who reads. They dull the incentive to seek what is good and is a stimulus to thought.

The interest in real literature has waned so rapidly that now we have to be coaxed to read by such advertisements as that one we see so frequently: "Fifteen minutes a day."

But we never find the fifteen minutes.

The reader who wants to find the best in literature and make it his own must decide in advance that he will avoid the surface scum and seek for the pure water beneath. The two do not mix.

JOURNALISTIC MUDSLINGING

As it is, the notoriety which has been imposed upon Bates during the past two weeks is distasteful in the extreme; had it come from a more highly respected source, however, it would have been more serious.

It is as commonplace to say that a person who is foul and filthy himself begrudges to anyone else the appearance of cleanliness.

And so this occasion which presented itself to our most prominent "yellow journal" to distribute some of its own squalor was an opportunity not to be missed.

The so-called "exposure", however, is not so vital as it might have been, because the sensational story made up by this metropolitan daily sprung from the severity of the college authorities in dealing with a breach of college discipline, and was not a revelation of un-molested evils.

The reputation of Bates is not seriously endangered by the scare-heads of a "yellow journal." Rather than attempt to argue with those who conduct such sheets, let them wallow in their own mire.

HINTON. '17 WRITES FROM FAR MANDALAY

from San Francisco. The journey was long and rough but we arrived safely in Rangoon, February 11th, and here in Mandalay, February 17th, 1921. The School closed on March 23rd, and as Rev. Tribolet wanted to close up his work and go home to America, I took over charge of the school March 24th, as Principal.

I found the school very much depleted by the recent School Boys' Strike which was a part of the move for Nationalism and an echo of the Non-Cooperation Movement in India, headed by Mr. Gandhi, of which you have doubtless read. From an enrollment of 250 boys the school dropped to 112 when it closed in March. We hoped that the movement was a passing one and that the new year would find the school with full numbers. But the school year is nearly over and the most we have had enrolled at any one time was 151. There are slightly better prospects for the coming year. I am exerting every effort to induce the old boys to return next year and to bring new ones back with them.

It may be of interest to point out that education here is on the voluntary basis. All the students in all the schools, whether the schools are under Government or Private management, are in voluntary attendance. This is true even of the lowest grade schools throughout the province, there is no compulsory education here. Hence, the school-offering and producing the most for the least money usually gets the most boys or girls. Fortunately the people want an education. Because we have to compete with Government schools for our students we must maintain a very high standard of efficiency in all our work.

Please do not express your ignorance of world progress by expecting me to relate some blood and thunder stories of experiences here with lions, tigers, or snakes. I live well within the city limits of Mandalay, a city of 140,000 circ. We have electric lights, electric cars, telephones, newspapers, automobiles, motorcycles and although we have no air ships in the city, one did fly over here a few weeks ago. The streets are not like our city streets but are very good metal roads. I went from here to Maymyo (43 miles) and returned Saturday making the trip each way in slightly less than 2 hours. On the way I passed through some very wild jungle, but the only wild things I saw was a flock of very beautiful but very harmless pheasants, sunning themselves. You surely are not interested in motorcycle incidents or accidents as the case might be. I have had a few of the former but fortunately so far have had none of the other. My incidents have been very tame indeed, such as killing a few of the neighbors' dogs and chickens, and trying my bunting power against the rear end of a cow. I did collide with a bullock cart the other day but fortunately did no damage to any one or any thing. The bullock cart is the general mode of travel here. They are very rapidly moving vehicles indeed. It takes two days to go to Maymyo over exactly the same road that I travelled last Saturday in two hours.

I do get some very amusing letters at times from some parent wishing to place his son in the school or wishing to take his son out. My lower standard and teachers have had little or no training in English, all their work being in Burmese. It has long been the custom in the Mission schools for the teachers to pay 1/20th of their salary toward the local pastor's salary, the Principal deducting this amount from the salary and paying it into the church treasury. My first standard teacher had some slight differences with the pastor not long since and wrote me this very explicit letter: "Dear Principal, Please do not let the Pastor's subscription out of my salary any more as I am not spontaneous to pay it."

Last but not least, on July 22, I became the proud father of a small but by no means insignificant son. He on his part, on February 9th, became the proud possessor of a tooth. He gets up his lung exercises occasionally and I tell his mother that he is only getting in trim to root for Bates in the not distant future.

As ever yours for Bates,

H. E. HINTON, '17.

SOCIETIES

SPOFFORD CLUB

Spoofford Club was honored with the presence of Mrs. Pomeroy on Tuesday evening in Libbey Forum. The program consisted of a very interesting book-review of White Shadows of the South Seas read by David Thompson.

Edward Stickney read a further adventure in the life of the tramp character, Rooty-Toot, he has created, with his dog Turpentine. The new realism was discussed with great interest.

Mrs. Pomeroy told the members something of the family of Professor Spoofford, for whom the club was named, after which the Spooffordites adjourned.

Y. W. C. A.

The Maqua committee had charge of the last Y. W. C. A. meeting. A day at Maqua was portrayed by Elizabeth Powers, Izetta Lidstone, Vivian Milliken and Rosalind Knight.

The purpose of the program was to promote interest among the girls in the Student Conference held at Camp Maqua for ten days in the last part of June and first of July.

SENIORITY

Seniority met on Thursday, May 11 at 6.45 P. M., in Fiske Room, Band Hall. After a brief discussion of the report of the pin and gift committees, this interesting program followed:

Piano Duet
Maud Hayward and Mayvorette Blackman
Readings from Robert Service

Ruth Cullen
Readings from Edgar Guest

Mildred Starbird

Muriel Wills

"Immo Solo"
The next meeting will be the Mountain Meeting. Old members do not need to be urged to be present. The new members are particularly invited. Readings by Dr. Hartsborn will be the feature of the evening.

Ramsdell Scientific Visits Augusta

On May 13, several of the members of the Ramsdell Scientific Society with Miss Niles, the club advisor, visited institutions of scientific interest in Augusta. By the kindness of Secretary George C. Clarke, of the Augusta Chamber of Commerce, the following interesting trip was made:

At 9 A. M., the Club visited the State House, the chief interest being centered in the Museum. At 11:00, the Holman Day moving picture studio claimed attention. At noon, the all important event of lunch was successfully and enjoyably staged in Garretson Park, one of Maine's beauty spots.

The plans for the afternoon included the Augusta State Hospital and the Rhine Mansion. The party returned to the college at three o'clock, after a most enjoyable and interesting trip. A rising note of thanks is due Miss Niles for her interesting companionship and leadership and for the safe transportation of the members in her car.

DEUTSCHER VEREIN ELECTS OFFICERS

The Deutscher Verein initiated five new members at an especially good meeting Monday, May 15th, in Libbey Forum. The trembling candidates were thoroughly quizzed on their knowledge of German and its affairs, and to push their grades to the passing mark were requested to comply with sundry commands, not entirely pleasant. The members initiated were Mabel H. Plummer, Beatrice Adams, Allison Laing, Elsie Roberts, and Paul Robinson.

At a short business meeting preceding the initiation, the following officers were elected for 1922-23: Paul Wolynec, president; Esther Kisk, vice-president; and Alice Blouin, secretary-treasurer. The new officers will take charge at the next meeting. A committee was appointed to draw up plans for a social in the near future. It was voted to make the present Deutscher Verein pin its permanent insignia, and to incorporate its design and description into the by-laws of the club.

"Are you a detective?"

"No, an undertaker."

A Navy Officer is back from France with a brand new sea-sick story. An amateur aviator, making his first trip across is the victim, and the first day out he was in the throes of the mal-est made mer extant when the ship surgeon visited him in his stateroom.

"O-o-h", was the only response as the young navy man rolled over in agony.

Doctor—"Come get up the ship's been submarined and will sink in ten minutes."

THEM AT-A-LETIC GIRLS

"I wanted to kiss her so badly that I stuck my mouth out at her."

"What did she do?"

"Put her foot down on it."

HE CHECKED

He—(about to propose, but wishing to make sure that she was a competent girl)

"Can you wash dishes?"

She—"Yes, can you wipe them?"

He didn't propose.

ANXIOUS

An undersized Italian was married to a strapping German woman. Recently he received a black hand letter which read: "If you don't give $1,000 to our messenger who will call Sunday for it we will kidnap your wife."

He replied promptly: "I do not have the $1,000, but your proposition interests me greatly.—Pitt Panther."

MUSIC A LA SCOTLAND

The S. C. Ten Campbell Band which played at Waterville Saturday was a distinct success. The success lay in the fact that the kilts were distinct from the plaid socks. In fact, some of the youngsters were so stunned by the barbarous colors that they snatched the kilts away from the Scotchmen and rendered an open air concert of their own. An attempt was made to play Yankee Doodle, but the drummers persisted in beating taps while the bagpipers, which were being maneuvered by a young man who had taken a correspondence school course which enabled him to play any instrument at sight, emitted phantom shrieks like those of a lost soul.

LAW STUDENTS

THE BOSTON UNIVERSITY LAW SCHOOL

Trains students in principles of the law and the technique of the profession and prepares them for active practice wherever the English system of law prevails. Course for LL.B. requires three school years.

Beginning in the Autumn of 1923, one year in college will be required for admission. In 1925 the requirement will probably be two years in college.

Special Scholarships $75 per year to college graduates.

When H₂O Isn't Water

"GENTLEMEN" said the Chem. Prof., at the end of the term, "You'll probably remember only one thing of all I've tried to teach you. And that is that Water is H₂O—and then you'll be wrong."

Even shaving soap isn't always shaving soap. A correct shaving preparation like Williams' Shaving Cream must do a lot more than simply make a lather.

—It must be generous with its lather. It must be thick and creamy in cold water or hot.

—It must hold its moisture. Williams' will not "freeze" dry on your face.

—It must soften your beard right down to the very roots.

—It must prepare your face for quick, gentle shaving. Williams' is so pure and wholesome that it actually helps the most tender skin.

Try it—

BATES 2nd—BUKER BREAKS RECORD

Bates' man's lane before Jenkins reached it. Burrill was awarded second place. Sannella took the lead in the half and led through most of the race breaking the wind for Hunt of Bowdoin. The finest quarter was fast, too fast. Coming by the home stretch Hunt pulled up on Sannella. Frank fought hard but was finally forced to yield the lead. He made a final but ineffectual attempt to regain it just at the finish.

Hard luck now took a crack at Bates. Landers, who has been bothered with a strained tendon for a week was warming up for the furlong when the tendon snapped, rendering him unable to even walk to the dressing room. He had won his heat in a walk in the forenoon in the same time that won the afternoon race. Butler of Bowdoin won, followed by Lawrence and Thomas. Burns fought hard for a place but was noosed out at the finish.

Baker took the lead in the two-mile race on the second lap. "Cyk" followed him and for five laps measured strides with "Ray." The Bates runners pulled away from the field on the sixth lap. "Cyk" stuck with Baker until the gun when the champion started his usual sprint. Baker came down the home stretch amid the cheers of all four colleges. He broke the tape in record time and was back at the finish urging his colleague on. McKeeman of Maine finished a poor third.

Burrill ran a great race in the low hurdles finishing first with a great lead over Young of Colby and Hardy of Bowdoin.

Luce won the discus with a heave of 118.23 ft. Tootell of Bowdoin was second and Parsons of Maine, third.

The only other field event in which Bates figured was the running broad jump. Batten took a third in that event.

The summary:

One-Mile Run—Won by Herriek, Maine; Sargent, Bates, second; Webster, Maine, third. Time, 4m 35s.

440-Yard Dash—Won by Lawrence, Maine; Form, Colby, second; Archibald, Bates, third. Time, 51s.

100-Yard Dash—Won by Butler, Bowdoin; Landers, Bates, second; Heaton, Colby, third. Time, 10 1-5s.

120-Yard Hurdles—Won by Hardy, Bowdoin; Burrill, Bates, second. Time 16 3-5s.

880-Yard Run—Won by Hunt, Bowdoin; Sannella, Bates, second; Perkins, Colby, third. Time, 2m 1 1-5s.

220-Yard Dash—Won by Butler, Bowdoin; Lawrence, Maine, second; Thomas, Maine, third. Time, 23 1-5s.

Two-Mile Run—Won by Baker, Bates; McShuley, Bates, second; McKeeman, Maine, third. Time, 9m 45 1-5s.

220-Yard Hurdles—Won by Burrill, Bates; Young, Colby, second; Hardy, Bowdoin, third. Time, 27 1-5s.

Running High Jump—Won by Small, Bowdoin; Hildreth, Bowdoin, second; tie between Philbrook of Bowdoin and Boyden of Maine for third. Height, 5ft 5 1-4in.

Shotput—Won by Tootell, Bowdoin; Coyne, Maine, second; Charles, Bowdoin, third. Distance, 38.25 ft.

Running Broad Jump—Won by Small, Bowdoin; Pinkham, Maine, second; Batten, Bates, third. Distance, 20ft 5 1-2in.

Hammer Throw—Won by Tootell, Bowdoin; Strout, Maine, second; Mason, Bowdoin, third. Distance, 149.44ft.

Pole Vault—Won by F. Bishop, Bowdoin; Houston, Maine, second; Kemp, Colby, third. Height, 11ft.

Throwing Discus—Won by Luce, Bates; Tootell, Bowdoin, second; Parsons, Maine, third. Distance, 118.23ft.

SHOWER PARTY GIVEN TO MISS KISK

Miss Esther Christine Kisk of Worcester, Mass., a sophomore at Bates College and a member of St. Michael's club was given a very pretty shower party recently at the home of Mrs. W. Rishy Whiteborne, 55 Cottage street, Lewiston, in honor of her engagement recently announced to Dr. Goddard, head of the physics department, of Clark University. Beside the members of St. Michael's club, Miss Elsie Roberts and Miss Elizabeth Files, both Bates girls, were guests. A large pink and blue maybasket filled with gifts was presented the guest of honor by Miss Janice Hoyt and Miss Mary Gifford, classmates of Miss Kisk and dainty refreshments were served by the hostess in the dining room attractive with spring flowers.

GARNET LOSES FIRST SERIES GAME 6-4

Price had fanned, Kennelly also dropped a single to right. Three runs were over with Partridge on third and Kennelly on second, but Jowett easily handled Moulton's roller for the third out.

In the fifth an error, a pass, and two hits by the Bates' team resulted in one run which was the last one the Garnet aggregation put across the pan. Price hit a fly to center which King dropped after a long run. "Bill" Kennelly sent him to third with a double to right center. Moulton walked, filling the bases with none out. Rowe beat out a hit to third, scoring Price. Jordan fanned and Daker died to center.

Maine tied the score in the third putting across two runs. In the fourth they went down in order, but in the fifth Price became ineffective and they put across two more runs. Their sixth and last run was scored in the eighth by bunched hits.

Jowett, the Maine twiler, was unsteady at the first, but he improved as the game progressed. On the other hand, Price was in trouble on several occasions, and Maine put men on the sacks every inning but the fourth.

Altho Maine outfielded and outbait the Garnet team, it was "Bill" Kennelly in the center garden who furnished the best individual fielding and also did some

THE HEART O' THE MAY

Doorbells ringing, little fluttering ban dles on doorsteps, and phantom figures rushing to places of hiding! Sh-h-h! It's Maybasket time! If you are a prof, you are sure to get me, and if you are a lusher, you must think long and carefully on the reception to be given the fair maidens on their affectionate mission. None could rise more nobly to the occasion than did the recipient of the Freshmen's attentions, for Prof. and Mrs. Knapp, but there you have heard all about it by this time, for Freshmen never could keep a thing to themselves!

Maybaskets! What a fortunate social institution! Now if ever is the time to "say it with flowers."

Business Building

THE selling of commodities is fundamental in every business, and selling life insurance affords the maximum of satisfaction and remuneration. For the life insurance salesman is a business builder and finds innumerable ways to serve the community and make himself indispensable in the conduct of modern affairs.

The life insurance salesman is not only a business builder but he is in business for himself, creating a competence permanent and continuous. It is the best paid work for those who are ambitious and willing to work, and who have the character and stamina necessary to stamp their individuality upon the business and on their community.

The traditions and practices of the JOHN HANCOCK are such that the college graduate can take a peculiar pride in representing this company. You are liable to remain in the business you enter on leaving college. Before making a definite decision inquire into life insurance as a career. Write, "Agency Department."

GARNET FAILS TO COME THROUGH IN TENNIS CONTESTS

Eliminated Early in State Meet—Loses to Augusta 6-1 and to Colby 4-2

In the first round of doubles at Waterville, Monday, May 15, Roberts and Stanley of Bates were defeated by Gow and Sackell of Colby, 6-0, 6-4. Purinton and Ireland won their match in this round from Eddy and Shoemaker of Colby, 6-1, 6-4.

In the semi-final round, Purinton and Ireland were defeated by Partridge and H. Bishop of Bowdoin, 6-2, 6-0, 6-0.

In singles, Roberts of Bates lost to Gow of Colby, 6-2, 7-5 and Partridge of Bowdoin, defeated Carl Purinton, 6-1, 6-2.

Gow upset the dope on Tuesday by cleaning up in both doubles and singles. Gow, the tall Colby captain, defeated Partridge, the Bowdoin favorite for the singles championship while Gow and Sackell defeated Partridge and H. Bishop for the championship in doubles.

COLBY 4—BATES 2

The Bates tennis team lost to Colby in a dual meet Thursday, May 11, by a score of 4-2. In doubles Gow and Sackell of Colby defeated Roberts and Purinton, 6-1, 6-4. Ireland and Stanley won from Eddy and Shoemaker, 6-1, 6-6, 6-4.

In the singles Ireland won his match from Eddy of Colby, 7-5, 6-2. Shoemaker defeated Stanley 6-1, 6-2. Gow defeated Roberts 6-2, 6-4, and Sackell won from Purinton, 6-1, 6-1.

AUGUSTA 6—BATES 1

The Bates tennis team was able to take but one match in a meet held at the Augusta Country Club, Friday, May 12.

In doubles Martin and Titcomb of Augusta defeated Roberts and Stanley 9-6 6-4. Dunneak and Flynn of Augusta defeated Ireland and Purinton 6-3, 6-1.

In the singles, Capt. Roberts won his match from Johnson 6-2, 6-1. Martin of Augusta won from Stanley 6-2, 6-1. Hill of Augusta defeated Fairbanks 6-0, 6-4. Dunneak, Augusta won from Purinton 6-2, 6-0, and Ireland was defeated by Flynn 7-5, 6-4.

EDWARD LITTLE DEFEATS FROSH IN DULL GAME

1925 Outhits High School Boys But Loses 11 to 6

On the same day that the varsity were defeated by Maine, the 1925 team was knocked by Edward Little to the tune of 11 to 6. The game was dull and uninteresting, marred by several errors. Kenney's all round work was the feature, while Fellows made some star catches in the outfield. The 1925 team outhit the high schoolers, but wildness on the part of the Garnet men contributed to third downfall.

Fellows started for the Freshmen, but was extremely erratic, giving way to Kenney after three runs had been scored, none retired, and the bases still filled in the fourth. Kenney performed well for the remainder of the game except for the final inning when an error, a pass, two hit batsmen, and a fielder's choice permitted three more runs to come across for the Edward Little aggregation.

Kenney starred at bat, getting two singles and a triple in five trips to the plate. "Kippy" Jordan, Jr., also poked one for three bases. Fellows drew a rise from the spectators when he clung to Tonkin's clout in the sixth, turning a somersault after making the catch. Tonkin and Algar were the high lights for the "across-the-river" team.

The score:

Bates 1925 0 2 0 0 2 0 2 0—6
E. L. H. S. 1 0 0 7 0 0 0 3 x—11

OXFORD DEBATERS COMING TO LEWISTON IN SEPTEMBER

BATES FIRST AMERICAN COLLEGE TO PARTICIPATE IN AN INTERNATIONAL DEBATE IN THIS COUNTRY

That President Gray deserves the epithet, "man of surprises" was again demonstrated Wednesday morning, in chapel when he held the entire student body in suspense for a few moments—and when their curiosity had been aroused to a high pitch—finally read to them a telegram announcing that Oxford would debate Bates in Lewiston sometime next September. He was greeted with a hearty round of applause.

This has been a Bates year—but not in the sense that next September will be a Bates month. The entire country is destined to hear of this coming debate—the greatest ever to be waged on American soil. The Oxford-Bates debate in Lewiston will be the first of its kind ever held in the United States.

Last June, Little Bates was widely acclaimed as the first American college to invade the realms of foreign forensics; she is now to claim additional laurels as the first American college to entertain a visiting team from Oxford—England's greatest university. Bates men and women have reason to be proud.

Trials to select three men and an alternate for the coming debate are to be held tomorrow afternoon, Saturday, May 27, in the Little Theatre, Hathorn Hall, at 1:30. Each speaker will be invited to speak for five minutes upon the question, "Resolved, That the United States should recognize the present Russian Government." Twelve men will be chosen from the contestants and those men will later participate in final debates with members of the present varsity squad.

Appropos this subject of debating which is such a vital one here at Bates in view of the coming contest we herewith quote a recent editorial in the Hartford, Conn. Courant. It is entitled "The Triumph

BATES GETS 3-1 WIN OVER M. A. C.

Game Called at End of 4th On Account of Rain

Bates defeated M. A. C. at Amherst in a four and a half innings by the score of 3 to 1. The game was called then on account of rain. The first three innings went scoreless. When Bates came to the bat in the fourth frame, they put across two runs. Davis singled and went to second on a fielder's choice. An error by Marshman let Jordan go to second, and Davis advanced to third. Daker's single drove in both runs.

Mass. Aggies succeeded in scoring one in this frame. Collins got a double. Kroech drove one thru Dimlich and Collins scored from second.

In the fifth Cogan was pushed. He went to second on a fielder's choice, Davis sacrificed, putting "Joie" on third, Daker's double scored Cogan and "Kippy" stopped at third.

Daker's fielding was exceptional. Martin pitched well, allowing but three hits. The game was not official as the home team did not come to bat in the fifth. Daker also connected with the ball two times in three trips to the plate, scoring all three of Bates' runs. Bates worked a double in the third, Cogan to Dimlich to Jordan.

Batteries:

Bates: Martin and Partridge.
M. A. C.: Kroech and Barrows.

BATES TO GIVE PLAY AT EMPIRE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Carl Rounds Leading Man in "Nothing But the Truth" Proceeds Go Toward M. D. Fund

The evening of May 31 is the time; the Empire Theatre is the place, and as for the girl, that is a personal matter. Bates is to give her first real dramatic production.

"Nothing But the Truth," was staged on Broadway, New York, for a long run back in 1918, with William Collier as leading man. Next Wednesday evening it is going to make a one-night stand in Lewiston, with a Bates cast and Carl Rounds as leading man. The proceeds of course go to the Million Dollar Fund. Bates will be there 100%.

The cast:

Bob	Carl Rounds
Mr. Ralston	Elton Young
Mrs. Ralston	Dorris Longley
Gwendolyn	Lois Bryant
Dieck	Carl Penny
Dan Dusen	Dave Thompson
Mabel	Alice Blouin
Sabel	Lois Simpson

PHIL-HELLENES SPEND AN EVENING WITH SOPHOCLES

Interesting Papers Read—Tableaux Beautiful

The last meeting of the Phil-Hellenic Club of the year was held Tuesday evening, May 23, in the Little Theatre, Hathorn Hall. The program was built around the life of Sophocles and covered a most comprehensive revue of Hellenic environment during the age of that ancient dramatist. The first speaker, Herbert A. Carroll, '23, presented in a most complete and practical way, "The Life of Sophocles." Mildred Baker '23, made "Athens at the Time of Sophocles" vividly realistic in her explanation of a large blackboard map. The contemporaries of Sophocles were covered by Delora Smith '22, in the presentation of the seven most renowned men, including sculptors, dramatists, and historians. Ernest A. Robinson, president of the club, completed the list of speakers by introducing the four-act play, "Oedipus at Colonus," which was given in pantomime. Clarence Forbes, '22, portrayed the part of Oedipus exceedingly well, and with the other members of the club, succeeded in effecting a truly ancient atmosphere which seemed so many years ago with Hellenic life and Zeus-fearing warriors. Helen Waddell, '22, coached the play. Vocal solos were given by Paul Libby '24, accompanied by Mary Gifford, '24, and an instrumental trio composed of Miss Gifford, Ruth Leader, '23, and Elizabeth Powers, '24, added much to the program.

GARNET DEFEATS N. H. STATE SECOND TIME

Martin Replaces Spiller in Ninth Stopping Rally

Bates ended her trip by defeating New Hampshire State last Saturday at Durham by the score of 7 to 6. This makes the second win for the Garnet over the New Hampshire aggregation this season.

Bates drew first blood in the third, and New Hampshire retaliated in the next frame. Bates again scored in the sixth, but New Hampshire put two across in the same frame. However, Bates put across three in the ninth due to errors by the New Hampshire infield. In the last stage of the ninth, New Hampshire had a rally which looked bad for the Garnet, when Martin replaced Spiller on the mound and held his opponents but one score short of a tie. Kennelly was the big hitter of the Garnets.

"The Morrice Train" and "A Bluff Now and Then" Well Received

Hathorn Hall Filled to Capacity

The presentation by the English 4A Players, of two original one-act plays in The Little Theatre, Hathorn Hall, last Friday night was greeted by a most enthusiastic audience which completely filled the hall. The first play on the program was that written by the talented young author, Walter Vincent Gavigan, '24, entitled "The Morrice Train." The scene was laid in England during the fourteenth century. The cast was as follows: Deceit, leader of a band of strolling players—S. Matthews Graves; Irresponsibility, a clown—Paul Wolynce; Scale-the-Heights, a troubadour—Wilbur Batten; Passion and Worldly Pleasure, (Continued on Page Three)

Probably the greatest success this year for the track team was the splendid performance at the N. E. Inter-Collegiate track meet at Worcester last Saturday. Getting fourth place in such keen competition was far beyond the expectations of most of us. It was no poor fourth, either. Boston College and M. I. T. tied for the lead with 24 points each. Brown was third with 19, Bates scored 18, and Williams was only half a point behind the Garnet. Amherst was sixth with 16 points, followed by Bowdoin with 12. The meet was close throughout and for a time the Garnet team was leading.

Bates sent down but eight athletes. Six qualified for finals, and five placed in the finals. Buker won the two mile, Luce the three mile. "Archie" took a second in the quarter, and Sargent did the same in the mile. "Cyk" McGinley took third in the two mile.

In the trials, Friday afternoon, Landers was a close second to Canter of Brown, who won the finals. In the trials of the furlong, however, "Jake", who was up with the leaders in his heat, was forced to drop out because of that loathsome tendon.

Luck certainly broke against Saurda. He started in a heat of twenty runners, was knocked down in the rush at the start, was trampled on, then got to his feet and running from behind, from sheer pluck and endurance finished sixth. He received severe scratches from the hinder

INTERCLASS SOCCER GAMES PLAYED OFF

Juniors and Sophs Battle to Tie Score—Latter Defeat Freshies

SOPHS AND JUNIORS

The first game of the interclass soccer games was held Monday, May 15th, at 7 o'clock between the Juniors and Sophomores. Both teams entered the field filled with enthusiasm and played the game with all the pep available. The Sophomores were the first to score a goal but in a short time the Juniors tied them. An extra 10 minute period was played but neither team scored so the final score remained 1 to 1.

The team work was especially good and both put up a good fight.

SOPHS AND FRESHMEN

The fact that the Juniors tied the Sophomores made it necessary for each team to play the Freshmen.

Wednesday afternoon, May 17th at 3:30 the Freshmen met their worthy opponents on the girl's athletic field and though they did not score they played the game thru to the finish and showed great spirit.

The Sophomores succeeded in defeating them 4 to 0. Due to the weather conditions the Juniors were unable to play so training was suspended and as yet no championship has been settled.

MAINE WINS 1-0 IN CLOSE BATTLE

Hamilton Outpitches Jowett Doubtful Decisions Make Run Possible in 9th

Bates hit the sod at Orono Wednesday after a battle that the papers described as "one of the fastest and most thrilling games seen on the alumni field for years."

Maine's only and winning run came in the last half of the ninth when P. Johnson hit a sharp drive with one on. "Peenut" Hamilton's twirling came near winning the game, and but for the hard luck at the end would have won for Bates.

POLITICIANS BANQUET AT ELKS

The annual banquet and ladies' night of the Politics Club was observed Thursday evening, May 18, at the Elks dining hall, Lewiston. The banquet started promptly at 7 o'clock and after a most sumptuous eight course dinner, and each co-ed had been presented with a rosebud favor, Aurie Johnson, president of the club, acted as toastmaster and introduced Professor Gould as chief speaker for the occasion. The guests of honor were Professor and Mrs. Gould, and Professor and Mrs. Carroll. Gurney Jenkins was in charge of the committee for arrangements. Certainly "the last shall be first" for no preceding event in the history of the club has been more successful.

A TRACK TEAM TO BE PROUD OF

Whatever pangs may have been aroused by the outcome of the state meet, there is no question but what the Bates track men did themselves proud at the New England Intercollegiate.

A surprise to most outsiders, this performance of our runners and our one weight man is but the logical outcome of a long season of consistent training.

Especially worthy of comment in a review of our track work thus far is the development of several new men into sterling material. Coach Jenkins has shown the highest qualification of any coach, which is the ability to discover latent capacities and to bring them out in the best way.

From another viewpoint, the way in which the students have backed up the track team has been more than ordinarily loyal. This has been expressed not only in raising funds to send men to Philadelphia, but straight through the track season, culminating with the Bates delegation to the state track meet.

We look forward to the last event on the track card which takes place tomorrow. It is sure to be a fitting conclusion to a successful track season.

THE MESSAGE OF MEMORIAL DAY

There is a solid basis to the complaints which have been made in recent years over the misuse of Memorial Day.

Certain days in our year are sacred for the memories they recall. That Independence Day should degenerate to a day of fire-crackers and lemonade, Thanksgiving to a day of over-eating, Patriot's Day to one of no significance at all—is something serious to the preservation of American ideals.

Memorial Day has from the very first been fraught with much meaning to the whole nation. May 30th was celebrated in the South even before the close of the Civil War, although this date was not recognized in the North until 1868, when Commander-in-Chief John A. Logan, of the Grand Army of the Republic, issued a general order designating the day "for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion."

The memorial service held on the field of Gettysburg, when President Lincoln gave his immortal address, remains as the model for memorial days of all time. While this day in 1863 was not termed "Memorial Day," nor was it the date which afterwards was adopted for our use, yet the thought of the Gettysburg Address is the thought which we may best express each Memorial Day.

It is a testimony to the dead which cannot be improved upon by us. We, too, remember and honor those who gave their lives that the nation might live.

The Gettysburg speech echoes to us a challenge. It is for us to "take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion."

The challenge to uphold that cause has been met squarely and we have thereby an additional cause to revere the day, for now not only soldiers of '61 are to be remembered, but those of '17 as well.

The 30th of May is a day on which we may well consider what Americanism means. For it commemorates the deeds of men who died to keep America free and true to its established principles. What those principles are is best stated in President Lincoln's simple words. One fitting way in which to use a few moments of Memorial Day this year would be to read over that Gettysburg Address.

SOCIETIES

MACFARLANE CLUB

The Macfarlane Club met as usual Monday evening and the following officers were elected for the coming year.

President—Henry Rich.
Vice President—Marjory Pillsbury.
Sec. and Treas.—Ruth Leader.

After the business meeting a program of Russian and Indian music was carried out. Those contributing to the entertainment were: Maud Haywood, Mavorette Blackmer, Dorothy Holt, Herman Faust, Henry Rich and Bertha Mayberry.

Y. W. C. A.

Miss Florence Fernald led the Y. W. C. A. meeting Wednesday evening. Miss Ruth Cullens spoke in a very interesting way on "Influence." Special music was rendered by Miss Izetta Lidstone and Miss Wilhelmina Fineman.

CERCLE FRANCAIS

The Cercle Francais met in Libbey Forum, Thursday evening, May 18. The following interesting program was presented:

Dialogue—"Dans Un Ascenseur"
Doris Travers and Harold Vayo
Folk Songs—"A la Claire Fontaine"
"La Mere Michel et Son Chat"
"Quand Madelon"

Glee and Mandolin (Clubs)
Voce Duets—"Les Deux Nids"—Pourny
"Le Ciel est Bleu"—Tagliacosi
Ruth Leader and Jeanne Rachelin
Reading—"Le Bossu Hansli"

Ursula Petreau

A short business session followed the program.

RAMSDELL SCIENTIFIC

Ramsdell Scientific Society met in Carnegie Science Hall, Thursday evening, May 18. The following new members were elected: Hazel E. Prescott, '23; Marcia E. Wallingford, '23; Beatrice M. Adams, '23; Marion V. Chick, '23; Eleanor G. Wilson, '24; Marjorie S. Manser, '24; Nellie Banister, '24.

The following interesting papers were read: "Injurious Insects" by Mabel Simmons; "Snakes and Their Venoms," by Helen Waddell.

PRESS CLUB

The last meeting of Press Club was held in Chase Hall on May 22nd. After a short business meeting, Mr. Burgess took charge of the session and presented a very interesting motion picture reel entitled "The Best Value in the World—Your Morning Paper." It traced the history of a news item through the shop of the Worcester Telegram, from its birth to its final incorporation in the finished paper. The meeting adjourned with a rising vote of thanks to Mr. Burgess.

LITERARY

JOHN DOS PASSOS IN SPAIN

John Dos Passos is also among the poets. His volume The Pushcart of the Curb will be brought out by Doran within the year.

His recent prose work Rosinante to the Road Again is in manner and mood more like these poems than to Three Soldiers, on which his reputation was made.

Rosinante to the Road Again, a volume of sketches on Spanish life and letters, is actually a record of mental adventures. Two youths take the road to find the essential gesture of the Spaniard. Between the chapters, recounting their search, are notes on Ibanez, Antonio Machado, and Juan Maragall, poets; on Benavente and Baroja and occasionally the account of some Spanish scene written in first person. Yet the search is never far away.

The search is after all for that Spain which presents the most complete contrast to industrial America, where men work and rest only to work again.

"And predominant in the Iberian mind is the thot La vida es sueno; 'Life is a dream.' Only the individual or that part of life which is in the firm grasp of the individual, is real."

Rosinante to the Road Again is better written than Three Soldiers, although there is still a touch of the amateur in his treatment of landscape.

WHAT A SLOW DUCK

ILLUSTRIOUS ALUMNI

CARROLL L. BEEDY, '03

A week or so ago the "Student" told its readers of a Bates man who is serving his country as chief engineer of the Department of Forestry; this week we shall consider another Bates man who is serving this great government of ours in the halls of Congress. This man is Carroll Linwood Beedy of the class of 1903.

While at Bates, Beedy's ability as a public speaker won him a place on various debating teams and upon entering Yale Law School in 1904, he was called upon to represent that university on the debating platform. His college career at Bates was a remarkable one for not only did he win prominence as a fluent speaker and a keen debator but he also received honors in scholarship and held the distinctive office of class poet.

Shortly after graduating from Yale in 1906 he began practicing law in Portland, Maine, and in 1916 was appointed prosecuting attorney for Cumberland County. Four years later he entered the fight for the Republican nomination for Congress in the first district and won. His election was now assured, and he was immediately called upon to tour the Southern and middle states and fill important speaking engagements in behalf of the National Campaign.

Upon entering Congress as representative from Maine he was given three important committee appointments but "following the convention of a first year man he allowed himself to be seen and not heard until the re-apportionment bill was before the House when he came forward with a speech ringing with true Americanism." This speech, one of the most eloquent ever heard in the modern Congress created a furor—in fact the scenes which accompanied and followed the brilliant speech of the Maine congressman were compared by veteran members of the House with the tumult Bryan caused when he delivered his maiden speech in the same hall in the early days of his political speech.

A news dispatch from Washington characterized it thus:

"Beedy's speech bristled with sarcasm and sharp thrusts at the men who protected their own selfish interests by their vote. Even those who disagreed with his views joined in the tribute to his eloquence and strong argument he presented."

Congressman Fred B. Gernerd of Pennsylvania, commenting on the occasion said:

"My opinion of Beedy is that he is a comer. He has got a good start and he can't be stopped. It would be mighty foolish to attempt to stop him. In the beginning of his career he belonged to Maine but now he belongs to the Nation. He is a valuable congressional asset and I hope he will stay here as long as Tom Reed did."

Congressman Beedy's speech on the Re-apportionment Bill is of such lasting worth and eloquence that we are printing here its final paragraph that all may realize why Bates takes especial pride in pointing him out as one of her illustrious sons:

"Maine carries on her coat of arms the Latin word 'Dirigo.' Her history is that of the best blood from the Irish, the Scotch, the Huguenot, and the English races. From her hills and lakes have gone the sturdy men and women who have helped to people the Middle West and develop the Pacific slope. In those very halls her words of wisdom have fallen from the lips of a Dingley, a Hale, a Frye, the incomparable Reed, and the magnetic Blaine. Hers are a plain people. Hers is the simple, frugal life so essential to the present day stability and prosperity of the nation. Quadratically hers has been to point the way to sound politics and a safe national regime. She has met the trust. Like Massachusetts 'there she stands and there she will stand' sheer her of such Congressmen as you may. But shame be upon him who by his vote on this pending bill becomes accessory to that blow whose consummation would leave the Pine Tree State a stammered and bleeding sacrifice upon the altar of petty partisan politics!"

First Down— 60 Years to Go!

THE Football Rules Committee can abolish a lot of things. But they can't legislate against having fun while you're shaving.

Tackle that generous tube of Williams' Shaving Cream from the Freshman's First Down to the Senior's hardy whisker defense, Williams' rich lather smoothes the way.

Football is a long way off, but the season for good shaving is on all the time—if you use Williams'. It softens and lubricates your skin and leaves your face refreshed—clean—invigorated.

WHIT GIRLS WAYLAY CAMPUS STROLLERS

Hairpins, combs, and boudoir caps for all the men—of any size! Trucks of Whittier House turned forth a motley array of salable articles Saturday afternoon, especially as one risked his dime sight-unseen. The faithful attendants upon the veranda bargain counter had arrested, ere evening fell, nine dollars less a bit. This goes to swell their offering towards the Million Dollar Fund.

SPORT NOTES

Baker, Luce, and Sargent have the distinction of being the first three men to represent Bates at the National I. C. four-A meet.

Ray has a great field to run against Saturday but he has never yet had to extend himself to the utmost. When he does, you may count on fast time.

There are about a dozen men who can throw the discus over 125 who will be at the Stadium Saturday, but don't forget what a "bear" Luce is in competition.

Ben Sargent and "Cyk" McGinley have nearly equal records. Neither had ever donned a running shoe before this year, yet both of them placed in the N. E. Meet.

Archie showed who was best in the state. Last week right enough he beat Lawrence 8 yards at the N. E. Meet.

The ball team played a great brand of ball in their trip. Errors were scarce and the batting was much improved. The pitching, too, was very good.

Colby tomorrow and the big game with Bowdoin Wednesday. Your last two chances to see the Garnet nine in action, here this year.

Hamilton surely pitched a winning brand of ball at Orono, but the breaks in that ninth inning came hard. In his last two games, "The Mascot" has pitched 19 innings, allowed but five hits, struck out twenty, and has given but five walks.

Joe O'gan had his eye on the ball in the Maine game. He connected for three hits out of four trips to the plate.

The outfield may as well have sat on the bench, Wednesday. "Peanut" didn't let the Blue and White get a ball past the infield.

OXFORD DEBATERS COMING TO LEWISTON

of Bates. The writer, who is evidently acquainted with "The Student" comments on a recent writup on the Pennsylvania debate which recently appeared in this paper and goes on to say:
"We believe that the Editor of The Bates Student is justified in heading his editorial comment 'Another Scalp for our Debators' and also in concluding: 'Hats off to our debaters! They have made Bates famous in intellectual circles as our athletes have in the world of sports.'" Famous indeed! Worthy of praise and no less a sound slap in the face of him who says our colleges and universities know nothing but football, baseball and sports."

The undergraduates of Bates college can never repay to the fullest those who have worked and sacrificed to make Bates paramount in American debating circles—such service is not paid for with the scanty titles that men can give. In their hearts, however, all of those who are a part of Bates are deeply grateful to these men who have given their best to their college. It is with radiant hope, mingled with joy, that we hail the coming Oxford-Bates debate—the first International Intercollegiate debate ever to be held on American soil!

path and showed a world of fight to finish at all.

Archibald won his heat over Smith of Teah and Lawrence of Maine in a great race. He ran a great race in the finals placing second to "Jake" Driscoll, one of the best quarter-milers in the country. Smith and Gurney of Teah followed him to the finish.

Ben Sargent certainly outdid the hopes of many who were hoping he would be able to snatch a fourth. Ben ran from behind for two laps. At the half he was running in third position, being led by Sanborn and Mahoney. This position was held until the home stretch. Ben stepped out his last 220 fast; he passed Mahoney and was fast creeping up on Sanborn who led him to the tape about 15 yards in, 4 m. 31.25 s.

"Ray" Buker again proved himself too much for the field in the 2-mile. Hendrie of Teah, who was expected to give Buker a hard race led the first mile with the Garnet Captain taking a leisurely pace 25 yards behind. Buker permitted him to lead for three more laps but was steadily cutting down the Engineer's lead. At the gun lap Buker showed his heels to the Teah flier and finished with a comfortable 25 yards lead in 9 m. 46.15 s., fair time under the conditions prevalent. McGinley running a fine race finished in third place over McKeeman of Maine.

Luce hurled the discus in sensational form. Though led by Potraty of Middleburg in the trials, he came from behind and outdistanced the Middleburg man by two inches with a heave of 122 ft. 9 in., the best he has ever done in a meet. This only proves that the better the competition, the better is Luce.

Burrill was unable to draw a place in his heat in the low hurdles as he has been bothered with a lame foot since the Maine meet.

The showing made by these athletes is a credit to themselves, to Bates, and to Coach Jenkins, who worked hard throughout the year to put the men in the condition which pulled them through Saturday.

SOPHOMORE ORIGINAL PLAY SUCCESS

the Morrice dancers—Catherine Brown and Dorothy Coburn; Master Ralph, a runaway novice—Walter Gavigan; Brother Sapiens, a monk—Richard Waddell; Benedict, keeper of the inn—George Duncan; Dame Nagley, his wife, Vera El-dridge. In this medieval play much of the atmosphere was dependent upon the costumes. The credit for the really splendid costuming belongs largely to Miss Irma Paul, '24. A feature of the play was the thunder shower, arranged by Charron, '24, during the duel scene between Decoit and Seale the Heights.

The second play, "A Bluff Now and Then" by Miss Esther Kisk, '24, was a modern comedy. The cast was as follows: Ethel, a stenographer—Dorothy Coburn; Margaret, engaged to Ned—Louise Fifield; Kitty, a romantic stenographer—Elizabeth Collins; Ned, the office manager—Valdo Reis; The Boss—John P. Gormley; Jimmie, the office boy—George Turner. The setting for this play was exceptionally well done and it all looked as real as life.

Last Friday's entertainment it is hoped marks the beginning of real live dramas on the Bates Campus which, under the very able direction of Professor Baird will develop home talent in play-writing and play-producing. The English Professor is enthusiastic over the prospects of such a movement and recognizes in it a very vital part of college activities.

The proceeds derived from the entertainment will go towards the Million Dollar Fund as a contribution by the Sophomore Class.

CONN. AGGIES WIN IN TENTH THROUGH ERRORS

Hamilton Pitches Wonderful
Game—Allows But One Clean Hit

Bates lost a pitcher's duel to Connecticut Aggies by the score of 1 to 0. It took 10 innings before the Aggies could collect the winning run from our formidable "Peanut." Hamilton pitched airtight ball, allowing only 3 hits—two of them scratch. Only three balls were knocked out of the infield and two of these were sought while the third went for a hit. "Peanut" struck out 8 men and passed 3. Lavin pitched well for the Connecticut team, allowing 7 scattered hits. He struck out 5 and passed 2.

In the tenth frame, Lavin reached first on Davis' error. Welstine reached first on Jordan's error. O'Brien was thrown out, Duker to Jordan. Gordon reached first on a fielder's choice, and Lavin was caught at the plate. Ryan hit to Dimlich, who threw wide to Jordan, and Welstine scored.

Bates played errorless ball for nine innings, and made 3 errors in the tenth, greatly assisting in helping Conn. Aggies put across the winning run.

MILLION DOLLAR DANCE ENJOYED

On Saturday evening at Chase Hall the Million Dollar dance was held. Dancing began at 7:30 and was enjoyed to a late hour. The affair was entirely informal and everyone was out for a pleasant evening. During intermission refreshments of ice cream and fancy cookies were served in abundance. The music was furnished by the usual college aggregation of symposium artists and was of excellence. The chaperones were Professor and Mrs. R. B. N. Gould and Conch and Mrs. R. A. Watkins. The committee which deserves much credit for staging so successful an affair was composed of: Paul Wolyniec, chairman, Russell Taylor, Miss Kaye Whittier, Miss Hazel Monteith, Kenneth Wilson and Miss Evelyn Elliot.

TENNIS TEAMS ELIMINATED IN PRELIMS

The Preliminaries for New England intercollegiate lawn tennis championship tournament at the Longwood Cricket Club, Boston, were held last Monday. The contests of the day ended with Dartmouth, Boston University, Williams, and Massachusetts Institute of Technology each having two players left in the singles competition; Bowdoin and Amherst each one; while Brown, Wesleyan, Bates and Colby were eliminated.

In the first round: W. Ryland Scott, Tech, defeated Richard J. Stanley, Bates 6-3, 7-5.

Second round: John Davis, B. U. defeated Edward Roberts, Bates, 6-4, 4-6, 6-0.

Doubles: J. A. Sackett and H. Bishop, Bowdoin, defeated E. F. Roberts and R. J. Stanley, Bates 6-1, 6-0.

"NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH" MAKES BIG HIT AT THE EMPIRE

PACKED HOUSE GREET'S PRESENTATION OF MILLION DOLLAR PLAY—FIRST ALL-COLLEGE PLAY GIVEN

The first appearance of Bates students in an all-college production in a downtown theater made a remarkable hit Wednesday evening when "Nothing But the Truth" was presented before a packed house at the Empire Theater. The interest and support of the many friends of Bates in the two cities and the enthusiastic backing of the college students made it possible to obtain a full house before which to stage the culminating student effort on the Million Dollar Drive. Too much cannot be said for the acting of those in the cast. It is not exaggerating to say that it is seldom when better acting comes to Lewiston in regular companies.

"Nothing But the Truth" is a light little comedy that has made good in a Metropolitan production and at the same time lends itself well to amateur work as the staging is simple. The jokes were good and fitted the situations and kept the audience in laughter a good part of the time.

Carl Rounds as "Bob Bennett" made good his bet that he could tell the absolute truth and nothing else for twenty-four hours, but he had a very uncomfortable time doing so. This is the plot of the play, that a young stockbroker can not tell the absolute truth for twenty-four hours. He wins his bet but in doing so he comes near losing his nose, friends, fiancé, and his reason, but the lucky striking of the limit hour straightens everything out and the convenient lies of society smooth matters over at the last.

Carl Rounds in this role of leading man made a tremendous hit with the audience. His facial expressions and ingenious acting convinced one in spite of himself that he could not tell a lie and it seemed not acting but nature when he told his friends just what he thought of them. We are glad to observe the reverence which Carl pays to the memory of George Washington, as was clearly shown last night.

Louise Bryant as the fiancée of "Bob", Gwendolyn Ralston, made a fine playing partner to Carl Rounds. Upon her acting depended much of the point and suspense of the play and the persuasions of "Gwen" were the only thing which really came near making "Bob" lose his bet. Even she however, could not do the trick.

Elton Young, in the part of Mr. E. M. Ralston, did some very fine acting. He was the center of much of the action in the brokerage office and his businesslike, though sometimes unscrupulous methods were a driving force to the rest of his rather social partners.

Doris Longley took the part of Mrs. (Continued on Page Three)

BERLIN HIGH DEFEATS FROSH

Wins by Score of 4-2 in Five Inning Game

In a five inning ball game played on Garcelon field Saturday morning, the Berlin High School team defeated the Freshmen 4-2. Owing to the late arrival of the Berlin team only 5 innings could be played. Woodman pitched for the Freshman and was touched up for seven hits—while the Berlin heaver allowed only two, Woodman getting both of these, one a terrific triple to left. Berlin has a snappy little team and played a good game while the Freshmen were a little off form so early in the day.

BOWDOIN TAKES BASEBALL GAME

Knocks Hamilton from Box in Third and Wins 5-1 Flinn Gets Home Run

Heavy hitting in the third inning enabled Bowdoin to put enough runs across to win a 5-1 victory from Bates last Wednesday. In this frame Houser's men secured five hits off our "Peanut," one of them a triple, and four earned runs came across. Their fifth run came in the sixth when the Bowdoin captain knocked the ball into deep center for a circuit clout.

Bates got her only run in the second. Daker hit a screamer to left for three bases. Kennelly was hit by a pitched ball. Moulton knocked in Daker with a sacrifice to left. Kennelly failed to advance on the play and was doubled when Dimlich hit to the box.

After the second only one Bates man reached the keystone sack. Daker opened the seventh with a single by third. Kennelly fanned. Moulton also got a single by third. Dimlich fanned, and Partridge was thrown out by Davis who took a bouncer off Flinn's glove. The decision at first was close.

Bowdoin was prevented from scoring another run in the ninth by an unusual play. Morrell walked; Hill sacrificed; Morrell making third on the play. Handy hit a high fly which Martin and Partridge allowed to drop. Morrell tore for the plate, and dove, but Partridge managed to recover the ball just in time to tag him out as he hit the dirt. Meanwhile Handy stood at the plate to see what was going on. He soon found out. Dimlich rushed in, took the ball from Partridge and threw Handy out at first.

Bowdoin's fusillade of hits in the third drove "Peanut" to the showers, Martin, who relieved him, was hit hard, but he managed to keep the bangles scattered. Martin was threatened several times, but

MRS. LADD GIVES ILLUSTRATED LECTURE ON HER WORK

In France with Disfigured Soldiers—Address Impressive

Speaks in Chapel Next Morning

The third and final George Colby Chase lecture of the college year was the occasion for one of the most interesting and pleasing lectures of the year. Mrs. Anna Coleman Ladd of Boston was the speaker. Her lecture was illustrated. Mrs. Ladd has done wonderful relief work in France creating masks for wounded allied soldiers. Men whose faces had been torn and shattered thru the horrors of war were given carefully prepared masks so skillfully made that the soldiers could be recognized by their friends and loved ones at home. Pictures were shown which clearly indicated the marvelous work that Mrs. Ladd is doing.

In her lecture Mrs. Ladd told that to love is a real art not possessed by everyone. She drew a very clear analysis between the art lover and the lover of humanity. The former finds the thing he loves best; paints it, loves it, plays with it and cherishes it as his own. So does the other lover. But just as all can not paint or have not an ear for music, so all can not love. All come in contact with love but not as it is pictured in novels and moving pictures.

In closing Mrs. Ladd pointed out the evolution of human relationship through infatuation, lust, passion and ideal friendship. The real art of life, the most vital of all arts, is to properly deal with these relationships.

Friday afternoon the Seniority Club tendered Mrs. Ladd a reception at Student Hall. Many of the faculty, students and friends of Bates attended. Misses Dorris Longley, '22, Georgianna Hayes, '22, Helen Waddell, '22, Dorothy Wheeler, '23, and Elsie Roberts, '23, arranged the reception and served refreshments. All enjoyed Mrs. Ladd's wonderful personality, so congenial and pleasingly emotional.

At chapel Saturday, Mrs. Ladd spoke a few moments of farewell to Bates. She made once again an appeal to the youth of America to save the world from future wars.

HIKERS CLIMB WASHINGTON AND NORTHERN PEAKS

Deep Snow in Tuckerman's Ravine Furnishes Novelty and Thrills

Perfect weather contributed largely to the success of the annual Outing Club hike to Mt. Washington, for there was not a drop of rain to bother the climbers during the whole of the two and a half day trip. The goal for this year was set higher than ever before, as not only Mt. Washington was climbed but also the trail over all of the Northern Peaks, Clay, Jefferson, Adams, and Madison was followed.

The first step of the route was from Lewiston to Gorham, where one last "regular" meal was enjoyed. From there the hikers went by auto to the foot of the trail, called the Tuckerman's Ravine trail. Many surprises met the eyes of the hikers here, some of them very pleasant, such as the sight of the Crystal Cascade with a beautiful fall of water from the melting snows up higher; other sur-

BUKER NOSED OUT BY HIGGINS IN THRILLING 2 MILE RACE AT INTERCOLLEGIATES

GARNET RUNNER BEATEN AT TAPE BY INCHES FIELD TOO FAST FOR SARGENT—LUCE FAILS TO GET IN FINALS

THE MEET AS SEEN BY AN EYE-WITNESS

BUKER AND HIGGINS AT 2 MILE FINISH

In one of the greatest two mile races ever staged, Ray Buker was defeated by a margin of mere inches. Higgins, of Columbia, in the last ten yards down the home stretch overcame the lead of Buker's; a few feet from the line the runners were tied; an additional spurt on the part of the Columbia man pushed him across the line, a winner by a few inches. The local morning paper had this to say, "Buker was beaten, but not licked, for the Garnet runner was among the first to congratulate his conqueror." Yes, Buker was game to the last and the thirty odd loyal Bates men who journeyed to Cambridge, as best they could, didn't regret their trip in the least, for the Garnet champion ran his race well.

Buker dropped into third place at the outset. He was never behind this point and at times he led. As he came around the last quarter he jumped into the lead and about 200 yards from the tape started his sprint. Higgins, the Columbia runner, who had kept well in the forefront throughout the grueling test, had a little sprint of his own all ready. As Buker, followed by Higgins, dashed to the front the rest of the field was left behind and the great throng held its breath as the two runners vied with each other along the home stretch. It was an exciting finish of as great a race as was ever run.

Two judges were assigned to pick first and two to pick second. The first place

TEAM TO MEET OXFORD BEING CHOSEN FROM SQUAD OF 13 MEN

As a result of the preliminary trials held last Saturday afternoon, eight men were chosen to participate, together with the five members of the varsity squad, in the trial debates held yesterday and today. Judging from the showing made at this time, the faculty committee on debating will pick the three men, and an alternate, who will meet Oxford in September.

The men competing are as follows: Arthur W. Pollister, Danville; Richard Stanley, Lewiston; Elmer Littlefield, Lynn, Mass.; Samuel Graves, New Haven, Conn.; Kenneth Field, Auburn; Adelbert Goggin, Portland; Kirby Baker, Springfield, Mass.; Ernest Robinson, Concord, N. H.

Members of this year's varsity squad: William E. Young, Lewiston; Herbert A. Carroll, Rowe, Mass.; Theodore R. Pinckney, Washington, D. C.; Edward W. Raye, Lynn, Mass.; Erwin Canham, Auburn.

EIGHT DAYS

AT SILVER BAY

One of the golden opportunities that ever come to any college man is to attend the intercollegiate conference which is held each year at Silver Bay-on-Lake George, New York.

It is a chance to meet men from all the other colleges of New England, and the finest group of men that could be found in any gathering of any nature. The men who represent their colleges at Silver Bay are the leaders in activity and thought of their institutions.

Silver Bay presents an invitation to a week or more of real recreation with the best advantages for the purpose. Each afternoon during the conference is turned over to some form of sport: Baseball, tennis, swimming, boating all have their turn.

More than all, presence at this student conference means the privilege of hearing and meeting the leading thinkers and speakers on the public platform today. To sit at the feet of men like Roger E. Spear, Sherwood Eddy, Harry Emerson Fosdick, John R. Mott, and all the rest, is like charging your batteries with new power.

Bates has always had a good delegation to this New England conference. She is planning this year to do as much and more than ever before. This is an opportunity to represent Bates and to reap lasting benefits for every man who goes.

BATES VERSUS

OXFORD—AT HOME

Bates established a precedent in the history of American colleges when she sent a team of debaters across the water to meet the representatives of Oxford on their own grounds.

The visit of Oxford debaters to Lewiston will establish another precedent.

At first thought, it seems regrettable that the debate should be slated for next fall when two of our ablest men have graduated. Nevertheless, the manner in which preparations are being made to choose new men to represent Bates on the platform gives confidence to the well-wishers of Bates.

One distinct advantage will be with Bates this time. American methods of argumentation will be observed, naturally, and the decision will be placed in the hands of competent judges and not left to the biased sentiment of the audience. Our representatives labored under an impossible handicap, as far as a decision was concerned, when speaking under the Oxford regulations for forensic combat.

Bates as the home of debating seems to be gathering more and more renown as time goes on. Let the good work go on!

WASHINGTON AND GENOA—A CONTRAST

The sharp contrast between the outcome of the Arms Conference at Washington and the gathering European nations at Genoa is strikingly illustrated in a recent cartoon, republished in the Literary Digest.

The cartoonist has conceived the results of the Washington conference as a flourishing vine, rising high from the earth; while he has drawn for the accomplishments at Genoa the symbol of a sickly plant, drooping over the sides of its earthen pot.

The rather dubious fruits of this Genoa conference are described as follows by an Italian official reported in the Literary Digest: "the outcome is as if Lloyd George had set out to raise $1,000,000 and had compromised his chances at the last for $25."

The amazing success of the Arms Conference, sponsored and inspired by America, and the evident failure of the Genoa Conference, at which the United States did not lend its counsels, emphasize the fact that the voice and backing of America is essential to the progress of the world on to a sound basis.

SOCIETIES

SENIORITY

The regular Mountain Meeting of Seniority took place Thursday evening, May 25th. Dr. and Mrs. Hartshorne were entertained at dinner. The program began with special music by Florence Fernald, Katherine O'Brien, Dorothy Holt, Wilhelmina Fineman, with Beatrice Clark at the piano. Original papers of merit were read by Frances Minot and Dorothea Davis. Dr. Hartshorne delighted the club with his readings from the ever popular poetry of Kipling.

The weather prevented the club from holding the last meeting of the year on Mt. David, but it is hoped that the custom will be carried out in the years to come.

Y. W. C. A. PARTY

Members of the old and new Y. W. C. A. cabinets enjoyed four days of fun and business on Long Island, in Casco Bay, from May 27 to May 31. Four golden days of perfect weather were full of all sorts of activities; swimming, walking, sleeping, eating, reading, and talking.

The opening conference was held Saturday night, led by Ruth Cullens and Mrs. George M. Chase. On Sunday, the Long Island church choir was assisted by members of the college choir and others. Other conferences included discussions of important questions and the methods of making Christian living a practical fact on campus.

The time to return to college came all too soon. The week-end was a complete success in every way, a success which was largely due to the cheerful companionship of the chaperone, Mrs. George M. Chase.

HIKERS CLIMB WASHINGTON

prices were more startling; for example, the finding of so much snow in the Ravine at its head that it was impassable and a detour around the headwall of Tuckerman's had to be made, which was very difficult as well as dangerous. From the head of Tuckerman's trail on to the top was a long hard pull, but the hikers finally made it and sought haven in the buildings at the top.

At the Summit House, the Bates hiking team found good shelter from a howling north wind and spent a cosy evening before an open fire telling all the weird stories they could summon up for the occasion.

Next morning, Tuesday, the long hike over the Northern Peaks was begun. This was easier than the climb of the day before as the grade was mostly down, and that very gradual until the last part of the descent. Chocolate and raisins kept up the strength of the wearied hikers and every stream or spring that was found was drained to the bottom by thirsty throats.

Toward the middle of the afternoon, the end of the trail was reached and two hours later the hikers took the Boston & Maine train for Berlin, N. H. At this point, something new in the experience of Outing Club Hikers occurred, for they received an opportunity to get a shower bath and a swim in the pool of the Berlin Y. M. C. A.

Accommodations for the night were furnished through the kindness of the family of Karl Strady, unofficially appointed by the other hikers as the guide of the trip.

The last lap of the journey was completed Wednesday when the train to Lewiston from Berlin bore back the ten adventures.

Those on the trip were Dr. Lawrence, Professor Leete, William Tarr, President of the club, Carl Purinton, Kenneth Connors, Edwin Canham, I. E. Walton, Ralph Linton, Arthur Martin, and Karl Strady.

MATTER OF CONCENTRATION

Pa—"Young man, are you thinking seriously of marrying my daughter?"
Young Fella—"I wasn't sir, but believe me, if I was, I would think seriously first."—Ex.

SUBTLE

She sat on the steps at eventide,
Enjoying the balmy air.
He came and asked, "May I sit by your side?"
And she gave him a vacant stare.

A LOVE STORY

Her body quivered, her breath came in gasps, her eyes shone with deep passion, she looked with longing at the strong sturdy legs, the out-reaching arms were tempting—she was filled with one thought that she would not resist—she threw herself into the inviting embrace of those strong arms.
Oh, what a relief! How comforting was her chair.

HOW TO LOSE YOUR FRIENDS

Lend them money.
Tell them their faults.
Show them they're in the wrong.
Beat them in an argument.
Think of something before they do.
Do something they should have done.
Do something better than they do.
Know more than they do.
Become more popular than they are.
Ask them for a favor.
Show a special interest in their friends.
Return to them good for evil.

LIFE'S TRAGEDY

(As Told by Harry Colvin)

Just a girl, Just a smile, Just a dream of sweet, sweet eyes.
Just a moon, Just a spoon, and the world is like Paradise.
Just a tear, Just a fear, Just a lot of other men,
Just a sigh, then goodbye, then the world is all wrong again. (Ain't it so Vera)

ODE TO POTTER

Twinkle, twinkle, little hair,
How I wonder what you 'aire,'
Up above that lip so brave
Why the devil don't you shave?

Dean Reese—"Virgil, do you attend a place of worship every Sunday?"
Virgil—"Yes, sir, I am on my way to her house now."
—Orange and Blue.

Gladys—"Mabel is two laps ahead of Emily in their leap year race."
Phyllis—"Two laps?"
Gladys—"Yes—Harry's and Bob's."
—J. W. Fulton, Jr., University of Chicago, '21

BEATING THE OLD H. C. L.

She—"I told you that you could kiss my hand and you kissed my mouth."
He—"Oh, a hand to mouth existence is good enough for me."

ON THE FACE OF IT

"Mustaches come and go," scraped the razor to the lip.
"But I go on forever," winked the eyebrow in an almost audible whisper.
"What an 'highbrow remark,'" twitted the chin.
"And what a lot of cheek," cut in the razor. Wherever they all bristled up and the blood flowed freely.—Ex.

"How did Noah amuse himself in the Ark?"
"Fishing, but he didn't catch nothing."
"Why?"
"Not enough bait. Only two worms."

"So she didn't accept you when you proposed."
"Sure she did."
"But you said she threw you down."
"She did, and held me there till I gave her the ring."—Chapparral.

I went to a party with Janet,
And met with an awful mishap,
For I awkwardly emptied a cupful Of chocolate into her lap.
But Janet was cool—though it wasn't—
For none is so tactful as she,
And, smiling with perfect composure,
Said sweetly, "The drinks are on me!"
—Columbia Jester.

Miss White: "Marion, where have you been?"
Marion R: "With Juanita."
Miss White: "Juanita, where have you been?"
Juanita: "With Marion."
Miss White: "Where have you both been?"
Marion: "Together."

Asserts Authority Somewhere
"Hasn't Boobs any right whatsoever around his own house? He is the must henpecked man I ever saw."
"Well, he does appear a little rough when he is feeding the gold fish."
—Florida Times-Union.

Prof.—"Parse 'kiss'."
Stude—" 'Kiss' is a noun, generally used as a conjunction. It is never declined. It is not singular and it is usually used in the plural. It agrees with me. It is more common than proper."
—Medley.

Mrs. Reginald Horace de Bynn Shrieked midst the general din; "My pearl necklace is gone!"
Said her husband, "You're wrong. It's between your third and fourth chin!"
—Brown Jug.

THE CODE OF A GOOD SPORT

1. Thou shalt not quit.
2. Thou shalt not alibi.
3. Thou shalt not gloat over winning.
4. Thou shalt not be a rotten loser.
5. Thou shalt not take unfair advantage.
6. Thou shalt not ask odds thou art unwilling to give.
7. Thou shalt always be ready to give thine opponent the shade.
8. Thou shalt not underestimate any opponent, nor overestimate thyself.
9. Remember that the game is the thing, and that he who thinketh otherwise is a mucker and no true sportsman.
10. Honor the game thou playest, for he who playeth the game straight and hard wins even when he loses.—Hugh S. Fullerton, Sporting Editor of the New York "Evening Mail."

A FRONT LINE TRENCH

Can you tell me, Friend, in this world of strife,
Where an eager youth with courage strong,
May find, for I there would place my life,
The "front-line trench" of right and wrong?

I can tell you, Youth, with your courage bold,
Of many-a "front-line trench" in life;
Where 'er is mankind, young or old,
There ages, ever, tumultuous stir.

Can you tell me, Friend, for I fain would know,
Of the countries wherein men now dwell,
In which of them all, either high or low,
I may put my life where it most will tell?

I will tell you, Youth, since you ask me fair,
Of a battlefield, o'er land and sea;
But lift your heart to God in prayer,
For only then can you 'hear' or 'see'.

I would tell you, Youth, of Burma's need,
Of her many races, tribes, and tongues;
Where earnest Christlike youths may lead,
From disease and ignorance, her sons.

I would tell you, Youth, of worship weird,
Of Animist, Buddhist, and Saracen,
Of the many evil spirits feared
By souls whose Maker loveth men.

I would tell you, Youth, of grievous weight,
Carried by woman on her head,
Where plagues and fevers congregate,
Where lurks disease 'neath every bed.

I would paint you, Youth, a picture dread,
Such as ne'er was meant for human eye,
Of crime and sin, for it can't be said,
Description e'er our words defy.

I would tell you, Youth, of boys and girls,
Of men and women, young and old,
Who eagerly grasp in the torrent's whirl,
The saving Grace of the Story told.

I have told you, Youth, there are many lands,
Where an eager soul may give its all,
Yet to you the Burmans stretch their hands,
And plead the "Macedonian" call.

First Down— 60 Years to Go!

THE Football Rules Committee can abolish a lot of things. But they can't legislate against having fun while you're shaving.

Tackle that generous tube of Williams' Shaving Cream from the Freshman's First Down to the Senior's hardy whisker defense, Williams' rich lather smoothes the way.

Football is a long way off, but the season for good shaving is on all the time—if you use Williams'. It softens and lubricates your skin and leaves your face refreshed—clean—invigorated.

Williams' Shaving Cream

The Moore never balks or "fivers"; it writes at first stroke with no coaxing.

Its smooth-writing point and even, never-failing ink-flow take the grind out of note-taking, themes and quizzes. A "bear" for years of hard work.

"NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH" MAKES HIT

Ralston and made a very stately matron and one who was not to be deceived by the wiles of E. M.

David Thompson as Van Dusen and Carl Penney as Richard Donnelly tried their hardest to make "Bob" tell a lie, but all to no avail. Alexander Mansour as "Bishop Doran" may have been unbusinesslike, but at least he got what he wanted upon a straight tip from the truth-telling "Bob." Leah Shapiro, as "Ethel Clark" was the cause of much of the laughter of the play, because of the great discomfort she afforded the hero in his telling of the truth. Bertha K. Whittier made a maid whose brief appearances were all too few.

"Mabel and Sabel" played by Alice Blouin and Lois Simpson were a scream from first to last. Their story of "the perfectly innocent young girl" enlarged upon and dilated for the sake of a fair return to Mrs. Ralston's two hundred dollars was something the broker, Mr. Ralston and his friends, had a hard time to patch up.

At the end of the second act the cast was called before the curtain and the ladies, including Miss Louise Clifford, were presented with bouquets. Home-made candy, 160 boxes of it, was sold in the foyer and twice as much might have been disposed of.

Too much credit cannot be given to Miss Clifford who coached and directed the production. There was not a hitch from first to last, the "business" was bright and well taken, there was no trace of nervousness, and the entire play went off as if by professionals.

The setting and cast of the play are as follows:

SPORT NOTES

Those races and field events at the I. C. 4A were as fine a set of games as one could wish to see. The competition in every event was of the best sort. Faster races have been run but few more closely contested.

Among the top-notchers Saturday, California's super-athlete, Jack Merchand, led in the point-scoring with 13 to his credit.

Lescency the Lafayette flash and Hart-ranft from Leland Stanford were double winners. The former was victorious in the dashes, and the latter in the shotput and discus.

"Jake" Driscoll, Boston's popular favorite, was a winner in a blanket finish.

Leroy T. Brown of Dartmouth jumped 6 ft. 4 5/8 inches to a new record.

Bob Legendre, a Lewiston boy, scored six points for Georgetown with a win in the broad jump and a place in the discus throw.

Allen Woodring, the Syracuse star dash man played in hard luck. He pulled a tendon in the 100 and was unable to compete in the furlong.

BUKER NOSED OUT BY HIGGINS

judges agreed that Higgins had won. But of the second place judges one thought Buker was second and the other picked the Columbia man as the loser. It was a vote of three to one against Buker. The time was 9 minutes 28 1/5 seconds, seven seconds faster than Buker's two mile run at the Penn relay this year and some three seconds slower than his winning performance at the same games last year.

The other Bates representative, who appeared in one of the final events was the plucky mile runner, Ben Sargent, who has taken up track work this year for the first time and promises a brilliant future on the cinders. He was somewhat eclipsed in the Saturday race but he showed his metal in great style.

The meet was a huge success from the point of view of the lover of collegiate sports. California for the second consecutive season won the great meet with a score of 40 1/2 points. Princeton drew second place while Stanford University came in third.

THE MEET AS SEEN BY AN EYE-WITNESS

Those much-heralded ivy-covered gray walls of the Harvard Stadium have looked down on many a heartbreaking or a thrilling finish throughout their years, but it is doubtful if they have ever gazed upon a more gruelling and evenly-matched contest as that staged last Saturday by our own Ray Buker and Walter Higgins of Columbia. Though nipped at the tape and beaten by inches the Garnet captain deserves nothing but the highest praise and commendation for the fight that he made.

At the trials, Friday afternoon, Leroy Luce competed in the discus throw. He made several very good throws but the competition was very keen and though he gave his best he was unable to qualify.

The mile-run started at a fast clip and the large field that was entered covered the first lap in less than a minute. Ben Sargent was running sixth at the end of that quarter. Ben fought hard throughout the race and staged a little duel contest with Sunborn of Tech who had defeated him a week before, for the tenth position. Ben's time was estimated to be about 4.29 which is the best he has ever done. Great credit is due the boy who since Christmas has made such a capable runner of himself.

When the best little college two-miler in the country stepped into the Stadium, a small group of Bates men, who had travelled over the road to see the race, set the Garnet Captain up with a cheer. The applause and cheers of the crowd which answered this cheer clearly showed what a host of admirers appreciated this game little athlete. Buker modestly acknowledged the cheer with a wave of his hand, and went to his mark.

At the pistol crack the runners lunge forward, and when they had settled down, to a stride L. H. Stratton of Cornell was leading, with Hendrie of Tech second and Buker third. Stratton ran fast for three laps, dropped to last place and then out. Hendrie held his own until the fifth lap when Buker challenged him for the lead. On the sixth lap Hendrie was leading at the pole; Bob Brown of Cornell was beside the Tech man; Buker was behind Hendrie and was covered on the outside by Norman Brown. Higgins had been running a strong third and fourth throughout the race. On the seventh lap Buker was leading Moore of Columbia, and Dover of California.

At the gun-lap Higgins broke from the field and went to Buker's shoulder in a challenge for the lead. Just his body's breadth ahead Higgins, Buker went around the turn. On the straightaway the Columbia man tried his best to pass Buker but the Bates man was sprinting hard and wouldn't be passed. It seemed he tightened in the pinches, and Flinn's homer in the sixth was the only run scored off him. Dimlich accepted five chances in the field which he took without an error. Daker was the star performer for the Garnet with the willow.

SENIORITY ENTER-TAINS MRS. LADD

The Seniority Society entertained Mrs. Ladd at an informal reception last Friday afternoon at Rand Hall reception room. Many of the ladies of the Faculty and the students met Mrs. Ladd and were all charmed by her pleasing personality.

Ten was poured by Mrs. Hartshorn and Mrs. Brown assisted by the members of Seniority.

as though Buker's right shoulder and Higgins' left were joined in "Siamese Twin fashion" so close were the runners. Though it seemed they couldn't run faster, Buker uncoiled a spurt off the turn about forty yards from the finish which carried him about a yard in the van. Higgins soon recovered the yard and the two raced down the home stretch together, Buker with a very scant lead. Approaching the finish Higgins with perfect timing practically threw himself at the tape, breasting the worsted by a meagre few inches ahead of Buker.

It was a heartbreaking race and the crowd breathless, awaiting the decision of the Judges showed Buker their appreciation in the proper manner.

TENNIS MEET

TO WESLEYAN

Visitors Take Every Match
Fairbanks Substitutes for Purinton

Bates completed her tennis schedule last Tuesday morning in a dual engagement with the fast Wesleyan team on the Rand Hall courts. Wesleyan took every one of the 6 matches, "Eddie" Roberts being the only man to win a set. "Wallie" Fairbanks took Carl Purinton's place, who was away with the Outing Club, and put up a good game. The tennis team had a rather disastrous season, losing all their matches, but have good material for next year, as Ireland is the only man to graduate. Summary:

Hillyer, Wes., defeated Fairbanks, Bates, 6-1, 7-5
Leland, Wes., defeated Stanley, Bates, 6-3, 6-2.
Hatfield, Wes., defeated Ireland, Bates, 6-3, 6-2.
Schweicker, Wes., defeated Roberts, Bates, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4.
Double: Hatfield and Hillyer defeated Ireland and Fairbanks 6-3, 6-1.
Schweicker and Leland defeated Roberts and Stanley, 6-4, 6-4.

RAND HALL DANCE

The nocturnal "pop" of the student body was maintained at par Monday evening when an informal dancing party held at the Rand Hall gymnasium shook its "wicked heels" in the face of a drowsy holiday evening. Both eds and co-eds enjoyed the good time, and when the party broke up at 10 o'clock many a heart went away light, although purses and wallets had honorably and severely been no worse for the night's escapade.

Loosely Played Game—

Haines Gets Homer

The old Bates' jinx was working over time last Saturday afternoon out on Garsden field and the championship game with Colby ended 6-3 in favor of the Waterville lads. There was one of the smallest crowds of the season on hand to witness the fray.

Captain Spiller pitched the major portion of the game for Bates. The support was weak and errors on both sides were frequent. A home run by Haines off Price in the second inning was the feature of the game. It was a whale of a clout into center field.

EDWARD LITTLE WINS INTERSCHOLASTIC TRACK MEET

Gathers in a Total of 28 Points—Portland Second

Edward Little High was victor in the third annual interscholastic track and field meet Saturday afternoon on Garcelon field. The Auburn school gathered a total of 28 points. Portland High was second with 23½. Cony took 23 and Gardiner, 22.

Though the track was heavy from the rain, 12 records were broken. Richards of Mexico was high point man with 13 points. Dickson of Mexico and Torrey of Deering each took 10 points.

Farrington led off with a new record of 10.25 in the century. After that several records were smashed. Torrey of Deering lowered both hurdle marks. "Eddie" Watson of Edward Little cleared the bar at 9 ft. 6 inches for a new record in the pole vault. Costello won the high jump at 5 ft. 2 inches but failed to break the record.

The quarter-mile was the feature of the day. Harris of Portland just nosed out Gray of Cony at the finish.

The mile relay was the last event of the day and was a thrilling race. Fitz, running anchor for E. L. H. S. nearly caught Gray of Gardiner who started his lap with a big lead. Fitz cut it down but was unable to pass the Gardiner man.

BATES DROPS GAME WITH BOWDOIN

Loses 5-2 in Pitcher's Duel Game Marred by Errors

Bates dropped its final game with Bowdoin on June 2 by a score of 5 to 2. It was a pitcher's duel between Walker and Spiller, with the Bowdoin twirler coming out on the long end of the score. If the Garnet team could have touched up Walker in the pinches, Bowdoin's championship aspirations would have gone for naught.

However, the Bowdoin twirler was stingy with men out. He fanned Kennedy in the first with two on, Dimlick in the fourth with two on, and Kennedy again in the sixth with one on—for the final out in each instance.

Bowdoin collected four runs before the Garnet aggregation started scoring. Bates started trouble in the seventh. Walker served Moulton a slow ball, and he slammed it through short. Dimlick was nicked on the arm, and MacLain scratched a hit that neither Walker nor Smith could take. The bases were filled with none out. Spiller fouled to Handy. Jordan banged one to left that looked good for two bases, but Hill raced toward the foul line and managed to get both hands on it. Kennedy, hitting for Rowe, crashed another to left field, and this time, Hill, sprinting toward center field speared the ball with one hand and the rally was over. Jordan's fly gave Moulton a chance to score Bates first run. It was Hill's fine catches in this inning that robbed Bates of the game.

In the eighth the first two men also sent flies to Hill. Kennedy walked and went to third when Moulton banged a hit off Walker's shins. Dimlick hit to Davis and the Bowdoin second sealer boated it (Continued on Page Three)

BATES WINS FROM COLBY IN FINAL SERIES GAME 8-2

Daker Stars at Bat with Two-bagger and Home Run

Bates won a league game, yesterday, when it defeated Colby on the latter's lightning fast diamond, 8 to 2. Bates won by opportune hitting and Colby's poor errors. Hamilton twirled a nice game for the Garnet, and received material assistance especially in the eighth when the first three Colby batters hit safely. Royal and Daker contributed home runs.

Daker, discounting one error, played a fine game, driving in a pair of runs, including that scored on his homer, and covering third every minute.

Colby was helpless in the field, nine errors being chalked up. All but two of those in the first four innings. After the sixth Bates began to get the range on Porter's slow ones and pounded out some real hits.

JUNIOR EXHIBITION ONE OF BEST IN YEARS

Theodore Pinckney and Alta Harris Prize Winners in Annual Contest

Theodore R. Pinckney, of Washington, D. C., was the winner of the first prize of forty-five dollars, at the Junior Exhibition last Monday evening, held in the College Chapel. Miss Florence A. Harris of Monmouth won the second prize of thirty dollars. The judges were Reverend J. Charles McDonald, Miss Rose Newley and Mr. Linwood Duglin.

Mr. Pinckney's winning speech was entitled "Birth-rights or States' Rights." He pointed out in the course of his very interesting discourse that society as a whole is infinitely bigger than the individual. One should learn to subordinate oneself to the welfare of society as a whole. The Supreme Court has recently declared the Federal Child Labor Law unconstitutional. (Continued on Page Two)

MONKS GAMBOL ON RIVER BANK

Lay Aside Cloth for a Time and with Certain Fair Nuns Hold Picnic

Great was the excitement last Monday afternoon when the monks laying aside the cloth for a time sallied forth across the Campus seeking nuns to accompany them to their annual convale on the river bank. By dint of many persuasive arguments, much pleading and coaxing, the sisters were persuaded to forsake their favorite nooks for a time and indulge in more worldly pleasures.

It was an inspiring scene, the nuns and monks gathered about in clusters of two or more discussing quietly the weighty affairs of the world, here and there a brother busily preparing victuals for the feast of Monkdom, and still others of the faithful band having laid aside their dignity for a time were indulging in sportive games and contests.

A new honor has come to the Monastery and it comes from a most unexpected source. Monk Morrell, feeling that he must uphold the glory and honor of the ancient order, heaved the milk can containing the drinks into the river for a record. It was an achievement to boast of but consternation reigned supreme in the culinary department for a time. Then Brother Clifford arrived on the scene and with his arrival the situation was saved for he swam out and diving brought the teed coffee from the muds of despair.

A rather unfortunate incident occurred during the afternoon. Two of the monks while discussing worldly affairs fell into a disagreement which resulted in words (Continued on Page Three)

IVY DAY OBSERVED BY JUNIORS — EXERCISES IMPRESSIVE AND INSPIRING

CLASS OF 1923 PLANTS IVY, EMBLEMATIC OF ITS NEW LEADERSHIP OF UNDERGRADUATE BODY

On Wednesday a bright, clear morning ushered the Last Chapel service for this year into the customary 8:40 nishes and pews, and propitiously headed the program for Ivy Day. After the prelude by the organist, Homer C. Bryant, the classes waiting outside the doors marched to their places to the tune of the Processional, "America the Beautiful." The respective classes were marshalled in by Ray Bragg, '25, Robert Partridge, '24, William Kennelly, '23, and Maynard Moulton, '22. Following the Processional and an anthem sung by the Senior Choir, Roland Carpenter filled his place as speaker of the service, by a clean cut and earnest speech on "The Spirit of College."

A short prayer was offered by Raymond Baker, chaplain of the morning and the Last Chapel Hymn was sung by the Senior Choir. The Recessional, Auld Lang Syne, then brought the student body in a ring in front of the chapel and amid class cheers and the Old Bates Yell, the Last Chapel services were concluded.

The main feature of the Ivy Day program began at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at the Little Theatre, Hathorn Hall, when the exercises conducted by the Junior Class were opened by Harold C. Burdon in a simple, and earnest invocation. Robert Wade, president of the class, then presented Philip S. Nason as orator of the afternoon, in the Class Oration entitled "The Trend of Culture." "Civilization obeys the same laws as the ocean; it has its ebb and flow, and where it advances on one shore it recedes on the other." Certainly history has proven these words of Samuel Johnson to be true. Truly culture has receded on one (Continued on Page Two)

ATHLETIC BOARD HOUSE PARTY

Sixteen members of the girls' Athletic Board with Miss Davies as chaperone enjoyed a very pleasant week end at Tripp Lake.

Most of the time was spent outdoors enjoying the various sports which the lake afforded. Among these sports were boating, canoeing, but swimming proved to be the predominant feature of the outing.

Though the first day was rainy and disagreeable, by the light and heat of the fireside, popping corn and roasting marshmallows made the girls happy.

They returned Monday from camp all asserting that this house party was the most successful ever held.

FIRST IVY HOP AT BATES IS GREAT SUCCESS

Formal Dance Well Attended Much Credit Due Committee

"Oh wasn't it wonderful!" I never had such a good time!" "It was just like College Hops you read about only heaps better for it was at Bates." "A most successful dancing party, you are to be congratulated." "Such a lovely dancing party, every one looked so pretty. I felt just very proud of you all."

Such were some of hundreds of praises given concerning the Ivy Hop held last Tuesday evening at Chase Hall.

The committee had worked hard and long on every detail that it might be a real Hop. Nothing was lacking, everything was complete even to the seven large electric fans which did their work nobly trying to disperse the heat waves, which seemed to be working overtime that night. The hall was very pretty indeed, in its festoons of green and white streamers and circles. The lights were shaded with the streamers which gave an effect of delightful coolness. Arranged about the hall were large flower-baskets which were filled with green carnation. The decorations would not be voted anything but just O. K.

At 8 o'clock promptly the orchestra (Continued on Page Four)

CO-EDS HOLD JUNE FESTIVAL

Event Successful in Spite of Threatening Weather

Although the weather-man cast threatening glances upon the campers last Friday afternoon, the co-eds conducted a most successful June Festival. Booths, prettily decorated were arranged on the lawn beside the chapel. Some of the Freshmen girls assisted at the booths, selling ice cream, punch, candy and balloons, while others dressed in costumes sold fancy and attractive favors. The Senior girls assisted at a table loaded with delicious home-made cakes.

After a large crowd of students and friends had gathered, a splendid novelty program was given. The Milliken House girls gave a motion-picture stunt called "How Fulina and Romina raised a million for Batesina." Next followed several folk dances by girls in costume. Miss Gladys Leahy, '24, gave a solo sword dance, in costume, which was greatly appreciated. The program concluded by a one-act tragedy entitled "A Literal Interpretation of Polyphantus" given by the girls of Whittier House.

A goodly amount was added to the M. D. Fund as a result of this Festival.

FINAL EXAMINATIONS

A timely subject!
As to their popularity, we don't need to argue. The pros and cons of this question are many and diverse, especially the cons,—says the student.

There is one prominent feature of examinations in general, the value of which is easily seen. Final examinations give to the student a perspective of the work as a whole which he would never obtain otherwise. The long weeks and months of daily work are not likely to leave anything more than a motley collection of disarranged ideas. Monthly written work is capable only of binding together the impressions of a small part of the course. The semester finals, carefully prepared for, give the student the idea of his work which he is likely retain.

In the meantime, the exams are on. Ours not to reason why, ours but to do and die!

One week more and the college year will be over, with opportunity merely for regrets over what we should have done. Now is the time for some last good lies!

OLD AND NEW COMMENCEMENTS

All commencements from time immemorial have had the same characteristic note,—that of enthusiasm and hope, idealism.

This almost becomes a mark for the ridicule of outsiders who do not catch the spirit of college graduations. The fresh, unwearied figure of the college graduate, in cap and gown, with diploma in hand, gazing forward and upward to visions of larger responsibility and service, becomes the object of mockery to many who have never felt the thrill of college commencements and have rubbed too long against the rougher side of life.

If we are to choose between the two philosophies, however,—that of the untried college graduate, with all his boundless enthusiasm, energy, and hope, and that of the wearied, cynical, disgruntled scuffer—we choose the idealist every time.

If there is anything the world needs today, it is idealism,—combined, of course, with common sense. Not less idealism, we say, but more.

AN INCREASING SCOPE OF SERVICE

The added numbers which the class of 1922 will give to the Bates graduates who are already upholding the Bates standard of service in the world will be welcome reinforcements.

This standard of service is not unique with Bates, but our Alma Mater ranks high among those institutions which do maintain it.

A very large proportion of Bates men and women go upon graduation to work of a distinctly useful nature. In the field of education, Bates stands with the leaders of New England. What town or city of Maine, Massachusetts, Connecticut, or New Hampshire does not possess a teacher whose Alma Mater is Bates? High school teachers, principals, local and state superintendents, even college professors, Bates has them all in large numbers.

Bates takes a leading position among the colleges which are sending students into Christian service. What college in New England has a larger number of Student Volunteers in proportion to the total enrollment?

In the many fields of business, in all the professions, Bates has her representatives who are upholding the tradition of service. May each new class grasp that vision of their responsibility.

ALUMNI

One or two articles have already appeared in The Student, describing the work in which some of our graduates are engaged. We are glad to print the following letter from Mr. R. L. Tombien, who graduated from Bates in 1914. Mr. Tombien is now engaged with the Ohio Bell Telephone Company as an engineer. His branch of work is very interesting and is rather new to most of us:

Cleveland, Ohio.

To the Bates Student:

The work in which I have been engaged during the past two and a half years is conducted by the Engineering Department of the A. T. & T. Co., New York City, and consists of making commercial surveys or development studies for the associated companies of the Bell System. The work is highly specialized and involves an infinite amount of detail, but the great variety of steps in the complete process eliminates the dullness of tedious routine and lends interest to the work.

A detailed description of the entire process would be uninteresting and out of place here, but in general the purpose of the survey is to obtain a comprehensive analysis of the given community as a basis of estimating future telephone development.

In brief outline the four important steps of a survey are as follows,—

- (1) The analysis of the present telephone market and actual telephone development.
- (2) The population estimate of the future and the construction of the ultimate telephone market.
- (3) The forecast of the ultimate rate schedule suitable for the ultimate telephone market.
- (4) The estimates of the ultimate telephone development.

The term "ultimate" used in reference to the estimated population, future rate schedule, and probably telephone development is for a date twenty years from the time of the survey. Similar estimates are also made for intermediate periods of six and twelve years.

In the first step we create a card file of present subscribers. These cards are sorted to streets and according to street numbers. The subscribers in each city block are then recorded on a form called "Subscriber's Field Form." We then divide the city into many sections of as nearly uniform economic conditions as possible, and make a house-to-house record of existing families and business firms, including both subscribers and non-subscribers, and classify the families according to type of residence and rental class, and the firms according to type of business. These field records are then summarized by clerks and a summary of the present telephone market and telephone development is provided for each homogeneous section and for the city as a whole.

Population estimates are made from an analysis of the past history of the community, a study of the relation between population growth and the economic development of the past, and a forecast of the future influences which will affect the growth of the city. Every city should be analysed on the basis of its own peculiar conditions.

The important consideration in devising the ultimate rate schedule is the desirability of designing a schedule which will provide the classes of service best suited to the telephone market of the future community, and will result in a character of telephone development that will provide the best operating conditions.

The estimates of the probable telephone development of the ultimate market are generally based on the type of rate schedule adopted for the purpose.

Commercial surveys are needed as the basis for plans of operations from a plant, traffic and commercial standpoint, and in connection with a rate schedule revision and as a forecast of future operating conditions.

The territory under consideration covers the entire country but involves only the larger cities. The length of stay in any one city varies from two to six months, and the element of travel with frequently changing scenery provides abundant compensation for the sacrifices of settled home life.

This work offers unusual opportunities for interesting personal experiences as well as for business advancement in an attractive field, and I look forward to the coming years with much enthusiasm.

Robert L. Tombien.

JUNIOR EXHIBITION

constitutional. This decision puts states' rights above humanity. The welfare of our children should be a national question, the speaker declared. He then went on and cited instance after instance of terrifying cases of child labor. State laws are not enough to curb this evil. We should never be deceived by the humbug who shout state-rights in defiance of a nation's welfare. Let us help these little boys and girls. What shall your answer be—states' rights or birth-rights?

Miss Harris in her oration presented to the audience a most decisive plea against the passage of a soldier's bonus bill at the present time. She began her address with an expert analysis of the great problem of taxation. The United States as a result of the war is in debt to an extent of some thirty billions of dollars. The proposed bonus bill would mean an increase of this huge debt by $2,500,000,000. The speaker next gave a resume of the various means that this sum could be raised the fallacies of each method being carefully pointed out. She closed her speech with the assertion that surely it was no more than a man's duty to be ready to serve his country in time of war and there should be no thought of placing a price on patriotism. Throughout the entire oration there was in evidence a most carefully defined argument on the question which gave the audience real information regarding this important subject.

The first speaker of the evening was Miss Alison Laing who told in a pleasing manner the story of "Savonarola," a monk in the monastery of St. Mark. He died the tragic death of fire, persecuted by those he wished to save. Later he was realized to be the prophet of a new civilization and one of the forerunners of true reformation. Mr. Pinckney followed and then came Miss Vivienne Rogers who paid a tribute to the Republican party. It was a real stump speech and one that would do the Republican leaders in Washington good if they could but have heard it. In closing she called upon all present to cast their ballots next November for the representatives of the "Grand Old Party."

Carl Purinton's address on "A New Creed for the Nations" was one of real inspiration. The only way to save the soul of Europe today is thru a change in political methods. False diplomacy has betrayed the common people. Unselfishness and altruism are the salvation of Europe today. Let us adopt a creed of good will for nations. Miss Wallingford followed with her oration on "The Heritage of New England." The spirit of puritanism she pointed out was religious liberty, political freedom, and popular education. Herbert Carroll was most interesting in his address on "Civilization! What Next?" New hopes and new ideals are inspiring the world today. This is an age of cooperation despite all evidence to the contrary. Mr. Carroll traced convincingly the growth of toleration among men throughout the ages culminating in the League of Nations and the Washington Conference which mark turning points in the history of civilization. Science, education, and religion all point towards greater cooperation. Let us develop this useful cooperation which is for the best interests of all mankind. At the close of Mr. Carroll's speech there was an intermission of a few minutes during which a selection was played on the organ.

Following the intermission Miss Gertrude Lombard gave a most appealing address on "The Missionary of Today." Sacrifice means real happiness. We do not have to go to Africa or India to be missionaries for the missionary spirit of sacrifice may be practiced right here at home. Mr. Wade as next speaker gave a careful analysis and interpretation of the Pacific question. He reviewed the important four power treaty consummated at the Washington conference and pointed out the importance of American activity in this part of the world. Miss Harris followed with her prize winning oration. Next on the program was Edward Roberts who gave a vivid portrayal of "The Unspensable Turk." Miss Barentzen spoke on "The Charm of the Common Place," while Philip Nason closed the evening's program with an address on "The Cost of Progress."

Dean Fred E. Pomeroy acted as Chairman of the Exhibition. The Committee of Arrangements consisted of Herbert Carroll, Chairman, Mildred Baker and Harris Leavitt.

IVY DAY OBSERVED BY JUNIORS

shore as it has advanced on another, but the highest mark of that which reveals has never reached the mark made by the new wave.

The Ivy Day Poem was then read by Miss Amy Blaisdell who had composed it. It was followed by the Ivy Ode sung by the Junior class to the tune of "The End of a Perfect Day." The program merged into a lighter and gayer color by the spell of the toasts which followed. Mr. William Kennelly, who was marshal, also acted as toastmaster, and, after stating in his usual emphatic manner how he hated to talk, introduced Miss Norrine E. Whiting who proceeded with her toast on "The Faculty." "I came across a funny look the other day and I speak of this because I think you will be interested in this book." And Miss Whiting ran on and touched here and there on the whims of the faculty that the undergraduates appreciate with irrepressible humor.

The toast to the Co-Eds was made by James Hamlin, who after having admitted his precarious position in handling such an uncertain and weighty subject, raced on in his precarious position, touching here and there what he hoped would embarrass the women members of the class.

"I wonder!" Thus Alice Jesseman began the toast to "Our Boys" and she had them all wondering and some of them wishing they were wandering far from the scene before she had taken her seat. "We are told that the boys of 1923 are peculiar" whereupon Miss Jesseman related all the peculiarities of "Our Boys" she had been able to assemble. She concluded with these lines:

"When now and then
I've taken pen
To write these jocular wailings
I've had a mind
To be unkind
About the boys' failings
But drat it all—
I always fail
(I know not why we like 'em)
It sure is great
To concentrate
On what we know about 'em."

In his toast "To the Athletes" Kenneth Leathers said: "The whole world has ever admired athletes and their various feats of strength and endurance." Athletics have built up the American college. American athletes stand foremost in international fame. American athletic sports are the mainstay of the physical par of our race today, and are helping to offset the softening effect which our labor saving devices and inventions have upon modern civilization. Altho the class of '23 is small it has a large percentage of the best athletes in college. There are nine letter men and three two letter men. The class of '23 has done more than its "hit" toward a successful athletic Bates.

"The Class Prophecy" was made by Miss Vivienne Rogers and was eagerly received by the students. Miss Rogers imagined a trip around the world in which she met some of her classmates, many of which were mentioned as filling ludicrous positions and occupations in different parts of the globe.

"The Presentation of Gifts" was made by Mr. Herbert Bean, and but few of the prominent members of the class were skipped in his selection of gifts to emphasize the whim, preference, or tendency which any one of them might have.

The exercises for the afternoon were concluded when the class procession of cap-and-gowned Juniors was marshalled to Chase Hall and a sprig of Ivy was planted by the bit of moist earth which each Junior threw over its roots. Thus ended Ivy Day for 1922. The committee in charge of the day's program was Alice Crossland, Hazel E. Prescott, and John G. Fogg, chairman.

EVERY DAY PROPOSITION

A teacher was reading to her class when she came across the word "unaware." She asked if any one knew the meaning.

One little girl timidly raised her hand and gave the following definition: "Unaware is what you put on first and take off last."—Minneapolis Tribune.

SPORT NOTES

With the class of '22 goes an athlete who has brought country-wide fame to Bates, who has established himself as probably the most widely known athlete to ever represent Bates. "Ray" Baker sang his swan song under the colors of his college at the recent inter-collegiate meet, but he has not ended his career as a runner by any means. Baker is looking forward to further laurels in the track game. Next winter his aim will be to secure first place in the Wanamaker mile and a half at New York. He expects to enter other competitive races in order to keep in trim for his big aim in 1924,—his main ambition in the track game being to represent the United States in the next Olympic game. Wherever he may be, let's follow this splendid athlete who will continue to bring fame to himself and his Alma Mater.

Along with Baker goes several more athletes whose work must not be forgotten and we should follow with interest their future success.

and finally blows. Then one, feeling much aggrieved, challenged the other to mortal combat on the field of honor.
Quickly the field was arranged and the combat began. A prize of one doughnut, a most magnificent reward, was held by the Great Itho Monk, Watts, for the winner. The duel was staged with swords and was over all too quickly both monks losing their lives and the Great Itho Monk eating the prize.

Those who had lost their lives were quickly revived when the call for supper came. The nuns and monks gathered under the trees and partook of a most bountiful repast of salmon salad, cinnamon rolls, iced coffee, soft drinks, doughnuts, ice cream and cookies.

The whole picnic was arranged by Monk Kimball and his committee.

A Gateway to Progress

There it stands—a simple forty-foot gateway but unlike any other in the entire world. Through it have come many of the engineering ideas that have made this an electrical America.

The story of electrical development begins in the Research Laboratories. Here the ruling spirit is one of knowledge—truth—rather than immediate practical results. In this manner are established new theories—tools for future use—which sooner or later find ready application.

The great industries that cluster around Niagara Falls, the electrically driven battleships, the trolley cars and electrified railways that carry millions, the lamps that glow in homes and streets, the household conveniences that have relieved women of drudgery, the labor-saving electrical tools of factories, all owe their existence, partly at least, to the co-ordinated efforts of the thousands who daily stream through this gateway.

LAWRENCE HIGH TAKES BATES INTO 2nd CAMP

Triple Play Engineered by Addition Feature of 4-2
Game

The Bates' second team lost its final game of the season on June 6 to Lawrence High School of Fairfield 4 to 2. The Fairfield team was the first to score, hitting Tarbell for one run in the first. The Bates team garnered two in the third, while the visitors tied the score in the fourth and put across two in the seventh.

The feature of the game was a triple play by Bates in the sixth. Bragg led off for Lawrence with a single over second. O'Brien was safe when he slashed one through Newton, Bragg taking second on the error. Bradley connected with one of Tarbell's fast ones and drove a liner a little to the right of second base. Addition leaped for the ball, caught it, tagged second, and then threw it to first, nipping O'Brien on a close play. This play shut off a rally as Bradley's drive was labelled for a sure double.

FIRST IVY HOP

struck its first jazzy note and with the uprising of swallow-tails, the tucking in of shirt fronts, the straightening of tuxes, the shaking out of shining silks and satins,—the dance began. The music was so peppy that soon, very soon in fact, all the uneasy feelings of the unaccustomed dress were forgotten completely. The receiving line was formed after the first dance, after which the regular dance order was carried out. Punch was served during the evening by three Freshman girls. During the intermission ice-cream and fancy cookies were served by Freshman boys. The clock in the corner struck 12 all too quickly. But it was with a feeling that the Ivy Hop of the Class of 1923 should never be forgotten as the couples made their way across campus for the dormitories. Every girl was extremely happy with her string of betty-bends, which were given as the ladies' favors. Every fellow was doubly happy because he had had the best time ever and because he soon was to be able to get cooled off. The Patrons and Patronesses were Professor and Mrs. R. R. N. Gould, Professor and Mrs. F. E. Pomeroy, Professor A. C. Baird and Dean Niles.

The committee which is worthy of undying praise for the success of this 1923 dance is composed of the following: James B. Hamlin, Helen H. Hoyt, Ruth B. Lender, Alice Jesseman, Robert G. Wade.

Marble's Orchestra furnished the music.

Bates Team Fights Well for Three Periods But
Tires in 4th

Bates opened her 1922 football season last Saturday at New Haven, going down to defeat before the strong Yale eleven, to the tune of 48 to 0. Greatly outweighed, the lighter Bates team put up a good fight for 3 periods, especially in the third quarter when the Bulldog was unable to score but once. The Yale team opened up in the very first quarter and played a wide open game, using forward passes and massed plays for long gains, the whole team played in mid-season form. Bates was handicapped due to the fact they were able to scrimmage only twice previous to the game. The boys were in excellent condition however, no serious injuries occurring. The defeat however, did not dampen the spirit of the boys and will play all the harder when they stack up against N. H. State next Saturday. Jordan and Mallory excelled for Yale while Capt. Guiney, Davis and Woodman showed up well for Bates.

ANNUAL RECEPTION GIVEN TO FRESHMEN

Bates Christian Association
Welcome Entering Class

On Saturday evening the Bates Christian Association gave their annual reception to the entering class. It was the first meeting of the entire class of 1926 and the "Frosh" were there in large numbers. Many upper classmen also embraced the opportunity of giving the newcomers the glad hand. The receiving line was composed of President and Mrs. Gray and the professors and their wives. The same means of getting acquainted as in other years, namely the "I am, You are" cards, were employed.

The program was staged under the able direction of "Bill" Young '24 as follows:

Words of Welcome President Gray
Greetings Mr. Parlington
The Y. W. C. A. Miss Gertrude Lombard
Solo Mr. Libby
The Y. M. C. A. Mr. Nason

Following the program the work of friend making progressed again. Refreshments of ice cream and cookies were served downstairs by white coated volunteers from the upper classes. After the refreshments the gathering broke up with another pleasant evening added to the ever growing record of Chase Hall. The managing committee from the two associations deserve credit in the admirable way in which the affair was run off. Miss Alice Jesseman '23 was chairman of the Y. W. committee and Paul Libby led the committee from the Y. M. C. A.

FRESHMEN CANDIDATES FOR "STUDENT"

All freshmen who wish to try out for the staff of the "Bates Student" are requested to meet in Hathorn Hall Monday, October 2nd, at 1.00 p. m. This is both for the editorial and business branches of the board. Several weeks competition will be held following this meeting and then freshman reporters will be chosen and freshman ass't business managers.

MAHMOOD EXCELS FOR VISITORS— YOUNG FOR BATES

The Oxford team that came to Lewiston last Tuesday evening in the person of three members of the Oxford Union Society to participate in the first International debate with Bates College, proved to be all that sympathetic lovers of that venerable old ewed institution might expect—the epitome of old world culture, cosmopolitan good-will, and true English sportsmanship.

To those whose only sightings on the Oxonian point of view had been gleaned thru discursive reading in such widely different books as Compton Mackenzie's "Sinister Street" and the more recent but equally entertaining "Discovery of England" by Stephen Leacock the breadth of view, the splendid delivery, and the devotion to ideas, exhibited by the gentlemen from Oxford thruout the course of the debate, was nothing short of inspiring. It established an intimate relationship between the speakers and their audience that still persists unbroken, even now when the debate is over. It forged once and forever another golden link of cordiality in the invincible chain of Anglo-American relations.

To the hundreds of Bates men and women, scattered thruout the vast audience, an intimate sense of the singular importance of the occasion must have come, with the thought that this—the sixtieth year in the history of the college saw Bates a participant in the first International debate ever to be held in America. Bates—the pioneer college of Cheney and Chase, pledging faith and friendship with Oxford the greatest of English universities in an open forensic contest! The vigorous pioneer spirit of New England blending in one accord with the spiritual idealism that has always been associated with Christ Church, and Balliol!

The Honorable Percival P. Baxter, Governor of the State of Maine presided at the meeting, and in his introductory remarks emphasized the importance of the occasion. In part he said:

"The event appeals to the imagination. One thinks of all the centuries which have passed and nothing of this sort has occurred. And now here in Lewiston we are inaugurating a series of events which will continue in memory forever. The event will do much to cement the friendly relations which have existed more than half a century between the British Isles and the United States. Every event makes the tie a little firmer and contributes materially to the welfare of humanity."

CUSTOM OF FIRST CHAPEL STARTED

Speakers Give Key Words for Success During Coming Year

Probably nothing will be more lasting in the minds of the students as will be the first chapel exercises held at the opening of college. Especially the Freshmen, who were entering college and a new and great undertaking for the first time, may well remember those services and the animating talks by Dean P. Pomeroy, Dean L. M. Niles, Rev. G. F. Finnie, and President Gray.

Devotional services were lead by Professor Chase. Dean Pomeroy then gave a word of welcome to the Freshmen and Upperclassmen. The value of a thorough preparation for classroom work or any undertaking was emphasized. Good preparation alone often meant success. And the young college student must ever be mindful that he is preparing himself for the greater tasks of life and for service to his fellowman.

Dean Niles followed, her central thought being co-operation.
Dr. Finnie then spoke a few words, and President Gray closed the exercises with an interesting and helpful talk on "Real Thinking."

HUGH WALPOLE TO LECTURE WEDNESDAY

Well-known English Novelist
Will Talk on "Realists"

Hugh Walpole, the well known English novelist and literary critic who is again visiting this country, is to lecture at The Bates College Chapel on Wednesday, October 4th, when his subject will be "The Realists."

Mr. Walpole is unusually well fitted to discuss this topic, for he is not only one of the foremost authorities on English literature, but has written eleven novels of surpassing excellence. Today he ranks among the greatest English writers of fiction, in spite of the fact that he is still under forty.

As a speaker Mr. Walpole is fully as entertaining as he is a writer. In addition, his close personal contact with the authors whose books he discusses enables him to intersperse his lectures with interesting reminiscence and other intimate touches which serve to show these celebrities at close range and give an insight into their methods of working.

On his former visit to this country Mr. Walpole attracted record-breaking audiences, while his views on contemporary literature aroused unusual interest. There is every indication that his present lecture tour will be an even greater success.

IF I WERE A FRESHMAN

(1) I should ask myself what my purpose is in coming to Bates. Is it to secure an education? Then these first weeks are to be the most important ones in my whole college career for in them I shall be fixing in my own mind the standard of work I intend to maintain. I shall be making the first and most permanent impression upon my instructors of my mental ability. Realizing that the Bates standard of scholarship is high, I am determined to do nothing that will lower that standard.

(2) I should determine to give Bates my undivided loyalty from the very beginning.

I am proud of my "prep" school, as is natural. Those days are past, however, and high school letters upon my sweater, high school pins, and other insignia are out of place. I am a Bates man now. Realizing that the greatest incentive to loyalty is service, I should get out and do something, sacrifice something for my Alma Mater at the first opportunity.

(3) I should go out for some form of varsity athletics. I owe it to myself, for the training and development of my body. I owe it to Bates. With a small number of men in the college, the success of her teams is dependent upon the interest I and other men like me actively display.

(4) I should get acquainted with all my classmates and as many of the upperclassmen as possible.

I should refuse to be a recluse. I should be a friend to and make friends with all. I know that the best memories of college life and the choicest treasures of life after college are the good friends made in these years.

(5) I should acquaint myself with the history of Bates. I should read the life of her first President, Oren B. Cheney, a copy of which is in the library. I should try to catch the spirit of the man whose portrait hangs over the fireplace in Chase Hall—the second President of Bates College, George C. Chase. I should learn all I could about "Uncle Johnny" Stanton, the "beloved Professor" and special friend of freshman, who originated the custom of Freshman Class Rides.

(6) I should saturate myself with the traditions of Bates. I should appreciate the democratic tradition which is woven into the very fiber of the institution. I should be glad that fraternities, with their added expense and sometimes snobbish spirit, were banned by this democracy. I should be proud that Bates offers an education to any student of any race or creed at the minimum cost.

I should respect and support the Christian tradition. I should be glad that the destiny of Bates has been directed by inspired Christian men. I should openly give my support to the religious interests of the college.

THE GENTLEMEN FROM OXFORD

Another team has demonstrated the supremacy of Bates in the realm of argument, yet a victorious team may always benefit from the example of the loser. While the verdict of both judges and audience was given to Bates, and justly, for her logical, convincing reasoning, yet the Englishmen could hardly have been excelled in their extreme chivalry and courtesy to their opponents, and in the stirring appeal they made to the finer sympathies of the audience. Seldom has the difficult art of persuasion been so well exemplified as by the gentlemen from Oxford.

BATES GETS DECISION OVER OXFORD

Church; Maqbool Mahmood of India; and M. C. Hollis of Baliol College, Oxford, closed for the English side. He declared that the league was a genuine attempt to ensure the peace of the world and not simply a trick, as has been charged, to get the power of the world into the hands of some people or nation.

William E. Young, the senior member of the Bates team had his subject well in hand from the moment he stepped to the front of the platform following his introduction by the Governor until he returned to his seat at the conclusion. America's entrance into the league of Nations would mean nothing more than a hopeless entanglement. He stated that America did not approve entering a covenant that would cause the affairs of the nation to be handled by a court of politicians at Geneva instead of at Washington.

In concluding he paid a tribute to his British opponents stating that he hoped another link in the chain of friendship between Great Britain and America had been welded, but that he and his colleagues remained firm in the belief that they had chosen the better part of the question.

In accordance with British custom in addition to a decision being rendered by a board of three impartial judges as American rule provides the audience was

Mr. Marjoribanks was the first speaker for the affirmative arguing for the League he said:

"There are three main points to the question" said he. "Two are practical. The first is the prevention of war, the second, economic necessity and the third an appeal to the spiritual and higher ideas of the human mind. Compulsory arbitration is not the case among nations. They consider first their own interests. International law is at the present time the same as it was in the time of the Druids. This is a great contradiction in organized human life, and that is what the League of Nations is seeking to overcome.

Erwin D. Canham as the first speaker for Bates followed Mr. Marjoribanks and in a forceful manner outlined the standpoint for his team. By way of introduction he began:

"We of Bates appreciate the great honor which is done us by this opportunity to welcome the representatives of the most venerable University in the world," said Mr. Canham, opening the debate for the negative. "We have not known enough of each other. To widen this knowledge is the main object of such a contest as this. The better we know each other, the better we will like each other and the more we will appreciate each other's viewpoint.

He then immediately launched into his argument.

"If the United States has any power, how did it get it? Because it did not intervene in every little European quarrel. It remained aloof impartial. If it has intervened it was because its conscience so dictated. And it has been aligned on the right side. By not joining the league it has not incurred the hatred of the European nations by intervention.

"Would the people of the United States wish to enter a League of Nations organized to perpetuate the terms of the Versailles treaty, regarded as an unjust treaty? The League, because it enforces the treaty has had to remake the map of Europe. Inevitably it has aroused dispute. The nations are still jealous of each other."

Maqbool Mahmood, native of India, a graduate of Oxford and president of the International assembly, was the next speaker. He was a typical representative of the aristocracy of his country. Retaining his native accent, broadened by a touch of the English, Mr. Mahmood's enunciation was clear and his manner and style of delivery rather fascinating.

Said "the Boston Herald" by way of comment:

Perhaps the most interesting debater of the evening was Maqbool Mahmood, a native of India and a graduate of Oxford University. He came at very short notice to take the place of Kenneth E. Lindsay on the affirmative side.

Arthur W. Pollister of Danville, was the second Bates man to speak. He attacked the argument of his Oxford predecessor at the start off and offered supportive facts to the Bates side of the question.

As further reasons why the United States should not join the League, Mr. Pollister said the League had failed in its principal purpose, that of minimizing warfare; because of danger of becoming embroiled in European difficulties and also because of political complications.

Quoting President Harding the speaker said: "America first does not mean American selfish. We want to help Europe but we can best accomplish that by remaining free from foreign alliances."

Maurice C. Hollis of Baliol College, Oxford, closed for the English side. He declared that the league was a genuine attempt to ensure the peace of the world and not simply a trick, as has been charged, to get the power of the world into the hands of some people or nation.

EDITORIAL

The Young Men's Christian Association at Bates College is a vital force in the campus life. Organized in 1888 with F. M. Buker, father of the "Flying Twins," as President, it has never ceased to function effectively. Since 1912 a General Secretary has been employed to guide and supervise the work of the "Y."

The Association is strictly a student affair. Its president, vice president, secretary and treasurer are elected in March by the members of the "Y". Last year over 275 students held membership tickets.

A twofold purpose dominates its activities—to serve Bates men and, of equal importance, to help Bates men experience the joy of unpaid service for their fellows.

A special appeal is made to those student readers who are definitely interested in Christian work to see any member of the "Y" Cabinet—Nason '23, Burdon '23, Robinson '23, Purinton '23, W. Gilpatrick '24, Dorr '25—or General Secretary Purinton.

The "Y" recognizes no distinctions of race, religion, creed or color. It is for all the students all the time.

The third page of this issue is given over to the college Christian Association in order that its program may be placed before the student body. The Student is always glad to cooperate with any organization that is working for the best interests of Bates.

VOLUNTARY STUDY GROUPS MEET MONDAY EVENING

Here Is a Chance For You to Get Real Help Through Discussion

For years, it has been customary here at Bates to hold Voluntary Study groups in the several dormitories. The plan was always been enthusiastically supported by the students, who, through the discussion made possible by the meeting together and by the counsel of the leader, have reached inestimable value therefrom.

This year, an interesting and helpful program has been planned. The freshman men will be divided into eight groups, each group having as its leader, its respective faculty adviser. With such men as Cutts, Jenkins, and others, the freshmen may well be certain that the eight meetings will be well worth while. Subjects of immediate interest to the new men, such as "College Friendships," "The College Purpose," and so on, will be discussed, the religious viewpoint being ever held in mind.

The sophomore groups will be led by able members of the faculty, and such subjects will be taken up as will be of special helpfulness to the second year men.

Juniors and seniors! Here's an opportunity that you can't afford to miss! Dr. Tubbs is to have charge of the junior and senior groups. "Nough said! Every man ought to turn out to hear Dr. Tubbs and to discuss certain vital questions with him.

We need the backing of every man in college. Your campus life is threefold: mental, physical, and spiritual. The mental is being cared for in the class-rooms; the physical on the track and on the gridiron. Don't neglect the spiritual! Be a member of a Voluntary Study group. First meeting Monday, October 2, at 6:45 P. M. The courses will continue for eight weeks.

MEMBERSHIP IN BATES Y. M. C. A.

Membership in our Christian Association is open to all regardless of his creed or race. It is the aim of the organization to have enrolled in it, every man on the college campus. Some men among the student body look at it as just wanting the three dollars per year. It is just as true that we must have money to do the work of the Bates Y. M. C. A., as it is for the Athletic Association to carry out its program.

Fees for both are collected through the term bills. Our association is just one of many. You will find a like organization on nearly every college campus in our country.

We need every new man at Bates as a member. We especially need men who are willing to help, to co-operate in the work that we plan to do. Such work is paid for as a service to our Alma Mater and to a better citizenship.

RUSH FOR WORK AT EMPLOYMENT BUREAU AT "Y"

Lewiston and Auburn Being Scanned For Student Work

Among the many activities of the ever active Y. M. C. A. is the Employment Bureau which aims to serve as a connecting link between those men of the campus wanting work and the employers of Lewiston and Auburn wanting workers. This bureau does not guarantee jobs to every fellow making an application but it does most emphatically promise to leave nothing undone in the way of getting in touch with every possible avenue leading to employment for those desiring it.

In the first week of college over twelve hundred cards have been distributed making known the fact that Bates men want work and thus pointing out to the people of Lewiston and Auburn just how to get in communication with these fellows. An advertisement has been run in both Lewiston papers on the front page, also calling attention to this fact. Other means are in the process of being tried out so as to "scurry up" whatever jobs there are to be had.

In years past there have been some misunderstanding created through the inefficiency of some of our Bates men accepting jobs offered by this bureau. Men have been given notice of employment and they have been tardy and have lacked initiative in their tasks. This has "soured" certain quarters on Bates men so far as looking to them for work is concerned. The bureau this year, therefore makes a very urgent request that all men who want work assigned them accept such work with the understanding of doing it in the best shape possible. It is only fair to the boys needing work that this request should be made, for one inefficient man sent out from the campus can create a situation where many jobs otherwise given to college men would be lost.

This bureau wants the cooperation of all men it sends out to the employers of the two cities and in this way only can the greatest amount of satisfaction be given to both sides.

The Chairman or some member of the committee will be in the Y. M. C. A. office from 1-1:30 every day in the week unless notice is published to the contrary.

CHASE HALL IS FOR YOUR USE

Bowling, Pool, Ping Pong
'n Everything

Since the departure of Bursar Rowe and his staff from Chase Hall, the necessity has arisen for some change in the management. Ray Batten and Lawrence Dow will have charge of the dormitory and will keep office hours (in the former Alumni office next to the "Y") from 7 to 9 P. M.

A Chase Hall Committee, functioning as a "Y" department will have supervision of the newspapers, magazines, victrola records and writing materials. The distribution of small game equipment (ping pong balls, cards, etc.) will be the function of the same committee.

Bowling will be free—provided you set up your own pins. No pinboys will be furnished except on special request at certain social affairs. The suggestion has been made bowlers should be limited to one string when others are awaiting their turn.

The billiard room will be supervised by Messrs. Frank Ruhlund and Lawrence Dow. No "kids" will be allowed to hang around; college men may bring guests if they wish. The room will be open from 10 A. M. to 6 P. M. and from 6 P. M. so long as anyone wishes to play up to 10 P. M. After 7:30 P. M. the attendant may be found in the office on the first floor.

Suggestion for a better plan of operation for Chase Hall affairs will be gladly received by the "Y" management.

"Y" REPRESENTATIVES OF MAINE COLLEGES MEET IN CONFERENCE

DAVE PORTER OF NEW YORK PRESENT
PLANS DISCUSSED FOR COMING YEAR
BATES WELL REPRESENTED

Bates Groups at Winthrop Conference

The Young Men's Christian Association of the four Maine Colleges held a united setting-up conference at the State Y. M. C. A. training Camps on Sept. 15, 16, and 17. It proved to be largely a Bates Conference for out of the thirty-seven men present twenty-one were from our college. The men with Secretary Purinton arrived on Friday afternoon, and four more came up Saturday after football practice. Phil Nason, '23 was elected president of the conference and Carl Purinton, '23 was elected secretary.

Unquestionably the biggest thing about the conference was the presence of David R. Porter who succeeds John R. Mott as secretary of the World Student Christian Federation. Mr. Porter a Good Will Farm boy, is a graduate of Bowdoin and a Rhodes scholar. Since his return from Oxford he has been in active Y. M. C. A. work.

The conference opened on Friday night with a banquet followed by a brief fun period. The remainder of the evening was given over to a discussion of the main objective of the Y. M. C. A. This was led by A. B. Clark of Maine.

On Saturday morning Dave Porter gave a short devotional address after which Harvey Bishop of Bowdoin led a discussion on missionary education. The Bates-in-China movement was explained thoroughly.

Saturday afternoon was given over to recreation and group-meetings. The Bates delegation met for a brief session and guided by Dave Porter outlined briefly some of the work our association will try to do this year. Afterward some of the men engaged in swimming while others played volleyball or went for a hike.

State Secretary, Jeff Smith, spoke in the evening in financing student Christian organizations. Then Harold Burdon, '23 led a very good discussion of the relation college Y. M. C. A.'s should have to churches and communities.

Sunday was the final and really the best day of the Conference. By that time, the rain and clouds of Friday and Saturday had all cleared away and perfectly fair weather graced the occasion. The first number on the program of the day, as soon as breakfast was taken care of, was a devotional period down by the side of the lake, under the shadow of big pines.

Dave Porter occupied the time for three quarters of an hour with an inspiring talk on "The Face of Christ." He dealt with the subject as God revealed in the face, and the higher standards which the face of Christ sets before us.

Just before this talk by Dave Porter, the Bates delegation was increased by the arrival of President Gray, accompanied by Athletic Director Cutts, Asst. Director Wiggins and Malcolm Gray. Including these, the Bates delegation at the Conference finally numbered nineteen men, three times as large as that of any other college. President Gray and his party were present at the meeting spoken of above and also at the discussion of Bible Study which followed. This discussion was led by "Spike" Furum of Colby and the Bates methods of conducting voluntary study courses was explained by members of the Bates delegation at the request of the presiding officer. Suggestions from the other colleges and from Mr. Porter were added and considerable help was derived.

The afternoon was left open to the wishes of the individual delegations. Some of the colleges held separate conferences during the afternoon, but the Bates representatives spent their time either on the water in canoes or taking a walk through the "suburbs" of Winthrop.

At four-thirty the final meeting of the conference was held and presided over by Dave Porter. Although Mr. Porter took charge of the meeting, yet he refrained from taking much time himself and asked that different men might express what resolutions they had made or what convictions had come to them during the three days together. It was not long before the ice was broken and no long delays dragged the meeting out. Nearly half those present joined in and made this last meeting one that won't soon be forgotten.

Supper was the last event on the program for most of the Bates men, after which the auto trip to Lewiston was made. Some of our men remained at the camp until Monday, as did almost all of the other college men. It was felt among many at the conference that as much if not more had been accomplished than at any similar conference they had ever attended.

FOOTBALL SQUAD TRAINING HARD FOR STATE GAMES

Team Developing Rapidly
Under Able Leadership of Cutts and Wiggin

The rather early in the season to predict a championship football team for Bates this year, there certainly is no cause for scepticism on that score. A squad of thirty men reported for the first practice on September 11. Since that time the squad has swelled to sixty. Captain "Bill" Guiney is on deck to lead the Garnet eleven thru one of the hardest schedules that has ever been arranged. "Bill" is in great shape, and has added slightly to his poundage. Not as heavy as the average lineman, Bill has a pound of fight for every ounce of flesh.

Oliver F. Cutts, A. B. Bates, L. L. B. Harvard. Football and baseball star during his Bates student days. 1901 tackle on the famous Harvard team captained by Dave Campbell and coached by Bill Reid—won from Yale 22-0. Coach Purdue University 1903-04. Physical director Purdue 1915-19. With Dungan-Hood Co. Inc. 1919-22. August 1922 elected Physical Director and Head Coach at Bates to succeed Carl H. Smith, who resigned to accept a coaching position in the middle states.

Oliver H. Cutts, class of '96, has been appointed as head coach to succeed Ralph Watkins who resigned during the summer. Coach Cutts is an able man in the football game, having played at Bates and also as a tackle on Dave Campbell's victorious Harvard team. Carleton L. Wiggin '21 has been appointed assistant coach and will work with the backfield. "Wig" as he is popularly known has an enviable record, having been on the Varsity teams in baseball and football for four years. He was captain of the former in his Junior and Senior year. He was also a member of the track and hockey teams in those same years. "Wig" will be a great help to coach Cutts and can handle the backfield men well.

Seven letter men, besides Captain Guiney, are back. Price is back at his old position at center; Kempton q. b.; Davis f. b.; Scott, tackle; Bergman, end; Peterson, guard; Fellows h. b. Aspasian, Blake, and Tarr are making a bid for the guard positions. Saford from Cony high, is runner up for the pivot position, with Gilpatrick close on his heels. Chandler, Rowe and Woodman are candidates for tackle; Tarbell, Desouteau, Rowe, and Huntington take care of the ends; "Doc" Moulton is playing a great game at quarter-back. Rutsky, Folsom, E. Woodman, Kenny, and Hubbard are all showing up well in the backfield. The squad is increasing daily with a wealth of new freshmen material, and should promise a good season for the Garnet.

"The recent discussion upon 'Loyalty to Training Ideals,' is a step in the right direction. Most cases of remissness on the part of college students are thoughtless rather than purposeful. A high degree of real success in our athletics, as well as in other endeavors, will depend somewhat upon whether we, as athletes, are faithful to the trust and responsibility which are ours when we undertake to represent our Alma Mater as a member of an athletic squad, or even simply as a member of the Bates student body.

"Our athletes, as well as the athletes of other institutions, need encouragement that they may better meet the obligations placed upon them. Please do not get the idea that Bates men train less and are more thoughtless than are the men of other colleges. I know of no institution where I believe that conditions among students are superior to those on the Bates campus.

"However, this topic should not be considered upon a comparative basis. We know that WE are remiss. Let's all take hold!"

(Signed) Fred E. Pomeroy

WHAT THE FOOTBALL MEN SAY:

"Every football man is back of rigid training rules."

"Bill" Guiney

"I believe that this idea of a Better Bates Spirit will be the mainspring, the very soul and essence of all college activities.

"If a man trains loyally, he will be loyal to his team mates, his coach, and his college, and when you say a man is loyal, the world considers that you have paid him a high tribute.

"Deseo."

THIS YEAR'S REGISTRATION HIGHEST IN BATES HISTORY

581 Students Have Matriculated—Freshmen Number 204

Entering the fifty-ninth year of existence Bates finds its student body the largest yet, and the wonted repetition of history also points to a record breaking Freshman class, registering two hundred and four students. Ten years ago, the enrollment for 1912 amounted to 81 Seniors, 106 Juniors, 115 Sophomores, and 147 Freshmen. In comparison figures for 1922 speak for themselves.

MEN	WOMEN	TOTAL
40 Seniors	42	82
69 Juniors	59	128
98 Sophomores	69	167
125 Freshmen	69	204

Thus, we have a student body, at the present time, numbering 581 members.

SNAPPY TALKS BOOST SPIRIT

Every true Bates man and woman will now show his or her college spirit as never before. Surely every one was moved by the stirring challenges made last Tuesday in the chapel for more loyalty to the Alma Mater in regards to training rules for those who represent her in intercollegiate contests.

James Hamlin, '23 presented the various captains who hurled the challenges. "Bill" Kennelly, captain of the baseball team, "Bill" Guiney, captain of the football team, "Cyk" McGinley, captain of the track squad, and "Bill" Young, captain of the debating team, urged every one to feel the responsibility of helping the men to keep the rules. Bates' successes have seemed to be good criteria for measuring the degree to which the men were breaking training. Thus every student can help to make each team a winning one. Coach Carlton Wiggins said that the coaches were giving their best but that they needed the support of the student body.

Let's go for a better Bates!

HUGH WALPOLE LECTURES AT BATES CHAPEL

Famous English Novelist Gives Able Address on Realism

For a second time within the space of a few weeks, the college community was favored with an opportunity to study and absorb the best that England offers by way of graciousness and charm on the public platform, when on Wednesday evening, Hugh Walpole, distinguished novelist and literary critic lectured to a large audience in the College Chapel on "The Realists—Bennett, Wells and Galsworthy."

Dean Pomeroy as Chairman for the evening introduced Mr. Walpole, who in a most pleasing way proceeded at once to win his audience with several entertaining little anecdotes relating to personal experiences which he has had since his rather recent arrival in America. Mr. Walpole proved a most captivating conversationalist as well as a most brilliant lecturer and his rapid, fluent style and witty remarks appealed to all lovers of the English language. One is indeed justified in remarking that he is one of the few novelists who speak in public with the same power and adaptability that they write in private, for in addition to being a litterateur of the first caliber he proved himself an incomparable public speaker.

Thruout the course of his talk on "The Realists—Wells, Bennett and Galsworthy," Mr. Walpole treated his distinguished contemporaries in a most searching manner; he discriminated between what he called their best works and some of the lesser volumes that are attributed to them, but at all times he dealt with his fellow novelists in a kindly and sympathetic way. True to his training as a critic, Mr. Galsworthy did not sanction all of what Mr. Wells, Mr. Bennett and Mr. Galsworthy have written. He did however bring out some of the splendid things in each, that are worthy of appreciative study. He delineated vividly Mr. Wells' dissatisfaction with the present system of things. Mr. Bennett's faculty for seeing greatness in the most insignificant things of life, and lastly Mr. Galsworthy's deep sense of the injustice of our social life and hence his great pity for mankind. After an analysis of each of the novelists Mr. Walpole was successful in convincing the greater part of his audience that the three writers under discussion were not realists in the final sense of that term as it is commonly used. They sought to paint the truth but did not end by being photographic for also the beauty of life and hence escaped a grim realism.

The thought that Mr. Walpole left with his audience at the close of the lecture was a most beautiful one—after outlining the future of the English novel he reminded them of the fact that Life has its fine free independent moments—that the birds still sing in the trees, and the children are gay—in short that life is something great and big and that it is the function of literature to interpret Life and vitalize it in the most universal sense possible.

EVERYONE OUT FOR THE TUFTS GAME

And Help "Bill" Guiney's Warriors as They Shove The Pig-skin Over The Goal Line

To-morrow afternoon will give the Bates Rooters their first chance to see "Bill" Guiney's cohorts in action this year. The home season opens against a team of no mean ability, a team that possesses a world of speed, a team coached by "Eddie" Casey one of the greatest half-backs that ever donned a cleat. It certainly is an attraction for it means that the Garnet eleven will have to play great football to win. But they are going to win. Past defeats will mean nothing to-morrow.

When "Bill" leads that team onto the field to-morrow YOU will be there, YOU will stand up in your seats and cheer, and YOU will continue to do so until "the last white line is passed" if YOU are a true Bates man or woman. The team will win, but your co-operation is needed. Are you going to give it To-morrow will tell.

Senior Class Meeting

The Senior Class held its first meeting of the year last Wednesday at Hathorn Hall. William Kennelly, president of the class, asked for suggestions regarding the best means of starting on the publication of the year book, The Mirror.

A committee to nominate members to serve on the Mirror board was elected. Those elected to the committee are: William Kennelly, chairman, Carl Purinton, John Fogg, Edward Roberts, and Misses Alice Jessemann, Gertrude Lombard, and Theodora Barentzen. The beginning of the work so early seems to insure a most worthy publication.

BATES MEN WHO WENT TO CHICAGO VALUE EXPERIENCE

Sold "Women's Weekly" in Middle Western States

Last spring, Winslow G. Smith, Bates, '09 who is president of the Woman's Weekly of Chicago, offered to employ fifty young men during the summer vacation, paying their transportation costs in both directions. Although he offered a substantial guarantee to the men, only a few accepted his offer.

The men who decided to go reported at the home office in Chicago, immediately after college closed. The first few weeks on the job were spent in "breaking in." The breaking in process over, the men were sent to different territories, which it was their duties to canvass thoroughly. The men covered a large amount of ground during the summer months. One man covered parts of Illinois and Wisconsin, another traveled west towards Iowa, while still another, worked the towns in the state of Iowa. The men all declare that they have had a really wonderful summer. Not only have they seen many places of interest, but the experience gained through the work in the art of salesmanship and in judging human nature is worth while. While the work was hard the men feel that it was worth the toil.

On their trip to Chicago the men made stop overs at places of interest in Canada and in the United States. Montreal, the cosmopolis of Canada; Toronto, one of the largest cities in the Dominion, and Hamilton, the great manufacturing centre, were all visited. In the States, such places of interest, as Niagara Falls, Port Huron, and South Bend were stopped at, and enjoyed. One man reports that the summer's experience was worth a year of college education to him.

FRESHMEN GO TO LAKE GROVE ON CLASS RIDE

Custom Initiated by "Uncle Johnny" Now Carried On by "Y"

Probably no event of the year will be remembered by the Freshmen with more pleasure than the annual Freshman Class Ride which took place last Saturday.

This idea of Class Rides originated with "Uncle Johnny Stanton," a former Professor at Bates and a man of whom Bates alumni and students are justly proud. He, realizing that many Freshmen are homesick and lonely the first two or three weeks, generously contributed money for Class Rides which usually took place in the early fall. It was through the kind cooperation of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. that this splendid custom was continued after his death. This year the organizations again, in the memory of "Uncle Johnny Stanton," financed the Freshman Ride of the Class of 1926.

The Freshmen left the campus about noon by special cars for Lake Grove, Lake Auburn. Cheers were given on the way and the "Alma Mater" sung. Upon arriving at the grove, a group picture was taken after which games were played.

Motor-bout trips were enjoyed around the Lake. Then the "Frosh" gathered on the shore of Lake Auburn under the huge pines of the grove and Professor Chase explained to them the history of the Class Rides and the life of "Uncle Johnny Stanton."

Afterwards they adjourned to the glowing fires built among the rocks of the lake-shore where they roasted "hot-dogs," and the committee served rolls, hot coffee, doughnuts and apples.

Following lunch a hike was taken over Mt. Gile to the Fish Hatchery. Upon returning, the hikers were led to the rider mill where sweet cider was served. About seven o'clock, the Freshmen returned to the Campus, declaring it was one of the best days they had ever had.

The credit for the success of it is due to the joint committee from the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. consisting of Secretary Purinton, Gertrude Lombard, Alice Jessemann, Phillip Nason and Paul Libby.

The affair was chaperoned by: Dean Niles, Professor and Mrs. George M. Chase, Secretary and Mrs. Arthur L. Purinton and Instructor Woodward.

NEW INSTRUCTORS ADDED TO FACULTY

E. A. Woodward Teaching Freshman English and R. F. Doane French

Bates is glad to welcome to her midst Mr. Roland S. Doane and Mr. E. A. Woodward as new members of the faculty. We have not yet become as well acquainted with them as we will in the future but their records speak amply for them.

Mr. Doane received his A. B. degree at Harvard in 1917. During the World War he was a member of the National Army and was stationed at Camp Devens. In 1920-21 Mr. Doane was an instructor at Ruston Academy, Havana, Cuba. In the following year he was instructor in French at Adirondack Florida School at Miami, Florida. He comes to Bates well qualified to take up his position as instructor in French.

Mr. Woodward was not unacquainted with Bates having spent one year here. When the World War called he enlisted and was sent overseas where he served with distinction as captain of infantry. He returned to complete his education at Dartmouth graduating in the class of 1922. Mr. Woodward has also spent a year at the Boston University Law School. He comes back to Bates to become instructor in Freshman rhetoric.

BATES—THE POWER CENTER OF DEBATING

So we find Bates described by Professor Frederick M. Davenport of Hamilton College, Member of the New York State Senate, in the New York Times for October 1st: "by stint of stern discipline in argumentative discussion, this little college of a few hundred students has become the power centre of college debating in America."

That Bates has acted in the role of a mental dynamo seems to be borne out by the sudden interest in public argument that has sprung up in hitherto indifferent American colleges and universities. The numerous invitations given to Oxford by several of our leading universities and colleges for dates following the Bates-Oxford occasion, and the interest arising from the acceptance of these, are due to the pioneer work of Bates. A list of the many invitations received by Bates from her sister American institutions within the past two years would indicate some radical change in the attitude toward debating.

Nor has public interest been wanting. All the Boston papers have been advertising seats to the Harvard-Oxford debate at musical comedy rates. In Lewiston, nearly two thousand people paid admission to City Hall. This is probably four times as many people as could be assembled for the most gory prize fight, even though advertised in every cigar store and barber shop window in town.

Yet the current from the Bates power plant has gone farther than this. Says the Boston Herald for Monday, October 2nd: "We would like to see these debates make sufficient impression on both the general public and the undergraduates to help a little towards a needed readjustment of values. Not that a debater who is not inerrant in his use of adjectives will obtain the attention that a football man gets when he sprains a knee, nor that a college the size of Bates, which wins debates against such universities as Harvard and Yale, will get such headlines as does Centre when it plays Harvard to a standstill on the gridiron. But these wranglers ought to have greater recognition."

Yet again. Bates has opened up a way to better understanding between the two Anglo-Saxon peoples. A sentence from the New York Times declares that "The Bates and Oxford men are ambassadors of a better understanding between the great English speaking peoples."

NOT A NEW BATES SPIRIT, BUT MORE OF THE OLD

"The old Bates spirit." Some of us can shut our eyes and see visions when we hear that.

We visualize the sight of a Bates team holding for downs on the five yard line. The last part of the game. Eleven men almost exhausted; clothes ripped and torn, bodies bruised and scarred, but holding the line by sheer grit.

Or perhaps we are thinking of the spirit displayed by one of our former cross country captains. He is running his last race for Bates. Not a great runner; his own team mates have already scored ahead of him. But the race hangs in the balance. Here he comes. The stands grow tense. Panting hoarsely, coughing, spitting blood, he fights for the point that means a win for Bates. One heroic sprint and he breaks the tape ahead of his man, grins feebly, and collapses in somebody's arms.

We have all witnessed wonderful flashes of Bates spirit; have experienced them ourselves. They always dart forth when the call is urgent.

What we need now is to convert those flashes into a steady glow, continuous and inextinguishable. We need to establish a moral tone. We must create a "religious" enthusiasm for Bates that will not permit of any breach of loyalty in any form.

SOCIETIES

SPOFFORD

Spofoff Club met Tuesday evening in Libbey Forum. Plans were discussed for the year, and great enthusiasm prevailed.

The following new members were voted into the Club: Erwin D. Canham, '25 of Auburn; Charles K. Couner, '25 also of Auburn; Dorothy W. Clarke, '25 Lewiston; Gladys W. Hasty, '25 South Berwick.

Herbert A. Carroll, '23, was voted chairman of the program committee.

JORDAN SCIENTIFIC SOCIETY

Wednesday evening the Jordan Scientific Society held its first meeting of the year. The constitution of the society was read by President Roberts for the benefit of the members. Plans were made for a very active year. Ernest Robinson was appointed Publicity agent. Then followed a very interesting talk by Professor Karl Woodcock on the foundation and history of the Society. The new members included: Ernest Robinson, Philip Nason, John G. Fogg, Harold Bradford, Owen Coleman, Harris Palmer, Albert Dunlap, Arthur Descoteau, Arthur Pollister, Rudolph Kempton, D. Stanton Ross, Linwood Hilton and Elberton Tiffany.

MACFARLANE CLUB

Macfarlane Club held its first meeting of the year on Monday evening in Chase Hall. It was voted that ten new members be elected, leaving five vacancies. Resolutions were passed concerning programs for the coming year.

The following students were made members of the Club:

Alvin W. Frelow '25
Paul Libby '24
Alice Blouin '23
Mildred Stanley '25
Ruth Wass '25
Elizabeth Powers '24
Charles H. Diehl '25
Raymond Bragg '25
Harold Bradford '23
Alice Cunningham '23
Mr. Doane—honorary member.

SENIORITY

Seniority held its first meeting of the year in Rand Hall Reception Room Thursday evening. The president Miss Elsie Roberts '23 presided. Each member answered to the roll call with her mother's maiden name. Committees for various matters were chosen in the business meeting which followed. The members look forward with enthusiasm to the programs of the future meetings.

Y. W. C. A.

The meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held last Wednesday evening and took the form of a guessing contest. Each committee showed by means of charades what their part is in the Y. W. C. A. work. The Religious Meetings Committee led the devotions.

ECHOES OF THE DEBATE

What Others Say

100% ATTENDANCE AT DEBATE

The class 1891, Bates, thru one of its members, Miles Greenwood, Melrose, Mass., expert photographer, claims the largest attendance among graduate classes of the college at the Oxford University-Bates debate in Lewiston city Hall, Tuesday night. The members of the class were present.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Miles Greenwood; H. J. Chase, superintendent of schools, Livermore Falls; Dr. C. R. Smith, Livermore Falls; Miss Mabel S. Merrill; Mrs. Edna Merrill Gilpatrick, Miss Leonora B. Williams of Brunswick; Mrs. W. B. Skelton; Mrs. Stella Chipman Johnson; and Mrs. Katherine Small of Auburn.

BOSTON HERALD

Monday, October 2.

"Think what Bates has done. She has won 40 debates in 50 against small schools and great universities. In 1920 and 1921 she won seven consecutive victories, with Cornell, Harvard, and Yale numbered among the vanquished. She faced great odds at Oxford. And Bates, with a team chosen from a few hundred students, appeared in that historic Oxford Union to support a viewpoint which ran counter to all the opinions and prepossessions of their English hearers, and in the argument, against a team chosen from the 6,000 members of the 22 colleges of Oxford University, Bates performed the miracle of getting more than a third of the vote."

LEWISTON JOURNAL

September 28, 1922

"We feel candidly and wholeheartedly that Bates made the better showing and that the decision of the audience was in accordance with honest opinion, as to merits of presentation."

NEW YORK TIMES

Sunday, October 1

"It is a chance if more than a relatively small fraction of the American people know that there is such a college as Bates in existence, and only a negligible company could tell where it is located. Probably not a hundredth know that, by dint of stern discipline in argumentative discussion, this little college of a few hundred students has become the power centre of college debating in America."

"Little Bates may not be known widely at home, but her intellectual prowess seems to be appreciated abroad. In May, 1921, the cablegram came to the old home town, Lewiston, Maine, from Oxford University, England, challenging Bates to a debate with Oxford on June 16 of that year. Oxford selected Bates as a debating partner because Bates was the best thing of its kind in America. Bates accepted the challenge and the debate was held last year before the famous forum of the Oxford Union."

"And now we read that Dr. Clifton D. Gray, the President of Bates, has announced a cable from Oxford seeking a return contest in this country. It is to be hoped that the American newspapers and the public will be conscious that the Oxford leaders are with us and that an event of real racial and international importance is transpiring. The Bates men and the Oxford men are ambassadors of a better understanding between the great English speaking peoples."

HIGH SCHOOLS CATCH THE FEVER

The entire faculty of a small high school near Lewiston is reported to have been present at the Bates-Oxford contest. Following their return to academic duties, the teachers seem to have instilled a great enthusiasm for debating in the minds of the students, for within a day or two the first debating team of the school was organized and prospective Oxfords, Jrs. will now please apply.

Speaking of the Drive

"It's the little touches that count," said the artist.

"Right!" said the man with a heavy load of poor relations.

Wound Too Tight

He—"I feel thoroughly wound up tonight."

She—"How strange, and still you don't seem to go."

JUST TALKS

A timely editorial has just appeared in the Just Talks column of the Lewiston Evening Journal. We take the liberty of quoting certain parts of this "talk" by Mr. A. G. Staples:

ON "STYLES OF DEBATE"

"It appears, from the interview in the Lewiston Journal, Wednesday evening, with one of the Oxford Debating team, that if the last speaker of the negative, a Bates College speaker, were to address the British Parliament in the manner that he addressed the audience in Lewiston, Tuesday evening, the members would have promptly walked out."

"Our visitors do not criticize the style as such; but they make this as a statement of fact, illustrative of the prevailing difference between method of debate in England and the United States. In their minds, it maybe no better to adopt the purely conversational style; but such is the state of mind in Great Britain, as to what may be called an captandum effort."

"It does not necessarily follow that the American Congress will cease to roar or that the stump speaker will cease to split the heavens just because it is not the fashion in the British parliament. But it does follow that if there be any virtue in the English school, we want to get it; and, if it be an affectation as deliberate as is the deliberately oratorical, we desire to avoid it. There may be something that we can get out of the experience that will refine and modulate the common speech of the American advocate and the debater."

"We have been brought up on British eloquence. If there is any occasion for the prevailing style of American public speech, it is to be traced to Pitt, Burke, Sheridan, Erskine, Fox and to the Irish school of Grattan, Curran and Emmett."

"It does not seem possible that Burke draped himself over a table; wove around on one leg; yanked at his collar and pulled down his vest and spoke inaudibly when he 'raised his voice until the very arches of Irish oak resounded' according to Tom Macaulay and cried, 'I impeach Warren Hastings in the name' of a series of the most consummately effective charges that ever were made against a human being in all the annals of society and which thrill the blood even to read today. Either he did not, or Macaulay is a liar!"

"It does not seem possible that Mr. Webster merely remarked casually in a conversational tone of voice to a few friends in the American Senate his matchless peroration 'Liberty and Union, now and forever, one and inseparable.' Did he look like a man who believed this credo of American Union; did he raise his voice, lift his arm; open his eyes, raise his chin or did he respect the feelings of his opponents from the South and disdain to use the arts of eloquence, lest it might prejudice the Truth?"

EXPERIENCES OF A NEW STUDENT

"I was admitted to Bates College early in July and received my credentials from the President's office. Then Bursar Rowe sent me the 'whys and wherefores' of registration fees, room deposits, and various other instructions."

Early in August I got my 'Freshman Bible' (sometimes called the Bates Handbook) and a letter of welcome from the 'Y' signed by the General Secretary.

Several days later, I got a personal letter from one of the 'Y' men in the Junior Class.

With a great anticipation, I finally boarded a train bound for Lewiston. On the long ride southward, I began to figure out whether I would hire a taxi or inquire the way to the college and then walk. I awoke from my mental struggle in time to hear the brakeman call 'Lewiston next.' Imagine my happy surprise when a 'Y' man grabbed my bag and hustled me to a 'diver' which was carrying Freshmen to the campus. The first stop on the campus was at the 'Y' Service Station.

The Bursar's office, where I lost my fifty dollars, a short walk to John Bertram Hall and I was an honest goodness Bates man.

Registration, several trips to the 'Y' office for books, and jobs and second-hand furniture; two receptions under 'Y' auspices; a call from my friend who had written me in August; first classes—Bates was my college!

Which Type of Research is of Greatest Value?

A stove burns too much coal. A man familiar with the principles of combustion and heat radiation makes experiments which indicate desirable changes in design. That is research.

You want to make a ruby in a factory, a real ruby, indistinguishable by any test from the natural stone. You begin by analyzing rubies chemically and physically. Then you make rubies just as nature did. Your rubies are the result of research—another type of research.

While melting up your chemicals and experimenting with high temperatures, you begin to wonder how hot the earth must have been millions of years ago, and what were the forces at play that made this planet what it is. Your investigation leads you far from rubies and causes you to formulate theories to explain how the earth, how the whole solar system was created. That would be research of a still different type.

Research of all three types is conducted in the laboratories of the General Electric Company. But it is the third type—pioneering into the unknown—that means most in the long run, even though undertaken with no practical benefit in view.

For example, the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company are exploring matter with X-rays in order to discover not only how the atoms in different substances are arranged but how the atoms themselves are built up. The more you know about a substance, the more you can do with it. This work may enable scientists to answer more definitely the question: Why is iron magnetic? Then the electrical industry will take a greater step forward than can be made in a century of experimenting with existing electrical apparatus. You can add wings and stories to an old house. But to build a new house, you must begin with the foundation.

tackle. Rutsky sustained a wrenched and was replaced by "Ed" Woodman. Desocau, who had been playing a great game, received an injury to his knee, and gave way to Rowe. New Hampshire rallied once in this period and once in the second period. Before the second period was over Kempton, H. Woodman, Chandler, Folsom, and Safford had gotten into the game. Folsom who is a freshman showed up well in the backfield.

The record half saw the Bates team return to the field inspired by the words of the coaches, and determined to win "Bill" Guiney and "Red" Seatt proved themselves to be the bulwarks of the Bates defence. As a result of the fight shown this period, the State College found it impossible to score.

The Garnet was forced to yield a touchdown in the final period but before the game was ended Bates made a terrific fight to score but was held for downs on the one-yard line.

Kenny, Folsom, and Fellows contributed well to the backfield work during this period. The team showed great fight, but were hampered with injuries, and the intense heat. Gustafson and Wentworth starred for the home team.

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

With the delightful fall weather enticing us, and the athletic field so near at hand the girls of all classes are overflowing with enthusiasm. Athletics have played a prominent part in previous years and must not stand in the background this year.

Hockey stands at the head of the list for fall athletics and if all will get out on the field and enjoy this sport, the year will be better than ever before. Forget your studies for awhile, get out in the fresh air and enjoy the fun which is offered you at Bates. You need the exercise and one place to obtain it is on the hockey field.

Show your class spirit, your college spirit and make your team bring home a victory which will go down in history.

SECOND TEAM SCORES VICTORY OVER HEBRON

7-0 Win Gives Revenge for Last Year's Defeat

The Bates Second team journeyed to Hebron last Saturday and evened up with the Big Green for the 34-0 defeat of last year, by trimming them 7-0. Hebron, as usual, presented a large husky team, but was clearly outplayed by the Bates yearlings. The only score of the contest was made soon after the beginning of the second half. Bates punted and when the Hebron half back dropped the punt, "Pop" Huntington scooped it up and ran 60 yards for a touchdown. Davis kicked the goal from placement for the extra point. Meenish played a good game for Hebron while, Gilpatrick, Wiggins, and Huntington excelled for Bates.

"JEFF" SMITH TALKS AT "Y" MEETING

"Jeff" Smith, State Secretary of the Maine Y. M. C. A., gave a really inspiring talk at the first meeting of the Bates Y. M. C. A. Taking "Investment" as his topic, he held every man present almost spell-bound while he showed the value of every man making a good investment of his own life.

There are but two ways to invest, selfishly or unselfishly. The former always loses in the end. The latter who invests unselfishly his good will, strong physical body, mind and soul would reap profits from everlasting to everlasting, for we are certainly moulding the lives of those yet to come. Many personal experiences of which Mr. Smith talked made everyone see the reality of his talk.

The attendance was large, and the "Y" is aiming to have at least seventy-five men out each week. Reverend J. Charles MacDonald, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Auburn will be the speaker next Wednesday.

SPORT NOTES

The second team got sweet revenge on Hebron last Saturday.

Bates beat Tufts last year 14-10 in one of the best games ever played on the oval. Everyone must support the team Saturday, for another victory.

Rutsky, was playing a whale of a game Saturday until he was injured.

Desocau, Davis and Blake were also rendered hors de combat.

Galvariski, a former Bates student is playing fullback for Tufts and going good.

"Eddie" Casey, former Harvard all-American halfback is coaching Tufts, while Oliver Cutts, also a former Harvard All-American tackle is coaching Bates.

If "Wig" can instill some of the football knowledge and ability with the varsity, he has himself—Bates won't take a defeat from any of them.

Following the Tufts game, comes Colby, Maine and Bowdoin on successive Saturdays. Colby and Bowdoin come to Garcelon field, while Bates journeys to Orono.

Every Bates student, men, women and children should be in the grandstand Saturday. Nuff said.

If "Eddie" Casey's own career is any criterion of the Tufts' system, we can expect an aerial game to-morrow.

"Bart" Macchia has two specialties, the end-around play and the touchdown from kick off. He's a dangerous man in an open field when he gets started, but if Bates can help it he won't get started.

A year ago our gridiron men invaded Medford and brought back the Jumbo's hide by a great play toward the end of the game. "Bill" Guiney opened up a hole, and George McKenna scored. "Bill" is still here to open up holes. Who's going to carry the pig-skin across.

One way to cooperate with the new training system has been suggested. Quiet in the dormitories after 10 o'clock will assure the athletes their proper amount of sleep.

WE'RE BACK!

"Back? I'll say yes, with a 7.40 the very first morning!"

"Back? Sure thing! And isn't Birdie just a dream in those knickerbockers?"

"Back? Uh-huh—The hardest work I've done this year is putting up those curtains. I nearly drove my roommate back to Frye St., tackling the cretonne on the window seat."

"Aren't the Freshman fellows a good looking bunch? And the girls aren't hard to look at."

"Oh, don't please, tell me telephone hours begin today—heavy date at 2 o'clock."

"When do we eat?"

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF AS SOPHS INITIATE FROSH

Youngsters Lose Baseball
Game and Tug of War
Hold Pajama Parade

History has a habit of repeating itself and the Freshman-Sophomore ball game last Monday afternoon proved no exception. It was a day more fitted for the gridiron than the diamond and the crowd that witnessed the battle between the ten lower classes was smaller than usual. The final score found the Sophs with nine scores to the Freshies two. Only in the first frame did the 1926 boys cross the home plate. After that they didn't have a chance. Peanut wasn't compelled to exert himself during the innings he was pitching and Martin showed his wares later in the game by fanning nine of the ten men who faced him. Karkos, the Freshman catcher was the only '26 man that seemed to show much real baseball the others proving more or less mediocre.

Score:
Freshmen 2 0 0 0 0 0—2 3 5
Sophomores 1 4 1 1 1 x—9 8 1
McDonald, Kimball, Goody and Karkos; Hamilton, Martin and Lamprinkos.

Monday evening the first year men decked out in their pajamas all set for the much heralded "night shirt parade". Glad as they were they proved to be the objects of many a gaze and the recipients of more than one juicy water bag. Down college street they plodded with the class band sending forth a noise that served its place if nothing more. The march thru Lisbon street brought the down town district to the scene of activities and when the parade finally halted at the corner of College and Sabattus streets many towns people were scattered among the collegians. Here the more prominent members of the Class of 1926—those who commended themselves to special attention upon the part of the men of 1925—were the center of attraction and a generous assortment of a species of paper bags surprisingly wet in its makeup was displayed. Among the Frosh who jarred the crowd with speeches, music, yells and what not were Malcolm Gray, Leonard, Raye, Groder, and "Dizzy" Connolly. At the close of this part of the program the parade headed for the campus, stopping in front of the "Quail" to give three rousing cheers for Fred and Mary.

On Tuesday afternoon in back of historic Parker Hall the annual tug of war took place. Much fun was afforded the spectators who lined the banks.

1926 again took a ducking and '25 emerged triumphant. History once more repeating itself.

On Wednesday afternoon the scene of action was shifted once more into Garcelon Field. The largest crowd of the week was out to enjoy the ever entertaining Freshman "Sprouts", Speeches, music and classic dancing were among the many numbers on the program. The egg shampoo, a repetition of last years success, was also dealt out to a favored few of the entering class. Sheldon '25, acting as general manager of festivities, also gave us another thrilling exhibition of Eliza crossing the ice. The last event of the afternoon was the scheduled "Hot oven" in which all men of both the lower classes engaged in prominent roles. It was plain to be seen that the men of '26 were on the receiving end of the proposition. All's well that ends well and Wednesday's performance closed the hostilities between '25 and '26.

Friday evening in Rand Hall found the men assembled to partake in the ever welcome banquet. The Student Council was present and following the repeat words of advice and counsel were given by "Prexy," Coaches Cutts, and Jenkins Bob Chandler the President of 1925 also spoke a few words which were well received by all present.

"Is your professor going to the mountains this summer?"
"Not mine—he believes in low grades."—Vale Record.

Maiden (to steward):—"Oh, there's my fiancee on the pier! I wonder if I could go down and say good-by to him?"
Steward—"I am afraid not madam. The boat leaves in two hours.—California Pelican.

CAMPUS PRIDE AND WATER BAGS

"Bob" MacDonald is gunning for the men who persist in decorating the front yard of Parker Hall with water bags. He brings to our attention a newspaper clipping which reads: "No more 'horse-play,' announces one of the big college frats," and wishes that a certain group of Bates men would be inspired with the same sentiments, at least when this horse-play results in the disfigurement of the campus.

There is no more loyal "Bates man" than Bob. We know that. He does not criticize because we are making him more work, but because we are making it harder for the janitor force to keep Bates as good-looking a place as it might easily be.

We are all proud of the Bates campus. Especially after we have just visited some campuses of other colleges. Then why not help Bob by showing that the appearance of the college means something to us?

WHAT HAVE YOU TO SAY ABOUT IT?

We want the expression of opinion from Bates men and women on matters of interest to the college. What is the best thing about Bates, in your mind? What is it that she needs most? Where does she fail? How can that failure be remedied?

What have you to say about this program for better Bates spirit, greater loyalty to training ideals? There are certain times when a person has a duty to speak. Perhaps what you may say will help "build a bigger, better, busier Bates." Suggestions from other colleges, original ideas. Let's have them. The Student Box in the Library is available for this purpose. Articles must be signed, although name need not be printed if so desired.

CHARACTER EDUCATION

Woodrow Wilson's declaration of the primary function of a college has passed for a long time without amendment. It was while he was President of Princeton University that he declared the purpose of a college to be the training of men in scholarship and "character" to be merely a by-product.

At last this academic dogma has been challenged. The Atlantic Monthly contains in its last issue an article entitled "Who Shall Go To College," from which we quote: "as the presidents of Brown and Bates have stated publicly, scholarship shall be only one qualification for candidates." The added qualification must be that of character.

President Wilson's statement was not startling from the point of view of originality. Cardinal Newman had already expressed the same view years before, when he said: "A university in its bare idea has this object and this mission: it contemplates neither moral impression nor mechanical production; it professes to exercise the mind neither in art nor in duty; its function is intellectual culture; here it may leave its scholars, and it has done its work when it has done as much as this."

The emphasis upon character as well as upon scholarship is needed. In his book called Heredity and Environment, Professor Conklin of Princeton University finds that we have progressed far more rapidly in our scientific discoveries than we have in moral judgment and wisdom. The loosening of such phenomenal powers to the hands of unscrupulous leaders is a threat to civilization. We would not stop scientific progress. Surely, then, it is the duty of the colleges to train men to be morally upright as well as mentally keen. It is important to determine whether the colleges graduate rascals or men dominated by the motive of service.

THINGS BATES NEEDS MOST

"We need to feel, first, that Bates means more than a mere place to get an education. It is the home we are to live in for four years during the formative period of our lives,—where impressions that we get, associations that are made, and feelings that are aroused are moulded into our lives. If this be the case, then each student should see to it that he or she upholds the ideals which they expected to find here. If we live up to our ideals and assume the responsibility of not allowing others to break down these ideals, then Bates will be a better place to live in.

"The spirit of the college is the spirit reflected by the alumni, faculty, and students,—but most of all by the students. To have a strong college spirit, we must be loyal to the ideals of the college and then have the enthusiasm and strength of character to live up to and carry out these ideals."

SOCIETIES

SPOFFORD

Spoofford Club met in Libbey Forum Tuesday evening, October 10. After the initiation of the four new members, a short business meeting took place, and the decision made to have a camp supper next week. Herbert Carroll was elected chairman of the Committee on arrangements. The regular program of the evening was provided by "Teddy" Barentzen who read a short story "Emeline Tastes Life" and a poem on autumn; and Amy Blaisdell, who contributed a group of poems.

Y. W. C. A.

The regular meeting for this week was devoted to the World Student Christian Federation, and featured a talk by Ester Anderson on "The Y. W. The World Over." Helen Burdon assisted with the musical side of the program.

RAMSDELL SCIENTIFIC

Ramsdell Scientific Society held its first meeting in Carnegie Science Hall, Monday evening, October 9, at 7:15 P. M. The new members initiated were Beatrice Adams, Marion Childs, Hazel Prescott, and Maria Wallingford, 1923; and Nellie Bannister, Marjorie Manser, and Eleanor Wilson, 1924. All are reported as resting comfortably at this writing, with the exception of the goat, which suffers from a sprained rear right ankle.

A short business meeting concluded the program.

PRESS CLUB

Monday evening the Press Club held its first meeting of the year in Libbey Forum. After the discussion of important business matters a plan was presented to the club by Mr. Pinckney for effecting greater co-operation between the club and news bureau and in turn between the club members and the editorial board. By next meeting the program committee will be in full swing. It seems probable that a little real vitality may be injected in the Press Club this year, making it one of the truly active clubs of the college.

ALUMNI

'80. The death of E. E. Richards of Farmington is a cause of sorrow to all who knew him. He was one of the prominent Bates alumni. For many years he has been president of a bank at Farmington and a leading lawyer there.

'81. Another death in the ranks of Bates alumni is that of E. E. Richard of Pittsfield. He was for some years principal of M. C. I. and was later a trustee there. He was a prominent lawyer and worker in the Pittsfield Free Baptist church until the time of his death.

'97. Fred W. Burrill, formerly superintendent of the Brewer schools was this summer elected as superintendent of the Augusta schools.

'98. Fred R. Griffin will be the Bates delegate at the inauguration of President Park at Bryn Mawr.

'03. Ralph Hunt is the new principal at Hebron academy, which recently has been changed to a school for boys.

'13. Howard Houston, Superintendent of the Wilton and Jay union district schools, has been elected to succeed Fred Burrill as superintendent of the Brewer schools.

'20. The marriage of Leighton Tracy and Crete Carl. '21. took place this summer. Their address is 76 Pinchurst Ave. New York City. Mr. Tracy is with the Cheney Silk Company.

LITERARY

"Monie" can't seem to find out from his Seniors who wrote "Little Boy Blue." We imagine the students in Professor Knapp's classes ought to know, but in order to pacify friend "Monie" forever, we quote the following item in the Boston Herald concerning Eugene Field:

"Wyneken, Blynken and Nod one night
Sailed off in a wooden shoe—
Sailed off in a wooden shoe—
Into a sea of dew—"

"Eugene Field, 'the children's poet,' best known for the poignant lines of his 'Little Boy Blue' and his series of lullabies, will take his place Monday in Chicago's marble hall of fame with the unveiling, in Lincoln Park, of a monument dedicated to him.

"Children of Chicago, through newspaper subscription funds, raised nearly half the cost—the remainder was donated by the Ferguson Memorial Fund—and the memorial fittingly commemorates the famous lullabies to which millions of children have been sung to sleep.

BROODING ANGEL HOVERS
"A brooding angel is depicted, hovering over two sleeping children, sprinkling the sands of dreams into their eyes. Beneath, on one side of the memorial, is carved the first four lines of the Dutch lullaby, better known as 'Wyneken, Blynken and Nod.' On the other side of the sleeping figures are the opening lines of 'The Sugar Plum Tree':

Have you ever heard of the Sugar Plum Tree?
'Tis a marvel of great renown.

It blooms on the shore of the lollipop sea.

In the garden of Shut Eye town.
'A fountain, marble seats and the brief inscription 'To Eugene Field' complete the memorial.

"The principal speaker at the unveiling ceremonies will be Melville E. Stone, counselor and former general manager of The Associated Press, who brought Eugene Field to Chicago from Denver in 1883, when Mr. Stone was associated with Victor Lawson in the publication of the Chicago Daily News. The poet remained with The News until the time of his death, in 1896, conducting a column called 'Sharps and Flats.'

"Two grandchildren of the poet, Jean Field Foster and Robert Field, will pull the cords to unveil the monument, while Clason Thompson, a friend of Mr. Field's newspaper days, will preside. The Dutch lullaby will be sung by Mrs. Louise Harrison Slade and the Rev. William E. Barton also will speak.

The statue was designed by Edward McCartan, of New York city. The children of Chicago raised nearly $10,000 of the funds for its erection, the remaining $11,000 being donated from the Ferguson foundation, which, by its donor's will, is used exclusively to erect statues in Chicago's public places."

DATE OF POET'S BIRTH

"Eugene Field was born in St. Louis in 1850, either on Sept. 2 or Sept. 3. The latter date is given in the Field family genealogy as the correct one, though for the greater part of his life the poet observed the former as his birthday.

"His mother died when he was six years old, and his youth was spent in the home of his cousin, Miss Mary F. French, of Amherst, Mass., years whose happiness he commemorated in his verses dedicating his 'Little Book of Western Verse,' the first published volume from his pen.

"He began his newspaper career as a paragrapher in St. Louis, spent a short time in St. Joseph, went from there to Kansas City, and then to Denver, where he remained until persuaded by Mr. Stone to transfer to Chicago.

"His poem, 'Little Boy Blue,' beginning:

The little toy dog is covered with dust
But sturdy and stanch he stands;
And the little toy soldier is red with rust,

And his musket moulds in his hands,' is probably the best known of all his published verses, and, with his lullabies, has made his name a household word in America while the fact that he devoted most of his life to newspaper work, and that most of his published verse originally appeared in his newspaper column in Chicago, Denver and other cities has been forgotten by many.

GARNET FALLS BEFORE TUFTS

trate the Bates line, and "Doe" Moulton ran the punt back well.

After gaining 8 yards in 3 downs, Bates was unable to make the ten, and Tufts had the ball on the Garnet 40 yard line. A forward netted the Brown and Blue 4 yards, and two plunges thru the left side secured first down. Successive gains thru the line placed the ball within inches of the goal-line but Bates held for downs. Fellows recovered a blocked kick, and Davis punted successfully, Aspasian making the tackle. A forward netted Tufts first down. The Brown and Blue backfield made consistent gains, and reached the five-yard line just as the half ended. "Bill" Guiney and Aspasian were the bright lights in the line during this half, while Fellows excelled in the backfield. Chandonett received the kick, and brought the ball back 15 yards. Scott received Martin's fumble. Rushes followed, and a pass, Moulton to Davis, netted 8 yards and first down. After an ineffectual attempt to make the ten, a punting duel ensued with Tufts having the advantage. The quarter ended with Bates in possession of the ball on her own 35 yard line.

Bates opened with a loss of 6 yards and Davis kicked to midfield. Aspasian intercepted a pass on the Bates 30 yard line. Kempton and Kenney replaced Moulton and Woodman, and an aerial game followed. The first two passes failed but the third, Davis to Rowe, netted 30 yards. Kenney tossed the next one to Davis for a gain 28 yards. End runs failed, and two forwards were in vain. Tufts got possession of the ball and carried it to midfield, where Martin's fumble was recovered by Price. "Hap" made a dash for the goal, but was brought down by Terrill within 12 yards of it. Hopes of a touchdown ran high, but were smothered by the referees whistle for the end of the game. The Garnet fought hard most of the time, and in spots played winning football, but failed to show the punch in the pinches. "Bill" Guiney, Aspasian, and Price were the stellar attractions in the line. Kenney featured with his passing, and Fellows and Davis at rushing the ball. Terrill, Martin, and Russo excelled for the visitors.

The summary:

REV. MacDONALD TALKS AT "Y"

Last Wednesday night the Y. M. C. A. held its regular meeting. Reverend J. Charles MacDonald, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Auburn, was the speaker. "The Royal Road to Victory" was his subject.

He impressed upon those present that if one would feel and be strong before others and in his own sight, he must walk the road that Christ would have us walk. Because he is in college, let no one become disloyal to the old religion of home and childhood. Everyone must avoid the roads of fear, inactivity, unfaithfulness, and lack of communion with God.

Next Wednesday the speaker President Clifton D. Gray.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM BEST IN YEARS

Orono, and this fall our own Alma Mater plays the hostess. Fans of the annual Cross Country run are watching with the keenest interest the development of another Bates winner. Coach Jenkins is working his charges for all they are worth and a spirit of optimism pervades the air.

A squad of some twenty five men is out and all are enthusiastically working for a winner. The boys are rallying around their coach and Captain Batten in great style. All indications point to a triumph for Bates November 2.

CHESTER A. JENKINS
Track Coach

"Cyk" McGinley will be well worth watching this fall. Since return to college a year ago he has made a deep impression on all followers of college track. His two mile race at Waterville last spring, coming in second only to the mighty Baker, placed him in the limelight of Maine college runners. He is in perfect condition this fall and is giving his all to the team.

Then there is the sturdy Holt '24 who is one of Bates' best pluggers. He finished near the front last year and the way he is showing up this fall shows a marked improvement. Sargent '25 is another lad coming strong. With no running experience a year ago whatever, he entered the state meet last spring and came thru in first class condition. Every day he improves and all indications point to a star in the making.

We could go on almost indefinitely recounting the work of the other members of the squad. Dorr, Sanella, Hurley, Bragg, L. E. Wilson, Palmer, Ward, Corey, Simpson, Dismore, Liffang, and Gilmpatrick are all showing class and plugging hard for the third consecutive win. Watch them put it across.

SPORT NOTES

All up for the Colby game.

"Heini" Bergman was back in the lineup Saturday.

Peterson had to send out the S. O. S. for a pup tent in the last quarter. Tough luck "Pete."

For some reason or other the freshmen failed to put in appearance at the mass meeting last Friday night. A similar offence will be the cause of drastic measures to remind them that they are supposed to be there.

Freshmen, watch your caps Saturday—or you are liable to lose them.

Maynard Moulton '22, last year's all Maine half-back, is attending N. Y. University. Kenneth Sullivan '22 is pastiming, at the same place.

The results of the games played the Maine colleges so far, show them to be very evenly matched. Saturdays' game should be a corker.

GOOD SUGGESTION FOR BATES O. C.

We hear that Bates is going to have a cabin or two this year for the Outing Club. With this in mind, it is interesting to note what the other colleges are doing. We read the following about Norwich:

(Copied from Sunday Boston Herald) Northfield, Vt. October 7.—Members of the Norwich Outing Club set out again today to spend the week-end continuing the work of blazing the new Alden Partridge trail which is to run south over the Northfield and Braintree mountains. When completed the trail will tie in with the trail of the Dartmouth Outing Club.

At present the Norwich Outing Club is engaged in erecting a large cabin at the base of Serag mountain, eight miles west of Northfield, at a point which may prove to be a possible tourist route. The cabin is being equipped with a fireplace and kitchen. It will be open at all times for the accommodation of hikers on their way to the top of Serag, which rises to an elevation of nearly 3,000 feet and affords an excellent view of the hills and valleys below.

From Serag mountain the trail runs south over Burnt mountain to Roxbury Gap, and then over the Rice and Adams mountains to Braintree Gap. Already those fond of following the trails have expressed enthusiasm over the new route, and down Dartmouth way they are particularly anxious to see the Norwich trail completed, as it will open a wider field to members of the Dartmouth Club. All along the Partridge trail, the Norwich Outing Club will erect shelters, and at important points cabins like that at the base of Serag will be built.

PRESS CLUB AND NEWS BUREAU TO ADVERTISE BATES

Every Student is Asked to Cooperate in This Work

Bates news are to be broadened across the continent in a way never dreamed of before if the plan of organization of the Press Club and the News Bureau is realized. Beginning with the Oxford debate which provoked editorial comment in New York and Philadelphia newspapers, and was carried in the press as far south as Washington, D. C., the new Bates News Bureau is working the Press Club to spread the name and fame of Bates far and wide.

To the eyes of the directors of the publicity work, Mr. Wayne E. Davis and Dwight E. Libby, Bates is nothing but a great news manufacturing plant, and the more activities the undergraduates can conceive of or take part in, the more material there is of interest to the American public. Nothing will be so small as not to be of interest to a local paper like the Norway Advertiser or the Saco News—and these items will be adequately covered by the energetic members of the Press Club.

Chairman of the Press Club editorial board, T. R. Pinckney '23, has outlined the work of the other members of the board, W. V. Gavigan, John F. O'Connor, Miss Florence Cook, and Miss Grace Goddard, in such a way that each member will act as captain of a team of three or four other members of the club, who will be responsible in turn for the publicity of the activities of thirty or more students, whom they are directly or indirectly acquainted with. The plan is very simple. Using the cards that were passed around in chapel a week ago Monday, the Press Club reporters, under the supervision of the members of the editorial board, will write up a brief sketch or feature article of each student who receives an honor, serves on an important committee, or is elected to a class office or attains some other distinction in his or her college life. In this work the Press Club editorial board deserves the co-operation of every one interested in newspaper writing, and either the president, Harris Palmer '23, or Mr. Pinckney, will be glad to talk with anyone who can help boost this worthy organization.

The News Bureau office on the first floor of Roger Williams Hall is the clearing house of official college news for student reporters on local papers. The leading newspapers in Maine, New Hampshire, and Massachusetts are being placed in touch with regular college reporters thru this office, and by consulting the calendar of college activities which is maintained in the office, they can easily find material that should interest them. Letters were recently sent to the presidents of all the undergraduate organizations inviting them to appoint a publicity officer to report frequently at the News Bureau office and have their club activities recorded on the calendar. If your club has not reported its first meeting yet, somebody should attend to it at once.

Don't be modest about your accomplishments. Tell the world about them. The Press Club and the News Bureau are at your service.

PRESIDENT GRAY MEETS WITH "Y" ADVISORY BOARD

Committee Reports Demonstrate Great Progress in Campus Work

President Gray attended a meeting last Friday evening of the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet and advisory board. The Reverend Mr. Finnie presided. Reports of the various "Y" activities were read and unanimously approved. Luncheon was served by Mrs. Purinton.

The report of the general Secretary recorded a month of progress in campus activities and pointed to a most prosperous and successful year ahead. Mr. Wesley Gilpatrick gave a report on his membership campaign among the 1926 men. While the campaign had as yet not been closed the early days showed great enthusiasm among the first year men.

Mr. Herbert Carroll's report on the Voluntary Study hours showed a most decided improvement over last year's work in this direction. Out of one hundred twenty five freshmen a hundred and ten attended the first week's meeting which is a record breaking showing. While the upper classmen turned out in no where near the same manner the classes were on the whole well attended. Dr. Tubbs class of Juniors and Seniors is especially popular among the upper classmen. This group meets in the German room Hathorne Hall. Dr. Tubbs gives his best in the way of counsel and advice, and instead of cramming ideas down one's throat he endeavors to awaken the students' power of reasoning so he can get his own ideas founded on the bed-rock of spiritual truth. Mr. Carroll, as chairman of this committee in charge of Voluntary Study, has shown his capability in reorganizing work and the years success points to his efficiency in handling the affair.

The next report of the evening was made by Mr. Graves and had to do with the Employment Bureau. The committee in charge of this bureau has carried on an extensive advertising campaign and results have been most encouraging. During the first few weeks of college some fifty or more calls have been made to this bureau. Many of these have been for men to fill permanent positions while others have been odd jobs here and there. These latter have many times led to something better and at the present time twenty-five to thirty men have been permanently placed by the committee. Everything is being done to further the work of this bureau and co-operation on all sides has helped push the proposition to the limit.

Following these reports Mr. Nason, President of the Y. M. C. A. summed up the work of his organization and in a very telling manner outlined not only its past achievements but its future hopes and plans.

The presiding officer then called upon President Gray to say a few words. He expressed an appreciation of the work the "Y" was doing and offered to the full every once of his moral support. The meeting then adjourned.

VESPER SERVICE

The Vesper Service next Sunday at four o'clock in the chapel will be unusually interesting because of the personality and subject of the speaker. Miss Fjeril Hess, who will give the address, has been travelling and working in Czech-Slovakia for several years and knows intimately the life of the students in that region. She is a brilliant speaker. Special music will be rendered by Cecelia Christensen Goss and other artists. The public is cordially invited.

LEONARDI WINS FROM GRAY IN TENNIS FINALS

ROBERTS AGAIN CAPTAINS TEAM

The tennis courts this fall have been unusually busy, and it is only fair at this time to survey the prospects.

"Eddie" Roberts captains the team, and for the past three years has been its most consistent performer. Besides having been re-elected to the captaincy, "Eddie" holds the distinction of being captain of two sports in a single year, having also been first choice to lead the ice hockey team. He is president of the Jordan Scientific Society, and generally popular.

"Dick" Stanley '24, has been "Eddie's" running mate both in tennis and hockey for the past two years. He was paired with "Eddie" last year in the doubles match of the N. E. Championship as Longwood. "Carl" Purinton is another member who has been representing Bates for the past few years in this sport.

Fairbanks and Pollister are members of last year's squad who will strengthen the outlook considerably.

Since three weeks ago a tournament for freshmen has been going on, but as (Continued on Page Three)

DEBATING TRIALS UNDER WAY AGAIN

Coach Baird Looks for New Material in Class of '26

On Thursday, October 19th, the Freshmen Debating trials were held in Hathorn Hall. Although these trials are nominally for Freshmen, any student is eligible to enter. The subjects for discussion were "Federal Ownership of the Coal Mines," "Cancellation of Allied War Debts by the United States," and "Compulsory Arbitration in Labor Disputes." The trials began at four sharp, and continued until six. Each student was allowed five minutes. The men who entered the finals in the debating trials last fall did not have to participate in the first try-out.

Last year sixteen men from the entering class entered the trials. It is hoped that the class of '26 will show as great an interest in debating as last year's men showed.

BATES TRACK TEAM STRONG IN RUNNING EVENTS THIS YEAR

But Needs More Weight Men—Here's Your Chance, Freshmen

The outlook for a good track team next spring is just as promising as the outlook for a championship cross-country team. It's a long way to the M. I. C. A. A. meet at Orono, next spring, but it is none to early to start building hopes for a winner. No better man than Coach Jenkins could be had to train the team thru the fall and winter and to have them in winning condition for the spring.

"Cyke" McGinley who broke into the game a year ago is the popular captain of the team. "Cyke's" record breaking race in the M. I. C. A. A. last spring makes him the logical man to fill "Ray" Baker's shoes. It was an unusual but well deserved honor that he should receive the Captaincy of a major sport on a single year's experience. He is president of his class and a member of the Student Council.

"Ray" Baker is the only member missing from the relay squad of five men who represented the Garmet with a victory in the Penn. Relay Carnival last spring. The remaining members are Archibald, Corey, Batten, and Snellich. These men may be relied on to make a bid for this year's squad, and it will be a merry fight to see who makes the alternate's position.

"Jake" Landers has returned, and it is hoped that his old injury has sufficiently healed to enable him to run. When in form, "Jake" should show his heels to the best in the state over the century and furlong. "Bill" Burns, Corey, and Dalton should also figure in the spirits. "Ardlie" still looks like a sure bet in the quarter. Corey is able to run a good 440, and "Jim" Simpson promises to be among the leaders in that event. Sanelia looks like an "ace" over the half-mile from the showing he has been making in cross-country this fall. "Ray" is still reliable as well as S. E. Wilson.

"Ben" Sargent's fall work as a barrier gives promise of Bates producing a strong mile. "Ben's" second place in the N. E. meet last year, and splendid showing in the Nationals the following week are not easily forgotten. Holt is a plugger who should press "Ben" hard. Ward, a freshman, has a splendid record, and is showing good form in his Cross-Country work.

"Cyke" will be the Garmet leader over the double-mile and will probably be assisted by Sargent, and Holt, unless some new men can fill in as runners up to the Bates Captain.

There are plenty of new men, mostly from the entering class who give promise, but too little is known of them to state anything definite. Our calibre in the field events was low last year, and unless new material provides some good performers in this branch of the game, the outlook is not too good. Leroy Luce has been lost in the discus. Dana Kenney is the only one of last year's performers in this event who is back. Batten, Corey, "Dick" Burrill, and Daker improve the outlook in the broad jump. Dinsmore is the only high jumper returned. Desouteau and Kennedy are probable pole-vaulters. Peterson, Blake, and Diehl are likely weight men. "Pete" Burrill will more than hold his own in the hurdles. His first in the low timbers was one of the surprises of the meet, last spring. This year, he will be ably seconded by Roe '24, who has returned to college. However bright the outlook, Coach Jenkins will be glad to see anyone with physical ability join the squad. He is particularly keen to meet any promising candidates in the field events, so if you think you have the ability, regardless of former experience, report at once to the track squad.

COLBY AND BATES FIGHT TO 7-7 TIE IN SERIES OPENER

GARNET SCORES ON FORWARD PASS WITH LESS THAN THREE MINUTES TO GO—OUTPLAYS COLBY IN EVERY PERIOD BUT FIRST

Woodman Individual Star of Game

ALL ABOARD FOR THE MAINE GAME

If You Haven't the Price Of a Ticket, "Hop" a Side-door Pullman

A year ago, the University of Maine football team journeyed to Lewiston. Seven-hundred royal rooters and the U. of M. band accompanied the team. Those seven-hundred rooters were here to show the Maine team that they were backing them up to their utmost. They did. The game ended in a scoreless tie. In a game as close as that, the absence of the Maine cheering section may have meant a victory for Bates.

To-morrow "Bill" Guiney will lead his gridiron warriors on Alumni Field with one purpose in view,—to snatch a victory from the gridiron; and they're going to do it. It was thought unwise to risk hiring a special train to convey the Bates rooters to Orono. But there will be some there. Not so many as if a special were hired, but enough to help the boys win. Some are going by auto; some are going on the road with the hopes of being picked up by autos; some are going side door pullman; and there are some who'll go even if they'll have to swim. Don't be afraid to take a chance! It'll be worth it! Your cuts will be excused! Go! at any cost of work or time; but if you can't go, at least be there in spirit. Don't have to be told why that chapel bell is ringing to-morrow night. On to Orono! Good luck to Captain Guiney and the Bates football team.

COME AND HEAR SAM E. CONNER

At Open Meeting of Press Club Next Monday

Sam E. Conner, one of the most talented of the newspaper reporters and special writers in New England, has accepted an invitation to address an open meeting of the Press Club, Monday evening, October 23 at 8.00 o'clock, in Libbey Forum. This is the first open meeting of the year and it is hoped that many students and members of the faculty will be on hand.

Mr. Conner, or "Sam" as he is known to all his friends, is a live wire. He has a most pleasing personality and the picture is not always pleasant. For his theme he will among other things dwell on the moving picture industry as seen through a newspaperman's eyes. For days at a time Mr. Conner has been with the movie people now working in Maine and what he has to say on this line will be very interesting and well worth hearing.

The members of the Press Club extend to all students and members of the faculty a most cordial invitation to be present next Monday evening and hear what Mr. Conner has to offer.

The state series was officially opened on Gurdon field last Saturday afternoon, when Bates and Colby engaged in one of the most torrid and exciting battles ever seen on a Maine gridiron. Although Colby outplayed Bates in the first quarter, the fighting Bates team came back as the game progressed and by a brilliant exhibition of grit and fight succeeded in clearly outplayed its opponents and scoring with only two minutes to play.

—EY—WOODMAN

Peterson opened the game by kicking off to Colby. Moymahan took the kick-off back to his 40 yard line. Colby made 4 yards, on line plunges, then Bergman threw Millett for a 7 yard loss. Millett punted to Moulton. Fellows and Kenney made 8 yards, then Davis punted to McBay on Colby's 45 yard line. An exchange of punts followed on which Bates lost ground as Davis was punting against a strong wind. It was Colby's ball at midfield. Millett made 10 yards, then 5 through the line. Tarry threw a pass to Werne for a 12 yard gain. Tarry made 6 yards on two plunges, then Millett tried a drop kick which failed.—"Doc" Moulton grabbed the ball and was thrown on Bates 10 yard line. Davis punted to the 40 yard line, then Bergman threw McBay for a 12 yard loss on a bad pass from the center. Fellows intercepted a forward pass and made five yards, a bad pass from "Hap" Price to Kenney which Kenney fumbled let Colby recover, then the first period ended with the ball in Colby's possession on Bates 30 yard line.

Colby started a drive which finally ended in a touchdown when Millett went across from the 1 yard marker. Soule droppedkicked for the additional point. The first half ended Colby 7, Bates 0.

Stern lectures from Coaches Cutts and Wiggins put so much fight into the boys, that when they came back for the second half, they clearly outplayed their opponents using the forward pass so that it seemed impossible for the team to be stopped; but right at the crucial moment a fumble would mar the way to a touchdown. Bates had been unable to gain through the line, then came "Er" Woodman. "Woodie" was all set to go and the way he twisted and squirmed through the Colby line was a revelation. Time after time he took the ball, and every time he took it meant a gain of 5 to 10 yards for Bates. With this inspiration, the team fought all the harder. (Continued on Page Three)

THE RIGHT KIND OF SPIRIT

The old Bates spirit is right on the job!

Never did Bates give more loyal support to a team than when our rooters went onto Garcelon field last Saturday. Never did a Bates cheering section stay by its team through thick and thin more consistently than in the thrills and worries of the contest with Colby.

Let's keep it up! Every one behind that team which goes to Orono tomorrow.. Every Garnet supporter out for a victory over Bowdoin!

SAYS THE OLD BELL,—

I've done a sight of ringing up here in this cold, old tower of Hathorn. At one time or another, I've had to say about everything under the sun.

When I was bought, they had to promise a stinging, old farmer that everytime I rang I would say his name. So for the rest of his life, I had to say: "Jack Robinson, Jack Robinson."

When he passed on, I quit ringing his name. But I've been busy just the same. I've rung for breakfast and I've rung for supper. I've called you to your classes and I've let you out of class. I've rung for different kinds of things. I've tolled slow and sad for funerals, though not many, I'm glad. I've almost turned myself upside down to shout out a victory in baseball, track, debating, and all the rest.

But there's just one thing I haven't had a fair show at.

I WANT A CHANCE TO RING OUT A FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP!

What do you say?

A COMPARISON

We admire the man who makes his way through college against overwhelming odds of poverty and hardship. We have men at Bates who are doing that very thing this year. There are students in other colleges and other lands who are making the same fight. We submit the following comparison:

1. Bursar Rowe furnishes a cot, narrow though it may be, for every Bates student.
2. We take for granted three meals a day at the college dining hall, not forgetting to complain once in a while.
3. We generally think it is time to get a new suit, when we have to have a patch on the seat of our trousers. Most of us have at least one good suit, and a couple second best, besides sweaters, overcoats, etc.
4. We have to get up in time for our seven forty classes. We detest classes as late as three thirty in the afternoon.
5. Sometimes two or three "chip in" together on a single text book.
1. Russian students have been found sleeping in cemeteries.
2. In the famine districts Russian students have been found feeding on leaves, clay, and bark.
3. One refugee student came to the Relief Office in Prague wearing a suit of pajamas, all the clothing he owned. In other cases, two or three students are taking turns with a single set of clothing.
4. In some Russian universities, classes are being held at night so that students can work during the day.
5. In a certain economics class at Petrograd 250 students possessed only one textbook.

Some people will read this comparison and say "I'm glad I'm not a Russian." Others may think "I'd like to do something to help."

THE GRAND OLD MAN OF BATES

TO JONATHAN Y. STANTON

Truly to thee did lavish Nature give
A royal heritage! Each tremulous note
Poured from melodious wild-bird's tiny throat
Finleth thine ear attuned and sensitive.
Marvellous indeed to thee all forms that live—
The fragile flower; the butterfly adroit
On gorgeous wings, the saffron, velvet coat
Of honey-bee, restless, inquisitive.
Master revered, upon whose locks have lain
For years the snows of Time, but in whose heart
There wells the fountain of eternal youth,
Thine influence serene is not in vain,
For we have learned thro' thee (O happy art!)
To see in all things goodness, beauty, truth.

Jennie Lawrence Pratt
Class of 1890, Bates.

This brief sketch of "Uncle Johnny" is an effort to make real to present day Bates men and women the man whose individuality pre-eminently impressed itself upon the life of the college. His portrait hangs in the Art Room in Coram Library. He looks out at you from the canvas just as he was in life, the snowy hair and beard framing a forehead smooth and unlined and eyes whose gaze is piercing but benignant and serene.

When Jonathan Y. Stanton first came to Bates, he was a young man. He at first had charge of the Mathematics, while his brother Levi taught the Classics. Presently Levi retired from teachings and Jonathan was transferred to the Classical Department. He taught Greek and Latin until 1898 and Greek until 1906. During most of these years every student at Bates recited to him while a Freshman, for both Greek and Latin were then required subjects. He had many pupils who entered poorly prepared, but he was wonderfully patient and forbearing with them, while holding them rigorously to the study of the principles of grammar and syntax and the faithful rendering of the passages assigned.

His classroom interests, however, ranged far afield from Greece and Rome. He realized that the Freshman boys, many of them from small country towns, needed to have their horizon widened and their mental store enriched. So he would talk to them of books and literature and of phases of history and biography, would give them practical advice about life problems, and expound to them his views regarding philosophy and religion. The students not only received stimulation of their intellectual life, but they also felt it an honor and a privilege to be taken into the confidence of their teacher.

Professor Stanton balanced his attention to the Classics by a whole-souled devotion to the life of woods and fields. Every Sunday, and often on week days, he went for long walks. His general interest in nature soon concentrated itself in a special study of birds. He became not only a famous collector but a loving student of birds in their native haunts, observing their habits and learning to know their songs. Always eager to share, he began to lecture upon Ornithology to his students and to take them with him upon daily excursions to the woods. To these early morning walks with "Uncle Johnny" many a Bates alumnus owes a lifelong delight in birds and the outdoor world.

He was the first librarian of the college, and an ardent lover and collector of books. He inaugurated many worthy customs, such as the annual Freshman ride early in the fall. He loved Bates devotedly, and refused offers to go elsewhere at greatly increased salary. But his deepest impression upon the students resulted from his personal relations with them. He was their friend and they knew it. His sympathy, his counsel, his pocketbook were always at their service. They were welcome at his home, where he conversed with them as equal with equals. The first thing that an alumnus did on returning after years of absence was to seek out the modest home on Main Street, and have a good long chat with this best loved teacher.

It added to the strength of his influence that he was full of those idiosyncrasies of character and oddities of manner that add piquancy to personality. He was vehement in all his feelings, liable to sudden outbursts of enthusiasm or indignation and outpourings of lavish generosity. In manner he was nervous and excitable, in speech abrupt and direct. He "spoke right out" what he felt, and abounded in picturesque turns of expression. He was intuitive in his judgments of men and things, quaint and naive in some of his theories, beautifully childlike in his simplicity, sincerity, and innocence. People might smile at some of his words and ways, but they loved "Uncle Johnny" and respected him profoundly. All honor to the true-hearted Christian gentleman who did so much toward making our Bates what she is!

SOCIETIES

SENIORITY

Seniority met in Rand Reception Room, Thursday evening, October twelfth, to discuss and vote upon the articles and by-laws of the new constitution. The constitution as presented by the committee elected at the last meeting was approved practically unchanged by the members.

The results of the election of new members at the special business meeting on Monday were announced as follows: Mildred Baker, Amy Blaisdell, Alice Couté, Alice Crossland, Elizabeth Files, Helen Hoyt, Allison Laing, Ruth Lender, Valerie McAllister, Mabel Simmons, Leona Sloan and Norine Whiting.

This makes a total membership of thirty from the senior class for the year. Five members from the class of 1924 will be elected this fall.

JORDAN SCIENTIFIC

The Jordan Scientific Club held its regular meeting on Wednesday evening in the Carnegie Science Building. After the reading of the secretary's report it was announced that on November 8th at Chase Hall an interesting moving picture would be shown entitled "The Humidifier in a Cotton Mill." This is a film of scientific interest and has been obtained thru the society from Parks Cramer and Company. The Club is indeed fortunate in securing this film. It was voted to extend an invitation to various mill employees to enjoy the showing of this film.

Paul Robinson, '23 was the lecturer of the evening taking as his subject, "Edible Fats and Oils." He gave an interesting account of the part played in our diet by various fats and oils, particularly cotton seed oil which enters into many kinds of cream cheeses, evaporated milk, butter substitutes etc.

Y. M. C. A.

At the Wednesday night meeting of the Y. M. C. A., President Clifton D. Gray gave a talk on why the college man should be especially anxious to make good. He now has so much at stake to lose; he has gone thru so many dangers and saved himself. It would now be a most serious tragedy to fall morally or otherwise.

Special music was furnished by Drew Gilman '25, Lester Diehl, '23 and Maxwell Merklejohn, '26.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS

The Student Volunteers held an open meeting in Chase Hall last Thursday evening. The members wished to give students interested in foreign missionary service an opportunity to visit the band and to learn what the student missionary organization here means. Frank Dorr, Harris Leavitt and Helen Burton spoke telling what Student Volunteers has meant to them. Dr. G. H. Hamlin of India, a charter member of the first Student Volunteer Band at Bates was present. The meeting closed by singing the Volunteer Song.

MACFARLANE

Macfarlane Club welcomed its new members last Monday night in Libbey Forum during the second meeting of the year. The president Mr. Henry Rich, briefly outlined the years program and caused action on the new constitution. One thing unanimously agreed on by the members of the club was that a greater effort should be made on the campus to give Bates some new songs. After the business meeting a musical program was furnished in the sing around the piano in which all joined.

Y. W. C. A.

At the last Y. W. C. A. meeting Miss Elizabeth Powers was the speaker. She explained the Y. W. pledge and told why every college girl should become a member of this organization.

Miss Mary Worthley sang several selections.

THE CAMPUS

The leaves are falling
Soon the trees will naked be,
And soon their dark, bleak branches
On the snow will cast stiff, awkward shadows.
But you and I are glad!
We love the vast unbroken stretch
Of gleaming snow—
We love the brilliant glare
Of morning sun across it.
We love the trees,
Ensheathed in crystal casings!
Oh! We are glad!

CAMPUS NOTES

The Freshman were granted a day of grace last Saturday in regard to the wearing of their caps. Our Colby friends looked in vain for the freshmen "hids" and had to return to Waterville empty handed.

Speaking of freshmen caps do you remember the beauties some of our men picked up at Colby last year,—those bright red and green ones?

Nagakura and Al Dimlich spent the Chapel period last Saturday endeavoring to straighten out the Hathorn bell which got sadly out of sorts during its strenuous work calling the campus to the Friday night rally.

That was a good rally, too. One of the biggest crowds in the history of the college was on hand and put some real pep into the proceedings. "Red" is right there when it comes to instilling the Bates spirit. He can shake up a Bates crowd with the same zest that he shakes milk down at Fred's. Coach Cutts' words were received with much enthusiasm and as ever Dr. Finney brought a laugh with him.

Everyone was glad to hear from "Bill" Garelson last Monday in Chapel. He referred to the article in the Student last week in which it was asked why the demand of the undergraduates to dance until 10.30 after the movies was unreasonable. Mr. Garelson stated that rather than do this he would suggest the movies be cut half an hour. Not a bad suggestion at all and it is one that finds much favor on the campus.

We read in a recent copy of the Lewiston Journal that "the Bates college geology class under Dr. F. D. Tubbs, in their regular field trip Thursday afternoon near Riverside cemetery, discovered a striped snake that measured probably 15 inches. One of the young men attempted to catch its tail but it twisted the wrong way, he said, and eluded him.

Heard in "Monies" English class:

Monie: When did Caesar come to England?

Class: 55 B. C.

Monie: Very well, and now Miss Powers when did he come again?

Miss Powers: A hundred years later!

Monie: My—quite a smart old gentleman, wasn't he, Miss Powers?

Dagnino—ex '25, a Bates letter man last year in football, and hockey, was on the campus over the week end.

Professor Carroll firmly believes in College athletics. He told one class last week that they were the ideal way of working off any surplus energy acquired during a week of class room activities. Before college athletics came in to being students would every now and again break loose and mop up the town. The professor spoke especially of the wild times Brown University use to furnish the city of Providence in this direction. When the students came rushing into the city from the college campus the good citizens of Roger Williams' home town were forced to seek shelter and much damage was done. "College students have tamed down considerably since then," added the Professor.

The Rand Hall dance last Saturday evening was very popular although it was too bad that more of the fellows didn't turn out. Now that we have dancing on the Campus it should be supported by the undergraduates to the limit. All those who attended the dance had a most enjoyable evening and will surely be on the lookout for the next Rand Hall dance.

LEONARDI WINS TENNIS FINALS

yet has not been completed owing to injuries and inclement weather. The men who have reached the finals are Paul Gray, of Lewiston, and Arthur Leonardi, of Brookline, Mass. The playing of these finals has been of high calibre, and give promise to the tennis outlook. After 14 games of long rallies, most of the games, going to deuce, Gray took the set 8-6. Point-set seemed to mean nothing in the brand of tennis that the yearlings displayed. The record set was fully as hard fought as the first, and ended with Leonardi on top at 7-5. The third set was interrupted when Gray was forced to quit from cramps in the leg. It was almost two weeks before conditions warranted the match to continue. Wednesday afternoon the third set which was in Leonardi's favor at 3-2 was continued. They played till dark and the set was a tie at 8 all.

The two continued the battle, yesterday, after it had been mutually agreed to set aside the unfinished 8-8 third set, and accept the tournament standing as "uncall."

Leonardi took the third set in decisive fashion, winning 6-2. In the fourth, Gray stiffened and won, 6-4.

The fifth and deciding set was a battle royal, but after the games had been deuce at five-all, Leonardi pulled thru a 7-5 winner.

Both men ought to make a strong bid for the varsity, next spring.

FROM THE FOOLISH DICTIONARY

Argument—Breaking and entering the ear, assault and battery on the brain and disturbing the peace.

Athlete—A dignified bunch of muscles, unable to split wood or sift the ashes.

Automobile—From English, ought to, and Latin, move—to move. A vehicle which ought to move, but frequently can't.

Baby—A nocturnal animal to which every one in the sleeping-car is eager to give a wide berth.

Bandit—An out—law—See Alderman.

Blush—A temporary erythema, and enlivening effulgence of the physiognomy, neurologized by the perceptiveness of the sensorium, in a predicament of inequity, from a sense of shame, anger or other cause, eventuating in a paresis of the vaso-motorial, muscular filaments of the facial capillaries, whereby, being divested of their elasticity, they become suffused with a radiance emanating from an intimidated praecordia.

Manners—A difficult symphony in the key of B natural.

JUNIORS ON CLASS PICNIC

The Juniors enjoyed their class picnic over on the river bank a week ago yesterday afternoon. After raining a week the clouds broke away just in time for this annual affair. The committee in charge handled matters in great shape and everything went off tip-top from the cider to the hot dogs. George Dimean took a couple flash light pictures of the crowd around the fire and demonstrated once more his photographic ability. A flaming piece of paper that flashed up and blew into the crowd just as the first picture was snapped would have furnished a much better "movie" than a "still." Nellie Bannister led the girls in songs and put some real pep into the musical end of the outing. The class was glad to have had as chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Purinton, together with Dean Niles and Professor Baird.

SPORT NOTES

The football team showed the Bates fight Saturday—they will do the same to-morrow. Get behind the boys. If you can't be at the game, be ready to welcome in either defeat or victory.

A truly complimentary remark was made to the Bates team Saturday, when a Colby supporter said, "D— those Bates guys, they never know when they're licked."

The only time John Aspasian stood up during the game was on the kickoff. He crawled from one end of the field to the other on his hands and knees.

How many are going to Maine?

If "Doc" Finnie is as clever on Sunday putting across his sermon as he is on Friday night at a football rally, he deserves a full church.

Kepton was exceedingly cool under fire when he threw the pass to Davis which resulted in the touchdown. The least slip would have meant failure, while "Dave" showed that nothing worries him when he grabbed that pass over his shoulder and kicked the goal afterward.

Safford, the freshman center, deserves a lot of credit for his perfect passing in his first big game. He had some job to fill "Hape" shoes as "Hap" was going like a house afire.

John Stanley, one of the most prominent of the freshman athletes had the misfortune to break his ankle during scrimmaging, the day before the Colby game. He kept on playing for 15 minutes after he was hurt until the scrimmage was over before complaining of the injury.

Although he is out of football for the season lets hope he's on deck when the hockey season rolls around.

BATES TIES COLBY

When flunly "Woodie" broke loose for 25 yards to the Colby 10 yard line, they could not be denied. Kepton was sent in at quarter, three plays failed to gain and with one possible chance left—Kepton threw a perfect forward to old reliable John Davis, who took the ball over for the touchdown, kicking the goal from placement afterward.

With only about another minute left to play, the spectators were treated to a wonderful display of the open game by both sides trying frantically to score. Neither were successful, and the game ended with the ball in Bates possession on Colby's 20 yard line.

"Ev" Woodman surely earned a place in the hall of fame for Bates by a wonderful exhibition of line plunging and broken field running. Seldom has a better exhibition been seen on the Bates gridiron, as he literally snatched victory from Colby.

Captain "Bill" Guiney showed that he is still the best tackle in the state, by garnering about 50 per cent of the tackles. There wasn't a single play that Bill wasn't in on.

John Davis, the iron man of Bates football, threw back the invaders time after time and made some wonderful catches of forward passes, the climax coming when he took the pass that meant victory from the hands of two Colby tacklers and fell over the line for the touchdown.

THE RIGHT KIND OF SPIRIT

The old Bates spirit is right on the job!

Never did Bates give more loyal support to a team than when our footballers went onto Garcelon field last Saturday. Never did a Bates cheering section stay by its team through thick and thin more consistently than in the thrills and worries of the contest with Colby.

Let's keep it up! Every one behind that team which goes to Orono tomorrow. Every Garnet supporter out for a victory over Bowdoin!

SAYS THE OLD BELL,—

I've gone a sight of ringing up here in this cold, old tower of Hathorn. At one time or another, I've had to say about everything under the sun.

When I was hought, they had to promise a stingy, old farmer that everytime I ring I would say his name. So for the rest of his life, I had to say: "Jack Robinson, Jack Robinson."

When he passed on, I quit ringing his name. But I've been busy just the same. I've rung for breakfast and I've rung for supper. I've called you to your classes and I've let you out of class. I've rung for different kinds of things. I've tolled slow and sad for funerals, though not many. I'm glad. I've almost turned myself upside down to shout out a victory in baseball, track, debating, and all the rest.

But there's just one thing I haven't had a fair show at.

MACFARLANE

Macfarlane Club welcomed its new members last Monday night in Labing Forum during the second meeting of the year. The president Mr. Henry Rich, briefly outlined the years program and caused action on the new constitution. One thing unanimously agreed on by the members of the club was that a greater effort should be made on the campus to give Bates some new songs. After the business meeting a unusual program was furnished in the singing around the piano in which all joined.

Y. W. C. A.

At the last Y. W. C. A. meeting Miss Elizabeth Powers was the speaker. She explained the Y. W. pledge and told why every college girl should become a member of this organization.

Miss Mary Worthley sang several selections.

THE CAMPUS

The leaves are falling
Soon the trees will naked be,
And soon their dark, bleak branches
On the snow will cast stiff, awkward shadows.
But you and I are glad!
We love the vast, unbroken stretch
Of gleaming snow—
We love the brilliant glare
Of morning sun across it.
We love the trees,
Enshrouded in crystal casings!
Oh! We are glad!

CAMPUS NOTES

The Freshmen were granted a day of grace last Saturday in regard to the wearing of their caps. Our Colby friends looked in vain for the Freshmen "bids" and had to return to Waterville empty handed.

Speaking of freshmen caps do you remember the beauties some of our men picked up at Colby last year, those bright red and green ones?

Nagakura and Al Dimlich spent the Chapel period last Saturday endeavoring to straighten out the Hallowen bell which got sadly out of sorts during its strenuous work calling the campus to the Friday night rally.

That was a good rally, too. One of the biggest crowds in the history of the college was on hand and put some real pep into the proceedings. "Red" is right there when it comes to instilling the Bates crowd with the same zest that he shakes milk down at Fred's. Coach Cutts' words were received with much enthusiasm and as ever Dr. Finney brought a laugh with him.

Everyone was glad to hear from "Bill" Garelson last Monday in Chapel. He referred to the article in the Student last week in which it was asked why the demand of the undergraduates to dance until 10:30 after the movies was unreasonable. Mr. Garelson stated that rather than do this he would suggest the movies be cut half an hour. Not a bad suggestion at all and it is one that finds much favor on the campus.

We read in a recent copy of the Lewiston Journal that "The Bates college geology class under Dr. F. D. Tubbs in their regular field trip Thursday afternoon near Riverside cemetery, discovered a striped snake that measured probably 15 inches. One of the young men attempted to catch his tail but it twisted the wrong way, he said, and eluded him."

Heard in "Monies" English class:

Monie: When did Caesar come to England?

Class: 55 B. C.

Monie: Very well, and now Miss Powers when did he come again?

Miss Powers: A hundred years later!

Monie: My quite a smart old gentleman, wasn't he, Miss Powers?

Dagnine: ex '25, a Bates letter man last year in football and hockey, was on the campus over the week end.

Professor Carroll firmly believes in College athletics. He told one class last week that they were the ideal way of working off any surplus energy acquired during a week of class room activities.

Before college athletics came in to being students would every now and again break loose and mop up the town. The professor spoke especially of the wild times Brown University use to furnish the city of Providence in this direction. When the students came rushing into the city from the college campus the good citizens of Roger Williams' home town were forced to seek shelter and much damage was done. "College students have tamed down considerably since then," added the Professor.

The Rand Hall dance last Saturday evening was very popular although it was too bad that more of the fellows didn't turn out. Now that we have dancing on the Campus it should be supported by the undergraduates to the limit. All those who attended the dance had a most enjoyable evening and will surely be on the lookout for the next Rand Hall dance.

LEONARDI WINS TENNIS FINALS

yet has not been completed owing to injuries and inclement weather. The men who have reached the finals are Paul Gray, of Lewiston, and Arthur Leonard, of Brookline, Mass. The playing of these finals has been of high calibre, and give promise to the tennis outlook. After 14 games of long rallies, most of the games, going to deuce, Gray took the set 8-6. Point set seemed to mean nothing in the brand of tennis that the yearlings displayed. The record set was fully as hard fought as the first, and ended with Leonard on top at 7-5. The third set was interrupted when Gray was forced to put from cramps in the leg. It was almost two weeks before conditions warranted the match to continue Wednesday afternoon the third set which was in Leonard's favor at 3-2 was continued. They played till dark and the set was a tie at 8 all.

The two continued the battle, yesterday after it had been mutually agreed to set aside the unfinished 8-8 third set, and accept the tournament standing as "come all."

Leonardi took the third set in decisive fashion, winning 6-2. In the fourth, Gray stiffened and won, 6-4.

The fifth and deciding set was a hot tie oval, but after the games had been delayed at five all, Leonard pulled out a 7-5 winner.

Both men ought to make a strong team at the city, next spring.

SPORT NOTES

The football team showed the Bates fight Saturday. They will do the same to tomorrow. Get behind the boys. If you can't be at the game, be ready to welcome in either defeat or victory.

A truly complimentary remark was made to the Bates team Saturday, when a Colby supporter said, "D. Bates goes, they never know when they're licked."

The only time John A. point stood during the game was on the kickoff. He craved from one end of the field to the other on his hands or knees.

How many are going to Maine? If "D. Bates" is as clever as Sam, he's putting across his perfect pass on Friday night at a football rally, he deserves a full church.

Kempster was successful (and under the other of these) the pass to Davis (which resulted in the touchdown). The best ship would have been failure, while "D. Bates" showed that nothing worries him when he grabbed that pass over his shoulder and looked the goal afterward.

Safford, the freshman center, deserves a lot of credit for his perfect passing in his first big game. He had some job to fill "Haps" shows as "Hap" was going like a house after.

John Stanley, one of the most potent of the freshman athletes had the misfortune to break his ankle during scrimmage, the time before the Colby game. He kept on playing for 15 minutes after he was hurt until the serious pass over before complaining of the injury.

Although he is out of football for the season, let's hope he's on deck when the hockey season rolls around.

BATES TIES COLBY

Colby three. Woods. To take tense for Bates, Colby pulled forward line, they were on the offense. Kempster was on the defense. He plays failed to get out of the game (and) chance left.

Woodsman threw a perfect forward to Colby, who took the ball and ran the play. Looking the goal from placement afterward.

Woodsman, four another minute later in the spectators, were treated to a wonderful display of the open game by both sides scoring triumphantly to score. Colby again successful and the game ended with the ball in Bates possession at 17-17.

Ed' Woodman really earned a place on the team. Bates by a nose. Woodsman, in the plunging and Colby, 6-0, scoring. Safford has better exhibition been seen on the Bates gridiron as he finally snatched victory from Colby.

Colby's Bill' Safford showed that he is still the bona fide in the state, garnering about 50 per cent of the tackles. There wasn't a single play that Bill wasn't on.

John Davis, the run man of Bates football, threw back the invaders time after time and made some wonderful catches of forward passes, the climax coming when he pass that meant victory for the hands of two Colby tacklers and 6-0, the line for the touchdown.

"Y" BEGINS YEAR'S DEPUTATION WORK

Sends First Team to North Anson—Excellent Success Reported

The Y. M. C. A. opened the deputation season very successfully last Sunday with the sending of a team to North Anson. Three services were held during the day and a total of 350 people were addressed. The team consisted of Secretary Purinton, Ernest Robinson, '23, Theodore Pinekney '23, Lester Diehl '23, and Frank Dorr '25. The group left the college early Sunday morning traveling by auto to North Anson.

The first service was held at the Methodist church at 10:45 under the direction of Ernest Robinson. Theodore Pinekney preached an excellent sermon and was assisted by Mr. Purinton and Frank Dorr. Lester Diehl assisted with several selections on the cello. Following the service the team visited and addressed the Sunday school.

At 2 P. M. a service was held at the Emden schoolhouse. Mr. Purinton held the service assisted by Pinekney and Dorr. Diehl again rendered selections on the cello which were well received.

In the evening the final service was held at the Methodist Church. Frank Dorr opened the service with a short talk on "The Challenge to Christian Service." Rev. F. H. Hall of Portland as the principal speaker of the evening spoke on "Human Nature and the Minister." Diehl again contributed to the success of the meeting by selections on the cello.

Directly after the service the team returned to the college. Secretary Purinton may well feel pleased with the success of this, the first deputation of the year. It augurs well for future service of this kind.

SENIORS PUT ASIDE DIGNITY FOR A FEW HOURS

The Senior Class picnic, that had weather had put off for a week, was at last held on the river bank Tuesday afternoon and early evening. The sharp chill in the air made the warming fire feel all the more comfortable when it was finally started. Everyone's appetite had been whetted by the games played and how good those refreshments did taste only the Seniors can tell.

The Chaperones for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Karl Woodcock together with Denn Niles and Professor Baird. The cheers given them attested most emphatically to the warm spot they hold in '23's heart. Each and every one had a jolly good time spoiled not at all by the postponement from the week before.

The entertainment committee consisted of John Fogg, chairman; James B. Hamlin, Miss Helen Hoyt and Miss Alice Crossland.

YANKEE GIRLS LIKE YANKEE DEBATERS TOO MUCH FOR MR. MAJORIBANKS

Edward Majoribanks, heir to Lord Tweedmouth and an Oxford debater who was on our campus three weeks ago sailed for home the other day on the Cunard liner Beregaria. Before leaving he had this interesting comment to make, "It is impossible to remain. Your girls are too pretty. I saw many of them and I may say they were so pretty that it was impossible to pick out one to fall in love with. Fearing I would fall in love with a lot of them and remain here indefinitely, I am going back to my studies." It will be recalled by many us that while here at Bates this future English Lord and his friend Hollis appreciated to the full the company of certain of our co-eds. And who can blame them.

An Orphan

"Say writer is this an incubator chicken? It tastes it."
"I don't know sir."
"It must be. Any chicken that has had a mother could never get as tough as this one is."

MAINE TAKES BATES INTO CAMP 19-6

Garnet Plays Good Game,
But Is Outclassed By Orono Warriors

In a game which furnished thrills from the very beginning to the end, the valiant Bates team went down to defeat before a superior foe last Saturday at Orono. Although outweighed considerably, the team fought right up to the last ditch, and did not admit defeat until the final whistle blew. Maine, with her famous shift plays, showed to the best advantage of any team which has ever sported the colors of the Orono institution and outplayed Bates except in the second period, when a well executed forward pass scored Bates' only touchdown. It was the best play of the game, being a perfect pass from Kempton to Rowe, who carried the ball over the goal line.

Bates kicked off to Maine and the heavy Maine team ploughed right through for a distance of 70 yards, for the first touchdown, meeting with desperate resistance, but gaining the required amount of yardage each time. Then, Maine kicked off, and Bates duplicated the feat before relinquishing the ball, both teams failed to score the extra point after the touchdown.

Maine's powerful machine started going again, and by brilliant exhibition of line plunging by Small and Weiner brought the ball to within two inches of the Bates goal, but lacked the punch to put it across. Later, however, a long forward pass from Small to Thomas put them within scoring distance, where she put over her second touchdown. The half ended 12-6 in favor of Maine.

The third Maine score was added in the fourth period with Maine mauling her attack from midfield and with Small and Weiner carrying the ball. Weiner finally went over for the third touchdown.

Bates showed her usual fight, however.

BEAT BOWDOIN!

IS OCTOBER 28 GOING TO BE A RED LETTER DAY FOR BATES? IT CERTAINLY IS, IF "BILL" GUINEY AND HIS FOOTBALL TEAM HAVE ANYTHING TO SAY ABOUT IT. EVERY MEMBER OF THAT TEAM REALIZES WHAT TO-MORROW'S GAME MEANS. DOES EVERY MEMBER OF THE COLLEGE REALIZE THE IMPORTANCE OF THIS CONTEST? IF SO, THERE WILL BE A 100% ATTENDANCE AT THE GAME, TO-MORROW. IF SO, THERE WILL BE A 100% CHEERING TO THE VERY LAST MINUTE OF THE GAME. GET OUT, AND SHOW SOME SPIRIT! GET IN EVERY PLAY! PLAY THE GAME IN SPIRIT JUST AS IF YOU WERE OUT THERE CARRYING THAT BALL OR MAKING TACKLES. IF YOU WANT A CELEBRATION TO-MORROW NIGHT, BE A FACTOR IN OBTAINING IT WE KNOW WHAT THE MEN ON THE TEAM WILL DO; THEY WILL COME HOME WITH THEIR SHIELDS, OR ON THEM. THERE IS BUT ONE SLOGAN, TO-MORROW; BEAT BOWDOIN.

SAM CONNER SPEAKS TO PRESS CLUB

Gives Audience Many Interesting Facts Concerning "Movies"

An open meeting of the Press Club was held last Monday night at Libbey Forum.

After formally opening the meeting, the president, Mr. Harris Palmer introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Sam E. Conner, special writer for The Lewiston Journal and for eighteen years a newspaper man. Although very inclement weather prevented a large attendance, both the faculty and student body were represented.

After a few remarks by way of introduction, Mr. Conner began his very interesting talk on Motion Pictures. His entire discourse was replete with details and reminiscences which gave the audience a thorough idea of the intricacies of the "Movie Game." He spoke of the growth of the motion picture from the antiquated "one reeler" to the stupendous productions such as "The Queen of Sheba," and "Way Down East." "The Moving Picture game is coming all the time," said Mr. Conner. "The pictures are better and cheaper." At the close of his talk many questions relating to both the motion picture industry and the newspaper work were asked Mr. Conner. Substitutes for moving picture actors; exaggerated headlines; and censorship by the Associated Press, were among the questions discussed.

After a vote of thanks was given Mr. Conner by the audience the meeting adjourned.

HEBRON TRIMS BATES SECOND

Gets Revenge For Recent Defeat By 14-0 Score

October 21.—The Bates second team suffered a 14-0 defeat at the hands of Hebron on their second invasion of Hebron territory. The Hebronites were out for revenge due to the defeat handed them a couple of weeks previous by the Garnet team.

Bates worked the ball on different occasions to within striking distance, but they could not push it across due to the stubborn defense of the Hebron line. Sinclair went across with the ball only to be called back, because the referee claimed there were were but six men on (Continued on Page Three)

STATE CROSS COUNTRY MEET HERE FRIDAY

Garnet With Strong Team
Confident of Annexing
Third Successive
Victory

Next Friday for the third successive year Bates will annex the title in the Maine Intercollegiate Cross Country run. Utmost confidence is being placed in Captain "Ray" Batten's warriors. "Ray" was a factor in winning the state cross country run for the first time, and will be a winning factor in Bates third victory. The plucky Garnet Captain has a well balanced team to rely on. McGinley, Sargent, Holt, Hurley, Sanchella, S. E. Wilson, Dorr, Ward, and Gilpatrick are the men who will be called on to bring the team through.

The run will be on the Bates course, and the finish will be witnessed on Garcelon field. If you want to see a real Bates team come through with a real Bates win, be out there next Friday. They've been out training in the cold every day, and it's up to you to support them one day, next Friday, despite the weather. Don't miss one of the greatest events in your college life, A championship for Bates.

SPOFFORD GOES ON "BACON BAT"

Literature Mixed With Appetizing Food Proves A Pleasing Combination

Spoftford's first social event of the year was in the form of a long and mysterious motor trip, with a camp supper as the goal. The cars, driven by Secretary Purinton and Erwin Canham, left Rand Hall at four o'clock sharp, Friday afternoon, and bore away a very merry group. Since the roads were so very picturesque, and the time of day the most desirable for this season, even the enlightened ones were surprised when the journey ended, and when everyone else knew, too, that Sabbath Day Lake was the destination. The pine cones and dry sticks soon burst forth into lively flames, and bacon sizzled, the bread became golden-brown, the coffee sang, and the sweet cider, ask "Teddy" Barentzen about that!

Following the supper was the program. The contributors were touchingly introduced by President Carl E. Purinton, and the "literary benediction" pronounced by Professor A. C. Baird. On the return trip, trouble with one of the machines prolonged the ride, but this was a pleasant delay, except for the solicitous claqueuses, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Purinton. On the whole, this outing was one of the most satisfactory that Spoftford has ever known.

Once more opportunity knocks at the door of all those with literary inclinations to offer their wares to the Garnet, the magazine supplement of The Bates Student.

The Board of Editors—Alice Jesseman '23, Amy Blaisdell '23, and Samuel M. Graves '24—will give careful consideration to all material submitted, be it in the form of poems, essays, stories, plays or jokes. Before November 15 get your contribution into the editors hands or the Student box in the library vestibule.

Let's make this coming Garnet a real magazine of live fiction, poetry, and humor!

THAT GAME TOMORROW!

The big game of the year.

The Bowdoin game is always the big game. This fall, especially, our thoughts center themselves on this particular contest.

Interest runs high in all sporting centers. Gareelon Field will probably muster a larger crowd tomorrow than it has ever assembled in a good many years.

Every student enrolled in the Brunswick institution will be on hand to root for the White and Black. "Bowdoin is out to win"—so they say!

"Bates is going to win!" We say.

The sporting mentors are willing to toss a coin, so far as speculation over the outcome are concerned. The teams are evenly matched. Both teams are in the best of condition.

What will decide the game?

The team that goes on to the field determined to win, that will victory every minute of the game, that seizes every chance, every opportunity that comes its way and makes the most of it—that team will win.

Here is where we can do our part. We can provide this winning spirit. We have confidence in the Bates eleven,—confidence which is not conceit, but honest, well-founded belief in the ability of our team. Let that confidence, loyal and unswerving, express itself before the game and during every minute of the game.

Tomorrow is the Garnet's day!

CRUDE SCIENCE

The study of the sciences may soon predominate over the study of the classics in our colleges.

Although science may replace the humanities from their primary position, yet it will never replace them.

"Crude" seems to be the adjective which typifies many a student who has devoted himself exclusively to the sciences. He seems to be a misfit in a society which has been trained on the culture of the past.

Too many a Bachelor of Science finds difficulty in expressing himself without errors in simple speech.

It is not difficult, oftentimes, to pick out these laboratory "hermits" in a group of cultivated people. They are not able to converse with other thoughtful men and women of the same intellectual stamp. Their ignorance of but one thing leaves them awkward and ill at ease.

This same crudeness may amount to a more serious lack of appreciation of the highest moral and social principles which govern society.

The antidote to this crudeness may be found in the study of the classics. When we say "classics," we refer not only to the literature of Greece and of Rome, but just as much of the more recent classics of Germany and of Elizabethan England.

In the study of these great literatures of the past, one really becomes part and parcel of them. From the superficial point of view of style and diction, no better examples are to be found than in this company. The study of the classics fill our minds with the best thoughts of the ages. Who could read Cicero's "Friendship and Old Age" and not derive some good from it? Or who could read the greatest epic poem of the world and not become fired with the spirit of its heroes, their courage, their great-heartedness? To read Goethe's "Faust" is to prepare oneself for certain moral and philosophical problems that must arise in a life time.

Banish the classics! No, we say!

REV. E. A. MORRIS CALLED TO CHURCH IN BALTIMORE, MD.

The many friends of Edward A. Morris '21 will be pleased to learn of his call to the pastorate of the Associate Congregational Church in Baltimore, Maryland. His work in this parish began September first. Prior to this appointment he was serving as pastor of First Church, South Paris, Maine.

Mr. Morris while at Bates made a very deep impression on all who had the privilege of knowing him as a calm, clear thinker and powerful speaker. His work on the debating team which so decisively defeated Harvard was most notable. The climax of his college career came when he was selected as one of the three Bates debaters to take the trip over to Oxford. This was the first American college debating team ever to engage in debate with an English university and consequently Mr. Morris' played an epoch making role in college debating circles. In writing of the event Professor Baird has said: "Morris, one of the ablest speakers to appear at Bates in years, was at his best—calm, self-contained, direct persuasive."

Rev. E. A. Morris

It may be of interest to Mr. Morris' friends to know a little of the history of his new church. It was founded in 1797 and during all these years has existed independently without the assistance of any synod, presbytery of conference. During the 125 years of its existence has had but few pastors. One served for forty years, another thirty and another twenty. The edifice is one of the most beautiful in the country, and Bates men and women may well be proud that one of their number has been called to serve such an important religious post.

Mr. Morris has made a very satisfactory beginning and his work has called forth much commendation. Perhaps no tribute has been more marked than that given him in a recent number of The Congregationalist. It reads:

"As a preacher, Mr. Morris seeks to present a progressive and constructive message, discarding all unnecessary theological discussion as such, and avoiding dealing merely with abstractions and generalities. Religion to him is something which has to do with all life all the time. As pastor and friend, he is human and approachable."

TO BE OR NOT TO BE! DANCING OR MOVIES?

To the Student:

The very prevalent feeling that the movies should be cut down in time and the time of dancing lengthened is surely a justifiable one. Those in charge are to be commended upon having ventured to satisfy this feeling on last Saturday night. Yet we believe that still more time could be allotted to dancing, if not the whole evening, by cutting out the movies all together. Wherefore, with all due respect for the older and more experienced members of the committee in charge, over these may be, faculty members, Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. officials or (and we doubt the probability in view of the very general consensus of opinion) students, we venture to submit the following argument for regular, Saturday night college dances instead of movies and dance.

It need hardly be argued that the theatres of the town, and there are four of them, all showing regular and standard releases of the pictures of the biggest companies in the land, can supply

SOCIETIES

Y. W. C. A.

The initiation meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held Wednesday evening. The usual Candle Light Ceremony was used. Miss Gertrude Lombard explained the meaning of the Triangle. Miss Elizabeth Powers read the pledge which all the members repeated after her.

Violin solos were rendered by Miss Ruth Plunders.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

Le Cercle Francais met in the society room of Libbey Forum, Thursday evening, October nineteenth, to discuss and vote upon the articles and by laws of the constitution which was approved practically unchanged by the members.

Mr. James was the speaker, and after a short talk on French authors, a program committee, comprising of Alice Blodin '23, Bertha Mayberry '23, and Mildred Stanley '24, was elected by the president.

A series of good programs are expected from the club this year.

RAMSDALL SCIENTIFIC

Ramsdall Scientific Society met in Carnegie Science Hall—Thursday evening, October 19, 1922. A committee on memberships was appointed, consisting of Nellie Bannister and Eleanor Wilson '24. Mrs. Carl Woodcock was elected honorary member for the year. Beatrice Adams '23—read an interesting paper, entitled—"Coal in China."

SPOFFORD

Spoofford Club met in Libbey Forum Tuesday evening. A committee of three, Walter Gaygan, Dorothy Clark, and Amy Blaisdel, was chosen to consider new members. Preliminary plans were discussed for Spoofford Night.

Erwin Canham read a clever short story, treating humorously the ancient triangle of two men and a maid. Herbert Carroll also read a short story called "The Summer Vacation," containing choice bits of local colour and conversation.

The club was glad to have as guests Dwight Libbey, '22 an Ex-Spooffordite, and Mr. Woodward of the English department.

PHILHELLENIC

At the regular meeting of the Phil-Hellenic Club held on Tuesday evening of this week the following men and women were elected to membership: Frank Dorr, Elsie Brickett, Vera Diggle, Edna Diggle, Paul Wolynes, Herbert Morrell, Vivian Milliken, Ruby Woodcock, and Vera Eldridge.

Mr. Aumpas of Lewiston, and Miss Dorothy Clark of the student body were elected to honorary membership in the Club. Mr. Carl Purinton and Miss Theodora Barentzen were transferred to the honorary relationship. The initiation of the newly elected members in the active relationship will take place at the next regular meeting to be held the second Tuesday evening in November.

At the close of the business session Miss Lombard and Miss Cunningham sang a duet which was followed by a most interesting discussion of Greek Imperialism by Professor Gould of the History department of the College.

In a far superior way to that of the college film committee the movies which the general student body may elect to see during the week. Competition with these theatres is so almost impossible as to be almost absurd.

Dancing presents an entirely different situation. Because of the regulations concerning the co-eds, the Saturday evening dances are the only ones open to the girls during the year. Now nearly all of the girls can go to the pictures at least once a week. Furthermore, nearly all of the girls, unless they be a strange lot, enjoy dancing more than pictures. Then, these things being true, why should the entertainment committee provide more of that which may be had during the week, and a very meagre helping of that, of which nothing may be had during the week?

It might be taken for granted that with the lid on all week, and on again at 10 P. M. Saturday that two hours and a half of dancing would not result in any too boisterous or hilarious consequences. Let us go on with the good work begun last Saturday night!

Respectfully,

S. Potter Gorton

MAYOR CUMMINGS SPEAKS AT "Y"

Mr. Charles S. Cummings, Mayor of Auburn, spoke before the Y. M. C. A. last Wednesday night, taking as his subject "The Strenuous Life."

Taking the position of an optimist he said that all success was due to the opposition which had to be overcome. One may have the potentialities for greatness, but he may never become great until he has done something worthwhile, overcome some opposition. All success is the same whether it be physical intellectual or moral. The great sinner is he who gives up without a manly struggle.

A Moore Fountain Pen Goes to College

14 years ago the writer took to college a Moore Non-Leakable Fountain Pen. In the whole four years nothing gave him greater satisfaction.

It did yeoman service on lecture notes, quizzes, themes and correspondence, stood hard use and never "flivvered."

Today this 14-year-old Moore is writing perfectly in business.

and again brought the ball to the Maine 20 yard line, when a forward pass on the fourth down failed by inches for another touchdown. Later in the period Captain Guiney broke through and blocked a punt which rolled offside on the Maine 10 yard line, but the aerial game failed, and Maine recovered the ball—the game ending soon afterwards.

Captain "Bill" Guiney, as usual, played a spectacular game, and was in every play trying his men on—John Davis, did some fine punting, and his work on the defense was superb—Guy Rowe and Bergman were the equals of Maine's much touted ends, while "Hap" Price clearly outplayed his opponents. For Maine, Suml is a tower of strength with his running, passing and punting. Weiner showed great ability as a line plunger, and Captain Lange started in the line.

TRIAL DEBATES HELD

On Thursday, October 19, the first debating trials were held in Hathorn Hall. As a result of these trials a debating schedule was made out. On Wednesday, October 25, at four thirty D. F. Snowman, '25, and G. C. Sheldon, '25 met S. M. Graves, '24, and P. E. Littlefield. The subject was, Resolved: That the United States should adopt a policy of admitting immigrants.

At seven thirty K. Baker opposed H. B. Morell on the subject, Resolved: That the American people should support a policy of Open Shop. On Thursday, October 26, E. D. Canham and A. Goggin met G. Everett and F. Sanella on the subject, Resolved: That Congress should provide a system of federal censorship of motion pictures. At seven thirty on Thursday W. Farrow, T. R. Pinckney, and A. W. Polister met J. Davis, R. Stanley, and W. Young, on the subject, Resolved: That organized labor in the United States should form and support a labor party, separate and distinct from other parties.

SPORT NOTES

Although defeated last Saturday at Orono, the game fight made by the team deserves the commendation of everyone.

"Heine" Bergman played through the game although suffering with a large boil under his arm.

There were nearly 200 in the Bates section at the game, which is certainly showing a fine spirit.

A few of the boys had mishaps making the trip, but even the upsetting of their "fliver" couldn't stop them.

To morrow is our big game. Bates defeated Bowdoin 27.0 in 1914. It's about time for a repeat.

Exceptional hospitality was tendered the Bates men who arrived in Orono last Saturday evening from their long journey. Several fellows dined and stayed at the various "Houses," and most of us were given an opportunity to do so.

There should be no need to suggest that Bates should show as much courtesy to her guests as morrow.

"Red" Menally had a cheering section of about 100 last Saturday, but they surely had some pep. If the same pep is there to morrow there'll be no doubt about being able to out-cheer the Black and White. Co-operation is all "Red" asks.

How many remember that fire on Mt. David, May 1. How about it? Are we going to have another.

INTER-PARKER FOOTBALL GAMES

Two shuffling, blood-curdling, head splitting games were played this week between the Misty's Marvels led by Capt. Fogg and the Wally's Wonders piloted by Captain Reis.

Monday afternoon the two teams clashed in their first encounter on the hill-and-dale gridiron behind Hathorn Hall. The first game was featured by a forward pass from Quarterback Leonard to Huntress who ran seventy five yards for the Misty's touchdown. In the second half the Wally's scored a touchdown and the game ended 6-2.

In the game Wednesday Reis' charges came back and copped the game 18-6. The Misty's were greatly handicapped in the second stanza by the loss of Leonard, the slashing quarterback, who wrenched his knee.

The teams line up as follows:

Misty's Marvels		Wally's Wonders
Hamlin	LE	Fairbanks
Smith	LT	Cohen
O'Connor	LG	Wolynce
Noyes	C	Reed
Sawyer	RG	Bartlett

DR. BAKER SPEAKS AT CHAPEL

Thursday morning Dr. Baker of New York City, a very prominent leader in the Baptist Church, delivered a brief address in Chapel. Dr. Baker, who while at Cornell played varsity football for three years, used many timely illustrations of the gridiron to make his points clear. "A man nowadays must do more than merely his duty," he declared. "The great football player is the one who gives 150% of his energy. So it goes in all walks of life."

The speaker also made a very pleasing reference to the work of our debaters on the platform against Oxford. Dr. Baker impressed all who heard him with his personality, and his stay on our campus of a few days is bound to be an influence tending towards good will and fellowship.

CAMPUS NOTES

One auto party heading for Orono Saturday had a most wonderful opportunity of getting a good view of Dudley's Crossing, one of the beautiful suburbs of Winthrop. For some six hours this auto party was stationed there and then with the car finally in shape wended its way homeward to "see" the game in print the following morning. We wonder who they were!

Philip S. Kennedy, more commonly known as "Bo" left our campus rather hurriedly Monday morning. He was headed for New Hampshire State, where he plans to enter at once.

The electric lights over in the Commons suddenly went out last Saturday night during supper. After trying desperately to cut in the dark for a few moments, the kitchen force dug up a stray candle or two and thus did something to eliminate the darkness. When one is deprived of modern conveniences for even a brief space of time one knows more how to appreciate them when once more at hand. N'est ce pas?

You have no doubt seen the call for contributions to the next number of The Garnet printed elsewhere in this copy of The Student. We hope a feature of this next issue will be a department of jokes second to none anywhere. Now the board of editors—Alice Jesseman '25 Amy Blaisdell, '23 and Sam Graves '24—can't get up a real joke department of five or six pages without help. If you want to contribute a laugh or two get busy and hand them in to one of the editors. Come now—"let's laff."

Bunny Buote, one of the prominent members of last year's Senior Class has been on the campus recently. His many friends were very glad to welcome him back and he whispered to the writer that he'd give a good deal to be once more a regular tenant of Parker Hall. Can you blame him?

Bill Kennedy's talk in Chapel Monday morning regarding the Student Friendship Fund was sunny and to the point. Bill, who is one of "Rob's" assistants, you know, always makes a first class impression as a public speaker. He passes out "conversation foam" to a marked degree.

Sayings of our faculty:

Prosy: "Out in the University of Chicago."

"In" Gould: "In the good old days."

"Goskie": "Some call it evolution."

"Monie": "When did Caesar come to England?"

"Rob's": "I saw your father this morning."

President Gray will be present to morrow at the installation of Dr. Samuel P. Capen as Chancellor of the University of Buffalo.

Have you heard the good things Vice-President Coddage has to say about us? Just listen to this: "The people must look to the higher institutions of learning as the source of the ideals which sustain the guarantee of freedom. They are the safeguards of life, of liberty and property. Bates College is one of the citadels of truth."

"The Juniors' Million Dollar Dance" is to be held Saturday evening, November 4, in Chase Hall. Dancing will be from seven to eleven. Tickets which will be on sale the first of the week are to sell for seventy-five cents. The affair is entirely formal. The complete proceeds will go towards the class quota in the Million Dollar Fund.

BATES TO DEBATE YALE DECEMBER 16

We are pleased to announce that a Bates debating team is to meet Yale at New Haven December 16. This is the first trip of the Bates team to New Haven, the last two debates with Yale, having been held in Lewiston. It will be remembered that on both of these occasions the local team emerged victorious. Here's on to New Haven for a third victory!

YEAR'S FIRST VES- PER SERVICE HELD IN COLLEGE CHAPEL

Miss Hess Gives Impressive
Address on Needs of Foreign Students

The first vesper services of the year were held in the College Chapel last Sunday afternoon at four o'clock. Miss Fjerli Hess delivered the afternoon's address dealing with the Student Friendship Fund. The speaker has been an active missionary in foreign fields and at present is the managing editor of the Woman's Press. She has but recently returned from a two year's stay in Prague where she was able to get into close touch with the conditions in that region. She said in part:

"This speaking tour on which I am now engaged is in behalf of the Student Friendship Fund. Ever since 1920 American students have given millions of dollars for Czech Slovakia, but the need for more is still very great. This movement is one of an international character. Students in forty different countries are daily sending money and supplies to aid their unfortunate brethren in the war-stricken countries to the east of us.

"There are at this time some 25,000 students at Prague and it is safe to say that one third of this great number are getting along on one meal a day. At times we have found them living on leaves and bark and sleeping in cemeteries. About one-fourth of the entire student body at Prague University was under my personal care, and I am able to give these facts from personal and not from mere hearsay.

"In my division there were some 69 boys sleeping in one great unheated room, upon hard board cots. They were wearing old, cast-off clothing, and none of them had underwear. In this clothing they eat, sleep, and study. Imagine if you can the condition of the bodies of these poor children.

"It is this terrible condition of things that your dollars are helping to alleviate. American and Americans are ideals to these people. They speak of how interested we are in foreign conditions. And now that I am back in America I am almost disillusioned. Many, many Americans I find are not interested in these things."

Miss Hess' remarks made a deep impression upon the audience. She was a very clear speaker and possessed the ability of putting across her important message. A substantial collection was taken for the fund.

The afternoon's service was conducted by President Gray. Mr. Roland F. Doane sang and Miss Ruth Plauders played a violin selection.

EDWARD LITTLE HAR- RIERS WIN FROM BATES SECOND

October 21:—During the Lewiston High and E. L. H. S. football game, the Edward Little Cross Country team defeated the Bates second team by a 27-29 score. The Edward Little harriers were well lunched thus accounting for their win. The course was over three miles of Auburn roads. It was covered in 15 minutes, 15 seconds.

Captain Hooper of the E. L. H. S. team was first man thru the gate of the A. A. A. park, but was beaten out of first and second place by the strong finish of Archibald and Corey. Both covered the course in fast time.

The summary:

Archibald, Bates, 1st; Corey, Bates, 2nd; Hooper, E. L. H. S. 3rd; Field, E. L. H. S., 4th; Taylor, E. L. H. S., 5th; Art Robertson, E. L. H. S., 6th; Dinsmore, Bates, 7th; Bragg, Bates, 8th; McGilvery, E. L. H. S., 9th; Casey, E. L. H. S., 10th; Rich, Bates, 11th.

E. L. H. S., Hooper 3, Field 4, Taylor 5, Robertson 6, McGilvery 9—total 27; Casey 10.

Bates: Archibald 1, Corey 2, Dinsmore 7, Bragg 8, Rich 11—total 20.

Time, 15 minute, 15 seconds. Hooper of Auburn and Reade of Bates, judges of finish.

WESTBROOK SWAMPS SECOND TEAM 25-0

Yearlings Outweighed and Outplayed By Visitors
Wiggin and Hubbard Injured

The Bates Yearlings suffered defeat at the hands of the formidable Westbrook Seminary team by a 25 to 0 score. Though the freshmen have a strong team, they were greatly outweighed by the visitors who presented an eleven which appeared to be a college varsity team.

The Westbrook team had a smashing offensive which netted them four touchdowns. Two of these were scored on line plays, and the other two resulted from forward passes. Throughout the game the visitors showed marked ability in the aerial game.

The freshman played good football but were overpowered by their opponents. Ralph Wiggin and Hubbard who had been playing a strong game were injured. The former received a slight concussion of the brain as a result of a blow on the head and was rendered unconscious for several hours. Hubbard received an injury to his nose, but it is not broken as was first supposed. Sinclair, McCullough, and Monaghan were the stellar attractions for the freshmen.

SOPHOMORES WALK AWAY WITH INTER- CLASS TRACK MEET

Take Every First Place But
One—"Pete" Burrill
High Point Man

The annual inter-class track meet was held on Garcelon Field, Wednesday, November 1st.

The meet was won by the sophomores, taking it with a total of 53 points. The freshmen were second with 17 points and the Junior class took third with 11 points.

The feature of the afternoon was the mile race. Ward, Gardiner's star miler and Corey a new man in the mile, ran stride to stride all through; until Corey started a sprint twenty yards away, passed Ward and beat him by a half a yard. Both men look very promising for that event and deserve much credit for their excellent showing.

"Archie," Pete Burrill and Landers featured for the Sophs. Burrill was in nice form taking second in the 100 yard dash, first in the low hurdles, and second in the broad jump, making the total of 11 points and placing him at the head. Landers was close behind with 10 points.

"Archie" finished the 440 with a thirty yard lead, with Taylor '26 and Stuber '26 finishing second and third, respectively.

The high jump was won by Dinsmore '25 "Diz" Conley, who looks very promising, jumping into second place. Hamilton '25 took third.

The half was easily won by Bragg '25 with Bagley '26 just beating out Williams '26 for second. Williams finished third.

It looks as if Bates would have, as usual, an excellent track team.

Track Meet

100 Yard Dash—Won by Landers, '25, second M. Burrill '25, third Simpson, '25. Time 10.4.

440 Yard Run—Won by "Archie," '25; second Taylor, '26; third Stuber, '25. Time 52.3s.

120 Yard Low Hurdles—Won by M. Burrill, '25; second "Archie," '25; third Morrison, '26. Time 15.1s.

880 Yard Run—Won by Bragg, '25; second Bagley, '26; third Williams, '26. Time 2m. 15 2.5s.

220 Yard Dash—Won by Landers '25; second J. Simpson, '25; third H. Simpson, '25. Time 24.4s.

12 Pound Shot Put—Won by Hamilton, '25; second Corey, '25 third Knightly, '26. Distance 35 ft. 9 in.

High Jump—Won by Dinsmore, '24; second Conley, '26; third Hamilton, '25. Height 5 ft. 3 in.

Broad Jump—Won by M. Burrill, '24; second D. Burrill, '25; third Dinsmore, '24. Distance 19 ft. 4 in.

RAYMOND BATTEN, '23
Garnet Cross Country Leader

No better conditions could be desired than those prevalent at the crack of the starting pistol at 3.18 this afternoon, which sent 28 harriers over the Bates' hill and dale course in the annual Maine Cross Country run. Clear skies, moderate temperature, and hardly a semblance of wind was evident as the runners measured their long stride on their exit from Garcelon Field.

Coming up Central Avenue the Bates men were closely packed and in the lead. At the foot of Pole Hill, Hillman of Maine led the pack which was now lengthening out. After the grind over the hill, McGinley was in the lead as the men passed Winsor Corner. Raymond of Maine was but a short distance behind, closely followed by Payne of Colby. Next came McKean and Sargent in close order. Hillman and Patten were next, followed by two Bates men, Holt and Dorr. Batten, Hurley and Wilson were among the next few. Sargent fell after leaving Winsor corner, and had to be helped to his feet losing much ground.

Coming into Garcelon Field, "Cyke" McGinley led Raymond by thirty yards. The diminutive Maine lad put up a game fight but "Cyke" could not be pushed, and finished the course with a lead of nearly fifty yards. Raymond romped in second. Payne of Colby took third followed by the Maine Captain, McKean. Bowdoin scored twice with Plaisted and Howes. Patten took seventh place for the U. of M. Foster and Dorr staged a game fight for the next position, and the Bowdoin man got it by inches. Holt trailed Dorr taking tenth place. Hurley of Bates came in fifteenth followed by the Garnet Captain, but Maine had already scored five men for the low total of 38. Bowdoin's strength in taking places five and six gave them second score with 48 points. Bates had 51 points, and Colby was fourth with a grand total of 80.

BATES TO HAVE TOURNAMENT WITH ST. DOMINIQUE'S

Here's A Chance For You
Pool Sharks and Bowling Fiends To Use
Your Talents

Tuesday afternoon, Lloyd Hathaway, chairman of the Chase Hall entertainment committee, and Harris Palmer met a group of men representing the local association of St. Dominique at City Hall. The purpose of this meeting was to seek some means of promoting friendship between the students of Bates and the local Dominican club. After some discussion, a plan was agreed upon whereby two tournaments are to be held, the first at Chase Hall about December 4th and the second at the St. Dominique club room about December 8th.

For these tournaments teams are to be chosen to represent each side in games of pool, billiards, ping pong, bowling, etc. In order that the best teams possible may be chosen to represent Bates, an inter-class tournament is to be held November 13th to 20th. Accordingly, the following men have been appointed chairmen of the various events: Bowling, Harris Palmer; pool and billiards, Harris Leavitt and Dana Kenney; ping pong, C. Gilpatrick. It is imperative that every man who can lift a ball, hold a cue, or see a ping pong ball, should hand his name to one of the above men or to L. A. Hathaway.

Watch the Student and bulletin boards for further announcements! Meanwhile hand in your names so that the preliminaries may be posted.

FINAL DEBATING TRIALS MONDAY

Bates men selected from the twenty who took part in the preliminary debates number eleven and include one senior, T. R. Pinkney of Washington D. C.; three juniors, William E. Young of Lewiston, A. W. Pollister of Danville both participants in the defeat of Oxford Union, and E. W. Raye of Lynn, Mass.; five sophomores, Erwin D. Caulham of Auburn, H. R. Morrell of Brooklyn, N. Y., D. F. Snowman of Southington Conn., Kenneth Field of Auburn, and Frank Sanello of Worcester, Mass.; and two Freshmen, John Davis of Washington D. C. and J. Farrow of Hebron.

This group is to participate in the finals Monday, November sixth, and from the successful debaters will be picked the team to meet Yale at New Haven, December sixteenth.

CAMPUS PERSONALITIES

- (1) The "gullible" type. Often a freshman. Believes everything he is told, especially in the nature of self-flattery. Admits he was President of class in home town high school (rest of class were girls). Said to be crumble by well known process.
- (2) The "incurably grandiose." Male or female. Of any class. Drifts about campus with lofty smile and condescending way. Suffers from severe case of magno-cephalus.
- (3) The "hard guy." Considers himself a charter member of that group than whom we hear it rumored "there are none faster." Away from home for first time, and likes to throw in a swear word now and then to emphasize advent to college. Walks with a slouch. Self-admittedly a "bear" with the girls.
- (4) The "dominating" personality. "I'm right, you're wrong." Determined to be popular, especially with those who are more influential. Very aggressive. Should be Class President. Instead, finds pleasure in detecting flaws in Parliamentary rules of presiding officer at class meetings.
- (5) The "brilliant" Co-ed. Possesses dazzling smile, which she allows to dazzle most of the time. Finds great amusement in mistakes of classmates. Laughs heartily at own witticisms. Smiles pityingly at inaccuracies of instructor.
- (6) The really "popular" man. Sometimes an athlete, just as often not. Inclined to be silent. A good listener. Open to viewpoint of other fellow, but has judgment of his own.

THE GREAT MOTHER OF HUMANITY

We came to know and love her best during the war. The vision of her burned into our hearts—moving about the field of battle, searching out the wounded, healing them, comforting. Only occasionally did she turn to us, and then quietly to ask our aid. She did not wait long for that, for our response was sure and swift.

We do not find her now in trenches nor the base hospitals. Those places are deserted. She has gone.

Yet she works on. A little bit sadder, a trifle more stern because of the spectacle she has witnessed, she has determined that her youngest children in the stricken countries of Europe, many of them orphans, shall find their future safeguarded. For them she has established a system of medical, educational, and social work. She has taught them how to carry on this work by themselves.

For the past year, quietly, unnoticed, she has watched at the bedside of 30,000 disabled veterans in our own home hospitals. She has eased their minds from worry, by keeping their needy families from privation. She has taken nine million dollars from her purse in this work.

But the Mother of Humanity has other children, too. In one year, she has given a helping hand to multitudes suffering from fire, flood, and other catastrophes in nineteen different states of America, at a cost of more than nine hundred thousand dollars.

We are being taught by her to keep well. Under her tutelage, 1,264 public health nurses have been trained. Four hundred and seventy four classes in home hygiene and two hundred and fifty five classes in nutrition have been organized and kept running.

Five million children of America are under her instruction as junior members of the great family.

And now again, after a long silence, the Red Cross, the Great Mother of Humanity turns toward us and outstretches her hands for our aid. Not for herself, but for all her needy children she speaks.

We hear and we will help.

SOCIETIES

SPOFFORD CLUB

Spoftford Club met in Libbey Forum Tuesday evening. Interesting extracts from letters written by David Thompson '22 were read. "Dave" was the former president of Spoftford, and he is now teaching in Worcester Mass.

Dorothy Clarke read a long poem—"The Weaver" which showed thought and skill. Kenneth Connor's contribution was a short story full of scintillating humor, called Romance and The Yellow Envelope.

A commendable feature of the evening was the full attendance.

SENIORITY

Seniority met at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Hartshorne. The new members were given the "frigid" handshake of fellowship. Each one was assigned a character, which she represented in costume admirably. Heroes, villains, heroines, flappers, kid brothers, weeping mothers, dudes, and daddies were formed in two groups to present a comedy and a tragedy. For impromptu productions, both were cleverly and ingeniously performed.

Here as well as villian fully enjoyed the excellent refreshments, cheese and olive sandwiches, cake, coffee, and fruit. Everyone joined in the rousing cheers to the genial Professor and his wife, declaring that as host and hostess, they are unsurpassed.

JORDAN SCIENTIFIC

The regular meeting of the Jordan Scientific Society was held Wednesday evening with President Roberts in the chair. It was announced that an Open meeting would be held in Chase Hall Wednesday evening November 8th at which meeting moving pictures would be shown illustrating the Humidifier in a Cotton Mill—the name of the picture being "Thirsty Cotton." All students and others interested are invited. Mr. Francis Thayer will lecture during the picture.

After this announcement Professor William Whitehouse lectured to the society on the subject of "Atoms" carrying the thought of the society back to 1904 when J. J. Johnson first "split the atom" down to the present conception of the motion and content of protons and electrons which make up the atom. Almost inconceivable progress has been made in the investigation of this subject—the diameter and mass of protons and electrons having been measured. The meeting closed with a general discussion.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. meeting held last Wednesday evening was led by Miss Helen Hoyt.

Miss Dorothy Lamb described in a very vivid manner the good times that every girl had at Maqua. Miss Geraldine Smith told of the classes, discussions and various leaders, all of which are very helpful to each Maqua girl.

A group of girls sang the Maqua songs at the close of the meeting.

POLITICS CLUB

Politics Club held its first meeting of the year, last evening, at which plans were discussed for a complete revival of club spirit. This organization meets certain immediate needs of campus life; as such, it should receive the loyal and enthusiastic backing of every member.

An executive committee was appointed, consisting of the officers of the club—Robert Wade, '23, Ernest Robinson, '23, Herbert Carroll, '23, and Harold Burdon, '23—with Samuel Graves, '24, and Arthur Pollister, '24, as additional members.

The club resolved to carry on all meetings according to parliamentary law.

Dear Sir:

Some one is reported to have heard someone else call out shrilly as the last whistle blew in the Princeton—Chicago game last Saturday when the glory of the East was so nobly vindicated to the tune of 21 to 18, "And they don't do it that way in the University of Chicago either." Strangely enough it reminded the writer of the good old state of Maine and your superb little college.

EFFECTS OF MONIE'S ENGLISH ON SENIORS

The Man Without a Country and The Pathfinder were The Last of The Mohicans. The man whom they called Our Mutual Friend, Colonel Carter of Carterville, The Virginian lived in a Doll's House with Romola. One evening as they were reading Masses from an Old Monse, The Jew of Malta walked in and gave an interesting report of Penelope's Progress. She had been sitting for hours Beside The Bonnie Brier Bush with Richard Carvel waiting for Dr. Luke of the Labrador who wore a Grey Wig to come home from King Solomon's Mines flunked by The White Company. She looked as sweet as The Rose of Dutcher's Cooly; she was revolving a serious question in her mind—"The Lady or The Tiger?" Richard called her The Princess and began to tell her a long wearisome Tale of a Tub which concerned Three Men in a Boat, who set out in The Last Days of Pompeii with The King and the Book To Have and To Hold Christabel.

After spending Two Years Before The Mast, singing rollicking ballads such as The Descent of Man and Sartor Resartus they experienced The Wreck of the Grosvenor. But Providence delivers everything even Jerusalem, and soon a great calm appeared On The Face of The Waters and Afterwards our three Prisoners of Hope were juzzing gaily along The Stones of Venice and spending long lunzy Gondola Days.

Along their travels they made many Literary Friends and Acquaintances among whom were Whispering Smith, Margorie Dear, Septimus and Childre Harold. They all lived together in a Tent on the Beach. These Tilters of the Sea were not recognized by The Pillars of Society, as they were greatly in need of Hard Cash and were decidedly Roughing It. But they were all as jolly as Tom Brown at Orford and their shabby habitation became known as The House of Mirth.

The Pearl of Orr's Island was an Iron Woman, But Yet A Woman, with an insatiable desire to be clad "In Silk Attire and Lavendar and Old Lace as Elsie Venner was. In the evenings around a roaring camp-fire they told Twice-Told Tales of their adventures.

Mohay Dick became The Man of the Hour with his Sketch-Book filled with snap-shots of himself and Don Quixote Afloat and Ashore in War and Peace and also Views Afloat.

The Stickit Minister who was in love with Aune of Green Gables told some Plain Tales from The Bible and how he carried his Talisman thru life even thru The Fires of St. John.

Then Annie Laurie in a sweet voice like that of a Sunken Bell told about Bonnie Doon and Bonnie Dundee. True Scotchman that she was, she always kept the Thirteenth Commandment.

Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall wore a tennis costume so frequently that she was known as The Woman in White and Little Lord Fauntleroy straitway fell in love with her. In a quavering voice he sang to her, Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes.

Now David Copperfield who had jilted Jane Eyre fell very hard for Dorothy, too, so it was a case of Rivals.

When David took her out he murmured sweet nothings like My Annie Rose, but Little Lord Fauntleroy finally won her heart because he reminded her of When Knighthood Was in Flower which is quite like A Modern Instance.

Hamphrey Clinker, who seemed to be overcrossed in reading The Letters of a Self-Made Merchant to His Son where he learned It's Never Too Late to Mend was slyly watching The Minister's Wooing. Yes, The Stickit Minister was completely bewitched by Pamela; so much so that he refused to consume a hot dog in a Long Roll which refreshments were now being passed around by Old Grogan Graham. Now just at this time, Tristram Shandy was waxing eloquent over his Winter on the Nile.

Eben Holden, whose home town was Deephaven was very much bored and said "O, Bosh! Those are The Idle Thoughts of an Idle Fellow!"

Sir Launfal told his Vision, which led the assemblage to talk about Heaven and Hell and The Great Divide. Graham of Claverhouse that the Crossing would be Bitter Sweet, The Great Adventure,—but then— he was a lover of excitement, having known Tent Life in Siberia.

After awhile, this Critique of Pure Reason got on the nerves of The Prince who began to rustle The Pickwick Papers and reminisce about The Old Curiosity Shop, which was Strictly Business.

Paul and Virginia were considering a hike to Uncle Tom's Cabin where they hoped to ensure The Little White Bird.

On another eve, this motley crowd decided to attend The Beggar's Opera. Their tastes all differed so widely it was impossible to please them all. Some wished to hear Faust,—some Ada others, Carmen, or Il Trovatore.

When they arrived, it was all a joke for they heard the melodious strains of Lohengrin and kneeling before the altar were Babbitt and Alice Adams, wearing A Crown of Wild Olive.

When Alice spied her old friend Marie Chondelaine, her face became A Study in Scarlet and she exclaimed under her breath "Saint Teresa."

After the marriage ceremony, they sang "The Star—Spangled Banner" and strolled toward Home Sweet Home.

Now Up In Maine, from the Madding Crowd; there was peace and quiet.

Folks there knew The Reign of Law. There Main Street was Snow Bound, and The Head of The House of Coombe lost his temper and like a Vehement Flame he shook Gentle Julia and sent her to Bracebridge Hall to learn The Recessional as Her Portion of Labor. Longing for these old scenes, The Partners of The Tide retired for the night to dream of Utopia.

The Tent on The Beach flapped and shook in the great wind. The wind howled louder and louder and louder than The Howl of the Baskervilles.

Indeed it seemed like a human voice, and Little Boy Blue declared it said "Mon-ie! Mon-ie!"

CAMPUS NOTES

There has never been a better rally held on the Bates Campus than the one last Friday night before the Bowdoin game. It was fight! fight! fight! from start to finish. "Doc" Finney was never funnier and the roars of approval that met "Monie" Hartshorn's thrusts at old Bowdoin testified supremely to his ability of delivering the goods.

And Bowdoin had a good rally that night, too. It was the only real success of the week end so far as our Brunswick rivals was concerned unless we except Al Morrell's punting during the hostilities of Saturday afternoon. The Dean of Bowdoin, according to a special to the Lewiston Journal, declared the Bowdoin team the best in fourteen years. We hope he was on Garelton Field Saturday and saw what our men did to Bowdoin's "best."

"Bob" MacDonald's crew has been busy cleaning up the campus lately. The dead leaves have by now been satisfactorily cremated and only ashes remain.

The Garnet editors have not as yet received a great many "laffs" for that joke department we have promised to put in the next issue. Take pencil and pad to class henceforth determined to jot down the classroom jokes. There are plenty of them. Let's put them in print.

Norman Ross of last year's Senior Class was among the visitors on campus over the week-end.

S. Potter Gordon, one of this falls new men in the Junior Class, has moved into Roger Williams Hall. He has been living on Nichols St.

The semi-finals in the Sophomore Declamation work begins Monday. Professor Robinson and his assistants have been busy all the fall getting the Sophs into shape for the final spurge.

Mrs. Roberts has been giving her annual lecture to the Freshman class on library work this week. By this time the infant class knows all about the mysteries of the card index, stock rooms, etc. To many it has been quite a revelation. The library they have learned, is for something else besides the laboratory of co-education.

Oliver Cutts, our popular physical director, was given a very cordial reception at the Kiwanis Club Wednesday noon when he delivered an interesting address.

How's this one? "The reason leaves turn red in the fall is that they are blushing to think how green they have been all summer."

BATES DEFEATS

BOWDOIN ELEVEN

recovered the ball no less than three times to put Bates in position to score, and the first time they took the advantage of it. His tackling was hard and sure, and although Tootell, the 220 lb. tackle of Bowdoin played a good game for his hands more than full with Rowe. Scott was on the bottom of every play on his side of the line, and the Bowdoin gains through there totalled about 5 yards. "Cy" Tarbell outplayed himself, and was a good mate for Rowe, while "Hap" Price, Aspasian and Peterson were a veritable stonewall in the middle of the line—"Hap" also succeeded in interrupting a forward pass at a very opportune time, and late in the game picked up a fumble and ran for a second touchdown, but was called back for some infraction of the rules by another member of the team. Both "Doc" Moulton and "Kempie" ran the team in fine style, "Doc's" passing to Dave was superb, and his choice of plays would have done credit to an all-American quarterback. "Butch" Fellows and Woodman bore the brunt of the rushing attack, and succeeded in smashing 6 first downs, besides playing excellently on the defense.

Bowdoin has no alibi; she played her strongest; but was defeated by a better team.

The game opened with Peterson kicking off to Aldred. He fumbled the ball, and was tackled by the Bates forwards on his twenty yard line. Bowdoin lost the ball on the fourth down, when a bad pass from Parsons to A. Morrell did not give him opportunity to punt.

On the second down, Bates worked a 25 yard pass from Moulton to Davis. Two more plays put the ball on the Bowdoin 6 yard line—then with a mighty plunge "Dave" took it across for a touchdown, and then kicked the goal from placement. The rest of the quarter was a punting duel, between "Dave" and Morrell.

Bowdoin scored her three points toward the end of the second quarter when she recovered a fumble on the 25 yard line. Unable to gain through the line, Smith dropped back and kicked a perfect drop between the uprights.

The second half was as hard fought as the first. Bates was in position to score again, but a fumble on the 5 yard line spoiled the chances—Morrell's punting was superb, and this fact alone saved his team from at least being scored upon twice more.

The game ended with the ball in Bates possession on her 40 yard line, ready to start another drive for the Bowdoin goal.

When the final whistle blew, the crowd surged onto the field and the first victorious team over Bowdoin for eight years was carried from the fields on the shoulders of its supporters.

DR. GODDARD

SPEAKS AT "Y"

At the regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. this week, Dr. A. C. Goddard of the Chestnut St. M. E. Church of Portland gave an interesting talk on "The Christian Church."

Dr. Goddard said that no community could exist long and be successful without the presence of a Christian Church within it. He gave two striking illustrations to show this. One was of a man in Tennessee who took charge of a mining district. He utterly disregarded the Church. The first year the efficiency of the men decreased ten percent; the second year it decreased nine percent. He then called for a church to be built at the mine offering to defray all expenses plus the minister's salary for the first year. The other was about a lumberman who, though not a Christian himself, supported three mission stations in the vicinity of his lumber camps in Canada.

Dr. Goddard said that civilization has followed wherever Christianity has gone. The development of the Anglo-Saxon race can be traced back to the time when Catholic missionaries carried Christianity to England.

"WORD MONGERS" and "CHATTERING BARBERS"

"Word mongers" and "chattering barbers," Gilbert called those of his predecessors who asserted that a wound made by a magnetized needle was painless, that a magnet will attract silver, that the diamond will draw iron, that the magnet thrills and dies in the absence of iron, that a magnet, pulverized and taken with sweetened water, will cure headaches and prevent fat.

Before Gilbert died in 1603, he had done much to explain magnetism and electricity through experiment. He found that by hammering iron held in a magnetic meridian it can be magnetized. He discovered that the compass needle is controlled by the earth's magnetism and that one magnet can remagnetize another that has lost its power. He noted the common electrical attraction of rubbed bodies, among them diamonds, as well as glass, crystals, and stones, and was the first to study electricity as a distinct force.

"Not in books, but in things themselves, look for knowledge," he shouted. This man helped to revolutionize methods of thinking—helped to make electricity what it has become. His fellow men were little concerned with him and his experiments. "Will Queen Elizabeth marry—and whom?" they were asking.

Elizabeth's flirtations mean little to us. Gilbert's method means much. It is the method that has made modern electricity what it has become, the method which enabled the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company to discover new electrical principles now applied in transmitting power for hundreds of miles, in lighting homes electrically, in aiding physicians with the X-rays, in freeing civilization from drudgery.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY ENJOYED AT RAND

Mass. and N. H. Clubs Unite
In General Good Time

The New Hampshire and Massachusetts Clubs gave a joint Halloween party in Rand Hall Gymnasium on Monday evening, October 30.

The guests as they arrived were met by ghostly figures who conducted them through all the horrors of the infernal regions whence they emerged in safety.

After the peanut hunt which followed Mr. Malcolm Luce was unanimously proclaimed winner and awarded a suitable prize for his prowess. Supper-partners were chosen by a unique method which was not the least interesting feat of the occasion; and a buffet lunch of salad, sandwiches, doughnuts, and cider was served.

The remainder of the evening was spent in playing games and carrying out the usual Halloween stunts. Dean Niles, Miss Chase, Mrs. Kimball and Miss Davis acted as chaperons.

JUNIORS TO STAGE PLAYS NEXT MONTH

On December 1, The Little Theatre, Hathorn Hall, will be the scene of the first dramatics of the year. Under the auspices of the Junior Class three one act plays will be presented. Professor A. C. Baird is aiding the project with his whole hearted support. The proceeds will go to the Million Dollar Fund as a part of the quota of the 1924 class.

The plays to be given at this time are "In the Shadow of the Glen," "The Game" and "The Flower Shop." These plays furnish a suitable variation; the first being a tragedy, the second a morality play, while the last is a comedy of no mean order. They have all been played at one time or another before college audiences and have been very well received.

The committee in charge consists of Walter Gavigan, Marcella Harnden, Samuel M. Graves, and Harold Segal.

"PAY YOUR PLEDGE WEEK" NOV. 6-11

The week of November 6 to 11 was designated as Pay Your Pledge week at a meeting of the undergraduate campaign committee, Wednesday afternoon. Only about one quarter of the first installments due on the student pledges for the million dollar fund had been received by the first of November, on which date they were due.

The first installments form only a small part of the total pledges but they were required in order for the pledges to meet the general approval of the General Education Board. If you have not met this small obligation it should be attended to at once. You are welcome any time at the alumni office on the first floor of Roger Williams Hall. Ask for Miss Johnson.

Let's clean up these pledges before Armistice day.

CHASE HOUSE SCENE OF GHOSTLY REVELS

A unique Halloween party was staged Friday night by the girls of Chase House, for the benefit of the Million Dollar Fund. Every room in the dormitory was weirdly decorated to represent a cave, a chamber of horrors, the "lower regions," or some equally fantastic setting. The entering guests progressed from thrill to chill, with varying degrees of pleasure and fright, until they reached the ghostly cabaret on top floor where, in addition to refreshments, the following program was prepared for their entertainment: Halloween Dance—Mary Fogg, B. Jordan Ghost Story (Beatrice Ingalls)—Caroline Wells Tambourine Dance—Gladys Leahy Interpretive Dance—Elizabeth Chase.

The net proceeds from the revel approach a sum of $25.

"I noticed you following the pretty girl with your eyes. Be careful."
"I was careful. Its permissible to follow a pretty girl with your eyes if you exercise proper control over your feet."

VOL. XLV. No. 27

LEWISTON, MAINE, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1922

PRICE TEN CENTS

Sian, Shensi.

September 7, 1922.

Dear Students at Bates:-

I wonder just what your imagination leads you to think our work is like.

When we first came here our hopes were high because of the assured backing by the well-known Christian General, Feng Yu Hsiang (and, by the way, Feng is his surname) who was then Governor. His being called to aid Wu Pei-Fu drove Chang Tso-lin back to the north left us with a governor who has readily fallen prey to strong Buddhist influence, with the result that anyone connected with Christian civilization is tolerated and treated courteously but absolutely thwarted in accomplishing anything. Our Y. M. C. A. building campaign has been a greater success as a thermometer of civic conditions than as a financial venture. The Board of Trade and the better informed of the merchant class have stood by us, but with the exception of three influential men, the military and political leaders of the province have run to cover for fear of offending the Governor by supporting such a dangerous institution as a Y. M. C. A. We have pulled enough chestnuts out of the fire, however, to make sure of a splendid building lot, if nothing more.

Great Famine

Here is an incident illustrating the present situation. Shensi was thrashed with a famine this year by a drought that lasted most of June, and broke only on the 15th of July, the day, by the way, on which the Y. M. C. A. campaign opened. The Buddhist temples had been sending out enchanters with wands to shake at the sun, and bands of cymbal and drum beaters to frighten off the drought devil. I am sure he would have gone miles away if he had had any nerves. Of a noticeably different tenor was the good-natured rejoicing of the Y. M. C. A. campaign workers as the opening rally was interrupted by claps of thunder and a tremendous downpour of rain. But one kind, old gentleman confided in me the next day that the real reason for the rain was the fact that the Governor had detailed a messenger to pray for rain at a holy mountain nine days away. It didn't seem to affect his credulity in the least that the man had only finished one third of his journey to the holy shrine when the rain began. In order that no stone should remain unturned in his attempt to appease the gods, the Governor put out an order that no meat should be sold during this messenger's absence. For those not accustomed to vegetarian diet the three weeks' fast was difficult, and caused no little interest on all sides in the man's return. I had the privilege after his return of talking with this bright appearing, young officer. He told of the hardships of the steep climb with no suitable shelters in which to spend the nights.

The Lake With No Bottom

There was, he reported, beside the shrine near the mountain top a big lake which, I gathered from his remarks, must be fed by warm springs. I expressed my regret at not having had the chance to take the trip, and asked him if he went in swimming in the lake. He was horrified at my simplicity, and assured me that no one would be so foolish, "for the lake has no bottom!" He laughed, however, as he told me how superstitious the mountain people were. They even were afraid to use the word "wind" because they said the moment the word was spoken the most violent gales began. So he learned to say to them in euphemistic phrase when the mountain wind was blowing a little, "There is a little something blowing today." Another word had to replace in conversation the one for rain in order to make the ascent free from deluge. Further, the word for "rocks" was not safe, either, for the minute anyone used the word the rocky path began to wobble about so badly that climbing in safety was out of the question. As he was concluding these remarks another aide assured us solemnly that he knew that was true, tho it did seem hard to understand. Such are the mysteries of the heart of Asia.

DEPUTATION WORK SHOWS PROGRESS

Last Sunday, Teams Sent To Hebron and To Harrison

The work of the Y. M. C. A. Deputation Committee is progressing rapidly. On Sunday, November 5th two teams were sent out, one to Hebron and the other to Harrison and North Bridgton. The team to Hebron was captained by Frank Dorr.—H. Leavitt, J. Frazee, and P. Mielejohn accompanied him. Mielejohn played the violin in the services held, while the other members spoke on Christian topics. Services were held in the morning and evening. In the afternoon the team organized a Y School. Mr. H. W. Young, a teacher at Hebron, is a graduate of the class of '21. Principal R. Hunt is a graduate of the class of '14.

Mr. Arthur Parinton, C. Gilpatrick, H. Washburn, and L. Diehl, made up the team sent to Harrison and North Bridgton. Services were held in the Federated Church of Harrison, and the Congregational Church of North Bridgton. Mr. Diehl '23, furnished the music.

Opium Cheap

Another great drawback is opium. It is cheaper in Shensi than in any other province of China, and you can hardly imagine the result. Rich and poor, old and young, are slaves to the habit. This is in part the cause of the general poverty in the province. Robbers, often in soldiers' uniforms, constantly are a terror to honest farmers and Chinese travellers, though the military expenditure for the province is sufficient to keep the merchants in anxiety regarding the next assessment.

Tide Turning

Perhaps it is an undertow, but let's hope instead that it's because the tide is going out and that soon the tide will turn and we'll come in on the crest of the wave. For there are about 2,000 high school students in this city eager to get in touch with the latest of modern issues; there are several hundred Christians, mostly of the coolie class, but with a good sprinkling of educated men; and there is in people's minds the standard of clean integrity set by the thousands of Christian soldiers that were here with Feng.

How Can Bates Help

How can Bates help in a city like Sian? Our answer is this: Add weight to educational influences to defeat superstition; cooperate in recreation and athletic programs to help defeat opium and other body-wrecking habits; encourage a new religious life as the only sufficient dynamic to produce a better society.

It is a start on these that we have been making as your representatives here. Your splendid backing in the past has put "pep" into many an awkward situation. Your financial support makes it possible for us, or someone, to be here; your moral backing helps hold us true to the best ideals. We anticipate your letters, and know that suggestions, whenever you feel free to make them, will be fine antidotes for mossbackness that so easily creeps over the mind in mid-Asia.

Yours sincerely,
Wayne Clark Jordan

JUNIOR GIRLS HOCKEY CHAMPS

Sophomores Offer Competition But Lose Out In Final Game

The first hockey game of the season was played between the freshmen and juniors on Tuesday afternoon at 3:30. The freshmen played a plucky game but were surpassed by their speedy sisters. The second half finished with a score of 5-0.

The seniors and sophomores had their turn on the following day at the same hour. This battle was hard fought, in the trust sense of the word, as was proven by the grand finale of 3-2 in the favor of the underclassmen.

On Friday morning at eleven o'clock the championship between the juniors and sophomores was sharply contested. Elizabeth Powers and Laura Warren played a good game for the juniors, and the sophomore half-back line put up a gallant fight. The score of 3-1 ceded the laurels to the juniors.

FIRST "MILLION DOLLAR" DANCE GENUINE SUCCESS

Juniors Clear Good-sized Sum Toward Class Deficit

The first big dance of the year was held last Saturday evening in Chase Hall under the auspices of the Junior Class. Dancing continued from seven to eleven. The chaperones for the evening were Dean Niles, Professor and Mrs. Gould, and Professor Baird.

The hall was very prettily decorated with the class colors. The Committee in charge of the decorations consisted of Wilbur Batten, Chairman, Kohle Nagakura, Phyllis Sawyer, and Robertine Howe. During the intermission refreshments were served under the direction of the committee: Herman Faust, Chairman, Richard Waddell, Mrs. Burns, and Elizabeth Rice.

The music was furnished by Malcolm Gray's Orchestra and was exceptionally good. A good sized sum was made which goes towards the Junior Class' deficit in the big Million Dollar Drive.

DEUTSCHE VEREIN HAS SOCIAL TIME

ELECTS NEW MEMBERS TO CLUB

Deutsche Verein met Monday evening in Libbey Forum for the second meeting of the year. A short business meeting was held during which a large number of new members were nominated from the junior and sophomore classes. Miss Alta Harris was elected to the position of vice president. Miss Ruth Dunlap and Miss Alta Harris were elected as chairmen of the entertainment and program committees.

After the business meeting, the members enjoyed a short talk given by Dorothy Coburn about her recent trip to Germany. Games and refreshments concluded the evening's program.

Deutsche Verein has started in very well this year, and a series of snappy and interesting meetings are anticipated by the society for the rest of the year. The next meeting will be held November 20 in Libbey Forum at 7:30.

New Members of Deutsche Verein. Juniors—A. Sanborn, L. Warren, H. Baker, A. Small, H. Hamm, F. Day, P. Sawyer, E. Rice, R. Barber, M. Harradon, B. Childs, E. Field, E. Hall, D. Coburn, M. Manser, and Mrs. Burns.

GARNET ELEVEN HUMBLES HITHERTO UNDEFEATED MASS. AGGIE TEAM 6-0

BATES TEAM OUTPLAYS POWERFUL AMHERST AGGREGATION THROUGHOUT—DAVIS AND GUINEY STAR FOR GARNET

The hitherto undefeated Mass. Aggie team received a set back last Saturday afternoon on the Aggie field, when Bates bent them 6-0. Bates clearly outplayed the Aggies, being in position to score no fewer than five times, but each time a fumble lost them their chance. The Bates aerial game had the Aggies completely at their mercy, and they completed no fewer than 12 out of 15 passes.

Captain Guiney and John Davis, as usual, performed brilliantly, while the work of Scott and Blake in the line was excellent.

The game opened with Bates kicking off to the Aggies. Unable to gain through the line, the Aggies punted; then, Bates started a march down the field which was stopped about a yard from the Aggie goal line.

Dalton and Fellows contributed some nice gains.

In the second quarter Bates opened up and had the ball in Mass. Aggie territory continually, but a fumble would stop the parade, each time.

The third quarter was a repetition of the other two, and when it ended Bates had the ball on the Aggie 1 yard stripe. On the very first play of the fourth period Davis took it across for a touchdown.

The Aggies braced after this, but they were unable to penetrate the Bates defense to get inside the forty yard line. Then, just to show they still had the old fight left in them, with only two minutes to play—Bates took the ball from mid-field to the Aggies 1 yard mark again, but the whistle blew ending the game before they had time to push it over.

The whole Bates team played a wonderful game. "Bill" Guiney, "Dave", Fellows and Scott showing exceptionally well. For Mass. Aggies—Captain Grayson and Tumey excelled.

BATES SECOND GETS 47-0 WIN OVER BRIDGTON

Sinclair and Wiggin Star As Garnet Understudies Ride Rough-Shod Over High School Eleven

The Bates Freshman football team whitewashed the Bridgton Academy team 47 to 0 at Garcelon Field last Saturday morning. The opposition of the visitors was very weak, and the yearlings scored at will. Wiggin showed flashes of speed throughout the game. Sinclair played a great game both on offensive and defensive. Davis, Karkos, and Robinson all scored.

JORDAN SCIENTIFIC HOLDS OPEN MEETING

The Jordan Scientific Society held an open meeting in Chase Hall Wednesday Evening as has been previously announced. President Roberts introduced Mr. Thayer Francis, a representative of Parks—Cramer Company, of Fitchburg, Mass., as the lecturer of the evening.

After brief preliminary explanations, Mr. Francis lectured during, and between the two reels, of a motion picture on "Thirsty Cotton." He supplemented the pictures in a way which held the best attention of the audience. He laid especial emphasis upon the effect of humidity in the processes in a cotton mill. The air must be fairly moist, otherwise the yarn will twist, fray, become knotted, or may even break, all due to the static electricity which operates in dry air. When carding, drawing, and spinning are carried on under such conditions, they constitute a remarkable test for the operators' temper.

But Mr. Francis explained how that these difficulties may be remedied by installing an automatic "Humidifier," an apparatus which is made and installed by the company which he represents. The lecturer offered to answer any questions on the subject of cotton mills in general.

A GOOD CUSTOM

When you meet another Bates student on the campus, why pass by with a cold shoulder? Bates happens to be of such a size that it is possible for one student to be on speaking terms with almost all the others. Next time, when you meet someone on the campus, say "Hello." Its a good custom.

KEEP 'EM HIKING

We seem to remember from our Modern European History some reference to "The March of the Women" on Versailles or some such place, at the time of the French Revolution.

History repeats itself, they say. Press reports from the suburban towns of Greene and Sabattus indicate that massed groups of Amazons from the general direction of the Bates campus have been storming these centers.

Our Co-ed hikers!

Furthermore, husky squads of first year men have been seen maneuvering about the outskirts of the city off and on during the past few weeks. Not in pursuit of above mentioned Co-eds, we trust, but under the direction of the Physical Training Department.

This new stress upon outdoor recreation rather than upon exercise in dusty gymnasiums is an important thing. We hope that when snow falls the same good work will continue in the form of supervised snowshoeing and skiing. The Outing Club can furnish the equipment. Almost all students are privileged to use it, by virtue of membership in the club.

The outdoors is there for the taking.

UNSEEN, UNHONORED, AND UNKNOWN

"So this is Immortality."

So whispered to the other one of those figures by the altar in chapel the other morning.

Two immortals before our eyes each day. We have all seen them, for how could we help it? But who are they? How many of us ever stopped to inquire? How many, if asked, could say?

The subdued light, strained mistily through the stained glass, helps to enshroud them with mystery. Shrinking, they seem to gather the folds of their flowing robes into the niches deep in the wall and to seek the shelter of the oaken canopies above.

Yet an occasional, brilliant, outlaw gleam reveals the features of a face. A serious face, but a vigorous one. A challenging, defiant face. A face glorified with the sense of spiritual achievement. It is the face of St. Augustine, one of the four great Fathers of the Church, and of them all the greatest.

The same gleam reveals for a moment the profile of his figure. We see arms half-raised, hands clasping an open book, pressing it to the heart. This is St. Augustine, the scholar, the searcher after truth, and the book the symbol of his quest.

Outwardly, the form on the opposite side of the altar is more impressive. For upon this man of old we see the ecclesiastical head-dress or crown, the miter. In his hand he carries the staff of his high office, the crozier. For this was once the Archbishop of Canterbury.

His greatness, however, rests neither in the miter nor in the crozier. We remember him for the singleness of his purpose. This is St. Anselm, seeker after truth.

St. Augustine and St. Anselm. We remember them both for one thing. And they present us one message:

"Seek ye the truth."

ALUMNI

"BOB" WATTS '22,
PEER OF DEBATERS,
STUDING AT YALE

A week or two ago, we printed an article in this column concerning Edward A. Morris, Bates '21, who was a member of the Bates team which travelled to Oxford and made such a name for themselves. We print here with a letter from another member of this same famous debating team. Robert B. Watts '22 has been called the "peer" of all Bates debaters. "Bob" sends us the following chatty letter:

New Haven, Conn.

November 1, 1922.

At last, after years of barbarism, I have been reclaimed from the wampum-swapping wilds, and the home of the potato, to be hoisted to the dizzy heights of metropolitan New Haven society. At last, together with some eighty other glibbly youths, I am a law student—with the privilege of passing over checks which would make Harry Rowe turn over in his grave, if he were dead.

ROBERT B. WATTS, '22

Shades of Bill Blackstone, already do I perceive the eminent fitness of things Yale. The law school is but one jump from the jail, the "medics" are housed next to the village cemetery, and even the divines are situated on the direct road to the poor-house!

The routine of the lawyer is simple. Each morning we arise, repeat the Constitution and amendments, adjust our horn-rimmed goggles, and prepare for the day. Notebooks and collateral materials are then piled neatly into wheelbarrows, the approach to the school is made at half speed, and the machines parked in the library.

This done, the next step is to secure seats in the classroom. At this point, past debating experience assists me materially, for I am enabled to detect fatal fallacies in the reasoning of opponents who are also trying to get as far away from the profs as possible.

Then comes the law, in large doses, and administered to the squirming disciples without regard for previous conditions of servitude. I read the other day of an aviator who stayed aloft fourteen hours, but if my judgment is correct we're in the air all of the time. Be thankful, brethren, for the restful courses offered by Pa Gould and Pom, Inc.!

Speaking of Bates, we have quite an expeditionary force here after all. And Bates meetings are solemn times—about like the campus when Bowdoin called for her belated football lesson the other day. When we have football here, one perches on the top roost of the Bowl trying to "boola" properly, and thumps his neighbors lustily to the time of jazz produced by none other than one Allenby, erstwhile Monk at Bates, accompanied by some immaterial fifty others. Yes, New Haven is getting acquainted with Bates—and mightily of late through debating.

Even the stately spires of Harkness wiggled a bit when the local sheet proclaimed in awesome vein that Bates had scalped Oxford, what delectable joy to imagine Bill Young and his lusty henchmen twisting corkscrews into the wandering lion's tail! Great stuff, say we. Already Yale is preparing to do battle in December, devoutly wishing that the Bulldog could chew up facts as well as the Billy Goat can wallop enemy arguments! But as Prexie says "If I were a bet-

LITERARY

Paul S. Nickerson, Bates '13, is one of our coming poets. We were interested to find the following paragraph about him in the current number of Contemporary Verse:

"We feel an unusual interest in the work of Paul S. Nickerson, to whom we gave the first adequate introduction last April. Following this, over a column was devoted to him by a leading Boston daily and shorter selections have been published in various magazines. Mr. Nickerson seems to us to combine first-hand vision, incisive thinking, and a very delicate and genuine spirituality. His new magazine, The Gleam, address, Canton High School, Canton, Mass., is a venture in verse of or for school children, which should interest many teachers and parents. It is particularly valuable in meeting intelligently a child's difficulties on first reading and attempting to write poetry. The Gleam thus attempts to illuminate a new and very important field of American culture. May its light spread to a wide radius!"

From the same issue of Contemporary Verse, we quote this poem:

The Vase of Leaves
By Paul S. Nickerson

Too often have I thought of Thee, Dear God,
In spacious platitudes, half meaningless,
Yet Thou hast come so near to me this day
That I am newly born, or so it seems,
Among the common comforts of the earth.
I came upon a vase of autumn leaves—
Leaves green, leaves golden—purple—orange—red—
Caught from the fullness of the waning year;
And as I looked at them, You came to me
Along their trembling hues. I felt
Your Hand

SOCIETIES

RAMSDELL SCIENTIFIC

Ramsdell Scientific Society met in Carnegie Science Hall, Thursday evening, November 2, 1922. After a short business meeting, Miss Marion Chick '23, gave an excellent talk on Radio activity.

An interesting discussion of the subject concluded the program of the evening.

MACFARLANE

Macfarlane Club met in Libbey Forum. The regular meeting nights were changed from the first and third Mondays of the month to the second and fourth.

President Henry Rich delivered the biography of Fritz Kreisler, and also that of Mozart.

After the speaker came a very interesting musical program by members.

The following selections were given:
Violin solo—Alvin Freelove.
Vocal solo—Marjorie Pillsbury.
Cornet solo—Charles Diehl.
Mandolin duet—John Fogg and Harold Bradford.

SPOFFORD

At the meeting of Spofford Club, held Tuesday evening, Grace Goddard, '25, and Dudley Snowman, '25, were voted in as new members, after much consideration had been given to the work of the several aspirants.

The program consisted of a pleasing and well developed critique, by Walter Gavigan, on "The Charm of Christopher Morley," and two short sketches, by Gladys Hasty. The first of these, "The Deeper Passions of a Dormitory," was very realistic; the second, "The Village Street," contained much beautiful description and charming atmosphere.

ting man, I'd bet the family toothbrush on the Garnet!"

And so it goes with Eli. Goodfellowship, humor, and excitement—but beneath it all a strength and fineness which makes every man proud to be even an adopted son of the Blue. For the Law School I have nothing but admiration—possessed as it is of a faculty which makes it without a peer in the country. Yet above all, Alma Mater—little Bates—is the "fairest of them all!"

Sincerely,
Bob Watts.

Hold tenderly beneath my shaking heart,
Your Breath lie like a petal on my soul,
While close about my being clung Your Smile

As cool and peaceful as the sheen of silver.
How near You were, yet I was not afraid:
I could have touched You in your vase of leaves,
Held your compassion naked in my hands,
Your softly throbbing Heart's Love to my breast;
But I did not reach my hands—I know not why—

Perhaps I was too happy to be wise,
Too happy just to have You standing there—

So happy that my eyes were thick with tears
That You should come in such simplicity—a vase

Of aged autumn leaves, and You and I,
How kind you were. I shall remember

Long.
I shall remember, when the leaves turn bright

Upon my boughs in autumn—as they fall
Like tears of beauty to eternal rest.

Meanwhile since beauty is the sighing bridge
You cross from holy deeps to my lone heart,

I must hold beauty ever at my soul
That I may not forget and think of You
As infinite instead of near and dear.

AN INTERESTING NEW NOVEL

"Babbitt," by the author of Main Street, has caused a deal of discussion. Sinclair Lewis, because he is one of the crowd, himself understands the surroundings of which he writes, yet he does not hesitate to cover it all with irony. He writes of his personal impressions and reactions with perfect sincerity and frankness.

This novel revolves entirely about a business man; fat and forty, named Babbitt, in a respectable real estate business, and living with his wife and three children. The pages are packed with accurate, detailed description, Babbitt's friends and associates are wholly devoted to business. Beneath everything, Babbitt is sensitive; he gets "stabbed by the truth;" "he notices his hob-bles," and rebels. He is bored with his family, his business, his friends, his duty. He longs vaguely to express himself, but in the end, he has only a temporary fling.

There is good imagination as well as description in this tale, there is no melodrama, no false excitement—the hero merely keeps on "playing the game," after he'd rather do anything than play it. The book is straight realism; some of the many superior scenes are that of the first dinner party at Babbitt's house; the picture of a man's world in the smoking compartment of the Pullman, on the night of the Land-Men's Convention when Babbitt went down the line with W. A. Rogers.

HUMOROUS

All Explained—Farmer—"See here, young feller, what are you doing up that tree?"

Boy—"One of your apples fell down and I'm trying to put it back."

Arcin;—I see the dries lost their fight on the Scandinavian peninsula.

Payne—Maybe they'll win in the Swede bye and bye.

"I do wish you would quit licking stamps," complained the wife of an amateur author.

"It's vulgar and unsanitary; and besides, I gave you a perfectly good stamp-moistener on your last birthday."

"I wasn't licking those stamps, dear," said the a. a. sadly, "I was Kissing them goodbye!"

Words of Great Men
by Walt Mason

W. J. Bryan:

Behold my dome, its Grecian shape, then say my forbear was an ape! This Darwin stuff gives me a pain; no delegate is safe and sane who with the Darwin bunch agrees; our parents didn't live in trees, nor were they dangling by their tails from limbs that teetered in the gales. Against such bunk I set my face; I stand up for the human race. I do not care what savants say when they dig knee-joints from the clay; or when they bring, with nerve and gall, old bones from far Neanderthal. I do not care what skulls they spring, they can't convince me of a thing. Old Adam, on his Eden farm, and Eve, with all her grace and charm, they were parents of us all; and I will stand in tent or hall, and lecture on this theme of themes and show that Darwin claims are dreams, in any town that treats me right, and pays two hundred bones a night.

SPORT NOTES

A year ago "Cyk" McGinley made his debut in the cross-country game, and took his place in the "hall of fame." A week ago he displayed to the satisfaction of all that he well deserves that place. To run such a gruelling course in spite of a bad cold requires the maximum of fight and grit, and that is what "Cyk" had when he proved himself the premier cross-country runner of the state.

Frank Dorr showed the same, indomitable spirit that characterized his basketball playing last winter. Quite a few were surprised to see the diminutive lad come in second for Bates, but those that know the "serap" that he's got aren't surprised at anything Frank does.

Holt, who has been a pretty consistent runner for the past two years was the third Bates man in. Hurley, who has been making a bid for the teams for past three seasons, did a good job Friday, and finished fourth for the Garnet. He was closely followed by the Garnet Captain, "Ray" Batten.

Sargent and S. E. Wilson were attacked with stomach cramps early in the race, and were unable to finish. Their loss was sorely felt by the Garnet squad which was expected to have several men among the first ten.

Next week the team journeys to Franklin Park, Dorchester, Mass. where it will compete in the N. E. C. C. run. On a level course such as Franklin Park has, a better showing is expected. Last year Bates won the Maine title, and the U. of M. won the N. E. title. Now that Bates has lost out in the state title, we are looking for a complete turning of the tables and a victory next week.

Lewiston is to have five community skating rinks this year, according to an article in the Journal. One of them is to be at Garegon Field.

Lewiston is to have a hockey league this year comprised of ten teams. Bates freshmen and second team will be members of the league.

Plans are under way for the enlargement of the Augusta Hockey rink. Some improvement over last year's meagre rink is certainly needed.

Lattice to Let

Otis Titus used to notice,
That his giddy goddess, Lotus,
Didn't care so much to gad as Seek the shadows with her Otis.

Then up spoke this Otis Titus,
"Let us build a lattice, Lotus.
Lotus, let us have a lattice.
Where no spying eye could spot us."
Lotus answered: "Let us! Let us!
How a lattice would delight us."

"When the moon had lit us, Lotus,
In the lattice we could seat us.
And the world would never notice,
For the lattice would delete us.

"Clad with leaves as light as lettuce,
We would have this lattice, Lotus.
Where the bee would come to loot us,
And the glow worm light us gratis,

But no leering brute could hoot us.
And no Brutus could get at us.
Lotus, let us have a lattice."

"Otis, let us," answered Lotus.

CAMPUS NOTES

There was a good sized crowd from Bates at Brunswick last Saturday afternoon taking in the big Maine-Bowdoin game which this year proved to be more or less of an anti-climax to the state series. The game was a thriller from start to finish and one well worth watching. Ostregren's charges played a whale of a game and it was only through the toughest kind of a break that Bowdoin failed to come through the victor.

Peg Reis and Vic Reid were among the few Bates men to journey to Amherst with the football team last week. Both Peg and Vic report a wonderfully fine trip. "It was some game," say they. And we can but nod our assent.

There is no more profitable hour spent in the whole week by the men of the two upper classes than the one with Dr. Tulbs each Monday evening. The popular professor answers important questions on matters of moment to every thinking man on the campus and he answers them in such a way as to stimulate rather than stifle thought. These meetings are very well attended and are being held in the German Room, Hathorn Hall at 6:45 each Monday night.

Next Wednesday is the last day for sending in your literary contributions to the Garnet. The editors are waiting for more material—poems, stories, plays, essays—. Just put the finishing touches on your literary effort and pass it along. If acceptable you will see it in print the first of the month. Let's go.

Armistice Day tomorrow is a holiday on the campus. Has anyone yet forgotten that day four years ago when the War Lord of Germany skedaddled across the border into Holland and the famous armistice was signed? That was a real day in history and one that we can afford to set aside as a holiday.

Movies and a dance in Chase Hall tonight! Everybody out.

The Y. M. C. A. is mustering its forces in readiness for the Bates-in-China drive the first of December. Wayne Jordan, the Bates graduate is doing a big job over there in the Orient and the little we can do to help the good work along will be greatly appreciated. More on this matter later.

The Sophomore Prize Speaking will be held a week from tomorrow afternoon. This annual affair sponsored by Professor Robinson is but one of the many methods employed at Bates to develop public speakers.

Dancing at Bates has been receiving undue publicity of late in the local press. The headline on the front page of the Journal the other evening makes a snappy addition to one's Mem Book of clippings.

There were some other Bates men on hand at Amherst Saturday besides the two already mentioned. Gus Miller, Punk Bailey, and Ken Jones made the trip and report a corking good time.

We wonder if there will be any men venturing forth to Providence this Saturday. If there are, the game will amply repay them for the trip. Bates is going down into Roger Williams' home town bent on giving the Brown bear the fight of his life.

Here's a new one:
"Jack, dear, before our wedding I wish you would see a doctor."
"Why should I? I am well except for a touch of dyspepsia."
"That's just it. I'd like you to get a certificate from him which would show that your dyspepsia antedated our marriage."

"DOC" FINNIE GIVES INSTRUCTIVE TALK AT "Y" MEETING

"Doc" Finnie spoke at the Y. M. C. A. meeting on last Wednesday taking as his subject, "Religion's Appeal to the College Man."

The meeting was opened by singing led by Paul Libby '24. After which the presiding officer, Mr. Carl Purinton '23, read passages from the scriptures. Two minutes were spent in short prayers by those in attendance. Mr. Frank Dorr '25, presented a plan for the observance of Prayer Week, November 12 to 18. He appealed to the men present to make praying a regular habit and ended with the plan for increased vitality in our daily prayer. Prayer week, he said is being observed not in a single college or a single state or even in a single nation but all over the world.

Rev. Mr. Finnie then spoke. He said that there were many definite reasons why the religion of Christ should attract the college man. The foremost of which was the spirit of youth in religion. "The greatest gift that God ever gave the world," said he, "was a young Christ." In analyzing this spirit of youth he showed its component parts to be the spirit of courage; the spirit of cleanness; and, the spirit of action. One of the striking things of his talk was the statement that it took a real courageous red-blooded man to go to church regularly while it was an easy thing to be among the bunch of "good fellows" who hang around the dormitories on Sundays. In the life of Captain Robert Scott, the Antarctic explorer, he showed how the spirit of youth, action, and courage were wound up until the very last. He told the story of Scott and his companions who when frozen up to the waist in the Antarctic regions were stopped from killing themselves by the spirit of courage, were tempted to take the chance which resulted in their death by the spirit of action, and who till the very last sang and bravely died, as they lived, youthful men. He likened these heroes to Christ who as he left the little ante-chamber after the Last Supper, sang a hymn as evidence of his courage in the very face of death. The seriousness and sincerity of the speaker was apparent. His appeal reached the vital spot in the souls of the men there. The meeting closed with a prayer by Dr. Finnie.

The Servant replied, "Three; dinner, breakfast and supper."

The hard Part.—Millionaire (speaking to a body of students) "All my success, I owe to one thing alone—pluck, pluck, pluck."

Student—"But how are we to find the right people to pluck?"

"My kid brother was awfully sore at you the other night when you were calling on me."

"Why so I didn't do anything."

"That's why. He waited at the key-hole all evening for nothing."

THE VOYAGE OF THE RATTLETRAP — OR — TO BROWN AND BACK

Rear-Admiral Peary blazed a trail to the North Pole and Doctor Livingstone cut his way thru darkest Africa but it took a squad of eight Loyal Rooters of Bates to push their "Ark" thru paths to Providence.

They set sail from Parker Hall Friday afternoon with full crew: Captain—"Jim" Hamlin.

Pilot—"Rog" Arnold.
Chief Engineer—"Ollie" Johnson.

First Mate—"Misty" Fogg.
Second Mate—"Grimes" Noyes.
Stateroom Steward—"Bomber" Bradford.
Super-Cargo—"Johnny" Gilman.

Sea Anchor—"Jack" Tarr.

The good-ship "Rattletrap" was no less than the first motor-car that the Hendrick Hudson Motor Co. put out in 1912. The boys left with a prayer on their lips, and two porous-knit tires on the front wheels. They reached Portland without a mishap but while floating down the main drag experienced the first blowout. After a slight delay of four hours, they repaired onto the Massachusetts Highway and hit on all sixes until they reached Long Beach where another quarter of the pneumatic system failed. The stillness of midnight at Ipswich was broken by another tire blast, availing the crew from their profound slumber and resounding across the foot hills.

And then the lights went bad and the rest of the way was made under the guidance of the pole star. They arrived at their pilots home in Wakefield at 2.30 A. M. Saturday morning and were comfortably put up for the night.

After a few hours sleep and a hearty breakfast the whole party transferred to a real car owned by the pilot's father and made a "bon voyage" to the game where they saw the Bates Eleven tangle the Brown Bear.

After spending another restless night in Wakefield the crew started back in their "rattletrap" the next morning. Everything went fine until Hampton was reached where the sunlight faded with the fourth and last blowout.

At the outskirts of Ogunquit "old timer" got tired, gave three short gasps and died completely. The whole crew got out and pushed it over hills, one half a mile to Ogunquit. Chief Engineer Johnson rolled up his sleeves, made the necessary repairs and they crawled on to the outskirts of Kennebunk where she re-died and the boys "turned in" for the night piled under the robes in the back seat.

The next morning and afternoon were spent in making the necessary seventy miles to Lewiston and the broken, disheveled, whiskered sleep-eyed crew, disoriented themselves from the wreck—crawled up the steps of Parker—staggered into their rooms—and slumbered!

1923 STUDENT TO BE HEAD- ED BY GRAVES

Fairbanks Will Be Business Manager, Libby Managing Editor

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, the governing body of The Bates Student, nominations were made and approved for the staff of the college paper for the season of 1923. Samuel M. Graves, '24 was elected as Editor-in-Chief, with Paul O. Libby, '24 as Managing Editor. Wallace Fairbanks, '24 was made Business Manager.

Mr. Graves is well fitted by journalistic work before coming to college and by training on the staff of the Bates publication to enter upon the new office for which he has been chosen. He is also popular with the members of his class and the rest of the undergraduate body. He belongs to several organizations, among them the Politics Club, in which he is a member of the executive committee; he is a member of the Press Club and is chairman of the program committee for that club. Mr. Graves is also an assistant in the Department of Public Speaking. His interests include the field of athletics.

ELIMINATIONS IN POOL AND BOWLING UNDER WAY

In Preparation For Tournament With St. Dominiques, December 4

Plans for the tournament with the St. Dominiques are rapidly progressing. The elimination contests in pool and billiards were begun Tuesday morning. In all, sixty-four men signified their desire to participate. These men have been paired off for the first elimination. The thirty-two successful candidates will be arranged for a second elimination, the sixteen following for a third, and finally, the finals will be held between the surviving eight to see who will participate in the tournament, December 4th.

Bowling is also well underway. It is expected that a strong team will be developed. Among the more likely candidates are Shaw, Bick, Carroll, and Leonard.

The elimination contests in ping-pong are to be begun Monday. Keen competition is expected in this department. Several players of no mean ability have signified their intentions of defeating all comers.

The following is a list of various events to be held in the tournament as arranged by Chairman L. Hathaway and representative of the St. Dominiques' Club, naming the events, points each count, and number of men in each.

Event	Points	No. of Participants
Bid Whist	2	4
Pinochle	2	4
Cribbage	3	6
Pitch	2	4
Pool	5	8
Billiards	1	2
Bowling	5	5
Ping pong	1	2

The results of the elimination contests to date are as follows:

Pool: P. Burrill 50, Chapman 38; F. Sanelle 18, Huntington 50, Chisholm 45, Landers 50, Hubbard 50, A. Ramey 49, W. A. Lawrence 35, McCullough 50, Sawyer 50, Dalton 48, Scott 49, Brown 50, Leonard 50, J. Simpson 46, W. Hamilton 50, Guild 32; Birmingham, Hamlin, defaulted to Birmingham; Kenney 50, Abbott 39.

PROVIDENCE JOURNAL SPEAKS WELL OF FIGHTING SPIRIT OF

GARNET PLAYS ARMY TOMORROW

Confident Of Ability To Score On Powerful
West Pointers

The Bates football team has gone through its hardest and best football season in years. Though some teams have outscored the Garnet this season, no team has outfought, and every Bates opponent has had to admit that they'd been in a fight when the game was over. Only a week ago, "Bill" Guiney's cohorts showed the Brown eleven some real fighting when they outscored the Bear in the second half with a phenomenal overhead game.

To-morrow Bates faces its most formidable opponent, the football team of the United States Military Academy at West Point. This team has an enviable record. To-morrow Bates is going to score on the cadets. It would require a world of optimism to predict a win but though Bates may not outscore the soldiers that aerial game is sure to count for one tally.

CASTS ANNOUNCED FOR JUNIOR PLAYS

Entertainment To Be Given
Saturday Evening, Dec. 2

The casts of the three one act Junior Plays to be presented for the Junior Class Quota towards the Million Dollar Fund, Saturday evening December 2, have just been announced by the Committee in charge. "In the Shadow of the Glen," the first play to be given we shall see, Mrs. Burns, Walter Gavigan, Samuel Graves, and George Duncan. The next play, "The Game," will be acted by Louise Bryant, Janice Hoyt, Dick Stanley, and Sam Graves. The popular comedy "The Florist Shop," will have for its cast, Laura Warren, Dorothy Coburn, Rudolf Kempton, Paul Wolnee, and Tiffany.

The first play is under the direction of Miss Amy Blaisdell, the second that of Miss Whiting, while Miss Alice Blouin is coaching the third. Miss Alice Jessemann is to have charge of the staging of the three plays with the help of Kohe Nagakura and Joseph Charron.

Rehearsals are now on in earnest and the Committee in charge is certain of giving a good evening of entertainment to all patrons. Harold Segal is directing the business end of the affair with the able assistance of Richard L. Waddell.

The regular meeting of Deutsche Verein will be held Monday, November 20, at 7:30 in Libbey Forum.

Bates faced one of the strongest grid-iron machines in the East last Saturday afternoon when she lined up against Brown at Providence.

Although defeated 27-12, the fighting Bates eleven threw a scare into the Bear when she tallied two touchdowns in quick succession in the second half a feat which only Yale has been able to do against Brown this year.

The following clipping from the Providence Journal shows the fighting spirit of the Bates eleven against their adversaries ("although defeated Bates overcame herself with glory. Sixteen times during the game the visitors had to take time out because of injuries to players. With only 18 men to pick from the visiting mentor Coach Cutts, former All-American tackle from Harvard, had his hands full to keep eleven men on the field. At the finish of the game, the Bates players could hardly drag themselves to the clubhouse. In the second half, with the score 21-0 against them, the ever-fighting Bates collegians opened a forward pass attack and crossed the Bears line twice, a feat that only Yale has been able to do this season.")

Captain Guiney, Davis, Kempton and Rutsky were the bright spots in the play of the plucky Garnet eleven. "Bill" was a power on the defence and with "Dave" garnered the majority of the tackles. "Kempie" tossed some beautiful forwards to "Dave" which gained from 9 to 15 yards on each try. Rutsky ran the Brown ends and tackles in fine style and played a whale of a game throughout, although it was the first time he has played since the N. H. game. The rest of the team took a tough beating from the heavy Brown line, but stuck to their guns and exhibited a bull-dog courage, which

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM OFF TO NEW ENGLANDS

Strengthened Bates Team Will Make Bid For Championship

The final lap of the Bates Cross Country season will be run at Franklin Park, Dorchester, Mass., to-morrow at 11:00 o'clock. A year ago Maine turned the tables in the Cross Country game by winning the N. E. I. C. C. meet after taking defeat in the State meet. This year Bates is out for revenge, and believes it's time for a reversal in Bates' favor.

Captain Batten will terminate his career as a Bates barrier. After four years of consistent running, "Ray" will run his best race of all four years to-morrow. The flat course will be to his liking, and we feel sure that his swan-song as a Garnet captain will be a glorious one.

"Cyk" McGinley can be relied on to be among the leaders. It is the anticipation of all that the plucky winner of the State meet will be in the van at the finish to-morrow.

If Sargent is in good condition, he

"Y. W." BAZAAR TO BE HELD ON FRIDAY, DEC. 8

Girls Pushing Plans for Huge Success—Best
Fair in Years

Preparations are under way for the annual Y. W. C. A. Bazaar to be held in Chase Hall on December 8. It is expected that the Bazaar this year will be even more successful than in previous years.

Every Bates girl is doing her bit to make the Bazaar something the college may be proud of. The leaders in the campaign are as follows: Elizabeth Files, General Chairman; Ruth Dunlap (Senior Table) Fancy-work; Florence Day, (Junior Table) Men's Goods; Grace Goddard (Sophomore Table) Grab-bag and Flowers; Wilma Carll (Freshman Table) Candy; Hazel Prescott, Eats; Robertina Howe, Entertainment.

YOUNG, CANHAM, AND H. MORRELL TO DEBATE YALE

The following team is to represent Bates in the Yale Bates debate at New Haven on the evening of December 16:

William E. Young, Lewiston.
Erwin Canham, Auburn.

Herbert Morrell, Brooklyn, N. Y.

A FIGHTING TEAM

The football team closes its schedule tomorrow, and the most successful season in years has been completed.

What has characterized the playing of the team this season?

Last Sunday morning, two men in a Providence hotel unconsciously framed an answer to this question in discussing the Brown-Bates contest of the day before. One man had seen the game, and was describing it to the other, who had not. After describing some of the more striking plays, he summed up his impression of the Bates team by declaring that they were "indomitable fighters." "They gave all they had and kept fighting until the very last minute of play."

It was this fighting spirit that enabled Bates to score twice upon the big Brown Bear, something which has not been done by any other team with the exception of Yale.

We owe a good deal of credit to Coach Cutts and to Coach Wiggin for the way in which they have inspired the men with this winning spirit. The fighting spirit displayed by Captain "Bill" Guiney in every game of the year has been a huge factor.

Hand in hand with this fighting spirit goes something else.

The football team of 1922 has set a new standard of loyalty to training ideals, and this loyal training has shown its effect in the playing of the team. It has produced a high morale among the players themselves.

Lastly, the cooperation of the student body has been wholehearted, with the team during the period of training and during the games themselves.

GOOD GRUB

The Commons Crab has lost his job!

This is the report that comes from those who actually absorb their nourishment at the college dining hall, now run under new management.

It is a pity, in a way, for it is always nice to have something unpleasant to say, according to some people. However, when we can't find anything to crab, why not give a little credit where it belongs?

For instance, that new system of regular waiters is one big improvement. And then, there are no rush lines this year. Most important of all, the dining establishment is being kept spick and span. The food is absolutely clean, too.

If these things are true, every Bates man should support the College Commons as a college institution. It is not run for profit. It cannot be run at all, unless the students cooperate by dining there.

WEEK OF PRAYER

The past week has been designated by this title and has been observed as such by the young men of the Christian associations of the world.

All foolishness?

Possibly. Psychology would not confirm this statement, however. For psychology tells us that the great motive force in the universe is that of will power.

If this is true, may there not be something substantial in the concentration of the wills of nearly two million young men, leaders, representing over 9,000 different organizations in over thirty different countries of the globe—when these wills are unified into one great purpose, the betterment of the place we all live in?

ALUMNI

"FROM COLLEGE SENIOR TO COLLEGE PROFESSOR"

We print this week a letter from another Bates debater, J. William Ashton '22. While in college, "Bill" proved himself to be a debater worthy of the best traditions of Bates along that line, and a brilliant scholar, a genial companion and a staunch rooter for everything pertaining to Bates.

At the present time, Mr. Ashton is head of the Department of Public Speaking at Yankton College, Yankton, So. Dakota. Few graduates of any college are honored with a professorship the first year out. We hear from authoritative sources, however, that this Bates man of the class of 1922 is more than fulfilling the expectations of those who selected him for his present work.

Some of you old friends of "Bill" will want to drop him a letter. We know he would appreciate hearing from any of his former college mates.

J. WILLIAM ASHTON, '22

Yankton College,
Yankton, So. Dakota
November 7, 1922.

"Greetings from the 'Wild and Woolly West,' oh so very wild and woolly! The only trouble is that the wildest things that I have seen have been some exceedingly deep mound-building Indians, which a couple of friends of mine and I dug up the other Sunday in search of information as to these people; and a rattlesnake, which was safely stowed away in a box with a heavy screen over the top of it, and which had been hurt when it was captured, so that it couldn't do any harm anyway. Those are the shining examples of wildness of the country thus far, unless one counts the Fords that drift around thru the streets here. Some of them deserve a place in the late P. T. Barnum's aggregations.

I tell you, the news of the Oxford debate and of the football game with Bowdoin did me good, especially the latter. I knew that we would beat Oxford, but I had only hoped in the matter of the football game. I had a private celebration of my own when I read that score in the Sioux City Tribune the next day, Sunday. It must have been a fine game. I hope they get whipped again in the debate with them, as I feel sure they will.

Really it is mighty fine bit of country out here. It would be difficult to find more pleasant and more cordial people. So I am getting along very well thus far.

My department had been rather run down in the last few years, but there are indications that it is coming back now, and coming back strong, as I was wont to say in my undergraduate days. As far as classwork is concerned, I'm not at all overworked.

It is rather highly organized system here in the state in the matter of debating. There is a State Forensic League, composed of nine of the colleges of the state, which has the general management of debates between these colleges. It also has charge of the State Oratorical Contest, which is held each year. At the meeting of this Association a few weeks ago the questions for debate this year were chosen. The women are to debate government ownership and operation of the coal mines, and the men cancellation of the Allied War Debt by the United States. You may be assured that I rooted as hard as I could for the adoption of the latter, for obvious reasons. The debates do not come until sometime in March; so I'm not rushing especially about getting started, tho I plan to try

Y. W. C. A.

Miss Euturpe Boukis led the last Y. W. C. A. meeting which was in charge of the World Fellowship Committee. The meeting was in the interest of the Bates in China Drive. Miss Gladys Hasty represented a Chinese girl and told her own story.

Evangeline Tubbs rendered piano solos.

SENIORITY

Seniority met in Raud Reception Room last Thursday evening and enjoyed the following program:

Paper on Sara Orne Jewett—Allison Laing.

Cello Solo Ruth Leader.

Paper on Alice Brown Esther Baker.

Vocal Solo E. Marjorie Pillsbury.

Paper on Mary E. Wilkins Leona Sloan.

The society approved the appointment of Vivienne Rogers, Dorothy Wiggin, and Alice Crossland to act as a nominating committee for the year, and voted to consider nominations for the five junior members at the next meeting.

SPOFFORD

Spofford Club met at Libbey Forum Tuesday evening. After the initiation of the two new members, Grace Goddard and Dudley Snowman, the regular program took place. Lloyd Hathaway read a short story, featuring murder and love. Alice Jesseman read a very clever humorous short story, ingeniously called Chiropractors vs. Undertakers.

The Club decided upon April 20th as the date for the annual Spofford Night.

UNUSUAL MEETING AT "Y" NEXT WEEK

The speaker at the Y. M. C. A. meeting for November 22d will be Mr. Austin H. MacCormick, at the present time Alumni Secretary of Bowdoin College. He is rather well known in this vicinity for his knowledge of the prison situation, having investigated actual conditions together with Thomas Mott Osborne. For six months, in fact, Mr. MacCormick studied conditions in-cognito as an inmate of a Federal prison. He has lectured in these two cities several times on the prison question.

During the past summer vacation, Mr. MacCormick spent considerable time in a first hand study of social and economic conditions in European countries. He has consented to come to Bates and present the impressions he gained of Europe and her needs and our relationship to those needs.

to get my teams picked before Christmas. Just at present I have a couple of local oratorical contests on my hands here, and I want to get them somewhat further out of the way before I start anything new.

I find that my position here makes me, ex officio, as it were, a member of Pi Kappa Delta, which has a forensic carnival, so to speak, along in the spring sometime. I've been put on the provincial executive committee of that organization; so that means a few extra duties.

My summer at the University of Chicago was very pleasant; I'm looking forward even now to going back next summer. It is interesting to note that a Bachelor's degree from Bates is equal to one from the University of Chicago. That is a matter of comment to many people, for it evidently is not true of many small colleges. I think we ought to be very proud of the fact.

Incidentally, you will note that my department is Public Speaking and not English, as I understand it was labelled in the Student some time ago. I hear from several members of the never-to-be-equalled class of '22, and thru them have been able to keep track of several others; so I don't feel at all alone in my experiences.

I suppose that it is only fair to say something about Yankton, as I have, for I surely do talk about Bates out here, but without injuring, I'm sure, this new loyalty which I have for Yankton, which is a very fine college, as near the Bates type as one could hope to find.

Please excuse the poor typing, for my machine stutters somewhat and I am not an expert, any way.

Sincerely,
"Bill" Ashton

LITERARY

Scott Fitzgerald's new book of short stories "Tales of The Jazz Age" is an improvement over his first. It is said that this book is "the Fitzgerald harlequinade with a minimum of magazine hokum."

His material, however suffers from the lack of being sufficiently focused, yet The Diamond as Big as The Ritz is a sustained fantasy reminding one of the work of Frank Stockton. His nonsense is spontaneous, which is well illustrated in Mr. Icky. The story called The Lees of Happiness is a most delightful burlesque full of ingenious satire.

One is astonished on finishing some of the stories to discover that they are intended to be serious. You never can tell what Fitzgerald is going to do next—he always has some surprise. It has been said that Tales of the Jazz Age are "something like the Greenwich Village Follies with overtones of unearthly music."

CAMPUS NOTES

We are wondering what the loud applause from the Freshman side of the Chapel signified the other morning when "Prexy" announced his inability to meet his "Adjustment Classes" this week. Verily, we wonder!

Richard Stanley was listened to very attentively the other morning in Chapel as he praised the work of our football men this fall. "Oliver Cutts was the best tackle in the world until Bill Guiney came along and took the ball away from him," said he and the very walls shook with the applause that greeted the statement. Bill surely does hold a firm place in the hearts of every Bates man and woman—and it is a place that is well deserved.

Edward Wesley Raye '24 spent the week end at his home in Lynn, Massachusetts. He reports as having a very fine time and comes back to the campus well fed up with home cooking.

Paul O. Libby successfully "bummed" his way down and back to the game at Providence last Saturday. It was well worth getting to.

"KEEP THE JORDANS IN CHINA"

"Keep the Jordans in China" is the slogan of the Bates-in-China Committee composed of representatives of the four classes in cooperation with the Christian Associations. The committee is composed of:

C. Walter Johnson, Chairman.
A. C. Desceatenu.
Ester Andersen.
Herman Faust.
Mrs. Arthur Burns.
Karl Steady.
Miss Stanley.
R. B. Chapman.
Miss Margaret Lombard.

STRINGED ORCHESTRA ORGANIZED BY CO-EDS

A stringed orchestra has been organized on the girls' side of the campus, with Elizabeth Powers as manager and Ruth Leader as the leader.

This orchestra consists of five violins eight mandolins, two cellos, and two ukuleles. There are prospective plans to play at Women's Clubs of this city as well as at campus affairs. Dates are also to be arranged for concerts.

FRESHMAN GIRLS MAKE MERRY, ARMISTICE DAY

The reception room of Milliken House was the scene of a delightful gathering Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Kimball acted as hostess at a party given in honor of the Freshmen girls who remained on the Campus over Armistice Day. About thirty young ladies were present. Games of all sorts were enjoyed and refreshments were served. Everyone voted a royal good time and declared Mrs. Kimball a charming hostess.

BATES SCORES TWICE ON BROWN (Continued from Page One)

was admired by everyone on the field, time after time the Brown cheering section rising and cheering their plucky stand.

The game opened with Sweet kicking off to Davis, who returned it 15 yds. to the 25 yard line. Bates found the Brown line impregnable so Dave punted 40 yards to midfield. Brown immediately started rushing and advanced the ball to the Bates 2 yard line, but lost it on a fumble. Dave punted again to midfield. Brown then by straight rushing and a forward pass good for 14 yards finally put the ball over for a touchdown from which they kicked the goal.

Bates received again, but were held for downs at mid-field from where the Bear worked slowly down the field for her second touchdown. Although she managed to keep the ball, Brown barely made her distance each time. Bates received again; Brown recovered on a fumble at mid-field which was rushed to the 22 yard line from here she put over her third touchdown, the first half ending soon afterward with the score 21-0 in favor of Brown.

Bates scored right after the second half began. With the ball on her own 20 yard line, Bates got down to business—"Woodie" made 6 yards—"Kempie" tossed a pass to Guy Rowe and although tackled in mid-field, Guy regained his feet and legged it for the Brown goal line; Sayward, the fleet Brown back just managed to catch him as he reached the 15 yard line it was a beautiful play good for 79 yards the longest play of the day. "Dave" made 6 yards through the line, then "Kempie" tossed a forward to Dave and he crossed the goal line unmolested. The try for goal failed.

"Kempie" who had been running back the Brown punts all afternoon for an average of 15 to 20 yards, grabbed one in this period and ran through the Brown team without any interference for 40 yds. to the Brown 20 yard line. Rutzsky and Kenney made the necessary yardage for a first down, then Kempton threw another pass to Davis for a second touchdown. Again the try for goal was blocked.

At this point a fresh Brown eleven was rushed onto the field and they succeeded in piercing the Bates line for another touchdown, Bates yielding foot by foot after desperate resistance. The try for goal failed and the score stood 27-12, the whistle sounded soon afterwards for the end of the game.

Bates deserves all the credit in the world for holding the Brown team, for in Gullian, she has perhaps the best tackle in the country and other men of nearly All-American calibre. Brown played a good hard clean game, Gullian, Sweet, McDermott and Paasche starring.

GRAVES HEADS 1923 STUDENT (Continued from Page One)

for he is Ass't Manager of Baseball. In these various ways, the new Editor-in-Chief is ably qualified to represent the student body through the medium of the college press.

Mr. Wallace Fairbanks is a local student with considerable experience already in the business management of the Bates paper, having acted as an Assistant Business Manager for the past year. His standing with the rest of Bates undergraduates is demonstrated by his election to the Student Council. Mr. Fairbanks is a member of the Varsity Tennis Team as well.

Mr. Paul Libby, Managing Editor, is well known by all Bates people. He is a member of Phil-Hellenic, having charge of the program committee for that organization. He is also Leader of the College Choir.

The entire list of the new staff is as follows:

Elmer Frazee, '26, Charles Boothby, '26.

Business Department: Business Manager: Wallace Fairbanks, '24, Advertising Manager: Stanton Ross, '24, Circulation Manager: Richard Waddell, '24.

Assistants: Hamilton Bailey, '25, George Jackson, '25, Carleton Walker, '25, Alton Ramey, '25.

PHIL-HELLENES HOLD INITIATION

The annual initiation meeting of the Phil-Hellenic Club was held last Tuesday night at Chase Hall. To the stiffest initiatory rites recorded from the past, the processes which these embryonic Phil-Hellenes underwent, might be favorably compared. Slowly but surely the candidates advanced more or less progressively toward the desired goal of membership, and before 8:15 P. M. the entire group of thirteen had passed from a state of hopeful anticipation to one of realization. The committee in charge of the meeting with Mr. Richard, L. Waddell as chairman were Miss Crossland '23, Miss Boukis '25, and Mr. Libby '24.

MIRROR BOARD DOING EXCELLENT WORK

Several Group Pictures Already Taken

The various departments of the 1923 Mirror Board are already making extensive plans for the biggest and best Mirror ever put out by any Senior Class at Bates. Although the copies will not be on sale until June 1, the management has made a very early start. At this early date, the following group pictures have been taken: The Football Squad, Jordan Scientific, The Student Board, The Student Council, and the Mirror Board. Manager Bradford states that all of the individual pictures will be taken by Christmas.

The management is working on a new system to put the Mirror on a firmer working basis. The entire Student body will be given a chance to sign contracts, in the near future, for the 1923 Mirror. All those who desire the Mirror, should sign the contract, for there will positively be no extra copies this year. There will be printed only the amount of Mirrors which have been ordered.

GARNET HARRIERS AT NEW ENGLANDS (Continued from Page One)

may be counted on for a splendid showing, but it is not known that he has fully recovered from his misfortune at the State meet. Dorr and Holt are running consistently and should score for Bates. At this writing the other members of the team have not fully been decided on, but Frank Sanelia is running well on the level course. Ward, Hurley, and S. E. Wilson are making a strong bid for a place.

Picking seven men from this group is no easy problem for Coach Jenkins. He has two choices; first to pick a slow but sure team; second, to pick a speed team of which there might be a chance of some men being unable to finish. It is a risk either way. The former almost sacrifices hope of a win. The latter leaves the risk of three men not finishing which would annul the Bates score.

Despite the opposition which is expected from M. I. T. and Boston College, the Garnet has real hopes of success. Hendrie and Nanford of Tech are both counted on to lead, but it is our hope and even our conviction that the engineers will see a Garnet man's number on the back of a Garnet Jersey when the worst is broken to morrow.

Talk It Over At Home

A Christmas Vacation Suggestion To Seniors

THIS is your last year in college. This is your last Christmas vacation.

Your career after graduation is a question that you will want to talk over with the folks at home. They will be even more interested than you are. Now is the time to do it.

The John Hancock has in its field organization producers who began as life insurance men immediately after graduation and have made a conspicuous success of it.

Why waste time trying out something else which looks "just as good" and then come into the life insurance work to compete with the man who got into the game from the start?

Talk it over at home and remember that you can get information and helpful advice by addressing

MEN'S MUSICAL CLUBS MAKING REAL PROGRESS

R. F. Doane Directing Work
Of These Clubs—Faust
And Fogg, Leaders

The men's musical clubs are showing marked progress in preparation for their many concert tours, for the current year. Several rehearsals have already been held under the direction of Mr. R. F. Doane, who has given whole hearted support to this important campus activity. Mr. Doane is especially fitted for this work inasmuch as he was a member of the famous Harvard Glee Club during his years at college.

The Glee Club has as its leader this year a man of proved musical talent. Mr. Herman Faust '24, who was prominent in Huntington School's musical circles, has been connected with the Bates club for two years, having made the concert tours during this time. As a leader of this club he has put forth much effort to gain the cooperation of the men of the college in this work.

He is especially anxious at this time to have the continued support of all men who have any degree of musical ability. While competition so far this fall has been good it has not been what is possible in a college of this size. Places are still open for candidates, who desire to make the coming trips. Those wishing to join the club should report at the rehearsals on Monday and Wednesday evenings at 7.30.

The Mandolin Club is under the leadership of John Fogg '23. Mr. Fogg has been active in the musical activities of the college since entering Bates and his enthusiasm in this work has brought good results. Rehearsals are held in Chase Hall 7 P. M. Tuesday and 4:30 on Thursdays.

The management of the concert tours is under the direction of Mr. Capen Pensley '23. Tentative arrangements have been made for trips to towns in the northern part of the state as well as trips to Boston and vicinity, Hartford, and New York.

Among those men who have thus far taken an active interest in the work of the two clubs are: Bacon '26, Monaghan '26, Duncan '24, Gates '24, Proctor '25, Reis '24, Steady '25, James '26, Perham '26, Nute '26, Linton '25, Wills '25, Luce '26, Henry '25, Baker '25, Gougins '25, Walker '26, Reed '25, Batten '24, Meiklejohn '25, Miller '25, Everett '25, Sager '26, Fletcher '25, Ankettell '26, Bragg '24, Burrill '25, Noyes '23, Bradford '23, Freelove '25, Reade '23, Landers '25, Gray '26, Gilman '25, Palmer '23, Rice '24, Gallup '25, Jordan '26, Chandler '26, Wilcox '26.

NOTED TENOR COM- ING TO LEWISTON

John Barnes Wells To Sing
In City Hall November 28

All lovers of music in the vicinity of Lewiston and Auburn are looking forward with the greatest of interest to the visit of John Barnes Wells, noted tenor, who will sing in Lewiston City Hall Tuesday evening, November 28. Bates is especially interested in his appearance as the proceeds from the entertainment are destined to reach the coffers of the Million Dollar Fund.

Mr. Wells was in Lewiston some eight years ago and all who heard him at that time are going to hear him again and strongly advise their friends to hear him also. This tenor's "phrasing and interpretation are faultless; his enunciation remarkably clear; and every word falls upon the ear with sparkling beauty," so runs the praises of a local paper.

The members of the Rotary Club are to act as patrons of the evening's entertainment and will occupy a block of seats in company with their ladies. The affair is being pushed enthusiastically and it is the ambition of its sponsors to make it a Thousand Dollar Night for Bates.

PROF. CARROLL AND THOMAS MEET IN DEBATE

Will Clash On Question Of Socialism In Hathorn This Evening

Bates students attention! Another big debate to be held at Bates College. Our Economic's Professor is to clash on the rostrum with Mr. Norman Thomas tonight, in Hathorn Hall, at 7:30.

The debate is held under the auspices of the Politics Club. The subject for discussion will be: Resolved, That the industrial waste can be eliminated and the social welfare be advanced better under Socialism than Capitalism. Professor Carroll will uphold the negative side of the subject. The main speeches will be about thirty minutes long and the rebuttals, fifteen.

PROF. J. MURRAY CARROLL.

Mr. Thomas is Director of the League for Industrial Democracy and contributing editor of the "Nation." He is a graduate of Princeton and Union Theological Seminary, and participated in intercollegiate debating while at Princeton. He is a Phi Beta Kappa man and was valedictorian of his class.

Professor Carroll is a member of the faculty committee on debating and was formerly Instructor in argumentation at Bates. Professor Carroll has already debated on the negative side of a topic similar to that which will be debated Friday night.

The merits of the two speakers insure a corking good debate of the first order and every student should avail himself of the opportunity to get posted on the Socialistic question. Let Professor Carroll see that Bates students are behind him by packing Hathorn Hall to capacity at 7:30 to-night.

PRESIDENT GRAY ANSWERS EDISON

Challenges Statement That College Men Are Opposed To Work

President Gray answered Mr. Edison's thrust at college men, most sympathetically, the other morning in Chapel by reading to the student body and faculty a letter, which he had written to the great inventor. The applause that followed the President's letter was long and loud.

Mr. Edison's remarks which called forth Dr. Gray's broadside were as follows: "The college graduate doesn't want a job with work in it. When he does get a position he expects to be appointed foreman at the end of six weeks. Most men working for me never attended college. The college men I have usually show lack of imagination. They scarcely have any suggestions to make in their daily routine which might lead to improvement in their various

GARNET GIVES WEST POINTERS STIFF TUSSLE

But Loses By 39—0 Score—Plays Subs To standstill in First Period

In the final game of the season Bates was defeated by the strong West Point team at West Point 39-0. In the first period Bates played the Army team to a standstill but at the outset of the second quarter, a resh Army team appeared and scored two touchdowns before the half was ended. In the second half, the heavy Army team got going and succeeded in scoring four times. Bates forward passing game met with a reverse as the army have been coached all year to stop this style of game in order to stop Notre Dame, the best passing team in the country. Breidster, and Ives excelled for the Army while Woodman, Guiney, Davis and Ratsky went good for Bates.

DEBATING COUNCIL ADOPTS POLICY OF OPEN DISCUSSION

At the regular meeting of the Bates Debating Council held Wednesday evening of this week at Libbey Forum, with President Robinson in the chair, a new policy of procedure in the affairs of the Council was adopted. From now on regular meetings of the Council will be held fortnightly with a discussion of some current problem following the transaction of the business matters. This is, of course, introducing the open forum idea and seems, from the splendid discussion Wednesday evening, to promise much for the future.

The particular subject thus discussed at this meeting was "The Relation of Education to Labor," the subject being opened by an interesting paper delivered by Herbert Carroll '23. Every member of the Council who was present entered into the lively discussion which followed.

The possibility of a debate with Williams College on December 15th was discussed. As this would be upon the evening before the Yale debate at New Haven and directly on the way, it was voted to empower the secretary and Professor Baird to make necessary arrangements for same if possible.

The Secretary announced the possibility of a Western trip by the Debating team stating that about fifty-five letters had been written to Colleges located in the Western States.

A Novelty

Professor Paul Gervais, "the wizard of a magician" and Hector Decarie, of Montreal, "the strongest man in the world" will appear tomorrow evening, at 8 o'clock, in Hathorn Hall. These two entertainers are to put on their show in behalf of the Million Dollar Fund. Admission, 50c. All out! Come and boost that Million $.

VOLUNTARY STUDY GROUPS UNUSU- ALLY SUCCESSFUL

Average Weekly Attendance Last Year Was 53; This Year, 142

Along with other things which make the fall of 1922 one long to be remembered, the phenomenal success of voluntary study must be recorded. This year under a new plan of leadership the attendance and general interest far exceeded the hopes of Secretary Parin-ton and the committee. While last year the average attendance at the nine classes which met was 53; this year

DR. F. D. TURBS
Leader of Junior and Senior Voluntary Study Groups

the number of classes was increased to thirteen and the average attendance jumped to 142. The total attendance for the year also speaks very favorably for the success of this season with a total of 995 as compared to the 474 attending last year.

All this goes to show that the men took a real interest in the groups and in fact nearly one half of the male

JUNIOR GIRLS HOLD SOCIAL

Brief Program Thoroughly Enjoyed—$35.00 Cleared

The girls of the Junior class were responsible for a very successful affair given at the girls' gymnasium last Thursday evening for the benefit of the Million Dollar Fund. It took the form of a fair and social hour, together with a brief program, arranged and produced by talent from the Junior class.

Several tables furnished amusement and refreshment. The fish-pond, under the management of Miss Terry Ulman was a decided success. Miss Alberta Hutchinson presided over a tempting display of Bates Maid Sweets, and Miss Louise Fitchfield had charge of the fancy work table. The patchwork table, in the charge of Miss Grace Conson, offered prizes to those most expert in sewing on patches.

The program of the evening, consisted of four interesting sketches. Miss Rober-tine Howe, a noted French modiste, displayed a number of fine models in her "Fashion Show" notable among which was Miss Terry Ulman, in a striking outdoor outfit.

"The Human Organ," a recent invention, was ably handled by Miss Dorothy Coburn. The third number was a pantomime, showing Bates' victory over Bowdoin. A brief play, "As You Like It," closed the evening's performance. The orchestra furnished music throughout the evening.

An approximate sum of $35.00 was raised, which is to be devoted to decreasing the deficit in the Junior pledge for the Million Dollar Drive.

SOPHOMORE DECS TO BE HELD AT TWO TO-MORROW

Annual Revel In Oratory Will Take Place In Hathorn Hall

Bates does not need to boast about her professors. She knows their worth. The college world knows their worth. Professor Robinson, head of the Public Speaking Department, ranks ace high in the list of worthy Bates faculty members. His course in Public Speaking is one of the unique features of Bates College. His method of training students to speak in public is still more unique. Each year, under his direction, the Freshmen and Sophomore classes hold special competitive programs. These programs not only bring out the best there is in the student by encouraging his individual effort, but also cultivate a form, and set a standard of speaking that places Bates well to the front in this line of activity.

During the past few weeks, Professor Robinson and his staff of special trainers have been busily engaged in getting the Sophomores into trim for the big event, Sophomore Declamations.

BATES-'N-CHINA DRIVE NEXT WEEK

Adopt That Slogan: "Keep The Jordans In China"

The fame of "little Bates" is recognized not alone thruout the United States, not alone in the halls of Oxford University, but it has spread to the Republic of China. In the city of Siam in the province of Shensi in far away China, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne C. Jordan, Bates 1906, are boosting for Bates.

Since 1917 Bates students have helped support the work of these two alumni by an annual canvass for funds. This year is to be no exception.

A committee of ten, headed by C. Walter Johnson, has formulated its plans. Every student will be asked to pledge his or her share toward the maintenance of Bates-in-China. Two teams of workers from each class will see that no one is overlooked, November 27 and 28 are the days on which the soliciting will be done.

If you have not seen Jordan's picture in Chase Hall (near moving picture booth), take a look at your representative on the other side of the world. Be ready when you are approached next week to do the square thing—contribute generously to back up Mr. and Mrs. Jordan!

Notice!

On account of the Thanksgiving vacation, brief though it is, there will be no issue of the "Student," next week.

The University of Maine repeated its performance of a year ago by annexing the title in the New England Intercollegiate Athletic Association at Franklin Park, Dorchester, Mass., last Saturday. Bates took second place, and was but 4 points behind the Blue, Tech which has beaten some of the big colleges in the East was a poor third. Bowdoin was fourth, and thus showed that the Pine Tree State is the real producer of competent runners.

Bob Hendrie, captain of M. I. T. was the individual winner in 28 min. 47.2-5 sec. Hendrie has not been beaten this year, and his race Saturday was a splendid exhibition of running. The fight for second place was the closest of the day. "Cyk" McGinley and McKeenan of Maine came down the home stretch together, both fairly well spent. It was anybody's race until just at the finish line, the Maine captain nipped "Cyk" by a mere matter of inches as the Bates runner staggered over the line into the arms of Dr. John A. Rockwell. "Cyk" ran a great race, and deserves only the highest praise and commendation. Captain Plaisted of Bowdoin was fourth.

Ward, a freshman who has been running well, did a great job, and finished ninth "Ben" Sargent was the third Garnet man in eleventh place. Holt took thirteenth place, and Frank Dorr was the fifth Bates man to score coming in seventeenth. Both Hurley and Samella finished, but their scores were not needed.

The scores were: Maine 49, Bates 53, Tech 110, Bowdoin 129, Tufts 174, Brown 183, New Hampshire State 184, Wesleyan 202, Williams 226, Massachusetts Agricultural College 235, Vermont 250, Boston University 319.

The summary:

	Min.	Sec.
1—R E Hendrie, Tech	28	47.2-5
2—C A McKeenan, Maine	29	15.1-5
3—F F McGinley, Bates	29	15.2-5

WHY SUPPORT THE JORDANS?

This question may be asked in all honesty. No student, however, should deny his support without first looking carefully into the question.

We suggest a few reasons out of many why Bates men and women ought to "keep the Jordans in China," as the slogan goes.

For one thing, this is a Bates institution. It is something that former student bodies have considered so important that they have oversubscribed it each year. Have we any just reason for refusing to carry on?

This is an all-Bates movement, and not the propaganda of any single organization on the campus. The committee in charge is a fair representation of all the interests in our college life. Each person on this committee is convinced of the importance of what he is sacrificing his time and energy to bring about. Are they mistaken, or have they really something worth our consideration?

More important, Wayne Jordan and his wife, both of them Bates graduates, need our financial support. There is every reason to believe that unless Bates students and faculty continue to share in the expense of maintaining these two Bates people in their field of service, that they may be withdrawn.

Most important of all, Wayne Jordan and Mrs. Jordan need our moral support. Mr. Jordan writes: "your moral backing helps hold us true to the best ideals." These Bates folk are human. We should not be surprised if they were a bit lonely out there in mid-Asia. They think a good deal about the folks back home. What if they learn that those folks have forgotten all about them, or worse than that, have turned their backs upon them? Place yourself in the same situation.

Think it over. Then do the right thing.

THE BATES MIRROR— A COOPERATIVE ENTERPRISE

The Mirror Board for 1923 is faced with a difficult problem. It must make the college annual pay expenses this year, or cease publication. That is the decree!

The Mirror Board is going to publish The Bates Mirror as usual. The Board banks its hopes for a successful year upon a more loyal cooperation from each individual student, from each student organization, and from the college authorities than has ever been called forth before.

Would you students be willing to see The Mirror discontinued for the lack of support? Would your societies and organizations be willing to see The Mirror discontinued because you refused to cooperate fully in printing those pages devoted to your own interests? Would the college authorities be willing to see a project abandoned which advertises the college in a larger and more satisfactory way than has ever been done otherwise.

Cooperation will mean success.

EGOISTS

We are all egoists. We have the same inclinations and impulses toward personal enjoyment and comfort.

In the normal, healthy, and mature personality, this feeling of self is restrained and directed by feeling for the welfare of others, commonly called altruism. Altruism,—this is the mark of the strong. Altruism is not found in the weak. Self-control, self-restraint,—these are not a part of their natures. They are not masters of their selves. Ego is their master. It dominates them just as alcohol dominates those in its toils.

Everyone falls in these two classes: the strong and the weak.

SOCIETIES

RAMSDELL SCIENTIFIC

Ramsdell Scientific Society met in Carnegie Science Hall—Thursday November 16 at 7 P. M. After a short business meeting came the program of the evening. Nellie Bannister '23 read a paper on Darwinism—General discussion closed the meeting.

DEUTSCHER VEIRIN

Deutscher Verein met in Libbey Forum Monday night. The fairy tale furnished a very interesting subject for the evening's program.

History of the Grime's
Fairy Stories

Reading "The Little Tailor"
Norine Whiting
Ruth Leader
Leah Shapiro

After the program the new members were initiated. An hour of games and songs was enjoyed at the end of the evening.

SPOFFORD

At Spofford, Tuesday evening Carl Purinton read an interesting character sketch called "A Study In Egotism."

It centered about a professional glass-cutter, Yello, and his mental processes.

Theodore Barentzen read a "Tale of a Tub" in verse, humorous and original. It may be taken to be an attack upon the current literature of the day. "Impressions of Squirrel Island" was a short descriptive poem. Miss Barentzen then read the "Further Adventures of Emmeline," the young flapper character which she has created.

Dudley Snowman gave an enthusiastic report of Charles Clark Mann, the famous author who lives in Southington, Mr. Snowman's native birth.

JORDAN SCIENTIFIC

The Jordan Scientific Society met Wednesday evening in Carnegie Science Hall. The Club voted to try to arrange for a half day trip to be taken through some of the Lewiston factories at an early date.

Following the short business meeting, Arthur Pollister presented a very interesting paper on "Cancer." He discussed the cause, seriousness, and cure of this much dreaded disease.

President Roberts then gave with the aid of charts a helpful discussion of "Photosynthesis."

LE CERCLE FRANCAISE

Last evening "Le Cercle Francaise" held its regular meeting in the society room of Libbey Forum. Miss Jeanne Bachelin presided. The special speaker for the evening was Mr. Louis Roberts of Lewiston French Academy. After Mr. Roberts' address, Miss Ruth Flanders played a violin solo, accompanied by Miss Wilma Carl. Mr. Meiklejohn sang Madolia in french accompanied by Mr. Doane. The meeting closed with the customary singing of "La Marseillaise."

CAMPUS NOTES

Sunday was a remarkably warm day for the nineteenth of November. It was quite noticeable that most of our Bates "co-educators" took full advantage of the balmy air and enjoyed the day to the limit. It is safe to say that there won't be many more days such as that before the snow flies.

Kenneth Lindsay, the Oxford debater, attended the dance at Chase Hall the other evening and enjoyed the company of several of our popular co-eds.

Dick and Arthur Pollister spent a pleasant week end out at their camp on Sabbath Day Lake. With them were Howard Lary and John Weeks.

A very interesting article on "College Towns and Cities," written by Walter Gavigan, '24, appeared in the magazine section of the Lewiston Journal last Saturday. It will repay you to look it up and read it if you have not already done so. Mr. Gavigan, who has recently been elected Literary Editor of the Bates Student, has written many fine articles on college towns which have been published in various magazines and papers.

Terry Ullman played the part of a heroine the other day when a Norwegian lass landed in town and got lost. One of the ladies of the Travelers' Aid Society came to the aid of the girl and called up the college in search of an interpreter who could give some idea as to what the Norwegian young lady had to say. Terry, who was born in Finland, was just the one to do this and thanks to her the affair was straightened out O. K.

Bates isn't the only Maine college in search of funds for a gymnasium. A front page article the other night in the Journal informs us that the U. of M. is after a cool half million for a new gym. Which institution gets the building first? May Bates win!

But if Bates is going to win the same pep and enthusiasm that marked the campaign for pledges to the Million Dollar Fund last spring must be kept up to the limit and everyone pull together. This is no time for rocking the boat. Only through the active cooperation of every last man and woman on the campus can the drive be a success. Can't you see that new gymnasium? Of course you can. Watch the fund grow.

NEW MUSICAL ORGANIZATION FORMED

Men at Bates College who have had experience in instrumental music, but have not qualified for the Mandolin Club because of the nature of their instruments, now have an opportunity to exercise their abilities in a new organization. For sometime it has been felt that the instrumental players should have a club which would include instruments of all sorts and form an ensemble impossible in the Mandolin Club because of the limited type of instrument eligible to it.

This new organization is affiliated with the Men's Glee and Mandolin Clubs and for the reason that it contains no women is obviously not the college orchestra. Being thus affiliated it will have the opportunity to take trips with the other two clubs. Its concert field will be more general than that of the other two and it will undoubtedly be called upon to perform more often than they.

Mr. Meiklejohn '26 has been appointed temporary leader of the orchestra and will continue in that capacity until its organization is complete. Then the election of the permanent leader by the members themselves will take place. If at the start hearty cooperation is given Mr. Meiklejohn and attendance at the rehearsals is faithful, the undertaking will be a success. This is not an assumption, for there is much talent sailing about in many directions which should be moving as a fleet. The number of good violinists is especially notable, but there is no dearth of other players. No man should feel his instrument too far to have a place in the new organization. Let everybody who can play come out to the rehearsal in the music room of Chase Hall, Tuesday, November 28th at 7:30 P. M.

PUBLISHING ASSOCIATION ELECTS OFFICERS

At a recent election, the following officers of the Bates Publishing Association were chosen for the coming year:
President, Arthur W. Pollister, '24.
Vice-President, Janice Hoyt, '24.
Secretary, Phyllis Sawyer, '24.
Treasurer, Prof. R. R. X. Gould.
Faculty Members Advisory Board Prof. A. C. Baird, Mrs. Blanche Roberts.

AFTER THE MOVIES

(One-half act tragedy in life of most any co-ed.)

He looks around
She looks around
They both turn hastily away.
He turns around, undecided,
She glances around, furtively,
He stops—
She starts away, slowly—
He follows almost to the door;
She smiles encouragingly—
He looks fussed
Starts to retreat in panic
She comes to rescue
Her near-wrecked hopes—
"Yes, lovely night—
Did you have something on your mind?"
Heart-throbs, Youthful bosoms
Swell in ecstasy.
He glances soulfully
"Now, wish I did—
Some damfool snatched my hat!"

"Y. W." Bazaar Coming Dec. 9

The date of the Y. M. C. A. Bazaar has been changed to December 9 instead of December 8 as previously announced. On that date Chase Hall is to be transformed into a Flower Garden. All loyal Bates Co-eds are busy fashioning flowers in every leisure moment.

Two very interesting booths have been added to the list printed in last week's Student. Alberta Hutchinson has charge of Town Girls' Table where miscellaneous novelties may be purchased. All sorts of good things to eat will be on sale at the Faculty Table. This is under the management of Mrs. Karl Woodcock.

The Men's Table is a new feature that should appeal to everyone especially when Christmas is so near.

Sandwiches and hot drinks will be on sale during the entire afternoon. An oyster stew supper will be served from five o'clock until seven.

And don't forget to stay to the entertainment in the evening.

Why Young Men Should Consider Insurance Selling

Seven Reasons for Life Insurance Career

LIFE INSURANCE is founded on the highest ideals.

It is capable of yielding a good income and the satisfaction of accomplishment.

It offers opportunities for real leadership.

It brings insurance salesmen in close association with big business and big business men.

It requires education in business methods, law and finance.

It is a field for workers, not shirkers.

It is an alluring and practical calling for men of dynamic energy.

PRESIDENT GRAY ANSWERS EDISON

departments. The main objection I have to the college graduate is that he objects to work especially if it is dirty. College is a good place for a man who wants to work but, unfortunately, there are very few of this type nowadays. Yes, if a man wants to succeed it is not necessary for him to go to college. He will broaden himself without it. We have enough lawyers, doctors and literary men. Also we have many $100,000 jobs with no one capable of filling them. The main quality for success in my estimation, is ambition with a will to work."

President Gray's answer was as follows:

November 18, 1922

Mr. Thomas A. Edison,
Orange, N. J.
My dear Mr. Edison:
Recent dispatches in the public press quote you as making a new set of observations on the general ineffectiveness of college men in industry. With one of your statements I am in the heartiest accord, namely, that the main qualification for success is ambition, with a will to work. This explains, better than anything else, the conquests of super-men, like yourself, in the realm of nature. There is no wizardry about it, as you would be first to admit. With a college education or without, the will to work is the shortest road to substantial achievement.

On the other hand, I must differ sharply with your statement that the college man objects to work, especially if it is dirty. It is probably true that some of the sons of $20,000-a-year men do not take to rough work. They burn midnight gas; their fathers burned midnight oil.

Don't blame the colleges if the sons are averse to taking a course in the University of Hard Knocks from which their dads were graduated summa cum laude. The dads are more to blame.

You, Mr. Edison, are yourself partly to blame in that you have ushered us into an electrical age so rapidly that we have not had time to make the necessary moral readjustments to a method of living in which our initiative is largely reduced to pushing buttons—and you do the rest.

The most obvious difficulty with your position as reported in the press is that you have fallen into the age-old error of taking the part for the whole. Flossie-boys (pardon this out-of-date slang) and Arrow-collar youths are but one type of young men seeking a college education. There are literally scores of colleges where this type is almost unknown. More than half of the boys here are earning part or all of their way thru college, and, except for possibly their number, Bates is no exception. These fellows are not afraid to look dirt in the face. A twelve-hour day doesn't phase them. You must have played in hard luck to have employed so many of the other kind. Believe me, Mr. Edison, there are thousands of young men now in college who are practicing the gospel of hard work. If you will only slow up a bit in your marvelous harnessing of the powers of nature, possibly the coming generation will not make the same mistake with their sons that is being made by so many of our contemporaries, who have been unprepared to cope with the moral perils to individual initiative involved in an age of electricity suddenly imposed upon a civilization steam-heated to the point of enervation.

Give us time to catch up with you! With the highest appreciation of your Aladdin-like contribution to the material comfort and prosperity of the twentieth century, believe me to be,

Sincerely yours,

Clifton D. Gray

President Bates College

From the Laboratory

Thomas A. Edison,

Orange, N. J.

November 22, 1922

Dr. Clifton D. Gray,
President Bates College,
Lewiston, Maine.

Dear Dr. Gray:

I have received your letter of November 18th, which I have read with much interest, and appreciate your frank expression of opinion.

What I stated to the interviewer was

VOLUNTARY STUDY GROUPS UNUSU- ALLY SUCCESSFUL

student body was in attendance at these meetings, a total average per week of 142.

This year an entirely new plan of leadership was tried. In place of student leaders, the groups met under several members of the Faculty. Dr. Tubbs met with the men of the two upper classes in the German room of Hathorn Hall. His class was a forum for the discussion of a student's religious problems and under his efficient leadership the group became a real influence for the solution of every-day difficulties. The men of the Sophomore class met at the three dormitories under the guidance of Professors Chase, Lawrence and Sawyer. These gatherings also were the occasion of much clarifying discussion on practical subjects such as: Standards of conduct, prayer, life work, and true manhood. The Freshman were in charge of their Faculty advisers, each adviser meeting his special group of students. The subjects discussed were those dealing with the new environment and aimed to make easier the great and important transition from preparatory school to college. The Freshman was urged to bring his problems to the adviser for aid and sympathy and the meetings were a great factor in the work of adjustment. In connection with the Freshman classes Dr. Exner gave a special lecture during his recent visit to the campus.

The plan of Faculty leadership so successful this year will undoubtedly be adopted next year when it is hoped this year's support and interest will be duplicated. It has been demonstrated that there is a vital need for clarifying discussions on the problems of student life and Voluntary Study in filling this need has proven its utility and has more than justified its continuance.

SOPHOMORE DECS AT TWO TOMORROW

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of the sixth the eds and co-eds faced the firing line, brought their batteries into place, and fired their first volley of thundering oratory. Wednesday evening Generalissimo Robinson announced the results of the first assault. Kirby Baker, William Burns, Erwin Canham, Kenneth Connor, Frank E. Dorr, John Everett, Adelbert Googins, S. Potter Gorton, Dana Kenny, Ray Laurence, Douglas MacDonald, Tobias McCullin, Herbert Morrell, John O'Connor, Thomas A. Reed, and George Sheldon were the surviving men. Misses Vardie Brown, Aletha Childs, Dorothy Clarke, Verna Diggle, Alice Eames, Ruth Garner, Gladys Hasty, Gladys Leney, Marion Pierce, Mary Segal, Leah Shapiro, Lois Simpson, Mildred Stanley, Rose Thompson, and Caroline Wells, withstood the attack for the women.

On Monday the 13th, the thirty one picked Sophomore declaimers went over the top under a barrage of fiery and eloquent elocution. When the parting shot had been fired General Robinson and a staff of eager correspondents gathered in the German room and anxiously awaited the report of the Senior Judges. The Judges were Florence A. Harris, Nelly N. Milliken, and Burton Clifford. The group in the ante chamber discussed the merits of the various speakers, and waxed enthusiastic over the outcome of the trials. Professor Robinson stated that he was glad he did not have to do the deciding, as the speaking was all of such excellence that it would have taken him over a month to pick the twelve.

At last the Judges appeared and announced the names of those who had reached the front-line trenches. Co-eds: Misses Ruth Garner of Keezer Falls, Gladys Hasty of South Berwick, Gladys Leney of Lewiston, Lois Simpson of Auburn, Mildred Stanley of Keezer Falls, and Caroline Wells of West Andover, New Hampshire. Eds: Kirby Baker of Springfield, Massachusetts, Erwin Canham of Auburn, Dana Kenny of Portland, Douglas MacDonald of Mechanic Falls, Herbert Morrell of Brooklyn, New York, and John O'Connor of Boston, Massachusetts.

The Prize Division will fly to the heights of oratory and drop its bombs of declamatory effort on Saturday, November 27th, in the Little Theater, Hathorn Hall. The twelve chosen ones are all expert tongue twisters and all loyal Sophomores should rally to the colors and be on the scene of action at two sharp.

MACCORMICK OF BOW- DOIN ADDRESSES "Y"

The "Usual Meeting" of the Y. M. C. A., announced in last week's Student, proved to be no less than one in which America's place in world affairs was set forth clearly, convincingly, and concisely, by Mr. Austin H. MacCormick, Alumni Secretary of Bowdoin College.

Mr. MacCormick based his convictions upon actual facts and conditions as he observed them personally while in Europe, and as he knows them to be in America at the present time. With a background of appalling world pictures, depicting not only wrecked European nations but also a vastly more important consequence of the war—the destruction of morale—the speaker based the world's claim upon America's active participation in its affairs, upon these issues—first, that it is a necessary factor in the prevention of war; secondly, that it is an economic necessity in world concord; thirdly, that it is a religious as well as an ethical obligation, to the end that world brotherhood might become a reality.

With these shining appeals to common sense, the charge of promoting the cause of permanent, amicable, international relations, through the dissemination of truth regarding America's position of honor, was given to the citizens of America—particularly to the college youth of America.

OXFORD DEBATER SPEAKS BEFORE POLITICS CLUB

Addresses Student Body
In Chapel—Makes Very Favorable Impression

Mr. Kenneth M. Lindsay, graduate of Worcester College Oxford and member of the Debating Team which came to this country spoke Friday, November 17th before an open meeting of the Politics Club at Hathorn Hall. His subject was the "Worker's Education Bureau." Mr. Robert Wade—"23," president of the club, presided.

Those who attended the meeting were pleasantly surprised when Mr. Lindsay sat upon the edge of the platform and crossed his legs.

In speaking of the Worker's Educational movement, he told of its start at Oxford and its spread to other foreign colleges and universities. He spoke of the progress of the movement in this country at Amherst and Syracuse, "where", he said, "professors are going into the nearby mills and conducting splendid classes among the laboring groups." He explained that Worker's Education was not to teach the laboring classes trades but to give them an insight into government, a knowledge of economics, and to awaken in them a desire for ideals in living. "The war," he said, "has brought to head a vast movement all over the world and this movement is the labor movement. It has a platform upon which the South Wales miner, the Scottish shipwright and Mr. H. G. Wells may all stand without conflict."

Mr. Lindsay was careful to make no statement criticizing America. As he put it, very wittily, "Although I have been in America much over three weeks (which, I believe is the usual time for a foreigner to write a book on this country) I have not yet written my impressions and I do not believe I shall."

The latter part of the meeting was spent asking questions of the speaker by his own request. Many interesting phases of the Worker's Education movement were brought up and discussed by Mr. Lindsay and the audience as a whole.

It is interesting to note that Mr. Lindsay is not only an example of Oxford culture and education but also of Oxford athletic training. His delayed return from Sweden where he played football representing a champion team from Oxford being one of the reasons he was not able to get to Lewiston in time for the debate last September.

More and more European students or their representatives are coming to Bates and leaving a message. Such a thing is very much to be desired.

Mr. Lindsay also spoke briefly at Chapel on Saturday, November 18th. He said that Oxford owed its good fortune of being represented in America more to Bates than to any other college in America.

He expressed a desire for better understanding between the two great English speaking democracies, America and Great Britain. He said, "I discovered that the chief common ground between England and America lies in their appalling ignorance of each other."

At the close of his talk, Mr. Lindsay was greeted with prolonged applause. From Bates he will go to Bowdoin and other colleges of America where he will study American methods.

Cutts On All-Time All-American Football Team

The following is the selection of Grantland Rice, in the Boston Globe, of an all-time all-American football team. It is a high, but well deserved honor for our present football mentor and physical director.

"Here is our idea of bliss, unbroken peace, ease of mind and certainty of triumph—forecalling results for this machine: Center, Schultz, of Michigan; guards, Hare of Penn. and Hoffelinger, of Yale; tackles, Church, of Princeton, and Cutts, of Harvard; ends, Shevlin, of Yale, and Hardwick, of Harvard; quarterback, Ekersall, of Chicago; backs, Heston, Michigan; Mahan, Harvard; Coy, Yale."

HOCKEY MEN READY FOR RECORD YEAR

Successful Season In Ice Sport Looked Forward To By Coach Wiggin

A hockey meeting was held in Chase Hall Tuesday evening to ascertain who were to be candidates for the team. Coach Wiggin outlined what would be expected of the squad until there was plenty of ice. "Wig" will meet any men in the gymnasium at 1:30 or 3:30 o'clock for practice in shooting. It will also give the goal tenders a chance to get their eye on the puck. Saturday at 2:00 o'clock, all hockey candidates are expected to report at the gym.

The keynote of Coach Wiggin's talk was training. He stated that it is just as much the duty of a hockey man to train as it is for a football or basketball man. He mentioned the great possibilities of a successful hockey team being an advertising medium for Bates. With a probability of a game at the Boston Arena this season, "Wig" mentioned that a good showing might mean the chance to enter the Boston Hockey League. As Boston is a "hockey-mad" city, a team to represent Bates there would lead great publicity. With this end in view he stated that it was the duty of every man to observe strict training rules.

Four letter men are available to the team this year. Captain "Eddie" Roberts, who has been on the team since his freshman year, will make a capable leader. He is an excellent skater, handles the stick well, and packs a mean shot from anywhere beyond center ice. "Joe" Cogan, the "diminutive center" is a combination of ability and aggressiveness. "Dick" Stanley, who played rover in his freshman year, proved that he could take good care of the right wing position last year despite the fact that he shoots from his left. Batten the other letter man shared with Partridge in guarding the cage a year ago.

There are other veterans from last year's squad who did not make their letter. Jackson, a fast skater who handles his stick from starboard, is back to work with a will. O'Connor, who suited both in the forward and defense last year, is out for any available position this year. Dimick, a defense man, will also make a bid for the team. Arthur Scott is a worthy man in the defense, though he was unable to participate in any of the games last year.

Corey, "Junie" Stanley of last year's Independents, and Chisolm are candidates for the forward line. Polson, Dalton, Huntington, and Safford will make a bid for the defense, while "Doc" Moulton and Leonard are promising net men.

There will be one more hockey meeting before the holidays. Coach Wiggin laid particular stress on the necessity of the men to skate as much as possible during the Christmas recess.

NOTICE!

With the need of co-operation in the building of an ice hockey rink and keeping it in condition, it might be well to quote Section 2 of Article I of the By-Laws of the Bates College Student Assembly.

"The men of the Freshman Class are expected to unite with the men of the other classes in assisting the managers of the different college interests—athletic, musical and debating—providing that such assistance does not interfere with recitation or remunerative employment."

Show some spirit! Give Manager Noyes some help.

JUNIOR PLAYS GREAT SUCCESS

Entertainment Presented
In Little Theatre

The Junior Class presented The English 4A Players in a group of one net plays at Hathorn Hall last Saturday night. The proceeds were given to the Million Dollar Fund. The Little Theatre was literally packed. Those who were fortunate enough to gain entrance were much pleased with the splendid work of these players.

The plays presented were: "The Shadow of The Glen," an Irish Folk-play by John Millington Synge; "The Game," a morality play by Louise Bryant of the Provincetown players; and "The Florist Shop," a delightful comedy by Winifred Hawkbridge.

"The Shadow of The Glen," was very ably presented by the following cast:

Nora Burke	Emorie Burns
Dan Burke	S. Matthews Graves
Michael Dara	D. Prescott Duncan
The Trump	Walter V. Gavigan
Miss Emorie Burns played the part of Nora Burke with a fine appreciation for the details of the character. The Trump as portrayed by Walter V. Gavigan revealed Mr. Gavigan's innate ability to interpret character. A fine and realistic portrayal of Dan Burke was given by Mr. S. Matthews Graves. G. Prescott Duncan appeared well in the role of Michael Dara.

BATES DEBATERS READY FOR YALE

Several Garnet Rooters in New Haven to hear the debate

A week from tomorrow night the Bates debating team for the first time in the history of the college invades New Haven, the home of the Yale University, and meets that great institution's forensic artists.

For some time now the Garnet's representatives have been preparing for the combat. Down in New Haven way the Yale men are getting in readiness to make a mighty effort to retrieve in part the two overwhelming defeats they have suffered at the hands of the Maine stagers.

Young, Canham, and Morrell, the Bates standard bearers are confidently looking forward to the debate. They will have a goodly sized Bates crowd on hand to hear them as the engagement comes just as the New Haven Bates men are going home. Besides these will be a large gathering of loyal Bates grads now living in New Haven or the immediate vicinity. Professor Robinson has also made plans to take in the debate on his way to New York where he will spend the holidays with friends. Miss Elizabeth Chase, the president's secretary, will also be there.

Here's to our debating team and may it chalk up its third consecutive victory over the Bull Dog of old Eli.

PHYSICAL DEPT PLANS ACTIVE WINTER SEASON

Indoor and Outdoor Sports
Open To all Men of Each Class

"More men for the field events" is the plan of the athletic coaches. "Bates can't win a State track meet until she's well represented in the weights and jumps." Is Bates going to win the State track meet in 1923. That's the question put up to you by the coaches, Jenkins and Cutts. The weight events should be of special interest to the football men. The weight events in other colleges are always well represented by the men of the football squad. The same thing is possible at Bates. Physical Training for the upper classes begins this week, and participation in any form of track is received as credit in Physical Training.

Another way to receive credit in "P. T." is open for those who make the class basketball team. A squad of ten men will be picked from each class before Christmas. Mr. Woodward will be in charge of those who wish to engage in Winter Sports in preference to "Gym" work. There will be a wide range of events for those wishing to participate in snowshoeing and skiing. Coach Wiggin will be in charge of the ice hockey teams and will also assist in the "gym" classes.

With such a range of choice in Physical Training work, there is every reason to believe that it will be well attended this year. Each man will be engaged in the sport which he enjoys most.

Y. W. HOLDS BAZAAR IN CHASE HALL TOMORROW

The much-anticipated Y. W. C. A. Bazaar is to be held in Chase Hall tomorrow. The many weeks of preparation will surely have their reward. At though we want and expect the town people to attend, the Bazaar is, above all, a college function. Of course, every Bates man and woman will be there.

With Christmas so near at hand everyone has a great deal of shopping to do. At the Bazaar you can buy gifts for Mother and Dad and the other folks at home. These gifts are largely hand-made and superior to those on sale in the stores.

Then there are other attractions that are intended for the immediate enjoyment of the buyer: the grab-bag, flowers, and the cents that are offered in great variety.

Plan to come to the supper. The price is only thirty cents. This will buy oyster stew, crackers, and pickles, rolls, a choice of doughnuts, cake, or cookies, and tea or coffee. Salads and sandwiches will be ready for those who want to pay extra. This menu is an agreeable change from prosaic pork and beans.

Last week we had cause to be very proud of our Junior players. Come to the entertainment and see another real show.

All campus trails lead to the Chase Hall Flower Festival. See you there tomorrow!

BATES—IN—CHINA DRIVE HAS GONE "OVER THE TOP"

Last week the Bates in China movement was started for the purpose of keeping Mr. and Mrs. Jordan, Bates alumni, in China. The students rallied to the appeal and the drive went "over the top." Bates was the first Maine College to maintain a mission in the Far East and the student body and faculty will make sure that Bates is the last college to withdraw that mission. The students and faculty are back of the Jordans.

ST. DOMINQUES DEFEAT GARNET

Have Edge On Bates Men In Pool and Bowling

Bates bowed to the St. Dominiques in the first round of the indoor tournaments to be held between the Garnet and the local association. A. S. D. triumphed on Monday night at the Chase Hall clash to the tune of 12-3-4 to 8-1-4. The tournament comprised events in bowling, billiards, pool, ping pong, and card games. The Garnet showed fine form in the pastboard events but was weak on the spherical engineering. Notwithstanding the loss of the season's opener, the coaches are confident that the team will develop excellent mid-season form for the coming intercollegiate contests.

Paul Gray '26 and R. Simpson '26 wielded mean rackets in the ping pong argument and completely puzzled their opponents by their mastery of the fine points of the game. Paul Gray then defeated his partner 3-1 for final honors. The bowling went to the visitors by a narrow margin of 1347 to 1331. Dorr '25 turned in a high total of 305.

The best contest of the evening was the pool clash between McCallough '26 and Pelletier of A. S. D. The final score being 100 to 99 in favor of the latter. Hurley '24 trimmed Fournier 4 to 1 in rotation Nadeau of the visitors came back at Kenney '25 for a 4 to 2 win. Hinds '26 gave an excellent exhibition in the billiard argument winning by the score of 50 to 27.

Altho pressed hard Bates got away for a win in the card department amassing a total of 5 points to their opponents. 2. Paradis and Gagnon defeated Turbell '24 and Gilpatrick '24 3 to 2. Young '24 shown in the dual cribbage contest while his teammates Count '23 and Burrill '25 defeated their men, Bureau and Soigney 3 to 0. Lary '23 and Burrill '25 triumphed for the Garnet in pinochle exelling Plourde and Renaud of 3 to 1. The final clash went to the visitors, the A. S. D. men defeating Carroll '23 and Pollister '24 50 to 17 in whist.

The summary:	A. S. D.	Bates

12 3-4 8 1-4

The Million Dollar Parade was a success. There is no doubt about it. Every class did its part, and did it well. Of course the girls made the best appearance; that was to be expected.

When Bill Kenelly made his stirring appeal in Chapel on Monday morning, the leaders of the drive sat back in smug satisfaction. They knew the parade would be put across; and it was.

At 11:15 the clank began to gather. At 11:30 the parade started slowly down College street. In the lead was the band, while the students of Lewiston and Auburn, distinguished by their paper bag hats with big dollar signs sprawled over front and back, followed. Next came the seniors, the girls in their caps and gowns, the dignified men with "felt lids" and snappy canes. The junior girls presented a solid line of white, while the girls of '24 looked most athletic in their letter sweaters of garnet and black. Around the head of each pretty Sophomore was tied a ribbon of black with a big white dollar sign emblazoned on the front. The freshmen girls represented the original million dollar babies. They wore blouses, with a big red "million dollar band" across the front, and they wore their hair streaming down their backs. Many thought them the prize of the parade.

Disunited, with his alarm clock and silk beaver made a fitting major-domo, Cyke, in a collegiate derby and with an "old time" pipe in his mouth wheeled "bally Herriek" over stones and trolley tracks. Herriek sucked prodigiously at a real nursing bottle. These two had their party snapped more than any other one feature of the parade. Scattered here and there along the line were Clowns, hula hula, maids, tramps, and other fantastically clad students. Bill Guinev and his Colby cap was well in evidence running up and down along the line and directing the marchers. Each class was headed by a group carrying the class numerals, while the students carried signs of all kinds and descriptions. Some of the most outstanding examples of college wit being, "A new gym means more dumbbells," "Help us to help you!" "Give till it hurts," "Better college, better city," "We support the Beacon, support us."

The parade was just one feature of the Citizens Campaign that is being conducted by loyal Bates graduates in the Twin Cities, and the Citizens Campaign is but a feature of the big drive that is being carried on by the "Million Dollar Men" of the college. Up to date the drive has netted the college $23,694.57. Last June the total was less than $200,000. Most of the increased pledges have been made since the first of November.

The sums pledged are as follows:

Trustees	$30,429
Faculty	$10,224
Undergraduates	$28,252.45
Student projects	$1,442.17
Special Alumni subscriptions	$11,145.70
Former students	$6,072.50
Graduates and friends	$190,074.75

The amount subscribed has averaged over $180.00 per individual, while more than one fourth of the graduates have pledged the full $357.00. The report is encouraging. The student projects stand over a thousand. As members of the student body we have a chance to raise that amount several thousand. How about it? Let's come across and show the alumni and friends of Bates that we have an enterprising student body. The slogan ever before us is "On towards a million."

THE TRAGEDY AT COLBY

The heartfelt sympathy of Bates goes out to Colby and to the families especially touched by the tragic death of four Colby students in the disaster of this week.

In such a time as this, petty jealousies and rivalries disappear and reveal the true bonds of common interests and friendship in their full measure.

We join with Colby in her mourning.

BATES AND THE TWIN CITIES

One of the beneficial by-products of the present local drive is likely to be a closer relationship between college and twin cities.

No doubt the student parade of Monday was sufficient to convince any who did not know that they had a live college population in their midst. Various decorated pasteboard signs informed bystanders of the fact that "Bates is an asset to the community." This same message is being driven home to prospective subscribers to the endowment fund by solicitors this week.

There have been in the past many bonds of interest between the college and the community. For years, college girls have conducted classes at the local Y. W. C. A. Organized effort has been carried on at times among the foreign men of the city. A large number of students answered the invitation issued by Mr. Rindge in several classrooms Monday to indicate their willingness to offer themselves in community work.

We might speak of a large number of college students, as well as college faculty members, who are serving in the local churches and Sunday Schools, in leading boys' and girls' groups, and in other ways.

The tournament held in Chase Hall Monday evening between teams of college men and the local French association is a step in the direction of better understanding.

More of Bates for Lewiston and Auburn, and more of the twin cities for Bates!

EYES OF AFFECTION

A man looks with eyes of affection upon those things which are his own. So should a man look upon his college.

Some men are unable to do this. They see it only from the objective point of view. They judge it with hostile, critical eyes, and find much for censure.

Other men lose themselves in their Alma Mater, so that they are unable to make distinctions between her interests and their own. College regulations may do them an injustice; fellow students may deal with them meanly. Yet these things do not kill their love for Alma Mater. The eyes of affection are blind to such petty details.

Yet the eyes which are blind to imperfections see more truly than those which seek them alone.

ADIEU

With this issue the class of 1923 passes on the torch to the succeeding board.

The staff for the season of 1922 has tried to live up to the tradition of progress handed down so ably from past years. Whatever it may have succeeded in accomplishing has not been done through the efforts of any two or three individuals, but by the united effort of the entire board of editors and business managers.

The outgoing board has absolute confidence in the ability of the incoming to produce a paper which shall be better by far than that of the past year. That is its expectation and its hope!

GEORGE COLBY CHASE—OUR SECOND PRESIDENT

George Colby Chase began his educational career at the age of four, in the little brick schoolhouse, in Unity, Maine. Fourteen years later, he entered the Maine State Seminary, at Lewiston, seeking to satisfy an intense desire for learning. In 1864, seven boys, Chase among them, entered the second Freshman class, at Bates College, an Institution that was an outgrowth of Maine State Seminary. Four years later, he was graduated, then, as ever afterwards, a keen scholar and a Christian gentleman.

After teaching Latin, Greek, and Philosophy for two years, at New Hampton Literary Institution, he began to study for the Christian ministry, at the same time acting as Instructor of Greek, at Bates. That was a crucial year for him. Becoming convinced that he was better fitted by temperament for service in education than in the ministry, he spent the next year in graduate study, at Harvard, in special preparation for the Professorship of the English Language and Literature to which he had been appointed, at Bates.

In 1872, therefore, George Colby Chase—then, twenty-eight years old—became Professor Chase. At that time, Bates College had two buildings, Hathorn Hall and Parker Hall; a Faculty of six men; and about one hundred students. What wonderful men those professors were! Cheney, Stanton, Stanley, Hayes, Angell, Chase! How versatile they were! What prodigies in the realm of hard work! Little by little, Professor Chase became the recognized leader of the Faculty, partly because of the long absences of President Cheney, but chiefly because of his keen insight, unflagging industry, and skillful administrative ability. Whether in solving student problems, or shaping the policies and ideals of the College, or stemming the seemingly inevitable approach of financial ruin, Professor Chase was master of the situation for many years even before his Presidency.

My first relations with Professor Chase were in 1892, when, as a Sophomore, I studied what we students called the "bane of our lives," namely, Bain's English Composition and Rhetoric. It may be true that Bain laid bare the dry-bones of the English language, but Professor Chase made them live. Figures of Speech, Brevity, Tautology, Redundancy, Arrangement of Words, Qualities of Style, Description, Narration, etc., acquired new meaning under his masterful explanations. For the first time in my life, I began to appreciate the real significance of an English sentence and the value of literary discrimination. In subsequent courses, he introduced us to masterpieces of English prose and poetry. Then, too, the eyes of my mind opened as never before. I found undreamed-of pleasures in books ever afterwards.

With the completion of twenty-two years as Professor of English, in 1894, my revered teacher became the President of Bates College. Henceforth he was the Professor of Philosophy. His English mantle had fallen upon the shoulders of Professor Hartshorn, who, though a Professor of Physics and Geology, at that time, was also an ardent devotee of literature, and has ever since then continued to keep the English Department in a peculiarly and worthily exalted position in the minds of all cultured people familiar with Bates.

His Presidency was long and yet short. A quarter of a century is a long stretch of years when we look ahead, but a brief span when we look back. If we count the changes that took place, at Bates, it seems impossible that he was President for twenty-five years only. A growth, steady, rapid, and unprecedented, characterized every phase of the college life. In round numbers, the college buildings increased threefold; the endowment from less than one-third of a million to much more than a million; the library more than fourfold; the Faculty and students nearly threefold; the graduates nearly fourfold. Equally striking was the growth of student cooperation in handling student problems. The local community, the State, and the Nation found a new interest in, and a respect for, the intellectual standards, and ideals of character, democracy, and service as cherished by the College. To President Chase more than to any other man were due these indications of stability and progress.

For twenty-seven years, President Chase was a powerful influence in my life, first as a teacher, later as a colleague, always as counsellor and friend. On May 27, 1919, death separated us for a brief space of years.

We do well to pause reverently before his noble portrait, in Chase Hall, and, while gazing into his strong and spiritual face, to resolve to be true to his ideals in scholarship, service to fellow men, and reverence for God.

THE TALE OF A TUB

Oh, Knight Shirte was a gallant brave,
He'w tilte wyth grente zests;
Of all ye knights of Washe Tubbe
Roude
He was ye goodlieste.

He'd swatte wyth ye goode broad-sword
The deadly eneme,
And till the wringer range ye belle,
Oh, never stoppe would he!

In mid'st of every battle
And tourney, he was there,
He fiercely rode his trusty steed,
Young fiery Nyght-Mare.

And oh, the lovely princess,
She made his heart beats skippe,
She was in sooth his lady faire,
Her name was Princess Slippe.

Thru fire, water, smoke, and steam,
For her he'd hazard all,
He'd ride at top speed poor Nyght-Mare
Where'er he hearde her calle.

One day in awful terror
"Ah, Goode Knight Shirte!" she cried,
"The naughty Chinee's squeezing me,
Come help me 'ere I die!"

Then leapt he to hys Lady's aid,
He drew ye goode broad-sword,
He lunged forth, pierced the Chinee's heart,
And swiped his wash-board!

Then leapt he in the boiling tide,
A foaming mad abyss,
His washboard served ye goodly rafte,
He'd save hys faire princess.

His manly arms entwined her waist,
"Weep not my faery queen!"
Her gentle head drooped on his breast,
Her cheeks were wet with steams.

And thus was daintie Princess Slippe
Saved by ye goode Knight Shirte
"Ah, she is mine, in sooth 'quothe he,
"The Chinee did the work."

And so two hearts that flopped as one
Departed, so tis said,
Upon ye goodly honeymoon,

SPOFFORD

Spofford had an interesting program Tuesday evening. Erwin Canham read a humorous skit called "The Treasure of Coco's Island" or "How we Got the Million for Bates." The style leaned decidedly away from the realistic trend of the day.

Herbert Carroll read a gruesome murder-story, also featuring hypnotism called "When Mesmerism met Mesmerism."

Grace Goddard gave an interesting talk on Frances Warner, the essayist, who lives in Putnam, Connecticut.

DEUTSCHER VEREIN

At the meeting of Deutscher Verein, Monday evening, interesting phases of Germany were discussed.

German Customs Abbie Small
Berlin Helen Baker
Educational System Marcella Harradon
Piano Solo Vivienne Rogers
Poem—Der Snitzel Paul Robinson
The entertainment for the evening included a skit, "The Coquette," acted in pantomime by Alta Harris, Paul Robinson, Albert Dimlich, Paul Wolynece, and Bertha Mayberry.

ALETHEA

The regular meeting of Alethea was held Thursday evening, November 16, in the reception room at Cheney House. Each member present answered the roll-call with an interesting fact about Alaska. A piano solo was given by Emroy Burns and two interesting papers were read—the first by Pearl Hunkins on "Customs of the Alaskan People;" and the second by Elsie Brickett on "Eskimo Music."

Y. W. C. A.

A Forum was held at the last Y. W. C. A. meeting. The discussion of the subject "Work and What Does It Mean to You" was led by Miss Gertrude Lombard. Many of the girls took an active part in the discussion which helped to show that one phase of the classes at Maqua.

CAMPUS NOTES

Those of us who weren't fortunate enough to get home for our Thanksgiving dinner lacked nothing in the way of good things to eat over at the Commons. The tables were literally loaded with the best of eats.

Bill Kennelly, after considerable coaxing from Julia, was finally induced to make an after dinner speech. Bill did himself proud. He led the diners' cheers for "Stevie," Julia, Mrs. Poland, Bill Tierney and the entire kitchen force. The cheers were given with much enthusiasm bespeaking very well indeed the gratitude of all.

We almost forgot,—Warren Gould also took the stand as an after dinner speaker. He evidently believed firmly that "brevity is the soul of wit" for his stand was very short.

It was the unanimous opinion of all that the dinner was a corking success from the tomato soup to the cider. Truly the Commons force outdid itself Thanksgiving Day.

There were a goodly number of Bates people who either were fortunate enough to get cuts excused or else braved the double penalty and went home over the holiday. Classes were smaller than usual Friday and Saturday and quite a number of pews were very thinly populated at the two Chapel services. But home is a good place to be on Thanksgiving Day and who can blame 'em?

The college movies in Chase Hall Thanksgiving eve were very poorly attended. Many, however, that did not get over to the pictures showed up at the dance which followed.

Miss Dorothy Lowe, ex '25 spent the holiday with friends on the campus. Miss Lowe is teaching this year in Dublin, N. H. and plans to return to Bates next fall.

Plans for the Bates College Combined Musical Clubs include a trip thru Maine which will commence the first of January and continue for a week. The Easter recess will be spent on tour in Massachusetts.

Alvin Freelove, '25, and not Meiklejohn '26, is the temporary leader of the new College Orchestra.

JUNIOR PLAYS GREAT SUCCESS

"The Game" was well acted. The persons in the play were:

Life Janice Hoyt
Death S. Matthews Graves
The Girl Louise Bryant
Youth Richard Stanley

S. Matthews Graves played the part of Death so well and with so much life that few recognized him as the same person who had so ably portrayed the character of Dan Burke, an old Irishman in the preceding play. Miss Janice Hoyt as Life and Richard Stanley as youth did well. Miss Louise Bryant gave a very charming interpretation of the Girl.

"The Florist's Shop," a comedy filled with humor, was well presented and very much enjoyed. The players were:

Maudie Dorothy Coburn
Henry Rodolph Kempton
Slovak Paul Wolynece
Miss Wells Laura Warren
Mr. Jackson Elberton J. Tiffany

Miss Coburn was excellent in the part of Maudie. Rodolph Kempton as Henry was exceptionally well fitted to play the part. As Slovakia, the florist Paul Wolynece was good. Miss Wells as played by Miss Laura Warren and Mr. Jackson by Elberton J. Tiffany were admirably done.

Much credit is due to the coaches; Misses Amy Blaisdell, '23, Norine Whiting, '23, and Alice Blouin, '23, who together with Professors Baird and Robinson are responsible for the fine calibre of the plays. Others to whom credit is due are: Harold S. Segal, business and publicity manager; Richard Waddell, advertising; Paul Libby, Tickets; Miss Alice Jesseman, '23, stage director; and Kohe Nagakura, George Turner and Lester Smith who were in charge of properties.

If Bates has in the Junior class alone such a large number of amateurs showing such a marked degree of perfection surely there ought to be some permanent dramatic unit to hold these persons together and cultivate their talent. The plays were an unqualified success. May we have more of them.

She tells me oft that she is blue
Or tickled pink, can both be true?
Or is she neither one?

And then again she says she's green
With envy—have you ever seen
Such a channelon?

IPSE DIXIT and GALILEO

There was much learning but little real knowledge in Galileo's time (1564-1642). Aristotle was swallowed in bad Latin translations. Ipsi dixit. No one checked him by what seemed vulgar, coarse experiment.

Galileo fought against the dead hand of tradition. He did not argue about Aristotle, but put him to the test. Aristotle led his readers to believe that of two bodies the heavier will fall the faster. Galileo simply climbed to the top of the Leaning Tower of Pisa and dropped two unequal weights. The "best people" were horrified; they even refused to believe the result—that the weights reached the ground in equal times.

"Look at the world, and experiment, experiment," cried Galileo.

The biggest man in the 16th century was not Galileo in popular estimation, but Suleiman the Magnificent, the Ottoman Emperor, who swept through Eastern Europe with fire and sword and almost captured Vienna. Where is his magnificence now?

Galileo gave us science—established the paramount right of experimental evidence. Suleiman did little to help the world.

Hardly an experiment is made in modern science, which does not apply Galileo's results. When, for instance, the physicists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company study the motions of electrons in rarified atmospheres, or experiment to heighten the efficiency of generators and motors, they follow Galileo's example and substitute facts for beliefs.

WORLD'S CHAMP VISITS CAMPUS

Famous Magician also here on behalf of Million Dollar Drive

Bates in her sixty years of existence has had many visitors of note on her campus but it is doubtful if ever a world's champion was here until just recently. This visitor was a real world's champion in every sense of the word—he was the champion strong man. Deoric was his name and he exhibited his prowess in The Little Theatre some time ago to the satisfaction of a small but enthusiastic audience.

As a co-actor Paul Gervais performed many interesting feats of magic. This noted French magician had the on-lookers guessing more than once and most of them are still guessing. His handling of the cards was little short of marvellous and the way he plucked money out of the air made us wonder why he had to go on the stage for a living.

The performance was given under the management of Gus Legendre who brought his noted performers to the Bates campus in the interest of the Million Dollar Fund.

CARROLL-THOMAS DEBATE HEARD WITH INTEREST

The Carroll-Thomas debate held under the auspices of the Politics Club was a war of wits and a clash of intellects. Many very interesting and instructive points were brought forth by both speakers.

The question was resolved: "That industrial waste can be eliminated better under socialism than under capitalism. Mr. Thomas, editor of "The World Tomorrow" and Secretary of the Bureau for Industrial Freedom took the affirmative and Professor Carroll defended the negative. Robert Waide '23, president of the Politics Club, presided. The decision was left to the audience individually.

EX-BATES STARS ARE MAKING GOOD AT ST. LAWRENCE

Three Bates men, ex '24, have been making an enviable record for themselves as football men at St. Lawrence University, Canton, N. Y. They are John P. Gornely, "Mike" Wilson, and Arthur "Baldy" Finnegun. All men were members of the backfield of the above named football team. Gornely has the unusual distinction of receiving the captaincy of next year's eleven, tho he has been at St. Lawrence but three months. Good luck to this trio of popular Bates athletes.

ARTHUR SCOTT, '24, FOOTBALL CAPTAIN

At a meeting of the letter men last week, Arthur "Red" Scott of Gardiner was unanimously elected Captain of the team for the season of 1923. "Scottie" is a graduate of Gardiner High School where he starred for four years on the Gardiner team, entering Bates in 1919. He has played on the varsity for three years, being one of the mainstays in the line, teaming up beautifully with "Bill" Guiney as the best pair of tackles in the state. He is very popular on the campus and his election was received with great enthusiasm by both faculty and undergraduates. "Scottie" is of quiet personality but an excellent leader, who will have the full confidence of his teammates, so that Bates is all set for another banner year in football.

"Monie"—drilling on books and authors—"Hell for Sartin"—anybody know "Hell for Sartin"—never mind if you don't—plenty of time in the future."
